hast thou set by thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thy selfe [to another] then mee, and wentest by, [and] didest<sup>i</sup> enlarge thy bedde, and make a couenant betweene thee and them, and louedst their bed in [euery] place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest<sup>k</sup> to the Kings with
sende thy messengers farre off, & didest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou weriedst thy selfe in thy manifolde iourneyes, [yet] saidest thou not, There is no hope: thou<sup>m</sup> hast found life by thine hande, therefore thou wast not grieved.

11 And whome diddest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast<sup>n</sup> lyed vnto me, and hast not remembred me, neither set thy minde thereon: is it not [because] I hold my peace, and that of long<sup>o</sup> time:
therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I will declare thy<sup>p</sup> righteousness & thy workes, & they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them<sup>y</sup> y thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shall<sup>q</sup> take them all away:
vanitie shall pull them away: but hee that trusteth in me, shall inherit<sup>r</sup> y lande, & shall possesse mine holy Mountaine.

14 And he shall say, Cast by, cast by:
prepare the way: take by the stumbling blockes out of the way of my people.

15 For thus sayth he, that is hie and excellent, he that inhabiteth the eterni-tie, whose Name is y holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit to reuiue the spirit of the humble, & to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contende for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth,<sup>f</sup> for y spirit should faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked<sup>r</sup> couetousnes I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid me and was angrie, yet hee wet away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and will heale him: I will leade him also, and restore comfort vnto him, and to those y lament him.

19 I create the<sup>x</sup> fruite of the lippes [to be] peace: peace vnto them that are farre off, and to them that are neere, saith the Lord: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked [are] like the raging sea, that can<sup>z</sup> not rest, whose waters cast by mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

them, and therefore they can neuer haue rest, reade Chap. 48, 22.

CHAP. LVIII.

1 The office of Gods ministers. 2 The workes of the hypocrites, 3 The fast of the faithfull, 13 Of the true Sabbath.

Reye<sup>a</sup> aloude, spare not: lift by thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iacob, their sinnes.

2 Yet they<sup>b</sup> seeke me daily, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, & had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me y ordinances of iustice: they will drawe neere vnto God, [saying,]

3 Wherefore haue we fasted, & thou seest it not: we haue punished our selues, and thou regardest it not. Behold, in the day of your fast you will seeke<sup>d</sup> [your] will, and require all your dettes.

4 Behold, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednes:
ye shal not fast as [ye do] to day, to make your voyce to be<sup>e</sup> heard aboue.

5 Is it such a fast that I haue chosen, that a man should afflict his soule for a day, and to bowe downe his head, as a bull rush, and to lye downe in sackcloth and ashes: wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this y fasting, that I haue chosen, to loole the bands of wickednes, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye breake euery<sup>f</sup> yoke?

f I will not vse
my power against fragile man whose life is but a blast.

r That is, for the vices and faultes of the people, which is ment here by couetousnes.

u Though they were obstinate, yet I did not withdraue my mercie from them.

x That is, I frame y speech and wordes of my messengers, which shall bring peace.

y As well to him that is in captiuitie as to him that remaineth at home.

z Their euill conscience doth euer torment

a The Lord
thus speaketh to the prophet, willing him to vse al diligence and severity to rebuke the hypocrites.

b They will seeme to worship me & haue outward holines.

c He setteth foorth the malice & disbaire of y hypocrites which grudge against God, if their workes be not accepted.

d Thus he conuinceth the hypocrites by the second table & by their duetie toward their neighbour, that they haue neither faith nor religion.

e So long as you vse contention & oppression, your fasting & prayer shall not bee heard.

f That you leane of al your exhortations.

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house: When thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hyde not thy selfe from thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy<sup>h</sup> light breake forth as the morning, and thine health shall grow speedily: thy<sup>i</sup> righteousness shall goe before thee, [and] the glorie of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answere: thou shalt crie and hee shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the middes of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the<sup>k</sup> finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou<sup>l</sup> poure out thy soule to<sup>p</sup> hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shall thy light spring out in the<sup>m</sup> darkenes, and thy darkenes [shalbe] as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, & satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt bee like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fayle not.

12 And they shalbe of thee, that shall builde the olde<sup>n</sup> waste places: thou shalt rayse vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt bee called the repairer of the breach [and] the restorer of the paths to dwell in.

13 If thou<sup>o</sup> turne away thy foote fro the Sabbath, from doing thy will on mine holie day, and call the Sabbath a delite, to consecrate it, [as] glorious to the Lord, and shalt honour him, not doing thine owne wayes, nor seeking thine owne will, nor speaking a vaine word,

14 Then shalt thou delite in the Lorde, and I will cause thee to mount vpon the hie places of the earth, & feede thee with the heritage of Iacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lorde hath spoken it.

C H A P. LIX.

BEhold, * the Lordes hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But * your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hid [his] face from you, that he will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: <sup>a</sup> your lippes haue spoken lies [and] your tongue hath murmured iniquitie. <sup>a</sup> Reade Chap. 1, 15.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, and speake bayne things: they receiue mischief, and<sup>c</sup> bring forth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice<sup>d</sup> egges, and weaue the spiders<sup>e</sup> webbe: hee that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shalbe no garment, neither shal they couer themselves with their labours: [for] their workes [are] workes of iniquitie, and the worke of crueltie [is] in their hands.

7 Their feete runne to euill, & they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughtes: desolation and destruction [is] in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, and there [is] none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein, shall not knowe peace.

9 Therefore is<sup>f</sup> iudgement farre fro vs, neither doeth<sup>g</sup> iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but lo, it [is] darkenes: for brightnes, [but] we walke in darkenes.

10 Wee grope for the wall like the<sup>h</sup> blinde, and wee grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: [we are] in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 Wee roare all like<sup>i</sup> beares, & mourne like doves: wee looke for equitie, but there [is] none: for health, [but] it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are manie before thee, and our<sup>k</sup> sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses [are] with vs, and we knowe our iniquities.

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, [&] haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and uttering out of the heart false<sup>l</sup> matters.

14 Therefore<sup>m</sup> iudgement is turned backward, and iustice standeth farre off: for trueth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe<sup>n</sup> a pray: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, & there [was] no iudgement.

16 And when he saw that there [was] no man, he wondered that none woulde offer

offer himselfe. Therefore his arme did saue it, and his righteousness it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For he put on righteousness, as an habergeon, and an helmet of saluation vpon his head, & he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As [to make] recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries [with] a recompence to his enemies: he wil fully repay the <sup>r</sup> ylands.

19 So shall they feare the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sunne: for <sup>p</sup> enemy shall come like a flood: [but] the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto them that turne from iniquitie in Iacob, saith the Lord.

21 And I wil [make] this my couenāt with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my words, which I haue put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of the mouth of the seede of thy seede, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

<sup>u</sup> Because the doctrine is made profitable by the vertue of the spirit, he ioyneth the one with the other, and promisseth to giue them both to his Church for euer.

A Ryle, [O Jerusalem:] bee bryght, for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen vpon thee.

3 And the Gentiles shall walke in thy light, and Kings at the brightness of thy rising vp.

4 Lift vp thine eyes rounde about, and behold: al these are gathered, [and] come to thee: thy sonnes shall come from farre, and thy daughters shall be nourished at [thy] side.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be astonied and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shall be conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

7 All the sheepe <sup>s</sup> of Kedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rammes of Nebaioth shall serue thee: they shall come vnto be accepted vpon mine <sup>h</sup> altar: and I will beautifie the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that flee like a cloud, and as the doves to their windowes?

9 Surely the yles shall waite for me, and the shippes <sup>k</sup> of Tarshish, as at the beginning, <sup>p</sup> they may bring thy sonnes from farre, [and] their siluer, and their golde with them, vnto the Name of the Lord thy God, & to the holy one of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall buyld by thy walles, and their Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercy I had compassion on thee.

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually: neither day nor night shall they bee shut that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation & the <sup>m</sup> kingdome, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and those nations shall be utterly destroyed.

13 The <sup>n</sup> glory of Lebanon shall come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the bore tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my <sup>o</sup> feete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come & bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shall fall <sup>p</sup> downe at the soles of thy feete: & they shall call thee, The cite of the Lord, Zion of the holy one of Israel.

15 Where as thou hast bene forsaken & hated, so that no man went [by thee,] I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioy from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke the milke of the Gentiles, & shalt sucke the <sup>q</sup> breasts of Kings: and thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord am thy Sauour, and thy Redeemer, the mightie one of Iacob.

17 For brasle will I bring golde, and for yron wil I bring siluer, and for wood brasle, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernemēt <sup>r</sup> peace, and thine exactours righteousness.

in thy lande, neither desolation, nor destruction within thy borders: but thou shalt call <sup>1</sup>saluation, thy walles, & praise, thy gates.

19 Thou shalt haue no more sunne to shine by day, neither shall the brightness of the <sup>1</sup>moone shine vnto thee: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God, thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall neuer go downe, neither shall thy moone bee hid: for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy sorowe shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall possesse <sup>1</sup>land for ever, the <sup>1</sup>grasse of my planting shall be the worke of mine hands, that I may be glorified.

22 A litle one shall become as a <sup>1</sup>thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in due time.

CHAP. LXI.

Ihe *Spirit of the Lord God <sup>[is]</sup> <sup>a</sup>vpon me, therefore hath the Lord anoynted mee: hee hath sent me to preache good tidings vnto the poore, to binde by the broken hearted, to preach libertie to the captiues, and to them that are bounde, the opening of the prison,

2 To preach the <sup>d</sup>acceptable yeere of the Lord, and the day of <sup>e</sup>vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourne,

4 And they shall build the olde waste places, [and] raise by the former desolations, & they shall repaire the cities that were desolate and waste through many <sup>h</sup>generations.

5 And the strangers shall <sup>i</sup>stand and feede your sheepe, & the sonnes of <sup>y</sup>strangers shall be your plowmen and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named <sup>k</sup>the Priests of the Lord, and men shall say vnto you, The ministers of our God: We shall eate the riches of the <sup>1</sup>Gentiles, and shall be exalted with their glory.

7 For your shame [you shall receiue] <sup>m</sup>double, and for confusion <sup>n</sup>they shall re-

8 For I the Lord loue iudgement [and] hate <sup>q</sup>robberie for burnt offering, and I will direct their worke in trueth, and will make an everlasting couenant with them.

9 And <sup>r</sup>their seede shall be knowne among the Gentiles, and their buddes among the people. All that see them, shall knowe <sup>h</sup>the, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 <sup>1</sup>I will greatly reioyce in <sup>y</sup>the Lord, [and] my soule shall be ioyful in my God: for hee hath clothed mee with the garments of saluation, and couered me with the robe of righteousness: hee hath decked me like a bridegrome, and as a bride tireth her selfe with her iewels.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth to grow that which is sown in it: so the Lord God will cause righteousness to growe and prayse before all the heathen.

11 Beholde, the Lorde hath proclaymed vnto the endes of the worlde: <sup>m</sup> tell the daughter Zion, Beholde, thy Saviour cometh: beholde, his wages [is] with him, and <sup>n</sup> his woorkes [is] before him.

CHAP. LXIII.

Who is this that cometh <sup>a</sup> fro Edom, with red garmentes from Bozrah: he is glorious in his apparell and walketh in his great strength. <sup>b</sup> I speake in righteousness, [and] am mightie to saue.

2 <sup>c</sup> Wherefore is thine apparel redde, and thy garmentes like him that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue trode the wine presse alone, and of all people there [was] none with me: for I will treade them in mine anger, and treade them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shall be sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will stayne all my raiment.

4 For the daye of vengeance [is] in mine heart, and the <sup>d</sup> yeere of my redemption is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, & I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne

6 Therefore I will treade downe the people in my wrath, & make the <sup>f</sup> drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will <sup>g</sup> remember the mercies of the Lord [and] the prayles of the Lord according vnto all that the Lorde hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse towarde <sup>h</sup> house of Israel, which he hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For hee saide, Surely they are my <sup>h</sup> people, children that will not lie: so hee was their Saviour.

9 In all their troubles he was <sup>i</sup> troubled, and <sup>j</sup> Angell <sup>k</sup> of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and hee bare them & carried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled & vexed his holy spirit: therefore was he turned to be their enemy [and] he fought against them.

11 Then he <sup>l</sup> remembered the olde time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them by out of the Sea with <sup>m</sup> shepherde of his sheepe: where is he <sup>n</sup> put his holy Spirit with in <sup>n</sup> him?

12 He led [them] by the right hand of Moses with his own glorious arme, destroying the water before them, to make himselfe an euermlasting Name.

13 He led them through the deepe, as an <sup>o</sup> horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the spirit of the Lorde gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 <sup>p</sup> Looke downe from heauen, and behold from the dwelling place of thine holinesse, and of thy glory, where is thy zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, & of thy compassions: they are restrained from <sup>r</sup> me.

16 Doubtlesse thou art our Father: though <sup>s</sup> Abraham bee ignorant of vs, and Israel knowe vs not, [yet] thou, O Lorde, art our Father, [and] our redeemer: thy Name [is] for ever.

17 O Lord, why hast <sup>t</sup> thou made vs the Spirit to the people. <sup>o</sup> Peaceably & gently, as an horse is led to his pasture, <sup>p</sup> hauing declared Gods benefites shewed to their forefathers, he turneth himselfe to God by prayer, desiring him to continue the same graces toward the. <sup>q</sup> Thy great affection which thou barest towards vs, <sup>r</sup> meaning, from <sup>s</sup> whole body of the Church. <sup>t</sup> Though Abraham would refuse vs to be his children, yet thou wilt not refuse to be our father. <sup>u</sup> By taking away thy holy spirit from vs, by whom we were gouerned, & so for our ingratitude dost deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and dost punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement.

<sup>a</sup> This Prophete is against the Ioumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Ioumeans: for these were their greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision, and the kinred of Abraham claimed to them selues the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers. Psal.

and though men refuse to do their dutie through negligence and ingratitude, yet he himselfe will deliuer his Church, and punish the enemies. Reade Chap. 59. 16.

<sup>f</sup> I will so astonie them, and make them so giddie, that they shall not knowe, which way to go.

<sup>u</sup> By taking away thy holy spirit from vs, by whom we were gouerned, & so for our ingratitude dost deliuer vs vp to our owne concupiscence, and dost punish sinne by sinne according to thy iust iudgement.

<sup>u</sup> Meaning, for the covenants sake made to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob his servants. <sup>x</sup> That is, in respect of the promises, which is perpetual: albeit they had now possessed the land of Canaan, a thousand and four hundred years: and thus they lament, to move God rather to remember his covenant then to punish their sinnes.

18 The people of thine holinesse haue possessed it, but a litle <sup>x</sup> while: for our aduersaries haue trode downe thy Sanctuarie.

19 We haue byn [as they,] ouer whom thou neuer barest rule, and vpon whom thy Name was not called.

CHAP. LXIII.

H that thou wouldest <sup>a</sup> break the heauens, [and] come downe, [and] that the mountaines might melt at thy presence!

2 As the melting fire burned, [as] the fire caused <sup>b</sup> by waters to boyle, (that thou mightest declare thy Name to thy aduersaries) the people did tremble at thy presence.

3 When thou diddest terrible things, which wee looked not for, thou camest downe, [and] the mountaines melted at thy presence.

4 For since the beginning of the world they haue not <sup>c</sup> heard nor vnderstande with the eare, neither hath the eye seene [an other] God beside thee, which doeth [so] to him that waited for him.

5 Thou didest meete him, <sup>d</sup> that reioyced [in thee,] & dyd iustly: they remembred thee in thy <sup>e</sup> waies: behold, thou art angry, for we haue sinned: [yet] in <sup>f</sup> them [is] continuance, and we <sup>g</sup> shall be saued.

6 But we haue al byn as an vncleane thing and all our <sup>h</sup> righteousness [is] as filthy clouts, & we all do fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there [is] none that calleth vpon thy Name, neyther that stirreth vp himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from vs, and hast consumed vs because of our iniquities.

<sup>h</sup> We are iustly punished and brought into captiuitie, because we haue prouoked thee to anger, and though we would excuse our selues, yet our righteousness and best vertues are before thee as vile clouts, or, (as some reade) like the menstruous clothes of a woman.

8 But now we, O Lord, thou art our father: we are the clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine hands.

<sup>i</sup> Albeit, O Lord, by thy iust iudgement thou mayest utterly destroy vs, as the potter may his pot, yet we appeale to thy mercies, whereby it hath pleased thee to adopt vs to be thy children.

11 The house of our Sanctuarie and of our glorie, <sup>m</sup> where our fathers prayed thee, is burnt by with fire, and al our pleasant things are wasted.

12 Wilt thou hold thy self still <sup>n</sup> at these thinges, O Lord: wilt thou holde thy peace and afflict vs aboue measure:

I haue bene sought of the that <sup>a</sup> asked not: I was founde of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, vnto a nation that called not vpon my Name.

2 I haue <sup>b</sup> spread out mine handes all the day vnto a rebellious people, which walked in a way that was not good, [euen] after their owne <sup>c</sup> imaginations:

<sup>b</sup> He sheweth the cause of the reiection of the Jewes, because they would not obey him for any admonition of his prophets, by whom he called them continually, and stretched out his hande to draw them.

3 A people that prouoked me euer vnto my face: that sacrificeth in <sup>d</sup> gardens, and burneth incense vpon <sup>e</sup> bricke.

4 Which remaine among <sup>f</sup> graues, & lodge in <sup>g</sup> deserts, which eate <sup>h</sup> swines flesh, and the broth of things polluted [are] in their vessels.

5 Which say, <sup>h</sup> Stand apart, come not neere to mee: for I am holier then thou: these are a smoke in my wrath [and] a fire that <sup>i</sup> burneth all the day.

6 Behold, it is <sup>k</sup> written before me: I will not keepe silence, but will render it and recompence it into their bosome.

7 Your iniquities & the iniquities of your fathers [shall be] <sup>l</sup> together (sayth the Lord) which haue burnt incense vpon the mountaines, and blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore will I measure their old worke into their bosome.

8 Thus saith the Lord, As the wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a <sup>m</sup> blessing [is] in it, so will I do for my seruants sakes, that I may not destroy them whole.

<sup>y</sup> I will so alter & change the state of my Church, that it shall seeme to dwell in a new worlde.

12 Therefore will I<sup>p</sup> number you to the sword, and all you shall bow downe to the slaughter, because I called, and ye did not answer: I<sup>q</sup> spake, and ye heard not, but did euill in my sight & did chuse that thing which I would not.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shall<sup>r</sup> eate, and ye shall be hungrie: beholde, my seruants shall drinke, and ye shall be thirsty: behold, my seruants shall reioyce, and ye shall be ashamed.

14 Behold, my seruants shall sing for ioy of heart, and ye shall crie for sorrowe of heart, and shall howle for vexation of minde.

15 And ye shall leaue your name as a curse vnto my<sup>i</sup> chosen: for the Lord God shall slay you and call his seruants by<sup>r</sup> another name.

17 For lo, I will create<sup>v</sup> new heauens and a newe earth: and the former shall not be remembred nor come into minde.

18 But bee you glad & reioyce for ever in the things that I shall create: for behold, I will create Jerusalem<sup>as</sup> a reioicing and her people<sup>as</sup> a ioy, 19 And I will reioyce in Jerusalem, & ioy in my people, and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voyce of crying.

20 There shall be no more there a childe of peeres, nor an olde man that hath<sup>r</sup> not filled his dayes: for he that shall be an hundredeth peeres old, shall die<sup>as</sup> a yong man: but the sinner being<sup>a</sup> an hundredeth peeres old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall<sup>b</sup> build houses and dwell in them for ever.

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit: they shall not plant, & another eate: for as the dayes of the tree are the dayes of my people, and mine elect shall inioy in old age the work of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in bayne, nor bring forth in feare: for they are the seede of the blessed of the Lorde, & their buds with them.

24 Yea, before they cal, I will answer, and whiles they speake, I will heare.

25 The<sup>c</sup> wolfe and the lambe shall feede together, and the lyon shall eate strawe like the bullock: and to the serpent dust shall be his meate. They shall no more hurt nor destroy in all mine holy Mountaine, saith the Lord.

4 Therefore will I<sup>e</sup> chuse out their delusions, and I will bring their feare vpon them, because I called, and none would answer: I spake and they would not heare: but they did euill in my sight, and chose the things which I would not.

11 That ye may sucke <sup>l</sup> and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolation: that ye may milke out and bee delited with the brightnes of her glorie.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I wil extend <sup>m</sup> peace ouer her like a flood, & the glorie of the <sup>n</sup> Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye sucke, ye shall be <sup>o</sup> borne vpon [her] sides, and be ioyfull vpon [her] knees.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Jeremiah borne in the cite of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whom some thinke to be he that found out the booke of the Lawe, and gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent giftes of God, and most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, & continued eightene yere vnder the sayde King, and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeres: vnto the time that they were carryed away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fortie yere, besides the time that he prophesied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares, and lamentation, the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetousnesse, subtiltie, crueltie, excesses, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolation of the Church, reuellet the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubburne and obstinate, when the Prophetes doe admonish them most plainely of their destruction. Next howe the Prophetes and Ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly, though God shewe his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet will he euer shewe himselfe a preferuer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then will he declare himselfe victorious in preserving his.

C H A P. I.

In what time Jeremiah prophesied, 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lorde. 11 The Lorde sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his word without feare.

He wordes of Jeremiah the sonne of Hilkiah [one] of the priestes that were at Anathoth in the lande of Benjamin.

2 To whom the word of the Lorde came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirtieth yere of his reigne:

3 And also in the dates of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah vnto the ende of the eleuenth yere of Zedekiah, sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, [even] vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift moneth.

4 Then the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I s<sup>e</sup> fourmed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, [and] ordeined thee to be a prophet vnto the nations.

6 Then said I, Oh, Lord God, behold, I can not speake, for I am a child.

7 But the Lord said vnto me, Saye not, I am a child: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall sende thee, & whatsoeuer I commande thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afrayde of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lorde.

9 Then the Lorde stretched out his hand and<sup>k</sup> touched my mouth, and the Lorde said vnto me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations & ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to builde, and to plant.

11 After this the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I saide, I see a<sup>m</sup> rodde of an almonde tree.

12 Then saide the Lorde vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Again the word of the Lorde came vnto me the second time, saying, what seest thou? And I saide, I see a seething<sup>m</sup> pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said I<sup>p</sup> Lorde vnto me, Out of the North shall a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, sayeth the Lorde, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, & on all the walles thereof rounde about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my wordes for a noyse ample confirmation: signifying by the roo of the almonde tree, which first budbeth, I haue coming of the Babylonians against Ierusalem, in signifying that the Caldeans and Assyrians should be as a pot to seethe the Iewes, which dwelt in their pleasures and lusts. <sup>o</sup> Syria and Assyria were northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion.

¶ m m. iiii. ¶ iudgements

a That is, the sermons and prophesies. b Which is thought to be he that founde the booke of the Law vnder King Iosiah. 2. King. 22. 8.

c This was a cite about three miles distant from Ierusalem, & belonged to the priestes the domes of Aaron. Ios. 21. 18.

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and officiofirmas as he did not presume of himselfe to preach, and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

e Speaking, the nephew of Iosiah: for Iehoiachaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths.

and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Iehoiachaz reigned no longer. f Of the eleventh yere of Iehoiachaz, who was also called Sattaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carryed away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar. g The Scripture useth this manner of speech to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne. As Isa. 49. 1. gal. 1. 15. h For Ierusalem did not only prophesie against Iewes, but also against I Egyptianes, Babylonians, Pharaohes, & other nations. i Considering I great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings should come vpon I world, he was moued by a certaine compassion on the one side to pittie them that should thus perishe, and on the other side by the infinitie of mans nature, knowing howe hard a thing it was to enterpise such a charge, As Isa. 6. 1. 1. and 4. 1.

k Which do declare, that God maketh them meere, and assureth them, whome he calleth to rectify his glorie: giuing the al meanes necessary for the same. Exod. 4. 12. Isa. 6. 7.

l He saith, what is the authoritie of Gods true ministers, which by his wordes haue power to beat downe whatsoeuer lieth in selfe vp against God: and to assure the humble, and such as giue them felicitie to the obedience of Gods worde.

2. Cor. 10. 4. hebr. 4. 12. and these are the heere which Christ hath left to looke and binde. Matth. 18. 18.

m The signification of the wordes for a noyse ample confirmation: signifying by the roo of the almonde tree, which first budbeth, I haue coming of the Babylonians against Ierusalem, in signifying that the Caldeans and Assyrians should be as a pot to seethe the Iewes, which dwelt in their pleasures and lusts. <sup>o</sup> Syria and Assyria were northward in respect of Ierusalem, which were the Caldeans dominion.

me for their other part, that they are utterly vnnere to serue God, and his Church, which are afraid, and do not resist wickedness, whatsoeuer danger depende thereon, p Iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the woodkes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore truste by thy loynes, and aryle and speake vnto them all that I comāde thee: be not afrāde of their faces, lest I destroy thee before them.

18 For I, beholde, I this day haue made thee a defended citie, and an yron pillar and walles of brasse against the whole lande, against the Kinges of Judah, [and] against the princes thereof, against the priests therof and against the people of the land.

19 For they shal fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for
I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

20 For they that fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile against thee: for
I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

CHAP. II.

2 God repleaseth his benedictions vnto the Iewes. 3 Against the Priests and false prophets, 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

Moreouer, I word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
2 Go, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, with the kinndnes of thy youth [and] the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a lande that was not folowen.

3 Israel [was as] a thing halowed vnto the Lord, [and] his first fruites: all they that eate it, shall offend: euill shall come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the word of the Lord, O house of Iacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, what iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone farre from me, and haue walked after banitie, and are become baine.

6 For they sayde not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt: that led vs through the wil-dernes, through a desert, & waste lande, through a drie lande, & by the shadowe of death, by a lande that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt.

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eate the fruite thereof, and the commodities of the same: but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is the Lord: and they that should minister the Lawe, knewe me not: the pastours also offended against me, and the prophets prophesied in Baal, and went after [things] that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet pleade with you, saith the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For goe ye to the ples of Chittim, and beholde, and sende vnto Iedat, and take diligent heed, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods: but my people haue changed their glorie, for that which doeth not profite.

12 O ye heauens, be astonied at this:
be afraid, and bitterly confounded, saith
the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed abo-mines: they haue forsaken me: the fountaine of liuing waters, to digge them pittes, euell broken pittes, that can holde no water.

14 Is Israel a seruāt, or is he borne in the houle: why then is he spoiled?

15 The Lyons roared vpon him [& preyed, and they haue made his lande waste: his cities are burnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Boph & Lahapanes haue broken thine head.

17 Hast thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he ledde thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to doe in the way of Egypt: to drinke the water of Aduis: or what maketh thou in the way of Asshur: to drinke the water of the River?

19 Thine owne wickednesse shall correct thee, & thy turnings backe shall reproue thee: know therefore & behold, that ye haue forsaken me, saith the Lord, your God, from your youth, and ye are come to this day, to be counted for a reprobate people, & without faith.

20 Therefore shall ye be counted for a reprobate people, & without faith, because ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

21 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and

ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and

reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and

a reprobate people, & without faith.

reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

32 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

33 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

34 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

35 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

36 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

37 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

38 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

39 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

40 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

41 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

42 Therefore shall ye be counted for a
reprobate people, & without faith, because
ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for
a reprobate people, & without faith.

ye haue forsaken the Lord your God, and
ye are come to this day, to be counted for hast made thee: let them arise, if they can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble:

for according to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, O Iudah.

thee into iudgement, because thou sayst,
I haue not sinned.

36 Why runnest thou about so much to change thy wayes: for thou shalt be confounded of Egypt, & as thou art confounded of Assyrie.

37 For thou shalt go forth frō thence, & thine hands vpon thine head, because the Lord hath reiected thy confidence, and thou shalt not prosper thereby.

CHAP. IIL

God calleth his people into repentance. 14 He promitteth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reprooueth Iudah as a whore, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

Nhey say, If a man put away his wife, and she goe from him, and become another mans, shall he returne again vnto her: shall not this land be polluted: but thou hast played the harlot with many louers: yet turne again to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eyes vnto the hie places, and beholde, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for them in the wayes, as the Arabian in the wildernesse: and thou hast polluted the lande with thy whoredomes, & with thy malice.

3 Therefore the howres haue bene restrained, and the latter raine came not, and thou haddest a whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed, Deuteronom. 32. 34. g Thou wouldest neuer be ashamed of thine act and repent: & this impudencie is common to idolaters, which will not give off, though they be neuer so manifestly comitted.

That is, you haue killed your Prophets, that exhorted you to repentance, as Sechariah, Isaiah, &c.
I haue not given them a things:

The Prophets and the faithfull are syrians had ca-ken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and brought them

Jerusalem: and the Assyrians slew Isaiah, and brought him into Babel in sundrie sortes.

lamentation,
as 2 Sam.

thee, according

As God themselves by his Name

h He sheweth that in their miseries will cry unto God and his out-ward prayer as the goodly do, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa. 58. 3. 4.
i Speaking, the ten tribes,

4 Didest thou not still crie<sup>b</sup> vnto me, Thou art my father, [and] the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe [his anger] for euer: Will he reserue it to the ende: thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the dayes of Iosiah the King, hast thou seene what this rebell<sup>i</sup> Israel hath done: for the hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, & vnder euery greene tree, and there played the harlot.

7 And I saide, when the had done al this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah saide.

8 When I saw, how that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast<sup>i</sup> her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraide, but she went also, and played the harlot.

9 So that for the lightnesse of her whoredome she hath euen defiled the lande: for the hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Nevertheless for al this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with<sup>i</sup> her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Goe and crie these words toward<sup>i</sup> the North and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saith the Lord, [and] I will not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway keepe [mine anger].

13 But knowle thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, and hast<sup>i</sup> scattered thy wayes to the strange [gods] vnder euery greene tree, but ye woulde not obey my voyce, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I will take you one of a citie, and ribo of a tribe and will bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased & multiplied in the lande, in those dayes, saith the Lord, they shall say no more, The Ark of the covenant of the Lord: for it shall come no more to minde, neyther shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for<sup>i</sup> shall be no more done.

17 At that time they shall call Ierusalem, The throne of the Lord, & al the nations shall be gathered vnto it, [euen] to the name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thence forth they shall follooe no more<sup>i</sup> hardnessse of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the lande of the North, into the lande, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I sayde, howe did I take thee for children & giue thee a pleasant lande, [euen] the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and sayde, Thou shalt call me, [saying], My father, and shalt not turne from me:

20 But as a woman<sup>i</sup> rebelleth against her husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the hie places, Weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruered their way, [and] forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne [and] I will heale your rebellions. Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truly [the hope] of the hills [is] but baine, [nor] the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath denoured our fathers labour, from our youth their sheepe and their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie downe in our confusion, & our shame couereth vs: for we haue sinned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth, euen vnto this day, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 He propheseth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 10 The Prophet lamenteth it.

Israel, if thou returne, & turne vnto me, saith<sup>i</sup> the Lord: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt weare, The Lord lieth in truth, in iudgement, and in righteou:

b Thou shalt detest the name of Idoles, Isa. 64. and shalt with reverence sweare by the living God, when thine othe may aduance Gods glory, and profit others: and here, by swearing he meaneth the true religion of God.

Speaking the Church, where the Lord will be present to the worlds ende, Isa. 28. 10.

Where they are now in captiuitie. The Chetiv word signifieth a friende of companion, and here may be taken for an husband, as it is before, Isa. 54. 1. 2. A Signifying, that God will they had forsaken, would bring their enemies vpon them, who should leade them captiue and make the to crie and lament.

This is spoken in the person of the Israel to the name of Iudah, who shal be long to turne vnto God.

For they have forsaken the lawe vpon them & their. They will not then their fathers, but condemn their wicked doings & desire forgiveness of the same, as Eze. 9. 7. Isa. 106. 6. Isa. 64. 6.

That is, wholly and without hypocric, Isa. 2. 13. not dissimulating to turne and serue God as they doe whilst serue by balles as Isa. 7. 6.

3 For thus ſaith the Lord to the men

4 Breake vp your fallow ground, and ſowe not among the thornes: be circumciſed to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudaah, and inhabitants of Ieruſalem, leſt my wrath come forth like fire, & burne, that none can quench it, becauſe of the wickedneſſe of your inventions.

5 Declare in Iudaah, and ſhewe forth in Ieruſalem, and ſay, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crye, and gather to-and let vs go into ſtrong cities.

6 Set by the ſtandard in Zion: prepare to flee, [and] ſtay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great deſtruction.

7 The Lyon is come by from his denne, and the deſtroyer of the Gentiles is departed, [and] gone forth of his place to lay thy land waſte, [and] thy cities ſhall be deſtroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore gird you with ſacke-cloth: lament, and howle, for the ſierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, ſaith the Lord, the heart of the King ſhall periſh, and the heart of the princes, and the Priests ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and the Prophets ſhall wonder.

10 Then ſaid I, Ah, Lord God, ſurely thou haſt decreed this people & Jethe ſword ſhall percereth vnto the heart.

11 At that time ſhall it be ſaide to this [but] neither to ſanne, nor to cleſe.

13 Beholde, he ſhall come by as the m Doe vnto vs, for we are deſtroyed.

14 O Ieruſalem, waſh thine heart ſaued: howe long ſhall thy wicked thoughtes remaine within thee?

15 For a boyce declareth from Dan,

16 Make ye mention of the heathen,
[and] publiſh in Ieruſalem, Beholde,

& crye out againſt the cities of Iudaah.

17 They haue compaſſed her about as the Watchmen of the ſielde, becauſe it hath prouoked me to wrath, ſaith the Lord.

18 Thy wayes and thine inventions haue procured thee theſe things, ſuch is thy wickedneſſe: therefore it ſhall be bitter, therefore it ſhall percereth vnto thine heart.

19 O my bely, my bely, I am pained, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be ſtill:
for my ſoule hath heard the ſound of the trumpet, [and] the alarme of the battell.

20 Deſtruction vpon deſtruction is cryed, for the whole land is waſted: ſuddenly are my tents deſtroyed, [and] my curtaines in a moment.

21 How long ſhall I ſee the ſtandard,
[and] heare the ſound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is fooliſh, they haue not knowen me: they are fooliſh children, and haue none vnderſtanding:
they are wiſe to do euill, but to do well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and loe, it was without forme and boyde: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I behelde the mountaines: and loe, they trembled, and all the hilles ſhook.

25 I behelde, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I behelde, and loe, the fruitfull place [was] a wilderneſſe, & all the cities thereof were broken downe at the pre-ſence of the Lord, & by his ſierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord ſayde,
The whole land ſhall be deſolate: yet will I not make a full ende.

28 Therefore ſhal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue ſhall be dark-ned, becauſe I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and wil not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole cite ſhall flee, for the noyſe of the boiſemen and bolde men:
they ſhall go into thickets, and crouche by vpon the rockes: every cite ſhall be for-ſaken, and not a man dwell therein.

though thou paintest thy face with co-daine: [for] thy louers will abhorre thee [and] seeke thy life.

31 For I haue heard a noyse as of a woman trauailing, as one labouring of her first childe, [eu]n the voyce of the daughter Zion: & sighteth & stretcheth out her handes: Wo is me now: for my

CHAP. V.

a In Iudah no righteous man founde, neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudah is destroyed of the Caldeans.

Rurne to & fro by the streetes of Ierusalem, and beholde now, and know, and inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, [or] if there be any that executeth iudgement, and seeketh the truthe, and I will spare it.

2 For though they say, The<sup>b</sup> Lorde liueth, yet do they sweare falsely.

3 O Lorde, are not thine eyes vpon the truthe: thou hast<sup>d</sup> stricken them, but they haue not forsooked: thou hast confumed them, [but] they haue refused to receive correction: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, [and] haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of<sup>f</sup> Lorde, [nor] the iudge-ment of their God.

5 I will get me into the great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowne the way of the Lorde, [and] the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, [and] burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore I a lyon out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolfe of the wil-dernes shall destroy them: a leopard shall watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shall be toyned in pieces, because their trespasses are manie, [and] their rebellions are increased.

7 How should I spare thee for this:
thy children haue forsake me, & s<sup>h</sup> woyme by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselves by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning [like] fed horses: [for] euery man<sup>h</sup> neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lorde: Shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this:

10 Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full ende:
take away their battlements, for they are not the Lodes.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grievously trepassed against me, saith the Lorde.

12 They haue<sup>k</sup> denyed the Lorde, and saide, He is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see woode nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shall be [as] winde, and the woide is<sup>m</sup> not in them:
thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lorde God of hostes, Because ye speake such words, behold, I will put my words into<sup>n</sup> thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be [as] wood, and it shall deuoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a nation vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lorde, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Whose quiver is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eat thine harvest and thy bread: they shall deuoure thy sonnes and thy daughters: they shall eat by thy shepe & thy bullockes: they shall eat thy vines & thy figtrees: they shall destroy with the sword thy fenced cities, wherein thou diddest trust.

18 Neuertheless at those dayes, sayeth the Lorde, I will not make a full ende of<sup>q</sup> you.

19 And when<sup>r</sup> ye shall say, wherefore doeth the Lord our God doe these things vnto vs: then shalt thou an-swere them, Like as ye haue forsaken me and serued strange gods in your landes, so shall ye serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying,

21 Heare now this, O foolish people, and without vnderstanding, which haue<sup>s</sup> eyes & see not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lorde:
or will ye not be afraide at my presence, which haue placed the lande for the boundes of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it can not passe it, & though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not

26 For among my people are found wicked persons, that lay waite as hee that setteth snares: they haue made a pit to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: thereby they are become great and warden rich.

28 They are warden fast and strong: they doe ouerpasse the deeds of the wicked: they execute no iudgement, nor the iudgement of the fatherles: yet they prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visit for these things, saith the Lorde: or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible & filthy thing is committed in the land.

31 The Prophets prophesie lies, and the Priests receiue [gifts] in their hands, and my people delite therein. What wil ye then doe in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The coming of the Assyrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

We children of a Beniamin, prepare to flee out of the mids of Ierusalem and blowe the trumpet in Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon Beth-haccereim: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great destruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to a beautifull and daintie woman.

3 The pastors to their flockes shall come vnto her: they shall pitch [their] tents round about by her, [and] euery one shall feede in his place.

4 Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs goe vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are streched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lorde of hostes sayde, Wee will downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this cite must be visited: all oppression is in the mids of it.

7 As the fountaine tasteth out her waters, so she tasteth out her malice: cruelitie and spoyle is continually heard in her before mee [with] sorrow and strokes.

8 We thou instructed, O Ierusalem, least my soule depart from thee, least I make thee desolate as a land that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whome shall I speake, and admonish that they may heare: behold, their eares [are] vncircumcised, and they can not hearken: behold, the worde of the Lorde is vnto them as a reproche: they haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lorde: I am wearie with holding it: I will poure it out vpon the children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assemble of the young men: for the husband shall euen be taken with the wife, [and] the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wiues also shall be turned vnto strangers: for I will stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lorde.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couetousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, they all deale falsely.

14 They haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination: nay they were not ashamed, no neither could they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the flame: when I shall visit them they shall be cast downe, saith the Lorde.

16 Thus saith the Lorde, Stand in the wayes and beholde, and aske for the olde way, which is the good way and 22 For k I spake not vnto your fathers, no: commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings & sacrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voyce, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walke ye in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, no: in-dine their eare, but went after the counsels [and] the stubbernesse of their wicked heart, and went backward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came by out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, rising by early euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me no:
encline their eare, but hardened their neckes, [ & ] did worse then their fathers.

27 Therefore shalt thou speake all these wordes vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt also crie vnto them, but they will not answere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them,
This is a nation that heareth not the voyce of the Lorde their God, no: recei-ueth discipline: truth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine e heare, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hye places: for the Lorde hath reiected and forsaken the generati-

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lorde:
they haue set their abominations in the house, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hye place of Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lorde, that it shall no more be called Topheth, no: the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall burie in Topheth till there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meate for the foules of the heauen and for the besties of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 Then I will cause to cease from the cities of Iudah and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voyce of mirth and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bidgeone and the voyce of the bride:
for the land shall be desolate.

the Lord: there shall be no grapes on the shall fade, and the things that I haue giuen them, shall depart from them.

14 Why doe we stay? assemble your our God hath put vs to silence and giuen for they procede from euill to worke,

4 Let every one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any brother: for every brother will be deite, and every friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And every one wil deceiue his friend, and will not speake the tructh: [for] they haue taught their tongues to speake lies, & take great paines to do wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiters: & because of [their] deite they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of

8 Their tongue<sup>h</sup> [is] as an arrowe

9 Shall I not visite them for these

10 Upon the mountaines wil I take vp a weeping and a lamentation, and vpon the faire places of the wilderness a mourning, because they are burnt vp: so that none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voyce of <sup>h</sup> sheke:
both the soule of the aere, and the beast are fled away [and] gone.

11 And I will make Ierusalem an heape, [and] a den of dragons, and I wil make the cities of Iudah waste, without an inhabitant.

12 Who is <sup>h</sup> wife, to vnderstand this:
and to whom <sup>h</sup> mouth of the Lord hath spoken, euen he shall declare it. Why doth the land perish, [and] is burnt vp like a 13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my lawe, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voyce, neither walked thereafter.

14 But haue walked after the subbernes of their owne heart, & after Saal-

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, <sup>h</sup> God of Israel, Beholde, I wil giue them waters of gall<sup>h</sup> to drinke:

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whome neither they nor their fathers haue knowen, and I will sende

a sworde after them, till I haue con-

17 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Take heede, and call for<sup>h</sup> the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skillfull women that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and let them take vp a lamentation for <sup>h</sup> I, that our eyes may cast out teares and our eye liddes gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, howe are we destroyed, [and] bitterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the lande, and our dwellings haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye women, and let your eares regarde the wordes of his mouth, and teach your daughters to mourne, and every one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our win-to destroy the children without, and the yong men in the streetes.

22 Speake, thus saith the Lord, The carkeilles of men shall lie, euen as the dung vpon the fiesde, and as the hand-

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the strong man glorie in his strength, nei-

24 But let him that glorieth glorie in be not afraid for the signs of heaven, though the heathen be afraid of such.

3 For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest (which is the worke of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And [another] decketh it with silver, and with gold: they fasten it with nails, and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The [idoles] stand by as the palme tree, but speake not: they are borne because they can not goe: feare them not, for they can not do euill, neither can they do good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lord: thou art great, and thy name [is] great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, & in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are foolish: for the stocke is a doctrine of vanitie.

9 Silver plates are brought from Tarshish, and golde from Ephaz, for the worke of the workman, & the hands of the founder: the blewie like, and the purple [is] their clothing: all these things are made by cunning men.

10 But y Lord [is] the God of truth: he is the liuing God, and an euermlasting king: at his anger y earth shall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus shall you say vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heavens and the earth, shall perish from the earth, and from vnder these heavens)

12 Hee hath made the earth by his power, and established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 He giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters in the heauen, and hee causeth the cloudes to ascend from the ends of the earth: he turneth lightnings to raine, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

14 Every man is a beast by [his] owne knowledge: every founder is founded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falsehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanitie, [and] the worke of errorous: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 The portion of Iakob [is] not like them: for he is y maker of all things, and Israel [is] the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes [is] his Name.

17 Gather by thy wares out of the lande, O thou that dwellest in the strong place.

18 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, at this time I will shew as with a sling the inhabitants of the lande, and will trouble them, and they shall finde it [so].

19 Who is me for my destruction, [and] my greivous plague: but I thought, Per it [is] my sword, and I will beare it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my coardes are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to spread out my tent any more, and to set by my curtains.

21 For y Pastors are become beasts, and haue not sought the Lord: therefore haue they none vnderstanding: & all the [flocks] of their pastures are scattered.

22 Beholde, the noyle of the brute is come, and a great commotion out of the North countrey to make the cities of Iudah desolate, [and] a den of dragons.

23 O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himselfe, neither [is it] in man to walke and to direct his steppes.

24 O Lord, correct mee, but with iudgement, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.

25 Polvre out thy wrath vpon the heathen, that knowe thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten by Iakob and deuoured him and columed him, and haue made his habitation desolate.

For purposed to haue made warre against the Iudobites and Ammonites, but hearing of Ieremiahs rebellion, hee turned his power to go against Ierusalem, Jer. 21. 21. therefore the Prophet saith, that this was the Lords direction. q Considering that God had reuelted into him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7. 16. hee only prays, that hee would punish them with mercie, which Iakob called in measure, Chap. 27. 8. measuring his rods by their infinitie, 1. Cor. 10. 13. for here by iudgement is meant not onely the punishment, but also the mercifull moderation of the same, as Chap. 30. 11. r As much as God can not only be known and glorified by his mercie, that hee vouch to his Church, but also by his iustice in punishing his enemies, he prays that his glorie may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Psal. 79. 6.

3 A curse of them that obey not the wordes of Gods commandment.
10 The people of Iudah following the ways of their fathers, worship strange gods.
15 The Lord forbideth Ieremiah to pray for them.

h The moye that man thinketh to do any thing well by his owne wisdom, and not as God instructeth him, the moye doeth hee proue himselfe to be a vile beast.

i By these wordes, portion and rod, he signifieth their inheritance: meaning, that God should be all sufficient for them, and that their felicitie consist in him alone, & therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes, and succours, as of idoles, &c. Deut. 32. 9. Psal. 136. 5.

k The phrase wilketh the fowles to prepare themselves to the captiuitie, shewing that it was now at hand, that they should seele the things, whereof he had tolde them.

l He is my iust plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behave themselves towards God.

q Ieremiahs

The worde that came to Ieremias from the Lord, saying, 2 Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and speake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the wordes of this covenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the lande of Egypt, from yron furnace, saying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all these things, which I commaunde you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and honie, as [appeareth] this day. Then answered I and saide, So be it, O Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Crie all these wordes in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare ye the wordes of this covenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I brought them vp out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheles they would not obey, nor endure their care: but euery one walked in the stubbernes of his wicked heart: therfore I wil bring vpon them all the wordes of this covenant, which I commaunded them to doe, but they did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspiracie is found among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: [thus] the house of Israel, & the house of Iudah haue broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they crie vnto me, I will not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem go, and crie vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shall not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and [according] to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue ye set vp altars of confusion, [eu]en altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not praye for this people, neither by a crie, or prayer for them: for when they crie vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

15 What should my beloued [tarte] in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many: and the holy flesh goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A greene olive tree, faire, [and] of goodly fruite: [but] with noyle and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, & the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for y wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselves to prouoke me to anger in offering incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lord hath taught me, and I knowe it, [eu]en then thou shewdest me their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, [or] a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knewe not that they had deuised thus against me, [saying], Let vs destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and cut him out of the land of the living, that his name may be no more in memorie.

20 But O Lord of hostes, that iudgeth righteously, and triest the reines and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

21 The Lord therefore speaketh thus of the men of Anathoth, (that seeke thy life, and say, Prophecie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our handes)

22 Thus therefore saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I will visite them: the yong men shall die by the sword: their sonnes and their daughters shall die by famine,

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, [eu]en the yeere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet marvelleth at the prosperity of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Jewes are forsaken of the Lord. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threateth destruction vnto the nations, that troubled Iudah.

a The prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue a reason of all his actions.

b This question hath bene alway a great vexation to the gospoly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in adversity, as Job. 21. 7. Psal. 77. 1. and 73. 2. Habak. 1. 3.

c They praise God in mouth, but denie him in heart, which is here ment by the reines, Isa. 29. 13. Mart. 15. 8.

d The Church is to be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God giveth a while giue prosperitie, that afterward they should the more feeble his heavenly iudgements when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercie.

e Abusing Gods mercie and his promises, they flatter themselves as though God would ever be mercifull, and not bitterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselves in sinne, till at length the bestiall and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubborn rebellion against God.

f Some thinke that God reprooueth Jeremiah in that, that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to match with men, that he were faine vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the footmen, meane them of Anathoth, and by the boylmen them of Jerusalem, which should trouble the prophet with their owne country men.

g God willett the prophet to renounce his iudgements against Jerusalem, notwithstanding that they shall both by chearings and flatteries labour to put him to silence. h Ever ramping and raging against me and my prophets. i In stead of hearing my iudicium and waring my colours, they haue change and diuersitie of colours of their doles and superstitions: therefore their enemies, as thicke as the fowles of the aire, shal come about them to destroy them.

Lord, if I dispute with thee, thou art righteous: yet let me talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? Why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they grow, and bring forth fruit: thou art nere in their mouth, and farre from their reines.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seene me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and the herbes of euery fielde wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein: the bestiall are consumed and the birds, because they said, He will not see our last ende.

5 If thou hast runne with the footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then holue canst thou match thy selfe with hoxles: and if thou thoughtest thy selfe safe in a peaceable land, what wilt thou do in the swelling of Iordan?

6 For euery thy brethren, & the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cried out altogether vpon thee: but beleue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloued of my soule into the handes of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is vnto me, as a byson in the forest: it crieth out against me, therefore haue I hated it.

9 Shall mine heritage be vnto me, as a bird of diuers colours: are not y birds about her, [saying,] Come, assemble all the bestiall of the field, come to eate her?

10 Many pastors haue destroyed my vineyard, and troden my portion under foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wilderness.

11 They haue laide it waste, and it being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole land heth waste, because no man setteth his minde on it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wilderness: for the sword of the Lord shall denoure from the one ende of the lande, euen to the other: ende of the lande: no flesh shall haue peace.

13 They haue soluen wheate, and reaped thomes: they were sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine euill neighbours, that touche the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Beholde, I will plucke them out of their lande, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, The Lord lieth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal, then shall they be built in the mids of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I bitterly plucke vp, and destroy that nation, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Jewes is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was reuered to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 15 He exhorteth them to repentance.

Thus saith the Lord vnto me, Go, and bie thee a linen girdle, & put it vpon thy loynes, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the word of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, go towarde Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lord had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lord said vnto me, Arise, go towarde Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide. 11 Because no man regardeth my word, of the plagues that I haue sent vpon the land.

12 To wit, the Prophets, 13 They lamented the sinnes of the people, 14 For in stead of amendment you giue them worse, as those plagues which I haue sent vpon the land.

15 Speaking, the wicked enemies of his Church which blasphemed his name, a whom he would punish after that he hath beloued his people, 16 After that I haue punished the Gentiles, I will haue mercie vpon them.

17 The true doctrine & manner to serue God, 18 Reade Chap. 4. 2.

19 They shalbe of a number of the faithful, and haue a place in my Church.

20 Because this triuer Perath or Euphrates was far from Jerusalem, it is euident, that this was a vision, whereby was signified that the Jewes should passe ouer Euphrates to be captiues in Babylon, and there for length of time should seeme to be redeemed: although they were turned to the land before as a girdle about a man.

I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, [and] was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lorde, After this manner will I destroy the pride of Iudah, and the great pride of Ierusalem.

10 This wicked people haue refused to heare my worde, and walke after the stubbernes of their owne heart, & walke after other gods to serue them, & to worship them: therefore they shalbe as this girdle, which is profitable to nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaueth to the loynes of a man, so haue I tied to me the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iudah, sayth the Lorde, that they might be my people: that they might haue a name and praise, and glory, but they would not heare.

12 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them this word, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Every bottell shalbe filled with wine, and they shall say vnto thee, Doe we not knowe that euery bottell shalbe filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, euene the Kings that sit vpon the throne of Dauid, and the Priests & the Prophets and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with drunkennes.

14 And I will dash them one against another, euene fathers and the sonnes together, sayth the Lorde: I will not spare, I will not pittie nor haue compassion, but destroy them.

15 Heare and giue eare, be not proude: for the Lord hath spoken it.

16 Giue glory to the Lord your God before he bring darkness, and ouer your feete stumble in the darke mountaines, and whiles you looke for light, he turne it into the shadowe of death, [and] make it as darkness.

17 But if ye will not heare this, my soule shall weepe in secret for your pride, and mine eye shal weepe and drop downe teares, because the Lords stocke is caried away captiue.

18 Say vnto the King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall be caried away captiue: it shalbe wholly caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eyes & beholde them that come from the North: where is the stocke that was giuen thee, [euene] thy beautifull stocke?

21 What wilt thou say, when he shall visite thee: (for thou hast taught them to be captiues, and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine hearte, wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts<sup>1</sup> discovered [and] thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Doe change his skin: or the leopard his spottednes: then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do euill.

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South wind.

25 This is thy portion, [and] the part of thy measures from me, saith the Lord, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discovered thy skirts vnto thy face, that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy merings, the filchines of thy whore, dome on the hilles in the fields, & thine abominations. Wo vnto thee, O Ierusalem: wilt thou not be made cleane: when shall it once be?

CHAP. XIII.

1 Of the death that should come. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lord. 10 The unfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of talke of prophets that seduce the people.

The worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the death.

2 Iudah hath mourned, and the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene brought to heauines vnto the grounde, and the crye of Ierusalem goeth vp.

3 And their nobles haue set their inferiours to water, who came to wells: [and] found no water: they returned with their besselemptie: they were ashamed and confounded, & couered their heads.

4 For the ground was destroyed, because there was no raine in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, [and] couered their heads.

are many. We sinned against thee.

8 Of the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as a stranger in the land, as one that passeth by to tarie for a night?

2 why art thou as a man affonied, and as a strong man that cannot helpe:
yet thou, O Lorde, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: for sake vs not.

10 Thus saith the Lorde vnto this people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lorde hath no delite in them: [but] hee will nowe remember their iniquitie and visite their finnes.

II Then said  $\text{\textcircled{L}}$  Lord vnto me,  $\text{\textcircled{T}}$ hou shalt not pray to do this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their crye, and When they offer burnt offring, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, & by the famine & by y pestilence.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lord God, beholde, the<sup>k</sup> Prophets say vnto them. We shall not see the sword, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The Prophets prophesie lies in my Name. I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, [but] they prophesie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfullnes of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lorde.
Concerning the Prophets that prophesie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sworde & famine shall not be in this land, by Sworde & famine shall those Prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom these Propheties do prophesie, shalbe cast out in the streetes of Ierusalem, because of the famine, and the sword, and there shalbe none to burie them, [both] they, & their wiues, and their sonnes, & their daughters: for I will powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, Let mine eyes drop down teares night and day Without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed With a great destruction, [¶]
With a sore grievous plague.

18 For if I go into the fieldes, beholde the flaine with the sworde: and if I enter into the citie, beholde them that are sicke for hunger also: moreouer the Prophet also and the Priest go a wandring

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the Lord, [and] gone backward: therefore will I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: [for] I am weary with repenting.

7 And I will scatter them with the famine in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, [and] destroyed my people, yet they would not returne from their wayes.

8 Their widowes are increased by me above the lande of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, [and] against the assemble of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, [and] the cite suddenly, and speedily.

9 She that hath borne seven, hath bene made weake: her heart hath fayled: the sunne hath fayled her, whyles it was day: she hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visite me, and reuenge me of my persecuters: take nie not away in the continuance of thine anger: knowe that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

1 The Lord forbidding Jeremiah to marrie, betwixt him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah, 13 The captiuitie of Babylon, 15 Their deliuerance, 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

1 The worde of the Lord came also vnto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lord concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, & concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers, that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deaths [and] de-seales: they shall not be mented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dongue vpon the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, & their carkeises shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament, nor be moued for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people,

saith the Lord, [even] mercie and compassion.

6 Both the great, and the small shall dye in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them: nor cut themselves, nor make themselves balde for them.

7 They shall not stretch out [the hands] for them in mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall they give them <sup>h</sup> cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into <sup>i</sup> house of feasting to sit with them to eat and to drinke.

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, even in your dayes the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of gladnesse, the voyce of the bridegome, & the voyce of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shewe this people all these wordes, and they shall say vnto thee, <sup>j</sup> Wherefore hath <sup>k</sup> the Lord pronounced al this great plague against vs: or what is our iniquitie: and what is our sinne that we haue committed against the Lord our God:

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, sayeth the Lord, and haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, & haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Lawe,

12 (And ye haue done woele then your fathers: for behold, you walke every one after the stubbernes of his wicked heart, and will not heare me)

13 Therefore will I drive you out of this land into a land that ye knowe not, [neither] you, nor your fathers, & there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

14 Behold therefore, layeth the Lord, the dayes come that it shall no more be sayde, The Lord liueth, which brought by the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But the Lord liueth, that brought by the children of Israel from the land of the North, and from all the landes where he had scattered them, and I will bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many <sup>l</sup> fishers, and they shall fish them, and after will I send out many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountaine and from every hill, and out of the caues of the rockes.

17 For mine eyes [are] vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompence their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, [and] haue filled mine inheritance with their filthy <sup>m</sup> carions and their abominations.

19 O Lord, [thou art] my <sup>n</sup> force, and my strength and my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the worlde, and shall say, Surely our fathers haue inherited <sup>o</sup> lies, [and] vanitie, wherein there was no profite.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto him selfe, and they are no gods:

21 Behold, therefore I will this once <sup>p</sup> teache them: I will shewe them mine hand and my poluer, & they shall know that my Name is the Lord.

of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out and to destroy it.

8 But if this nation, against whome
I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednes, I will repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

to build it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euill in my sight and heare not my voyce, I wil repent of the good that I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou now therefore vnto
the men of Iudah, and to the inhabithe Lord, Beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you:

returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they sayd, ouer desperately, Sure-stubburnnes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Will a man forsake the snoue of and wagge his head, winde before the enemy: I will shewe them the backe, and not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayd they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuice against Jeremiah: for the Lawde shall not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the tongue, & let vs not giue heede to any of his wordes.

good: for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them, [and] to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, deliuer vp their chil-by the force of the sword, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, [and] let their young men be houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this cite, as one breaketh a potters vessell, that can not be made whole againe, and they shall burie [them] in Topheth till there be no place to burie.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, saith the Lorde, and to the inhabitants thereof, and I will make this cite like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the houses vpon whose roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue potyzed out drinke offerings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Topheth, where the Lorde had sent him to prophesie, and he stode in the court of the Lords house, & said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this cite, and vpon all her towines, all the plagues that I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and would not heare my wordes.

CHAP. XX.

2 Jeremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the word of God. 3 The propheticall captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

Vhen Pashur, the sonne of Immer, & Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the hie gate of Beniamin which was by the house of the Lord.

3 And on y morning Pashur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then sayd Jeremiah vnto him, The Lorde hath not called thy name Pashur, but <sup>g</sup> Goz-musabbib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will make thee to be a terror to thy selfe, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall beholde it, and I will giue all Judah into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall carie them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliuer all the substance of this cite, and all the labours thereof, & all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Judah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and carie them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, & all that dwell in thine house, shall goe into captiuitie, and thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there: thou and all thy friends to whom thou hast prophesied lyes.

7 O Lord, thou hast decreed me, and I am deceived: thou art stronger then I, and hast preuailed: I am in derision daily: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cryed out of wrong, & proclaimed: desolation: therefore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I said, I wil not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his worde was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was wearie with forbearing, and I could not [stay.]

Her prophesies that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the citie burned.

The worde which came vnto Jeremiah from the Lorde, when King Zedekiah sent vnto him Balthur, the sonne of Balchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest, saying,

2 Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lord for vs (for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord will deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vpon vs.

3 Then sayd Jeremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the middes of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, & with a mightie arme, euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man, and beast: they shall dye of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lorde, I will deliuer Zedekiah the King of Judah, and his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sword and from the famine into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shal not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lorde, Beholde, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that abideth in this citie, shall dye by the sword and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that besiege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a pray.

10 For I haue let my face against this citie, for euill and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire.

11 And [say] vnto the house of the King of Judah, heare ye the worde of the Lord.

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lord, Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my wrath go out like fire and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednesse of your workes.

13 Behold, I [come] against thee, O inhabitant of the balley, [and] rocke of the playne, saith the Lorde, which say, who shall come downe against vs? or who shall enter into our habitations?

Ihus said y<sup>e</sup> Lord, Go downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, heare the worde of the Lord, O king of Iudah, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates,

3 Thus saith the Lord, *Execute ye iudgement and righteousness, and deliuer the oppressed from the hand of the oppressor, and bere not the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow: do no violence, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this house, * and ride vpon charrets, & vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare these words, I sweare by my selfe, saith the Lord, that this house shall be waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings house of Iudah, Thou art as Gilad vnto me, and the head of Lebanon, yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and as cities not inhabited,

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 And many nations shall passe by this cite, and they shall lay euery man to his neighbour, wherefore hath the Lord done thus vnto this great cite:

9 Then shall they answer, Because they haue forsaken the covenant of the Lord their God, and worshipped other gods and serued them.

10 Weepe not for the dead, and be not moued for them, but weepe for him that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the Lord, As touching Shallum sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue led him captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 And vnto him that buildeth his house by vnrighteousnes, & his chambers without equitie: he bleth his neighbour without wages and giueth him not for his worke.

14 Hee saith, I will builde me a wide house and large chambers: so he will make himselfe large windowes, and filling with cedar and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou cloest thy selfe in cedar: did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice:

16 When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knewe me, saith the Lord:

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but onely for thy couetousnes, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, [eu]en to do this.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord against Jehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shall not lament him, [say]ing, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, [say]ing, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

19 He shall be buried as an asse is buried, [eu]en drawen and cast forth with out the gates of Jerusalem.

20 Go vp to Lebanon, and crie: shoulde in Bashan and crie by the passages: for all thy iouers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: [but] thou saydest, I will not heare: this hath bene thy manner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wilde shall feede all thy pastors, and thy iouers shall go into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednes.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the ceders: howe beautifull shalt thou be when forlorn come vpon thee, as the sorow of a woman in trauaile:

24 As I haue, saith the Lord, though I coniah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the hande of them, whole face thou fearest: euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to carie thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, for for the promises sake could not be taken from his house: but hee abused Gods promises, and therefore was iustly deuyed of the kingdom.

k Speaking Iosiah, who was not giuen to ambition and superfluities, but was content with modestie and did onely delight in feeling forth Gods glorie and to do iustice to all. l For euery one shall haue enough to lament for himselfe.

m For honour, richly among his fathers, but as carious are cast in a hole because their sinne should not infect, read p For this was the way out of Iudaea to Assyria: where by I mene that all helpe should faile: for the Caldeans haue subdued both them and the Assyrians.

q Both thy gouernours and they that helpe thee, shall waxe as wane.

r Thou that art built of the faire Ceders trees of Lebanon.

s Also was called Jehoiachin of Ieremias, whom hee calleth here Coniah in contempt, who thought his kingdom could neuer depart from him, because hee came of the stocke of Dauid, and therefore but hee abused Gods into another countrey, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the lande, wherunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Gomah [as] a despised [or] broken dole: or [as] a vessel, wherein is no pleasure: wherefore are they carried away, he and his seede, and cast out into a land that they know not:

29 O' earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, write this man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of David, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

CHAP. XXIII.

Against false Pastors, & A prophetic of the great Pastor Jesus Christ.

V [be] vnto <sup>a</sup> the Pastors that destroy and scatter <sup>b</sup> the sheepe of my pasture, saith the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto the Pastors that feede my people, Ye haue scattered my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: beholde, I will visite you for the wickednes of your workes, saith the Lord.

3 And I will gather the remnant of my sheepe out of all countreys, whither I had driven them, and will bring them againe to their foldes, and they shall growbe and encrease.

4 And I will set by shepheards ouer them, which shall feede them: and they shall breed no more nor be afraide, neither shall any of them be lacking, saith the Lord.

5 Beholde, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will raise vnto Dauid a righteous <sup>c</sup> branch, and a King shall reigne, and prosper, and shall execute iudgement, and iustice in the earth.

6 In his dayes Iudah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely, and this is the Name wherby they shall call him, The Lord our righteousnes.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that they shall no more say, The Lord lieth, which brought by the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8 But the Lord lieth which brought vp and led the seed of the house of Israel out of the North countrey and from all countreys where I had scattered them, and they shall dwell in their owne land.

9 Mine heart breaketh within mee, because of the <sup>d</sup> prophets, all my bones shake: I am like a drunken man (and like a man whom wine hath ouercome) for the presence of the Lord and for his holy wordes.

10 For the lande is full of adulterers, [and] because of othes the land mourneth, the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried vp, and their <sup>e</sup> course is euill, and their force is not right.

11 For both the prophet and the Priest doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I founde in mine house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shall be vnto them as slippery wayes in the darkenesse: for they shall beauen footstall and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, [even] the yere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the Prophets of Samaria, that prophesied in Baal and caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the Prophets of Ierusalem <sup>f</sup> filthymines: they commit adulterie and walke in lies: they strengthen also the handes of the wicked that none can returne from his wickednes: they are all vnto <sup>g</sup> me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the Prophets of Ierusalem is wickednes gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophesie vnto you, and teache you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne heart [and] not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath said, Ye shall haue peace: and they say vnto every one that walketh after the stubbernes of his owne heart, So euill shall come vpon you.

18 For who hath stand in the counsel of the Lord that he hath perceiued and heard his word: who hath marked his word and heard it:

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewinde shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

and that it may same purpose that it was spo-z Which I see which I haue not commanded.

a To wit, the Lord.
b The Prophets called their chieft-nings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to susteine: therefore the lutes in deriding the word, would alke of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, you seeke nothing els, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they rejected the word of God, as a grieuous burden.

20 The anger of the Lord shall not returne vntill he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughtes of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vn-derstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, saith the Lord, yet they ran: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophesied.

22 But if they had stand in my counsell, and had declared my wordes to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euill way, and from the wickednes of their intentions.

23 Am I a God [at hand,] saith the Lord, and not a God [farre off:]

24 Can any hide himselfe in secret places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord: Do not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets said, that prophesie lies in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? Do the prophets de-lite to prophesie lyes, euen prophesying the deceite of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause * my people to forget my name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my name for Baal:

28 The Prophet that hath a dreame, let him * tell a dreame, and he that hath my word, let him speake my word faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheate,
saith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde euen like a fire, saith the Lord: and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I [will come] against the prophets, saith the Lord, that * steale my word euery one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I [will come] against the Prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, * he faith.

32 Beholde, I [will come] against them that prophesie false dreames, saith the Lord, and do tell them, and cause my people to erre by their lyes, and by their flatteries, and I sent them not, nor commaunded them: therefore they bring no profit vnto this people, saith the Lord.

33 And when this people, or the Prophet, or a Priest shall aske thee, saying, what is the * burden of the Lord: thou shalt then say vnto them, what burden:

nings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to susteine: therefore the lutes in deriding the word, would alke of the Prophets, what was the burden, as though they would say, you seeke nothing els, but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they rejected the word of God, as a grieuous burden.

I will euen forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the Prophet, or the Priest, or the people that shall say, The burden of the Lord, I will euen visite euery such one, and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say euery one to his neighbour, and euery one to his brother, what hath the Lord answered: and what hath the Lord spoken?

36 And the burden of the Lord hath ye mention no more: for euery mans word shall be his burden: for ye haue peruered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the Prophet, what hath the Lord answered thee: and what hath the Lord spoken?

38 And if you say, The burden of the Lord, Then thus saith the Lord, Because ye say this word, The burden of the Lord, and I haue sent vnto you, saying,
Ye shall not say, the burden of the Lord.

39 Therefore beholde, I euen I will utterly forget you, & I will forsake you, and the title that I gaue you & your fathers, [and cast you] out of my presence.

40 And will bring * an euercasting reproch vpon you, and a perpetuall shame which shall neuer be forgotten.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 The vision of the baskets of figges: * Signifieth that part of the people should be brought againe from captiuitie, 8 And that Zeechiah & the rest of the people should be carried away.

The Lord shewed me, and be-holde, two * baskets of figges were set before the Temple of the Lord, after that Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel had carried away captiue Jeromiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemen, and cunning men of Ierusalem, and had brought them to Babel.

2 One basket [had] very good figges, [euen] like the figges that are first ripe:
and the other basket [had] very naugh-tie figges, which could not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, what seest thou, Jeremiah: And I sayde, Figges: the good figges very good, and the naughtie very naughtie, which can not be eaten, they are so euill.

4 Again the word of the Lord came
vnto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the Lord, the God of Israel, Like these good figges, so will I know them that are carried away cap-tue of Iudah to be good, whom I haue sent

CHAP. XXV.

1 The prophesie that they shall be in captiuitie seuentie yeres, 2 And that after the seuentie yeres the Babylonians should be destroyed, 3 The destruction of all nations is prophesied.

The word that came to Jeremiah, concerning all the people of Iudah in the fourth yere of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Iudah that was in the first yere of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel:

2 The which Jeremiah the prophet spake vnto all the people of Iudah, & to all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yere of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Iudah, euen vnto this day [that is the three and twentieth yere] the word of the Lord hath come vnto me, and I haue spoken vnto you rising early and speaking, but ye would not heare.

4 And the Lord hath sent vnto you all his seruants p <sup>5</sup>Prophets, rising early and sending [them], but ye would not heare, nor endine your eares to obey.

5 They <sup>6</sup>saide, Turne againe now euen one from his euill way, and from the wickednes of your inuentions, and ye shall dwell in the land that the Lord hath out labourt to pull the people from those viers, which then reigned: to wit, from idolatrie, and the vaine confidence of men: for vnder these two all other were conceited, a. King. 17. 13. chap. 18. 2. 4. and 35. 15. 2. King. 3. 8.

6 And go not after other gods to serue them and to worship them, and prouoke me not to anger with the workes of your hands, and I will not punish you.

7 Nevertheless ye would not heare me, saith the Lord, but haue prouoked me to anger with the workes of your hands to your owne hurt.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Because ye haue not heard my wordes,

9 Beholde, I will sende and take [to me] all the families of the North, saith the Lord, & Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel my seruant, & will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations s <sup>10</sup>round about, & will destroy them, and make them an astonishment and an hissing, and a continuall desolation.

10 Moreover I will take from them the boye of mirth and the boye of gladnesse, the boye of the bidegrome and the boye of the bride, the noyle of the milstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole lande shall be desolate, and an astonishment, [and] these nations shall serue the king of Babel seuentie yeres.

12 And when the seuentie yeres are accomplished, I will visite the king of Babel and that nation, saith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and will make it a perpetuall desolation.

of Judah, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them desolate, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse, as [appeareth] this day:

19 Pharaoh [also,] King of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people:

20 And all foxes of people, and all the kings of the land of Egypt: and all kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Azah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod:

21 Edom, and Moab, & the Ammonites,

22 And all the kings of Tyre, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the Isles, that are beyond the Sea,

23 And Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that dwell in the uttermost corners,

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of Arabia, that dwell in the desert,

25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Bedes, 26 And all the kings of the North, farre and neere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are upon the earth, and King of Shestach shall drinke after them.

27 Therefore say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Drinke and be drunken, and swell and fall, & rise no more, because of the sword, which I will send among you.

28 But if they refuse to take the cuppe at thine hand to drinke, then tell them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, We shall certainly drinke.

29 For lo, I begin to plague the citie, where my Name is called vpon, and should you go free: We shall not go quite: for I will call for a sword vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.

30 Therefore prophesie thou against them all these wordes, & say vnto them, The Lord shall roare from above, and thrust out his voyce from his holy habitation: he shall roare vpon his habitation, and cry aloud, as they that presse the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 The found shall come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hath a controversy with the nations, and will enter into iudgement with all flesh, [and] hee will giue them that are wicked, to the sword, saith the Lord.

32 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, a plague shall goe forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlewinde shall be rayled vpon the coastes of the earth, 33 And the flame of the Lord shall be at that day, from [one] end of the earth, euen vnto the [other] end of the earth: they shall not be mourned, neither gathered nor buried, [but] shall be as the dongue vpon the ground.

34 Howle, ye shepherds, and crye, and wallowe your selues in the ashes: ye principall of the flocke: for your dayes of slaughter are accomplished, and of your dispersion, and ye shall fall like precious vessels.

35 And the flight shall faile from the shepherds, and the escaping from the principall of the flocke.

36 A voyce of crye of the shepherds, and an howling of the principall of the flocke [shall be heard]: for the Lord hath destroyed their pasture.

37 And the best pastures are destroyed because of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

38 He hath forsaken his covert, as the lyon: for their land is waste, because of the wrath of the oppressor, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Jeremiah mouth the people to repentance. 7 He is taken of the false Prophets and Priestes and brought to iudgement. 23 Uzziah the Prophet is killed of Jehoiakim contrary to the will of God.

At the beginning of the reigne of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, came this word from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, & speake vnto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the Lords house, all the words that I command thee to speake vnto them: keepe not a word backe,

3 If so be they will hearken, & turne euery man from his euill way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednes of their workes.

4 And thou shalt say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not heare me to walke in my lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my servants the Prophets, whom I sent vnto you, both rising by early, and sending [them,] and will not obey [them,] e So that whoe they would curse an, they shall say, God do to thee as to Jerusalem.

6 Then will I make this house like Shiloh, & will make this citie a curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these wordes in the house of  $\text{f}$  Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded [him] to speake vnto all the people, then the Priests, and the Prophets, and all the people tooke him, and said, Thou shalt dye the death.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the Name of  $\text{f}$  Lord, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this citie shall be desolate without an inhabitant: and all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the Lord.

10 And when the princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came by fro the Kings house into the house of the Lord, & late done in the entrie of the new gate of the Lords house.]

11 Then spake the Priests, & the Prophets vnto the princes, and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die: for he hath prophesied against this citie, as ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiah vnto all the princes, and to all the people, saying, The Lord hath sent me to prophesie against this house and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore now amend your waies and your workes, and heare the voyce of the Lord your God, that the Lord may repent him of the plague, that hee hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, beholde, I am in your hands: doe with me as ye thinke good and right.

15 But know ye for certaine, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for a truth the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the princes & all the people vnto the Priests & to the Prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose by certaine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Moreshite prophesied in the dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, and spake to all  $\text{f}$  people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heape, & the mountaine of the house [shall be] as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah king of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death: did he not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them: thus might we procure great euill against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the Name of the Lord, [one] Uriah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kirriath-jarem, who prophesied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the wordes of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Jehoiakim the King with all his men of polter, and all the princes heard his wordes,  $\text{f}$  king sought to slay him. But when Uriah heard it, he was afraide and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 Then Jehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, [euen] Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine with him into Egypt.

23 And they set Uriah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Jehoiakim the King, who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam  $\text{f}$  sonne of Shaphan was with Jeremiah that they should not giue him into the handes of the people to put him to death.

25 Which declareth that nothing coude haue appeased their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to stand valiantly in his defence.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Jeremiah at the commandment of the Lord sendeth bondes to the King of Iudah and to  $\text{f}$  other Kings that were neere, whereby they are moued to be subiects vnto Nebuchadnezzar. 2 He warneth the people and the Kings and rulers that they beleeue not false prophets.

In the beginning of  $\text{f}$  reigne of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Iudah came this worde vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord to me, Make thee  $\text{b}$  bondes, and pokes, and put them vpon thy necke,

3 And send them to  $\text{f}$  King of Edom, and to the King of Moab, and to the

ter, and conuerted: which if the reader make well, it shall moue many doubters, and make the reading much more easie. b By such signes the Prophets used sometimes to confirme their prophesies, which notwithstanding they could not doe of themselves, but in alimch as they had a reuelation for the same, Isa. 20. 3, and therefore the false prophets to get more credite, did vse also such visible signes, but they had no reuelation, 1 Kings. 22. 17.

That is, of the house of the Lord: to wit, Ierusalem, whose temples the godly alleged to deuote Ierusalem out of the Priests hands whose rage els would not haue bene so excited, but by his death.

k So that the citie was not destroyed, but by miracle was deliuered out of  $\text{f}$  hands of Sennacherib.

l Here is declared the future of captiues, who cannot abide to heare Gods voyce declared, but persecute the ministers thereof, and per in the end they periale nothing, but periale themselves.

m As in the first Hezekiahs example is to be followed, so in this other Jehoiakims acte is to be abhorred: for Gods plague did light on him, and his holubolde.

n Which declareth that nothing coude haue appeased their furie, if God had not moued this noble man to stand valiantly in his defence.

a As touching the disposition of these prophesies, they that gathered them into a booke, did not altogether obserue the order of times, but did set some afore, which should be after.

b By such signes the Prophets used sometimes to confirme their prophesies, which notwithstanding they could not doe of themselves, but in alimch as they had a reuelation for the same, Isa. 20. 3, and therefore the false prophets to get more credite, did vse also such visible signes, but they had no reuelation, 1 Kings. 22. 17.

King

King of the Ammonites, and to the King of Tyus, and to the King of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem vnto Zedekiah the King of Iudah,

4 And commande them to say vnto their masters, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say vnto your masters,

5 I haue made the earth, the man, and the beast that are vpon the ground, by my great power, and by my outstretched arme, & haue giuen it vnto whom it pleased me.

6 But now because I haue giuen all these lands into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar the King of Babel my seruant, and the beastes of the field haue I also giuen him to serue him.

7 And all nations that serue him, and his sonne, and his sonnes sonne vntill the very time of his land come also: then many nations and great Kings shall serue them selues of him.

8 And the nation of kingdome which will not serue the same Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and that will not put their necke vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, the same nation will I visite, sayth the Lord, with the sword, and with the famine, and with pestilence, vntill I haue wholly [giuen] them into his hands.

9 Therefore heare not your Prophets nor your soothsayers, nor your dreamers, nor your enchanterers, nor your forcerers, which say vnto you thus, We shall not serue the King of Babel.

10 For they prophesie a lye vnto you to cause you to goe farre from your land, and that I should cast you out, and you should perish.

11 But the nation that put their necks vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, sayth the Lord, and they shall occupie it, and dwell therein.

12 I spake also to Zedekiah King of Iudah according to all these wordes, saying, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the King of Babel, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou die, thou, and thy people by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the Lord hath spoken against the nation, that will not serue the King of Babel:

14 Therefore heare not the wordes of the Prophets, that speake vnto you, saying, We shall not serue the King of Babel: for they prophesie a lye vnto you.

15 For I haue not sent them, sayth the Lord, yet they prophesie a lye in my name, that I might cast you out, and that ye might perish, both you, and the Prophets that prophesie vnto you.

16 Also I spake to the Priests, and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, heare not the wordes of your Prophets that prophesie vnto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the Lord shall now be brought aaine from Babel, for they prophesie a lye vnto you.

17 Heare them not, [but] serue the King of Babel, that ye may liue: wherefore should this cite be desolate?

18 But if they be Prophets, and if the worde of the Lord be with them, let them intreate the Lord of hostes, that the vessels, which are left in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the King of Iudah, and at Jerusalem, goe not to Babel.

19 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bales, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remaine in this cite,

20 Which Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke not, when he caried away captiue Ieremias the sonne of Jehoiakim King of Iudah from Jerusalem to Babel, with all the nobles of Iudah and Jerusalem.

21 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remaine in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the King of Iudah, and at Jerusalem, 22 They shall be brought to Babel, and there they shall be vntill the day that I visite them, sayth the Lord: then will I bring them bp, and restore them vnto this place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 The false prophetic of Hananiah. 2 Jeremias repproueth Hananiah and prophesieeth.

AND that same yeere in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the fourth yeere. [and] in the fifth moneth Hananiah the sonne of Azur the Prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake to me in the house of the Lord in the presence of the Priests, and of all the people, and sayd,

Which were taken when Ieremias was led captiue into Babel.

For it had not onely the Prophets of fire to shew the worde of God, but also to pay for the sinnes of the people. Gen. 20. 7, which these could not doe because they had no expellit word: For God had pronounced the contrarie. 2. King. 25. 13. 2. King. 24. 13. 15.

e Read Chap. 25. 9.

d speaking, Sulmicio-dach, and his sonne Belshazzar. e They shall bring him, and his kingdome in subiection, as Chap. 25. 14.

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the King of Babel.

3 Within two yeeres space I will bring into this place all the vessels of the Lords house, that Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel tooke away from this place, and caried them into Babel.

4 And I will bring againe to this place Jeroniah the sonne of Jehoiakim King of Judah, with all them that were caried away captiue of Judah, and went into Babel, saith the Lord: for I wil breake the yoke of the King of Babel.

5 Then the Prophet Jeremias said vnto the Prophet hananiah in the presence of the Priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the Lord.

6 Euen the Prophet Jeremias sayd, So be it: the Lord so do, the Lord confirme thy wordes which thou hast prophesied to restore the vessels of the Lords house, and all that is caried captiue, from Babel, into this place.

7 But heare thou now this worde that I will speake in thine eares and in the eares of all the people.

8 The Prophets that haue bene before me & before thee in time past, prophesied against many countreys, and against great kingdomes, of warre, and of plagues, and of pestilence.

9 And the Prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the Prophet shall come to passe, then shall the Prophet be knowen that the Lord hath truly sent him.

10 Then hananiah the Prophet tooke the yoke from the Prophet, Jeremiahs necke, and brake it.

11 And hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Euen so wil I breake the yoke of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, from the necke of all nations within the space of two yeeres: and the Prophet Jeremias went his way.

12 When the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremias the Prophet, (after that hananiah the Prophet had broken the yoke from the necke of the Prophet Jeremias) saying, 13 Go, & tell hananiah, saying, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast broken the yokes of wood, but thou shalt make for them yokes of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, I haue put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all these nations, that they may serue Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel: for they shall serue him, and I haue giuen him the beasts of the field also.

15 Then said the Prophet Jeremias vnto the Prophet hananiah, heare nowe hananiah, the Lord hath not sent thee, but thou makest this people to trust in a lye.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will cast thee from off the earth: this yeece thou shalt dye, because thou hast spoken rebelliously against the Lord.

17 So hananiah the Prophet dyed the same yeece in the seuenth moneth.

1 Jeremias writeth vnto them that were in captiuitie in Babilon. 20 The prophetieth their returne after seuenie yeeres. 26 The prophetieth of destruction of the King of the people that remaine in Iherusalem. 21 The threatning the prophetieth of the people, 25 The death of Hananiah is prophesied.

NOW these are the wordes of the booke that Jeremias the Prophet sent from Iherusalem vnto the residue of the Elders which were caried away captiues, and to the Priests, and to the Prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchad-nezzar had caried away captiue from Iherusalem to Babel:

2 (After that Jeroniah the King, and the Queene, and the eunuches, the princes of Judah, and of Iherusalem, and the workemen, and cunning men were departed from Iherusalem)

3 By the hand of Elisiah the sonne of Shaphan and Semariah the sonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent vnto Babel to Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel) saying,

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all that are caried away captiues, whom I haue caused to be caried away captiues from Iherusalem vnto Babel:

5 Builde you houses to dwell in, and plant you gardens, and eate the fruites of them.

6 Take you wiues, and beget sonnes and daughters, and take wiues for your sonnes, and giue your daughters to husbands, that they may beare sonnes and daughters, that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 And seeke prosperitie of the citie, whether I haue caused you to be caried away captiues, & pray vnto the Lord for it: for in peace shall you haue peace.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Let not your prophets, and your soothsayers that bee among you, deceive you, neither give care to your dreames, which you dreame.

9 For they prophesie you a lie in my Name: I haue not sent them, sayth the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, That after seuentie yeeres bee accomplished at Babel, I will visite you, and perfoyme my good promes toward you, and cause you to returne to this place.

11 For I knowe the thoughtes, that I haue thought towardes you, sayeth the Lord, [even] the thoughtes of peace, and not of trouble, to give you an ende, and [your] hope.

12 Then shall you cry vnto mee, and ye shall go and pray vnto me, and I will heare you,

13 And ye shall seeke me and find [me] because ye shall seeke me with all your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, sayth the Lord, and I will turne away your captiuitie, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places, whither I haue cast you, sayeth the Lord, and will bring you againe vnto the place, whence I caused you to be carryed away captiue.

15 Because ye haue said, The Lord hath raised vs vp prophets in Babel,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord of the King, that sitteth vpon the throne of Dauid, and of all the people, that dwell in this citie, your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captiuitie:

17 [Euen] thus saith the Lord of hosts, Beholde, I will sende vpon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, & will make them like bile figges, that can not be eaten, they are so naughtie.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, & with the pestilence: and I will make them a terror to all kingdomes of the earth, [and] a curse, & a scornement and an hissing, and a reproch among al the nations whither I haue cast them,

19 Because they haue not heard my words, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophetes, rising vp early, and sending them, I but ye would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 Where ye therfore the word of the Lord be all ye of the captiuitie, whome I haue sent from Ierusalem to Babel, 21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, of Ahub the sonne of Balaiah, and of Zedekiah the sonne of Maaseiah, which prophesie lyes vnto you in my Name, Behold, I will deliuer them into the hand of Nebuchad-nassar king of Babel, and hee shall slay them before your eyes.

22 And al they of the captiuitie of Iudah, that are in Babel, shall take vp this curse against them, and say, The Lord make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahub, whome the King of Babel burnt in the fire, 23 Because they haue committed belenie in Israel, and haue committed adultery with their neighbours wives, & haue spoken lying words in my Name, which I haue not commanded them, euen I know it, and testifie it, saith the Lord.

24 Thou shalt also speake to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,

25 Thus speake the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy Name vnto al the people, that are at Ierusalem, & to Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath made thee Priest, for Jehoiada the Priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the Lord, for euery man that raueeth and maketh him selfe a prophet, to put him in prison and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast not thou reprimond Jeremiah of Anathoth, which prophesieth vnto you?

28 For, for this cause he sent vnto vs in Babel, saying, This captiuitie is long, build houses to dwell in, and plant gardens, and eate the fruits of them.

29 And Zephaniah the Priest read this letter in the eares of Jeremiah the Prophet.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah, saying,

31 Sende to all them of the captiuitie, saying, Thus saith the Lord of Shemaiah the Nehelamite, Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied vnto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie, 32 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will visite Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not haue a man to dwell among this people, neither shall he behold the good, that I will do for my people, saith the Lord, because he hath spokē rebelliously against the Lord.

CHAP. XXX.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon, 16 He menaceth the enemies, 18 And comforteth the Church.

The word that came to Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,
2 Thus speaketh the Lord God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the wordes, that I haue spoken vnto thee in a booke.

3 For so the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel and Iuda, sayth the Lord: for I will restore them vnto the land, that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall possesse it.

4 Againe, these are the wordes of the Lord spake concerning Israel, and concerning Iudah.

5 For thus sayth the Lord, we haue heard a terrible voyce, of feare and not of peace.

6 Demande now and behold, if man trauaile with child: wherefore do I be- hold every man with his handes on his loines as a woman in trauaile, and all faces are turned into a palenes:

7 Alas, for this day is great: none hath bene like it: it is euen the time of Iakobhs trouble, yet shall he be deliuered from it.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hosts, I will breake his yoke fro of thy necke, and breake thy bonds, & strangers shall no more serue themselves of him.

9 But they shall serue the Lord their God, and Dauid their King, whom I will raise by vnto them.

10 Therefore feare not, O my seruant Iakob, saith the Lord, neither be afraid, O Israel: for lo, I will deliuer thee fro a sacre countrey, & thy seed from the land of their captiuitie, & Iakob shall turne againe, and shall be in rest and prosperitie and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the Lord, to saue thee: though I bitterly destroy all the nations where I haue scattered thee, yet will I not utterly destroy thee, but I will correct thee by iudgement, & not bitterly cut thee off.

12 For thus saith the Lord, Thy bruising is incurable, & thy wounde is dolorous.

13 There is none to iudge thy cause, [or to lay] a plaister: there are no medicines, nor heipe for thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotte thee: they seeke thee not: for I haue stricken thee with the wound of an enemy, and with a sharpe chastisement for the multitude of thine iniquities, [because] thy sinnes were increased.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction: thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine iniquities: [because] thy sinnes were increased, I haue done these things vnto thee.

16 Therefore all they that denoure thee, shall be denoured, & all thine enemies every one shall go into captiuitie: & they that spoile thee, shall be spoiled, & all they that rob thee, will I giue to be robbed.

17 For I will restore health vnto thee, and I will heale thee of thy woundes, saith the Lord, because they called thee, The cast away, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.

18 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring againe the captiuitie of Iakobhs tents, and haue compassion on his dwelling places: & the cite shall be builded vpon her owne heape, & the palace shall remaine after the manner thereof.

19 And out of them shall proceede thanksgiving, and the voyce of them that are ioyous, and I will multiply them, and they shall not be feble: I will also glorifie them, and they shall not be diminished.

20 Their children also shall be as afore time, and their congregation shall be established before me: and I will visite all that bere them.

21 And their noble ruler shall be of themselves, & their gouernour shall proceede from the mids of them, and I will cause him to draw neere, & approach vnto mee: for who is this that directeth his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the tempest of the Lord goeth forth with wrath: the whirlwind that hangeth ouer, shall light vpon the head of the wicked.

24 The fierce wrath of the Lord shall not returne, vntill he haue done, and vntill he haue performed the intents of his heart: in the latter dayes ye shall vnderstand it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He recheareth Gods benefites after their returne from Babylon, 23 And the spirituall ioy of the faithful in the Church.

At the same time, sayth the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

Israel, but the rest of the wayles shall be called,

Herein is commended Gods great mercie toward his, who doeth not destroy them for their sinnes but correct and chastise them, and so burneth the rods by the which he discipline them, Isa. 33.1.

In speaking, that the cite & the Temple should be restored to their former state, n He sheweth how the people that with people & thanksgiving acknowledge this benefite.

o Speaking Jerubbabel, who was the figure of Christ in who this was accomplished, p Signifying, that Christ doeth willingly submit himself to the obedience of Gods his father, q Let the wicked hypocrites should latter, the felers with these promises, the prophet sheweth what shall be their portion, r When this spiritual benefite shall be sent,

When this noble gouernour shall come meaning Christ, nor onely Iudah and b Which were delivered from the cruelty of Nababod.

c Eo wit, God.
d E the people thus reason as though he were not to benefit them now, as he had bene of olde.
e Thus the Lord answered that his loue is not changeable.
f Thou shalt haue still occasion to reioyce: which is ment by raptures and dancing, as their custome was after notable victories, Gen. 15. 20. iudg. 5. 2. and Chap. 11. 24.
g Because the Israelites, which were the ten tribes, neuer returned to Samaria, therefore this must be spiritually vnderstand vnder the kingdom of Christ which was the restauration of the true Israel.
h That is, that eate the fruit thereof, as Luc. 19. 25. deut. 20. 6.
i The ministers of the voyce.
k They shall exhort all to the embracing of the Gospel, as 2 Tim. 2. 3.
l He therewith shall be the conceive and loue of all vnder the Gospel, where none shall be refused for their infirmities: and euery one shall exhort one another to embrace it.
m That is, to mentioning their finnes, which had not giuen care to the Prophets, and therefore it followeth that God receiues them to mercie, Chap. 50. 4. Some take it that they should weepe for ioy. n Where they found no unpunishments, but abundance of all things. o That is, my dearely beloued, as the first child is to the father. p That is from the Babylonians, and other enemies. q By these temporal benefites he meaneth the spiritual graces, which are in the Church, and whereof there should be euery plaine, Mat. 58. 11, 12.

2 Thus saith the Lord, The people which escaped the sword, found grace in the wilderness: hee walked before Israel to cause him to rest.

3 The Lord hath appeared vnto me of old, say they: yea, I haue loued thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore with mercie I haue diuined thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be builded, O virgine Israel: thou shalt still be adorned with thy timbrels, and shalt go forth in the dance of them that be ioyfull.

5 Thou shalt yet plant vines vpon the mountaines of Samaria, and the planters that plant them, shall make them common.

6 For the dayes shall come that the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shall cry, Arise, and let vs go vp vnto Zion to the Lord our God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioyce with gladnes for Iacob, and shout for ioy among the chiefe of the Gentiles: publish praise, and say, O Lord, saue thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8 Behold, I wil bring them from the North countrey, & gather them from the coasts of the world, with the blind and the lame among them, with the woma with child, & her that is deliuered also: a great companie shall returne hither.

9 They shall come weeping, & with mercie wil I bring them againe: I wil leade them by the riuers of water in a straight way, wherein they shal not stamble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the worde of the Lord, O ye Gentiles, & declare in the yles as farre of, and say, he that scattered Israel, wil gather him & wil keepe him, as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and ransomed him from the hande of him, that was stronger then he.

12 Therefore they shall come, and reioyce in the height of Zion, and shall run to the boundfullnesse of the Lord, euen for the wheate and for the wine, and for the oyle, and for the increase of sheepe, and bullockes: and their soule shalbe as a watered garden, and they shall haue no moze fozloze.

13 Then shal the virgine reioyce in the dance, and the yong men, & the old men together: for I will turne their mourning into ioy, and wil comfort them, and giue them ioy for their sorowes.

14 And I will replenish the soule of the puaels with faines, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, A voice was heard on hie, a mourning [and] bitter weeping. Rachel weeping for her children, refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Refraine thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from teares: for thy worke shalbe rewarded, saith the Lord, & they shall come againe from the land of the enemye:

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe to their owne borders.

18 I haue heard Ephraim lamenting [thus], Thou hast corrected mee, and I was chastised as an vntamed calfe: conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art the Lord my God.

19 Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: and after that I was instructed, I smote vpon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euen confounded, because I did beare the reproch of my youth.

20 Is Ephraim my deare sonne of pleasant childe: yet since I spake vnto him, I still remembred him: therefore my bowels are troubled for him: I will surely haue compassion vpon him, sayth the Lord.

21 Set thee by signes: make thee heapes: let thine heart toward the path, and way, that thou hast walked: turne againe, O virgine of Israel: turne againe to these thy cities.

22 How long wilt thou go astray, O thou rebellious daughter: for the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth: a woman hath compassed a man.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Yet shall they say this thing in the land of Iudah, and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring againe their captivity, The Lord blessed thee, O habitation of iustice, & holy mountaine.

24 And Iudah shal dwel in it, and all i In the compaite of the faithful, which euery people God loy his benefites.

j Weeping, the spirit of vnderdome, knowledge & paine.
k To declare the greatness of Gods mercie in deliuering & Iewes, be the worth that they were like to y Beniaminites, as Iseraclites: that is, utterly destroyed, and carried away, in fuench that if Rachel the mother of Beniamin could haue risen againe to seeke for her children, she should haue found none remaining.
l That is, the people that were in her captiuitie.
m Which was wanton and could not be subiect to the yoke.
n Hee knoweth how the faithful full life to pay: that is, desire God to turne them, so as much as they cannot turne of themselves.
o In figure of repentance, and deterioration of my sinne.
p As though he would say, How say he his iniquitie he did what he in him to call me off.
q To wit, in putting him for my pnomies sake.
r Sparks by what way thou didst go into captiuitie, and thou shalt turne againe by the same.
d Because their deliuerance from Babylon was a figure of their deliuerance from sinne, he knoweth how this should be procured, to wit, by Iesus Christ whom a woman should conceive, and beare in her wombe. Which is a strange thing in earth, because he should be borne of a virgine without man: as, hee meaneth, that Jerusalem which was like a bare woman in her captiuitie, should be fruitful as shee, that is ingred in marriage, and whom God blessed with children.

e Having understood this vision of the Spirit, to come in whom the two houses of Israel and Judah should be joyed, I rejoiced.

f I will multiply and enrich them with people and cattle.

g The wicked men this promise, when they did murmur against Gods image, were pronounced by the Prophets, saying, That their fathers had committed the fault, and that the children were punishers, Ezech. 18. 3.

h Though the couenant of redemption made to the fathers, and this which was given after, seeme diuers, yet they are all one, & grounded on Iesus Christ, saue that this is called newe because of the manifestation of Christ, and the abundant graces of the holy Ghost given to his Church under the Gospel.

i And so were the occasion of their owne discomfite through their infidelitie, Isa. 50. 1.

k Or, master, k In the time of Christ my Ioue shall in stead of tables of stone be written in their hearts by mine holy spirit, Heb. 8. 8, 10.

l Under the kingdom of Christ there shall be none blinded with ignorance, but I will give them faith, and knowledge of God, for remission of their finnes, & daily increase the same: so that it shall not seeme to come so much by the preaching of my ministers, as by the instruction of my holy spirit, Isa. 54. 13. but the full accomplishing hereof is referred to the kingdom of Christ, when we shall be joyed with one head.

m I will summe, increase, and flourish them, so that they shall be as I have said, so long as this world lasteth, so shall my Church neuer fail, neither shall any thing hinder it: and as sure as I will have a people, so certaine is it that I will leave them my word for ever to governe them with.

the cities thereof together, the husbandmen & they that go forth with the flocke.

25 For I have satiate the wearie soule, and I have replenished every sorrowfull soule.

26 Therefore I awaked and beheld, and my sleepe was sweete unto me.

27 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will build the house of Israel, and the house of Judah with the seed of man and with the seed of beast.

28 And like as I have watched upon them, to plucke vp and to roote out, & to throw down, and to destroy, & to plague them, so will I watch over them to build & to plant them, saith the Lord.

29 In those dayes shall they say no more, The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, & y<sup>e</sup> childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 But every one shall die for his owne iniquitie: every man that eateth & sowre grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will make a new couenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah,

32 Not according to the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hande to bring them out of the lande of Egypt, the which my couenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shall be the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those daies, saith the Lord, I will put my Law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and they shall be my people.

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour and every man his brother, saying, Knowe the Lord: for they shall all knowe me from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord: for I will forgive their iniquitie, & will remember their finnes no more.

35 Thus saith the Lord, which giveth sunne for a light to the day, & the courses of the moone and of the starres for a light to the night, which breaketh the sea, when the waues thereof roare: his Name is the Lord of hosts.

36 If these ordinances depart out of my sight, sayeth the Lord, then shall the seed of Israel cease from being a nation before me, for ever.

37 Thus saith the Lord, If the heavens can be measured, or the foundations of earth be searched out beneath, then will I cast off all the seed of Israel, for all that they haue done, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that the citie shall be built to the Lord from the tower of hananeel, unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the line of the measure shall go forth in his presence upon the hill Sareb, and shall compass about to Soath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brooke of Kidron, [and] unto the corner of the horsegate toward the East, shall be holy unto the Lord, neither shall it be plucked by nor destroyed any more for ever.

CHAP. XXXII.

Jeremiah is cast into prison because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon. 7 He beweth, that the people should come againe to their owne possession. 38 The people of God are his servants, and he is their Lord.

The worde that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the tenth yeere of Zedekiah King of Judah, which was the eighteenth yeere of Nebuchad-nezzar.

2 For then the King of Babels hoste besieged Ierusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut vp in the court of the prison, which was in the King of Iudahs house.

3 For Zedekiah King of Judah had shut him vp, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will give this citie into the handes of the King of Babel, and he shall take it:

4 And Zedekiah the King of Judah shall not escape out of y<sup>e</sup> hand of the Caldeans, but shall surely be deliuered into the handes of the king of Babel, and shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his face,

5 And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babel, and there shall he be, until I visite him, saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord: though ye fight with the Caldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6 And Jeremiah said, The worde of the Lord came unto me, saying,

7 Beholde, Hananeel the sonne of Shallum thine uncle, shall come unto thee and say, Bye unto thee my field, that is in Anathoth: for the title by kin-

8 So Hanameel, mine vnckles sonne, came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, & saide vnto me, Bie my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the countrey of Benjamin: for the right of the possession [is] thine, and the purchase [below-geth] vnto thee: bye it for thee. Then I knew that this was the word of the Lord.
9 And I bought the field of Hanameel, mine vnckles sonne, that was in Anathoth and weighed him the siluer, [euē] leuen shekels, and ten [pieces] of siluer.

10 And I writ it in the booke & signed it, and tooke witnesses, & weighed him the siluer in the balances.

11 So I tooke the booke of the possession, being sealed: according to the Law, and custome, with the booke that was open.

12 And I gaue the booke of the possession vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine vnckles [sonne,] and in the presence of the witnesses, written in the booke of the possession, before all the Iewes that late in the court of the prison.

13 And I charged Baruch before the,
saying,

14 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Take the writings, [euē] this booke of the possession, both that is sealed, and this booke that is open, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue a long time.

15 For the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel sayth thus, houses and fieldes, and vineyardes shalbe possessed againe
in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the booke of the possession vnto Baruch, the sonne of Neriah, I prayed vnto the Lord, saying,

17 Ah Lord God, beholde, thou hast made the heauen and the earth by thy great power, and by thy stretched out arme, & there is nothing hard vnto thee.

18 *Thou shewest mercy vnto thousands, and recompensest the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their children after thee: O God the great & mighty, whose Name [is] the Lord of hostes,

19 Great in counsell, and mighty in worke, (for thine eyes are open vpon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to giue to euery one according to his waies, and according to the fruit of his workes)

20 which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt vnto this<sup>e</sup> day, and in Israel, & among all men, & hast made thee a Name, as [appeareth] this day.

21 And hast brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signes, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, with a stretched out arme, & with great terror.

22 And hast giuen them this lande, which thou didest sweare to their fathers to giue them, [euē] a lande, that floweth with milke and hony,

23 And they came in, and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy boye, neyther walked in thy Law: all that thou com-mandedst them to do, they haue not done:
therefore thou hast caused this whole plague to come vpon them.

24 Beholde, the mounts, they are come into the cite to take it, and the cite is giuen into the hande of the Caldeans, that fight against it by means of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken, is come to passe, and beholde, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast saide vnto mee, O Lord God, bye vnto thee the fielde for siluer, and take witnesses: for the cite shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeas.

26 Then came the word of the Lord
vnto Jeremiah, saying,

27 Beholde, I am the LORD GOD of all<sup>m</sup> flesh: is there any thing to hard for mee?

28 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will giue this cite into the hande of the Caldeans, & into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar, King of Babel, &
he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans shall come and fight against this cite, & set fire on this ci-tie and burne it, with the houses, vpon whole rouses they haue offered incense vnto Baal, & powdered drinke offerings vnto other gods, to prouoke me vnto anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Iudah haue surely done euil before me from their<sup>n</sup> youth: for the children of Israel haue surely prouoked me to anger with the workes of their hands,
saith the Lord.

31 Therefore this cite hath bene brew to me as a prouocation of mine anger, & of my wrath, from the daye, that they built it, euē vnto this day, that I should remoue it out of my sight.

32 Because of all the euill of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah, which they haue done to prouoke k screaming, that his miracles in deliuering his people shoulde neuer be forgotten.

m That is,
of euery creature

for their sinnes so will he be for their mercies for their redemption to restore them again to lin From the time that I brought them out of Egypt, I made them my people, and called them my first boyne.

me to anger, [even] they, their Kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned vnto me the backe and not the face: though I taught them, ° rising by early, and instructing them, yet they were not obedient to receiue doctrine,

34 But they set their abominations in the house (whereupon my name was called) to defile it,

35 And they build the hie places of Baal, which are in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to cause their sonnes, and their daughters to ° passe through [the fire] vnto Molech, which I commaunded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do such abomination, to cause Judah to sinne.

36 And now be therefore, thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken, concerning this cite, wherof ye say, It shalbe deliuered into the hande of the king of Babel by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence, 37 Behold, I will gather them out of all countreys, wherein I haue scattered them in mine anger, & in my wrath, and in great indignation, & I will bring them againe vnto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shalbe my people, and I will be their God.

39 And I will giue them one heart, and one way that they may feare me for euer for the wealth of them, and of their children after them.

40 And I wil make an euerlasting covenant with them, that I will neuer turne away from them to do the good, but I will put my feare in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, I will delight in them to doe them good, & I will plant them in this lande assuredly with my whole heart, and with all my soule.

42 For thus saith the Lord, Like as I haue brought al this great plague vpon this people, so wil I bring vpon them al the good that I haue promised them.

43 And the fieldes shalbe possessed in this land, wherof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast, and shalbe giuen into the hand of the Caldeans.

44 Ben that bre fieldes for siluer, and make writings, and seale them, and take witnesses in the land of Beniamin, and rounde about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Iudah, and in the cities of the mountaines, and in the cities of the plaine, and in the cities of the South: for I will cause their captiuitie to returne, saith the Lord.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The Prophet is manifested of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promised. 2 God forgiveth sinnes, for his own glory. 3 Of the birth of Christ. 20 The kingdome of Christ in the Church shal neuer be ended.

2 Thus saith the Lord, the maker thereof, the Lord that formed it, and established it, the Lord is his Name.

3 Call vnto me, and I will answer thee, and shewe thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this cite, and concerning the houses of the kings of Iudah, which are destroyed by the mounts, and by the sword,

5 They come to fight with the Caldeans, but it [is] to fill them selues with the dead bodies of men, whome I haue slaine in mine anger and in my wrath: for I haue hid my face from this cite, because of all their wickednes.

6 Behold, I will giue it health & amendment: for I will cure them, and will reuende vnto them the abundance of peace, and trueth.

7 And I will cause the captiuitie of Iudah, & the captiuitie of Israel to returne, & wil buldte them as at the first.

8 And I will cleanse them from all their iniquitie, wherby they haue sinned against me: yea, I will pardon all their iniquities, wheremy they haue sinned against me, and wheremy they haue rebelled against me.

9 And it shalbe to me a name, a praise, and an honour before al the nations of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I do vnto them: and they shall feare, and tremble for al the goodnes, and for al the wealth, that I shew vnto this cite.

10 Thus saith the Lord, Againe there shalbe heard in this place (which ye say shalbe desolate, without man, and without beast, [even] in the cities of Iudah, & in the streetes of Jerusalem, that are desolate without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast)

14 Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will performe a good thing, which I have promised vnto the house of Israel, and to the house of Judah.

15 In those dayes and at that time, will I cause the branch of righteousness to growe vpon David, and hee shall execute iudgement, and righteousness in the land.

16 In those dayes shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely, and he that shall call her, is the Lord our righteousness.

17 For thus saith the Lord, David shall neuer want a man to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel.

18 Neither shall the Priests & Levites want a man before mee to offer burnt offerings, and to offer meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah, saying,

20 Thus saith the Lord, If you can breake my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, that there should not be day, and night in their season,

21 Then may my covenant be broken with David my servant, & he should not have a sonne to reigne vpon his throne, and with the Levites, [and] with the Priests my ministers.

22 As the armie of heaven can not be nombred, neither the lande of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of David my servant, & the Levites, that minister vnto me.

23 Whereouer the word of the Lord came to Jeremiah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people haue spoken, saying, The two families, which the Lord hath chosen, he hath even cast them off: thus they haue despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the Lord, If my covenant be not with day and night, [and] if I haue not appointed the order of heaven and earth,

26 Then will I cast away the seede of Iacob and David my servant, and not take of his seede to be rulers ouer the seede of Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: for I will cause their captivitie to returne, and haue compassion on them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 He threatned that the citie, and the King Zedekiah should be given into the hands of the king of Babylon, 11 He rebuketh their crueltie toward their seruants.

The worde which came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord (when Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and all his hoste, & all the kingdomes of the earth, [that were] vnder the power of his hand, and al people fought against Jerusalem, & against all the cities thereof) saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe, and speake to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will give this citie into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shall burne it with fire,

3 And thou shalt not escape out of his hande, but shalt surely be taken, and deliuered into his hande, and thine eyes shall beholde the face of the King of Babel, and he shall speake with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt goe to Babel.

4 Yet heare the worde of the Lord, O Zedekiah, King of Judah: thus saith the Lord of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword,

5 [But] thou shalt die in peace: and according to the burning for thy fathers the former Kings which were before thee, so shall they burne [odours] for thee, and they shall lament thee, [saying,] Oh! lord: for I haue pronounced the worde, saith the Lord.

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these wordes vnto Zedekiah King of Judah in Jerusalem,

7 (When the King of Babels hoste fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah, that were left, [even] against Lachish, and against Zedekiah: for these strong cities remained of the cities of Judah)

b Chro. 3. 6. 19. chap. 39. 16. 17. and 3. 23.

c The Jews shall lament for thee their hope and King.

8 This [is] the word that came unto Jeremiah from the Lord, after that the King Zedekiah made a covenant with all the people, which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim libertie vnto them.

9 That every man should let his servant goe free, and every man his handmaide, which was an Ebyue or an Ebyr, and that none should serue himselfe of the, [to wit,] of a Iewe his brother.

10 Nowe when all the princes, and all the people which had agreed to the covenant, heard that every one should let his servant goe free, and every one his handmaide, and that none should serue them selues of the any more, they obeyed and let them goe.

11 But after ward they repented and caused the seruants and the handmaidens, whome they had let goe free, to returne, and held them in subiection as seruants and handmaidens.

12 Therefore the worde of the Lord came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, saying,

13 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the lande of Egypt, out of the house of seruantes, saying,

14 At the terme of seuen yeeres let ye goe, every man his brother an Ebyr, which hath bene solde vnto thee: and whē he hath serued thee sixe yeeres, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers obeyed mee not, neither inclined their eares.

15 And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight in proclaiming libertie, every man to his neighbour, & ye had made a covenant before mee in the house, whereupon my name is called.

16 But ye repented, and polluted my name: for ye haue caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaide, whom ye had let at libertie at their pleasure, to returne, and hold them in subiection to bee vnto you as seruantes and as handmaidens.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Ye haue not obeyed mee, in proclaiming freedom every man to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a libertie for you, saith the Lord, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine, and I will make you a terror to all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I will give those men that haue broken my covenant, and haue not kept the wordes of the covenant, which they had made before me, when they cut the calfe in twaine, and passed betwene the partes thereof:

19 The princes of Iudah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the Eunuches, and the Priests, and all the people of the lande, which passed betwene the partes of the calfe,

20 I will euen give them into the hande of their enemies, and into the handes of them that seeke their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meate vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beastes of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah King of Iudah, and his princes will I give into the had of their enemies, and into the hande of them that seeke their life, and into the hande of the King of Babels hoste, which are gone by from you.

22 Beholde, I wil commaund, saith the Lord, and cause them to returne to this cite, and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burne it with fire: and I will make the cities of Iudah desolate without an inhabitant.

The worde which came vnto Jeremiah from the Lord, in the dayes of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Go vnto the house of the Rechabites, & speake vnto them, & bring them into the house of the Lord into one of the chambers, & give them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Iazaniah, the sonne of Jeremiah the sonne of Habazziniah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 And I brought the into the house of the Lord, into the chamber of the sonnes of Hanan, the sonne of Igballiah a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was about the chamber of Maaseiah the sonne of Shallum, the keeper of the treasure.

5 And I set before the sonnes of the house of the Rechabites, pottes full of wine, and cuppes, and saide vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they saide, we will drinke no wine: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechabour father commanded vs, saying, We shall drinke no wine, [neither] you nor to see all occasion of intemperance, ambition and auarice, and that they might know that they were strangers in the earth, & be ready to depart at all occasions, g The fall was then proclaimed, and Baruch read this roule, which was a little before that Jerusalem was first taken, and then Jehoiahim and Daniel, & his companions were led away captives, h Which is the East gate of the Temple,

9 ¶ And in the fift yeece of Jehoiahim the sonne of Josiah King of Judah, in the ninth moneth, they proclaimed a fast before the Lord to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah vnto Jerusalem.

10 Then read Baruch in the booke the wordes of Jeremiah in the house of the Lord, in the chamber of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan the secretarie, in the hier court at the entrie of the newe gate of the Lordes house, in the hearing of all the people.

11 When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah, & sonne of Shaphan had heard out of the booke all the wordes of the Lord, 12 Then he went downe to the kings house into the Chancellours chamber, & lo, all the princes late there, [euen] Elishama the Chancellour, and Delaiah & sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achboz, and Gemariah & sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared vnto the all the wordes that he had heard when Baruch read in the booke in the audier of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Elnathi, vnto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hande the roule, wherein thou hast read in the audience of the people, & come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah, tooke the roule in his hande, and came vnto them.

15 And they said vnto him, Sit downe now, and reade it, that we may heare. So Baruch read it in their audience.

16 Now when they had heard all the wordes, they were afraid both one and other, & said vnto Baruch, we wil certifye the King of all these wordes.

17 And they examined Baruch, saying, Tell vs now, howe diddest thou write all these wordes at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, he pronounced all these wordes vnto mee with his mouth, and I wrote [them] with ynke in the booke.

19 Then said the princes vnto Baruch, Hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the King to the court, but they layde by the roule in the chamber of Elishama the Chancellour & tolde the King all the wordes, that he might heare.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fet the roule, and he tooke it out of Elishama the Chancellours chamber, and Jehudi read it in the audience of the king, and in the audience of all the princes, which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king late in the winter house, in the ninth moneth, and there was a fire burning before him.

23 And when Jehudi had read three, or foure sides, he cut it with the penknife and cast it into the fire, that was on the hearth vntill all the roule was consumed in the fire, that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor ret their garments, neither the king, nor any of his seruants, & heard all these wordes.

25 Neuertheles, Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah had belought the king, that hee would not burne the roule: but he would not heare them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel the sonne of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, & Shelemiah the sonne of Abdiel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Jeremia the Prophet, but the Lord hid them.

27 ¶ Then the worde of the Lord came to Jeremiah (after that the King had burnt the roule and the wordes which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying,

28 Take thee againe another roule and write in it all the former wordes that were in the first roule which Jehoiahim the king of Judah hath burnt.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiahim king of Judah, Thus saith the Lord, Thou hast burnt this roule, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, that the king of Babel shall certainly come & destroy this land, and shall take thence both man and beast:

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord of Jehoiahim King of Judah, Bee thou haue none to sit vpon the throne of David, and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will visite him & his seede, and his seruants for their iniquitie, and I will bring vpon them, and vpon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and vpon the men of Judah all the euill that I haue pronounced against them: but they would not heare.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Jeremiah succeeded Jeconiah, 3 He sendeth vnto Jeremiah to pray for him, 12 Jeremiah going into the land of Beniamin, is taken, 15 He is beaten and put in prison.

AND * King Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah reigned for Coniah the sonne of Jehoiachim, Whome Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel made King in the land of Iudah.

2 But neither hee, nor his seruants, nor the people of the lande would obeye the wordes of the Lord, which he spake by the ministerie of the Prophet Jeremiah.

3 And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucall the sonne of Shelemiah, & Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the Priest to the Prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now vnto the Lord our God for vs.

4 (Now Jeremiah went in & out among the people: for they had not put him into the prison.

5 Then Pharaohs hoste was come out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Ierusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Ierusalem)

6 Then came the worde of the Lord vnto the Prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Thus shall yee say to the King of Iudah, that sent you vnto mee to inquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs hoste, which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne to Egypt into their owne land.

8 And the Caldeans shall come againe, and fight against this cite, and take it & burne it with fire.

9 Thus saith the Lord, Detaine not your selues, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from vs: for they shall not depart.

10 For though yee had smitten the whole hoste of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained [but] wounded men among them, yet should euery man rise by in his tent, and burne this cite with fire.

11 When the hoste of the Caldeans was broke by from Ierusalem, because of Pharaohs armie, 12 The Jeremiah went out of Ierusalem to go into the land of Beniamin, separating himselfe there fro among the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Beniamin, there was a chiefe officer, whose name was Iriah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he tooke Jeremiah the Prophet, saying, Thou shalt flee to the Caldeans.

14 Then said Jeremiah, That is false, I flee not to the Caldeans: but he would not heare him: so Iriah tooke Jeremiah, & brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angry with Jeremiah, and smote him, & laide him in prison in the house of Jehonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 When Jeremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the prisons, & had remained there a long time,

17 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke him out, and the King asked him secretly in his house, and laide, Is there any worde from the Lord? And Jeremiah said, Yea: for, said hee, thou shalt be deliuered into the hande of the King of Babel.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah laide vnto King Zedekiah, what haue I offended against thee, or against thy seruants, or against this people, that yee haue put me in prison?

19 Where are now your Prophets, which prophesied vnto you, saying, The King of Babel shall not come against you, nor against this land:

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my Lord the King: let my prayer be accepted before thee, that thou cause me not to returne to the house of Jehonathan the scribe, least I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the King commanded, that they should put Jeremiah in the court of the prison, & that they should giue him daily a peece of breade out of the bakers streete vntill all the bread in the cite were eaten by. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

By the motion of the rulers Jeremiah is put into a dungeon, 10 At the request of Ebed-melech the king commandeth Jeremiah to be brought forth of the dungeon, 27 Jeremiah beweth the King how he might escape death.

WHEN Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashhur, and Jucall the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the sonne of Malchiah, heard the wordes that Jeremiah had spoken vnto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, See that remaineth in this citie, that die by sword, by the famine and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall live: for he shall have his life for a pray, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the Lord, This citie shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babels armie, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the King, Wee beseeche you, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of warre: he remaineth in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such wordes unto them: for this man seeketh not the wealth of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, hee is in your handes, for the king can denie<sup>d</sup> you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Jeremiah, & cast him into the dungeon of Balchiah the sonne of Hanimelech, who was in the court of the prison: and they let downe Jeremiah with coardes: and in the dungeon there was no water but myre: so Jeremiah sticke fast in the myre.

7 Now when Ebed-melech<sup>e</sup> the blacke Moze one of the Eunuchs, which was in the Kings house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon (then the King sate in the gate of Beniamin)

8 And Ebed-melech went out of the Kings house, & spake to the king, saying,

9 O Lord the king, these men have done euill in all that they haue done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they haue cast into the dungeon, and hee dyeth for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the blacke Moze, saying, Take fro hence thirtie men<sup>f</sup> with thee, & take Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he dye.

11 So Ebed-melech tooke the men with him and went to the house of the King vnder the treasure, and tooke there old rotten ragges, & olde woyme [doutes], and let them downe by coardes into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And Ebed-melech the blacke Moze said vnto Jeremiah, But now these old rotten ragges, and woyme, vnder thine arme holes, betweene the coardes. And Jeremiah did so.

13 So they drew by Jeremiah with coardes & tooke him by out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14 Then Zedekiah the King sent, and tooke Jeremiah the Prophet vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, & the King said vnto Jeremiah, I will alke thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah saide to Zedekiah, If I declare it vnto thee, wilt not thou slay me: and if I giue thee counsel, thou wilt not heare me.

16 So the King sware secretly vnto Jeremiah, saying, As the Lord liueth, that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the handes of those men that seeke thy life.

17 Then saide Jeremiah vnto Zedekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of hostes, the God of Israel, If thou wilt go forth vnto the King of Babels<sup>h</sup> princes, then thy soule shall live, and this citie shall not be burnt by fire, and thou shalt live, and thine house.

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the King of Babels princes, then shall this citie be given into the hande of the Caldeans, and they shall burne it with fire, & thou shalt not escape out of their handes.

19 And Zedekiah the King said vnto Jeremiah, I am careful for the Iewes that are fled vnto the Caldeans, lest they deliuer me into their handes, and they mocke me.

20 But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliuer thee: hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord, I beseeche thee, which I speake vnto thee: so shall it be well vnto thee, and thy soule shall live.

21 But if thou wilt refuse to go forth, this is the worde that the Lord hath shewed me.

22 And behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judahs house, shalbe brought forth to the King of Babels princes: and those women shall saye, thy friends haue perswaded thee, and haue preuailed against thee: thy feete are fastened in the myre, [and] they are turned backe.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wiues, and thy chidren to the Caldeas, and thou shalt not escape out of their handes, but shalt be taken by the hande of the king of Babel: and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt with fire.

24 Then saide Zedekiah vnto Jeremiah, Let no mā know of these wordes, and thou shalt not dye.

26 Then shalt thou say vnto them, I humbly besought the king that he would not cause me to return to Jehonathans house, to dye there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremias and asked him. And he tolde them according to all the wordes that the King had commanded: so they left off speaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

28 So Jeremias abode still in the court of the prison, vntill the day that Ierusalem was taken: for he was there, when Ierusalem was taken.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 Nebuchad-nezzar besieged Ierusalem. 4 Zedekiah seeing is taken of the Caldeans. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out. 11 Jeremias is prouided for. 15 Ebed-melech is deliuered from captivity.

2 King, 25. 1. chap. 5. 2. 4.

In the ninth yere of Zedekiah king of Iudah in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel and all his host against Ierusalem, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh yere of Zedekiah in fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the cite was broken by.

3 The gates and walles were broken downe.

3 And all the princes of the King of Babel came in, & late in the middle gate, (euen) Nerregal, Sharezer, Sangar-nebo, Sarlechim, Rab-faris, Nerregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag with all the residue of the princes of the King of Babel.

4 And when Zedekiah the King of Iudah sawe them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, & went out of the cite by night, through the kings garde, (e) by the gate betwene two walles, and he went toward the wilderness.

5 Which was a postern doore, ready 2 King, 25. 4.

5 But the Caldeans host pursued after the, and ouertooke Zedekiah in the desert of Iericho: & when they had taken him, they brought him to Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel vnto Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 Which is called Annocchia in Syria.

6 Then the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the King of Babel slew all the nobles of Iudah.

7 Mozerouer hee put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bounde him in chaines, to carrie him to Babel.

8 And the Caldeans burnt the kings house, & the houses of the people to fire, & brake downe the walles of Ierusalem.

9 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue into Babel the remnant of the people, that remained in the cite, and those that were fled and fallen vnto him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10, captaine of the garde,

10 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left the poore that had nothing in the lande of Iudah, and gaue them vineyards and fields at the same time.

d For the rich and the mighty which put their trusts and means were by Gods iudgements most rigorously handled.

11 Nowe Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel gaue charge concerning Jeremias vnto Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward, saying, e Ebr. by the hand of. f Ebr. see thine eyes vpon him.

12 Take him, and looke wel to him, and do him no harme, but doe vnto him euen as he shall say vnto thee.

13 So Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward sent, and Nebushasban, Rab-faris, and Nerregal, Sharezer, Rab-mag, and al the King of Babels princes:

14 Euen they sent, and tooke Jeremias out of the court of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, that he should cary him home: so he dwelt among the people.

g Thus God preferred his Prophet by his means, whom he made the scourge to punish the King, and them that were his enemies.

15 Nowe the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremias, while hee was shut by in the court of the prison, saying, f Whome the King of Babel had now appointed ouer the rest of the Iewes that he left behind.

16 Go and speake to Ebed-melech the blacke Moze, saying, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring my wordes vpon this cite for euill, and not for good, and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, saith the Lord, and thou shalt not be given into the hande of the men whome thou fearest.

18 For I will surely deliuer thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a pray vnto thee, because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the Lord.

h Thus God recompensed his seale & favour, which he bestowed on his Prophet in his troubles.

CHAP. XL.

4 Jeremias hath licence to go whither he will. 6 He dwelleth with the people that remaine with Gedaliah.

In the word which came to Jeremias from the Lord after that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had let him goe fro Hamath, when he had taken him being bounde in chaines among all that were caried away captiue of Ierusalem and Iudah, which were caried away captiue vnto Babel.

2 And the chiefe steward tooke Jeremiah, and laide vnto him, The Lorde thy God hath pronounced this plague vpon this place.

3 Nowe the Lorde hath brought it, & done according as he hath laide: because ye haue <sup>b</sup> sinned against the Lorde, and haue not obeyed his voyce, therefore this thing is come vpon you.

4 And now behold, I loose thee this day fro the chames which were on thine handes: if it please thee to come with me into Babel, come, and I will looke well vnto thee: but if it please thee not to come with me into Babel, <sup>c</sup> tarry still: behold, all the lande <sup>d</sup> is before thee: whither it seemeth good, and conuenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 For yet he was not returned: therefore <sup>e</sup> he laide, Returne to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, <sup>f</sup> sonne of Shaphan, whome the King of Babel hath made gouernour ouer all the cities of Iudah, and diuelt with him among the people, or go whereloeuer it please thee to go. So the chiefe steward gaue him bitailes and a rewarde, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, to Mizpah, and diuelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 Now when all the captaynes of the host, <sup>g</sup> which were in the fieldes, <sup>h</sup> euen they and their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam gouernour in the lande, and that hee had committed vnto him, men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, that were not caried away captiue to Babel,

8 The they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, euen <sup>i</sup> Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan, and Ionathan the sonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Ephai, the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

9 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan <sup>k</sup> ware vnto the, and to their men, saying, Feare not to serue the Caldeans: diuelt in the lande, and serue the King of Babel, and it shal be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will diuelt at Mizpah to <sup>l</sup> serue the Caldeans, which will come vnto vs: but you, gather you wine, and sommer fruites, and oyle, and put them in your vessels, & diuelt in your cities, that ye haue taken.

11 Likewise when all the Jewes that were in <sup>m</sup> Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard <sup>n</sup> the King of Babel had left a remnant of Iudah, & that hee had let ouer the Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, 12 Euen all the Iewes returned out of all places where they were drine, and came to the land of Iudah to Gedaliah vnto Mizpah, and gathered wine and sommer fruites, very much.

13 Moreover Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & all the captaynes of the host, that were in the fieldes, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, 14 And said vnto him, Knowest thou not that Babelis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael <sup>o</sup> sonne of Nethaniah to slay thee: but Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam beleued them not.

15 Then Iohanan the sonne of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me goe, I pray thee, & I will slay Ishmael <sup>p</sup> sonne of Nethaniah, & no man shall know it. wherefore should he kill thee, <sup>q</sup> & all <sup>r</sup> the Jewes, which are gathered vnto thee, should be scattered, and the remnant in Iudah perish.

16 But Gedaliah <sup>s</sup> sonne of Ahikam laide vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, Thou shalt <sup>t</sup> not doe this thing: for thou speakest falsly of Ishmael.

CHAP. XLII.

2 Ishmael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Ishmael.

BUt in the <sup>u</sup> seuenth moneth came Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Elishama of the seede royal, and the princes of the <sup>v</sup> King, ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.

2 Then arose Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah with these tenne men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan with the sword, and slewe him, whom the king of Babel had made gouernour ouer the lande.

3 Ishmael also slewe all the Jewes that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, & all the Caldeans that were found there, <sup>w</sup> and the men of warre.

4 Nowe the seconde day that he had slaine Gedaliah, and no man knewe it,

6 And Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet the, weeping as he went: & whē he met the, he said vnto them, Come: to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam.

7 And when they came into the middes of the cite, Iſhmael & sonne of Nethaniah slewe them, [and cast them] into the middes of the pit, he and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were founde among them, that sayd vnto Iſhmael, Slay vs not: for wee haue treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyle, and of honye: so he slayed, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherin Iſhmael had cast the dead bodies of the men (whome he had slayne because of Gedaliah) is it, which Aſa the King had made because of Asaiah king of Israel, and Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slayne.

10 Then Iſhmael caried awaye captiue all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, [euen] the Kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the chiefe steward had committed to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, and Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah caried them alway captiue, and departed to goe ouer to the Ammonites.

11 But when Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & all the captaynes of the hoste that were with him, heard of all the euil that Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah had done,

12 Then they all tooke [their] men, and went to fight with Iſhmael & sonne of Nethaniah, and founde him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Nowe when all the people whom Iſhmael caried away captiue, saw Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste, that were with him, they were glad.

14 So all the people, that Iſhmael had caried away captiue from Mizpah, returned and came again, and went vnto Iohanan the sonne of Kareah.

15 But Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah escaped from Iohanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then tooke Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the hoste that were with him, all the remnant of the people, whom Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah had caried awaye captiue fro Mizpah, (after that hee had slayne Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam) [euen] the strong men of warre, and the women, and the children, and the Eunuchs, whome he had brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And they departed and dwelt in Geruth Chimham, which is by Beth-lehem, to go [and] to enter into Egypt, 18 Because of the Caldeans: for they feared them, because Iſhmael the sonne of Nethaniah had slayne Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam, whome king of Babel made gouernour in the lande.

1 The captaynes alke counsell of Ieremias what they ought to doe. 7 Hee admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

Then all the captaynes of the host, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, & Jezaniah the sonne of Hoſhaiah, and all the people from the least vnto the most came,

2 And saide vnto Ieremias the Prophet, + Heare our prayer, wee beseeche thee, and pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, euē for all this remnant (for we are left, [but] a fewe of many, as thine eyes doe beholde)

3 That the Lord thy God may shew vs the way wherein we may walke, and the thing that we may doe.

4 Then Ieremias the Prophet said vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I wil pray vnto the Lord your God according to your words, and whatsoever thing the Lorde shall answere you, I will declare it vnto you: I wil keepe nothing backe from you.

5 The they said to Ieremias, <sup>b</sup> The Lorde be a witness of truth, and sayeth betwene vs, if wee doe not, euen according to al things for the which the Lord thy God shall sende thee to vs.

6 Whether it be good or euill, we will obey <sup>c</sup> the voyce of the Lord thy God, to whom we sende thee that it may bee well with vs, when we obey the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And so after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremias.

8 Then called he Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captaynes of the host, which were with him, and all the people from the least to the most,

9 And saide vnto the, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom ye sent me to present your prayers before him,

10 If ye will dwell in this land, then I will build you, and not destroy you, and I will plant you, & not roote you out: for I repent me of the euill that I haue done vnto you.

11 Feare not for the King of Babel, of whom ye are afraid: bee not afraid of him, saith the Lord: for I am with you, to saue you, and to deliuer you from his hande.

12 And I will graunt you mercy & he may haue compassion vpon you, & he shall cause you to dwell in your owne land.

13 But if ye say, we will not dwell in this land, neither heare the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 Saying, Nay, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no warre, nor heare the sound of the trumpet, nor haue hunger of bread, and there will we dwell,

15 (And now therefore heare & word of the Lord, ye remnant of Iudah: thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, If ye set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to dwell there)

16 Then the sword & ye feared, I shall take you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, for the which ye care, shall there hang vpon you in Egypt, & there shall ye dye.

17 And all the men that set their faces to enter into Egypt to dwell there, shall dye by the sword, by the famine and by the pestilence, and none of them shall remaine nor escape from the plague, that I will bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith & Lord of hostes the God of Israel, As mine anger and my wrath hath bene poured forth vpon the inhabitants of Ierusalem: so shall my wrath be poured forth vpon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt, and ye shall be a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproche, and ye shall see this place no more.

19 O ye remnant of Iudah, the Lord hath saide concerning you, Goe not into Egypt: knowle certainly that I haue admonished you this day.

20 Surely ye dissembled in your hearts when ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, saying, Praye for vs vnto the Lord our God and declare vnto vs ene according vnto all that & Lord our God shall say, and we will do it.

21 Therefore I haue this day declared it you, but you haue not obeyed the voice of & Lord your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me vnto you.

22 Nowe therefore, knowe certainly that ye shall die by & sword, by & famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to goe and dwell.

Johann carrieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Jeremiah. 8 Jeremiah prophesieth the destruction of Egypt.

NOWE when Jeremiah had made an ende of speaking vnto the whole people all the wordes of & Lord their God, for the which the Lord their God had sent him to them, [even] all these wordes,

2 Then spake Azariah the sonne of Hoſhaiah, & Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying vnto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the Lord our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to dwell there,

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, for to deliuer vs into the hande of the Caldeans, that they might slay vs, and carry vs away captiues into Babel.

4 So Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste, and all the people obeyed not the voyce of the Lord, to dwell in the land of Iudah.

5 But Iohana the sonne of Kareah, and all the captiues of the hoste tooke at the remnant of Iudah, & were returned from all nations, whither they had byn driuen to dwell in the land of Iudah:

6 [Euen] men and women, and children, and & kings daughters, and every person, that Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward had left with Gedaliah & sonne of Ahikam, the sonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiah & the Prophet, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah.

7 So they came into & land of Egypt: for they obeyed not & voyce of & Lord: thus came they to & Tahpanhes.

8 The came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hande, and hide them in the claye in the bricke kiln, which is at the entrie of Pharaohs house in Tahpanhes in the sight of the men of Iudah,

10 And say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord of hostes & God of Israel, Behold, Juchan-nezzar shall come euen to the gates of Pharaoh, where were his bricke kilnes for his building.

CHAP. XLIIII.

De reuerentia the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the chastening of the Lord, are chastened. 26 The destruction of Egypt and of the Jewes therein, is prophesied.

The word that came to Jeremiah concerning al the Jewes, which dwelt in the lande of Egypt, & remained at Higdol and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, & in the countrey of Pathnos, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, We haue seene all the euil that I haue brought vpon Ierusalem, and vpon all the cities of Iudah: and behold, this day they are desolate, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickednes which they haue committed, to prophoeke me to anger in that they wet to burne incense, [&] to serue other gods, who they knewe not, [neither] they [nor] you nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I sent vnto you al my ser-uants the Prophets, rising early, and sending them, saying, Oh doe not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they would not heare no: incline their eare to turne from their Wickednesse, and to burne no more incense vnto other gods.

6 Wherefore my wrath, and mine anger was polued forth, and was kindled in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, and they are desolate, [&] wasted, as I appeareth this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, wherefore commit ye this great euill against your soules, to cut off from you man and woman, childe and suckling out of Iudah, and leaue you none to remaine:

8 In that ye prouoke me vnto wrath with the workes of your handes, burning incense vnto other gods in the land of Egypt whither ye bee gone to dwell:
that yee might bring destruction vnto your selues, and that ye might be a curse and a reproche among all nations of the earth.

9 Haue ye forgott the wickednes of your fathers, and the wickednes of the Kings of Iudah, & the wickednes of their viues, & your owne wickednes & wickednes of your viues, which they haue committed in the land of Iudah & in the streetes of Ierusalem:

10 They are not humbled vnto this day, neither haue they feared nor waked in my Law nor in my statutes, that I set before you & before your fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will set my face against you to euil and to destroy all Iudah,

12 And I will take the remnant of Iudah, that haue set their faces to goe into the land of Egypt there to dwell, & they shall all be consumed [and] fall in the land of Egypt: they shall [euen] be consumed by the sword, and by the famine:
they shall die from I least vnto the most,
by the sword, and by the famine, & they shall be a detestation and an astonishment, and a curse and a reproche.

13 For I will visite them that dwell in the lande of Egypt, as I haue visited Ierusalem, by the sword, by famine, &
by the pestilence,

14 So that none of the remnant of Iudah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall escape or re-maine, that they should returne into the lande of Iudah to the which they haue a desire to returne to dwell there: for none shall returne, but such as shall escape.

15 Then all men which knewe that their viues had burnt incense vnto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, euen all people that dwelt in the lande of Egypt in Pathnos, answered Jeremiah, saying,

18 But since we left off to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to polvze out drinke offerings vnto her, we haue had scarcenesse of all things, and haue bene consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 And when we burnt incense to the Queene of heauen & powred out drinke offerings vnto her, did wee make her cakes to make her glad, and polvze out drinke offerings vnto her without our husbands:

20 Then said Jeremiah vnto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 Did not the Lord remember the incense, that ye burnt in the cities of Iudah, and in the streets of Ierusalem, both you, & your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, and hath he not considered it:

22 So that the Lord could no longer forbear, because of the wickednesse of your inventions, & because of the abominations, which ye haue committed: therefore is your land desolate and an astonishment, and a curse [and] without inhabitant, as appeareth [this] day.

23 Because ye haue burnt incense and because ye haue burned against the Lord, and haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord, nor walked in his Law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies, therefore this plague is come vpon you, as appeareth [this] day.

24 Moreover Jeremiah said vnto all the people and to all the women, heare the worde of the Lord, all Iudah that are in the land of Egypt.

25 ¶ Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, We and your viues haue both spoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, wee will performe our vowes that we haue vowed to burne incense to the Queene of heauen, and to polvze out drinke offerings to her: ye will performe your vowes and doe the things that ye haue vowed.

26 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, all Iudah that dwell in the land of Egypt.

Beholde, I haue sworn by my great Name, saith the Lord, that my Name shall no more bee called vpon by the mouth of any man of Iudah, in all the lande of Egypt, saying, The Lord God lieth.

27 Beholde, I will watche over the for euill and not for good, and all men of Iudah that are in the land of Egypt, shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, untill they be utterly destroyed.

28 Yet a final number that escape the sword, shall returne out of the land of Egypt into the lande of Iudah: and all the remnant of Iudah that are gone into the land of Egypt to dwell there, shall knowe whole wordes shall stand, mine or theirs.

29 And this shall be a signe vnto you, saith the Lord, when I visite you in this place, that ye may knowe that my wordes shall surely stand against you for euill.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will give Pharaoh Hophra King of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hande of them that seeke his life: as I gaue Zedekiah King of Iudah into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel his enemy, who also sought his life.

Jerusalem, Nebuchad-nezzar the yonger, hauing overcome the Spoiles and the Ammonites, went against Egypt, and slew the King, & he brought these Jewes, and other into Babylon.

CHAP. XLV.

Jeremiah comforteth Baruch, assuring him that he should not perishe in the destruction of Ierusalem.

The worde that Jeremiah the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, when he had written these wordes in a booke at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth yere of Iehoiakim the sonne of Josiah King of Iudah, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou diddest say, wo is me now: for the Lord hath layed sorrow vnto my soul: I fainted in my mourning, and I can finde no rest.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto him, The Lord saith thus, Behold, that which I haue built, will I destroy, & that which I haue planted, will I plucke vp, euen this whole lande.

5 And seekest thou great things for thy selfe: seeke them not: for beholde, I will bring a plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life will I give thee for a pray in all places, whither thou goest, to haue honour and credit: wherein he sheweth his infirmities.

n This declarerth an horrible plague toward idolaters, seeing God will not vouchsafe to haue his Name mentioned by such as haue polluted it.

o We see there, howe that God hath a perpetuall care ouer his worshipers: they are feared, saye they, they be but two of thee, yet he will deliuer the when he destroyeth his enemies.

19 O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, make thee geare to goe into captiuitie: for Noph shall be waste and desolate, without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt [is] like a faire calfe, but destruction cometh: out of the North it cometh.

21 Also her hired men [are] in the middes of her like fatte calves: they are also turned backe and fled away together: they coulde not stande, because the day of their destruction was come vpon them, [and] the time of their visitation.

23 They shall cut downe her forest, saith the Lord: for they can not be counted, because they are more then the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded: she shall be deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, beholde, I will be like the common people of No, & Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their Kings, euen Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him, 26 And I will deliuer them into the handes of those, that seeke their liues, I into the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, and into the handes of his seruants, and afterwarde she shall dwell as in the old time, saith the Lord.

and theues steale but till they haue enough, Chap. i. 5.

Vnto the children of Ammon thus sayeth the Lorde, hath Israel no sonnes: or hath he none heire: why then hath their king possessed Gad: and his people dwelt in his cities:

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayeth the Lorde, that I will cause a noyse of warre to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heape, and her daughters shal be burnt to fire: then shall Israel possesse those that possessed him, saith the Lorde.

3 Howle, O Heshbon, for Ais wasted: cry ye daughters of Rabbah: gird you with sackcloth: mourne and runne to and fro by the hedges: for their King shall go into captiuitie, and his priests, and his princes likewise.

4 Wherefore gloryest thou in the balleyes: thy balley sloweth away, O rebellious daughter: the trusted in her treasures, saying, who shall come vnto me:

5 Beholde, I will bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, of all those that be about thee, and ye shall be scattered euery man s right foot, and none shall gather him that fleeth.

6 And afterwarde I will bring againe the captiuitie of the children of Ammon.

7 To Edom thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Is wisdom no more in Teman: is counsell perished from [their] children: is their wisdom vanished:

8 Flee ye inhabitants of Dedan, they are turned backe, and haue consulted to dwell: for I haue brought the destruction of Elau vpon him, and the time of his visitation.

9 If the grape gatherers come to thee, wouldst thou not leane [some] grapes: if theues come by night, they will destroy til they haue enough.

10 For I haue discovered Elau: I haue vncouered his secrets, and he shall not be able to hyde him selfe: his seede is wasted, and his brethren and his neighbours, and there shalbe none [to say,]

11 Leaueth thy fatherlesse children, and I will preferre them alme, and let thy widowes trust in me.

12 For thus saith the Lorde, Behold, they whose iudgement was not to drinke of the cuppe, haue assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shalt escape free: thou shalt not goe free, but thou shalt surely drinke of it.

13 For I haue sware by my selfe, saith the Lorde, that Bosrah shall be waste, and for a reproch, and a desolation, and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall desolations.

14 I haue heard a rumoz from the Lorde, and an ambassadour is sent vnto the heathen, saying, Gather you together, and come against her, and rise vp to the battell.

15 For loe, I will make thee but smal among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy leaue, and the pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the cleftes of the rocke, and keepst the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as hie as the eagle, I will bring thee downe from thence, saith the Lorde.

17 Also Edom shall be desolate: euery one that goeth by it, shalbe astonished, and shal hisse at all the plagues thereof.

18 As in the ouerthrowe of Sodom, and of Gomorrah, and the places thereof neere about, saith the Lorde: no man shall dwell there, neither shall the sonnes of men remaine in it.

19 Beholde, he shall come by like a lyon from the swelling of Jordan vnto the strong dwelling place: for I will make Israel to rest, eue I will make him to haste away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her: for who is like me: and who will appoint me the time: and who is the shepherd that will stand before me:

20 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lorde that he hath deuised against Edom, and his purpose that he hath conceyued against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the flocke shall drave them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moued at the noyse of their fall: the crye of their voyce is heard in the redde Sea.

10 And Caldea shall be a spoyle: all that spoyle her, shall be satisfied, sayeth the Lorde.

11 Because ye were glad and reioyced in destroying mine heritage, [for] because ye are growen fatte, as the calves in the graske, and neyed like strong [horses,]

12 Therefore your mother shall be sore confounded, and she that bare you, shall be ashamed: behold, the bittermost of the nations [shall be] a desert, a drye lande, and a wilderness.

13 Because of the wrath of the Lorde it shall not be inhabited, but shalbe wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babel, shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 Put your selues in aray against Babel round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for she hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Cry against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, [and] her walles are destroyed: for it is the vengeance of the Lorde: take vengeance vpon her: as she hath done, doe vnto her.

16 Destroy her sower from Babel, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: because of the sword of the oppressour they shall turne every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his owne land.

17 Israel [is like] scattered sheepe: the Lyons haue dispersed them: first the King of Asshur hath deuoured him, and last this Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil visite the King of Babel, & his land, as I haue visited the King of Asshur.

19 And I will bring Israel againe to his habitation: he shall feede on Carmel and Bashan, & his soule shall be satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Silead.

20 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lorde, the iniquitie of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none: and the finnes of Iudah, and they shall not be founde: for I will be merciful full vnto them, whome I reserve.

21 So by against the land of rebels, [even] against it, & against inhabitants of [Dehob]: destroy & lay it waste after them, saith the Lorde, and do according to all that I haue commaunded thee.

22 A cry of battell [is] in the land, and of great destruction.

23 Now is the hammer of the whole world destroyed, & broken: hold is Babel become desolate among the nations!

24 I haue snared thee, and thou art take, O Babel, & thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striuen against the Lorde.

25 The Lorde hath opened his treasure, and hath brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for this is the worke of the Lorde God of hostes in the lande of the Caldeans.

26 Come against her from the utmost border: open her sowe houses, tread on her as on sheaves, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Destroy all her bullockes: let them goe downe to the slaughter, wooe vnto them, for their day is come, [and] the time of their visitation.

28 The boye of them that flee, and escape out of the land of Babel to declare in Zion the vengeance of the Lord our God, [for] the vengeance of his Temple.

29 Call by the archers against Babel: all ye that bend the bow, besiege it round about: let none thereof escape: recompence her according to her worke, [and] according to all that she hath done, doe vnto her: for she hath bene proude against the Lorde, [even] against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shall be destroyed in that day, saith the Lorde.

31 Beholde, I [come] vnto thee, O proude man, sayeth the Lorde God of hostes: for thy day is come, [even] the time that I will visite thee.

32 And the proude shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall deuoure all round about him.

33 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, The children of Israel, and the children of Iudah were oppressed together: and all that tooke them captiues, held them, [and] would not let them goe.

36 A sword [is] vpon the soothsay-

37 A sword [is] vpon their horses and they shall be like women: a sword [is] vpon her treasures, and they shall

41 Beholde, a people shall come from the North, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised by from the coastes of the earth.

42 They shall holde the bowe & the buckler: they are cruell and vnnierisfull:
their boie shall roare like the sea, and they shall ride vpon horses, and be put in aray like men to the battell against her, daughter of Babel.

43 The King of Babel hath heard the report of them, and his hands are wax-

44 Beholde, he shall come by like a

Israel to rest, and I will make them to haste away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint against her: for who is like me, and who will appoint me the time: and who is the hepheard that will stand before me:

45 Therefore heare the counsell of the Lord, that he hath deuised against Babel, and his purpose that hee hath conceiued against the land of the Calde-ans: surely the least of the stocke shall drawe them out: surely hee shall make their habitation desolate with them.

Babel the earth is moued, and the cry is heard among the nations.

6 Which Babilon is destroyed. 41 The vaine confidence of the Babilonians, 43 The vanitie of idolaters, 59 Here-maie giuerly his booke to Scheratah,

Thus saith the Lord, Beholde,
I will raise by against Babel, and against the inhabitants [that lift by] their heart against me, a destroying winde.

2 And will send vnto Babel fanners that shall fame her, and that empte her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her on every side.

3 Also to the bender that bendeth his bowe, and to him that lifteth himselfe by in his bigandine, will I say, Spare not her yong men, but destroy all her hoste.

4 Thus the flaine shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust thorough in her streetes.

5 For Israel hath bene no widow, nor Judah from his God, from the Lord of hostes, though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

6 Flee out of the mids of Babel, and deliuer every man his soule: be not destroyed in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the Lordes vengeance: he will render vnto her a recompence.

7 Babel hath bene as a golden cup in the Lords hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations haue drunken of her wine, therefore doe the nations rage.

8 Babel is suddenly fallen, and destroyed: bowbe for her, bring balme for her sore, if she may be healed.

9 We would haue cured Babel, but she could not be healed: forsake her, and let vs go euery one into his owne coun-trei: for her iudgement is come by vnto heauen, and is lifted by to the cloudes.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our righteousnes: come and let vs declare in Zion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make bright the arrowes: gather the shields: the Lord hath raised by the spirit of the King of the Medes: for his purpose is against Babel to destroy it, because it is the vengeance of the Lord.

20 Thou art mine hammer, [and] weapons of warre: for with thee wil I breake the nations, and with thee wil I destroy kingdomes, 21 And by thee wil I breake horse and horseman, and by thee wil I breake the charret and him that rideth therein.

22 By thee also wil I breake man and woman, and by thee wil I breake olde and yong, and by thee wil I breake the yong man and the mayde.

23 I wil also breake by thee the shepheard and his flocke, and by thee wil I breake the husbandman and his yoke of ore, and by thee wil I breake the dukes and princes.

24 And I wil render vnto Babel, and to all the inhabitants of the Caldeans all their euill, that they haue done in Zion, [euen] in your sight, saith <sup>p</sup> Lord.

25 Beholde, I [come] vnto thee, O destroying mountaine, saith the Lord, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand vpon thee, and roll thee downe from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountaine.

26 They shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations, but thou shalt be destroyed for euer, saith the Lord.

27 Set by a standart in the land: blow the trumpets among the nations: prepare the nations against her: call by the kingdomes of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz against her: appoint <sup>p</sup> prince against her: cause hozes to come vp as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the dukes thereof, and the princes thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land that tremble & sorrow: for the deuise of the Lord shall be performed against Babel, to make the land of Babel waste without an inhabitant.

30 The strong men of Babel haue ceased to fight: they haue remained in their holdes: their strength hath fayled, [and] they were like women: they haue burnt her dwelling places, [and] her barres are broken.

31 A poste shall runne to meete the poste, and a messenger to meete the messenger, to shew the King of Babel, that his citie is taken on a <sup>p</sup> side thereof,

32 And that the passages are stopped, and the reedes burnt with fire, and the men of warre troubled.

33 For thus saith <sup>p</sup> Lord of hostes the God of Israel, The daughter of Babel [is] like a threshing floore: the time of her threshing [is] come: yet a little while, and the time of her haruest shall come.

34 Nebuchad-nezzar the king of Babel hath: deuoured me, and destroyed me: he hath made me an emptie vessel: he hath bowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, [and] hath cast me out.

35 The people of me, and that which was left of me, [is] brought vnto Babel, shall the inhabitant of Zion say: and my blood vnto the inhabitants of Caldea, shall Ierusalem say.

36 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will mainteine thy cause, and take vengeance for thee, and I will drye by the sea, and drye by her springs.

41 Iholbe is: Sheshach taken! and holbe is the glorie of the whole earth taken! Iholbe is Babel become an astonishment among the nations!

42 The sea is come by vpon Babel: she is covered with the multitude of the waues thereof.

43 Her cities are desolate: the land is drie and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doeth the sonne of man passe thereby.

44 I wil also visit Bel in Babel, and I wil bring out of his mouth, that which he hath swallowed by, and the nations shall runne no more vnto him, and the wall of Babel shall fall.

45 O people, go out of the mids of her, and deliuer ye every man his soule from the fierce wrath of the Lord,

46 Left your heart euen faint, and ye feare the rumour, that shall be heard in the land: the rumour shall come [this] yeere, and after that in the [other] yeere [shall come] a rumour, and crueltie in the land, and ruler against ruler.

48 Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall reioyce for Babel: for the destroyers shall come vnto her from the North, saith the Lord.

49 As Babel caused the <sup>d</sup>slaine of Israel to fall, so by Babel the staine of all the earth did fall.

50 Be that haue escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the Lord afarre off, & let Ierusalem come into your minde.

b Spanning, that Babylon should not be destroyed all at once, but by little and little should be brought to nothing: for the first peece came the spings, the next peece the siege, and in the thirde peece it was taken: yet this is not that horrible destruction which the propheies threatened in many places: for that was after this when they rebelled and Darius ouercame them by the policie of Zopyrus and hanged there thousand gentile besides the common people.

c All creatures in heauen and earth shall reioyce & praise God for the destruction of Babylon the great enemy of his Church.

d Babylon did not easily destroy Ierusalem, but many other nations.

e That are now captiues in Babylon.

f See therein how they should remember Ierusalem by lamenting the miserable affliction thereof.

g For the walls were two hundred foute fte.

h I will so strongly them by afflictions that they shall not knowe which way to turne them.

52 Wherefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that I will visite her grauen images, and through all her land the wounded shall grone.

53 Though Babel should mount vp to heauen, and though she should defende her strength on hie, [yet] from me shall her destroyers come, saith the Lord.

54 A sound of a crie [cometh] from Babel, and great destruction from the land of the Caldeans,

55 Because the Lord hath layd Babel waste and destroyed from her the great boyre, and her waues shall roare like great waters, [and] a sound was made by their noyle:

56 Because the destroyer is come vpon her, [euen] vpon Babel, & her strong men are taken, their bowes are broken: for the Lord God that recompenseth, shall surely recompence.

57 And I wil <sup>h</sup>make drunke her princes, and her wise men, her dukes, and her nobles, and her strong men: and they shall sleepe a perpetual sleepe, and not wake, saith the King, whose Name [is] the Lord of hostes.

58 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The thick wall of Babel shall be broken, and her hie gates shall be burnt with fire, and the people shall labor in vaine, and the folke in the fire, for they shall be wearie.

60 So Ieremiah wrote in a booke all the euill that should come vpon Babel: euen all these things, that are written against Babel.

61 And Ieremiah said to Sheratah, when thou comest vnto Babel, and shalt see, & shalt reade all these wordes, 62 Then shalt thou say, O Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to destroy it, that none should remaine in it, neither man nor beast, but that it should be desolate for ever.

4 Jerusalem is taken, 10 Zedekiahs sonnes are killed before

3 Doubtles because the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, therefore Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babel.

4 But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth the tenth [day] of the moneth came Nebuchad-nessar King of Babel, he and all his hoste against Ierusalem, and pitched against it, and built fortres against it round about.

5 So the cite was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of the King Zedekiah.

6 Nowe in the fourth moneth, the ninth [day] of the moneth, the famine was sore in the cite, so that there was no more bread for the people of the land.

b Read Chap.
39. 4.

7 Then the cite was broken vp and all the men of warre fled, and went out of the cite by night, by the way of the gate betwene the two walles, which was by the Kings garden: (nowe the Caldeans were by the cite round about) and they went by the way of the wildernes.

8 But the armie of the Caldeans pursued after the King, and tooke Zedekiah in the desert of Jericho, and all his hoste was scattered from him.

c Read 2. King.
25. 6. & Chap.
39. 5.

9 Then they tooke the King and carried him vp vnto the King of Babel to Ribiah in the land of Hamath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 And the King of Babel slewe the sonnes of Zedekiah, before his eyes:
he slewe also all the princes of Judah in Ribiah.

11 Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the King of Babel bound him in chaines, and carried him to Babel, and put him in prison till the day of his death.

12 Now in the fift moneth in the tenth [day] of the moneth (which was the nineth yeere of the King Nebuchad-nessar King of Babel) came Nebuzaradan chiefe steward (which) stood before the King of Babel in Ierusalem.

13 And burnt the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all the houses of Ierusalem, and all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the chiefe steward, brake downe all the walles of Ierusalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue [certeine] of the poore of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the cite, and those that were fled, and fallen to the King of Babel, with the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward left [certeine] of the poore of the land, to dreffe the vines, & to till the land.

17 Also the pillars of brasie that were in the house of the Lord, and the bales, and the brasen Sea, that was in the house of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and caried all the brasie of them to Babel.

d In the
2. King. 25. 8, it is called the fift month day because the fire began then,
and so continued to the tenth.
e That is,
because he was his seruant, as
2. King. 25. 8.

18 The pots also and the besomes, and the instruments of musike, and the basins, and the incense dishes, and all the vessels of brasie wherewith they ministered, tooke they away.

19 And the bowles, and the ashyans, and the basins, and the pottes, and the candlesticks, and the incense dishes, and the cups, [and all] that was of golde, and that was of siluer, tooke the chiefe steward away.

20 With the two pillars, one Sea, and twelue brasen bulles, that were vnder
the bales, which King Salomon had made in the house of the Lord: the brasie of all these vessels was without weight.

lars, reade

21 And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eightene cucomasse it, and the thickness thereof was foure fingers: it was holowe.

22 And a chapter of brasie [was] vpon it, and the height of one chapter was fine cubites with netwoke, and pomegranates vpon the chapters round about, all of brasie: the second pillar also, and the pomegranates were like vnto these.

23 And there were ninetie and fixe pomegranates on a side: [and] all the pomegranates vpon y<sup>e</sup> net worke were an hundredth round about.

24 And y<sup>e</sup> chiefe steward tooke She-raiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

25 He tooke also out of the cite an Eunucho, which had the ouersight of the men of warre, and seven men that were in the kings presence, which were found in the cite, and Sopher captaine of the hoste who mustred the people of y<sup>e</sup> land, and threescore men of the people of the lande, that were found in the muddes of the cite.

26 Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the king of Babel to Riblah.

27 And y<sup>e</sup> king of Babel smote them, and slewe them in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Iudah was caried away captiue out of his owne land.

28 This is the people, whom Nebuchad-nezzar caried away captiue, in the seventh yere, [euē] three thousand Ielues, and three and twentie.

29 In the eighteenth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar hee caried away captiue from Ierusalem eight hundredeth thirtie and two persons.

30 In the three and twentieth yere of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward caried away captiue of the Ielues seven hundredeth fourtie and fixe persons: all the persons were foure thousand and fixe hundredeth.

31 And in the seven and thirtieth yere of the captiuitie of Ichoiachin king of Iudah, in the twelfth moneth, in the five and twentieth [day] of the moneth, Evil-merodach king of Babel, in the first yere of his reigne, lifted vp the head of Ichoiachin king of Iudah, and brought him out of prison.

32 And spake kindly vnto him, and set his throne about the throne of the kings, that were with him in Babel.

33 And changed his prison garments, and he did continually eate bread before him all the dayes of his life.

34 His portion was a continuall portion giuen him of the king of Babel, every day a certaine, all the dayes of his life vntill he dyed.

she came downe wonderfully: she had no comforter: O Lord, beholde mine affliction: for the enemy<sup>s</sup> is proude.

10 The enemy hath stretched out his hande vpon all her pleasant things: for he hath seene the heathen enter into her Sanctuarie, whome<sup>m</sup> thou didst commaunde, that they should not enter into thy Church.

11 All her people sigh and seeke [their] bread: they haue giuen their pleasant things for meate to refresh the soule: see, O Lord, and consider: for I am become vile.

12 Haue ye no regard, all ye that passe by [this] way: beholde, and see, if there be any<sup>n</sup> to solue like vnto my sorowe, which is done vnto me. Where with the Lord hath afflicted [me] in the day of his fierce wrath.

13 From aboute hath<sup>o</sup> he sent fire into my bones, which preuaile against them: he hath spred a net for my feete, [and] turned me backe: he hath made me desolate, [and] dayly in heauines.

14 The yoke of my transgressions is bound vpon his hand: they are wrapped, and come vp vpon my necke: hee hath made my strength to fail: the Lord hath deliuered me into [their] handes, neither am I able to rise vp.

15 The Lord hath troden vnder foote all my valiant men in the muddes of me: he hath called an assemblie against me to destroy my yong men: the Lord hath troden the wine presse vpon the virgine the daughter of Iudah.

16 For these things I weepe: mine eye, [eu]n mine eye casteth out water, because the comforter that shoulde refresh my soule, is farre from mee: my children are desolate, because the enemy preuaile.

17 Zion stretcheth out her handes, and there [is] none to comfort her: the Lord hath appointed the enemies of Iacob rounde about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman in the mids of them.

18 The Lord is righteous: for I haue rebelled against his<sup>r</sup> commaundement: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorowe: my virgines and my yong men are gone into captiuitie.

19 I called for my louers, [but] they deceived me: my priestes & mine Elders perished in the cite while they sought their meate to refresh their soules.

20 Beholde, O Lord, how I am troubled: my bowels swell: mine heart is turned within me, for I am full of heauines: the sword spoyleth abroad, as death [doeth] at home.

21 They haue heard that I mourne, [but] there [is] none to comfort me: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, [and] are glad, that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day, that thou hast pronounced, and they shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednes come before thee: doe vnto them, as thou hast done vnto me, for all my transgressions: for my sighes are many, and mine heart is heauie.

CHAP. II.

How hath the Lord darke- ned the daughter of Zion in his wrath! [and] hath cast downe from<sup>b</sup> heauen vnto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembered not his<sup>a</sup> footstool in the day of his wrath!

2 The Lord hath destroyed all the habitations of Iacob, and not spared: he hath throlne downe in his wrath the strong holdes of the daughter of Iudah: hee hath cast them downe to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce wrath all the<sup>c</sup> horne of Israel: he hath drayn backe his<sup>d</sup> right hande from before the enemy, and there was kindled in Iacob like a flame of fire, which deuoured round about.

4 He<sup>e</sup> hath bent his bowe like an enemy: his right hand was stretched vp as an aduersarie, and hee deale all that was pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he polvzed out his wrath like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath deuoured Israel, [and] consumed all his palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holdes, and hath increased in the daughter of Iudah lamentation and mourning.

6 For he hath destroyed his tabernacle, as a garden, he hath destroyed his congregation: the Lord hath caused the feastes and Sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the imbrigation of his wrath the King and the Priest.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his altar: he hath abhorred his Sanctuarie: he hath giuen into the hand of the enemy the the walls of her palaces: they have made a noyle in the house of the Lord, as in the day of solemnitie.

8 The Lord hath determined to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: hee stretched out a line: hee hath not withheld his hand from destroying: therefore hee made the rampart<sup>b</sup> and the wall to lament: they were destroyed together.

9 Her gates are sunke to the ground: he hath destroyed & broken her barres: her king and her princes [are] among the Gentiles: the Lawe [is] no more, neither can her Prophets receive [any] vision from the Lord.

10 The Elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keepe silence: they have cast up dust upon their heades: they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang downe their heades to the ground.

11 Mine eyes doe faile with teares: my bowels swell: my liver is poyred upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children & sucklings [swoone] in the streetes of the cite.

12 They have saide to their mothers, where is bread and drinke: when they swooned as the wounded in the streetes of the cite, [and] when they gaue up the ghost in their mothers bosome.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee: what thing shall I compare to thee, O daughter Jerusalem: what shall I liken to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgine daughter Zion: for thy breach [is] great like the sea: who can heale thee?

14 Thy Prophets have looked out vaine, and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquitie, to turne away thy captiuitie, but have looked out for thee faile [prophecies, and] causes of banishment.

15 All that passe by the way, clap their handes at thee: they hiss and wagge their head upon the daughter Jerusalem, [saying,] Is this the cite that men call, The perfection of beautie, [and] the top of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure it: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we haue found [and] scene it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had purposed: he hath fulfilled his worde that he had determined of olde time: he hath thowen downe, and not spared: he hath caused thine enemy to reioyce ouer thee, and set vp the horn of thine aduersaries.

18 Their heart<sup>c</sup> cryed vnto the Lord, O wall of the daughter Zion, let teares run downe like a river, day and night: take thee no rest, neither let the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, crye in the night: in the beginning of the watches poure out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift vp thine handes toward him for the life of thy yong children, that faim for hunger in the corners of all streetes.

20 Beholde, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women eate their fruite, [and] children of a spanne long: shall the Priest and the Prophet be slaine in the Sanctuarie of the Lord?

21 The yong and the olde lie on the ground in the streetes: my virgins and my yong men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slaine [them] in the day of thy wrath: thou hast killed and not spared.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my [terrors] round about, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped nor remained: those that I haue nourished and brought vp, hath mine enemy consumed.

my soule: therefore will I hope in him.

25 The Lord is good vnto them, that trust in him, [and] to the soule that seeketh him.

26 It is good both to trust, and to waite for the saluation of the Lord.

smuteth him: hee is filled full with re-proches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though he send affliction, yet will he haue compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For he doth not <sup>punish</sup> willingly, nor afflict the children of men, 34 In stamping vnder his feete all the prisoners of the earth,

35 In ouerthrowing the right of a man before the face of the most high,

40 Let vs search and trie our wayes, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift vp <sup>our</sup> heartes with our handes vnto God in the heauens.

HEW is the golde become to dinne: the most fine golde is changed, [and] the stones of the Sanctuarie are scattered in the corner of euery streete.

2 The noble [men] of Zion comparable to fine gold, howe are they esteemed as earthen<sup>a</sup> pitchers, [even] the worke of the hands of the potter!

3 Euen the dragons<sup>b</sup> drawe out the beastes, and giue sucke to their yong, [but] the daughter of my people [is become] cruell like the<sup>c</sup> ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The tongue of the sucking childe cleaueth to the rooſe of his mouth for thirst: the yong children aske bread, [but] no man breaketh it vnto them.

5 They that did feede delicately, perishe in the streetes: they<sup>d</sup> were brought vp in scarlet, embrace the dounge.

6 For the iniquitie of the daughter of my people is become greater then the sinne of Sodom, that was<sup>e</sup> destroyed as in a moment, & [none] pitched camps against her.

7 Her<sup>f</sup> Nazarites were purer then the snow, [and] whiter then the milke: they were more ruddie in body, then the red precious stones: they were like polished sapphir.

8 Now their<sup>g</sup> vilage is blacker then a cole: they can not knowe them in the streetes: their skinne cleaueth to their bones: it is withered, like a stocke.

9 They that be slaine with the sword are better then they that are killed with hunger: for they fade away [as] they were stricken through for the<sup>h</sup> fruites of the field.

10 The hands of the pittfull women haue sodden their olivie childe, [which] were their meate in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lorde hath accomplished his indignation: hee hath poured out his fierre wrath, hee hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath deuoured the foundations thereof.

12 The Kings of the earth, and al the inhabitants of y<sup>i</sup> world would not haue beleued that the aduersarie and the enemye should haue entred into the gates of Ierusalem:

13 For the sinnes of her Prophets, [and] the iniquities of her Priestes, that haue shed the blood of the iust in the middes of her.

14 They haue wandied [as] blinde men<sup>i</sup> in the streetes, and they were polluted with blood, so that<sup>j</sup> they woulde not touche their garments.

15 [But] they cried vnto the, Depart, ye polluted, depart, depart, touche not: therefore they fled away, and wandered: they haue laid among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

16 The<sup>k</sup> anger of the Lord hath scattered them, he will no more regard the: they reuered not the face of y<sup>l</sup> Priests, no: had compassion of the Elders.

17 Whiles wee waited for our vaine helpe, our eyes fayled: for in our waiting we looked for<sup>m</sup> a nation that coulde not saue vs.

18 They hunt our steppes that wee cannot goe in our streetes: our ende is neere, our dayes are fulfilled, for our end is come.

19 Our persecuters are swifter then the eagles of the heauen: they pursued vs vpon the mountaines, and layed waite for vs in the wilderness.

20 The<sup>n</sup> breath of our nostrils, the Anointed of y<sup>o</sup> Lorde was taken in their nets, of whom we saide, Under his shadow we shall be preserved aluie among the heathen.

21 Reioyce and be glad, O daughter Edom, that dwellest in the lande of Uz, the cup also shall passe through vnto thee: thou shalt be drunken [and] vomite.

22 Thy punishment is accomplished, O daughter Zion: he<sup>o</sup> will no more carie thee away into captiuitie, [but] hee will visite thine iniquitie, O daughter Edom, he will discouer thy sinnes.

Nomb. 6.2.

e They that were before most in Gods fauour, are now in greatest abominacion vnto him, f For lacke of food they pine away, and consume, g He meaneth that these things are come to passe therefore, contrary to all mens expectation.

h Some referre this to the blind men, which as they went, stumbled on the blood, whereof the cite was full.

i Speaking of the heathen, which came to destroy them, could not abide them.

j Or, face.

k That is, the enemies.

l The two principal causes of their destruction: their crueltie, and their vaine confidence in man: for they trusted in the helpe of the Egyptians.

m Our King Zolai, in whom stood our hope of Gods fauour, n And on whome depended our state and life, was slaine, whom he catched amaine, because he was a fugitive of Chail.

o This is spoken by their after enemies, whereas their souldiers shall come ane, whereas the wicked should be punished for.

we now vnto vs, that we haue sinned.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore our heart is heauie for these things, our eyes are dimme.

which is desolate: the foxes runne by on it.

<sup>19</sup> [But] thou, O Lord, remainest foreuer: thy throne is from generation to generation.

euer, [and] forsake vs so long time?

Lord, and we shalbe turned: renew our dayes as of olde.

vs: thou art exceedingly angrie against vs.

THE ARGUMENT.

zar, and so went into captiuitie with his mother and diuers of his princes and of the people, certaine began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the Prophets counsell, as though the thing which they had prophesied should not come to passe, and therefore their estate should be still miserable vnder the Caldeans. By reason whereof he confirmeth his former prophesies, declaring by newe visions and revelations shewed vnto him, that the citie should most certainly be destroyed, and the people grievously tormented by Gods plagues, inasmuch that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage.
And least the godly shoulde despair in these great troubles, hee assureth them that God will deliuer his Church at his time appointed, and also destroy their enemies which either afflicted them, or reioyed in their miseries. The effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed vnder Christ, of whom in this booke are many notable promises, and in whom the glorie of the Newe Temple shoulde perfectly be restored. He prophesied these things in Caldea at the same time that Ieremiah prophesied in Iudah, and there began in the fiftieth yere of Iehoiachins captiuitie.

tongue, or of an hard language, whose wordes thou canst not vnderstand: yet if I should send thee to them, they would obey thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not obey thee: for they will not obey me: yea, all the house of Israel are impudent and stiff hearted.

8 Beholde, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead hard against their foreheads.

9 I haue made thy forehead as the adamant, [and] harder then the flint: feare them not therefore, neither be afeard at their looks: for they are a rebellious house.

10 He said moreover vnto me, Sonne of man, <sup>c</sup> rectifie in thine heart all my wordes that I speake vnto thee, and heare [them] with thine eares,

11 And go [and] enter to them that are led away captiues vnto the children of thy people, and speake vnto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord God: [but] surely they will not heare, neither will they in deede cease.

12 Then the spirit tooke me vp, and I heard behinde me a noyle of a great rushing, saying, [d] Blessed be [the] glory of the Lord out of his place.

13 I heard also the noyle of 7 wings of the beastes, that touched one another, and the railing of the wheeles that were by them, euen a noyle of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit left me by, & tooke me away and I went in bitterness, [and] indignation of my spirit, but the hand of the Lord was strong vpon me.

15 Then I came to them that were led away captiues to Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them 7 seuen dayes.

16 And at the end of seuen dayes, the word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

17 Sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and giue them warning from me.

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely dye, & thou giest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his wicked way, that he may liue, the same wicked man shall die in his iniquitie: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warne the wicked, and he turne not from his wickednes, nor from his wicked way, he shall dye in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

20 Likewise if a righteous man turne from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, I will lay a stumbling block before him, and he shall die, because thou hast not giuen him warning: he shall dye in his sinne, and his righteous deedes, which he hath done, shall not be remembered: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and that he doeth not sinne, he shall liue because he is admonished: also thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he layd vnto me, Arise, [and] go into the [s]ide, and I will there talke with thee.

23 So when I had risen vp, and gone forth into the fildes, beholde, the glorie of the Lord stood there, as the glorie which I saw by the river Chebar, and I fell downe vpon my face.

24 Then the spirit entred into me, which let me vp vpon my feete, & spake vnto me, and sayde to me, Come, [and] shut thy selfe within thine house.

25 But thou, O sonne of man, behold, they shall put bands vpon thee, and shall binde thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue cleaue to the roofof thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumme, and shalt not be to them as a man that rebuketh: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I shall haue spoken vnto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, he that heareth, let him heare, and he that leaueth off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

5 For I haue layde vpon thee the yeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, [euē] three hundredth and ninetie dayes: so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

4 Then take of them againe and cast them into the middes of the fire, and burne them in the fire: <sup>d</sup>for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

sonnes shall eate their fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee wil I scatter in-

Lorde God, Surely becaule thou hast thee: and another third part shall fall will scatter the last third part into all cease in thee, and I will be comforted:

and they shall knowe, that I the Lorde haue spoken it in my zeale, when I haue accomplished my wrath in them.

14 Moreover, I wil make thee waste, and abhorred among the nations, that are round about thee, [and] in the sight of all that passe by.

15 So thou shalt be a reproche and shame, a chastisement and an astoni-and euill beasts, & they shall spoyle thee, and pestilence & blood shall passe thorow thee, and I will bring the sword vpon thee: I the Lorde haue spoken it.

He sheweth that Ierusalem shall be destroyed for their idolatrie, and to the hilles, to the riuers and to the baileys, Beholde, I, euen I wil bring your hie places:

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your images of the s same shall be broken: and I wil cast down your staine men before your idoles.

5 And I will lay the dead carkeises of the children of Israel before their idoles, and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places the cities shall be desolate, and the hie places shall be layd waste, so that your altars shall be made waste and desolate, and your idoles shall be broken, and cease,

7 And the staine shall fall in the mids

Lorde.

8 Yet wil I leaue a remnant, that you may haue [some] that shall escape the sword among s nations, when you shall be scattered through the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shall re-they shall be in captiuitie, because I am haue departed from me, and for their eyes, which haue gone a whoring after their idoles, and they shall be displa-they haue committed in all their abomi-nations.

to them.

thy foote, and say, Alas, for all the wicked

The end of all the land of Israel shall suddenly come.

Moreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, 2 Also thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, An end is come vnto the land of Israel: the end is come vpon the foure corners of the land.

3 Nowe is the end come vpon thee, and I will sende my wrath vpon thee, and will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

4 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pite: but I will lay thy wayes vpon thee: and thine abomination shall be in the middes of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

5 Thus saith the Lord God, I will holde one euill, euen one euill is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it watched for thee: behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come vnto thee, that dwelled in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neere, and not the sounding againe of the mountaines.

8 Nowe I will shortly poure out my wrath vpon thee, and fulfill mine anger vpon thee: I will iudge thee according to thy wayes, and will lay vpon thee all thine abominations.

9 Neither shall mine eye spare thee, neither will I haue pite, but I will lay vpon thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations shall be in the mids of thee, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord that smiteth.

10 Behold, the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth, the rod flourisheth: pride hath budded.

11 Crueltie is risen vnto a rod of wickednesse: none of them shall remaine, nor of their riches, nor of any of theirs, neither shall there be lamentation for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neere: let not the byer reioyce, nor let him that selleth, mourne: for the wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 For he that selleth, shall not returne to that which is solde, although they were yet alive: for the vision was vnto all the multitude thereof, [and] they returned not, neither doeth any encourage himselfe in the punishment of his life.

14 They haue blowen the trumpet, and prepared all, but none goeth to the battell: for my wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

15 The sword is without, and the pestilence, and the famine within: he that is in the siele, shall dye with the sword, and he that is in the cite, famine and pestilence shall deuour him.

16 But they that flee awaye from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines, like the doves of the valleys: all they shall mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All hands shall be weake, and all knees shall fall away as water.

18 They shall also gird them selues with sackcloth, and feare shall couer them, and shame shall be vpon all faces, and baldnes vpon their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streetes, and their golde shall be cast farre off: their silver and their golde can not deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord: they shall not satisfie their soules, neither fill their boldels: for this ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 He had also set the beautie of his ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations, [and] of their idoles therein: therefore haue I set it farre from them.

21 And I will giue it into the hands of the strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth to be robbed, & they shall pollute it.

the people assembled.

4 And beholde, the glorie of the God of Israel [was] there according to the vision, that I saw <sup>i</sup>n the field.

5 Then saide he vnto me, Somme of man, lift vp thine eyes now toward the North. So I lift vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward, at the gate of the <sup>h</sup> altar, this idole of indignation [was] in the entrie.

because it prouoked Gods indignation, which was the idole of Baal.
3, 22.
<sup>h</sup> That is, in the court, where the people had made an altar to Baal.

6 Hee sayde furthermore vnto mee, Somme of man, seest thou not what they do: euen the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here to cause [me] to depart from my Sanctuarie: but yet turne thee [and] thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 And hee caused me to enter at the gate of the court: and when I looked, beholde, an hole [was] in the wall.

8 Then laide he vnto me, Somme of man, digge nole in the wall. And when I had digged in the wall, behold, [there was] a doore.

9 And he said vnto me, Go in, and be-holde the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in, and sawe, and be-holde, [there was] every similitude of creeping things and <sup>h</sup> abominable beasts all the idoles of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

<sup>i</sup> For God will not be where idoles are.

<sup>k</sup> Which were forbidden in the law, Leuit.
24.

11 And there stood before them seuentie men of the Ancients of the house of Israel, and in the middes of them stood Jaasaniah, the sonne of Sheph-phan, with euery man his censour in his hande, & the vapour of the incense went vp [like] <sup>m</sup> a cloude.

that shoulde haue kept all the rest in the fear, and true
seruice of God,
were the ringleaders to all abomination, and by their example pulled others from God.

12 Then laide he vnto me, Somme of man, hast thou seene what the Ancients of the house of Israel <sup>n</sup> do in the darke, euery one in the chamber of his imagerie: for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

<sup>m</sup> He was in such abomince, <sup>n</sup> For besides their common idolatrie, they had particulae seruice, which they had in secret chambers.

13 Againe he said alio vnto me, Turne thee againe, [and] thou shalt see greater abominations than they do.

14 And he caused me to enter into the entrie of the gate of the Lords house, which was toward the North: and be-holde there late women mourning for

15 Then laide he vnto me, Hast thou seene [this,] O sonne of man: Turne thee againe, [and] thou shalt see greater abominations then these.

<sup>o</sup> The Hebrews write that this was a Prophet of the idoles, who after his death was once a pere mount-ned for in the night.

16 And he caused me to enter into the inner court of <sup>p</sup> Lords house, & beholde, at the doore of the Temple of the Lord, betweene the porch and the altar [were] about fise and twentie men with their backs toward the Temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, & they worshipped the sunne, toward the East.

17 Then he said vnto me, Hast thou seene [this,] O sonne of man: Is it a small thing to the house of Iudah to commit these abominations which they do here: for they haue filled the lande with crueltie, and haue returned to provoke mee: and loe, they haue cast out [sinke] before their noses.

18 There:

four wheels [were] beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and another wheele by another Cherub, and the appearance of the wheeles [was] as the colour of a chrysolite stone.

10 And their appearance [for] they were [all] four of one faction [was] as if one wheele had bene in [another] wheele.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their four sides, and they returned not as they went: but to the place whither the first went, they went after it, and they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole body, and their [rings, and their hands, & their wings, and the wheeles were full of eyes round about,] even in the same four wheeles.

13 And [the Cherub] cryed to these wheeles in mine hearing, [saying,] O wheele.

14 And euery [beast] had four faces: the first face [was] the face of a Cherub, and the second face [was] the face of a man, and the thirde the face of a lyon, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

Chap. 1. 5.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: * this is the beast that I sawe at the riuier Chebar.

16 And when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: & when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to moue vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from beside them.

17 When the Cherubims stood, they stood: and when they were lifted vp, they lifted themselves vp [also:] for the spirit of the beast [was] in them.

18 <sup>h</sup> Then the glorie of the Lorde departed from about the doore of [house, and stood vpon the Cherubims.]

19 And the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and mounted vp from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheeles also [were] besides them: and [euery one] stood at the entrie of the gate of the Lords house at the East side, and the glorie of the God of Israel [was] vpon them on hie.

Chap. 1. 5. <sup>i</sup> That is, the whole body of the four wheeles. <sup>k</sup> Read Chap. 9. 3.

20 * This is the beast that I sawe vnder the God of Israel by the riuier Chebar, and I knewe that they were the Cherubims.

21 Euery one had four faces, and euery one four wings, and the likenesse of mans handes [was] vnder their wings.

22 And the likenesse of their faces [was] the selfe same faces, which I saw by the riuier Chebar, [and] the appearance of the rance of the [Cherubims was] the selfe same, [and] they went euery one straighthe forwarde.

CHAP. XI.

Moreouer, the Spirit lift me vp, and brought me vnto the East gate of [the Lords house, which is] the Eastward, and beholde, at the entrie of the gate [were] sixe and thientie men: among whom I sawe Jaazaniah the sonne of Asur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, the princes of the people.

2 Then saide he vnto me, Sonne of man, these are the men that imagine mischief, and deuise wicked counsell in this cite.

3 [For] they say, * It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this [cite] is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 Therefore propheticke against them, sonne of man, prophete.

5 And the Spirit of the Lorde fell vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake. Thus saith the Lorde, O ye house of Israel, this haue ye saide, and I knowe that which riseth vp of your mindes.

6 Many haue ye nurshered in this cite, and ye haue filled the streets thereof with the slaine.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, They that ye haue slaine, & haue layed in the middes of it, they are the flesh, and this [cite] is the caldron, but I will bring you forth of the middes of it.

8 Ye haue feared the sworde, and I will bring a sworde vpon you, saith the Lorde God.

9 And I will bring you out of the middes thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of strangers, and will execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shall fall by the sword, [and] I will iudge you in the border of Israel, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

11 This [cite] shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the middes thereof, [but] I will iudge you in the border of Israel.

12 And ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde: for ye haue not walked in my statutes, neither executed my iudgements, but haue done after the maners of the heathen, that are round about you.

13 And when I propheticke, Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah dyed: then <sup>a</sup> Thus the wicked derided the Prophets, as though they preached but errors, and therefore gaue themselves still to their pleasures. <sup>b</sup> The shall not be pulled out of Jerusalem, till the house of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron till it be sod.

<sup>c</sup> Contraries to their vaine confidence he sheweth in what sense this cite is the caldron: that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murthered therein, and so lye as flesh in the caldron. <sup>d</sup> That is, of the Caldeans. <sup>e</sup> That is, in Babilon, reade 2. King. 25. 6.

<sup>f</sup> It seemeth that this noble man ben of some terrible death, & therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God towards the rest of the people.

CHAP. XII.

fell I downe vpon my face, and cryed with a loude voyce, and saide, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then utterly destroy all the remnant of Israel:

14 Again the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

<sup>g</sup> They that remained still at Ierusalem thus reprochet them that were gone into captiuitie, as though they were call off and forsaken of God,

15 Some of man, thy brethren, [euen] thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel, wholy are they] vnto whome the inhabitants of Ierusalem haue saide, Depart ye farre from the Lord: [for] the lande is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, Although I haue cast them farre off among the heathen, and although I haue scattered them among the countreys, yet will I be to them as a little <sup>h</sup> Sanctuary in the countreys where they shall come.

<sup>h</sup> They shall be a little Church, shewing that the Lord will euer haue some to call vpon his name, whome he will preserve and restore, though they be for a time afflicted, 17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe from the people, and assemble you out of the countreys where ye haue bene scattered, and I will giue you the land of Israel.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the idoles thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

Iere. 32. 39. chap. 36. 26.

19 And I will giue them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within their bowels: and I will take the stonie heart out of their bodies, and will giue them an heart of flesh,

<sup>i</sup> Meaning, the heart whereunto nothing can enter, and regenerate them anew, so that their heart may be soft, and ready to receiue my graces,

20 That they may walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and execute them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But vpon them, whose heart is towarde their idoles, and whose affection goeth after their abominations, I will lay their way vpon their owne heades, saith the Lord God.

22 Then did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel [was] vpon them on high.

23 And the glorie of the Lord went vp from the mids of the cite, and stood vpon the mountaine which is towarde the East side of the cite.

24 Afterwarde the Spirit tooke me vp, and brought mee in a vision by the Spirit of God into Caldea to them that were led away captiues: so the vision that I had seene, went vp from me.

25 Then I declared vnto them that were led away captiues, all the things that the Lord had shewed me.

The Worde of the Lord also came vnto me, saying,
2 Some of man, thou dwellest in the mids of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, & see not: they haue eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore thou sonne of man, prepare thy stuffe to goe into captiuitie and goe forth by day in their sight: and thou shalt passe from thy place to another place in their sight, if it be possible that they may consider it: for they are a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuffe by day in their sight as the stuffe of him that goeth into captiuitie: and thou shalt goe forth at euen in their sight, as they that goe forth into captiuitie.

5 Digge thou through the wall in their sight, and carie out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare it vpon [thy] shoulders, [and] carry it forth in darkness: thou shalt couer thy face that thou see not earth: for I haue set thee [as] a signe vnto the house of Israel.

<sup>b</sup> That as thou doest, so shall they do, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

7 And as I was commanded, so I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and by night I digged through the wall with mine hand, and brought it forth in the darke, [and] I bare it vpon [my] shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Some of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said vnto thee, what doest thou?

10 [But] say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, [His] burden [concerneth] the chiefe in Ierusalem, and all the house of Israel: I are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I haue done, so shall it be done vnto them: they shall go into bondage [or] captiuitie.

12 And the chiefe that is among them, shall beare vpon his shoulder in the darke, and shall go forth: they shall digge through the wall, to carie out thereby: he shall couer his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I will bring him to Babel to the lande of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

<sup>d</sup> When the King shall come to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 17. 20. Chap. 17. 20.

14 And I will scatter toward euery winde all that are about him to helpe him, and all his garisons, and I will drawe out the sword after them.

15 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leave a little number of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all these abominations among the heathen, where they come, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

17 Moreover, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eate thy bread With trembling, and drinke thy Water With trouble, and With carefules,

19 And lay vnto the people of the land,
Thus sayeth the Lord God of the imba-bitants of Ierusalem, [and] of the land of Iſrael, They ſhall eate their bread with carefulnes, and drinke their water with deſolation: for the land ſhalbe de-ſolate from her abundance becauſe of the crueltie of them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be left boyde, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

21 ¶ And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

22 Sonne of man, what is that pro-uerbe that you haue in the land of Israel, saying, The daies<sup>e</sup> are prolonged and all visions || faile?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus sayth the Lorde God, I will make this proverbe to cease, and they shall no moze vse it as a proverbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand and the effect of euery bilon.

24 For no vision shalbe any more in baine, neither [shall there be] any flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the Lord: I wil speake,
[and] that thing that I shal speake, shal come to passe: it shall be no moze ydolged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the thing, and wil perfourme it. sayth the Lord God.

26 Again the Word of the Lord came
vnto me saying,

27 Some of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth, is for many dayes [to come,] and hee prophesieth of the times that are farre off.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my words shal no longer be delayed, but that thing which I haue spoken, shalbe done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XIII.

2 The worde of the Lord against false prophets, which teache the people the counsels of their owne hearts,

And the worde of the Lorde
came vnto me saying.

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the Prophets of Israel, that propheticke, and say thou vnto them, that propheticke out of their owne hearts, heare the worde of the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, vnto the foolish Prophets that followe their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy Prophets are like the foxes<sup>b</sup> in the waste places.

5 We haue not risen vp in the gappes, neither made vp the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in battell in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene banittie, and iying dimination, saying, The Lorde saith it, and the Lorde hath not sent them: and they haue made [others] to hope that they would confirme the word [of their prophecie.]

7 Hauē ye not seene a vaine vision:
and haue ye not spoken a lyping diuinati-on: ye say, The Lord sayeth it, albeit I haue not spoken.

8 Therefore thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord God, Because ye haue spoken vanitie & haue seene eyes, therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God.

9 And mine hand shalbe vpon þe Prophets that see vanitie, and diuine eyes: they shall not be in the assemblie of my people, neither shall they be written in the Writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord God.

10 And therefore, because they haue deceiued my people, saying, Peace, and there was no peace: and one built by a wall, and beholde, the others daubed it with intempered [morter.]

ii Say vnto them which daube it with bntempered [morter.] that it shall fall :
[for] there shall come a great shodre, and I wil send hallestones, [which] shal cause it to fall, and a stormie winde shall brike it.

That is, it shall not come to passe in our dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked ruer abuse Gods patience and benigneitie.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said vnto you, where is the daubing wherewith ye haue daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord God, I will cause a stormie winde to breake forth in my wrath, and a great shewre shall be in mine anger, and hailestones in [mine] indignation to consume it.

14 So I will destroy the wall that ye haue daubed with vntempered [mortar,] and bring it downe to the ground, so that the foundation therof shalbe discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the middes thereof, and ye shall know, that I am the Lord.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath vpon the wall, & vpon them that haue daubed it with vntempered [mortar,] and will say vnto you, The wall is no more, neither the daubers thereof.

16 [To wit,] the Prophets of Israel, which prophetic vpon Ierusalem, and see visions of peace for it, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

17 Likewise thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophetic out of their owne heart: and prophetic thou against them, and say,

18 Thus saith the Lord God, woe vnto the [women] that solbe pilloves vnder all arme holes, and make bailes vpon the head of euery one that standeth vp, to hunt soules: will ye hunt  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  soules of my people, and will ye giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfulls of  $\text{b}$  barley, and for pieces of bread to slay the soules of them that should not dye, and to giue life to the soules that should not lye in lying to my people, that heare [your] lyes?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will haue to do with your pilloves; wherewith ye hunt the  $\text{m}$  soules to make them to flye, and I will teare them from your armes, and will let the soules go, [euen] the soules, that ye hunt to make them to flye.

21 Your bailes alld will I teare, and deliuer my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hands to be hunted, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

22 Because with [your] lyes ye haue made  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  heart of  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  righteous sad, who I haue not made sad, and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not returne from his wicked way, by promising him life,

23 Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor diuine diuinations: for I will deliuer my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XIII.

4 The Lord knoweth false prophets for the ingratitude of the people. 22 He reuerently a small portion for his Church.

Then came certayne of the Elders of Israel vnto me, and saide before me.

2 And the word of  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord came vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their  $\text{b}$  heart, and put the stumbling blocke of their iniquitie before their face: should I, being requered, and where them?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idoles in his heart, & putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the Prophet, I the Lord will and where him that commeth, according to  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  multitude of his idoles:

5 That I may take the house of Israel in their owne heart, because they are all departed from me though they idoles.

6 Therefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, Returne, and withdraue your selues, and turne your faces from your idoles, and turne your faces from all your abominations.

7 For euery one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which departeth from me, and setteth vp his idoles in his heart, & putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to a prophet, for to inquire of him for me, I the Lord will and where him for my selfe.

8 And I will set my face against that man, and will make him an example and p[ro]uerbe, and I will cut him off from the middes of my people, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

9 And if the Prophet be  $\text{d}$  deterred, when he hath spoken a thing, I  $\text{J}^{\text{h}}$  Lord haue deterred that Prophet, and I will stretch out mine hand vpon him, and will destroy him from the middes of my people of Israel.

10 And they shall beare their punishment: the punishment of the Prophet shalbe euen as the punishment of him

11 That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions, but that they may be my people, & I may be their God, saith y Lord God.

12 The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

13 Some of man, when the land sinneth against me by committing a trespass, then will I stretch out mine hand vpon it, and will breake the staffe of the bread thereof, and will send famine vpon it, and I will destroy man and beast forth of it.

14 Though these three men Noah, Daniel, and Iob were among them, they shoulde deliuer [but] their owne soules by their righteousnes, saith the Lord God.

15 If I bring noysome beastes into the land and they spoyle it, so that it be desolate, y no man may passe through, because of beastes.

16 [Though] these three men were in the middes thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall saue neither sonnes nor daughters: they onely shall be deliuered, but the land shalbe waste.

17 O [if] I bring a sword vpon this land, & say, Sword, go through y land, so that I destroy man & beast out of it.

18 Though these three men were in the middes thereof, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonnes nor daughters, but they onely shall be deliuered themselves.

19 O [if] I send a pestilence into this land, & poure out my wrath vpon it in blood, to destroy out of it man and beast,

20 And [though] Noah, Daniel and Iob were in y middes of it, As I liue, saith the Lord God, they shall deliuer neither sonne nor daughter: they shall [but] deliuer their owne soules by their righteousnes.

21 For thus saith the Lord God, how much more when I send my foure score iudgements vpo Jerusalem, [eu]n the sword, and famine, and y noysome beast, and pestilence, to destroy man and beast out of it:

22 Yet beholde, therein shalbe left a remnant of them that shalbe caried away [both] sonnes and daughters: beholde, they shall come forth vnto you, and ye shall see their way, and their enterprises: and ye shalbe comforted, concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Jerusalem, [eu]n concerning all that I haue brought vpon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their way and their enterprises: and ye shal know, that I haue not done without cause all that I haue done in it, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XV.

As the impossible wood of the vine tree is cast into the fire, so Jerusalem shalbe burnt.

AND the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, what cometh of the vine tree aboue all [other] trees: and of the vine brach, which is among y trees off forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any worke? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Beholde, it is cast in the fire to be consumed: the fire consumeth both the ends of it, and the middes of it is burnt. Is it meete for [any] worke?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was meete for no worke: holue much lesse shal it be meete for any worke, when the fire hath consumed it, and it is burnt.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, As the vine tree, [that is,] among the trees of the forest, which I haue giuen to the fire to be consumed, so will I giue the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7 And I will set my face against the: they shall go out from [one] y fire, and [another] fire shall consume them: and ye shal know, that I am the Lord, when I set my face against them.

8 And [when] I make y land waste, because they haue greatly offended, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVI.

The Prophet declareth the benifices of God toward Jerusalem. 15 Their unkindnes. 46 He iustifieth the wickednes of other people in comparison of the sinnes of Jerusalem. 49 The cause of the abominations, into which the Sodomites fell. 60 Herrie is promised to the repentant.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God vnto Jerusalem, Thine habitation, and thy kindred is of the land of Canaan: thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

4 And in thy nativitie when thou wast borne, thy navel was not cut: thou wast not washed in water to soften thee: thou wast not salted with salt, nor swaddled in cloutes.

a Which him geth forth no fruite, no more then the other trees of the forest doe: meaning, that if Jerusalem, which bare the name of his Church, did not bring forth fruite, it should be utterly destroyed.

b Though they escape one danger, yet another shall take them.

a Then bearest to be of the seede of Abraham, but thou art begenerate and followest y abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children do the maner of their fathers, Iai 1. 4. and 5. 7. 3.

b When I first brought thee out of Egypt, and planted thee in this land to be my Church,

l I chose, and I loved thee, with which word did not chaste thine

heart.

5 None eye pitied thee to do any of these vnto thee, for to haue compassion vpon thee, but thou wast cast out in the open fieldes to the contempt of thy person in the day that thou wast borne.

6 And when I passed by thee, I saw thee polluted in thine owne blood, and I said vnto thee, when thou wast in thy blood, Thou shalt liue: euen when thou wast in thy blood, I said vnto thee, thou shalt liue.

7 I haue caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and warren great, and thou hast gotten excellent ornaments: [thy] breasts are fashioned, thine heare is growne, where as thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was as the time of loue, & I spred my skirts ouer thee, & couered thy filthines: yea, I waue into thee, and entred into a couenant with thee, sayeth the Lord God, and thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water:
yea, I washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee also With broidred worke, & shod thee With badgers skinne:
and I girded thee about With fine linnen, and I covered thee With silke.

II I decked thee also with ornamēts, and I put bracelets vpon thine hands,
and a chaine on thy necke.

12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earings in thine eares, and a beautifull<sup>b</sup> crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou deckt With gold and siluer, and thy rayment was of fine linen, and silke, and byoyded worke:
thou diddest eate fine floure, and homie and oyle, & thou wast very beautiful, and thou didest grow by into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was spred among the heathen for thy beautie : for it was perfite through my beautie Which I had set vpon thee, sayth the Lord God.

15 Powe thou didest <sup>k</sup> trust in thine diuine beautie, and playedst the harlot, because of thy renoume, and hast pow-red out <sup>l</sup> thy fornications on euery one that passed by, [thy desire] was to him.

16 And thou didest take thy garments, and deckedst thine hie places with di-uers colours, <sup>m</sup> and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come neither hath any done so.

m This declareth howe the idolaters put their chiefe delight in which vlcate the eyes, and outward senses.

17 Thou hast also taken thy faire iewels [made] of my golde and of my silver, which I had giuen thee, and<sup>n</sup> madest to thy selfe images of men, and didest commit whoredome with them.

18 And tookest thy broidred garmēts, and coueredst them : and thou hast set mine oyle and my perfume before them.

19 My meate also, which I gaue thee, [as] fine flour, oyle, and home, [wherewith] I fed thee, thou hast euen set it before them for a sweete sauour: thus it was, sayth the Lord God.

20 Whereouer thou hast taken thy sonnes and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne vnto me, and these hast thou sacrificed vnto them, to be deuoured: is [this] thy whooredome a small matter:

21 That thou hast slaine my children, & deliuered them to cause them to passe through fire for them:

22 And in all thine abominations and whoredomes thou hast not remembered the dayes of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, [and] wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And beside all thy Wickednes (Wo, Wo vnto thee, saith the Lord God)

24 Thou hast also buyt vnto thee an hie place, & hast made thee an hie place in euery streete.

25 Thou hast built thine hie place at euery || corner of the way, and hast made thy beautie to be abhored : thou hast opened thy feete to euery one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredome.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication With the Egyptians thy neighbours, Which haue great members, and hast encreased thy Whoredome, to provoke me.

27 Beholde, therefore I did stretch out mine hand ouer thee, and will diminish thine ordinarie, and deliuer thee vnto the Will of them that hate thee, [euē] to the || daughters of the Whilkins, which are ashamed of thy wicked way.

28 Thou hast played the Whore also With <sup>the</sup> Assyrians, because thou wast in-
With them, & yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication from the land of Canaan vnto Caldea, and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 Holbe weake is thine heart, sayth the Lord God, seeing thou doest al these things, [euen] the worke of a presumptuous whorish woman:

n Thou hast conuerted my vessels and instruments, which I gaue thee to serue me with, to the vse of thine idoles.

|| Or, that will bear rule.

31 In that thou buildest thine hie place in the corner of every way, and makest thine hie place in every streete, and hast not bene as an harlot that despiseth a reward,

<sup>q</sup> Speaking, that some harlots contemne small rewardes, but no louers gaue a reward to Israel, but they gaue to al others: signifying, that the idolaters bestow all their subtiltie, which they receive of God by his gloie, to serve their vile abominations.

32 But [as] a wife that playeth the harlot, & taketh others for her husband: 33 They giue giftes to all [other] whores, but thou giuest giftes vnto al thy louers, and rewardest them, that they may come vnto thee on every side for thy fornication.

34 And the contrary is in thee from [other] women in thy fornications, neither [the like] fornication [shall be] after thee: for in that thou giuest a reward, and no reward is giuen vnto thee, therefore thou art contrarie.

35 Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the Lord.

36 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because thy [hame] was polluted out, & thy filthines discovered through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations and by the blood of thy children, which thou didest offer vnto them,

37 Beholde, therefore I will gather all thy louers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loued, with all them that thou hast hated: I will euen gather them round about against thee, and will discouer thy filthines vnto them that they may see all thy filthines.

38 And I will iudge thee [after] the manner of them that are harlots, and of them that shed blood, and I will giue thee the blood of wrath and ielousie.

39 I wil also giue thee into their hands, and they shall destroy thine hie place, & shall breake downe thine hie places: they shall strippe thee also out of thy clothes, and shall take thy faire Jewels, & leaue thee naked and bare.

40 They shall also bring by a companion against thee, and they shall done thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their dildoves.

41 And they shall burne by thine houses with fire, and execute iudgements vpon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou shalt giue no reward any more.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my ielousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease and be no more angrie.

43 Because thou hast not remembred the dayes of thy youth, but hast prouoked mee with all these things, beholde, therefore I also haue brought thy way vpon thine head, sayeth the Lord God: yet hast not thou had consideration of al thine abominations.

44 Behold, al that ble prouerbs, shall ble [this] prouerbe against thee, saying, As [is] the mother, so [is] her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mothers daughter, that hath cast off her husbande and her children, and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which forsooke their husbands and their children: your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amozite.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but as it [had bene] a very little [thing], thou wast corrupted more then they in all thy wayes.

48 As I liue, sayeth the Lord God, Sodom thy sister hath not done, [neither] shee nor her daughters, as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquitie of thy sister Sodom, pride, fullnesse of breade, and abundance of idleness was in her, and in her daughters: neither did the strengthen the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were hautie, & committed abomination before me: therefore I tooke them alway, as pleased me.

51 Neither hath Samaria committed halfe of thy finnes, but thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, & hast instructed thy sisters in al thine abominations, which thou hast done.

<sup>d</sup> Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee, Sodom and Samaria were iust.

52 Therefore thou which hast instructed thy sisters, beare thine owne hame for thy finnes, that thou hast committed abominable then they [which] are more righteous the thou art: be thou therefore confounded also, and beare thy hame, seeing that thou hast instructed thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie with the captiuitie of Sodom, and her daughters, and with the captiuitie of Samaria, and her daughters: euen the captiuitie of thy captiues in the middes of them,

54 That thou maist beare thine owne hame, and maist bee confounded in all that 58 Thou hast borne [therefore] thy wickednes and thine abomination, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might eue deale with thee, as thou hast done: when thou didst despise the other, in breaking the couenant.

60 Nevertheless, I will remember my couenant [made] with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will confirme vnto thee an euertlasting couenant.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and bee ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder and thy yonger, and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

63 That thou maist remember, and be ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame when I am pacified towarde thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XVII. The parable of the two Egles.

AND the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, put forth a parable & speake a prouerb vnto the house of Israel.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, The great eagle with great wings, & long wings, [and] full of feathers, which had diuers colours, came vnto Lebanon, and tooke the chiefe branch of the cedar,

4 And brake off the top of his wigge, & caried it into the land of marchants, [and] set it in a cite of marchants.

5 He tooke also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful ground: hee placed it by great waters, and set it as a Willow tree.

6 And it budded by, and was like a spreading vine of loue stature, whose branches turned toward it, & the rootes thereof were vnder it: so it became a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many fethers, & beholde, this vine did turne her rootes to ward it, and spread forth her branches to ward it, that the might water it by the trenches of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good soyle by great waters, that it should bring forth branches, and beare fruite, and be an excellent vine.

9 Say thou, Thus sayth the Lord God, Shall it prosper: shall he not pull vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie: all the leaues of her bud shall wither without great poiber, or many people, to plucke it by by the rootes thereof.

10 Behold, it was planted: but shall it prosper: shall it not be dried by, and wither: when the East winde shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches, where it grewe.

11 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Say now to this rebellious house, Knowe yee not, what these houses [meane]: tell them, Beholde, the King of Babel is come to Ierusalem, & hath taken the King thereof, and the princes thereof, and ledde them with him to Babel.

13 And hath taken [one] of the Kings seede, & made a couenant with him, and hath taken an othe of him: he hath also taken the princes of the land,

14 That the kingdome might bee in subiection, and not lift it selfe by, [but] keepe their couenant, and stand to it.

15 But hee rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might giue him horses, and much people: shall he prosper: shall he escape, that doth such things: or shall he breake the couenant, and be deliuered:

16 As I liue, saith the Lord God, he shall die in the middes of Babel, in the place of the King, that had made him king, whose othe he despised, and whose couenant [made] with him, he brake.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mightie hoste, & great multitude of people, mainteine him in the warre. When they haue cast vp mountes, and builded ramparts to destroy many persons.

18 For he hath despised the othe, and broken the covenant: yet lo, he had giuen in his hand: because he hath done al these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore, thus saith the Lord God, As I liue, I wil surely bring mine othe yee hee hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 * And I wil spread my net vpon him, and he shall be taken in my net, and I wil bring him to Sabel, and wil enter into iudgement with him there for his trespass: for he hath committed against me.

21 And all that flee from him with all his host, shall fall by the sword, and they that remaine, shall be scattered toward al the winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also take of the top of his hie cedar, and will set it, and cut off the top of the tender plant thereof, and I will plant it vpon an hie mountaine and great.

23 Euen in the hie mountaine of Israel will I plant it: it shall bring forth boughes and beare fruit, and be an excellent cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birds, and euery foule shall dwel in the shadow of the branches thereof.

24 And al the trees of the field shall knowe that I the Lorde haue brought downe the hie tree, and exalted the lowe tree: that I haue dried vp the greene tree, and made the drie tree to flourish: I the Lord haue spoken it, and haue done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 He sheweth that euery man shall haue his owne sinne, 21 To him that amendeth his saluation promised, 24 Death is promised to the righteous, which turneth backe from the right way.

The worde of the Lord came unto me againe, saying,

2 What meane ye that ye speake this prouerbe, concerning the lande of Israel, saying, The fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge:

3 As I liue, saith the Lorde God, ye shall vse this prouerbe no more in Israel.

4 Beholde, all soules are mine, both the soule of the father, and also the soule of the sonne are mine: the soule that sinneth, it shall die.

5 But if a man bee iust, and doe that which is lawfull, and right,

6 [And] hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath lien with a mencious woman,

9 And hath walked in my statutes, & hath kept my iudgements to deale truly, he is iust, he shall surely liue, sayth the Lord God.

10 [If] he beget a sonne, y is a thiefe, [or] a thedder of blood, if he do any one of these things,

11 Though he do not al these things, but either hath eaten vpon the mountaines, or defiled his neighbours wife,

12 [Or] hath oppressed the poore and needie, [or] hath spoyled by violence, [or] hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idols, [or] hath committed abomination,

13 [Or] hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase, shall he liue: hee shall not liue: seeing he hath done al these abominations, hee shall die the death, and his blood shall be vpon him.

14 [But] if he beget a sonne, that seeth all his fathers sinnes, which hee hath done, and feareth, neither doth such like,

15 That hath not eaten vpon the mountaines, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, nor hath defiled his neighbours wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withhelden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence, [but] hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath couered the naked with a garment,

17 [Neither] hath withhelden his hand from the afflicted, nor receyued vsurie nor increase, [but] hath executed my iudgements, [and] hath walked in my statutes, he shall not die in the iniquitie of his father, [but] he shall surely liue.

18 His father, because hee cruelly oppressed & spoyled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, lo, euen he dieth in his iniquitie.

19 Per say ye, wherefore shall not the sonne beate the iniquitie of the father: because the sonne hath executed iudgement and iustice, [and] hath kept all my statutes, & done them, he shall surely live.

20 The same soule that sinneth, shall die: the sonne shall not beate the iniquitie of the father, neither shall the father beate the iniquitie of the sonne, but the righteousness of the righteous shall bee vpon him, and the wickednes of the wicked shall bee vpon himselfe.

21 But if the wicked will returne fro all his sinnes that hee hath committed, and keepe all my statutes, and doe that which is lawfull and right, he shall surely live, [and] shall not die.

22 All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned vnto him, but in his righteousness that he hath done, he shall live.

23 Haue I any desire that the wicked should die, saith the Lord God: or shall hee not live, if he returne from his waies:

24 But if the righteous turne away from his righteousness, and commit iniquitie, [and] do according to all the abominations, that the wicked mandoe, shall hee live: all his righteousness that he hath done, shall not be mentioned: but in his transgression he hath committed, and in his sinne that he hath sinned, in them shall hee die.

25 Per ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal: heare now, O house of Israel. Is not my way equal: [or] are not your wayes vnequal:

26 For when a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquitie, he shall euen die for the same, he shall euen die for his iniquitie, that he hath done.

27 Again when the wicked turneth away from his wickednes that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawfull and right, hee shall saue his soule aliuie.

28 Because hee considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, [and] shall not die.

29 Per saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel are not my wayes equal: [or] are not your wayes vnequal:

30 Therefore I will iudge you, O house of Israel, euery one according to his wayes, saith the Lord God: returne [therefore] and cause [others] to turne away from all your transgressions: so iniquitie shall not be your destruction.

31 Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye haue transgressed and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel:

32 For I desire not the death of him that dyeth, saith the Lord God: cause therefore [one another] to returne, and live ye.

1 The captiuitie of the Kings of Iudah signified by the lions whelpes, & by the lion, 10 The prosperitie of the city of Ierusalem that is past, and the miserie thereof that is present.

3 And shee brought vp one of her whelpes [and] it became a lyon, and it learned to catch the pray, [and] it deuoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him, [and] he was taken in their nets, & they brought him in chaines vnto the land of Egypt.

7 And hee knebe their widowes, & he destroyed their cities, and the lande was wasted, and all that was therein by the noyse of his roaring.

8 Then the nations set against him on euery side of the countreys, and layde their nettes for him: so he was taken in their pit.

9 And they put him in prison [and] in chaines and brought him to the King of Babel, [and] they put him in holds, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.

CHAP. XX.

AND in the <sup>seventh</sup> yere, in the fift <sup>moneth</sup>, the tenth day of the moneth, came certaine of the Elders of Israel to enquire of the Lorde, and late before me.

2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,

3 Sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, & say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Are ye come to enquire of me: as I live, saith the Lorde God, when I am asked, I will not answer you.

4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man? wilt thou iudge [them]? cause <sup>b</sup> them to vnderstande the abominations of their fathers,

5 And say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, In the day when I chose Israel, and lift by mine hand vnto the seede of the house of Iacob, and made my selfe knowen vnto them in the lande of Egypt, when I lift by mine hand vnto them, & said, I am the Lorde your God,

6 In the day that I lift by mine hand vnto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a lande that I had promised for them, flowing with milke & hony, which is pleasant among all landes,

7 Then said I vnto them, Let every man cast away the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idols of Egypt: [for] I am the Lorde your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not heare mee: [for] none cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I thought to poyse out mine indignation vnto them, [and] to accomplish my wrath against them in the niddes of the land of Egypt.

9 But I had respect to my <sup>f</sup> Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, and in whose sight I made my selfe knowen vnto them in bringing them forth of the lande of Egypt.

10 Now I carried them out of the land of Egypt, and brought the into the wilderness.

11 And I gave them my statutes, and declared my iudgements vnto them, which if a man do, he shall live in them.

12 Moreover I gave them also my Sabbaths to be a signe betwene me & them, that they might know that I am the Lorde, that sanctifie them.

13 But the house of Israel rebelled against me in <sup>p</sup> wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they cast away my iudgements, which if a man doe, he shall live in them, & my Sabbaths have they greatly polluted: then I thought to poyse out mine indignation vnto them in the wilderness to consume them,

14 But I had respect to my Name, that it should not be polluted before the heathen in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheles, I lift by mine hand vnto them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the lande, which I had giuen them, flowing with milke and hony, which was pleasant above all landes,

16 Because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue polluted my Sabbaths: for their heart went after their idoles.

17 Neuerthelesse, mine eye spared them, that I would not destroy them, neither would I consume them in the wilderness.

18 But I said vnto their children in the wilderness, walke ye not in the ordinances of your fathers, neither obserue their maners, nor defile your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lorde your God: walke in my statutes, and keepe my iudgements, and do them,

20 And sanctifie my Sabbaths, and they shall be a signe betwene mee & you, that ye may know that I am the Lorde your God.

21 Nowwithstanding the children rebelled against mee: they walked not in my statutes, nor kept my iudgements to do the, which if a man do, he shall live in the, [but] they polluted my Sabbaths:

<sup>h</sup> That is, my true religion, which I had commanded them, and gaue them felicitie to come me according to their own faith.

<sup>c</sup> I saue that I would be their God, which manner of speech was altered from all antiquitie, where they used to lift vp their hands toward the heauen, acknowledging God to be the author of truth and the defender thereof, and also the iudge of the heart, thinking that he should take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knew to be truth.

then I thought to pollute out mine indignation vpon them, & to accomplish my wrath against the in the wilderness.

22 Neuertheless I withheld mine hand and had respect to my Name that it should not be polluted before people, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 Yet I lift vp mine hand vnto them in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countreys, 24 Because they had not executed my iudgements, but had cast away my statutes and had polluted my Sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I gaue them also statutes that were not good, & iudgements, wherein they should not liue.

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts in that they caused to passe by the fire, al that first openeth the wombe, that I might destroy them, to the ende that they might know that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore, sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Yet in this your fathers haue blasphemed me, though they had [before] grievously transgressed against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the lande, for the which I lifted vp mine hande to giue it to them, then they saw every hye hill, and all the thicke trees, and there they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offering of prouocation: there also they made their sweete sauour, and polluted out there their drinke offerings.

29 Then I sayd vnto them, what is the hye place wherunto ye go: And the name thereof was called Samah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore say vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, Are ye not polluted after the maner of your fathers: and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations:

31 For when you offer your gifts, and make your finnes to passe through the fire, you pollute your selues with al your idoles vnto this day: shall I answere you when I am asked, O house of Israel: As I liue, sayeth the Lord God, I will not answere you when I am asked.

32 Neither shall that be done that cometh into your mind: for ye say, We will be as the heathen, and as the families of the countreys, and serue wood, and stone.

33 As I liue, saith the Lord God, I will surely rule you with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme, & in my wrath pollue out, 34 And will bring you from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arme and in my wrath pollue out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I pleade with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the lande of Egypt, so will I pleade with you, saith the Lord God.

37 And I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and will bring you into the bonde of the covenant.

38 And I will chuse out from among you the rebelles, and them that transgressed against me: I will bring them out of the lande where they dwell, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel, & you shall know that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord God, Go you, and serue euery one his idole, seeing that ye will not obey me, & pollute mine holy Name no more with your gifts and with your idoles.

40 For in mine holy mountaine, Iauen in the hye mountaine of Israel, saith the Lord God, there shall all the house of Israel, and all in the land, serue mee: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the first frutes of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye haue bene scattered, that I may be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the lande of Israel, into the lande, for the which I lifted vp mine hande to giue it to your fathers.

43 And there shall ye remember your wayes, and al your workes, wherein ye haue bene defiled, & ye shall iudge your selues worthe to be cut off, for all your euils, that ye haue committed.

44 And ye shall know, that I am the Lord, when I haue respect vnto you for my names sake, & not after your wicked wayes, q De clarerly that man of nature is whole enemy into God and to his own saluation, and therefore God calleth him to a right way, partly by chastising, but chiefly by his mercie in forgiving his rebellion, & wickednes.

r I will bring you among strange nations as into a wilderness, and there will visit you, and so call you to repentance, and then bring the good home againe, Isa. 65. 9.

12 Crie, and howle, ſonne of man: for

<sup>7</sup> Art thou ready to execute this charge, which I commit vnto thee against Ierusalem, that murdereth the Prophets, & them that are good?

23 And it shall be vnto them as a false diuination in their sight for: & others made vnto them: but hee will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent they should be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue made your iniquitie to bee remembered, in discouering your rebellion, that in all your woordes your finnes might appeare: because, [I say,] that yee are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 And thou prince of Israel polluted, [and] wicked, whose daye is come, when iniquitie shall haue an ende.

26 Thus saith the Lord God, I will take awaye the badge, & take off the crowne: this shall be no more the same: I will craie the humble, and wil abate him that is big.

27 I wil ouerturne, ouerturne, ouerturne it, and it shall be no more untill he come, whose right it is, and I will giue it him.

29 Whiles they see banitie vnto thee, and prophesied a lie vnto thee to bring thee vpon the neckes of the wicked that are slayne, whose day is come whē their iniquitie shall haue an ende.

30 Shall I cause it to returne into his sheath: I will iudge thee in the place where thou wast created, [euen] in the land of thine habitation.

31 And I will purge out mine indignation vpon thee, and will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliuer thee into the hand of beastly men, [and] shall fall to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be in the fire to bee deuoured: thy blood shall be in the middes of the land, [and] thou shalt be no more remedied: for I the Lord haue spokē it.

1 Moreouer, word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Now thou some of man, wilt thou iudge, wilt thou iudge this bloodie citie: wilt thou shew her all her abominations:

3 Then say, Thus saith the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the mids of it, & her time may come, & maketh idoles against her selfe to pollute her selfe.

4 Thou hast offended in thy blood, that thou hast shed, & hast polluted thy selfe in thine idoles, which thou hast made, and thou hast caused thy dayes to draw neere, & art come vnto thy terme: therefore haue I made thee a reproch to the heathen, & a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be neere, & those that be farre fro thee, shall mocke thee, [which art vile in name] [and] loze in affliction.

6 Behold, the princes of Israel every one in thee was ready to his powder, to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father & mother: in the mids of thee haue they oppressed the stranger: in thee haue they bered the fatherlesse and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, & hast polluted my Sabbaths.

9 In thee are men that carie tales to shed blood: in thee [are they] that eate vpon the mountaines: in the middes of thee they commit abomination.

10 In thee haue they discouered their fathers shame: in thee haue they bered her that was polluted in her floures.

11 And every one hath committed abominatio with his neighbours wife, and every one hath wickedly defiled his daughter in lawe, and in thee hath every man forced his owne sister, [euen] his fathers daughter.

12 In thee haue they taken giftes to shed blood: thou hast taken vsurie and the entree, and thou hast defrauded thy neighbours by extortion, & hast forgotten me, saith the Lord God.

13 Beholde, therefore I haue smitten mine hands vpon thy couetousnes, that thou hast bled, and vpon the blood, which hath bene in the middes of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine handes be strong, in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee: I the Lord haue spoken it, and will doe it.

15 And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countreys, and will cause thy firminesse to cease from thee.

16 And thou shalt take thine inheritance in the sight of the heathen, & thou shalt know, that I am the Lord.

God, Because yee are all as dross, be-holde, therefore I wil gather you in the middes of Jerusalem.

20 As they gather siluer and brasse, & yron, and lead, & turre into the middes of the fornace, to blowe the fire vpon it to melt it, so will I gather you in mine an-

21 I will gather you, I say, & blowe

I the Lord haue powred out my wrath

vnto me, saying,

25 There is a conspiracie of her Prophets in the mids thereof like a roaring vpon, rauening & pray: they haue deuored soules: they haue taken the riches & precious things: they haue made her many widowes in the middes thereof.

26 Her Priests haue broken my law, and haue defiled mine holy things: they haue put no difference betweene & holy & prophane, neither discerned betweene the vncleane, and the cleane, & haue hid their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am prophaned among them.

27 Her princes in the middes therof [are] like volucres, rauening the pray to shed blood, [and] to destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 And her Prophets haue daybed them with vntempered moxer, seeing vanities, and diuining lies vnto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord had not spoken.

29 The people of the land haue violently oppressed by spoyling & robbing, and haue vexed the poore & the needy:
yea, they haue oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought for a man among them, that should make by the hedge, and stande in the gap before mee for the land, that I should not destroy it, but I found none.

31 Therefore haue I powred out mine indignation vpon them, and consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their owne wayes haue I rendred vpo their heads, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXII.

Of the idolatrie of Samaria and Jerusalem, vnder the names of Aholah and Aholibah.

The word of the Lord came again vnto me, saying,

2 Somme of man, there were tivo women, & daughters of one mother.

3 And they committed fornication in Egypt, they committed fornication in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruded the teates of their virginite.

4 And the names of them [were] Aholah, the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus [were] their names, Samaria [is] Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah plaied & harlot when she was mine, and shee was set on fire with her louers, [to wit], with the Assyrians her neighbours.

6 Which were clothed with blew silke, [both] captaynes and princes: they were all pleasant pong men, and hoys-men riding vpon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whozedome with them, [even] with all them that were the chosen me of Asshur, and with all on whom she doted, [and] defiled her selfe with all their idoles.

8 Neither left shee her fornications, [learned] of the Egyptians: for in her youth they lay with her, and they brui-led the breasts of her virginite, & pow-red their whozedome vpon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her louers, [even] into & hands of the Assyrians, vpon whom she doted.

10 These discovered her shame: they tooke away her sonnes and her daughters, & slew her with the sword, & shee had an euill name among women: for they had executed iudgement vpo her.

11 And when her sister Aholibah sawe this, she married her selfe with inordinate loue, more then shee, and with her fornications more then her sister with [her] fornications.

12 Shee doted vpon the Assyrians [her] neighbours, [both] captaynes and princes clothed with diuers futes, hoys-men riding vpon horses: they were all pleasant pleasant yong men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, [and] that they were both after one sort.

14 And that she increased her fornications: for when the saue men painted vpon the wal, the images of the Caldeans painted with vermillion,

15 And girded with girdels vpo their loines, and with died attire vpon their heads (looking all like princes after the manner of the Babylonians in Caldea, & land of their natiuitie)

16 Allone, I say, as thee saue them, she doted vpon them, and sent messengers vnto them into Caldea.

17 Nowe when the Babylonians came to her into the bed of loue, they defiled her with their fornication, and thee was polluted with them, and her lust departed from them.

18 So she discovered her fornication, & disclosed her shame: then mine heart forooke her, like as mine heart had for taken her sister.

19 Yet she increased her whozedom more, & called to remembrance & dayes of her youth, wherein shee had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For she doted vpon their seruants whose members are [as] the members of asses, & whose issue is [like] the issue of hoies.

21 Thou calledst to remembre the wickednes of thy youth, whē thy teates were busied by the Egyptians: therefore the pappes of thy youth [are] thus.]

22 Therefore, O Holibah, thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will raise vp thy louers against thee, from whence thine heart is departed, and I wil bring them against thee on euery side,

23 [To wit,] the Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, <sup>h</sup>Peled, and Shoah, and Roa, [and] all the Assyrians with them: they were all pleasant yong men, captaines & princes: all they were baliat and renowned, riding vpon hozes.

24 Euen these shal come against thee with charrets, wagons, and wheelles, and with a multitude of people, [which] shall set against thee, buckler & shield, and helmet round about: and I will leave the punishment vnto them, and they shall iudge thee according to their iudgements.

25 And I will lay mine indignation vpon thee, and they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sworde: they shall carie away thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shalbe deuoured by the fire.

26 They shall also strippe thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee and thy fornication out of the lande of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift vp thine eyes vnto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hande of them, whom thou hatest: [eue] into the handes of them from whence thine heart is departed.

29 And they shal handle thee despitefully, & shall take away all thy labour, and shal leaue thee naked and bare, and the shame of thy fornications shall be discovered, both thy wickednes, and thy whozedom.

30 I will doe these things vnto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, [and] because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore will I giue her <sup>cup</sup> into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cup, deepe and large: thou shalt bee laughed to scorne & had in derisio, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenes and sorowe, [euen] with the cup of destruction, and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt euen drinke it, and wring it out [to the dregs], & thou shalt breake the sheardes thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast forgotten mee, and cast me behinde thy backe, therefore thou shalt also beare thy wickednes & thy whozedom.

36 [The Lord said mozeouer vnto me, Some of mā, wilt thou iudge Holibah & Holibah: and wilt thou declare to them their abominations?

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Ierusalem by a parable of a seething pot. 16 The parable of Ezekiels wife being dead.

1 Come in the ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day [of the] ninth moneth came p worde of the Lord vnto me,

2 Sonne of man, write the name of the day, [euen] of this same day: [for] the King of Babel set himselfe against Ierusalem this same day.

3 Therefore speake a parable vnto p rebellious house, & say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord God, Prepare a pot, prepare it, & also polvze water into it.

4 Gather the p pieces thereof out into it, [euen] every good piece, [as] p thigh & the shoulder, & fill it with the chief bones.

5 Take one of p best sheepe, & burne also the bones vnder it, & make it boile well, & seethe the bones of it therein.

6 Because the Lord God saith thus, woe to the bloodie citie, [euen] to the pot, whose skomme is therein, and whose skomme is not gone out of it: bring it out s piece by piece: let no lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middes of her: she let it vpon an high rocke, [and] polvred it not vpon the ground to couer it with dust.

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: [euen] I haue let her blood vpon an high rocke p it should not be covered.

11 Then let it empte vpon the coles thereof, that [the] brasse of it may bee hot, and may burne, & that the filthines of it may be molten in it, [and] that the skomme of it may be consumed.

12 She hath veried her selfe with lies, and her great skomme wet not out of her: [therefore] her skomme [shal] be consumed [with] fire.

13 [Thou remainest] in thy filthines [p] wickednes: because I would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthines till I haue caused my wrath to light vpon thee.

14 I the Lord haue spoken it: it shal come to passe, & I will do it: I will not go backe, neither will I spare, neither will I repent: according to thy wayes, & according to thy works shal they iudge thee, saith the Lord God.

1 The word of the Lord against Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Ierusalem. 8 Against Moab and Seir, Iouma and the Philistines.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, let thy face against the Ammonites, & prophesie against them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thou saidst,

Ha, ha, against my Sanctuarie, when it was polluted, and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate, and against the house of Iudah, when they went into captiuitie,

4 Beholde, therefore I will deliuer thee to the men of the East for a possession, and they shall let thee: palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eate thy fruite, and they shall drinke thy milke.

5 And I will make Rabbah a dwelling place for camels, and the Ammonites a shepercote, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast clapped the handes, and stamped with the feete, and reioyced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel,

1 The prophesie that Tyus shalbe ouerthrowen because it reioyced at the destruction of Ierusalem. 15 The wondring and astonishment of the marchantes for the destruction of Tyus.

AND in the eleuenth yeere, in the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, because that Tyus hath layde against Ierusalem, Aha, the gate of the people is broken: it is turned vnto me: [for] seeing thee is desolate, I shalbe replenished,

3 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, O Tyus, and I will bring vp many nations against thee, as a sea mounteth vp with his waues.

4 And they shall destroye the walles of Tyus, & breake downe her towres: I will also scape her dust from her, and make her like the toppes of a rocke.

5 Thou shalt bee for the spreading of nettes in the muddes of the sea: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and it shal be a spoyle to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the fielde, shall be slayne by the sword, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will bring vpon Tyus Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel, a King of kings from the North, with horses and with charrets, & with horsemen, with a multitude and much people.

8 Hee shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the fielde, & he shal make a fort against thee, & cast a mount against thee, and lift vp the buckler against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy walles, & with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee, for their multitude: thy walles shal shake at the noyse of the horsemen, and of the wheelles, & of the charrets, whiche shall enter into thy gates as into the entrie of a cite that is broken downe.

11 With the hoooues of his horses shall he treade downe all thy streetes: he shal slay thy people by the sword, & the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 And they shall robbe thy riches, & spoyle thy marchandise, and they shall breake downe thy walles, and destroye thy pleasant houses, and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the mids of the water.

13 Thus will I cause the sounde of thy songs to cease, and the sounde of thine harpes shalbe no more heard.

14 I will laye thee like the toppes of a rocke: thou shalt bee for a spreading of nets: thou shalt be built no more: for I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God to Tyus, Shall not the yles tremble at the sounde of thy fall: & at the cry of the wounded, when they shall be slayne and murdered in the muddes of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the sea shal come downe fro their thrones: they shal lay awayne their robes, and put off their boyddered garments, and shall clothe the selues with astonishment: they shall sit vpon the ground, & bee astonished at [euery] moment, and be amazed at thee.

17 And they shal take vp a lamentation for thee, and saye to thee, Howe art thou destroyed, & wast inhabited of the sea [men,] the renowned cite which was strong in the sea, [both] she and her inhabitants, which cause their feare to be on all that haunt therein!

18 Now shal thy yles be astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the yles that are in the sea, shalbe troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord God, whiche I shal make thee a desolate cite, like the cities that are not inhabited, & when I shall bring the deepe vpon thee, & great waters shall couer thee, 20 whiche I shal cast thee downe with them that descend into the pit, with the people of olde time, and shall set thee in the lowe parts of the earth, like the olde ruines, with them. The Prophet bewaileth the desolation of Tyrus, shewing what were the riches, power and auaricie thereof in times past.

The word of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, take vp a lamentation for Tyrus,

3 And saue vnto Tyrus, that is situate at the entrie of the sea, which is the mart<sup>a</sup>: of p<sup>e</sup>ople for many yles. Thus saith y<sup>e</sup> Lord God, O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfite beautie.

4 Thy borders are in the muddes of the sea, [and] thy buylders haue made thee of perfite beautie.

5 They haue made all thy [shippe] boardes of fire trees of <sup>b</sup> Sheuir: they haue brought Ceders from Lebanon, to make mastes for thee.

6 Of the okes of Basathan haue they made thine oyes: the company of the Assyrians haue made thy banks of yuozie, [brought] out of the yles of Chittim.

7 Fine linen with broydered worke, [brought] fro<sup>e</sup> Egypt, was spread ouer thee to be thy sayle, blew like & purple, [brought] from the yles of Elisah, was thy couering.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon, and Aruad were thy mariners, O Tyrus: thy wise men<sup>c</sup> were in thee, they were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, & the wise men thereof were in thee thy talkers, all the shippes of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupie thy marchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud and of Phut were in thine armie: thy men of warre they hanged the shield & helmet in thee: they set forth thy beautie.

11 The men of Aruad with thine armie [were] vpon the walles rounde about, & the<sup>c</sup> Samuadims were in thy towres: they hanged their shields vpon thy walles round about: they haue made thy beautie perfite.

12 They of Tarshish [were] thy marchants for the multitude of all riches, for silver, yron, tynne, and lead, [which] they brought to thy faires.

13 They of Iauan, Tubal and Bethlech were thy marchantes, concerning the lynes of men, and they brought vessels of brasle for thy marchandise.

14 They of the house of Togarmah brought to thy faires hoxes, and hoxe men, and mules.

15 The me of Dedan [were] thy marchantes: and the marchandise of many yles [were] in thine hands: they brought thee for a present hoxes, teeth, and peacocks.

16 They of Aram [were] thy marchants for the multitude of thy wares: they occupied in thy faires with emerauds, purple, and broydred worke, and fine linen, and corall, and pearle.

17 They of Iudah & of the land of Israel were thy marchants: they brought for thy marchandise wheate of Bithun, and Pannag, and hony and oyle, and balmie.

18 They of Damascus [were] thy marchants in p<sup>e</sup> multitude of thy wares, for the multitude of all riches, [as] in the wine of Helbon and white wood.

19 They of Dan also & of Iauan, going to & fro, occupied in thy faires: yron worke, cassia and calamus were among thy marchandise.

20 They of Dedan [were] thy marchants in precious clothes for thy charrets.

21 They of Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, occupied in thee, in lambs, and rammes and goates: in these were they thy marchants.

22 The marchants of Sheba, & Raamah were thy marchants: they occupied in thy faires with the chiefe of all spices, and with all p<sup>e</sup>ious stones and gold.

23 They of Haran & Camneh & Eden, the marchants of Sheba, Ashur [and] Chilmad were thy marchants.

24 These were thy marchants in all sorts [of things], in rainet of blew like, and of broydred worke, and in coffers for rich apparell, [which] were bound with coardes: chaines also [were] among thy marchandise.

25 The shippes of Tarshish [were] thy chiefe in thy marchandise, and thou wast replenished & made very glorious in the muddes of the sea.

26 Thy robbers haue brought thee into great waters: the East winde hath broken thee in the muddes of the sea.

The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

6 Therefore thus saith y Lord God,

Because y diddest thinke in thine heart, that thou wast equall with God,

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers vpon thee, [even] the terrible nations: and they shall draine their shouders against the beaurie of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightnesse.

He propheseth against Pharaoh and Egypt. 13 The Lord promitteth that he will restore Egypt after fourety yeres. 18 Egypt is the reward of King Nebuchad-nazzar for the labour, which he tooke against Egypt.

IN the tenth yere, [and] in the tenth moneth in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came unto mee, saying,

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh the king of Egypt, & prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speake, and saye, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I come against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon, that lyeth in the middes of his rivers, which hath saide, The river is 4 But I will put hooks in thy chawes, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to sticke vnto thy scales, & I will drabe thee out of the middes of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall sticke vnto thy scales.

5 And I will leaue thee in the wilderness, [both] thee & all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field: thou shalt not bee brought together, nor gathered: for I haue giuen thee for meat to the beastes of the fildes, & to the fowles of the heauen.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall knowe that I am the Lord, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they tooke hold of thee with their hande, thou didest breake, and rent all their shoulder: and when they leane vpon thee, thou brakest & madest all their loynes to stande: byright.

8 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, Beholde, I will bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate, and waste, and they shall knowe that I am the Lord: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I haue made it.

10 Beholde, therefore I come vpon thee, & vpon thy rivers, & I will make the lande of Egypt utterly waste & desolate from the towre of Senech, euen vnto the borders of the blacke Moyses.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shall passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourtie yeres.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the middes of the countreys, that are desolate, and her cities shall be desolate among the cities that are desolate, for fourtie yeres: & I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

13 Ver thus saith the Lord God, At the ende of fourety yeres will I gather the Egyptians from the people, where they were scattered,

14 And I will bring againe the captiuitie of Egypt, and will cause them to returne into the land of Pathos, into the land of their habitation, and they shall there a small kingdome.

The destruction of Egypt, and the cities thereof.

The worde of the Lord came againe vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, houles and cities, woe be vnto this day.

3 For the day is neere, and the day of the Lord is at hand, a cloudie day, [and] it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come vpon Egypt, a feare shall be in Ethiopia, when the flame shall fall in Egypt, when they shall take away her multitude, [and] when her foundations shalbe broken downe.

5 Ethiopia, and Phut, and Lud, and all the common people, and Cub, and the men of the land, that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that mainteine Egypt, shall fall, and the pride of her powder shall come downe: from the towre of Seuench shall they fall by the sword, sayeth the Lord God.

7 And they shalbe desolate in the mids of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities shall bee in the middes of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, [and when] all her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shall there messengers goe forth from me in shippes, to make the carelesse Bores afraide, and feare shall come vpon them as in the day of Egypt: for so, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hande of Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel.

11 For hee and his people with him, euen the terrible nations shall bee brought to destroy the lande: and they shall drave their swordes against Egypt, and fill the lande with the flame.

12 And I will make the riuers drye, and sell the lande into the handes of the wicked, & I will make the land waste, and all that therein is, by the handes of strangers: I the Lord haue spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, I will also destroy the idoles, and I will cause their idoles to cease out of Noph, and there shall be no moze a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will sende a feare in the land of Egypt.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and I will execute iudgement in No.

15 And I will powrie my wrath vpon Sin, which is the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy þe multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall haue great sorowe, & No shall be destroyed, & Noph shall haue sorowes daily.

make it strong, to holde the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith  $\gamma$  Lord God, Behold, I come against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will breake his arme, that was strong, but is broken, & I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

24 And I will strengthen the arme of the King of Babel, and put my sword in his hande, but I will breake Pharaohs armes, & he shall cast out sighings, as the sighings of him, that is wounded before him.

25 But I will strengthen the armes of the King of Babel, and the armes of Pharaoh shall fall downe, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord. When I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babel, and he shall stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countreys, & they shall know, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXI.

a A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharaoh with the prosperitie of the Asshurs, 10 The prosperitie of a like destruction to them both.

And in the eleuenth yere, in the thirde moneth, & in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man speake vnto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, whom art thou like in thy greatnes?

3 Beholde, Asshur was like a reder in Lebanon with faire branches, & with thicke shadowing boughes, and shot by verie bie, and his toppes was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters nourished him, & the deepe exalted him on bie with her riuers running round about his plants, & sent out her little riuers vnto al the trees of the field.

5 Therefore his height was exalted aboue all the trees of the fiede, and his boughes were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters, which [the deepe] sent out.

6 All the fowles of the heauen made their nestes in his boughes, & vnder his branches did all the beastes of the fiede bring forth their yong, & vnder his shadow dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Thus was he faire in his greatnes,

[and] in the length of his branches: for his roote was neere great waters.

8 The reder in the garden of God could not hide him: no fire tree was like his branches, & the chestnut trees were not like his boughes: all the trees in the garden of God were not like vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, enuied him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, because he is lift vp on high, and hath shot by his top among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height,

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the mightiest among the heathen: hee shall handle him, for I haue cast him alway for his wickednes.

12 And the strangers haue destroyed him, [euen] the terrible nations, & they haue left him vpon the mountains, and in all the dailes his branches are fallen, and his boughes are broken by all the riuers of the lande: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadowe, and haue forsaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine shall all the fowles of the heauen remaine, and al the beasts of the field shalbe vpon his branches,

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shall bee exalted by their height, neither shall shoote by their toppes among the thicke boughes, neither shall their leaues stand by in their height, which drinke so much water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the nether parts of the earth in the muddes of the children of men among them that go downe to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, in the day when he went downe to hel, I caused them to mourne, & I caused them to mourne, & I covered deepe for him, & I did reftreine floods thereof, & the great waters were staid: I caused Lebanon to mourne for him, & all the trees of the fiede faimed.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hel, with them that descende into the pitte, and all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Lebanon: [euen] all that are nourished with waters, shall bee comforted in the nether partes of the earth.

17 They also went down to hel with him

d Signifying, that there was no greater power in the world then his was.

Or, thou wast lift vp.

e That is, of Nebuchadnezzar, who afterwarde was monarch and only ruler of the world.

f Hereby is signified the destruction of the power of the Asshurs by the Babylonians.

g The deepe waters that caused him to mourne, is his meaning, his great abundance and pompe, shall now lamente as though they were covered with sackcloth, h To cause thus destruction of the King of Assyria, to seeme more horrible, he set forth other kings & princes which are dead, as though they reioiced at the fall of such a tyrant.

g His force and power.

h Whereby we see that cyans haue no power of themselves, neither can vpon any moie harme then God appointeth, and when he will, they must cease.

c Many other nations were vnder their dominion. Or, countrey.

him vnto them that bee slayne With the sworde, and his arme, [and] they that dwell vnder his shadowe in the muddes of the heathen.

18 To Whome art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden: yet thou shalt bee cast downe With the trees of Eden vnto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt sleepe in the muddes of the <sup>b</sup> vncircumcised, With them that be slayne by the sword: this is Pharaoh and al his multitude, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 The Prophet is commanded to denaile Pharaoh King of Egypt. 2 He prophesieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the King of Babylon.

AND in the <sup>a</sup> twelfth yeere in the twelfth moneth, [and] in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take by a lamentation for Pharaoh King of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art like a <sup>b</sup> lyon of the nations: & art as a dragon in the sea: thou hast cutt out thy riuers: and troubledst the waters With thy feete, & stampedst in their riuers.

3 Thus sayth the Lord God, * I will therefore speade my net ouer thee With a great multitude of people, & they shall make thee come by into my net.

4 Then will I leaue thee vpon the lande, [and] I will cast thee vpon the open fielde, and I will cause all the foules of the heauen to remaine vpon thee, & I will fill all <sup>c</sup> beasts of the field With thee.

5 And I will laye thy flesh vpon the mountaines, and fill the valleyes <sup>d</sup> With thine heyght.

6 I will also Water With thy blood the lande wherein thou <sup>e</sup> swimmest, [euen] to the mountaines, and the riuers shalbe full of thee.

7 And when I shall put thee out, I will couer the heaue, & make the starres thereof darke: * I will couer the sunne With a cloude, and the moone shall not giue her light.

8 All <sup>f</sup> lights of heauen will I make darke for thee, and bring darkenes vpon thy land, saith the Lord God.

9 I will also trouble <sup>g</sup> hearts of many people, when I shal bring thy destruction among the nations, [and] vpon the countreys which thou hast not knownen.

10 Bea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be astonished wth feare for thee, when I shal make my sworde to glitter against their faces, and they shall be affrayed at euery moment: euery man for his owne life in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The sworde of the King of Babel shall come vpon thee, 12 By the swordes of the mightie will I cause thy multitude to fall: they all shalbe terrible nations, and they shal destroy the <sup>h</sup> ponne of Egypt, and al the multitude thereof shall be consumed.

13 I will destroy also all the beastes thereof fro the great watersides, neither shall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor <sup>i</sup> hooues of beast trouble thee.

14 Then will I make their waters deepe, and cause their riuers to run like oyle, saith the Lord God.

15 When I shall make the lande of Egypt desolate, and the countrey With all that is therein, shall be layde waste: When I shall finite all them, which dwell therein, then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord God.

17 <sup>j</sup> In the twelfth yeere also in the fiftenth day of the moneth, came the woode of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and <sup>k</sup> cast them downe, [euen] them and the daughters of the nightie nations vnto the nether partes of the earth, With them that goe downe into the pit.

19 Whome dost thou passe in beautie: goe downe and sleepe With the vncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the muddes of them that are slayne by the sword: <sup>l</sup> he is deliuered to the sworde: drawe her downe, and all her multitude.

21 The most mightie [and] strong shall speake to <sup>m</sup> him out of the muddes of hell With them that helpe her: they are gone downe, and sleepe With the vncircumcised that be slayne by the sworde.

22 Althar is there and al his companie: their graues are about him: al they are slaine [and] fallen by the sworde.

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are rounde about his graue: al they are slaine [and] fallen by the sworde, which caused feare [to be] in the lande of the liuing.

24 There [is] clam and al his multitude rounde about his graue: all they are slayne [and] fallen by the sworde, which are gone doolne with the vncircumcised into the nether partes of the earth, which caused the felues to bee feared in the lande of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that are gone doolne to the pit.

27 And they shall not lie with the vncircumcised, that are fallen, which are gone doolne to the graue, with their weapons of warre, and haue layde their swordes vnder their heads, but their iniquitie shall bee vpon their bones: because [they were] the feare of the mightie in the land of the liuing.

28 Pea, thou shalt bee broken in the middes of the vncircumcised, & lye with them that are slayne by the sworde.

29 There [is] Edom, his kings, & all his princes, which with their strength are layed by the that were slayne by the sworde: they shall sleepe with the vncircumcised, & with them that go doolne to the pit.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 The officer of the gouernours and ministers, 14 He strengtheneth them that despise, and belongeth them with the promises of mercie. 30 The word of the Lord against the makers of the Idol.

1 A came the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Some of man, speake to the children of the people, and say vnto them, when I bring the sworde vpon a lande, if the people of the lande take a man from among them, and make him their watchman,

3 If when he seeth the sworde come vpon the lande, he blowe the trumpet, and warne the people,

4 Then he that heareth the sound of the trumpet, and wil not be warned, if the sworde come, and take him away, his blood shall be vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and woulde not be admonished: therefore [his blood shall be] vpon him: but he that receiueth warning, shall saue his life.

6 But if the watchman see the sworde come, and blowe not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sworde come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away for his iniquitie, but his blood wil I require at the watchmans hand.

7 So thou, O some of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my mouth, and admonish them from me.

8 When I shall say vnto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt die the death, if thou doest not speake, and admonish the wicked of his way, that wicked man shall die for his iniquitie, but his blood wil I require at thine hande.

9 Neuerthelesse, if thou warne the wicked of his way, to turne from it, if he doe not turne from his way, he shall die for his iniquitie, but thou shalt deliuer thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou some of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus ye speake and say, If our transgressions and our sinnes [be] vpon vs, and we are consumed because of them, how should we then liue?

11 Say vnto them, As I liue, saith the Lord God, I desire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turne from his way and liue: turne you, turne you from your euill wayes, for why wil ye die, O ye house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou ſonne of man ſay vnto the children of thy people, The righteousneſſe of the righteous ſhall not deliuer him in the day of his tranſ-greſſion, nor the wickedneſſe of the wicked ſhall cauſe him to fall therein, in the day he returneth from his wickedneſſe, neither ſhall the righteous liue for his righteousneſſe in þat day that he ſinneth.

13 When I ſhall lay vnto þat righteous, that he ſhall ſurely liue, if he truſt to his owne righteousneſſe, and commit iniquitie, all his righteousneſſe ſhall be no more remembered, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed, he ſhall die for the ſame.

14 Again when I ſhall lay vnto the wicked, Thou haſt die the death, if he turne from his ſinne, and do that which is lawfull and right.

15 [To wit,] if the wicked reſtore the pledge, [and] giue againe that he had robbed, [and] walke in the ſtatutes of life, without committing iniquitie, he ſhall ſurely liue, [and] not die.

16 None of his ſinnes that he hath committed, ſhall bee mentioned vnto him: [becauſe] he hath done that, which is lawfull, and right, he ſhall ſurely liue.

17 Yet the children of thy people ſay,
* The way of the Lord is not equal: but their owne way is brequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousneſſe, and commiteth inquitie, he ſhall euen die thereby.

19 But if the wicked returne from his wickedneſſe, and doe that which is lawfull, and right, he ſhall liue thereby.

20 Yet ye ſay, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye houſe of Iſrael, I wil iudge you euery one after his wayes.

21 Alſo in the twelfth yeere of our captiuitie, in the tenth [moneth, and] in the fifth [day] of the moneth, one that had eſcaped out of Ieruſalem, came vnto me, and ſaide, The citie is ſmitten.

22 Now the hande of the Lord had bene vpon me in euening afore he that had eſcaped, came, and had opened my mouth, vntill he came to me in the morning: and when he had opened my mouth, I was no more dumb.

23 Again the woꝛde of the Lord came vnto me, and ſaide,

24 Sonne of man, theſe that dwell in the deſolate places of the lande of Iſ-rael, ſaie and ſay, * Abraham was but one, and he poſſeſſed the lande: but we are many, [therefore] the lande ſhall be giuen vs in poſſeſſion.

25 Wherefore ſay vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Ye eate with the blood, and liſt vp your eyes towarde your idoles, and ſhede blood: ſhoulde ye then poſſeſſe the lande?

26 Ye cleane vpon your wordes: ye worke abomination, and ye deſile euery one his neighbours wiſe: ſhoulde ye then poſſeſſe the lande?

27 Say thus vnto them, Thus ſaith the Lord God, As I liue, ſo ſurely they that are in the deſolate places, ſhall fall by the ſword: and him that is in the open field, wil I giue vnto the beaſts to be deuoured: & they that be in the ſottes & in the caues, ſhall die of the peſtilence.

28 For I wil lay the lande deſolate and waſte, and the pompe of her ſtrength ſhall ceaſe: and the mountaines of Iſrael ſhall be deſolate, and none ſhall paſſe through.

29 Then ſhall they know that I am the Lord, when I haue layde the land deſolate and waſte, becauſe of all their abominations, þat they haue committed.

30 Alſo thou ſonne of man, the children of thy people that ſaie of thee by the walles and in the doores of houſes, and ſpeake one to another, euery one to his brother, ſaying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the woꝛde that commeth from the Lord.

31 For they come vnto thee, as the people bleſt to come: and my people ſit before thee, and heare thy wordes, but they will not doe them: for with their mouthes they make ſweetes, [and] their heart goeth after their couetouſneſſe.

32 And loe, thou art vnto them, as a ieiſting ſong of one that hath a pleaſant boyre, and can ſing well: for they heare thy wordes, but they doe them not.

33 And when this cometh to paſſe (for ſo, it wil come) the ſhall they know, that a prophet hath bene among them.

4 The weake haue ye not strengthened: the sicke haue ye not healed, neither haue ye bounde by the broken, nor brought againe that which was bruen away, neither haue ye sought for which was lost, but with crueltie, and with rigour haue ye ruled them.

5 And they were scattered without a shepherde: and when they were dispersed, they were deuoured of all beastes of the fildes.

6 By sheepe wandred through al the mountaynes, & upon euery hie hill: yea, my flocke was scattered through all earth, & none did seeke to search after them.

7 Therefore ye shepherdes, heare the worde of the Lorde.

8 As I liue, saith the Lord God, surely because my flocke was spoyled, and my sheepe were deuoured of all the beastes of the fildes, hauing no shepherd, neither did my shepherdes seeke my sheepe, but the shepherdes fedde themselves, and fed not my sheepe.

9 Therefore, heare ye the worde of the Lord, O ye shepherdes.

10 Thus saith the Lorde God, Behold, I come against the shepherds, & will require my sheepe at their hands, & cause the to cease from feeding: neither shall the shepherdes feede themselves any more: for I will deliuer my sheepe from their mouthes, and they shall no more deuoure them.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will search my sheepe, and seeke them out.

12 As a shepherde searcheth out his flocke, when he hath bene among his sheepe that are scattered, so will I seeke out my sheepe and will deliuer the out of all places, where they haue bene scattered in the cloudie and darke day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their owne lande, and feede them vpon the mountaynes of Israel, by the riuers, & in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feede the in a good pasture, and vpon the hie mountaynes of Israel shall their folde be: there shall they lie in a good folde and in fat pasture shall they feede vpon the mountaynes of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, saith the Lord God.

16 I will seeke that which was lost, and bring againe that which was bruen away, and will bind by that which was broken, and will strengthen the weake, but I will destroy the strong, & I will feede them with iudgement.

17 Also you my sheepe, I haue layeth the Lord God, behold, I iudge betwene sheepe, and sheepe, betwene the rams and the goates.

19 And my sheepe eate that which ye haue troden id your fete, & drinke that which ye haue troubled with your feet.

20 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge betwene the fat sheepe and the leane sheepe.

21 Because ye haue thrust with side and with shoulder, and pusht all the weake with your homes, till ye haue scattered them abroad,

22 Therefore will I helpe my sheepe, and they shall no more be spoyled, and I will iudge betwene sheepe and sheepe.

23 And I will set vp a shepherd ouer them, and he shall feede them, euen my seruant Dauid, he shall feede them, and he shall be their shepherde.

24 And I, the Lord will be their God, & my seruant Dauid (shalbe) my prince among them, I the Lord haue spoken it.

2 The destruction that shall come on mount Seir, because they troubled the people of the Lord.

Moreouer the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying, 2 Sonne of man, let thy face against mount Seir, & prophetic against it,

3 And say vnto it, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O mount Seir, I come against thee, and I will stretch out mine hande against thee, and I will make thee desolate and waste.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, & thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt knowe that I am the Lord.

5 Because thou hast had a perpetuall hatred and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword in the tyme of their calamitie, when [their] iniquitie had an ende,

6 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, & blood shall pursue thee: except thou hate blood, euen blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir desolate and waste, & cut off from it him that passeth out & him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountaynes with his slaine men: in thine hills, and in thy valleys & in all thy riuers shall they fall, that are slaine with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, & thy cities shall not returne, and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

10 Because thou hast saide, These two nations, and these two countreyes shall be mine, and we will possesse them [seeing the Lord was there]

11 Therefore as I live, saith the Lord God, I will euen doe according to thy wrath, & according to thine indignation which I have bled in thine hatred against them: & I will make my selfe knowen among the when I haue iudged thee.

12 And thou shalt knowe, that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoke against the mountaynes of Israel, saying, They be waste, they are giuen vs to be deuoured.

13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue boasted against me, and haue multiplied your wordes against me: I haue heard [them].

14 Thus saith the Lord God, So shall all the worde reioyce [when] I shall make thee desolate.

15 As thou diddest reioyce at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I doe vnto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholly, and they shall knowe, that I am the Lord.

CHAP. XXXVI.

8 Ye promised to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles, 21 The benefices done vnto the Iewes, are to be ascribed to the mercie of God, and not vnto their deservings. 26 God reneweth our heartes, that we may walke in his commandements,

Also thou sonne of man, prophetic vnto the mountaynes of Israel, and say, Ye mountaynes of Israel, heare the worde of the Lord.

2 Thus saith the Lord God, Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, euen the places of the worde are ouen in possession,

3 Therefore prophetic, and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Because that they haue made you desolate, and shalldoed you vpon every side, that ye might be a possession vnto the residue of the heathen, and ye are come vnto the hipps and tongues of men, and vnto the reproche of the people,

4 Therefore ye mountaynes of Israel, heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saith the Lord God to the mountaynes & to the hills, to the riuers, & to the balleys, and to the waste, [and] desolate places, & to the cities that are forsaken: which are spoiled and had in derision of the residue of the heathen that are rounde about.

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Surely in the fire of mine indignation haue I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which haue taken my lande for their possession, with the top of all [their] heart, [and] with despitefull mindes to cast it out for a pray.

6 Prophecic therefore vpon the land of Israel, and lay vnto the mountaynes, and to the hills, to the riuers, and to the balleys, Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I haue spoken in mine indignation, and in my wrath, because ye haue suffered the shame of the heathen,

10 And I will multiplie the men by: on you, [even] all the house of Israel wholly, and the cities shall be inhabited, and the desolate places shall be builded.

11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and beast, and they shall encrease, & bring fruite, and I will cause you to dwell after your old estate, & I will bestow benefites vpon you more then <sup>h</sup>at the first, & ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

12 <sup>i</sup>Pea, I will cause men to walke vpon you, [even] my people Israel, and they shall possesse you, and ye shall be their inheritance, and ye shall no more henceforth depriue them [of men.]

13 Thus saith the Lorde God, Because they lay vnto you, Thou <sup>k</sup>lande deuourest by men, and hast bene a waste of thy people, 15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee y<sup>e</sup> shame of y<sup>e</sup> heathen any more, neither shalt thou beare y<sup>e</sup> reproch of the people any more, neither shalt cause thy folke to fall any more, saith y<sup>e</sup> Lorde God.

16 <sup>l</sup>Whereouer the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

17 Some of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their owne lande, they defiled it by their owne wayes, and by their deedes: their way was before me as the filthinesse of the menstruous.

18 Wherefore I polluted my wrath vpon them, for the blood that they had shedde in the lande, and for their idoles, [wherevnto] they had polluted it.

19 And I scattered them among the heathen, & they were dispersed through the countreys: [for] according to their wayes, and according to their deedes, I iudged them.

20 And when they entred vnto the heathen, whither they went, they polluted mine holy Name, when they sayd of it, m, These are the people of the Lorde, and are gone out of his lande.

21 But I fauoured mine holy Name which the house of Israel had polluted among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore lay vnto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lorde God, I doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine <sup>n</sup>holy Names sake, which ye polluted among the heathen whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctifie my great Name, which was polluted among the heathen, among whome ye haue polluted it, and the heathen shall knowe that I am the Lorde, saith the Lorde God, when I shall be sanctified in you before <sup>o</sup>their eyes.

24 For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countreys, and I will bring you into your owne land.

25 Then will I pollute cleane <sup>p</sup>water vpon you, & ye shall cleane: [yea,] from all your filthinesse, and from all your idoles will I cleanse you.

26 A new heart also will I giue you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stonie heart out of your bodie, and I will giue you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my Spirit within you, and cause you to walke in my statutes, and ye shall keepe my iudgements and doe them.

28 And ye shall dwell in the lande, that I gaue to your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also deliuer you from all your filthines, and I will call for <sup>q</sup>come, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 For I will multiplie the fruite of the trees, and the increase of the field, that ye shall beare no more the reproch of famine among the heathen.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, & your deedes that were not good, & shall iudge your selues worthy to haue bene <sup>r</sup>destroyed for your iniquities, and for your abominations.

32 Be it knowen vnto you that I do not this for your sakes, saith the Lorde God: [therefore,] O ye house of Israel, be ashamed, and confounded for your owne wayes.

33 Thus saith the Lorde God, what time as I shall haue clesed you from all your iniquities, I will cause [you] to dwell in the cities, & the desolate places shall be builded.

34 And the desolate lande shall be tiled, whereas it lay waste in the sight of all that passed by.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 He prophesied the bringing againe of the people, being in captiuitie. 16 He sheweth the vniou of the ten tribes with the two.

The hand of the Lorde was vpon me, and caried me out in the Spirit of the Lorde, and let me downe in the mids of the field, which was full of bones.

2 And hee ledde me round about by them, and beholde, there were very many in the open fiede, and loe, [they were] very drie.

3 And he sayde vnto me, Sonne of man, can these bones liue? And I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 Againe he sayd vnto me, Prophecie vpon these bones and say vnto them, O ye drie bones, heare the worde of the Lorde.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto these bones, Behold, I wil cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall liue.

6 And I will lay sinelues vpon you, and make flesh growe vpon you, and couer you with skaine, and put breath in you, that ye may liue, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophesied, as I was commaunded: and as I prophesied, there was a noyse, and beholde, [there was] a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinelues, and the flesh growe vpon them, and a boue, the skaine couered them, but there was no breath in them.

9 Then sayd he vnto me, Prophecie vnto the wind: prophecie, sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord God, Come from foure winds,

O breath, and breathe vpon these skaine, that they may liue.

10 So I prophesied as he had commaunded me: and the breath came into them, and they liued, and stood vp vpon their feete, an exceeding great armie.

11 Then he sayd vnto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Beholde, they say, Our bones are drie, and our hope is gone, [and] we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore prophecie, and say vnto them, thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, my people, I will open your graues, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall knowe that I am the Lorde, when I haue opened your graues, and brought you vp out of your sepulchres,

14 And shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shall liue, and I shall place you in your owne land: then ye shall knowe that I the Lorde haue spoken it, and performed it, saith the Lord.

15 ¶ The worde of the Lorde came againe vnto me, saying,

16 Forsoeuer thou sonne of man, take thee a peece of wood, and write vpon it, Unto Iudah, and to the children of Israel his companions: then take another peece of wood, and write vpon it, Unto Ioseph the tree of Ephraim, & to all the house of Israel his companions:

17 And thou shalt ioyne them one to another into one tree, and they shall be as one in thine hand.

18 And when the children of thy people shall speake vnto thee, saying, wilt thou not thewe vs what thou meanest by these?

19 Thou shalt answer them, Thus saith the Lorde God, Beholde, I will take the tree of Ioseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellowes, & will put them with him, [euen] with the tree of Iudah, and make them one tree, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 And the [pieces] of wood, whereon thou writest, shall be in thine hand, in their sight.

21 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I wil take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on euery side, and bring them into their owne land.

q He declarereth that it ought not to be referred to the people as punishment of their sinne, but rather to the earth that any countrey is rich, and abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues, and curses declare wch he maketh barren.

Or valley, a He sheweth by a greater miracle, that God hath power, & also will deliuer his people from their captiuitie, in as much as he is able to giue life to the dead bones, and haue them vp againe.

1 He sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 11 The graces of Gog and his hostes. 17 They haue deuoured of birds and beasts. 23 Wherefore the house of Israel is captive. 24 Their bringing againe from captiuitie is promised.

Therefore, thou some of man, prophesie against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lorde God, behold, I come against thee, O Gog, the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2 And I will destroy thee and leaue thee the first part of thee, and will cause thee to come vp from the North partes and will bring thee vpon the moun-

3 And I will smite thy bowe out of thy left hand, and I wil cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall vpon the mountaines of Israel, and all thy bands and the people, that is with thee: [for] I wil giue thee vnto the birds [and] to euery fethered fowle and beast of the field to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lorde God.

6 And I will send a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell safely in the ples, and they shall knowe that I am the Lorde.

7 So wil I make mine holy Name known in the middes of my people Israel, and I will not suffer them to pollute mine holy Name any more, and the heathen shall knowe that I am the Lorde, the holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall go forth, and shall burne and let fire vpon the weapons, and on the shields, & bucklers, vpon the bowes, and vpon the arrowes, and vpon the staves [in their] hands, and vpon the speares, and they shall burne them with fire seven yeeres.

10 So that they shall bring no wood out of the field, neither cut downe any out of the forests: for they shall burne the weapons with fire, & they shall rob those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoiled them, saith the Lorde God.

11 And at the same time wil I giue vnto Gog a place there for buriall in Israel, [euen] the valley whereby men go toward the East part of the Sea: and it shall cause them that passe by, to stoppe their noses, and there shall they burie Gog with all his multitude: and they shall call it the valley of Hamon-Gog.

12 And seven moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may densie the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, saith the Lorde God.

14 And they shall chuse out men to go continually through the land with them that traualle, to bury those that remaine vpon the ground, and densie it: they shall search to the end of seven moneths.

k Speaking, in the last age, and from the coming of Christ vnto the end of the world.

l Signifying, that God will be sanctified by maintaining his Church, and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 36. 23, and 37. 28.

m Hereby he declareth that none affliction can come to the Church, whereof they haue not bene aduertised aforesime, to teach them to inure all things with more patience when they knowe that God hath so obtained.

n All means whereby man should thinke to save himselfe shall faile, the affliction in those dayes shall be so great and the enemies destruction shall be so terrible.

Chap. 36. 23, and 37. 28.

b Speaking, that by the virtue of Gods word the enemies shall be destroyed whereof hee asseuereth his Church.

c That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, seeme they neuer to farre separate.

d That is, this plague is fully begunned in my counsell and can not be changed.

e After this destruction the Church shall haue great peace and tranquillitie, and burne all their weapons because they shall no more feare the enemies: and this is chiefly meant of the accomplishment of Christs kingdom, when by his head Christ all enemies shall be overcome.

f Which declareth that the enemies shall haue an horrible fall.

g For I think of the carcases.

h Speaking,

i Which that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion that the children of God haue, even on their enea O, destroy thee with fire plagues, as Chap. 38. 22.

15 And the travellers that passe thorough the land, if any see a mans bone, then shall he set by a signe by it, till the buriers haue buried it, in the valley of Hamon-Sog.

16 And also the name of the citie [shall be] Hamonah: thus shall they dense the land.

17 And thou sonne of man, Thus saith the Lord God, Speake vnto every feathered fowle, and to all the beastes of the fildes, Assemble your selues, & come: gather your selues on euery side to my sacrifice: for I doe sacrifice a great sacrifice for you vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drinke blood.

18 We shall eate the flesh of the balaunt, & drinke the blood of the princes of the earth, of the weathers, of the lambs, and of the goates, [and] of bullockes, [euen] of all fat beastes of Bashan.

19 And ye shall eate fat till you be full, and drinke blood, till ye be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Thus you shall be filled at my table with horses and charrets, with balaunt men, and with all men of warre, saith the Lord God.

21 And I wil let my glorie among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my iudgement, that I haue executed, and mine hand, which I haue layde vpon them.

22 So the house of Israel shall know, that I am the Lord their God from that day and so forth.

23 And the heathen shall know, that the house of Israel went into captiuitie for their iniquitie, because they trespassed against me: therefore hid I my face from them, and gaue them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 According to their uncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Now will I bring againe the captiuitie of Iakob, and haue compassion vpon the whole house of Israel, and wil be ielous for mine holy Name, 26 After that they haue borne their shame, & all their transgression, where by they haue transgressed against mee, when they dwelt safely in their land, and without feare of any.

27 When I haue brought them againe from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations,

28 Then shall they knowe, that I am the Lord their God, which caused them to be led into captiuitie among the heathen: but I haue gathered them vnto their owne land, and haue left none of them any more there, 29 Neither wil I hide my face any more from them: for I haue poured out my Spirit vpon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God.

CHAP. XL.

The restoring of the citie and the Temple.

IN the five & twentieth yeere of our being in captiuitie in the beginning of the yeere, in the tenth [day] of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeere after that the citie was smitten, in the selfe same day, the hand of the Lord was vpon me, and brought me thither.

2 Into the land of Israel brought he me by a diuine vision, and set me vpon a very hie mountaine, whereupon [was] as the building of a citie, towarde the South.

3 And he brought me thither, and beholde, there [was] a man, whose similitude was to looke to, like brasse, with a linen thread in his hand, and a reede to measure with: and he stood at the gate.

4 And the man said vnto me, Some of man, beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and let thine heart vpon all that I shall shewe thee: for to the intent, that they might be shewed thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, vnto the house of Israel.

5 And beholde, [I saw] a wall on the outside of the house round about: and in the mans hand [was] a reede to measure with, of sixe cubites long, by the cubite, and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building with one reede, and the height with one reede.

6 Then came he vnto the gate, which looketh toward the East, and went by the staires thereof, and measured the post of the gate, [which was] one reede broad, and [the other post of the gate, which was] one reede broad.

7 And [euery] chamber was one reede long, and one reede broad, and betweene the chambers [were] five cubites:

13 He measured then the gate from the route of a chamber to the toppe of the [gate:] the breadth [was] five and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

14 Hee made also postes of threescore cubites, and the posts of the court, [and] of the gate [had one measure] rounde about.

48 And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured the postes of the porch, five cubites on this side, and five cubites on that side: and the breadth of the gate [was] three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

The turning staire can not be seene in the figure, but may easily be conceiued.

Afterward, he brought me to the Temple, and measured the postes, five cubites broad on the one side, and five cubites broad on the other side, [which was] the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the entrie [was] ten cubites, and the sides of the entrie [were] five cubites on the one side, and five cubites on the other side, and hee measured the length thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

3 Then went he in, and measured the postes of the entrie two cubites, and the entrie five cubites, and the breadth of the entrie seven cubites.

4 So he measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple. And he sayde vnto mee, This is the most holy place.

5 After, he measured the wall of the house, five cubites, and the breadth of euery chamber foure cubites round about the house, on euery side.

6 And the chambers [were] chamber vpon chamber, three and thirtie foote [high], & they entered into the wall made for the chambers which was rounde about the house, that [the postes] might be fastened [therein], and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 And it was large and went rounde mounting vponward to the chambers: for the staire of the house [was] mounting vponward, round about the house: therefore the house was larger vponward: so they went by from the lowest [chamber] to the highest by the middes.

8 I saw also the house the rounde about: the foundations of the chambers [were] a full reede of fire great cubites.

9 The thickenesse of the wall which was for the chamber without, [was] five cubites, and that which remained, [was] the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betwene the chambers was the widenesse of twentie cubites rounde about the house on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers [were] toward the place that remained, one doore toward the North, and another doore toward the South, and the breadth of the place that remained, [was] five cubites round about.

12 Nowe the building that was before the separate place toward the west corner, [was] seuen cubites broad, and the wall of the building was five cubites thicke, round about, and the length nine cubites.

13 So he measured the house an hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the wailes thereof [were] an hundred cubites long.

14 Also the breadth of the forefront of the house & of the separate place toward the East, [was] an hundred cubites.

15 And he measured the length of the building, ouer against the separate place, which was behinde it, and the chambers on the one side and on the other side an hundred cubites with the Temple within, and the arches of the court.

Verf. 12. The building, of the great place compassed with a wall of 5. cubites thicke, and was farther of the Temple then the alleys, of the separate place, and this is more plainly set forth in the great figure.

Verf. 16. He declareth that whereas some of stone wycke from the bottom to the top was covered with wood on the East, South, and North side.

17 And from about the doore vnto the inner house and without, and by all the wall round about within and without it was [sieled according] to the measure.

18 And it was made with Cherubims and palme trees, so that a palme tree [was] betweene a Cherub and a Cherub: and [euery] Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man [was] toward the palme tree on the one side, and the face of a lyon toward the palme tree on the other side: [thus] was it made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground vnto about the doore [were] Cherubims & palme trees made as in the wall of the Temple.

21 The postes of the Temple were squared, [and] thus to looke vnto [was] the similitude [ & forme of the sanctuarie.

22 The altar of wood [was] three cubites hie, and the length thereof two cubites, and the corners thereof and the length thereof & the sides thereof [were] of wood. And he saide vnto me, This is the table that shall be before the Lord.

23 And the Temple and the Sanctuarie had two doores.

24 And the doores had two wickets, [euery] two turning wickets, two wickets for one doore, and two wickets for another doore.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims and palme trees, like as was made vpon the walles, and [there were] thicke plankes vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And [there were] narrowe windowes and palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke plankes.

CHAP. XLII.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priests, and the holy things.

When brought he mee into the vnter court by the way toward the North, and hee brought mee into the chamber that was ouer against the separte place, and which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites [was] the North doore, and [it was] fiftie cubites broad.

3 Ouert against the twentie [cubites] which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, which was for the vnter court, was chamber against chamber in three rowes.

4 And before the chambers [was] a gallerie of ten cubites wide, [and] within [was] a way of one cubite, and their doores toward the North.

5 Nowe the chambers about were narrower: for those chambers [seemed] to eate by these, [to wit,] the lower, and those that were in the middes of the building.

6 For they were in three rowes, but had not pillars as the pillars of the court: therefore there was a difference from them beneath and from the midstmost, [euery] from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vnter court on the forefront of the chambers, [was] fiftie cubites long.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vnter court, [was] fiftie cubites: and so, before the Temple [were] an hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers [was] the entrie, on the East side, as one goeth into them from the outward court.

10 The chambers [were] in the thickenesse of the wall of the court toward the East, ouer against the separte place, and ouer against the building.

11 And the way before them [was] after the maner of the chambers, which were toward the North, as long as they, [and] as broad as they: and all their entries were like, both according to their facions, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the South, [was] a doore in the corner of the way, [euery] the way directly before the wall toward the East, as one entreteth.

13 Then said he vnto me, The North chambers [and] the South chambers which are before the separte place, they be holy chambers, wherein the Priests that approche vnto the Lorde, shall eate the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meate offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespass offering: for the place [is] holy.

14 When the Priests enter therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the vnter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister: for they are holy, [and] shall put on other garments, and so shall approche to those things, which are for the people.

Verf. 4. This gallerie appeareth in p. great figure by this number 12.

Verf. 5. These chambers were contrarie facioned to them of the Temple.

Verf. 8. So that the wall for the chambers of the outward court and the wall of the inner, was fiftie cubites, and the whole court an hundred.

Verf. 9. Under these chambers were entries, of doores to passe from one place to another, which are noted euery by 2, in the great figure.

Verf. 10-11. The chambers p. of the East court M. were like to the chambers of the North court.

Verf. 13. Which chambers were in the East gate toward the North and South 3, and toward the separte place of barker building 4, which chambers are called holy, because they were by the Temple.

Verf. 22. The altar V. which was three cubites high X. and two cubites long Y. Z.

Verf. 1. He using described the length and breadth of the Temple, he cometh to the outward court on the North side T. This appeareth in the great figure. Hee brought me into the chamber: that is, the rowe of chambers, which were toward the separte place. Verf. 2. Hee meaneth that the North was an hundred cubites long x.y. and in breadth fiftie b.X.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the East, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the East side with the measuring rod, five hundred reedes, [even] with the measuring reede round about.

17 He measured [also] the North side, five hundred reedes, [even] with the measuring reede round about.

¶ Or, winde.

18 And he measured the South side five hundred reedes with the measuring reede.

19 He turned about [also] to the West side, [and] measured five hundred reedes with the measuring reede.

20 He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred [reedes] long, and five hundred broad: to make a separation betwene the Sanctuary, and the prophane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

2 Here seeth the glory of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed. 7 He mentioneth the isolation of the children of Israel for the which they were consumed and brought to nought. 9 He is commanded to call them againe to repentance.

Afterward he brought me to the gate, [even] the gate that turneth toward the East. 2 And beholde, the glory of the God of Israel came from out of the East, whose voyce was like a noyle of great waters, and the earth was made light with his glorie.

4 And the glory of the Lord came into the house by the way of the gate, whose prospect is toward the East.

5 So the Spirit tooke me by and brought me into the inner court, and beholde, the glory of the Lord filled the house.

6 And I heard one speaking unto me out of the house: and there stood a man by me, c By their idolatries, d He alludeth to Ammon and Moab, who were buried in their gardens nere the Temple and there had erected by monuments to their idoles.

7 which said unto me, Sonne of mā, [this] place is my throne, and the place of the soles of my feete, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for ever, and the house of Israel shall no more defile mine holy Name, neither they, nor their Kings by their fornication, nor by the carkeles of their Kings

[in] their high places.

8 Albeit they let their thresholds by my thresholds, and their postes by my postes (for there [was but] a wall betwene me and them) yet have they defiled mine holie name with their abominations, that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in my wrath.

9 Nowe [therefore] let them put away their fornication, and the carkeles of their Kings farre from me, and I will dwell among them for ever.

10 Thou sonne of man, shewe this house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their wickednesse, and let them measure the paterne.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shewe them the forme of the house, and the paterne thereof, and the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, and the whole faction thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the figures thereof, and all the lawes thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole faction thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the description of the house, [It shalbe] upon the top of the mount: all the limits thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the description of the house.

18 ¶ And he said vnto me, Sonne of man, thus sayth the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it to offer burnt offering thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt giue to the priests, [and] to the Leuites, that be of the seede of Zadok, which appoche vnto me, to minister vnto me, sayth the Lord God, a yong bullocke for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse it, and reconcle it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, and burne it in the appointed place of the house without the Sanctuarie.

22 But the second day thou shalt offer an hee goate without blemish for a sinne offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with burnt bullocke.

23 When thou hast made an ende of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a yong bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the Lord, and the priests shall cast salt vpon them, and they shall offer them for a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare every day an hee goate for a sinne offering: they shall also prepare a yong bullocke and a ramme out of the flocke, without blemish.

26 Thus shall they seuen dayes purifie the altar, and cleanse it, and consecrate it.

27 And when these dayes are expired, vpon the eight day and so forth, priests shall make your burnt offerings vpon the altar, and your peace offerings, and I will accept you, sayth the Lord God.

CHAP. XLIIII.

He reproveth the people for their offence. 7 The vncircumcised in heart, and in the flesh. 9 Who are to be admitted to the service of the Temple, and who to be refused.

When he brought me toward the gate of the outward Sanctuarie, which turneth toward the East, & it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord vnto me, This gate shall be shut, and shall not be opened, and no man shall enter by it, because the Lord God of Israel hath entered by it, and it shall be shut.

3 ¶ It appertaineth [to] the Prince: the Prince him selfe shall sit in it to eat bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the lane.

4 ¶ Then brought he me toward the North gate before the house: and when I looked, beholde, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 And the Lord said vnto me, Some of man, make well, and beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, all that I say vnto thee, concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the lawes thereof, and marke well the entering in off house with every going forth of the Sanctuarie.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, [even] to the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, I house of Israel, ye haue ynough of all your abominations.

7 Seeing, that ye haue brought into my Sanctuarie strangers, vncircumcised in heart, and vncircumcised in flesh, to be in my Sanctuarie, to pollute mine house, when ye offer my bread, [even] fat, and blood: and they haue broken my covenant, because of all your abominations.

8 For ye haue not kept the ordinances of mine holy things: but you your selues haue set [other] to take the charge of my Sanctuarie.

9 Thus sayth the Lord God, No stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuarie, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel,

CHAP. XLV.

Out of the land of promise are there separate foure portions, of which the first is giuen to the Priests and to the Temple, the second to the Leuites, the third to the citie, the fourth to the Prince. 2 An exhortation vnto the heads of Israel. 3 Of the first fruits, &c.

Moreouer whē ye shall deuinde the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation vnto the Lord an holy portion of the land, five and twentie thousand reedes long, and ten thousand broad: this shalbe holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shalbe for the Sanctuarie five hundredeth [in length], with five hundredeth [in breadth], all square round about, and fiftie cubites round about for the suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twentie thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shalbe the Sanctuarie, [and] the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be the Priests, which minister in the Sanctuarie, which came neere to serue the Lord: and it shalbe a place for their houses, and an holy place for the Sanctuarie.

5 And in five and twentie thousand of length, & the ten thousand of breadth shall the Leuites minister in my house, haue their possession for twentie chambers.

the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side, and on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the cite, [even] before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the cite from the west corner westwarde, and from the East corner Eastward, and the length shall be by one of the portions from the west border unto the East border.

8 In this land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people, and [the rest] of the land shall they give to the house of Israel, according to their tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: leave off cruelty and oppression, and execute iudgement and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Ye shall haue iust balances, and a true Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shall be equal: a Bath shall containe the tenth part of an Homer, & an Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equalitie thereof shall be after the Homer.

12 And the Shekel shall be [twentie] gerahs, [and] [twentie] shekels, and [fine] and [twentie] shekels and [fiftene] shekels shall be your Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer, the sixt part of an Ephah of an Homer of wheate, and ye shall give the sixt part of an Ephah of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of the oyle, [even] of the Bath of oyle, [ye shall offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Coz] [ten Baths] [are] an Homer: for ten Baths fill an Homer.

15 And one lambe of two hundredth sheepe out of the fardures of Israel for a meate offering, & for a burnt offering and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 And it shall be the princes part to give burnt offerings, and meate offerings, and drinke offerings in the solemne feasts and in the new moones, and in the Sabbaths, [and] in all the hie feastes of the house of Israel: hee shall prepare the sinne offering, and the meate offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God, In the first moneth, in the first day of the moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish and cleane the Sanctuary.

19 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the altar, and vpon the postes of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so shalt thou doe the seuenth day of the moneth, for every one that hath erred and for him that is deceived: so shall you reconcile the house.

21 In the first moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth, ye shall haue the Pascheouer, a feast of seven dayes, [and] ye shall eate unleavened bread.

22 And vpon that day, shall the prince prepare for himselfe, & for all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seven dayes of the feast hee shall make a burnt offering to the Lord, [even] of seven bullocks, and seven rammes without blemish daily for seven dayes, and an hee goate daily for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meate offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, an Ephah for a ramme, and an hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seuenth moneth, in the fiftenth day of the moneth, shall he doe the like in the feast for seven dayes, according to the sinne offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meate offering, and according to the oyle.

9 But when the people of the land shall come before the Lord in the solemne feastes, he that entred in by the way of the North gate to worship, shall goe out by the way of the South gate: and he that entred by the way of the South gate, shall go forth by the way of the North gate: he shall not returne by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but they shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince shall be in the mids of them: he shall go in when they go in, and when they go forth, they shall go forth together.

11 And in the feasts, and in the solemnities the meate offering shalbe an Ephah to a bullocke, & an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambs, the gift of his hand, and an hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free burnt offering or peace offerings freely unto the Lord, one shall then open him the gate, that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the Sabbath day: after, he shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt daily make a burnt offering unto the Lord of a lambe of one yeere without blemish: thou shalt doe it every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it every morning, the first part of an Ephah, & the third part of an hin of oyle, to mingle with the fine flour: [this meate offering shall be continually by a perpetuall ordinance unto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lambe, and the meate offering and the oyle every morning, for a continuall burnt offering.

16 Thus saith the Lord God, If the prince give a gift of his inheritance unto any of his sonnes, it shall be his sonnes, [and it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the yeere of libertie: after, it shall returne to the prince, but his inheritance shall remaine to his sonnes for them.

18 Moreover the prince shall not take of the peoples inheritance, nor thrust them out of their possession: [but] he shall cause his sonnes to inherit of his owne possession, that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 After, he brought me through the entrie, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the Priests, which stood toward the North: and behold, there was a place at the west side of them.

20 Then sayde he unto me, This is the place where the Priests shall seethe the trespass offering & the sinne offering, where they shall bake the meate offering, that they should not beare them into the bitter court, to sanctifie the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the bitter court, and cauled me to go by the four corners of the court: and behold, in every corner of the court there [was] a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courtes toynd of fourie cubites long, and thirtie broad: these four corners were of one measure.

23 And there [went] a wall about them, [even] about those four, and kitchens were made vnder the walles round about.

24 Then said he unto me, This is the kitchen where the ministers of the house shall seethe the sacrifice of the people.

2 Then brought he me out toward the North gate, and led me about by the way without vnto the latter gate, by the way that turneth Eastward: and behold, there came forth waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and he brought mee through the waters: the waters were to the ancles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters: the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, & brought me through: the waters were to the loynes.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, [and it was] a river, that I could not passe ouer: for the waters were risen, and the waters did flowe, [as] a river that could not be passed ouer.

6 And he sayde vnto me, Sonne of man, hast thou scene this? Then he brought me, and caused me to returne to the brinke of the river.

7 Now when I returned, behold, at the brinke of the river were very many trees on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then sayde he vnto me, These waters issue out toward the East country, and runne downe into the plaine, and shall go into [one] sea: they shall runne into [another] sea, and the waters shall be wholsome.

9 And euery thing that liueth, which moneth, wheresoeuer the rivers shall come, shall liue, and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be wholsome, and euery thing shall liue whither the river commeth.

10 And then the fishers shall stande vpon it, [and] from En-gedi euen vnto En-eglaïm, they shall spread out their nets: for their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the maine sea, exceeding many.

11 But the myrie places thereof, and the marishes thereof shall not be wholsome: they shall be made salt pits.

12 And by this river vpon the brinke thereof, on this side, and on that side shall growe all [fruitfull] trees, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruite thereof fayle: it shall bring forth new fruite according to his moneths, because their waters runne out of the Sanctuarie: and the fruite thereof shall be meate, and ye shall eat thereof [shall be] medicine.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the tribue tribes* of Israel: Joseph shall haue two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: * concerning the which I lift vp mine hand to giue it vnto your fathers, and this land shall fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border* of the land toward the North side, from the mayne sea toward Bethlon as men go to Zedadah:

16 Hamath, Berothah, Sibtain, which is betweene the border of Damascus, and the border of Hamath, [ & ] Hazar, Hattion, which is by the coast of Hauran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be Hazar, Enan, [and] the border of Damascus, and the residue of the North, Northward, and the border of Hamath: so [shall be] the North part.

18 But the East side shall ye measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, [ & ] from the land of Israel by Jordan, [and] from the border vnto the East sea: and so [shall be] the East part.

19 And the Southside [shall be] toward Teman from Tamar to the waters of Periboth in Kadeth, [and] the river to the mayne sea: so [shall be] the South part toward Teman.

20 The west part also [shall be] the great sea from the border, till a man come ouer against Hamath: this shall be the west part.

21 So shall ye deuide this land vnto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 And you shall deuide it by lot for an inheritance vnto you, [ & ] to the strangers that dwell among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be vnto you, as borne in the country among the children of Israel, they shall part inheritance with you in the middes of the tribes of Israel.

5 And the king appointed them p<sup>r</sup>o-fessors, and so to be able to serue him as gouernours in their lande: moreouer by this means the Iewes might be better kept in subjection, fearing other wise to procure hurt to these noble men. f The King required three things, that they shoulde be of noble birth, that they shoulde be wittie and learned, and that they shoulde be of a strong and comely nature, that they might doe him better service: also he did for his owne commoditie, therefore it is not to passe his liberallie: yet in this he is worthy praise, that hee esteemed learning, and knewe that it was a necessarie meane to gouerne by. g That they might forget their owne religion, and countrie fashions, to serue him the better to his purpose: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learne any knowledge that was not goodly: in all points he refused the abuse of things and superstition, in so much that he would not eate the meate which the King appointed him, but was content to learne the knowledge of naturall things.

<sup>e</sup> His purpose was to keepe them as hostages, and that he might see them himselfe victorious, and also by their good intreacie and learning of his religion, they might fauour raise him then the niel bringeth

this in to them how God from the beginning afflicted him with his symple, as a length call him to be

n. He supposed they did this for their religion, which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he reprehendeth them, which are of the religion: for neither he would condemn them nor maintain his owne.
o. Meaning, that within this space he might have the trial, and that no man should be able to discern it: and thus he spake, being moued by the Spirit of God.

p. Not that it was a thing abominable to eate beuitt meates, and to drinke wine, as both before and after they did, but if they should haue hereby bene brought to the King and haue refused their owne religion, that meate and drinke had bene accursed. q. This bare feeding and that also of fishes when he fled union euery day of a portion of kings meat, and of the wine, which he dranke, to nourish them: three yere, that at the ende thereof, they might stand before the King.

6 Nowe among these were certaine of the children of Iudah, Daniel, Hananah, Mishael and Azariah.

7 Vnto whome the chiefe of the Eunuches gaue other names: for he called Daniel, Belteshazzar, and Hananah, Shadrach, & Mishael, Methach, and Azariah, Abednego.

8 But Daniel had determined in his heart, that hee would not defile himselfe with the portion of the Kings meate, nor with the wine which hee dranke: therefore he required the chiefe of the Eunuches that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (Nowe God had brought Daniel into fauour, and tender loue vnto the chiefe of the Eunuches)

10 And the chiefe of the Eunuches said vnto Daniel, I feare my lord the king, who hath appointed your meate and your drinke: therefore if he see your faces woozle liking then the other children, which are of your sort, then shall you make me lose mine head vnto the king.

11 Then sayde Daniel vnto Belzar, whome the chiefe of the Eunuches had set ouer Daniel, Hananah, Mishael, and Azariah,

12 Proue thy seruants, I beseech thee, ten dayes, and let them giue vs pulse to eate, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances be looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So hee consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the ende of ten dayes, their countenances appeared fayrer, and in better liking then all the children, which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

16 Thus Belzar tooke away the portion of their meate, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for these foure children, God gaue them knowledge, and understanding in all learning: and wisdom: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all vesions and dreames.

18 Now when the time was expired, that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe of the Eunuches brought them before Nebuchad-nezzar.

19 And the king communed with them: and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of wisdom,
[and] vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, he found them ten times better then all the enchanterers [and] astrologians, that were in all his realme.

21 And Daniel was vnto the first yere of king Cyrus.

CHAP. II.

1 The dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar. 2 The King commandeth all the wise men of Babylon to be slaine because they could not interpret his dreame. 3 Daniel requiereth time to solute the question. 4 Daniel is brought vnto the King, and sheweth him his dreame and the interpretation thereof, 44 Of the euertlasting kingdome of Christ.

AND in the second yere of the reigne of Nebuchad-nezzar, Nebuchad-nezzar dreamed dreames wherewith his spirite was troubled, and his sleepe was vpon him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the enchanterers, and the astrologians, and the soothsayers, and the Caldeans for to shew the king his dreame: so they came and stood before the king.

3 And the King saide vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Caldeans to the King in the Aramites language, O king, liue for ever: shewe thy seruants thy dreame, and we shall shewe the interpretation.

5 [And] the king answered and saide to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me. If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame with interpretation thereof, ye shall be dauen in pieces, and your houses shall be made a lakes.

astrologers and soothsayers called themselves by this name of honour, as though all the wisdom and knowledge of the court depended vpon them, and that all other countries were vnder of the same. f. That is, in the Syrian tongue which differed not much from the Caldeans, thus it turned to do to this day.
g. This is a iust reward of their arrogance (which wanted of themselves that they had the knowledge of all things) that they should be proued fooles, and that to their perpetuall shame and confusion.

6 But if ye declare the dreame and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me giftes and reibardes, and great honour: therefore shewe mee the dreame and the interpretation of it.

7 They answered againe, and saide, Let the king shewe his seruants the dreame, and we wil declare the interpretation thereof.

8 When the king answered, and said, I know certainly that ye would gaine the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not declare mee the dreame, there is but one iudgement for you: for ye haue prepared lying and corrupt wordes, to speake before me till the time be changed: therefore tell mee the dreame, that I may knowe, if ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 [Then] the Caldeans answered before the king, I said, There is no man vpon earth that can declare the kings matter: yea, there is neither King nor prince nor lord that asked such things at an inchanter or astrologian or Caldean.

11 For it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can declare it before the king, except the gods whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and in great furie, and commaunded to destroy all the wise men of Babel.

13 And when sentence was giuen, the wise men were slaine: and they sought Daniel and his fellowes to be put to death.

14 Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the kings chief steward, which was gone forth to put to death the wise men of Babel.

15 [Yea,] he answered and said vnto Arioch the kings captaine, why is the sentence to haue from the king: Then Arioch declared the thing to Daniel.

16 So Daniel went and desired the king that he would giue him leasure and that he would shewe the king the interpretation thereof.

17 Then Daniel went to his house and shewed the matter to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions.

18 That they shoulde beseeche the God of heauen for grace in this secreete, that Daniel and his fellowes should not perith with the rest of the wise men of Babel.

19 Then was the secret reueiled vnto Daniel in a vision by night: therefore Daniel praised the God of heauen.

20 And Daniel answered and saide, The Name of God be praised for euer and euer: for wisdom and strength are his.

21 And hee changeth the times and seasons: he taketh away kings: he setteth by kings: he giueth wisdom vnto the wise, and vnderstanding to those that vnderstand.

22 Hee discouereth the deepe and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkenes, and the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou hast giuen me wisdom and strength, and hast shewed me now the thing that we desired of thee: for thou hast declared vnto vs the kings matter.

24 Therefore Daniel went vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to destroy the wise men of Babel: he went and sayde thus vnto him, Destroy not the wise men of Babel, but bring me before the king, and I will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all haste, and saide thus vnto him, I haue founde a man of the children of Iudah that were brought captiues, that wil declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then answered the king, and said vnto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to shewe me the dreame, which I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, can neither the wise, the astrologians, the inchanters, [nor] the soothsayers declare vnto the king.

28 But there is a God in heauen that reueileth secretes, and sheweth the king Nebuchad-nezzar what shall be in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and the things, which thou hast seene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this.

29 O King, when thou wast in thy bed, thoughtes came into thy minde, what should come to passe hereafter, and he that reueileth secretes telleth thee, what shall come.

30 As for me, this secret is not shewed me for any wisdom that I haue, more than did enterpise to interpret it, and therefore he sheweth that he was but Gods minister, and had no giftes, but such as God had giuen him to set forth his glorie.

then any other living, but onely to shew the King the interpretation, and that thou mightest knowe the thoughtes of thine heart.

31 ¶ King, thou sawest, and beholde, there [was] a great image: this great image whole glorie was so excellent, stoode before thee, and the forme thereof [was] terrible.

32 This images head was of fine gold, his breast and his armes of silver, his bellie and his thighs of brasse,

33 His legges of pyon, [and] his feete
[were] part of pyon, and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldest it till a stone was cut without handes, which smote the image vpon his feete, that were of pyon and clay, and brake them to pierces.

35 Then was the pyon, the clay, the brasse, the silver and the golde broken all together, and became like the chaffe of the sommer floures, & the winde caried them away, that no place was founde for them: and the stone that smote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame, and we will declare before the King the interpretation thereof.

37 ¶ King, thou art a King of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen thee a kingdome, power, and strength, and glorie.

38 And in all [places] where the children of men dwell, the beastes of the felde, and the foules of the heauen hath be giuen into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this head of golde.

39 And after thee shall rise another kingdome, inferior to thee, [of silver], and another third kingdome [shalbe] of brasse, which shall beare rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shalbe strong as pyon: for as pyon breaketh in pierces, and subdueth all things, and as pyon bruiseth all these things, so shall it brike in pierces, and bruse [all].

41 Whereas thou sawest the feete and toes, part of potters clay, and part of pyon: the kingdome shalbe deuised, but there shall be in it of the strength of the pyon, as thou sawest the pyon mixt with the clay, [and] earth.

42 And as [the] toes of the feete [were] part of pyon, and part of clay, so shall the kingdome bee partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest pyon mixt with clay, & earth, they shal mingle themselues with the seede of men: but they shall not ioine one with another, as pyon can not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these Kings, shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shall neuer be destroyed:
and this kingdome shall not be giuen to another people, but it shall breake, and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Whereas thou sawest, that the stone was cut off the mountaine without handes, and that it brake in pierces the pyon, the brasse, the clay, the silver and the golde: so [the] great God hath shewed the King, what shall come to passe hereafter, and the dreame [is] true, and the interpretation thereof [is] sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchad-nezzar fell vpon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded that they should offer meate offerings, and sweete odours vnto him.

47 [Also] the king answered vnto Daniel, and saide, I know of a trueth that your God is a God of gods, & the Lord of Kings, and the reueiler of secrets, seeing thou couldest open this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great giftes. Hee made him gouernour ouer the whole prouince of Babel, and chiefe of the rulers, [and] aboue all the wise men of Babel.

49 Then Daniel made request to the King, and hee set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego ouer the charge of the prouince of Babel: but Daniel [sate] in the gate of the King.

be repoynded, and Daniel therein erred if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it. c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Ipharaim, Exo. 9. 27. 28. but his heart was not touched, as appeared soon afterward. d That that the Prophet was testified of gifts of honour, but because by this means he might relieve his poore brethren which were grievously oppressed in this their captiuitie, and also be re-ceiued them, leaue he should offend this cruel King, which willingly gaue them. e Hee did not this for their priuate profite, but that the whole Church which was then there in affliction, might haue some release and ease by this benefite.
f Speaking, that either he was a iudge, or that he had the whole authoritie, so that none could be admitted to the Kings presence, but by him.

feared least the Iewes by their religion should have altered
the state of his common wealth, and therefore hee meant to lying all to one kind of rei-gion, and so rather sought his owne qui-etnes, then Gods glory,
b Shewing, that the idole
is not knowme for an idole so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customes are rected, and veto, and the constancie of the people is there, then of a blocke they thinke they haue made a god, c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to appoyne their religion, if the kings auto-ritie were allowed for the establishment thereof, not considering in the meane season what Gods word did permit.

Nebuchad-nezzar the King made an image of golde, whose height [was] three-score cubits, [and] p breadth thereof nine cubits: he let it vp in p plaine of Dura, in the prouince of Babel.

2 Then Nebuchad-nezzar the king sent forth to gather together the nobles, the princes and the dukes, the iudges, the receivers, the counsellors, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces, that they should come to the dedication of the image, which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set vp.

3 So the nobles, princes and dukes,
the iudges, the receivers, the counsellors, the officers, and all the gouernours of the prouinces were assembled vnto the dedicating of the image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set vp: and they stood before the image, which Nebuchadnezzar had set vp.

4 Then an herald cried aloud, Be it knowen to you, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, plalterie, dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, ye fall downe and worshipping the golden image, that Nebuchad-nezzar the king hath set vp.

6 And whosoever falleth not downe and worshipping, shall the same houre be cast into the middes of an hote fire furnace.

7 Therefore assonne as all the people heard the found of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, plalterie, and all instruments of musike, all the people, nations, and languages fel downe, and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set vp.

8 By reason whereof at that same time came men of p Caldians, and grieuously accused the Iewes.

9 For they spake and sayd to p king
Nebuchad-nezzar, O king, lue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare p found of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, plalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, shall fall downe, and worship the golden image,

11 And whosoever falleth not downe,

12 Shall be cast into the fire, not considering in the meane season what Gods word did permit. d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith Satan vseth to fight against the children of God, the content of the multitude and the cruelty of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude, which consenter to the wickednes, assuies them: and here the King required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Iewes might by lile and lile learne to forget their true religion, and worshipping, that he should be cast into the middes of an hote fire furnace.

12 There are certaine Iewes whom thou hast set ouer the charge of the prou-ince of Babel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego these men, O king, haue not regarded thy commandement, neither will they serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nebuchad-nezzar in his anger and wrath commanded that they should bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: so these men were brought before the king.

14 And Nebuchad-nezzar spake, and said vnto them, What disorder will not you, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego serue my god, nor worship the golden image, that I haue set vp?

15 Now therefore are ye ready when ye heare the sounde of the cornet, trumpet, harpe, sackbut, plalterie, and dulcimer, and all instruments of musike, to fall downe, and worship the image, which I haue made: for if ye worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately into the middes of an hote fire furnace: for who is that God, that can deliuer you out of mine
hands:

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abedne-go answered and said to p king, O Nebuchad-nezzar, We are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 Behold, our God whom we serue, is able to deliuer vs from the hote fire furnace, and he will deliuer vs out of thy hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it knowen to thee,
O king, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nebuchad-nezzar full of rage, and the forme of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meschach, and Abednego: [therefore] hee charged and commanded p they should heate the furnace at once seven times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And he charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abedne-go, [and] to cast them into the hote fire furnace.

21 So these men were bound in their consent to idolatrie. i This declareth that the moie that tyrants rage, and the moie wherby they flue themselves in mounting strange and cruel punishments, the moie is God glorified by his seruants in whom hee giueth patience and constancie to abide the cruelty of their punishment: for either he deliuereth them from death, or els for this life giueth them a better.

roates,

e Attempereth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the things fa-uour, thinking
if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue had better occasion to accuse Daniel:
and thus declareth that this politic officer, seeing this image, was in-uenced by the malicious flasters, which foughtenough but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

f Signifying that he would reuerse them to grace, if they would submit at the length to his de-crete.

g For they should haue done iniurie to God, if they should haue douten in this holp cause,
and therefore they say, that they are refored to die for Gods cause.

h They greets
on two points, first on the power, and prouidence of God ouer them, and secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory,
and the testifying of his true religion, with their blood, and so make open confession that they will not so much as outwardly

coates, their hosen, & their clothes, with their other garments, and cast into the middes of the hote fire fornaace.

22 Therefore, because the kings commandment was strait, that the fornaace should be exceeding hote, the flame of the fire slewe those men þ brought forth Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego.

23 And these three men Shadrach, Meshach & Abednego fell down bound into the middes of the hote fire fornaace.

24 ¶ Then Nebuchad-nezzar þ king was astonied and rose vp in haste, [and] spake, and saide vnto his counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the middes of the fire? whoso answered and said vnto þ king, It is true, O king. 25 [And] he answered, and saide, Lo, I see foure men loose, walking in the middes of the fire, & they haue no hurt, and the forme of the fourth is like the forme of God.

26 Then the king Nebuchad-nezzar came neere to the mouth of the hote fire fornaace, [and] spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, the seruants of the hie God, go forth & come hither: so Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego came forth of the middes of the fire.

27 Then the nobles, princes & dukes, and the kings counsellers came together to see these men, because the fire had no powber ouer their bodies: for not an heare of their head was burnt, neither were their coates changed, nor any smel of fire came vpon them.

28 [wherefore] Nebuchad-nezzar spake and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who hath sent his Angel, and deliuered his seruants, that put their trust in him, and haue changed the kings commandment, and reeided their bodies rather then they woude serue or worship any god, saue their owne God.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that every people, nation & language, which speake any blasphemie against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, shall be dauen in pieces, and their houses shall be made a lake, because there is no god that can deliuer after this sort.

30 Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the prouince of Babel.

31 Nebuchad-nezzar king vnto all people, nations and languages, that dwell in all the world, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

32 I thought it good to declare the signes and wonders, that the hie God hath wrought toward me.

33 how great are his signes, and how mightie are his wonders! þ his kingdome [is] an euertlasting kingdome, and his dominion [is] from generation to generation.

CHAP. III.

2 Another dreame of Nebuchad-nezzar, which Daniel declared. 29 The Prophet declared howe of a proud king he should become as a beast. 31 After he confesteth the power of God and is restoyed to his former dignitie.

Nebuchad-nezzar being at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace, 2 Saw a dreame, which made me afraide, and the thoughts vpon my bed, and the visions of mine head troubled me.

3 Therefore made I a decree, that they shoude bring all the wise men of Babel before me, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

4 So came the enchanter, the astrologians, the Caldeans and the soothsayers, to whom I tolde the dreame, but they coude not shewe me the interpretation thereof.

5 Till at the last Daniel came before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy gods in him, and before him I tolde the dreame, [saying,]

6 O Belteshazzar, chiefe of the enchanter, because I knowe, that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dreame, that I haue seene, and the interpretation thereof.

7 Thus [were] the visions of mine head in my bed. And beholde, I sawe a tree in the middes of the earth and the height thereof [was] great:

8 A great tree and strong, and the height thereof reached vnto heauen, and the sight thereof to the endes of all the earth.

9 The boughes thereof [were] faire, and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all: it made a shadowe vnder it for the beastes of the feld, and the fowles of the heauen dwelt in the boughes thereof, and all flesh fed of it.

þ Read, Chap. 44.

There was no trouble that might cause mee to dreame, and therefore it came onely of God. 2 The last was another dreame besides that which he saue of the foure emperors: for Daniel both declared both that dreame was, and what it meant: and here he onely expoundeth the dreame.

3 In that that he sent abroad to others, whose ignorance in times past he had experimented, and left Daniel which was cure ready at hand, it declares the nature of the vngodly, which neuer seeke to the seruants of God, but for deep necessity, and then they spare no flatterings. 4 This no doubt was a great griefe to Daniel not onely to haue his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile creature, which thing Nebuchad-nezzar wold make him forget the true religion of God.

5 Which also was a great griefe to the Prophet to be nombed among the soverers and men whose practises were wicked and contrary to Gods woide. 6 By the tree, is signified the dignitie of a king, whom God ordaineth to be a defence for all kind of men, and whose state is profitable for mankind.

10 I sawe

2 For the Angels were called the sonnes of God, because of their excellencie: therefore the king called this Angel, who God sent to comfort his in these great calamities, þ sonne of God.

3 This commendeth their obedience vnto God, that they woude not for any feare depart out of their fornaace, till the time was appointed, as Noah remained in the Arke till the Lord called him forth. 4 He was moved by the greatnes of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not troubled. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to convert men to God, but that doctrine must chiefly be aduyned, without the which there can be no faith.

5 In this heauenly king moved by Gods Spirit, woude not see blasphemie unpunished, but made a law, and set a punishment to such transgressors, much more ought all they that profess religion, take order that such impietie reigne not, lest according as their knowledge and charge is greater, so they suffer double punishment.

6 Warning, so farre as his dominion extended,

10 I sawe in the visions of mine head vpon my bed, and beholde, a watchman and an holy one came downe from heauen,

11 And cryed aloud, and saide thus, Helpe downe p tree, and breake off his banches: shake off his leaues, and scatter his fruite, that the beasts may sleepe from vnder it, and the foules from his banches.

12 Neuertheless leaue the stumpe of his rootes in the earth, and with a band of yron and brasle [binde it] among the grasse of the fiede, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be [with the beasts among the grasse of the fiede].

13 Let his heart be changed from mans [nature], and let a beasts heart be giuen vnto him, and let seven times be passed ouer him.

14 The sentence [is] according to the decree of the watchmen, and according to the word of p holy ones: the demande [was answered], to the intent that liuing men may knoue, that p most high hath poluer ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom so euer he will,
and appointeth ouer it the most abiect among men.

15 This is the dreame, [that] I king Nebuchad-nezzar haue scene: therefore thou, O Belshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof: for all the wise men of my kingdome are not able to shewe me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the spirit of the holie gods [is] in thee.

16 Then Daniel [whose name was] Belshazzar] heide his peace by the space of one houre, & his thoughts troubled him, [and] the king spake and said, Belshazzar, let neither p dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belshazzar answered and saide, My lord, the dreame [be] to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17 The tree that thou sawest, which was great and mightie, whose height reached vnto the heauen, and the light thereof through all the world,

18 whose leaues [were] faire and the fruite thereof much, and in it was meate for all, vnder the which the beasts of the fiede dwelt, and vpon whose banches the foules of the heauen did sit,

19 It is thou, O king, that art great and mightie: for thy greatnes is growe, and reacheth vnto heauen, and thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

20 Where as the king sawe a watchman, and an holy one that came downe from heauen, & said, Helpe downe p tree and destroy it, yet leaue p stumpe of the rootes thereof in the earth, and with a band of yron & brasle [binde it] among the grasse of the fiede, and let it be wet with the dewe of heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the fiede, till seven times passe ouer him,

21 This [is] p interpretation. O king, and it is the decree of p most high, which is come vpon my lord the king,

22 That they shall diue thee from men, and thy dwelling [shalbe] with the beasts of the fiede: they shall make thee to eate grasse as the oxen, and they shal wet thee with the dewe of heauen: and seven times shal passe ouer thee, til thou know, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom so euer he will.

23 Where as they said, that one should leaue the stumpe of the tree rootes, thy kingdome shall remaine vnto thee: after that, thou shalt know, that the heauens haue the rule.

24 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable vnto thee, and breake off thy sinnes by righteousnes, and thine iniquities by merie toward p poore: lo, let there be an healing of thine error.

25 All these things shall come vpon
the king Nebuchad-nezzar.

26 At the end of thine p moneths, he walked in the royall palace of Babel.

27 And the king spake and said, Is not this great Babel, that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by p might of my poluer, and for the honour of my maiestie?

28 While the word [was] in the kings mouth, a voyce came downe from heauen, [saying,] O king Nebuchad-nezzar, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee,

29 And they shal diue thee from men, and thy dwelling [shalbe] with p beasts of the fiede: they shall make thee to eate grasse, as the oxen, and seven times shal passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest, that the most high beareth rule ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom so euer he will.

30 The very same houre was this thing fulfilled vpon Nebuchad-nezzar, and he was dymen from men, & did eate grasse

that he was grasse as the oren, and his body was wet with the dewe of heauen, till his heares were growe as egles feathers, and his nayles like birdes claws.

31 And at the end of [these] dayes I Nebuchad-nezzar lift vp mine eyes vnto heauen, & mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me, and I gaue thanks vnto the most high, and I prayd and honoured him for euery, whose powder [is] an euermolting powder, and his kingdome [is] from generation to generation.

32 And all the inhabitants of earth are reputed as nothing: and according to his will he worketh in the armie of heauen, and in the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, nor say vnto him, what doest thou?

33 At the same time was mine vnder-standing restored vnto me, and I returned to the honour of my kingdome:
my glory and my beautie was restored vnto me, and my counsellours: and my princes fought vnto me, & I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

34 Nowe [therefore] I Nebuchadnezzar praye, and extoll and magnifie the King of heauen, whose workes are all truth, and his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride, he is able to abase.

CHAP. V.

5 Belshazzar King of Babylon seeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the King, cannot expound the writing. 25 Daniel readeth it, and interpreteth it also.
30 The King is slain. 31 Darius enioyneth the kingdome,

King Belshazzar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine before the thousand.

2 And Belshazzar whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and silver vessels, which his father Nebuchad-nezzar had brought from the Temple in Ierusalem, that the King and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 Then were brought the golden vessels, that were taken out of the Temple of the Lords house at Ierusalem, and the King & his princes, his wiues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine and prayd the that any shoulde sit in their companie: and now to serue his potter, and haue little he set by his enemy, which then besieged Babylon, he made a solemne banquet, and used exerce in their companie, which is ment here by drinking wine:
thus the wicked are most dissolute, and negligent when their destruction is at hand. 10 Outcome with wine. c. Feasting, his grandfather.

of gods of gold, and of siluer, of brasse, of pyron, of wood and of stone.

5 At the same houre appeared fingers of a mans hand, which wrote ouer a gainst the candlesticke vpon the plaister of the wall of the Kings palace, and the King saue the palme of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the Kings countenance was changed, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioyntes of his loynes were loosed, and his knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the King cried loude that they shoulde bring the astrologians, the Chaldeans and the soothsayers.
And the King spake, and said to the wise men of Babel, Whosoener can reade this writing, and declare me the interpretation thereof, shalbe clothed with purple, and [shall haue] a chaine of gold about his necke, and shalbe the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came all the Kings wise men, but they coude neither reade the writing,
nor shew the King the interpretation.

9 Then was King Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Now the Queene by reason of the talke of the King and his princes, came into the banquet house. [and] the Queene spake, and saide, O King, lue for euery: let not thy thoughtes trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods, and in the dayes of thy father, light and vnder-standing and wisdom like the wise-dome of the goddess, was found in him:
whom the King Nebuchad-nezzar thy father the King, [I say,] thy father, made chiefe of the enchanters, astrolo-gians, Chaldeans, [and] soothsayers.

12 Because a moze excellent spirit, and knowledg, and vnderstanding [for he did expound dreames, and declare hard sentences, and dissolued doubtles] were found in him, [even] in Daniel, whom the King named Belshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the King, [and] the King spake and said vnto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiui-tie of Iudah, whom my father the King brought out of Ieruzie:

In tempe of the true God, they payen their doles, not that they thought, that the golde of siluer were gods, but that there was a certaine ver-ue and power in them to do them good, which is also the opinion of all idolaters.

That it might the better be seeme.
So be that before commence God, was moued
by this sight to remembre fear of Gods iudgements.

Thus the wicked in their troubles seeke many meanes, who saye the from God, because they seeke not to him who is the onely comfort in all affliction.

To wit, his grandmother Nebuchadnezzars wife, which for her age was not before at the feast, but came thither when the heard of these strange newes.

Read Chap.
4. 6 And this declareth, that both this name was odious vnto him, and also that he was not like the wise practicer, because he was not among them when all were called.

k For the do-lators thought that the Angels had power as God, and therefore had them in like estimation, as they had God, thinking that the spirit of prophecy, and understanding came of them,

14 Now I have heard of thee, y<sup>k</sup> the spirit of the holy gods [is] in thee, & that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 Nowe therefore wisemen, [and] astrologians have bene brought before me, that they should reade this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof: but they coude not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, y<sup>k</sup> thou couldst shew interpretations, & dissolve doubts: now if thou canst reade the writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt bee clothed with purple, and shalt have a chaine of gold about thy necke, & shalt bee the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, & said before the king, Keepe thy rewards to thy selfe, and give thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the King, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O King, [heare] thou, The most high God gaue vnto Nebuchad-nezzar thy father a kingdome, and maiestie and honour and glorie.

19 And for the maiestie that hee gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled, and feared before him: he put to death whome hee would: hee smote whō he would: whom hee would hee set vp, and whom hee would hee put downe.

20 But when his heart was puffed vp, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed fro his kingly throne, and they tooke his honour from him.

21 And he was drue from the sommes of men, and his heart was made like the heastes, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grasse like oren, and his bodie was wet with the dew of the heauen, till hee knew, that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, & that hee appointeth ouer it, whomsoever he pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all these things, 23 But hast lift vp thy selfe against the Lord of heauen, and they haue brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy princes, thy wines and thy concubines haue drunke wine in them, and thou hast payled the gods of siluer and gold, of yasse, yron, wood and stone, which neither see, neither heare, nor vnderstand: and the God in whose hande thy breath is, and at thy wayes, him hast thou not glorified.

24 Then was the palme of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL VPHARSIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing, MENE, God hath nombred thy kingdome, and hath finished it.

27 TEKEL, thou art wayed in the balance, and art found too light.

28 PERES, thy kingdome is deuided, and giuen to the Medes and Persians.

29 Then at the commandement of Belshazzar they clothed Daniel with purple, and put a chaine of golde about his necke, and made a proclamation concerning him that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The same night was Belshazzar the King of the Caldeans slaine.

31 And Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescor and two yere olde.

1 Daniel is made ruler ouer 8 gouernours. 2 An act against Daniel. 3 He is put into a denne of lions by the commandement of the King. 4 He is deliuered by faith in God. 5 Daniels accusers are put into the lions. 6 Darius by a decree magnifieth the God of Daniel.

DI pleased Darius to set ouer the kingdome an hundred & thentie gouernours, which shoulde bee ouer the whole kingdome.

2 And ouer these three rulers (of whom Daniel was one) that the gouernours might giue accompts vnto them, and the King shoulde haue no damage.

3 Nowe this Daniel was preferred aboue the rulers and gouernours, because the spirit was excellent in him, and the King thought to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Wherefore the rulers and gouernours sought an occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdome: but they could find none occasion nor fault: for he was so faithfull that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then saide these men, we shall not finde an occasion against this Daniel, except we finde it against him concerning the Lawe of his God.

6 Therefore the rulers and these gouernours went together to the King, and said thus vnto him, King Darius, liue for ever.

and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the King and to establish a statute, that whosoever shall aske a petition of any god or man for thirtie dayes saue of thee, O King, he shall be cast into the den of Lyons.

8 Now O King, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it be not changed, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and the decree.

10 Now when Daniel understood that he had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and his window being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed and prayed his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, & found Daniel praying, and making supplication vnto his God.

12 So they came, and spake vnto the King concerning the Kings decree, hast thou not sealed the decree, that euery man that shall make request to any god or man within thirtie daies, saue to thee, O King, shall be cast into the denne of Lyons: The King answered, and said, The thing is true, according to the lawe of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and said vnto the King, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Iudah, regardeth not thee, O King, nor the decree, that thou hast sealed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these words, he was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel, to deliuer him: & he laboured til the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the King, and said vnto the King, Understand, O King, that the lawe of the Medes and Persians [is] that no decree nor statute which the King confirmeth, may be altered.

16 Then the King commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the denne of Lyons: [now] the king spake, and said vnto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou alway serueth, euen he wil deliuer thee.

17 And a stone was brought, and laid vpon the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his owne signet, and with the signet of his princes, that the purpose might not be changed, concerning Daniel.

18 Then the King went vnto his palace, and remained fasting, neither were the instruments of musike brought before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 Then the King arose early in the morning, and went in all haste vnto the den of Lyons.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voyce vnto Daniel: and the King spake, and sayde to Daniel, O Daniel, the seruant of the living God, is not thy God (whome thou alway serueth) able to deliuer thee from the Lyons?

21 Then said Daniel vnto the King, O King, liue for euer.

22 My God hath sent his Angel and hath shut the Lyons mouthes, that they haue not hurt mee: for my iustice was found out before him: and vnto thee, O King, I haue done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found vpon him, because he beleued in his God.

24 And by the commandement of the King these men which had accused Daniel, were brought, and were cast into the den of Lyons, [euen] they, their children, and their wiues: and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones a pices, or euer they came at the ground of the den.

25 Afterward king Darius wrote, vnto all people, nations & languages that dwell in all the worlde: Peace be multiplied vnto you.

26 I make a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and feare before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and remaineth for euer: and his kingdome shall not perish, and his dominion [shall be] euerlasting.

27 He rescueth and deliuereth, and he worketh signes and wonders in heauen & in earth: who hath deliuered Daniel from the powre of the Lyons.

28 So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

given God the chiefe place, but also haue set him vp, and caused him to be honoured according to his worke: but this was a certaine confession of Gods power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderfull miracle. In which hath not onely life in himselfe, but is the only fountaine of life, and quickener of all things, so that without him there is no life.

g This declaration that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, because he doubted of his power.

h By his came and by his rightness in this thing, wherein I was cleared.

i For he did not disobey the Kings wicked commandment to obey God, and so did no inuirtue to the king, who ought to command nothing, whereby God should be dishonoured.

k Because he committed himself wholly vnto God whose cause he did defend, he was assured, that nothing but goods could come vnto him: wherein we see the power of faith, as Heb. 11.33.

l This is a terrible example against all the wicked, which do against their conscience make cruel lawes to destroy the childe of God, and also aduocate wicked princes how to punish such, whose wickedness is come to light: though not in every point, or in all the circumstances, yet to execute true iustice vpon them.

m This powereth not that Darius did worship God aright, or else was converted: for he had destroyed all superstition and idolatry, and not onely

d Herein is commended the wickedness of the King, who would be set by as a god, and passed not what wicked lawes he appointed for the maintenance of the same.

e Because he would not by his silence shew that he consented to this wicked decree, he set open his windows toward Jerusalem, when he prayed: both to shew his heart to the living God, and also that others might see, that he would neither consent in heart nor deede, to these few daies to any thing that was contrary to Gods glory.

f Thus the wicked maintain euill lawes by constancie, and authoritie, which is oft times greater lightnes, or stubbornnes, when as the innocents thereby perish: and therefore gouernours must be taught to feare may be abused to breake faith.

CHAP. VII.

3 A vision of four beasts is shewed unto Daniel, 8 The ten hornes of the fourth beast. 27 Of the euertlasting kingdome of Christ.

In the first peece of Belshazzar King of Babel, Daniel saw a dreame, & there were visions in his head, vpon his bedde: then hee wrote the dreame, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake and sayde, I sawe in my visio by night, and beholde, the foure windes of the heauen stroue vpon the great sea:

3 And foure great beasts came by fro the sea one diuers from another.

4 The first was as a lion, & had egles wings: I behelde, till the wings thereof were plucked off, and it was lifted by fro the earth, and set vpon his feete as a man, and a mans heart was giuen him.

5 And beholde, another beast which was the seconde, was like a beare and stood vpon the one side: and he had three ribbes in his mouth betwene his teeth, & they said thus vnto him, Arise & deuoure much flesh.

6 After this I behelde, and lo, there was another like a leopard, which had vpon his backe foure wings of a foule: the beast had also foure heads, and dominion was giuen him.

7 After this I sawe in the visions by night, I behelde, the fourth beast was fearefull and terrible and verie strong. It had great iron teeth: it deuoured and brake in pieces and stamped the residue vnder his feete: and it was vnlke to the beastes that were before it: for it had ten hornes.

8 As I considered the hornes, behold, there came by among them another little home, before whom there were three of the first hornes plucked away: and behold, in this home were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld, till the thrones were set by, & the Ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the heare of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fire flame, & his wheeles as burning fire.

10 A fire stream issued, & came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered vnto him, and ten thousand thousands stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then I beheld, because of the voice of the presumptuous wordes, which the home spake: I beheld, euen till the beast was slaine, and his bodie destroyed, and giuen to the burning fire.

12 As concerning the other beastes, they had take away their dominion: yet their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 As I beheld, in visions by night, behold, one like the sonne of man came in the cloudes of heauen, and approached vnto the Ancient of dayes, & they brought him before him.

14 And he gaue him dominion, and honour, and a kingdome, that al people, nations and languages shoulde serue him: his dominion is an euertlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away: and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

15 ¶ Daniel was troubled in my spirit, in the middes of my bodie, and the

Which is ment of Julius Cesar, Augustus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as Kings in effect, but because they could not rule, but by the consent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little home. For Spahome came not of the Romane empire, and the Pope hath no location of government: therefore this can not be applied vnto them, and also in the prophesie the Prophetes purpose is chiefly to comfort the Jewes vnto the reuolution of Christ. Some take it for the whole bodie of Antichrist.

¶ Speaking, a certaine position of the ten hornes: that is, a part from the whole estate was plucked away. For Augustus took from the Senate the libertie of choosing the dignities to send into the provinces, and took the government a Whereas the people of Israel looked for a continual quietnes after these ieremie peeces, as Jeremias had declared, he sheweth that this rest shall not be a deliuerance from all troubles, but a beginning, and therefore encouraged them to looke for a continual affliction till the Messiah be uttered and reueiled, by whom they should haue a spiritual deliuerance, and all the promises fulfilled: whereof they should haue a certaine token in the destruction of the Babylonical kingdome.

b Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in all corners of the world and at sundry times.

c Speaking the Assyrian and Caldean empire, which was most strong & fierce in power, and most soone come to their authoritie as though they had had wings of fire: yet their wings were pulled by the Persians, and they went on their feete, and were made like other men, which is here ment by mans heart. d Speaking the Persians, which were barbarous and cruell. e They were small in the beginning and were flur by their mountains and had no byte. f That is, destroyed many kingdomes, and was insatiable. g To wit, the Angels by Gods commandement, who by this meane punished the ingratitude of the world. h Speaking, Alexander the King of Spardonia. i That is, his foure chief captaiues, which had the empire among them after his death. k Seleucus had Asia the great, Antigonus the leste, Callinicus, and after him Antiochus was King of Spardonia, and Ptolomeus had Egypt. l It was not of himselfe nor of his owne power that he gate all these countreys: for his arme conceived, but Christe thousand men, and he ouercame in one battell Dorius, which had ten hundred thousand, when he so beat with sleepe that his eyes were scarce open, as the story report: therefore this power was giuen him of God. m That is, the Romane empire which was as a monster & could not be repared to any beast, because the nature of home was able to expresse it. n Signifying the pyramide and greedines of the Romanes. o That which the Romanes could not quietly enioy in other countreys, they would giue it to other Kinges and rulers, that at all times when they would, they might take it againe: which libertie is here called the stamping of the red vnder the feete. p That is, sinfull and diuers provinces, which were gouerned by the deputies and praefectes, whereof euery one might be compared to a King.

visions of nine head made me afraid.

16 Therefore I came vnto one of the that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told mee, and shewed mee the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts, which are foure, are foure kings, which shall arise out of the earth,

18 And they shall take the kingdom of the Saints of the most high, and possesse the kingdom for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I woulde knowe the truth of the fourth beast, which was so unlike to all the others, berie fearful, whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse: which deuoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue vnder his feet.

20 Also I to knowe of the ten hornes that were in his heade, and of the other which came vp, before whome three fell, and of the horne that had eyes, and of the mouth that spake presumptuous things, whose looke was more houte then his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battell against the Saints, yea, and preuailed against them.

22 Until the Ancient of daies came, and iudgement was giue to the Saints of the most high: and the time approached, that the Saintes possessed the kingdom.

23 Then he sayde, The fourth beast shall bee the fourth kingdom in the earth, which shall bee unlike to all the kingdoms, and shall deuoure the whole earth, and shall treade it downe & breake it in pieces.

24 And the tenne hornes out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall rise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be unlike to the first, and he shall subdue three kings,

25 And shall speake wordes against the most high, and shall consume the Saintes of the most high, & thinke that he may change times and lawes, and they shall be giuen into his hande, until a time, and times and the deuding of time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, & they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the end.

27 And the kingdom, and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdom vnder the whole heauen shall be giuen to the holy people of the most high, whose kingdom is an euerclasting kingdom, and all powres shall serue and obey him.

28 Euen this is the ende of the matter, I Daniel had many cogitations [which] troubled me, & my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in mine heart.

29 I thought this little home, that it shall neuer rise by againe. I De the which wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his Church might haue rest and quietnesse, which though they do not fully enjoy here, yet they haue it in hope, and by the preaching of the Gospell enjoy the beginning thereof, which is ment by these wordes vnder the heauen: and therefore hee here speaketh of the beginning of Christs kingdom in this world, which kingdom the faithful haue by the participation that they haue with Christ their heade. That is, some of euery sort that beare rule. Though hee had many motions in his heart which moued him to and fro to seeke out this matter curiously: yet hee was content with that which God reuelled, and kept it in memorie and wrote it for the use of the Church.

CHAP. VIII.

A vision of a battell betwene a ramme and a goat. 20 The vnderstanding of the vision.

In the thirde yeere of the reigne of king Belshazzar, a vision appeared vnto me, [scuen] vnto me Daniel, after that [which] appeared vnto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision, and when I saw it, I was in a palace of Shushan, which is in the prouince of Elam, and in a vision me thought I was by the riuier of Tiai.

3 Then I looked by and saw, and beheld, there stood before the riuier a ram, which had two hornes: and these two hornes were hie: but one was hieer the another, and the hiest came by last.

4 I saw the ram pushing against the west, and against the North, & against the South: so that no beasts might stand before him, nor could deliuer out of his hand, but he did what he listed, and became great.

5 And as I considered, behold, a goat came from the west ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and this goat had an horne that appeared

8 Therfore the goat waxed exceeding great, and whē he was at the strongest, his great horne was broken: and for it came by four that appeared toward the four winds of the heauen.

of the seede of the Medes, which was made king ouer
the realme of the Caldeans,
2 [Euen in the first yere of his reigne,
I Daniel vnderstood by bookes the number of the yeres, whereof the Lord had spoke vnto Jeremiah the Prophet, that he would accomplish seventy yeres in the desolation of Ierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and fought by prayer and supplications with fasting and sackcloth and ashes.

4 And I prayed vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, saying, Oh Lord God, which art great and fearfull, and keepest covenant and mercie towarde them which loue thee, and towarde them that keepe thy commandements,

5 We haue sinned, & haue committed iniquitie & haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 For we would not obey thy seruants the Prophets, which spake in thy name to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousness belongeth vnto thee, and vnto vs open shame, as [appeareth] this day vnto euery man of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ieru-salem: yea, vnto all Israel, both nere and farre off, through all the countreys, whither thou hast diuen them, because of their offences, that they haue committed agaynst thee.

8 O Lord, vnto vs [apperteyneth] open shame, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we haue sinned agaynst thee.

9 [But] compassion and forgiveness [is] in the Lord our God, albeit we haue rebelled against him.

10 For we haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes, which hee had layde before vs by the ministration of his seruants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed thy law, and are turned backe, and haue not heard thy voyce: therefore the curse is polvred vpon vs, and the othe that is written in the law of Moses the seruant of God, because we haue sinned against him.

12 And he hath confirmed his wordes, which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, by bringing vpon vs a great plague: for vnder the whole heauen hath not bene the like, as hath bene brought vpon Ierusalem.

13 All this plague is come vpon vs, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses: yet made we not our prayer before the Lord our God, that we might turne from our iniquities & vnderstand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord made readie the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes which he doeth: for we would not heare his voyce.

15 * And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people out of the lande of Egypt with a mightie hande, and hast gotten thee renoume, as ap-peareth this day, we haue sinned, wee haue done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to al thy rightteousnes, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy wrath bee turned away from thy cite Ierusalem thine holy moun-taine: for because of our sinnes, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Ierusalem and thy people [are] a reproch to all that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine vpon thy Sanctuary, that lieth waste for the Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare and heare: open thine eyes, and beholde our desolations, and the cite wherupon thy Name is called: for wee doe not present our supplications before thee for our owne

O Lord consider, and do it: deferre not for thine owne sake, O my God: for thy Name is called vpon thy cite, and vpon thy people.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understande the matter and consider the vision.

24 Seventie weekes are determined vpon thy people, & vpon thine holy cite, to finish the wickednesse, and to seale by the finnes, and to reconcile the iniquity, & to bring in euermlasting righteousnesse, and to seale by the vision and prophesie, and to anoynt the most holy.

25 Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to bring againe the people, and to build Ierusalem, vnto Messiah the prince, shall be seuen weekes, and threeforse and two weekes, [and] the streete shall be built againe, and the wall euen in a troublous time.

26 And after threeforse and two weekes, shall Messiah be slaine, and shall haue nothing, and the people of the prince that shall come, shall destroy the cite and the Sanctuary, and the ende thereof shall be with a flood: and vnto the ende of the battell it shall be destroyed by desolations.

27 And he shall confirme the couenat with many for one weeke: & in the middes of the weeke he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of the abominations, he shall make it desolate, euen vntill the consummation determined shall be poyzed vpon the desolate.

28 And after the building of the Temple vnto the baptism of Christ, which shall be in the time of the first week of the seuentie shall Christ come and preach and suffer death, & he shall seeme to haue no beautie nor to be of any estimation as Mal. 3. 3. & 2. #### CHAP. X.

There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linen, & which him wherefore he is sent.

In the thirde yeere of Cyrus King of Persia, a thing was reueiled vnto Daniel (whose name was called Belteshazzar) and the worde [was] true, but the time appointed [was] long, and he vnderstande the thing, and had vnderstanding of the vision.

2 At the same time, I Daniel was in heauensse for threeweekes of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh, nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my selfe at all, till threeweekes of dayes were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure & twentieth day of the first moneth, as I was by the side of that great riuer, euen Tigris, & Euphrates,

5 And I lift vp mine eyes, & looked, and beholde, there [was] a man clothed in linen, whose loines were girded with fine golde of Ephraim.

6 His bodie also [was] like Chrysolite, and his face, to looke vpon like the lightening, & his eyes as lampes of fire, & his armes & his feete [were] like in colour to polished brasle, & the voyce of his wordes [was] like the voyce of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone sawe the vision: for the men that were with me, sawe not the vision: but a great feare fell vpon them, so that they fled away and hid them selves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and sawe this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my strength was turned in me into corruption, and I reteneed no power.

9 Yet heard I the voyce of his wordes: and when I heard the voyce of his wordes, I slept on my face: and my face [was] toward the ground.

10 And beholde, an hande touched me, which let me by vpon my knees & vpon the palmes of mine handes,

11 And he saide vnto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understande the wordes that I speake vnto thee, & stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had saide this worde vnto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then sayd he vnto me, Feare not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou diddest let thine heart to understande, and to humble thy selfe before thy God, thy wordes were heard, and I am come for thy wordes.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstoode me one & twentieth dayes: but io, Michael one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the Kings of Persia.

14 Nowe I am come to shew thee what shall come to thy people in the latter time.

p He alludeth to Jeremiahs prophesie, who prophesied that their captiuitie should be soeuerie peres: but now Gods mercie should be seen in iudgement, which should be four hundred and nintie peres, euen to the coming of Christ, and so then it should continue for euer, q Speaking Daniels nation, vnto whom he was careful, & to shew mercie & to put in of remembrance.

Peter, Titus, Testaments some, who should come and destroy both the Temple and the people without all hope of recovery, a By the preaching of the Gospel he confirmed his promises, first, to the Iewes, and after to the Gentiles, b Christ accomplished this by his death and resurrection, c Speaking that Ierusalem and the Sanctuary should be utterly destroyed, so for their rebellion against God and their idolatry: so as some read, that the plagues shall be so great, that they shall all be attoned at them.

a He noteth this thirde yeere, because at this time the building of the Temple began to be hindered by Cambyses Cyrus some, when the father made warre in Asia minor against the Medesians, which was discouraging to the gooly, and a great feare to Daniel, b Which is to declare that the gooly should not fasten too much, but patiently to abide the issue of Gods promises.

c Called Tigris, which cometh north part of Sparda and part of Apollis, d Being captiue by the spirit of prophesie to haue the sight of this river Tigris, e This was the Angel of God, which was sent to assure Daniel in this prophesie that he should see the light of this river Tigris.

f The word also is significant, sometimes, of beauty, so that for feare he was like a dead man for desolation.

g Which declares that when we are stricken down with the malice of God, we can not rise, except he also lift vs up with his hande, which is his power.

h Speaking, Cambyses who reigned in his fathers absence, and did not onely for this space hinder the building of the Temple, but would haue farther rage, if God had not sent me to resist him, and therefore I haue raised for the profit of the Church, though God could by one Angel destroy all the world, per to assure his children of his love, he sendeth forth

17 For howe can the seruant of this my Lord talke with my Lord [being] such one: for as for mee, straightwaie there remained no strength in mee, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Thee there came againe, & touched me, one like the appearance of a man, & he strengthened me.

19 And said, O man, greatly beloued, feare not: peace be vnto thee: be strong and of good courage. And when he had spoken vnto me, I was strengthened, and saide, Let my Lord speake: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 He said he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee: but now will I returne to fight with prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, loe, the prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is decreed in the Scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with mee in these things, but Michay your prince.

a The Angel alsaith that God had giuen him power to performe these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius, when he overcame the Caldeans, b Whereof Cambyses that now reigneth, was the first, the second Smerdes, the third, Darius the sonne of Hydaspes, & the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God and stood against them. c For he raised by all the East comites to fight against the Grecians: albeit he had in his armie nine hundred thousand men, yet in foure battels he was overcome and fled away with shame. d That is, Alexander the great. e For when his king was most flourishing, he overcame himselfe with drinke, and so fell into a discafe: so some say, he was poisoned by Callander.

CHAP. XI.
A Prophecie of the kingdomes, which should be enemies to the Church of God, as of Persia, 3 Of Greece, 5 Of Egypt, 28 Of Syria, 36 And of the Romanes.

ALSO I, in the first yere of Darius of the Medes, [even] I floode to incourage and to strengthen him.

2 And now wil I shew thee truth. Behold, there shall stande by yet three Kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be far richer then they al: & by his strength, [and] by his riches he shall stirre vp all against the realme of Grecia.

3 But a mightie king shall stand by, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his pleasure.

4 And when he shall stande by, his kingdome shall be broken, and shall be deuoted towarde the foure Windes of heauen: and not to his posteritie, nor according to his dominion, which he ruled: for his kingdome shall be plucked by, euen to be for others besides that.

5 And the King of the South shall be mightie, & one of his princes, and shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeres they shall be ioyned together: for the Kings daughter of the South shall come to the King of the North to make an agreement, but she shall not retaine the power of the arme, neither shall he continue, nor his arme: but they shall be deliuered [to death], and they that brought her, and he, that begate her, and he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her rootes shall one stande by in his steade, which shall come with an armie, and shall enter into the fortress of the King of the North, and doe with them [as he list], and shall preuaile.

8 And shall also cary captiues into Egypt their gods with their molten images, [and] with their precious vessels of silver and of golde, and he shall continue mo yeres then the King of the North.

9 So the King of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne lande.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shall be stirred by, & shall assemble a mightie great armie: and [one] shall come, and ouerflowe, and passe thorough: then shall he returne, & be stirred by at his fortress.

11 And the King of the South shall be angrie, and shall come forth, and fight with him, [even] with the King of the North: for he shall set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shall be giuen into his hande.

12 Then the multitude shall be proud, and their heart shall be lifted by: for he Syria and Egypt should haue a continuall peace together. o That force and strength shall not continue: for looke after Darius & her yong sonne after her husbandes death, was slaine of her stepsonne Seleucus Calinicus the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake. p Neither Ptolemies nor Antiochus. q Some reade, feede, meaning the childre begotten of Darius. r Some reade, that begate her, and thereby vnderstande her worce, which brought her by: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage were destroyed. s Meaning, that Ptolemies euergetes after the death of his father Philadelphus should succede in the kingdome being of the same stocke that Darius was. t To encourage his sisters death against Antiochus Calinicus King of Syria. u For this Ptolemies reigned sixe and foure yeres. v Meaning, Seleucus and Antiochus the Great, the sonnes of Calinicus that make warre against Ptolemies Philopater the sonne of Philadelphus. y For his elder brother Seleucus was, & was slaine whyles the warres were preparing. z That is, Philopater when he shall see Antiochus to take great dominions first in Syria, & also reade to invade Egypt. a For Antiochus had sixe thousand ioynt men and three thousand footmen, b After the death of Holofernes, who left Antiochus his heir.

 c For not only Antiochus came against him, but also Philip king of Macedonia, & these two brought great power with them.
 d For under Antiochus which falsely alleged that place of Isa. 19. 19. certain of the Jews returned with him into Egypt to fulfil this prophetic: also the Angel whereby that all these troubles which are in the Church, are by the providence and counsel of God.
 e The Egyptians were not able to resist Scopas Antiochus captain: & he sheweth that he shall not only afflict the Egyptians, but also the Jews, and shall enter into their countries, whereof he admonisheth the Jews before that they may knowe that all these things come by Gods providence.
 f This was the second battle which Antiochus fought against Holofernes Epiphanes.
 h To wit, a beautiful woman, which was Cleopatra Antiochus daughter.
 i For he regarded not the life of his daughter in respect of the kingdom of Egypt.
 k He shall not agree to his wicker counsel, but shall lose her substance, as her due requirer, and not seeke his destruction.
 l That is, toward Asia, Grecia, and those places which are in the Sea called Spenterrancum: for the Jewes called all countries which were bounden from them by sea.
 m For where as Antiochus was wont to continue the Romans, and put their ambassadours to shame in all places. Attalus the Consul, & Lucius Scipio put him to flight and caused his shame to turne on his owne head.
 n By his wicked life and obeying of worldly counsel.
 o For feare of the Romans he shall flee to his holmes.
 p For when as under the pretence of power he hath bene robbed the Temple of Jupiter Dodonius, the countreine shew him.
 q That is, Seleucus shall successe his father Antiochus.
 r For by foreign enemies, or battell, but by reason.

shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the King of the North shall turne, & shall set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeeres) With a mightie armie, and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall manie stand by against the King of the South: also the rebellious children of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the King of the North shall come, and cast by a mount, and take the strong cite: and y armes of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither [shall there be] any strength to withstande.

16 But he that shall come, shall do violence to him as he list, & none shall stand against him: & he shall stand in the pleasant land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 Again he shall set his face to enter into the power of his whole kingdom, and his confederates with him: thus shall he do, & he shall give him the daughter of women, to destroy her: but he shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.
 18 After this shall he turne his face unto the yles, and shall take many, but a prince shall cause his shame to light upon him, beside that hee shall cause his owne shame to turne upon him selfe.

19 For he shall turne his face toward the forces of his own lād: but hee shall be overthrown & fall, & be no more found.

20 When shall stand by in his place in the glorie of the kingdom, one that shall raise tares: but after seve dayes hee shall be destroyed, neither in wrath, nor in battell.

21 And in his place shall stande by a vile person, to whome they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but hee shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And the armes shall bee overthrown with a flood before him, and shall be broken: and also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him, hee shall work deceitfully: for hee shall come by, & overcome a final people.

24 Hee shall enter into the quiet and plentifull province, and hee shall doe that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers: hee shall decide among the the pray & the spoyle, and the substance, yea, and hee shall forecast his deuises against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also hee shall stirre by his powder and his courage against the King of the South with a great armie, and the king of the South shall be stirred by to battell with a verie great and mightie armie: but hee shall not stand: for they shall forecast and practise against him.

26 Yea, they that feede of the portion of his meate, shall destroy him: and his armie shall overflowe: and many shall fall, and be a flame.

27 And both these Kinges hearts [shall] to do mischief, and they shall talke of deceit at one table: but it shall not auaille: for yet the ende [shall be] at the time appointed.

28 Then shall hee returne into his lād with great substance: for his heart shall be against the holy covenant: so shall hee do and returne to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall returne and come toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore hee shall be forie and returne, & feare against the holy covenant: so shall hee do, & he shall euen returne: and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And armes shall stande on his part, and they shall pollute the Sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, & they shall set by the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the covenant, shall be cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that do knowe their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 And they that vnderstand among the people, shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by sword, and by flame, by captiuitie and by spoyle many dayes.

34 Nowe when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little helpe: but many shall cleaue vnto them: faintly.

35 And some of them of vnderstanding shall fall to trie them, and to purge, and to make them white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And the King shall do what him list: he shall exalt himselfe, and magnifie himselfe against all, [that is] God, and shall speake maruelous things against the God of gods, & shall prosper, till the wrath be accomplished: for the determination is made.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of womē, nor care for any God: for he shall magnifie himselfe aboute all.

38 But in his place shall hee honour the god Hauzzim, and the god whom his fathers knele be not, shall hee honour with golde and with silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he doe in the holdes of Bazzan with a strange god whom he shall acknowledge: hee shall increase [his] glorie, and shall cause them to rule ouer many, and shall deuide the lande for gaue.

40 And at the ende of time shall the king of the South pish at him, and the king of the North shall come against him like a whirlewinde with charrets, and with horsemen, and with many shippes, and he shall enter into the countreys, and shall ouerflowe and passe through.

41 He shall enter also into the pleasant lande, and many countreys shall be ouerthrowen: but these shall escape out of his hande. [euen] Edom and Moab, and the chiefe of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall stretch forth his hands also vpon the countreys, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he that haue power ouer the treasures of gold and of silver, and ouer all the precious things of Egypt, and of the Lybians, and of the blacke Mores where he shall passe.

44 But the tidings out of the East & the North shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great wrath to destroy and roote out many.

45 And hee shall plant tabernacles of his palace betwene the seas in the glorious, and holy mountaine, yet hee shall come to his ende, and none shall helpe him.

Romanes after this reigned quietly throught all countreys, and from sea to sea, and in Tudca: but at length for their crueltie God shall destroy them.

CHAP. XII.

Of the deliuerance of the Church by Christ.

And at that time shall Michael stand by great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people, and there shall be a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered, every one that shall be found written in the booke.

2 And many of them that sleepe in the dust of the earth, shall awake, some to euermlasting life, and some to shame & perpetuall contempt.

3 And they that be wise, shall shine as the brightness of the firmament: and they that be turne many to righteousness, [shall shine as] stars, for euer & euer.

4 But thou, O Daniel, shut by the wordes, and seale the booke: till the ende of the time: many shall runne to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 Then I Daniel looked, and behelde, there stood other two, the one on this side of the brinke of the riuer,

The Angel forwarneth the Jewes that when they should see the Romans invade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that they should not thinke but that all this was done by Gods providence, forasmuch as he warned them of it so long ago, and therefore they would still preferre them.

d Hearing that Celsius was flaine and Antiochus discomfited.

e For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antiochus had lost.

f The Romanes after this reigned quietly throught all countreys, and from sea to sea, and in Tudca: but at length for their crueltie God shall destroy them.

The Angel here noteth two things: first that the Church shall be in great affliction & trouble as Christes coming, and next that God will sende his Angel to deliuer it, whome here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is promised by the Gospel.

g Opening, at that time in the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faithful should haue euer their respect to Christ: for in the earth there shall be no rest comfort.

h Celsius haue kept the true feare of God and his religion. d He chiefe meant the ministers of Gods word, and next, all the faithful which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God. e Though the most part despise thy prophesie, yet keepe thou it sure and esteeme it as a treasure. f Till the time I God hath appointed for the full reuelation of these things: and then many that runne to and fro to search the knowledge of these mysteries which things they obtaine now by the light of the Gospel. g Which was Egipt.

and

in appearing such as bare the name of Jewes, but in deede were nothing less: for they toke their soules, and be trayed their brethren for gaue.

o Therby he reprocheth the goodly to confesse although they should perishe a thousand times, although their miseries endure neuer so long.

p As God will not leaue his Church destitute, yet will he not deliuer it all at once, but so helpe, as they may still seeme to fight vnder the crosse, as he did in the time of Isaac: whereas here hee prophesie.

q There is there shall be an after this final tribulation, many hypocrites.

r To wit of them that feare God and will lose their life for the defence of true religion, signifying also that if Church must continual be tried and purged, and ought to looke for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time, therefore we must obeye. s Because the Angels purpose is to deuide the whole course of the persecutions of the Jewes vnto the coming of Christ, he now speaketh of the worshipping of the Romanes, which hee noteth by the name of a King, who were worshipped all religion and condemned the true God.

t So long the Romanes shall preuaile as God hath appointed to true his people: but he knoweth that it is but for a time.

u The Romanes shall observe no certain forme of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasures, yea, condemn them and preferre the miseries to the gods.

x Signifying, that they should be without all humanity: for the loue of women is taken for singular or great loue, as 2 Sam. 1. 26. y That is, the god of power and riches: they shall esteeme their owne power aboue all their gods and worship it.

z Under pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall emble their citie with the most precious iewels of all the world, because that hereby all men should haue them in admiration for their power and riches.

a Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should haue bene despised as heathens: but this was to increase their same riches: and when they came any countrey, they made others the rulers thereof, that the profite euer came to them.

b That is, both the Egyptians and the Syrians shall at length fight against the Romanes, but they shall be overcome.

and the other on that side of the brinke of the river.

6 And [one] said vnto the man clothed in linen, which was vpon the waters of the river, when [shalbe] the ende of these wonders:

8 Then I heard it, but I vnderstood it not: then said I, O my Lorde, what shalbe the end of these things:

<sup>h</sup> Which was as it were a double sepe: did the moie confirme the thing.

<sup>i</sup> Speaking, a long time, a longer time, and at lengthe shoye time: signifying that their troubles should haue an ende.

10 Hanie shall bee purified, made white, and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly, and none of the wicked shall haue vnderstanding: but the wise shall vnderstand.

11 And from the time that the<sup>l</sup> dayly sacrifice shall bee taken away, and the abominable defolation set vp, there<sup>m</sup> [shalbe] a thousande, two hundredeth & ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed [is he] that wayteth and cometh to the thousande, three hundredeth & five and thirtie dayes.

13 But go<sup>n</sup> thou thy way till th<sup>o</sup> ende [be]: for thou shalt rest and stande vp in thy lot, at the ende of the dayes.

though it be deferred. <sup>n</sup> In this number hee addeth a moneth and an halfe to the former number, signifying<sup>p</sup> it is not in man to appoint the time of Christs coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing. The Angel warneth the Prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying that he should beare this life, and rise againe with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his Church.

<sup>m</sup> Signifying that the time shalbe long of Christs seruing, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and subtile counsell of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, and in steade of his true seruice commanded by his worde worshipped him according to their owne fantasies and traditions of men, giuing themselves to most vile idolatrie and superstition, the Lord from time to time sent them Prophets to call them to repentance: but they grewe euer worse and worse, and still abused Gods benefits. Therefore now when their prosperitie was at the highest vnder Ieroboam the sonne of Ioash, God sent Hosea and Amos to the Israelites (as he did at the same time Ishaiah & Micah to them of Iudah) to condemne the of their ingratitude: and where as they thought themselves to be greatly in the fauour of God, and to be his people, the Prophet calleth them bastards and children borne in adulterie: and therefore sheweth them that God would take away their kingdom, and giue them to the Assyrians to be led away captiues. Thus Hosea faithfully executed his office for the space of seuentie yeeres, though they remained still in their vices and wickednes, and derided the Prophets, and contemned Gods iudgements. A complaint against the people, and the Priests of Israel.

HERE are the wordes of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controuersie with the inhabitants of the land, because there [is] no trueth, nor mercie nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, & lying, and killing, and stealing, and whoring they breake out, and blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore shall the lande mourne, and every one that dwelleth therein, shall be cut off, with the beastes of the feld, & with the fowles of the heaven, and also the fishes of the sea shall be taken away.

4 Yet let none rebuke, nor reprove another: for thy people [are] as they that rebuke the Priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in [the] day, and the prophet shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.

6 By people are destroyed for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, I will also refuse thee, that thou shalt be no Priest to me: and seeing thou hast forgotten the Lawe of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me: [therefore] will I chaunge their glory into shame.

8 They eate by the finnes of my people, and lift up their mindes in their iniquitie.

9 And there shall bee like people, like priest: for I will visite their wayes by stockes, and reward them their deedes.

10 For they shall eate, and not have y enough: they shall commit adultery, and shall not increase, because they haue left off to take heede to the Lord.

11 Whoredome, and wine, and new wine take away [their] heart.

12 By people aske counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornications hath caused [them] to erre, & they haue gone a whoring from vnder their God.

2 The floore, & the wine presse shall not feede them, and the newe wine shall fayle in her.

3 They will not dwell in Lords land, but Ephraim will returne to Egypt, and they will eat vnicleane things in Asshur.

4 They shall not offer wine to the Lord, neither shall their sacrifices bee pleasant vnto him: but they shall bring to the Lord as the bread of mourners: all that eate thereof, shall be polluted: for their bread for their soules shall not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What will yee doe then in the solenne day, and in the day of the feast of the Lord?

7 The dayes of visitation are come: the dayes of reconpence are come: Israel shall knowe it: the Prophet is a foole: the spirituall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquitie: therefore the hatred is great.

8 The watchman of Ephraim should be with my God: but the Prophet is the snare of a fouler in all his wayes, and hatred in the house of his God.

9 They are deeply set: they are corrupt as in dayes of Sibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquitie, he will visite their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness: I sawe your fathers as the first ripe in figge tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-Peor, and separated themselves vnto that shame, and their abominations were according to their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shall flee away like a bird: from the birth, and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring by their children, yet I will depriue them from being men: yea, woe to them, when I depart from them.

13 Ephraim, as I sawe, is as a tree in Tyus planted in a cottage: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murtherer.

14 O Lord, giue them: what wilt thou giue the: giue the a baren wombe and drie breasts.

15 All their wickednes is in Gilgal: for there doe I hate the: for the wickednes of their inventions, I wil cast them out of mine house: I will loue them no more: all their princes are rebels.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their roote is dried by: they can bring no fruite: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I flay euen the dearest of their bodie.

17 Hy God will cast them away, because they did not obey him: & they shall wander among the nations.

Ephraim is fedde<sup>a</sup> with the wind, and soloweth after the East wind: he encreaseth daily lies and destruction, & they do make a covenant with Asshur, and boyle is caried into Egypt.

2 The Lord hath also a controuersie with Judah, and will visite Iakob, according to his wayes: according to his workes will he recompence him.

3 He tooke his brother by the heele in the wombe, and by his strength he had powder with God.

4 And had powder ouer the Angel, & preailed: he wept and prayed vnto him: he found him in Beth-el, and there hee spake with vs.

5 Hea the Lorde God of hostes, the Lord is himselfe his memoriall.

6 Therefore turne thou to thy God: keepe mercie and iudgement, and hope still in thy God.

7 He is Canaan: & ballaces of deceit [are] in his hand: he loueth to oppresse.

9 Though I am the Lord thy God, from the land of Egypt, yet wil I make thee to dwell in the tabernacles, as in the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I haue also spoken by & Prophets, & I haue multiplied visions, & used similitudes by the ministration of the Prophets.

11 Is there iniquitie in Gilead: surely they are banite: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal, & their altars [are] as heapes in the furrowes of the field.

The abomination of Israel, & And cause of their destruction.

When Ephraim spake, there was<sup>a</sup> trebling: he<sup>b</sup> exalted himself in Israel, but he hath sinned in Baal, and is dead.

3 Therefore they shalbe as the morning cloude, and as the morning dewe that passeth away, as the chaffe that is driuen with a whirlewinde out of the floore, and as the smoke that goeth out of the chimney.

4 Yet I am the Lord thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no God but me: for there [is] no Sauer beside me.

5 I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of drought.

6 As in their pastures, so were they filled: they were filled, and their heart was exalted: therefore haue they forgotten me.

7 And I will bee vnto them as a very lyon, [and] as a leopard in the way of Asshur.

8 I will meete them, as a beare that is robbed of her whelpes, and I will breake the hallow of their heart, and there wil I deuoure them like a lyon: the wilde beaste shall teare them.

9 O Israel, one hath destroyed thee, but in me [is] thine helpe.

10 I am I: where is thy King, that should helpe thee in all thy cities: and thy iudges, of whom thou saiest, Give me a King, and princes:

11 I gaue thee a king in mine anger, & I tooke him away in my wrath.

12 The iniquitie of Ephraim [is] bounde vp: his sinne [is] hid.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet Joel first rebuketh the of Iudah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaine still obdurate. Secondly he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew deadly to a more hardnesse of heart, and rebellion against God notwithstanding his punishments. And to doing, he promifeth that God will be mercifull, and not forget his covenant that he made with their fathers: but will fende his Christ who shall gather the scattered sheepe, and restore them to life, and liberie, though they seemed to be dead.

11 And the Lord shall utter his voyce before his hoste: for his hoste is very great: for [he is] strong & doeth his word: for the day of the Lord is great and very terrible, and who can abide it?

THE ARGUMENT.

Among many other Prophets that God raised vp to admonish the Israelites of his plagues for their wickednesse and idolatry, he stirred vp Amos, who was an herdman or shepherd of a poore towne, and gaue him both knowledge and constancie to reprove all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible iudgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had liued as it were in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes will punish them, that they could looke for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lorde by vnfeined repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the coming of the Messiah, by whome they should haue perfite deliuerance and saluation.

CHAP. III.

He reproved the house of Israel of ingratitude. 11 For the which God will punish them.

HEare this worde that the Lorde pronounceth against you. O children of Israel, [e]uen against the whole familie which I brought by from the land of Egypt, saying,

2 You onely haue I knowen of all the families of the earth: therefore I will visite you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walke together except they be agreed?

4 And a lyon roare in the forest, whē he hath no pray: or will a Lyons whelp crye out of his denne, if he haue taken nothing?

5 Can a birde fall in a snare bypon the earth, where no fouler is: or wil he take by the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Will I haile a trumpet be blowen in the cite, and the people be not afrayde: or shall there be euill in a cite, and the Lorde hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lorde God will do nothing, but he<sup>b</sup> reuileth his secreete vnto his seruants the Prophets.

8 The Lyon hath roared: who will not be afrayde? the Lorde God hath spoken: who can but prophete?

9 Proclaime in the palaces at<sup>k</sup> Ath-dod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble your selues bypon y<sup>e</sup> mountaines of Samaria: so behold the great tumultes in the mids thereof, and the oppressed in the muddes thereof.

10 For they knowe not to doe right, saith the Lorde: they stoge by violence, and robbérie<sup>i</sup> in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, An aduersarie [shall come] euen round about the cōtrey, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoyled.

12 Thus saith the Lorde, As the shep-herd taketh<sup>m</sup> out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a peece of an eare: so shal the children of Israel be taken out that dwel in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in<sup>n</sup> Damascus, [as in] a couch.

13 Heare, & testifie in the house of Jaakob, saith y<sup>e</sup> Lorde God, y<sup>e</sup> God of hostes.

k He calleth the strangers, as the Philistines and Egyptians to be witnesses of Gods iudgements against the Israelites for their crueltye and oppression. l The fruite of their crueltye and their apparer by their great riches, which they haue in their houses. m When the Lyon hath faciate his hunger, the shepheard smeth a legge or a tippie of an eare to the use that the shepe hath bene woied. n Where they thought to haue had a sure holdcann, to haue bene in safetie.

a I haue on-ly chosen you to be mine among all o-ther people, and yet you haue forsaken me.

b I hereby the Prophet signi-fyeth that he speaketh not of him selfe, but as God guideth and moueth him, which is called the agreement betwene God and his Pro-phetes. c Will God threaten by his Prophets, except there be some great occasion?

d Can any thing come without Gods prouidence? e Shall his threatenings be in vain? f Shall the Prophets threaten Gods iudgements and the people not be afrayde?

g Doth any aduersitie come without Gods ap-ointment? h As 45.7.

i God dea-leth not with the Israelites as he doeth with other people: for he careth earnestly for the safety of his plagues by his Pro-phetes.

j Because the people cure murmured against the Prophets, he sheweth that Gods Spirit moued them so to speake as they did. k He calleth the strangers, as the Philistines and Egyptians to be witnesses of Gods iudgements against the Israelites for their crueltye and oppression. l The fruite of their crueltye and their apparer by their great riches, which they haue in their houses. m When the Lyon hath faciate his hunger, the shepheard smeth a legge or a tippie of an eare to the use that the shepe hath bene woied. n Where they thought to haue had a sure holdcann, to haue bene in safetie.

14 Surely in the day that I shall visite the transgressions of Israel bypon him, I will also visite y<sup>e</sup> altars of Beth-el, and the homes of the altar shall be broken off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will finite the winter house with the sommer house, and the houses of yuozie shall perish, and the great houses shall be consumed, saith the Lorde.

CHAP. IIII.

Against the gouernours of Samaria.

HEare this worde, ye<sup>e</sup> kine of Bashan that are in the moste staine of Samaria, which oppresseth the poore, [and] destroy the needie, and they lay to their masters, Bring, and let vs drinke.

2 The Lorde God hath sworne by his holinesse, that loe, the dayes shall come bypon you, that he will take you away with thornes, and your posteritie with fish hookes.

3 And ye shall goe out at the breaches euery holw<sup>e</sup> forward: & ye shall cast your selues out of the palace, saith the Lorde.

4 Come to Beth-el, and transgresse: to Gilgal, and multiplie transgression, and bring your sacrifices in y<sup>e</sup> morning, [and] your tithes after three yeeres.

5 And offer a thanksgiving<sup>e</sup> oflea-uen, publish [and] proclaime the free of-ferings: for this liketh you, O ye chil-dren of Israel, saith the Lorde God.

6 And therefore haue I giuen you cleamelle of teeth in al your cities, and scarcenelle of bread in all your places, yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lorde.

7 And also I haue withholden the raine from you, when there [were] yet three moneths to y<sup>e</sup> haruest, & I caused it to raine bypon one cite, & haue not rained it to raine bypon an other cite: one pierce was rained bypon, and the pierce whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two [or] three cities Wandred vnto one cite to drinke water, but they were<sup>k</sup> not satisfied: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lorde.

9 I haue smitten you with blasting and milbeve: your great gardens and your vineyardes, and your figge trees, and your olive trees did the palmer worme deuoure: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lorde.

10 Pestilence haue I sent among you, after the maner of Egypt: your young c He allueth to fishers which catch fish by hookes and thornes.

returne to me by repentance. k They could not find water enough, where they had heard say it had rained. l As I plagued the Egyptians, Exodus 9.10.

men haue I laine with the sword, and haue taken away your horses: and I haue made the stinke of your tentes to come by euén into your nostrils: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

11 I haue ouerthrowen you, as God ouerthroweth Sodom and Gomorrah: and ye were as a fire brand plucked out of the burning: yet haue ye not returned vnto me, saith the Lord.

12 Therefore, thus will I doe vnto thee, O Israel: and because I will doe this vnto thee, prepare to meete thy God, O Israel.

13 For loe, he that formeth the mountaines, and createth the winde, and declareth vnto man what is his thought: which maketh the morning darkenesse, and walketh vpon the hie places of the earth, the Lord God of hostes [is] his Name.

CHAP. V.

A lamentation for the captiuitie of Israel.

Eare ye this worde, which I lift vp vpon you, [euén] a lamentation of the house of Israel.

2 The virgin Israel is fallen, [and] shall no more rise: she is left vpon her land, [and] there is none to raise her vp.

3 For thus saith the Lord God, The cite which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundredeth: and that which went forth by an hundredeth, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Beth-el, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Beth-el shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lord, and ye shall liue, least he breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph and denouce it, and there [be] none to quench it in Beth-el.

7 They turne iudgement to wrath, wood, and leaue off righteousness in the earth.

8 He maketh Bleiades, and Orion, and he turneth the shadow of death into the morning, & he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the sea, & pouerth them out vpon the open earth: the Lord [is] his Name.

9 He strengtheneth the destroyer against the mightie: and the destroyer shall come against the fortreffe.

10 They haue hated him, that reburied in the gate: and they abhorred him that speaketh brightly.

11 Forasmuch then as you treading [is] vpon the poore, and ye take from him burdens of wheate, ye haue built houses of heben stone, but ye shall not dwell in them: ye haue planted pleasant vineyardes, but ye shall not drinke wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewarde, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the prudent shall keepe silence in that time, for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good and not euill, that ye may liue: and the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 Hate the euill, and loue the good, and establish iudgement in the gate: it may be that the Lord God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

16 Therefore Lord God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shall be in all streetes: and they shall lay in all the hie wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, to mourning.

17 And in all the vines [shall be] lamentation: for I wil passe through thee, saith the Lord.

18 Wo vnto you, that desire the day of the Lord: what haue you to doe with it: the day of the Lord [is] darknes and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lyon, and a beare met him: or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the Lord be darkenes, and not light: euén darkenes, and no light in it?

21 I hate [and] abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer mee burnt offrings and meate offrings, I will not accept them: neither wil I regard the peace offrings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from mee the multitude of thy songs (for I wil not heare the melodie of thy vioules)

24 And let iudgement runne downe as waters, and righteousness as a mightie riuer.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices

W O to them that are at eaſe in Zion & truſt in the mountaine of Samaria, <sup>b</sup> Which were famous at the beginning of the nations: and the houſe of Iſrael came to them.

2 So you vnto Calnech, and ſee: and from thence go you to Hamath <sup>p</sup> great: then goe downe to Gaſh of the Philiftins: be they better then theſe kingdomes: or the border of their land greater then your border,

7 Therefore now ſhall they go captiue with the fiſt that goe captiue, and the ſozow of them that ſtretched themſelues, is at hand.

God ſheweth certaine viſions, where by he ſignifieth the deſtruction of the people of Iſrael. 10 The falſe accusation of Amos. 12 His craſtie counſell.

CHAP. I.

3 Jonah fled when he was sent to preach. 4 A tempest ariseth, and he is cast into the sea for his disobedience.

The Worde of the Lorde came also into Iona
the sonne of Amittai,
saying,
2 Arise, [and] goe to b Nineueh, that great citie, & cry against it: for their Wickednesse is come vp before me.

3 But Jonah rose vp to <sup>d</sup> flee into Tarshish from the presence of the Lord and went downe to <sup>e</sup> Japho: and hee founde a shippe going to Tarshish: so he payed the fare thereof, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tarshish, from the <sup>f</sup> presence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord sent out a great winde into the sea, and there was a mightie tempest in the sea, so that the shippe was like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraide, and cryed every man vnto his god, and cast the wares that were in the shippe, into the sea to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone dole vne into the sides of the shippe, and he lay dole vne, and was fast a sleepe.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and saide vnto him, what meanest thou, O sleeper: Arise, call vpon thy<sup>h</sup> God, if so be that God will thinke vpon vs, that we perish not.

7 And they saide euery one to his fellowe, Come, and let vs cast lottes, that we may know, for whose cause this euill [is] vpon vs. So they cast lottes, and the lot fell vpon Jonah.

8 Then saide they vnto him, Tell vs for whose cause this euill [is] vpon vs:
what is thine occupation: and Whence commiest thou: Which is thy countrey:
and of what people art thou:

9 And hee answered them, I am an Ebrew, and I feare the Lorde God of heauen, which hath made the sea, and the drie land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraide, and said vnto him, why hast thou done this: (for the men knewe, that he fled from the presence of the Lorde, because he had tolde them) but in matters of great importance,

11 Then saide they vnto him, what shall we doe vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs: (for the sea wrought and was troublous)

12 And he saide vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea: so shall the sea be calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheſſe, the men rolled to bring it to the lande, but they could not:
for the ſea wrought, and was troublous againſt them.

14. wherefore they cried vnto <sup>s</sup> Lord, and said, <sup>k</sup> we beseech thee, O Lord, we beseeche thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not vpon vs innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done, as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke by Jonah, and cast him into the sea, and the sea ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men<sup>1</sup> feared the Lorde exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made bolwies.

2 Arise, go vnto Nineueh that great cite, and preach vnto it the preaching, which I bid thee.

3 So Jonah arose and went to Nineueh according to the word of the Lorde: now Nineueh was a great and excellent cite of thre dayes iourney.

4 And Jonah began to enter into the cite a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and saide, Pet fourtie dayes, and Nineueh shall be ouerthrowen.

5 So the people of Nineueh beleued God and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth from the greatest of them enen to the least of them.

6 For worde came vnto the King of Nineueh, and hee rose from his throne, and hee layed his robe from him, and couered him with sackcloth, and sate in ashes.

7 And hee proclaimed & said through Nineueh, (by the counsell of the King and his nobles) saying, Let neither man, nor beast, bullocke nor sheepe taste any thing, neither feede nor drinke water.

8 But let man and beast put on sackcloth, and crie mightily vnto God: yea, let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednes that is in their hands.

9 Who can tell [if] God will turne, and repent and turne away from his fierce wrath, that hee perish not?

10 And God saw their woorkes that they turned from their euill wayes: and God repented of the euill that hee had saide that he would doe vnto them, and he did it not.

CHAP. III.

The great goodnesse of God toward his creatures,

Herefore it displeased <sup>a</sup>Jonah exceedingly, and hee was angrie.

2 And hee prayed vnto the Lorde, and saide, I pray thee, O Lord, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my countrey: therefore I preuented it to flee vnto <sup>b</sup>Earthly: for I knewe that thou art a gracious God, and mercifull, slowe to anger, and of great kindenesse, and repentest thee of the euill.

3 Therefore now, O Lord, take, I beseeche thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to die then to liue.

4 Then saide the Lorde, Doest thou well to be angrie?

5 So Jonah went out of the cite and sate on the East side of the cite, and there made him a boote, and sate vnder it in the shadowe: till hee might see what should be done in the cite.

6 And the Lorde God prepared a gourd, and made it to come by ouer Jonah, that it might be a shadowe vnder his head, and deliuer him from his griefe. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worme when the morning rose the next daye, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the sunne did arise, God prepared also a feruent East winde: and the sunne bet vpon the head of Jonah, that hee fainted, and wished in his heart to die, and said, it is better for me to die, then to liue.

9 And God saide vnto Jonah, Doest thou well to be angrie for the gourd? And hee said, I do well to be angrie vnto the death.

10 Then saide the Lorde, Thou hast had pittie on the gourd for the which thou hast not laboured, neither made it growe, which came vp in a night, and perished in a night,

11 And shouldst not I spare Nineueh that great cite, wherein are fire score thousand persons, that cannot discern betweene their right hand, and their left hand, and [also] much cattell?

12 Thus God mercifullly repented him, which would haue destroyed Nineueh, and hee spared it.

a Because hereby he should be taken as a false Prophet, and in the name of God, which he preached, he should be blasphemed. b Read Chap. 1. 3.

c Thus hee is grieved of griefe hearing that Gods name by this forgiveness might be blasphemed as though hee sent his Prophets forth to denounce his iudgements in vaine. d While thou be iudge when I doe things for my glorie, and when I do not?

e For hee would as yet whether God would destroy them mercie or no: and therefore after fourtie dayes hee departed out of the cite, looking what still God would sende.

f Which then a further means, to conuer him from the heat of the sunne, as hee remained in his boote.

g This declarerth the great inconueniencyes wherinto God would not suffer them to fall when they giue place to their owne offences, and do not in all things willingly submit themselves to God. h Thus God mercifullly repented him, which would haue destroyed Nineueh, and hee spared it. i Meaning that they were children, infants,

THE ARGUMENT.

Micah the Prophet of the tribe of Judah served in the worke of the Lord, concerning Judah and Israel, at the least thirteene yeeres: at what time Isaiah prophesied. He declareth the destruction, first of the one kingdome, and then of the other, because of their manifold wickednes, but chiefly for their idolatrie. And to this ende he noteth the wickednes of the people, the crueltie of the princes, and gouernours, and the permission of the false Prophets, and the deliting in them. Then he setteth forth the coming of Christ, his kingdome, and the felicitie thereof. This Prophet was not that Micah, which resisted Ahab, and all his false prophets, as 1. King. 22. 8. but another of the same name.

CHAP. I.

1 The destruction of Iudah & Israel because of their idolatrie.

The word of the Lord, that came vnto Micah the Morazhite in the dayes of Iotham, Ahas, & Hsekiah kings of Iudah, which hee had concerning Samaria & Ierusalem.

2 Heare, all ye people: hearken thou, O earth, and all that therein is, and let the Lord God be witnesse against you, euen the Lord from his holy Temple.

3 For beholde, the Lord commeth out of his place, and will come downe, and treade vpon the hie places of the earth.

4 And the mountaines shall melt vnder him (so shall the baileys cleaue) as ware before the fire, and as the waters that are powdered doth inward.

5 For the wickednes of Iacob [is] all this, and for the finnes of the house of Israel: what is the wickednes of Iacob: He is not Samaria: and which are his cities: places of Iudah: He is not Ierusalem:

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heape of the fildes, [and] for the planting of a vineyard, and I wil cause the stones thereof to tumble downe into the balley, and I will discouer the foundations thereof.

7 And all the grauen images thereof shall be broken, and all the giftes thereof shall be burnt with the fire, and all the idoles thereof will I destroy: for the gathered it of the hye of an harlot, & they shal returne to the wages of an harlot.

8 Therefore I wil mourne & howle: I will go without clothes, and naked: I will make lamentation like the dragons, and mourning as the ostriches.

9 For her plagues are greiuous: for it is come into Iudah: the enemye is come vnto the gate of my people, vnto Ierusalem.

10 Declare ye it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphyah roule thy selfe in the dust.

11 Thou that dwellest at Shaphir, go together naked with shame: the that dwelleth at Zaanan, shall not come forth in the mourning of Beth-el: [the enemye] shall receiue of you for his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth waited for good, but euill came from the Lord vnto the gate of Ierusalem.

13 Thou inhabitant of Lachish, binde the charret to the beasts of price: the is the beginning of the sinne to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou giue presents to Horzeth: Gath the houses of Achizib shall be as a lie to kings of Israel.

15 Yet will I bring an here vnto thee. O inhabitant of Beth-el, he shall come vnto Aduilan, & glorie of Israel.

16 Make thee bald: and shaueth thee for thy delicate children: enlarge thy baldrick as the eagle, for they are gone into captiuitie from thee.

CHAP. II.

1 Thearnings against the manton and delicate people. 6 They would reach the prophets to please.

Vnto them, that imagine iniquitie, & worke wickednes vpon their beds: When the morning is light they practise it because their hand hath power.

2 And they couer fieldes, & take them by violence, and houses, and take them away: so they oppresse a man and his house, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, against this familie haue I deuised a plague, whereout ye shall not plucke your neckes, and ye shall not goe [so] proudly h Left the Christians our enemies to hope at our destruction.

i Which was a cite neere to Ierusalem, Josh. 18. 23.

k There called Ophrah, and signified dust: therefore hee willed them to mourne, and roule themselves in the dust for their dutie cite.

l These were cities wherupon the enemy should passe as he came to Iudah.

m He shall not depart before he hath overcome you, so you that pay for his carrying.

n For Rab-bah was a citie by Ierusalem, that they could not send to succour them.

o To see away: for Saneherib layd siege first to that cite, and remained therein when he sent his captiues, and armie against Ierusalem.

p Thou shalt hibe the idolatrie of Jeroboam, and so didst infect Ierusalem.

q Hee prophesied against his owne cite, and because it signified an heritage, he saith that God would send an here to possesse it.

r For so they thought themselves for the strength of their cite.

s They would reach the prophets to please.

t Affone as they rise, they execute their wicked deuil of the night, and according to their power hurt others.

whome hee had so oft exhorted to repentance, hee humbly entreated them to Gods iudgements

c Speaking hereby that God will come to iudgement against the strong cities and holdes.

d Samaria, which should haue bene an example to all Israel of true religion and iustice, was the people and tribes of all idolatrie and corruption, and howe themselves of their father Iacob.

e That is the idolatrie and infection.

f Which they gathered by euill practices, and thought that their idoles had enriched them therewith for their seruice vnto them.

g The gaines that came by their idoles, shalbe consumed as a thing of nought: for as the wages of riches of harlots are wickedly gotten, so are they wisely and speedily spent.

b Thus the

4 In that day shall they take by a parable against you, and lament with a dolefull lamentation, and say, <sup>b</sup> we be bitterly waisted: he hath changed the portion of my people: holwe hath he taken it away to restore it vnto me: hee hath deuided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt haue none that shall cast a toyde by lot in the Congregation of the Lord.

6 They that prophesied, Prophecie ye not. They shall not prophesie to them, neyther shall they take shame.

7 O thou that art named the house of Iacob, is <sup>c</sup> Spirit of the Lord thorned: are these his workes: are not my wordes good vnto him: that walke in brightness?

8 But he that was <sup>d</sup> yesterday my people, is risen vp on the other side, [as] against an enemy: they spoyle the beautifull garment from them: that passe by peaceably; as though they returned from the warre.

9 The Women of my people haue ye cast out from their pleasant houses, [e] from their children haue ye taken away my glory continually.

10 Arise & depart, for this is not [your] rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy [you], euen with a force destruction.

11 If a man walke in the Spirit, and would lie falsely, [saying], I will prophesie vnto thee of wine, and of strong drinke, he shall euen be the Prophet of this people.

12 I will surely gather <sup>e</sup> thee wholly, O Iacob: I will surely gather the remnant of Israel: I will put them together as the sheepe of Borsah, [euen] as the flocke in the muddes of their fold: [the cities] shall be full of buz of the men.

13 The <sup>f</sup> breaker by shall come by before them: they shall breake out, & passe by the gate, and go out by it, and their king shall go before them, and the Lord [shall be] <sup>g</sup> vpon their heads.

CHAP. IIL

Against the tyrannie of princes and false prophets.

And I sayde, Heare, I pray you, O heads of Iacob, & ye princes of the house of Israel: should not ye knowe indgement:

2 [But] they hate the good, and loue the euil: they plucke off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eate also the <sup>b</sup> flesh of my people, and slaye off their skime from them, and they breake their bones, and chop them in piertes, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto <sup>c</sup> the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus sayeth the Lord, Concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, & bite them with their teeth, & crye peace, but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore night shall be vnto you for a vision, and darkenes [shall be] vnto you for a diminution, and the sunne shall go downe ouer the Prophets, and <sup>d</sup> day shall be darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the Seers be ashamed, and the footlayers confounded: yea, they shall all couer their lippes, for they haue none answer of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of strength to declare vnto Iacob his transgression, and to [Israel] his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heades of the house of Iacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 They build by Zion with <sup>e</sup> blood, and Jerusalem with iniquitie.

11 The heads thereof iudge for rewards, and the Priests thereof teach for hire, and the Prophets thereof prophesie for money: yet will they <sup>f</sup> leane vpon the Lord, and say, Is not the Lord among vs: no euill can come vpon vs.

12 Therefore shall Zion for your sake be <sup>g</sup> ploued [as] a field, and Jerusalem shall be an heape, and the mountaine of the house, as the hie places of <sup>h</sup> forest.

g The Prophet being assured of his vocation by <sup>i</sup> spirit of God, setteth himselfe alone against al <sup>j</sup> wicked, shewing how God both gaue him gifts, habi-tude, and knowledge to discern betweene good & euill, and also constantie to revolute the sinnes of the people, and not to flatter them. h They builde their they are the people of God, and abuse his Name as a pretence to cloke their hy-pocrisie. k Reade Ierem. 23, 18.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the diuine creatures to heare the iudgement against a Irael being unkinde. 6 What manner of sacrifices do please God.

Hearken ye now he what the Lord sayth, Arise thou, [and] contend [before] the mountaynes, let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare ye, O mountaynes, I Lords quarell, and ye mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarell against his people, and hee will pleade with Irael.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee: or wherein haue I grieved thee: relesie against me.

4 Surely I<sup>b</sup> brought thee by out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of seruants, and I haue sent before thee, Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.

5 O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab had deuised, and what Balaam the sonne of Beor answered him, from Shittim vnto Gilgal, till I brought you into the land promised.

gal, that ye may know the<sup>d</sup> righteousness of the Lord.

6 Whereby<sup>e</sup> shall I come before the Lord, and bolde my selfe before the hie God: Shal I come before him with burnt offerings, [and] with calves of a yeere olde:

7 Will I Lord be pleased with thousands of rammes, or with ten thousand riuers of oyle: Shall I giue my<sup>f</sup> first borne for my transgression, [euén] the fruite of my body, for the sinne of my soule:

8 Hee hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what the Lord requireth of thee: surely to do iustly, and to loue mercie, and to humble thy selfe, to walke with thy God.

9 The Lords voyce cryeth vnto the<sup>h</sup> citie, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: heare the roe, and who hath appointed it.

10 Are yet the treasures of wickednes in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, that is adominable:

11 Shall I iustifie the wicked balances, and the bag of deceitfull weights:

12 For the rich men thereof are full of crueltie, and I inhabitants thereof haue spoken lies, and their tongue [is] deceitfull in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I make thee sicke in smiting thee, [and] in making thee desolate, because of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eate and not be satisfied, and thy tasting downe [shalbe] in the middes of thee, and thou shalt take holde, but shalt not deliuer: and that which thou deliuerest, will I giue vp to the sword.

15 Thou shalt solue, but not reape: thou shalt treade the olives, but thou shalt not anoynt thee with oyle, and [make] sweete wine, but shalt not drinke wine.

16 For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the manner of the house of Ahab, and ye walke in their counsels, that I should make thee waste, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall beare the reprocche of my people.

that the cite should go about to saue her men, as they that lay hold on that which they would preferre. m You haue receiued all the corruption and idolatrie, where with the ten tribes were infected vnder Omri and Ahab his sonne: and to exalte your doings, you alledge the kings authoritie by his statutes, and also wisdom and policie in so doing, but you shall not escape punishment, but as I haue shewed you great fauour, and taken you for my people, so shall your plagues be accordingly. k Luke 12.47.

CHAP. VII.

1 A complaint for the small number of the righteous. 2 The wickednes of those times. 3 The propheticall of I Church.

k I will destroy all things wherein thou puttest thy confidence, as thy iaine confidence, and idolatrie, and so will helpe thee, l I shall be so terrible that the like hath not heard of, a He taketh the he mountaynes and hard rocks to witness a gainst the obstinacie of his people, b I haue not hurt thee, but bestowed infinite benefites vpon thee, c That is, remember my benefites from the beginning, how I deliuered you from Balams curse, and also spare you from Shittim, which was in the plaine of Moab, till I brought you into the land promised.

d That is, the crueltie of his promises and his manifest benefites toward you. e Thus the people by hypocritie alledge the house to please God, and are content to offer sacrifices but will not change their liues. f There is nothing to deare to man, but the hypocrites will offer it vnto God, if they thinke thereby to asuue his anger: but they will neuer be brought to mortifie their vaine affections and to giue themselves willingly to serue God as hee commandeth. g The prophet in fewe words collecteth the observation of the second table to know if they will obey God as right or no, saying that God hath prescribed them to do this, h speaking, that when God speaketh to any cite or nation, the gospell if they will acknowledge his maiestie, and consider not the mortall man that bringeth the threatening, but God that sendeth it. i That is, of Jerusalem. k Thou shalt be consumed with inward griefe & guilt. l speaking, a The Prophet taketh vp on him the person of the earth, which complainer that all her fruites are gone, so that none is left: that is, that there is no good man remaining: for all are given to crueltie and deceit, so that none speaketh his owne bignesse.

b He sheweth that the prince, the iudge and the rich man are linked together, all to do euill and to rike the wrongs one of another.

c That is, the rich man that is able to give money, abstarreth from no wickedness nor entrie.

d These men are found among themselves & confpire with one consent to do euill.

e They that are of most estimation and are counted most honest among them, are but thoyms and byters to prycke.

f Spanning, of the Prophets.

g Generous.

h The Prophet sheweth that the onely remeedy for the greedy in desperate euill is to flee vnto God for succour.

i This is spoken in the person of the Church, which calleth the malignant Church her enemy.

V is me, for I am as the sommer gatherings, [and] as the grapes of the vintage: there [is] no cluster to eate: my soule desired the first ripe fruites.

2 The good man is perished out of the earth, [and] there [is] none righteous among men: <sup>b</sup> they all lye in wayte for blood: euery man hunteth his brother with a net.

3 To make good for the euill of their hands, the prince asked, and the iudge [iudgeth] for a rewarde: therefore the great man he speaketh out the corruption of his soule: so <sup>c</sup> they wrap it vp.

4 The best of them [is] as <sup>d</sup> a byper, and the most righteous of them [is] harper: then a thorne hedge: the day of thy watchmen [and] thy visitation cometh: then shalbe their confusion.

5 Trust ye not in a friend, neither put ye confidence in a counsellor: keepe the doores of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosome.

6 For <sup>e</sup> some remembereth the father: the daughter riseth vp against her mother: the daughter in law against her mother in law, [and] a mans enemies [are] the men of his owne house.

8 Receiue not against me, <sup>h</sup> mine enemy: though I fail, I shal arise: where I shal sit in darkenes, the Lord [shalbe] a light vnto me.

9 I will beare the wrath of the Lord because I haue sinned against him, but til he pleade my cause, and execute iudgement for me: [then] will he bring me forth to the light, [and] I shall see his righteousnes.

10 Then the that is mine enemy, shal looke vpon it, and shame shal couer her, which said vnto me, where is the Lord thy God: mine eyes shall beholde her: now shall she be troden downe as the 12 In this day also they shall come vnto thee from <sup>l</sup> Asshur, and [from] the strong cities, and from <sup>m</sup> strong holdes: even vnto the river, and from sea to sea, and [from] mountaine to mountaine.

14 <sup>o</sup> Feede thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thine heritage (which dwelt solitarie in the wood) [as] in the mides of Carmel: let them feede in Bashan and Gilead, as in olde time.

16 The nations shall see, and be confounded for all their powber: they shall laye their hand vpon their mouth: <sup>p</sup> their eares shalbe deafe.

17 They shall like the dust like a serpent: they shal moue out of their holes like wormes: they shalbe afraid of the Lord our God, and shall feare because of thee.

18 Who is a God like vnto thee, that taketh away iniquitie, and <sup>q</sup> passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage: he reterneyeth not his wrath for euer, because mercie pleaseh him.

THE ARGUMENT.

As they of Nineueh shewed themselves prompt and readie to receiue the word of God at Ionahs preaching, and so turned to the Lord by repentance: so after a certaine time rather giuing themselves to worldly meanes to encrease their dominion, then seeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begun, they cast off the care of religion, and so returned to their vomite, and provoked Gods iust iudgement against them, in afflicting his people. But because God hath a continuall care of his Church, he sheweth vp his Prophet to comfort the godly, shewing that the destruction of their enemies should be for their consolation. ## C H A P. I.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Irael.

a. Read Isa. 33. 1.

b. The vision or reuelation, wherby Gods commandment is shewed concerning the Assyrians.

c. That is, born in a poore village in the tribe of Simeon.

d. Speaking, of his glory.

e. With his be is but anger for a time, but his anger neuer alwayeth toward the reprobate, though for a time he defer it.

f. Thus the wicked would make Gods mercie an occasion to sinne, but the Prophet wisely conform to confesse his force and iudice.

g. If all creatures be at Gods commandment and none is able to resist his wrath, shall man flatter himselfe and thinke by any meane to escape when he provoked his God to anger?

h. Least the faint heart should be discouraged by hearing the power of Gods, he sheweth them that his mercies are as peraine unto them, and that he hath care over them.

i. Signifying, that God will suddenly destroy Nimuech, and the Assyrians, in such sort as they shall lie in perpetual barmen, and neuer recover their strength againe.

k. The Iewes that the enterprises of the Assyrians against Iudah and the Church, were against God, and therefore he would so destroy them as once, that hee should not neede to returne the second time.

l. Though the Assyrians thinke themselves like chynes that pike on all sides, yet the Lord will set fire on them, and as drunken men are not able to stand against any force, so they shall be nothing able to resist him.

m. Which may be understood either of Saneherib, or of the whole booy of the people of Nimuech.

he burden of Nimuech. The booke of the vision of Iahum the Cethite.

2 God is jealous, and the Lord reuengeth: the Lord reuengeth: even the Lord of anger, the Lord will take vengeance on his aduersaries, & he reuerueth wrath for his enemies.

3 The Lord is slowe to anger, but he is great in power, and will not surely cleare the wicked: the Lord hath his way in the whirlewinde, and in the storme, and the cloudes are the dust of his seete.

4 He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it, and he dryeth vp all the riuers: Bathan is wasted and Carmel, and the floure of Lebanon is wasted.

5 The mountaines tremble for him, and the hilles melt, and the earth is burnt at his sight, yea, the world and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his wrath: or who can abide in the fiercenes of his wrath: his wrath is kindled out like fire, and the rockes are broken by him.

7 The Lord is good: he is as a strong holde in the day of trouble, and hee knoweth them that trust in him.

8 But passing ouer as with a flood, he will utterly destroy the place thereof, and darkenes shall pursue his enemies.

9 What doe ye imagine against the Lord: he will make an better destruction: affliction that not rise by the second time.

10 For hee shall come as vnto thornes folden one in another, and as vnto dunghards in their dunkenness: they shall be deuoured as stubble fully dried.

11 There cometh one out of thee that imagineth euill against the Lord, [even] a wicked counseller.

12 Thus saith the Lord, Though they be quiet, and also many, yet thus shall they be cut off when he shall passe by: though I haue afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now I will breake his yoke from thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the Lord hath giuen a commandement concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sowne: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the grauen, and the molten image: I will make it thy graue for thee, for thou art vile.

15 Sholde vpon the mountaines the seete of him that declareth, and publisheth peace: O Iudah, keepe thy solemn feastes, performe thy vowes: for the wicked shall no more passe through thee: he is utterly cut off.

a. King. 19. 36, 37. Isa. 52. 7. man. 10. 15. p. Which peace the Iewes should enjoy by the death of Saneherib.

C H A P. II.

He describeth the victories of the Caldeans against the Assyrians.

He destroyer is come before thy face: keepe the munition: looke to the way: make thy loynes strong: increase thy strength mightily.

2 For the Lord hath turned away the glorie of Iacob, as the glorie of Irael: for the emptiers haue emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mightie men is made red: the valiant men are in scarlet: the charrets shall be as in the fire, and shames in the day of his preparation, and the fire trees shall tremble.

4 The charrets shall rage in the streets: they shall runne to and fro in the hie wayes: they shall seeme like lampes: they shall shoot like the lightning.

5 He shall remember his strong men: they shall stumble as they go: they shall make haste to the walles thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the riuers shall be opened, and the palace shall melt.

7 And Buzab the Queene shall be led away captiue, and her maydes shall leade her as with the booye of dones, smiting vpon their breasts.

8 But Nimuech is of old like a poole meane to gather their power, but all things shall faile them, g. n. Though they thinke themselves in most safety, and of greatest strength, yet when God shall passe by, he will destroy them notwithstanding he cometh by his Church, and promises to make an ende of punishing them by the Assyrians.

o. Speaking of Saneherib, who should haue no more children, but hee shall be in the house of his gods.

p. Which peace the Iewes should enjoy by the death of Saneherib.

q. That is, Nebuchad-nezzar is in a readines to destroy the Assyrians and the Prophet deniereth the enterprises of the Assyrians which he prepared to resist him.

u. Speaking, that the Iraelites should be crushed together.

v. When the Assyrians shall seeke by all meanes to gather their power, but all things shall faile them.

Stand, stand, shall they crye: but none shall looke backe.

1 Of the fall of Nineveh, 3 No power can escape the hand of God.

Bloodie citie, it is all full of lies, & robbery: the pray departeth not:

2 The noyse of a whip, and the noyse of the mooing of the wheeles, and the beating of the hoxles, and the leaping of the charetes.

3 The horseman lifteth vp both the bright sword, and the glittering speare, and a multitude is slaine, and the dead bodies are many: there is none ende of their corpes: they stumble vpon their corpes,

4 Because of the multitude of the fornications of the harlot that is beautifull, and is a mistress of witchcraft, and selleth the people through her whozedom, & the nations through her witchcraftes.

5 Beholde, I come vpon thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and wil discover thy skirts vpon thy face, and wil shewe the nations thy filthines, & the kingdomes thy shame.

7 And it shall come to passe, that all they that looke vpon thee, shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is destroyed, who wil haue pittie vpon her: Where shall I seeke comforters for thee?

8 Art thou better then No, [which] was full of people: that lay in the riuers, and had the waters round about it: whose ditch was the sea, [and] her wall was from the sea:

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and there was none end: But and Lubim were her helpers.

10 Yet was she caried away, [and] went into captiuitie: her yong children also were dashed in pieces at the head of all the streets: and they cast lottes for her noble men, and all her mightie men were bound in chaines.

11 Altho thou shalt be drunken: thou shalt hide thy selfe, and shalt seeke helpe because of the enemy.

12 All thy strong citis [shall be like] figge trees with the first ripe figs: for if they be shaken, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Beholde, thy people within thee [are] women: the gates of thy land shall be opened vnto thine enemies, [and] the fire shall deuoure thy barres.

14 Drawe thee waters for the sieger: fortifie thy strong holdes: goe into the clay, & temper the morter: make strong buike.

15 There shall the fire deuoure thee: the sword shall cut thee off: it shall eate thee vp like the locusts, [though] thou be multiplied like the locusts, [and] multiplied like the grasshopper.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy marchants about the sharres of heauen: the locust spoyleth and flyeth away.

17 Thy princes [are] as the grasshoppers, and thy captaines as the great grasshoppers which remaine in the bedges in the colde day: [but] when the sunne ariseth, they flee away and their place is not knowne where they are.

18 Thy shepherds doe sleepe, King of Asshur: thy strong men lie downe: thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, and no man gathereth them.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Prophet complaineth vnto God, considering the great felicitie of the wicked, and the miserable oppression of the godly, which indure all kinde of affliction and crueltie, and yet can see none end. Therefore he had this reuelation shewed him of God, that the Caldeans should come and take them away captiues, so that they could looke for none end of their troubles as yet, because of their stubbornnes and rebellion against the Lorde. And least the godly should despair, seeing this horrible confusion, he comforteth them by this that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and crueltie shall be at prayer: wherefore he exhorteth the faithfull to patience by his owne example, & sheweth them a forme of prayer, wherewith they should comfort themselves.

CHAP. I.

2 A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

1 The Prophet complaineth vnto God and bewaileth that among the Iewes is left no brotherly love: but in stead hereof reigneth crueltye, theft, contention and strife.

he burden, which Habakkuk the Prophete did see.

2 O Lord, how long shall I crye, & thou wilt not heare! [euen] crye out vnto thee: for violence, and thou wilt not hepe!

3 Why dost thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to beholde for oyle: for spoyleing & violence are before me: and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

4 Therefore the Lawe is dissolved, and iudgement doeth neuer go forth: for the wicked doeth compassie about the righteous: therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

5 Behold among the heathen, and regarde, and wonder. [in] maruaile: for I will worke a worke in your dayes: ye will not beleue it though it be tolde you.

6 For lo, I raise vp the Caldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shal go vpon the breadth of the land to possesse dwelling places, that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and fearefull: their iudgement and their dignitie shal preceede of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter then the leopards, and are more fierce then the volues in the evening: and their horsemen are many: and their horsemen shal come from farre: they shal slue as the eagle hasting to meate.

9 They come all to spoyle: before their faces shal be as Eastwinde, and they shal gather the captiuitie, as the land.

10 And they shal mocke Kings, and the princes shal be as a fowle vnto them: they shal deride every strong holde: for they shal gather dust, and take it.

11 Then shall they take a courage, and transgresse & doe wickedly, [imputing] this their powder vnto their god.

12 Act not thou of olde, O Lorde my God, mine holy one: we shall not die: O Lorde, thou hast ordeined them for iudgement, and O God, thou hast established them for correction.

13 [Thou art] of pure eyes, and canst not see euill: thou canst not beholde wickednes: wherefore dost thou looke vpon the transgressours, [and] holdest thy tongue when the wicked deuoureth the man, that is more righteous then he:

14 And makest men as the fishes of the sea, [and] as the creeping thinges, that haue no ruler ouer them.

15 They take vp all with the angle: they catch it in their net, and gather it in their yarne, whereof they reioyce and are glad.

16 Therefore they sacrifice vnto their net, & burne incense vnto their yarne, because by them their portion is fat and their meate plentious.

17 Shall they therefore stretch out their nette and not spare continually to slay the nations:

CHAP. II.

2 A vision, 5 Against pride, courtousnes, drunkennes and idolatrie.

I will stand vpon my watch, and set me vpon the towre, and will looke and see what he would say vnto me, and what I shal answer to him that rebuketh me.

2 And the Lord answered me, & said, Write the vision, & make it plaine vpon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the last it shall speake, and not lye: though it tarie, waite: for it shal surely come, [and] shal not stay.

4 Beholde, he that lifteth vp himselfe, his minde is not vpright in him, but the iust shall liue by his faith,

5 Bea in deede the proude man [is as]

1 He assured the gospell of Gods protection, shewing that the enemy can doe no more then God hath appointed, and also that their times required such a sharpe rod.

2 So that the great deuourer the small and the Caldeans destroy all the wayes.

3 Meaning, that the enemies flatter themselves, and gloie in their owne force, power, and wit.

4 Meaning, that they should not,

5 I will re-nounce mine iudgement and once I depende on God to be instructed what I shal answer them that abuse my preaching, and to be armed against all tentations.

6 He that is in great letters, that he that runneth, may reade it.

7 Which contained the description of the enemy, and the comfort of the Church: which thing though God execute not according to mans humane affections, yet the stile of both is certaine at his time appointed.

8 He that is in any worldly thing, is neuer to be quiet: for the onely rest is to stay vpon God by faith.

2 O Lord, I haue heard thy voyce, and was afraide:
O Lord, reuie thy worke in þe mids of the people, in þe mids of the yeres make it knowne: in thy remembrance mercie.

3 God cometh from Teman, and the holy one from mount Paran, Selah. His glorie couereth the heauens, and the earth is full of his payle.

4 And his brightnes was as the light: he had hornes comming out of his hands, and there was the hiding of his powder.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and burning coles went forth before his feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth:
he beheld and dissolued the nations and the euermlasting mountaines were bry-ken, [and] the ancient hilles did bowe:
his wayes are euermlasting.

7 For his [said] I saw the tents

8 Was the Lord angry against the rivers: or was thine anger against the floods: or was thy wrath against the sea,

THE ARGUMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, hee denoun-ceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their country should be viterly destroyed, and they carried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull he prophesied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistims, Moabites, Assyrians & others, to assure them that God had a continuall care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their finnes and transgressions: so he exhorted the godly to patience, and to trust to finde mercie by reason of the free promises of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shewe them the effect of that grace, whereby in the ende they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

THE ARGUMENT.

Seeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, hee denoun-ceth the great iudgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their country should be viterly destroyed, and they carried away captiues by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull he prophesied of Gods vengeance against their enemies, as the Philistines, Moabites, Assyrians & others, to assure them that God had a continuall care ouer them. And as the wicked should be punished for their finnes and transgressions: so he exhorted the godly to patience, and to trust to finde mercie by reason of the free promises of God made vnto Abraham: and therefore quietly to abide till God shewe them the effect of that grace, whereby in the ende they should be gathered vnto him, and counted as his people and children.

2 Before the decree come forth, [and] ye be [as] chaffe that passeth in a day, [and] before the fierre wrath of the Lord come vpon you, & before the day of the Lords anger come vpon you.

3 Seeke ye the Lord all the mecke of the earth, which haue wrought his iudgement: seeke righteousness, seeke lowlines, if so be that ye may be hid in the day of the Lords wrath.

4 For Assyria shalbe forsaken, and Ashkelon desolate: they shall drine out Ashdod at the noone day, and Ekron shalbe rooted vp.

5 Also vnto the inhabitants of the sea coast: the nation of the Cherethims, the worde of the Lord [is] against you, O Canaan, the lande of the Philistines. I will euen destroy thee without an inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shalbe dwellinges [and] cottages for shepheards & shepe-

7 And [that] coast shalbe for the remnant of house of Iudah, to feede thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lodge toward night: for the Lord their God shall visite them, and turne a way their captiuitie.

8 I haue heard the reprocche of Moab, and the rebukes of the children of Ammon, whereby they byzayded my people, and magnified themselves against their borders.

9 Therefore, as I liue, saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, [euen] the breeding of nettles and salt pittes, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my folke shall spoyle them, and the remnant of my people shall possesse them.

10 This shall they haue for their pride, because they haue reproched, and magnified themselves against the Lord of hostes people.

11 The Lord [will be] terrible vnto them: for he will consume all the gods of the earth, and euery man shall worship him from his place, [euen] all the yles of the heathen.

12 We Moabians also shalbe slaine by my sword with them.

13 And he will stretche out his hande against the North, and destroy Ashur, and will make Nineueh desolate, [and] waste like a wilderness.

14 And flockes shall lie in the muddes of her, and all the beastes of the nations, and the pellicane, and the owle shall abide in the vpper postes of it: the boye [of birdes] shall sing in the windowes, [and] desolations shalbe vpon postes: for the ceders are incouered.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of the prophesie of Haggai. 8 An exhortation to builde the Temple againe.

a Who was the sonne of Dabshalus, and the third king of the Persians, as some thinke.

b Because the building of the Temple began to cease by reason that the people were discontented by their enemies: and if these two notable men had neede to be stirred up and admonished of their duties, what shall we thinke of other goduerous, whose doings are either against God, or very colde in his cause?

c Not that they contemned the building thereof, but they preferred policies, and priuie practices to religion, being content with small beginnings.

d Shewing that they thought not on their necessities, but their very pleasures before Gods honour.

e Consider the plagues of God vpon you for preferring your policies to his religion, and because ye seeke not him first of all.

f Meaning, that they should leave off their vniuiccommodities, and go forward in the building of Gods Temple, and in the seeking forth of his religion.

g That is, I will heare your prayers according to my promises, 1 King. 8.27.29.

h That is, my glorie shall be set forth by you. i And so bring it to nothing. k This declared that God was the author of the doctrine, and that he was but the minister, as Eze. 1.3. 1.4. 1.7. 1.10. 1.11. 1.12.

In the seconde yeere of king Darius, in the first moneth, first day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord (by the ministratione of the Prophet Haggai) vnto Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and to Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, This people say, The time is not yet come, that the Lords house should be builded.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by the ministratione of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

4 Is it time for you selues to dwell in your siced houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your heartes.

6 We haue sowed much, and bring in little: ye cate, but ye haue not enough: ye drinke, but ye are not filled: ye clothe you, but ye be not warme: and hee that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Consider your owne wayes in your heartes.

8 Go vpon to the mountaine, and bring wood, and build this house, and I will be fauourable in it, and I will be glorified, saith the Lord.

9 We looked for much, and lo, it came to little: and when ye brought it home, I did blowe vpon it. And why, saith the Lord of hostes: Because of mine house that is waste, and ye runne euery man vnto his owne house.

10 Therefore the heauen ouer you stayed it selfe from dewe, and the earth stayed her fruite.

11 And I called for a drought vpon the land, and vpon the mountaines, & vpon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, vpon all that the ground bringeth forth: both vpon men and vpon catte, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel, & Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest with all the remnant of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord their God, and the wordes of the Prophet Haggai (as the Lord their God had sent him) then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then spake Haggai the Lords messenger in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred by the spirit of Zerubbabel, the sonne of Shealtiel, a prince of Iudah, and the spirit of Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came, and did the worke in the house of the Lord of hostes their God.

CHAP. II.

He sheweth that the glorie of the seconde Temple shall exceede the first.

In the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius,

2 In the seventh moneth, [in the one and twentieth day] of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministratione of the Prophet Haggai, saying,

3 Speake now to Zerubbabel the sonne of Shealtiel prince of Iudah, and to Jehoshua the sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,

4 Who is left among you, that saue this house in her first glorie, and holde do you see it now? Is it not in your eyes, in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good courage, O Zerubbabel, saith the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Jehoshua sonne of Jehozadak the hie Priest: and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and do it: for I am with you, saith the Lord of hostes,

6 [According] to the word that I covenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: so my Spirit shall remaine among you, feare ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens and the earth, and the sea, and the drie land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glorie, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 The silver [is] mine, and the golde [is] mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 The glorie of this last house shall be able to make all the treasures of the world to serue his purpose: but the glorie of this seconde Temple doeth not stand in material things, neither can be built,

l Which be cleareth that men are vnape and dull to serue the Lord, neither can they obey his word: of his messengers be fore God, some their heartes and giue them new spirits, John 6.44.

a For the people, according to Ier. 2.1.1. and Eze. 4.1.1. had prophesied, though this Temple should haue bene more excellent then Salomons temple, which was destroyed by the Babylonians, but the Prophets ment the spiritual Temple the Church of Christ.

b That is, go forward in building the Temple.

c He exhorteth them to patience though they see not as yet this Temple so glorious as the Prophets had declared: for this should be accomplished in Christ by whom all things should be renewed.

d Meaning, Christ by whom all ought to look for and desire: as by desire, he may signifie all precious things, as riches and such like.

e Therefore when his time cometh, he can make all the treasures of the world to serue his purpose: but the glorie of this seconde Temple doeth not stand in material things, neither can be built.

12 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Alke nolbe the Priests [concerning] the Law, and say, 13 If one beare holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt doe touche the bread, or the portage, or the wine, or oyle, or any meate, shall it be holy? And the Priests answered and saide, No.

14 Then saide Haggai, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall it be vncleane: And the Priests answered, and said, It shalbe vncleane.

15 Then answered Haggai, and saide, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, sayth the Lorde: and so [are] all the workes of their hands, and that which they offer here, is vncleane.

16 And nolbe, I pray you, consider in your mindes: from this day, and afoze, [euen] afoze a stone was laide vpon a stone in the Temple of the Lorde:

17 Before these things were, when one came to an heape of twentie [measures], there were but ten: when one came to the wine presse for to drave out fiftie [vessels] out of the presse, there were but twentie.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with misdebe, and with haile, in all the labours of your hands: yet you [turned] not to me, sayth the Lorde.

19 Consider, I pray you, in your mindes, from this day, and afoze from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the fundation of the Lords Temple was layde: consider it in your mindes.

22 Speake to Zerubbabel the prince of Iudah, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth,

24 In that day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will take thee, O Zerubbabel my seruant, the sonne of Shealtiel, sayth the Lorde, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

k From the time they began to builde the Temple, he promised that Gods word blesse them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they shoulde haue plenty.

l He exhorteth them to patience and to abide till the harvest came, and then they shoulde see Gods blessings.

m I will make exchange and renew althings in Christ, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

which is here ment by the night, by the darkness, and by the myrrer trees, which are blacke and give a darke shadow: yet he compareth God to a king, who hath his robes and messengers aboute, by whom he still knoweth his purpose and bringeth his matters to passe.

k Who was the chief among the rest of the housemen. l These signified the diuers offices of Gods Angels by whome God sometime punisheth and sometime comforteth, and bringeth forth his workes in diuers sort. m That is, Christ the mediator praye for the salvation of his Church, which was now troubled when all the countries about them were at rest.

4. Be ye not as your fathers, vnto whom the former Prophets haue cryed, saying, thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Turne you now from your euill wayes, and from your wicked workes: but they would not heare, nor hearken vnto me, sayth the Lorde.

7 Upon the foure and twentieth day of the eleuenth moneth, which is the moneth Shebat, in the second yeece of Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Zechariah the sonne of Berechiah, the sonne of Iddo the Prophet, saying,

8 I sawe by night, and beholde a man riding vpon a red horse, and hee stoode among the myrrer trees, that were in a botrome, and behinde him were there red horses speckled and white.

9 Then saide I, O my Lorde, what are these: And the Angel that talked with me, saide vnto me, I will shewe thee what these be.

10 And the man that stoode among the myrrer trees, answered & said, These are they whom the Lorde hath sent to go thorow the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lorde, that stood among the myrrer trees, and saide, We haue gone thorow the worlde: and beholde, all the worlde sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 Then the Angel of the Lorde, answered and said, O Lorde of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnnuerisall to Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iudah, with whom thou hast bene displeased now these threethore and ten yeeres:

13 And the Lorde answered the Angel that talked with me, With good wordes [and] comfortable wordes.

14 So the Angel that communed with me, saide vnto me, Crie thou, and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes,

I am ielous ouer Ierusalem and Zidon With a great seale,

15 And am greatly angrie against the careless heathen: for I was angrie but a litle, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, I will returne vnto Ierusalem with tender mercie: mine house shalbe builded in it, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and a line shalbe stretched vpon Ierusalem.

17 Crie ye, and speake, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, By cities shall yet be broken with plentie: the Lorde shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet chuse Ierusalem.

18 Then lift I by mine eyes and saw, and beholde, foure hornes.

19 And I said vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these: And he answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iudah, Israel, and Ierusalem.

20 And the Lorde shewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then saide I, What come these to do: and he answered, and saide, These are y hornes, which haue scattered Iudah, so that a man durst not lift by his head: but these are come to fray them, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift by their home ouer the land of Iudah, to scatter it.

r Which signified all the enemies of the Church, East, West, North, South. s These carpenters or finishers are Gods instruments, which with their mallets and hammers bryake these hard and strong hornes, which would overthrow the Church, and declare that none enemies home is so strong, but God hath an hammer to bryake it in pieces.

2 Then saide I, Whither goest thou: And he saide vnto me, To measure Ierusalem, that I may see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with me, Went forth: and another Angel went out to meete him,

4 And said vnto him, Runne, speake to this young man, and say, Ierusalem shalbe inhabited without walles, for multitude of men & cattell therein.

5 For I sayth the Lorde, Will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will should neede no materiall walles, nor trust in any worldly strength, but should be safelye preserved, and dwell in peace among all their enemies. d To defende my Church, to seare the enemies, and to destroy them if they appoche neere.

n Though for a time God deferre his helpe and comfort from his Church, yet this declaration that he lowlyeth them still most dearly, as a most mercifull father his children, of an husbands wife, and when it is expedient for them, his helpe is euer ready. o In destroying the reprobaue I shew my selfe but a litle angrie towards my Church, but the enemies would haue destroyed them also, and considered not the end of my chastisement. p To measure out the buildings.

e In me they shall have their full felicity and glorie. f He calleth to them, which partly for feare and partly for their owne ease, remained still in captiuitie, and so persecuted their owne private commodities to the benefices of Gods promised in his Church. g As it was said that scattered you, so haue I power to restore you. h By stirring from Babylon and coming to the Church. i Seeing that God hath begun to shewe his grace among you by deliuering you, he continueth the same still toward you, as yet therefore I send me his Angel, and his Christ to defend you from your enemies, that they shall not hurt you, neither by the way nor at home. k He is to drave into God, that he can no more suffer you to be hurt you, then a man can abide to be thrust in the eye. 10 Reioyce, and be glad, O daughter Zion: for lo, I come, and will dwell in the middes of thee, sayth the Lorde. 11 And many nations shall be ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the middes of thee, and thou shalt know that I Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto thee. 12 And the Lord shall inherite Iudah his portion in the holy land; and shall chuse Jerusalem againe. 13 Let al flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

A prophesie of Christ and of his kingdome,

AD hee shewed mee Jehoshua by the Priest, standing before the Angel of the Lorde, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lorde laide vnto Satan, The Lorde reprove thee, O Satan: euen the Lord that hath chosen Jerusalem, reprove thee. Is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Jehoshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered and spake vnto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him.

a Prepared to Christ the Mediator for the state of the Church. b Which declared that the faithfull haue not onely waere with flesh and blood, but with Satan himselfe and spiritual wickednesses. c That is, Christ speaketh to God as the speaker of his Church that he woulde rebuke Satan: and here he sheweth himselfe to be the continual persecutor of his Church. d Speaking, that Jehoshua was wonderfully persecuted in the captiuitie, and now Satan sought to afflict and trouble him when hee was doing his office. e In respect of the glorious garments, and precious stones that the Priests did wear before the captiuitie; and by this contemptible state the Prophet signifieth that these small beginnings should be made excellent when Christ shall make the full restitution of his Church.

And vnto him he said, Beholde, I haue caused thine iniquitie to depart from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of rayment.

5 And I laide, Let them set a sayre diademe vpon his head. So they set a sayre diademe vpon his head, and clothed him with garments, & the Angel of the Lorde stood by.

6 And the Angel of the Lorde testified vnto Jehoshua, saying,

7 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt also iudge mine house, and shalt also keepe my courtes, and I will giue thee place among these that stand by.

8 Heare noise, O Jehoshua the high Priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are monstrous persons: but beholde, I will bring forth the Branch my seruant.

9 For loe the stone that I haue layde before Jehoshua: vpon one stone shall be seven eyes: beholde, I will cut out the graining thereof, sayth the Lorde of hostes, and I will take away the iniquitie of this land in one day.

10 In that day, sayth the Lorde of hostes, shall ye call every man his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree.

h That is, haue rule and gouernment in my Church as thy predecessors haue had. i Whereby he meane to haue the whole charge and ministerie of the Church. k That is, the Angels who represented the whole number of the faithfull: signifying that all the godly should willingly receiue him. l Because they follow me my wayes, they are continued in the world, and esteemed as monsters. m That is, Christ, who did so humble himselfe, that not onely he became the seruant of God, but also the seruant of men: and therefore in him they should haue comfort, although in the world they were contemned. n As, 11. i. iere. 23. 5. and 33. 14. 15. o He sheweth that the ministers cannot build, before God lay the first stone, which is Christ, who is full of eyes, both because he giueth light vnto all others, & that all ought to seeke light at him. The vision of the golden candlesticke, and exposition thereof.

AD the Angel that talked with me, came againe & waiked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleepe.

2 And laide vnto me, what seest thou? And I sayd, I haue looked, and beholde, a candlesticke all of golde with a bosome vpon the top of it, and his seven lampes therein, and seven pipes to the lampes, which were vpon the top thereof.

from the trees into the lampes, so that the light neuer faileth: and this vision was to confirme the faithfull that God had sufficient power in himselfe to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe, though he had no helpe of man.

f He sheweth of what apparrell he speaketh, which is when our filthy finnes are taken away, and we are clad with gods merities, which is meant of the spiritual restitution. g The Prophet prayeth that besides the rayment, the Priest might also haue eye for his head accordingly, that is, the dignitie of the priesthood might be perfect: and this was fulfilled in Christ, who was both Priest and King: and here all such are contented that can content themselves with any meane reformation in religion, seeing by the Prophet desired the perfection, and obtineth it.

a Which was euer in the middes of the Temple, signifying that the graces of gods spirit should thine there in most abundance, and in all perfection. b Which conuayed the oyle that was vpon the trees into the lampes, so that the light neuer faileth: and this vision was to confirme the faithfull that God had sufficient power in himselfe to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe, though he had no helpe of man.

on the right side of the bolvie, and the other byon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered, and spake to the Angel: I talked with me, saying, what are these, my Lord?

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, answered and said unto me, Know-est thou not what these be? And I said,
No, my Lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the worde of <sup>h</sup> Lord unto Zerubbabel, saying, Neither by an armie nor strength, but by my Spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.

7 Who art thou, O great moun-taine, before Zerubbabel? [thou shalt be] a plaine, and <sup>i</sup> he shall bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the worde of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have layde the fundation of this house: his hands shall also finish it, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of the <sup>j</sup> small things: but they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of <sup>k</sup> tinne in the hand of Zerubbabel: <sup>l</sup> these seven are the eyes of the Lord, which go thoro-we the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and saide unto him, what are these two olive trees by-on the right & byon the left side thereof?

12 And I spake moreover, and saide unto him, what be these two olive branches, which thoro-ve the two golden pipes empye themselves into the golde?

13 And he answered me, and saide, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two olive branches, that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

Chrift sent of my father for the building, and preservation of my spirituall Temple.
h Signifying that all were discouraged at the small and poore beginnings of the Temple. i Which he signifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which represented Chrift, should go forward with his building to the top and comfort of the godly, though the world be against him, and though his work be white be discouraged, because they see not things pleasant to the eye.
k That is, God hath seven eyes: meaning, a continual providence, so that neither Satan nor any power in the world, can go about to bring any thing to passe to hinder his worke, Chap. 3. 9. l Which were ever greene and full of oyle, so that till they poured forth oyle into the lampes: signifying, that God wil continually maintaine and preferre his Church, and indue it still with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

1 The vision of the flying booke, signifying <sup>a</sup> curse of thieves, and such as abuse the Name of God. 2 By the vision of the measure is signified the bringing of Iudahs afflictions into Babylon.

hen I turned me, and lifted up mine eyes & looked, and beholde, a flying booke.

2 And hee saide unto me, what seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying <sup>b</sup> booke: the length thereof [is] twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof ten cubites.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the whole earth: for every one that <sup>c</sup> stealeth, shall be cut off [alwell] on this side: as on that: and every one that <sup>d</sup> sweareth, shall be cut off alwell on this side, as on that.

4 I wil bring it forth, sayth the Lord of hostes, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him, that falsely sweareth by my Name: and it shall remaine in <sup>e</sup> middes of his house, and shall consume it, with the timber thereof, and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with me, went forth, and said unto me, Lift up nowe thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, what is it? And he said, This is an Ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is the <sup>f</sup> light of the through all the earth.

7 And beholde, there was lift up a talent of lead: and this is a <sup>g</sup> woman that sitteth in the middes of the Ephah.

8 And he said, This is <sup>h</sup> wickednes, and he cast it into the middes of the Ephah, and he cast the weight of lead by-on the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I up mine eyes, and looked: & behold, there came out two <sup>i</sup> women, and the wind [was] in their wings (for they had wings like the wings of a fowle), and they lift by the Ephah betweene the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the Angel that talked with me, whither do these beare the Ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To builde it an house in the land of Shinar, & it shall be established and set there byon her olive plaine.

hee had in mine pay, but that God woulde sent by iniquite in a measure as in a piston. k Which declareth that God woulde execute his iudgements by the meanes of weak and infirme meanes. l So remoue the iniquitie and affliction one that came for the same from Iudah, to place it for ever in Babylon.

diuers colours, and reddish.

4 Then I answered, and saide vnto the Angel that talked with mee, what are these, my Lord:

vnto me, These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which goe forth from standing with the Lord of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke hoxe went forth into the land of the North, and the white went out after them, and they of diuers colours went forth towarde the South country.

7 And the reddish went out, and required to goe, and passe through the world, and he saide, Go passe through the world. So they went thowoe out the world.

8 Then cried he vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that go to ward the North country, haue pac-tified my Spirit in the North country.

9 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captiuitie, [euen] of helai, and of Tobiah, and Je-daiah, which are come from Babel, and come thou the same day, and go vnto the house of Josiah, the sonne of Zephcrownes, and set [them] vpon the head of Jehoshua, the sonne of Jehozadak

12 And he spake vnto him, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, and saith, Beholde the man whose name is the Branch, and he shall growe vp out of his place, and he shall build the Tem-

the Lord, and he shall beare the glorie, them both.

14 And the crownes shall be to Helai,

Hen the sonne of Zephaniah, for a me-moriall in the Temple of the Lord.

15 And they that are farre off, shall come & build in the Temple of the Lord, hostes hath sent me vnto you. And this shall come to passe, if ye will obey the 1 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

And in the fourth yere of king Darius, the word of the Lord came vnto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth mo-neth, euen in Chislen.

2 For they had sent vnto the house of God Shazzer, and Bege-

Lorde.

which were in the house of the Lord of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, separate my selfe as I haue done these so many yeeres?

proue it?

6 And when ye did eate, and when ye did drinke, did ye not eat for your selues, which the Lord hath cried by the ministrie of the former Prophets when Jerusalem was inhabited, & in prosperitie, & the cities thereof round about her, when the South & the plaine was inhabited?

9 Thus speaketh the Lord of hostes, saying, <sup>k</sup> Execute true iudgement, and shew mercy and compassion, every man to his brother.

10 And oppresse not the widow, nor the fatherles, the stranger nor the poore, and let none of you imagine euill against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, & pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their eares, that they should not heare.

12 Pea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should heare the law and the wordes which the Lord of hostes sent in his spirit by the ministration of the former p<sup>r</sup>ophets: therefore came a great wrath from the Lord of hostes.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that as he cryed, and they would not heare, so they cryed, and I would not heare, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 But I scattered them among all the nations, whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land to waste.

15 Which declared, that they rebelled not only against the p<sup>r</sup>ophets, but against the spirit of God that spake in them.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Of the returne of the people unto Ierusalem, and of the mercie of God toward them. 19 Good wexhes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

A Gaine the word of the Lord of hostes came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I was i<sup>e</sup>lous for Zion with great i<sup>e</sup>lousie, and I was i<sup>e</sup>lous for her with great wrath.

3 Thus saith the Lord, I wil returne vnto Zion, and will dwel in the muddes of Ierusalem: and Ierusalem shall be called a cite of truth, and the Mountaine of the Lord of hostes, the holie Mountaine.

4 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, There shall yet olde men and olde women dwell in the streetes of Ierusalem, and every man with his staffe in his hand for verie age.

5 And the streetes of the cite shall bee full of boyes and girles, playing in the streetes thereof.

6 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Though it be vnp<sup>o</sup>ssible in the eyes of remnant of this people in these dayes, should it therefore bee vnp<sup>o</sup>ssible in my sight, saith the Lord of hostes:

that is, to believe that God can performe that which he hath promised though it seeme neuer so vnp<sup>o</sup>ssible to man, Rom. 4. 20. Gen. 18. 14.

7 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil deliuer my people from the East countrey, and and from the west countrey.

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the muddes of Ierusalem, and they shall be my people, and I will bee their God in truth and in righteousness.

9 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Let your handes be strong, ye that heare in these dayes these wordes by the mouth of the p<sup>r</sup>ophets, which were in the day, that the foundation of the house of the Lord of hostes was laide, that the Temple might be builded.

10 For before these dayes there was no hire for man nor any hire for beast, neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men, every one against his neighbour.

11 But now, I wil not intreat the residue of this people as afore time, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seed [shalbe] prosperous: the vine shall giue her fruite, and the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue their dewe, and I will cause the remnant of this people to possesse all these things.

13 And it shall come to passe, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, I house of Iudah, and house of Israel, so will I deliuer you, and ye shall be a blessing: feare not, [but] let your handes be strong.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, As I thought to punish you, when your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and repented not,

15 So againe haue I determined in these dayes to do well vnto Ierusalem, and to the house of Iudah: feare ye not.

16 These are the things that ye shall do. Speake ye every man the truth vnto his neighbour: execute iudgement truly and brightly in your gates, 17 And let none of you imagine euill in your hearts against his neighbour, and loue no false othe: for all these are the things that I hate, saith the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lord of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth [moneth], and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the tenth, and the fast of the tenth, shalbe to the house of Iudah ioy and gladnesse, and prospere that the residue shall be in Ierusalem, for God will accomplish his promise, and their p<sup>r</sup>phets shall be true and able, & let neither residue of your ymages, nor commodities, neither counsel of others, nor feare of enemies discourage you in going forth with the building of the Temple, but be constant and obey the p<sup>r</sup>ophets, which encourage you therein. g. For God curd your woyle, so that neither man nor beast had profit of their labours.

Read Ezek. 18. 20. which declared, that man cannot turne to God till he change mans heart by his spirit, and so begin to do well, which is to pardon his sinnes, and to giue him his graces, which fast was appointed when the cite was besieged, & was the first fast of these foure, and here the p<sup>r</sup>phet sheweth, that if the Iewes will repent, & turne wholly to God, they shall haue no more occasion to fast, or to shew signes of heaviness: for God will send them ioy and gladnes.

k. He sheweth, that they did not fast with a sincere heart, but for an hypocriticall, and that it was not done of a pure religion, because that they lacked the offices of charity, which should haue declared that they were goodly. rous his feasts: therefore loue the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith <sup>h</sup> Lord of hostes, That there shall yet come <sup>i</sup> people, and the inhabitants of great cities.

21 And they that dwell in one [cittie,] shall go to another, saying, * Up, let vs go and pray before the Lord, and seeke the Lord of hostes: I will go also.

22 Yea, great people and mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes in Jerusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, In those dayes shall ten men take hold out of all languages of the nations, [euen] take holde of the skirt of him that is a Jewe, and say, Wee will goe with you: for wee haue heard, that God is with you.

CHAP. IX.

1 The meaning of the Gentiles. 2 The coming of Christ.

The burden of the word of the Lord in <sup>h</sup> land of <sup>i</sup> Hadrach: and <sup>i</sup> Damascus [shall be] his rest: When the eyes of man, [euen] of all the tribes of Israel [shall be] toward the Lord.

2 And Hamath also shall border therby: <sup>i</sup> Tyus [also] and Zidon, though [they be] <sup>i</sup> verie wise.

3 For Tyus did buyde her selfe a strong holde, and heaped by siluer as the dust, and golde as the myze of the streetes.

4 Behold, the Lord will spoile her, & he will smite her <sup>i</sup> power in the Sea, and she shall be denoured with fire.

5 Ashkelon shall see it, and feare, and Azzah also shall be very feowfull, and Ekron: for her countenance shall bee ashamed, and the King shall perish from Azzah, and Ashkelon shall not bee inhabited.

6 And the <sup>i</sup> stranger shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.

7 And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from betwene his <sup>i</sup> teeth: but he that remaineth, euen he shall be for our God, & he shall be as a prince in Judah, but Ekron [shall be] as a Jebusite.

8 And I will campe about <sup>i</sup> mine Gath, that all should be destroyed save a very few, that should remaine as strangers. <sup>i</sup> He promised to deliuer the Jewes when he shall take vengeance on their enemies for their crueltie, and wrongs done to them. <sup>i</sup> As the Jebusites had bene destroyed, so should Ekron and all the Philistines. <sup>i</sup> He saith that Gods power only shall bee sufficient to defend his Church against all adversaries, bee they neuer so cruell, or assemble their power neuer so often.

house agaynst the armie, agaynst him that passeth by, and agaynst him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now <sup>i</sup> haue I scene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Zion: shoute for ioy, O daughter Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh vnto thee: <sup>i</sup> he is iust and saued himselfe, poore and riding vpon an <sup>i</sup> asse, and vpon a colt the sole of an asse.

10 And I will cut off the <sup>i</sup> charres from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem: the bolde of the battell shall be broken, and hee shall speake peace vnto the heathen, and his dominion [shall be] from <sup>i</sup> sea vnto sea, and from the River to the end of the land.

11 Thou also [that be saued] through the blood of the covenant, I haue loved thy <sup>i</sup> prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne you to the <sup>i</sup> strong holde, ye <sup>i</sup> prisoners of hope: euen to day do I declare, that I will render the double vnto thee.

13 For Judah haue I <sup>i</sup> bent as a bow for me: Ephraims hand haue I filled, & I haue raised by the sonnes, O Zion, against thy sonnes, O Grecia, and haue made thee as a giants sword.

14 And the Lord shall be scene over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall come forth with the whirle winds of the South.

15 The Lord of hostes shall defend them, and they shall denoure them, and they shall subdue them with sling stones, and they shall drinke [a] make a noyle as thorsow wine, and they shall be filled like bowles, [and] as the hornes of the altar.

16 And the Lord their God shall deliuer them in that day as the flocke of his people: for they shall be as [the] stones of the crovne lifted by vpon his land.

figure, and is here called the covenant of the Church, because God made it with his Church, & left it with them for the love that he bare vnto them. <sup>i</sup> God saith that he will deliuer his Church out of all dangers, seeme they neuer so great. <sup>i</sup> That is, into the holy land where the citie and the Temple are, where God will defend you. <sup>i</sup> Speaking the faithful, which seemed to be in danger of their enemies on euery side, and yet liued in hope that God would restore them to libertie. <sup>i</sup> That is, double benefices, and prosperitie in respect of that which your fathers enioyed from Dauids time to the captiuitie. <sup>i</sup> I will make Judah and Ephraim, that is, my whole Church, victorious against all enemies, which he here meaneth by the Grecians. <sup>i</sup> He promised that the Jewes shall destroy their enemies and haue abundance, and exerce of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the sacrifice is offered: Which things are not to moue them to intemperance, but to sobriety, and a thankfull remembrance of Gods great liberaltie. <sup>i</sup> The faithful shall be preserved, and rewarded of all, that the verie enemies that be compelled to esteeme them, for Gods glorie shall shine in them, as Iosephus declared of Alexander the great, when hee met Zabi the big pyrit.

1 That is, God hath now scene the great iniuries & afflictions wherewith they haue bene afflicted by their enemies. <sup>i</sup> That is, he hath righteoussnes and saluation in himselfe for the vice and comortie of his Church. <sup>i</sup> Which declareth that they should not looke for such a King as should be glorious in the eyes of man, but should be poore, and yet in himselfe haue all power to deliuer his and this is meant of Christ, as Math. 21.5. <sup>i</sup> Of power of man or creature shall be able to let this kingdom of Christ, and he shall peaceably gouerne them by his word. <sup>i</sup> That is, first the red sea, to the sea called Syriacum: by these places which the Jewes knewe, he meant an infinite space and compass vnto the whole world. <sup>i</sup> That is, from Cypriates. <sup>i</sup> Speaking Jerusalem, the Church, which is saued by the blood of Christ whereof the blood of the faithful was a 17 For how great is his goodnes! and howe great is his beautie! come shall make the yong men chearefull, and new wine the maydes.

CHAP. X.

a The vanitie of idolatrie. 3 The Lorde promisseth to visite and comfort the house of Iudah.

a The Prophets reproueth the Iewes because by their vaine imagination they put backe Gods graces promised, and so famine came by Gods iust iudgement: therefore to auoyde this plague he willetch them to turne to God, and to pray in faith to him, and so he will giue them abundance.

A Ske yon of the Lord raine in the time of the latter raine: so shall the Lorde make white cloudes, and giue you showres of raine, [7] to euery one grasse in the field.

2 Surely<sup>b</sup> the doles haue spoken vanitie, and the soothsayers haue seene a lie, and the dreamers haue tolde a vaine thing: they comfort in vaine: therefore they went away as sheepe: they were troubled, because there was no shepheard.

3 By wrath was kindled against the shepheards, and I did visite the<sup>d</sup> goates: but the Lorde of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Iudah, and will make them as his beautiful horse in the battell.

4 Out<sup>f</sup> of him shall the corner come forth: out of him the naile, out of him the bowe of battell, [and] out of him euery<sup>g</sup> appoynter of tribute also.

5 And they shalbe as the mightie men, which treade downe [their enemies] in the myre of the streetes in the battell, and they shal fight, because the Lorde [is] with them, and the riders on horses shal be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Iudah, & I will preserue the house<sup>b</sup> of Ioseph, and I will bring them againe, for I pitty them: & they shalbe as though I had not cast them off: for I am the Lord their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim shalbe as a gyant, and their heart shall reioyce as thozow wine: yea, their children shal see it, and be glad: [and] their heart shal reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will<sup>c</sup> visite for them, and gather them: for I haue redeemed them: and they shal increase, as they haue created.

9 And I will<sup>k</sup> solue them among the people, and they shall remember a As a nagle to fasten it together. g Out their enemies. h That is, the tenne tribes, which shoulde bee gathered vnder Christ to the rest of the Church. i Thereby he declarthe the power of God who neuerthyn great preparation when he will deliuer his: for with a becke or hiffe hee can call them from all places suddenly. k Though they shall yet be scattered and seme to be lost, yet it shall be profitable vnto them: for there they shal come to the knowledge of my name, which was accomplished vnder the Gospell, among whom it was first preached.

10 I will bring them againe also out of the land of Egypt, & gather them out of Assyrie: and I will bring them into the land of Silead, and Lebanon, and [place] shall not be found for them.

11 And he<sup>m</sup> shall go into the sea with affliction, and shall hunte the waues in the sea, and al the depthes of the riuer shall drie vp: and the pride of Assyrie shalbe cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shal depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the Lord, and they shal walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

CHAP. XI.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithful is committed to Christ. 7 A grievous vision against Ierusalem and Iudah.

Open thy doozes, O Lebanon, & the fire shall denoure thy cedars.

2 Houle, b fyre trees: for the cedar is fallen, because all the mightie are destroyed: houle yee, O oaks of Bashan, for the defended forest is cut downe.

3 There [is] the boyce of the howling of the shepheards: for their<sup>d</sup> glorie is destroyed: the boyce of the roaring of Lyons whelpes: for the pride of Iordan is destroyed.

4 Thus sayeth the Lorde my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter.

5 They that possesse them, slay them<sup>c</sup> and kille not: and they that sell them, say, & blessed [be] the Lorde: for I am rich, and their olue shepheardes spare them not.

6 Surely I will no more spare those that dwell in the land, sayth the Lorde: but lo, I will deliuer the men euery one into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his King: and they shall hunte the land, [and] out of their hands I will not deliuer [them].

7 For I fed the sheepe of slaughter, euen the<sup>k</sup> pooze of the flock, and I tooke vnto me<sup>l</sup> two stauies: the one I called

Some reade, for Bandes, Destroyers, but in the 14. verse the first reeding is confirmed.

l Not that they shoulde returne into their countrey, but hee gathered am together in one faith by the doctrine of the Gospell.

m He alludeth to the belittles of the people out of Egypt, where as the Angel smote the floods and riuers, a Because the Iewes thought themselves so strong, by reason of this mountain, that no enemy could come to hurt them, the Prophet sheweth that when God smeth the enemies, it shall be as if they were as feeble ready to reuerse them. b Shewing that the strong men were destroyed, the weaker were not able to resist.

c Seeing that Lebanon was destroyed, which was the strongest munition, & here, her places could not thinke to holde out.

d That is, the remnant of Iudah & Israel shoulde perill.

care and diligence that he loue.

the people, bewould not ac-

these great benefites of God.

o He sheweth that the least part euer worship by Gods
iudgements.

p Besides their ingratitude
God accusethe them of malice and wickednes, which did not onely forget his benefites, but esteemed them as things of naught.

little to pay his wages, which thing: for they shoulde bee

shepherdes.

f And is in plagues of God shall take away both the strength and iudgement.

Beautie, and the other I called Bands, and I fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off in one moneth, and my soule loathed them, and their soule abhorred me.

9 Then sayd I, I will not feede you:
that that dieth, let it die: & that that perisheth, let it perish: and let the remnant eat, euery one the flesh of his neighbour.
10 And I tooke my staffe, [eu] Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull my covenant, which I had made with all people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and so the poore of the sheepe that wayted vpon me, knewe that it was the worde of the Lord.

12 And I said vnto them, If ye thinke it good, giue [me] my wages: and if no, leauē of: so they weighed for my wages thirtie pieces of siluer.

13 And the Lord said vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter: a goodly price, that I was valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie [pieces] of siluer, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I mine other staffe, [eu] the Bands, that I might dissolve the brotherhoode betweene Judah and Israel.

15 And the Lord said vnto me, Take to thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherde.

16 For lo, I will raise vp a shepherde in the lande, which shal not looke for the thing, that is lost, nor seeke the tender lambs, nor heale that that is hurt, nor feede that that standeth by: but he shal eate the flesh of the fat, and teare their clawes in pieces.

17 O idle shepherd that leaueth the flocke: the sword shal be vpon his arme, and vpon his right eie. His arme shal be cleane dried vp, and his right eye shal be bitterly darkened.

By the arme
he signifieth strength, as he doth wisdoms iudgement by the eye: that is, the plagues of God shall take away both the strength and iudgement.

CHAP. XII. Of the destruction and building againe of Ierusalem.

The burden of the word of the Lord vpon Israel, saith the Lord, which spied the hea-uens, and laid the foundation of the earth, and formed the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Ierusalem a cup of poison vnto all the people round about: and also with Judah will he be, in the siege against Ierusalem.

3 And in that day will I make Jerusalem an heauie stone for all people: at that list it vp, shalbe to me, though at the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will finite euery horse with stomishment, and his rider with madnesse, and I wil open mine eyes vpon the house of Judah, & will finite euery horse of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the princes of Judah shall lay in their heartes, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shalbe [my] strength in the Lord of hostes their God.

6 In that day will I make the princes of Judah like coales of fire among the wood, and like a firebrand in the sheafe, and they shall deuoure all the people round about on the right hande, and on the left: and Ierusalem shalbe inhabited againe in her owne place, [eu] in Ierusalem.

7 The Lord also shall preserve the tents of Judah, [as] afore time: therefore the glorie of the house of Dauid shal not boast, nor the glorie of the inhabitants of Ierusalem against Judah.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and hee that is feeble among them, in that day shalbe as Dauid: and the house of Da-uid shalbe as Gods house, and as the Angell of the Lord before them.

9 And in that day will I seeke to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.

10 And I will powre vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace and of compassion, and they shal looke vpon me, whom they haue peared, and they shal lament for him, as one mourneth for his only sonne, and be sorry for him as one is sorry for his first borne.

11 In that day shall there be a great mourning in Ierusalem, as the mounting of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.

12 And the land shall be made euery familie apart, the family of the house of Dauid apart, & their viues apart: the

1 Of the fountaine of grace. 2 Of the cleane riddance of idolatry. 3 The scale of the goodly against false prophets.

IN that day there shall be a fountaine opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, for sinne and for uncleannes.

2 And in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will cut off the names of the idoles out of the land: and they shall no more bee remembred: and I will cause the prophets, and the vncleane spirit to depart out of the land.

3 And when any shall yet propheticke, his father and his mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue: for thou speakest lies in the name of the Lord: and his father and his mother that begate him, shall thrust him through, when he propheticth.

4 And in that day shall the Prophets be ashamed euery one of his vision, whē he hath propheticd: neither shall they weare a rough garment to deceyue.

5 But he shall say, I am no prophet: I am an husband man: for my man taught me to be an heardman fro my youth vp.

6 And one shall say vnto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? The he shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of my friends.

7 A Crie, O word, vpon my they heard, & vpo the mā, that is my fellow, saith the Lord of hostes: I smite the shepheard, & the sheepe shalbe scattered: and I will turne mine hand vpo the little ones.

8 And in all the land, saith the Lord, two partes therein shalbe cut off, [and] die: but the third shalbe left therein.

9 And I will bring that thirde part thozow the fire, and will fine them as the siluer is fined, and will trie them as golde is tried: they shall call on my Name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, The Lord is my God.

8 Of the doctrine that shall proceede out of the Church, and of the reformation thereof.

BEholde, the day of the Lord cometh, & thy people shall be deuened in the nuddes of ether.

2 For I will gather all nations against Ierusalem to battell, and the citie shalbe takē, and the houses spoiled, and the women defiled, and halfe of the citie shall goe into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off fro the citie.

3 Then shall the Lord goe forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battell.

4 And his sette shal stand in that day vpon the mount of oliues, which is before Ierusalem on the East side, and the mount of oliues shall cleaue in the mids thereof: toward the East and toward the west there shalbe a very great valley, and halfe of the mountaine shall remoue toward the North, and halfe of the mountaine toward the South.

5 And ye shall see vnto the valley of the mountaines: for the valley of the mountaines shall reach vnto Asal: yea, ye shall see like as ye fled from y<sup>e</sup> earthquake in the dayes of Uziah King of Iudah: and the Lord & my God shall come, and all the Saints with thee.

6 And in that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 And there shalbe a day (it is knownen to the Lord) neither day nor night, but about the euening time it shalbe light.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more destruction, but Ierusalem shall be safely inhabited.

12 And this shall be the plague, where-with the Lord will smite all people, that haue fought against Ierusalem: their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, and their eyes shall consume in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 But in that day a great tumult of the Lord shall be among them, and euery one shall take the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise vp against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And Iudah shall fight also against Ierusalem, and the arme of all the heathen shall be gathered round about, with golde and silver, and great abundance of apparell.

15 Yet this shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camell and of the asse and of all the beastes that bee in these tents as this plague.

16 But it shall come to passe that euery one that is left of all the nations, which came against Ierusalem, shall go from yere to yere to worshippe the King the Lord of hostes, and to keepe the feast of tabernacles.

17 And who so wil not come vp of [all] the families of the earth vnto Ierusalem to worship the King the Lord of hostes, euery one of them shall come no rayne.

18 And if the familie of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it shall not [raue] vpon them. [This] shall bee the plague wherewith the Lord wil smite all heathen, that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

19 This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all the nations that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 In that day shall there bee [written] vpon the baddes of the horses, The holiness vnto the Lord, and the pots in the Lords house shall be like the bowles before the altar.

21 Yea, euery pot in Ierusalem & Iudah shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, and all they that sacrifice, shall come and take of them, & feede therein: and in that day there shall be no more Canaanite in the house of the Lord of hostes.

q By Egyptians, which were great enemies to true religion, he meaneth all the Gentiles, signifying, that to what seruice they were put, whome together to labour, to seruice in warre, they were not bound, because the Lord had sanctified them. As precious the one as the other, because they shall be sanctified. What at shall be pure & cleane, and there shall neither be hypocrite, nor any that shall corrupt, & true seruice of God.

10. God will not onely raise up many enemies, but will smite at home to try them.
11. To hurt, and oppress him.
12. The enemies are rich, and therefore shall not come for pay, but to destroy and shed blood.

THE ARGUMENT.

THIS Prophet was one of the three, which God raised vp for the comfort of his Church after the captivity, and after him there was no more vntill Iohn Baptist was sent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they should with more feruent desires looke for the coming of Messiah. He confirmeth the same doctrine, that the two former do, but chiefly he reproveth the Priests for their couetousnesse, and for that they serued God after their owne fantasies, and not according to the precept of his worde. He also noteth certaine peculiar sinnes, which were then among them, as marrying of Idolatrous and many wits, murmuring against God, impaciencie, and such like. Notwithstanding, for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forget his promises made vnto their fathers, but would send Christ his messenger, in whome the covenant should be accomplished, whose coming should be terrible to the wicked, and bring all consolation and ioy vnto the godly.

Whom

d Besides the

reil of the people he condemnech the priests chiefly, because they shoulde haue repoynded to their hypocritie, and obstinacie against God, and not haue hardened them by their example to greater euils.

e He noteth their grosse hypocritie, which would not see their faultes, but most impudently couered them, and so were blinde guides.

f He receiue all manner offerings for your owne greiuous, and do not examine wher they be according to my laue o y no.

g And that they said thus, but by their doings they declared no lesse. h You make it no faulte: whereby he condemneth them, & sheweth it sufficient to serue God partly as he hath commanded, and partly after mans fantasie, and so come not to that purueite of religion, which he requirerh, and therefore in reproch he sheweth them that a mortall man would not be contented to be so ferued.

i He denierh the priests who haue the people in hand, that they prayed for them, and sheweth that they were the occasion that these euils came vpon the people. k All shall consider your office a state, seeing you are coouerous o wicked? l Because the Levites who kept the doores did not say whether y sacrifices that came in, were according to the lawe, God witheth y they would rather shut the doores, then to receiue such as were not perfect. m God witheth y their ingratitude & neglect of his true seruice shall be y cause of the calling of the Gentiles: and here y prophet that was vnder the lawe framed his words to the capacite of the people, y by the altar, y sacrifice he meaneth y spiritual seruice of God, which shoulde be vnder the Gospell, wher an ende shoulde be made to al their legal ceremonies by Christs onely sacrifice. n Both the priests & the people were infected in this error: that they passed not what was offered: for they thought y God was as well content with y laue as w the fault: but in y meane season they shewed not that obedience to God which he requirerh, y so committed both impietie, & also shewed their contempt of God & contumelious. o The priests & people were both weary with seruing God, and passed not what manner of sacrifice y seruice they gaue to God, for that which was least profitable, was thought good enough for the Lorde,

Whom the Lord is angry for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see it, & ye shall say, The Lorde will be magnified vpon the border of Israel.

6 A loue honourerh his father, and a seruant his master. If then I be a father, where is mine honour: and if I be a master, where is my feare, sayeth the Lorde of hostes vnto you, O priests, that despise my Name: and ye say, whererein haue we despised thy Name:

7 We offer vncleane bread vpo mine altar, and you say, whererein haue we polluted thee: In that yee lay the table of the Lorde is not: to be regarded.

8 And if yee offer the blinde for sacrifice, it is not euil: and if yee offer the lame and sicke, it is not euil: offer it now be vnto thy prince: will he be content with thee, o accept thy person, sayeth the Lorde of hostes:

9 And now, I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercie vpon vs: this hath bene by your meanes: will he regard y your persons, sayeth the Lorde of hostes:

10 Who is there ene among you, that woulde shut y doores, y handle not fire on mine altar in vaine: I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For from the rising of the sunne vnto y going downe of the same, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incense shalbe offered vnto my Name, & a pure offering: for my Name is great among the heathen, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

12 But ye haue polluted it, in that yee lay, The table of the Lorde is polluted, and the feute thereof, [eu]en his meate is not to be regarded.

13 Ye said also, Behold, [it is] a wea- rines, and ye haue snuffed at it, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, and ye offered that which was tozue, and the lame, and the sicke:

thus ye offered an offering: shoulde I accept this of your hande, sayeth the Lorde:

14 But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flocke y a male, and bolueth, and sacrificerh vnto the Lorde a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, and my Name is terrible among the heathen.

CHAP. II.

Threatnings against the Priests being seducers of the people.

And now, O ye priests, this comendemet is for you.

2 If ye will not heare it, nor consider it in your heart, to giue glorie vnto my Name, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I will euen send a curse vpon you, & will curse your blessings: yea, I haue cursed the already, because ye doe not consider it in your heart.

3 Behold, I will corrupt y your seede, and cast dongue vpon your faces, [eu]en the dongue of your solemne feasts, and you shall be like vnto it.

4 And ye shall knowe, that I haue sent this comendemet vnto you, y my couenant, which I made w Levi, might stande, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

5 My couenant was with him of life and peace, and I gaue him feare, and he feared me, and was afayrde before y my Name.

6 The Lawe of truestie was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lippes: he walked with me in peace and equite, and did turne many a way from iniquitie.

7 For the priests lippes shoulde serue knowledge, and they shoulde seeke the Lawe at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the Lorde of hostes.

8 But ye are gone out of the way: ye haue caused many to fall by the Lawe: ye haue broken the couenant of Levi, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

9 Therefore haue I also made you to be despised, and vile before all the people, because ye kept not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the Law.

10 Haue we not all one father: hath not one God made vs: why doe we trasgresse euery one against his brother, and on our part, that they shoulde faithfully serue him according to his word. h I prescribed Levi a certaine lawe to serue me. i He serued me y fer forth my glorie with all humilitie y submition. k He sheweth y the priest ought to haue knowledge to instruct other in the word of the Lorde. l He is as the treasure house of Gods word and ought to giue to euery one according to their necessitie, and not to referre it to his selfe. m Shewing, that whoso fouer doeth not declare Gods wills is not his messenger and priest. n The prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Jewes toward God & man: for seeing they were all borne of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offende God nor their brethren, p That is, hath ability to serue the Lorde according to his word, and yet will serue him according to his couerous minde.

a He speaketh vnto them chiefly, but inder them he contenteth the people also.

b To serue me according to my word.

c That is, the abundance of Gods benefits.

d Your seede shoulde come to no profit.

e You boast of your holines, sacrifices, and feastes, f The priests obserued against the prophet that he coude not re- puyse them, but he must speake against the priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but he sheweth that the office is nothing flattered, when these vniuerses and dongue are called by their owne names.

g He sheweth what were the two combes of the couenant made with the tribe of Leuion.

h Gods part, that he woulde giue forme long life and felicitie, and on our part, that they shoulde faithfully serue him according to his word.

i He serued me y fer forth my glorie with all humilitie y submition.

k He sheweth y the priest ought to haue knowledge to instruct other in the word of the Lorde.

l He is as the treasure house of Gods word and ought to giue to euery one according to their necessitie, and not to referre it to his selfe.

m Shewing, that whoso fouer doeth not declare Gods wills is not his messenger and priest.

and breake the couenāt of our fathers.

11 Judah hath transgressed, and an abomination is committed in Israel & in Jerusalem: for Judah hath defiled the holines of the Lord, which he loued, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The Lord wil cut off the man that doeth this: both the master & the seruuant out of the Tabernacle of Jaakob, and him that offereth an offering vnto the Lord of hostes.

13 And this haue ye done againe, and couered the altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and with mourning: because the offering is no more regarded, neither receiued acceptably at your hands.

14 Yet ye say, wherein? Because the Lord hath bene witnesse betwene thee & wife of thy youth, against whome thou hast transgressed: yet is the thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And did not he make one: yet had he abundance of spirit: and wherefore one: because hee sought a godly seede: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and let none trespasse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest her, put her away, saith the Lord God of Israel, yet he couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, saith the Lord of hostes: therefore keepe your selues in your spirit, and transgresse not.

17 Ye haue wearied the Lord with your wordes: yet ye say, wherein haue we wearied him? when ye say, every one that doth euill, is good in the sight of the Lord, and he deliuereth them. Where is the God of iudgement?

18 I will send my messenger, & hee shall prepare the way before mee: and the Lord whom ye seeke, shall speedily come to his Temple: euen the messenger of the couenāt whom ye desire: behold, hee shall come, saith the Lord of hostes.

19 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shalbe a pleasant lande, saith the Lord of hostes.

3 And he shall sit downe to trie & fine the siluer: he shall euen fine the soimes of Leui, and purifie them as gold and siluer, that they may bring offerings vnto the Lord in righteousness.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem bee acceptable vnto the Lord, as in olde time and in the yeres afore.

5 And I will come neere to you to iudgement, and I wil be a swift witnes against the footslayers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that wrofully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and bere the widow, and the fatherles, and oppresse the stranger, and feare not mee, saith the Lord of hostes.

6 For I am the Lord: I change not, and ye soimes of Jaakob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, ye are gone away fro my ordinance, and haue not kept them: I returne vnto me, and I wil returne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes: but ye said, wherein shall we returne?

8 Will a man spoyle his gods: yet haue ye spoyled me: but ye say, wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tithes, and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye haue spoyled me, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all tithes into the storehouse that there may bee meate in mine house, and proue mee nowe herewith, saith the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and poure you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will rebuke the denourer of your lakes, and he shall not destroy the fruite of your ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shalbe a pleasant lande, saith the Lord of hostes.

13 Your wordes haue bene stoute against mee, saith the Lord: yet ye say, what haue we spoken against thee?

14 Ye haue saide, It is in vaine to serue God: and what profite is it that

2 He sheweth that the hypocrites which with so much for the Lords coming, will not abide when hee shall come: for he will consume them, & purge his and make them cleane, & he beginneth at the Pharisees that they might be lightes and shine vnto others.

3 They murmured against God, because they sawe not his helpe cure present to deliver them: and therefore he accuseth them of ingratitude, & sheweth that in that they are not daily consumed, it is a token, that he doth still be-lieue them: and so his mercie toward them neuer chageth.

THE ARGUMENT.

THese bookes that follow in order after the Prophets vnto the Newe testament, are called Apocrypha, that is, bookes, which were not receiued by a common consent to bee read and expounded publicly in the Church, neither yet serued to proue any poynt of Christian religion, save in asmuch as they had the consent of the other Scriptures called Canonically to confirme the same, or rather whereon they were grounded: but as bookes proceeding from godly men, were receiued to bee read for the advancement and furtherance of the knowledge of the historie, and for the instruction of godly maners: which bookes declare that at all times God had an especial care of his Church, and lest them not vnto the destitute of teachers and meanes to confirme them in the hope of the promised Messiah, and also witness that those calamities that God sent to his Church, were according to his providence, who had both so threatened by his Prophets, and so brought it to passe for the destruction of their enemies, and for the trial of his children.

AND Josias kept the Passover to his Lord in Jerusalem, and offered the Passover in the fourteenth day of the first moneth,

2 And appointed the Priests according to their dayly courses, being clothed with long garments in the temple of the Lord.

3 And hee spake to the Levites the holy ministers of Israel, that they shoulde sanctifie themselves to the Lord, to set the holy Arke of the Lord in the house, which Salomon the sonne of King David had built,

4 And sayde, Bee shall no more beare the Arke vpon your shoulvers: now be therefore serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people of Israel, and prepare according to your families and tribes.

5 After the writing of David King of Israel, and according to the Maiesie of Salomon his sonne, and stande in the Temple (according to the order of the dignitie of your fathers the Levites) which were appointed before your brethren the children of Israel.

6 Offer in order the passeouer, and make readie the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passouer after the Lordes commandement given to Moyses.

7 And Josias gaue to the people that was present, thirtie thousande lambs and kids with thre thousand calues.

8 These were given of the Kinges possessions according to the promes, to the people, and to the Priests, and to the Levites. Then gaue Helkias and Zacharias and Syelus the gouernours of the Temple, to the Priests for the Passouer two thousand five hundred theepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Furthermore, Jechonias and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Chielus, and Joiam captaines gaue to the Levites for the Passouer five thousande theepe, and seven hundred calues.

10 And when these things were done, the Priests and the Levites stood in order, hauing vbleauened bread according to the tribes.

11 And after the order of the dignitie of their fathers, before the people to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the bookes of Moyses: and thus they did in the morning.

12 And they roasted the Passouer with fire as apperteyned, and they sodde their offerings with perfumes in caldrons and pottes, 13 And set it before all them that were of the people, and after ward they prepared for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

14 For the Priests offered the fat vnto the euening, and the Levites did make readie for themselves, and for the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the holy singers, the sonnes of Asaph, were in their orders, according to the appointed ordinances of David, [to wit,] Asaph, and Azarias, & Eddimus, which was of the Kings appointment.

16 And the porters were at euery gate, [so that] it was not lawfull, that any shoulde passe his ordinarie watch: for their brethren the Levites made readie for them.

17 And in that day those things which apperteyned to the sacrifice of the Lord, were accomplished, that they might offer the Passouer.

18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of King Josias.

20 And there was not such a Passeeouer kept in Israel since the time of Samuël the Prophet.

21 And all the Kings of Israel did not offer such a Passeeouer, as did Josias, and the Priests, and the Leuites, & the Iewes, and all Israel, which were founde to remaine in Ierusalem.

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Josias was this Passeeouer kept.

23 The Workes of Josias were vpright before his Lorde with a heart full of godlinesse.

24 And concerning the things which came to passe in his time, they are written before, [to wit,] of those that sinned and did wickedly against the Lord, aboue every nation and kingdome, and grieved him with sensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord stood by against Israel.

25 ¶ Nowe after all these actes of Josias, it came to passe that whē Pharaos king of Egypt came to moue warre at Carchanis vpon Euphrates, Josias went out against him.

26 But the King of Egypt sent to him, saying, what haue I to doe with thee, O king of Iudea?

27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee: but my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with mee, and the Lord hasteneth mee forthward: depart from mee, and be not against the Lord.

28 But Josias woulde not turne backe his chariot from him, but prepared himselfe to fight with him, not regarding the words of Ieremias the Prophet by the mouth of the Lord.

29 But he set himselfe in battell aray against him in the field of Megiddo, and the Princes came downe to King Josias.

30 And the King saide to his seruants; Conuey me out of the battell, for I am very weake. And by and by his seruants brought him out of the battell.

31 So hee gate by on his seconde chariot, and being come againe to Ierusalem he changed his life, and was buried in his fathers graue.

32 And in all Iudea was Josias bewailed, yea, Ieremias the Prophet did lament for Josias, and the gouernours and their wiues did lament him vnto this day: and this was orderyed in all the kindred of Israel, to be done continually.

33 But these things are written in the booke of the histories of the Kings of Iudea, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glorie, and his knowledge in the Lawe of the Lorde, and the things which he did before, and the things now reherfed are registred in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Iudea.

34 Then they of the nation tooke <sup>a. King. 23. joa. chas. 36.1.</sup> Joachas the sonne of Josias, & made him King in steade of his father Josias, when he was thre and twente yeere olde.

35 And hee reigned in Iudea and in Ierusalem thre moneths: for the King of Egypt depoled him from reigning in Ierusalem.

36 Hee taxed also the people of an hundred talents of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 And the King of Egypt made Joacim his brother King of Iudea and Ierusalem.

38 And hee bound Joachas and his gouernours: but when he had taken Zarates his brother, he led him away into Egypt.

39 Twentie and five yeere olde was Joacim, when hee reigned in Iudea and Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde.

40 Wherefore against him came by Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, who when hee had bound him with a chaine of brasle, lead him away into Babylon.

41 Then Nabuchodonosor tooke of the holy vessels of the Lord, and caried them away, & set them in his temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophana-tion, and his reproch are writte in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings.

43 And Joacim his sonne reigned for him: and when he was made king, hee was eightene yeere olde.

44 And hee reigned thre moneths and ten dayes in Ierusalem, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

45 ¶ So a yeere after Nabuchodonosor sent and brought him to Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And he made Sedectias King of Iudea and Ierusalem, when hee was one and twente yeere olde, and hee reigned eleuen yeeres.

47 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde, neither did he feare the wordes spoken * by Ieremias the Prophet from the mouth of the Lord. <sup>Jer. 38.1.</sup>

48 For after that he was sworne to king Nabuchodonosor, hee forswore himselfe by the Name of the Lorde and fell away, and hardened his necke and his heart, and transgressed the Lawes of the Lorde God of Israel.

49 Also the gouernours of the people, and the priests committed many things agaynst the Lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and polluted the Temple of the Lorde, which was sanctified in Ierusalem.

50 Neuerthelesse the God of their fathers sent his messengers to cal them backe, because hee spared them and his owne Tabernacle.

51 But they derided his messengers, and in the day, that the Lord spake vnto them, they mocked his Prophets, 52 So that hee, being moued to anger agaynst his people for their great wickednes, commanded the Kings of the Chaldeans to invade them.

53 These killed their yong men with the sword round about their holy Temple, neither did they spare yong man, nor maiden, neither old man, nor child among them.

54 But he deliuered them all into their hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they tooke, and caried away the Kings treasures into Babylon.

55 And they set fire in the house of the Lord, & brake downe the walles of Ierusalem, and burnt their towres with fire.

56 They consumed also all the precious things therof, and brought them to naught, and those that were left by the sword, he caried away into Babylon.

57 And they were seruants to him, and to his children till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord by the mouth of

Jeremias,
58 And that the lande might inioy her Sabbaths all the time, that it was desolate, all seuentie yeres were accomplished.

CHAP. II.

1 Cyrus gaue leave to the Iewes to returne. 10 He sent the holy vessels. 13 The names of them that returne. 16 Their aduersaries did let their building, and the Kings letters for the same.

In the first yeece of the reigne of Cyrus King of the Persians, to fulfill the worde of the Lorde by the mouth of Jeremias,

2 The Lord raised by the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and hee made proclamation throughout all his kingdome, euen by eppistle letters,

3 Saying, Thus sayeth Cyrus King of the Persians, The Lord of Israel, euen the most high Lord, hath made mee King ouer the whole world,

4 And he hath commanded me to build him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudea.

5 If there be any therefore of you of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord be with him, & let him go vp to Ierusalem, which is in Iudea, and builde the house of the Lord of Israel: he is the Lord which dwelleth in Ierusalem.

6 All they then that dwell in the places round about, those, [I say,] that are in his place, let them helpe him with gold & siluer,

7 with gifts, with horses and cattell, & other things, which shalbe brought according to the voices, into the Temple of the Lord, which is in Ierusalem.

8 Then arose the chiefe of the families of Iudea, and of the tribe of Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and all whose minde the Lord had moued to goe by, and buyde an house to the Lord in Ierusalem.

9 And those that were about them, helped them in all things with siluer and gold, horses, and cattell, and with diuers voices of many whose mindes were stirred by.

10 Also King Cyrus brought out the holy vessels of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of Ierusalem, and had consecrated them in the Temple of his idoles.

11 Now when Cyrus King of the Persians had brought them out, hee deliuered them to Hithydates his treasurer,

12 By whom they were giuen to Abas-far the gouernour of Iudea.

CHAP. III.

1 The feast of Darius. 16 The three wise sentences.

lord the King, that the Iewes which came by from you, are come to vs into Ierusalem, that rebellious and wicked cite, and buyd the market places, and make by the walles thereof, and lay the foundations of the Temple.

19 Therefore if this cite be built, and the walles bee finished, they will not onely not indure to pay tribute, but will also resist Kings.

20 And because the things, pertaining to the Temple, go forward, we thought it not meete to passe ouer such a thing,

21 But to declare it to our lord the King, that if it be thy pleasure, it may bee sought out in the booke of thy fathers,

22 And thou shalt finde in the Chronicles the writings concerning these things, and shalt know that this cite did alwaies rebel, and did trouble both Kings and cities,

23 And that þ Iewes are rebellious, rayning alwayes warres therein: for the which cause also this cite was made desolate.

24 Now therefore, O lord the King, we declare it, that if this cite bee built and the walles thereof repaired, you shall haue no more passage into Coelofryia, nor Phenice.

25 ¶ Then the king wrote againe to Balthumus, that wrote the things that came to passe, and to Seetherminus, and to Samellius the secretarie, and to the rest of those that were ioined with them, and to the dwellers of Samaria, Syria and Phenice, these things that followe.

26 I haue read the epistle, which ye sent to mee: therefore I commaunded, that it shoulde bee sought out, and it was founde, that this cite hath alwaies practised against kings,

27 And that the men thereof were given to rebellion and warres, and howe that mightie Kinges and fierce haue reigned in Ierusalem, which tooke tribute of Coelofryia, and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I haue commanded to forbid these men to build by the city, & that it be taken heede that no more be done,

29 And that those wicked things, which should molest the King, go not forward.

30 Then when Balthumus, and Semellius the secretarie and the rest, which were ioined with them, had read the things, which King Artaxerxes had written, they moued their tents with speede to Ierusalem with hozes and men in aray,

31 And began to let them which built, so that the building of the Temple in Ierusalem ceased vnto the second yere of the reigne of Darius King of the Persians.

NOW when Darius reigned, hee made a great feast to all his subiectes and to all those of his owne house, and to all the princes of

Media and Persia,

2 And to all the gouernours & captaines, and lieutenants that were with him, from India vnto Ethiopia of an hundredth and seuen and twentie prouinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunke, and were satisfied, they departed, and King Darius went into his chaniber, and slept, till he wakened againe.

4 ¶ In the meane time three yong men of the garde, keepers of the kings body, said one to another,

5 Let every one of vs speake a sentence, [and] he that shal ouercome, and whose sentence shall appeare wiser then the others, Darius the King shal giue him great gifts, and great things in token of victorie,

6 As to weare purple, and to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with bridles of gold, & head tyre of fine linen, and a chaine about his necke.

7 And he shall sit next to Darius for his wisdom, and shalbe called Darius cousin.

8 Then every man wrote his sentence & sealed it, and put it vnder þ pillowe of King Darius,

9 And saide, When the King rose, they would giue him the writing, and whose sentence the King & the three Princes of Persia shoud iudge to be wisest, to him shoud þ victorie be giuen, as it was appointed.

10 One wrote, The wine is strongest.

11 The other wrote, The King is strongest.

12 The other wrote, Women are strongest, but trueth ouercometh all things.

13 ¶ And when the king rose, they tooke the writings and gaue them to him, and hee read them,

14 And sent and called all the noble men of Persia and of Media, & the gouernours and the captaines, and lieutenants, and the consuls,

15 And saide him doo vne in the counsell, & the writing was read before them.

16 Then he said, Call the yong men, that they may declare their owne sentences. So they called them, and they came in.

17 Then he said vnto them, Declare by vs the writings. So the first began, which had spoken of the strength of wine,

18 And saide on this maner, O ye men, howe strong is Wyne! it deceiveth all men that that drinke it.

19 It maketh the minde of the King and of the fatherlesse both one, of the bond man and of the free man, of the poore man and of the rich man.

20 It turneth also euery thought into toy and gladnes, so that one remembreth no manner of sorowe, nor det.

21 It maketh euery heart riche, so that one remembreth neither King nor gouernour, and causeth to speake all thinges by talents.

22 When men haue drunke, they haue no minde to loue either friendes or brethren, and a litle after they dialbe out words.

23 But when they are from the wine, they doe not remember what they haue done.

24 O yee men, is not wine strongest, which compelleth to doe such thinges: and hee helde his peace when hee had thus spoken.

CHAP. IIIL

Of the strength of a King. 12 Of the strength of women. 14 Of the strength of treach, which sentence is appoynded. 47 And his portion graunted.

hen the second which had spoke of the strength of the King, began to say,

2 O yee men, are not men strongest, which beare rule by lande & by sea, and ouer all thinges which are in them:

3 But the King is yet greater: for hee ruleth all thinges, and is Lord of them, so that they doe all thinges which he commaundeth them.

4 If hee bid them make warre one against another, they doe it: if he sende them out against the enemies, they go and breake downe mountaines and walles & towres.

5 They kill and are killed, and doe not passe the commaundement of the King: if they overcome, they bring all to the King, as well the peoples as all other thinges.

6 And those also which goe not to warre and battel, but til the earth: [for] when they haue sowen it againe, they reape it, & bring it to the King, and compell one another to pay tribute to the King.

7 Yet he is [but] one man: if he bid, Kill, they kill: if he say, Spare, they spare.

8 [If] he bid, Smite, they smite: [if] he bid them, Make desolate, they make desolate: [if] he bid, Buryde, they buryde.

9 [If] he bid, Cut off, they cut off: [if] he bid, Plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and all his armies obey one man: in y meane while he sitteth downe, he eateth, and drinketh & sleepeth.

11 For these keepe him rounde about: neither can any one goe and doe his owne busines, neither are they disobedient vnto him.

12 O yee men, holde thoud not the King be strongest, seeing he is thus obeyed! So he helde his tongue.

13 Then the third which had spoken of women and of the treach (this was Zoro-babel) began to speake, 14 O yee men, neither the mightie King, nor many men nor wine is strongest: who then ruleth them or hath dominion ouer them: are they not women?

15 Women haue borne the King and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.

16 Euen of them were they borne, & they nourished them, which planted the vines, of which the wine is made.

17 They also make mens garments and make men honorable, neither can men bee without women.

18 And if they haue gathered together gold and siluer, or any goodly thing, do they not loue a faire and beautifull woman:

19 Do they not leaue all those things and giue them selues wholy vnto her, and gape, and gaze vpon her, and all men desire her more then golde, or siluer, or any precious thinge:

20 A man leaueh his owne father which hath nourished him, & his owne countrey, and is toynd with his wife.

21 And for the woman he teopardeth his life, & neither remembreth father nor mother nor countrey.

22 Therefore by this ye may know that the women beare rule ouer you: doe yee not labour and traueil, and giue and bring all to the women:

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword and goeth footth to kill and to scale, and to sayle vpon the sea, and vpon riuers,

24 And hee seeth a lion & goeth in darkness, and when he hath stollen, rauished and spoyled, he bringeth it to his loue.

25 Wherefore a man loueth his owne wife more then father or mother.

26 Yea, many haue runne madde for women, and haue bene seruants for them.

27 Many also haue perished and haue erred and sinned for women.

28 Now therefore do you not beleue me: is not the King great in his power: doe not all regions feare to touch him:

29 [Yet] I sawe him and Apame, the Kinges concubine, the daughter of the famous Bactarus, sitting on the right hand of the King.

30 And she tooke the crowne off the kings head, and put it vpon her owne, and strooke the king with her left hand, 31 Yet in the meane season the king gaped and gazed on her: and if she laughed at him, he laughed: if she were angrie with him, he did flatter her that he might bee reconciled with her.

32 Now then, O ye men, are not women more strong, seeing they doe thus:

33 The king and the princes looked one vpon another, & he began to speake of the trueth.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger: great is the earth, and the heauē is hie, and the sunne is swift in his course: for hee turneth round about heauen in one daye, and runneth againe into his owne place.

35 Is not hee great that maketh these things: therefore the trueth is greater and stronger then all.

36 All the earth calleth for trueth, & the heauen blesseth it: and all things are shaken and tremble: neither is there any vniust thing with it.

37 The wine [is] wicked, the king [is] wicked, women [are] wicked, & all the children of men are wicked, and all their wicked woorkes are such, and there is no trueth in them, and they perish in their iniquitie.

38 But trueth doeth abide, and is strong for euer, and lieth and reigneth for euer and euer.

39 With her there is no receiuing of persons nor difference: but she doth the things which are iust, and absteineth from vniust [and] wicked things, and all men fauour her woorkes.

40 Neither is there any vniust thing in her iudgement, and she is the strength & the kingdome and the powe, and maiestie of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 So he ceased to speake, and the all the people cryed and saide, Trueth is great and strongest.

42 Then the king sayd vnto him, Aske what thou wilt besides that which is appointed, and wee will giue it thee, because thou art founde the wisest, and thou shalt haue libertie to sit by me, and shalt be called my cousin.

43 Then the king sayd to the king, Remember the bolue that thou hast bolued to build Jerusalem, in the day that thou tookest the kingdome, 44 And to send againe all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart when he made a bolue to cut of Babylon, and bolued to send them thither.

45 Thou also hast bolued to buyde the Temple, which the Idumeans burnt whē Judea was destroyed by the Chaldeans.

46 And now, O lord the King, this is that which I desire and require of thee; and this is the magnificence, which I require of thee: I require therefore that thou wouldest accomplish the bolue which thou hast bolued with thine owne mouth to doe to the King of heauen.

47 Then King Darius rising vp, kissed him, and wrote him letters to all the stewardes and lieutenants, and capitaines, and gouernours, that they shoulde bring on the way [both] him, and all that were with him, which went vp to builde Jerusalem.

48 And he wrote letters to all the lieutenants in Coelosyria and Phenice, and to the that were in Libanus, that they shoulde bring cedar wood from Libanus to Jerusalem, and builde the citie with him.

49 And he wrote for all the Iewes, which went vp out of his kingdome vnto Judea, concerning their libertie, that no prince, nor lieutenant, nor gouernour, nor steward shoulde enter into their doores,

50 And that all the region which they kept, shoulde pay no tribute, and that the Idumeans shoulde let goe the villages of the Iewes which they helde,

51 And that euery yeere there shoulde be giuen for the building of the Temple twentie talents untill it were built,

52 And to maintaine the burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer seuentene) other ten talents euery yeere.

53 And that all they which went from Babylon to builde the citie, shoulde haue libertie, as well they as their posteritie, and all the Priestes that went away.

54 He wrote also touching the charges and the Priestes garment, wherein they shoulde minister.

55 And he wrote that they shoulde giue the Levites their charges untill the house were finished, and Jerusalem built.

56 Also he wrote that they shoulde giue pensions and wages to them that kept the citie.

57 And he sent away all the vessels which Cyrus had set apart out of Babylon, and what so euer Cyrus had commanded to do, he also commanded to doe it, and to send to Jerusalem.

58 And when the young man was gone forth, he lift vp his face to heauen towards Jerusalem, and gaue thanks to the King of heauen,

59 Saying, Of thee is the victorie, and for Jerusalem.

of thee is wisdom, and of thee is glory, &
I am thy servant.

60 Blessed be thou which hast given me wisdom: for vnto thee I acknowledge it, O Lord of our fathers.

61 C So hee tooke the letters and went out and came to Babylon, and telled all his brethren.

62 And they blessed the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and libertie

63 To go by and to build Ierusalem, & the Temple, where his Name is renowmed, and they reioyced With instruments of musicke and ioy, seuen dayes.

50 Whither also there were gathered against them of all nations of the land: but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations of the land: were their enemies and bered them, and they offered sacrifices according to the season, and burnt offerings to the Lord, morning and evening.

51 They kept also the feast of tabernacles, as it is* ordeined in the Lawe, and of fered sacrifices euery day, as was requisite,

53 And all* they which had made any with gladnes.

55 And charrets to the Sidonians and to those of Tyrus to bring Cedar wood out of Libanus, which should be brought by flots to the haven of Joppe according to the commandment giuen vnto them by Cyrus king of Persia.

56 And in the seconde yeere and seconde moneth came into the Temple of God in Ierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Ioseph, and their brethren, and the Priests and Levites, and all they that came out of captiuitie into Ierusalem.

57 And *laid the foundation of þ<sup>r</sup> house of God in the first day of the second moneth of the second yeere after their returne into Iudea and Ierusalem.

58 And they appointed the Levites from thentie yeere olde ouer the woordes of the Lord, and Ielus and his sonne, and his brethren, and his brother Cadmiel, and the sonnes of Badiabon with the sonnes of Joda, the sonne of Yehiadun, with their sonnes, and brethren, euén all the Levites with one accord did follow after the worke, calling vpon the worke in the house of God:
thus the workemen built the Temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stood clothed with their long garments with muscally [instruments] and trumpets, and the Levites the sonnes of Asaph with cymbales.

60 Singing and blessing the Lorde, according to the ordinance of David King

of Israel.

61 And they sung with loud voyce songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercie and glorie [is] for euer in all Israel.

62 Then all the people blew trumpets, and cryed with loude voyce, praying the Lorde for the raising vp of the house of the Lord.

63 Also some of the Priests and Levites, and chiefe me, [to wit,] the Ancients which had seene the former house.

54. Came [to see] the building of this with weeping and great crying, and many with trumpets and ioy [cried] with loude voyce.

65 So that the people coulde not heare the trumpets, because of the weeping of the people : yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets , so that they were heard farre of.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin heard it, they came to knowe what noyle of trumpets it was.

67 And they knewe that they of the captiuitie built the Temple to the Lord God of Israel.

68 wherefore they comming to Zoro-babel, and Jesus, and the chiefe of the families, said vnto the, Let vs build also to you.

69 For we obey your Lorde, as you doe, and sacrifice vnto him since the dayes of As- basareth king of Assyriās, which brought vs hither.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Iesus, and chiefe of the families of Israel said to them, It doth not appertaine to vs, and to you to bulde an house to the Lord our God.

71 For we alone will build it to y<sup>e</sup> Lord God of Israel, as it becometh vs, [and] as * Cyrus the king of the Persians bade vs.

72. Howbeit the people of the land made them sluggish that were in Judea, & letted them to build the worke, & by their ambushments and seditions and conspiracies hindered the finishing of the building.

73 All the time of king Cyrus life: so that they were let from the building two yeere, vntill the reigne of Darius.

CHAP. VI

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the Temple.
3 Sinnes would let them. 7 His Epistle to Darius. 23 The king's answer to the contrarie.

But in the seconde yeere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Addo the Prophetes propheticied to the Iewes, euē vnto them that were in Iudea & Ierusalem, in the name of the of the Lord God of Israel, which they [called] <sup>† Gre. upon them.</sup> vpon.

2 Then Zorobabel sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec stood vpon, and began to build the house of the Lord, which is in Jerusalem, the Prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 ¶ In that time Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria, and Phenice, and Sathrabouzaus with his companions came vnto them,

4 And said vnto them, By whose commandement build you this house and this building, & enterprise all these other things: and who are the builders that enterprise such things:

5 But the Ancients of the Iewes had grace of the Lord after that hee had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted to builde, vntill it was signified vnto Darius of these matters, and an answer was received.

7 ¶ The copie of the Epistle, which hee did write and sende to Darius: SISINNES gouernour of Syria and of Phenice, and Sathrabouzaus, and their companions, presidents in Syria and Phenice, salute King Darius.

8 It may please the King our master plainly to vnderstand, that when we came to the countrey of Iudea, and entred into the cite of Jerusalem, we founde in the cite of Jerusalem the Ancients of the Iewes that were of the captiuitie,

9 Building an house of the Lord, great and new, of heben stones, & of great price, and the timber all ready layde vpon the walles.

10 And these workes are done with great speede, yea, and the worke hath good successe in their hands, so that it wil be finished with all gloire and diligence.

11 Then we asked their Ancients, saying, By whose commandement build you this house, and lay the foundation of these workes:

12 We asked them these things to the intent to nottifie them to thee, and to write to thee the men that governed it: therefore we demanded the names of the gouernours in writing.

13 But they answered, saying, wee are the seruants of the Lord, which hath created the heauen and the earth.

14 And <sup>1. King. 6.2.</sup> this house was built by many yerres ago by a king of Israel great & strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers, prouoking [God] to wrath, sinned against the Lord of Israel, [which is] in heauen, <sup>1. King. 24.1.</sup> hee deliuered them into the handes of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon of the Chaldeans, 16 [who] brake downe the house [and] burnt it, and caried the people captiue to Babylon.

17 But in the first yeece of the reigne of Cyrus ouer the countrey of Babylon, King Cyrus wrote that this house shoulde be built vpon.

18 And the holy vessels of golde and of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house at Jerusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple, Cyrus the King tooke out of the Temple at Babylon, and they were giuen to Zorobabel, and to Sanabassar ruler.

19 And a commandement was giuen vnto him, that he shoulde cary away those vessels, and put them in the Temple at Jerusalem, and that this Temple of the Lord shoulde be built in this place.

20 Then the same Sanabassar, being come hither, layed the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and since that time till now, it is in building, [and] is not finished.

21 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let it be sought by in the kings libraries concerning Cyrus.

22 And if it be founde that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath bene done by the consent of king Cyrus, and if it seeme good to the lord our King, let him make vs answer concerning these things.

23 Then King Darius commanded to searche in the kings libraries, that were in Babylon, & there was founde in Ecbatane, which is a towne in the region of Media, a place where such things were layed by for memorie.

24 In the first yeece of the reigne of Cyrus, King Cyrus commanded the house of the Lord at Jerusalem to bee builded, where they did sacrifice with the continuall fyre.

25 Of the which the height [shoulde be] of threelcore cubites, & breadth of threelcore cubites with thre roldes of heben stones, and one rolde of newe wood of that countrie, and that the costes shoulde be payed out of the house of king Cyrus.

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, aswell those of golde as of siluer, which Nabuchodonosor had caried out of the house in Jerusalem, and brought into Babylon, shoulde bee restored to the house, which is in Jerusalem, and set in the place where

Where they were [afoze.]

27 Also hee commanded that Sisimnes, gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, and those which were constitute captaines in Syria and Phenice, should take heed to re- strayne from that place, and to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lorde, and gouernour of Iudea, and the Elders of the Iewes to builde that house of the Lorde in that place.

28 And I also haue commanded to builde it cleane by agayne, and that they bee diligent to helpe them of the captiuitie of the Iewes, till the house of the Lorde bee finished,

29 And that some part of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice should be diligently giuen to these men for sacrifice vnto the Lord, and to Zorobabel the gouernour, for bulles, rammes and lambes:

30 Also corne, and salt, and wine, and oyle continually euery yere without fayle, as the Priests, which are in Ierusalem shal testifie to be spent euery day, 31 That offerings may be made to þ high God for the king, and his children, and that they may pray for their liues.

32 Furthermoze hee commaunded that whosoever should transgresse any thing afoze spoken of writte, or derogate any thing thereof, that a tree should be taken out of his possession, and he be hanged thereon, and that his goods should be the Kinges.

33 And therefore let þ Lord whose name is there called vpon, destroy euery king and nation, which stretcheth out his hande to hinder or doe euill to that house of the Lord which is in Ierusalem.

34 * I Darius the King haue ordeyned that it should be dee diligently executed according to these things.

CHAP. VII.

1 Sisimnes and his companions followe the kings commaundement, and helpe the Iewes to builde the Temple, 5 The time that it was built, 10 They keepe the Passouer.

27 Then Sisimnes the * gouernour of Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabouzanes, and their companions, obeying king Darius commaundements, 2 Assisted diligently the holy woorkes, working with the Ancientes & gouernours of the Sanctuarie.

3 And the holy woorkes prospered by Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophetes which propheted.

4 So they finished all thinges by the commaundement of the Lorde God of Israel, and with the consent of Cyrus and Darius, and Artaxerxes Kinges of the Persians.

5 Thus the holie house was finished in the three and twentieth daye of the moneth Adar in the first yere of Darius King of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, and the Priests and the Leuites, and the rest, which were of the captiuitie, and had any charge, did according to the thinges [written] in the booke of Moyles.

7 And they offered for the dedication of the Temple of the Lorde, an hundred bulles, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambs,

8 And twelve goates for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the chief of the tribes of Israel.

9 And the Priests, and the Leuites stood according to their kindreds clothed with long robes in the woorkes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moyles, and also the porters in euery gate.

10 And the children of Israel offered the Passouer together with them of the captiuitie, in the fourteenth [day] of the first moneth, after that the Priests & Leuites were sanctified.

11 But all the children of the captiuitie were not sanctified together, but all the Leuites were sanctified together.

12 And they offered the Passouer for all the childre of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselves.

13 Then all the children of Israel which were of the captiuitie did eat, [euen] all they that had separated them selues from the abominations of the people of the lande, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of bulleauened bread seuen dayes, reioycing befoze the Lorde.

15 Because he had turned the counsell of the King of the Assyrians towarde them to strengthen their hands in the woorkes of the Lord God of Israel.

Elezar, [the sonne] of Aaron was the high

3 This Eldras went out of Babylon and was a scribe well taught in the law of Moys-es, given by the Lord God of Israel.

4 Also þ king gaue him [great] honour,
[and] he found grace in his sight in all his re-questes.

5 With him also there departed some of the children of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites, and of the holy fingers, and of the porters, & of the ministers of the Temple vnto Jerusalem,

6 In the seuenth yeere of the reigne of Artaxerres, and in the fifth moneth: this was the seuenth yeere of the king (for they went out of Babylon in the first day of the first moneth),

7 And came to Jerusalem according as the Lord gaue them speed in their iourney)

8 For Eldras had gotten great knowledge, so that hee woulde let nothing passe that was in the Lawe of the Lord, and in the commandements, and he taught all Israel all the ordinances and iudgements.

9 So the commission written by King Artaxerres was giue Eldras the Priest and reader of the Lawe of the Lord: the copie therof folloiweth.

10 King Artaxerres to Eldras the Priest, and reader of the Lawe of the Lord, Salutation.

11 Forasmuch as I consider things with pittie, I haue commanded that they that will and desire of the nation of the Iewes, and of the Priests and Leuites, which are in our kingdome, shoulde goe with thee vnto Israel.

12 Therefore as many as bee willing, let them depart together, as it hath seemed good to me and my seuen friends the countellers,

13 That they may visite the thinges that are in Iudea and Jerusalem diligently, as it is contained in the Lawe of the Lord.

14 And carie the giftes to the Lord of Israel in Jerusalem, which I and my friends haue bolbed: also all the golde and siluer, which shall be found in the countrey of Babylon [appertayning] to the Lord in Jerusalem,

15 With that which is giuen of the people to the Temple of the Lord their God, that it might be brought to Jerusalem, as siluer as golde, for bulles, and rammes, and lamdes, and thinges thereunto pertaining,

16 That they may offer sacrifices to the Lord vpon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem.

17 And whatsoeuer thou and thy brethren will do with the gold or siluer, accomplish it according to the will of thy God.

18 And þ holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the vse of the Temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt let before thy God in Jerusalem.

19 And what other thinges soeuer thou shalt remeber for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the Kings treasure.

20 And I also King Artaxerres haue commanded the treasurers of Syria & phenice, that whatsoeuer Eldras, the Priest and reader of the Lawe of the hiest God, shall sende for, they shoulde giue it him with all speede, euen to [the summe of] an hundredth talents of siluer,

21 And likewise vnto an hundredth cores of corne, and an hundredth pieces of wine and other things in abundance.

22 Let al thinges be done to the hiest God according to þ Lawe of God with diligence, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the king and of his sonnes.

23 Also to you it is commanded, þ of none of the Priests or Leuites, or holy fingers, or porters or ministers of the Temple, or of the workemen of this Temple, no tribute nor taxe be taken, nor that any haue powber to take them in any thing.

24 Thou also, Eldras, according to the wisedome of God, ordeyne iudges and gouernours, that they may iudge in all Syria and Phenice al those which are wel instrueted in the Law of thy God, and teach those, which are not instructed.

25 And let al those which shal transgresse the Law of God and the King, be diligently punished, either with death, or other punishment, either with penaltie of money, or banishment.

26 ¶ Then Eldras the scribe laide, Blessed bee the onely Lord God of my fathers, which hath put this in the heart of the king to glorifie his house which is in Jerusalem,

27 And hath honoured me before þ king, and the counsellors, and all his friends, and gouernours.

28 ¶ Therefore I was incouraged by Ezra. 3. 1.
the helpe of the Lord my God, and gathered men of Israel to go by with me.

29 These are the guides after their families and order of dignities, which came by with me out of Babylon in the reigne of Artaxerres the King.

30 Of the sonnes of Phinees, Serfom, of the sonnes of Ithamar, Gamael, of the sonnes of Dauid, Lettus.

31 Of the sonnes of Sechemias, of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharias, and with him were counted an hundredth and fiftie men.

32 Of the sonnes of Salomon, Abeliaenias, the sonne of Zacharias, & with him two hundredth men.

33 Of the sonnes of Zachoe, Sechemias the sonne of Jezelus, and with him three hundredth men: of the sonnes of Adin, Debeth sonne of Jonathas, and with him two hundredth and fiftie men.

34 Of the sonnes of Elam, Jesias sonne of Gopholias, and with him leuente men.

35 Of the sonnes of Saphatias, Zartas sonne of Pachael, and with him leuente men.

36 Of the sonnes of Joab, Badias sonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundredth and twelue men.

37 Of the sonnes of Band, Assalimoth sonne of Josaphias, & with him an hundredth and threescore men.

38 Of the sonnes of Sobi, Zacharias sonne of Zebai, and with him twentie and eight men.

39 Of the sonnes of Asath, Johannes sonne of Acatan, and with him an hundredth and tenne.

40 Of the sonnes of Adoniram the last: and these are the names of them, Elphal, Jeuel and Batas, and with them leuente men: of the sonnes of Bagouthi sonne of Isaacourus, and with him leuente men.

41 And I gathered them together to the flood called Theras, and pitched our tents there three dayes, and numbred them.

42 But when I had found there none of the Priefts nor Levites, 43 I sent to Eleazar, and beholde, there came Daafman, and Almathan, and Samarian, and Joixobon, and Nathan, Emmatan, Zacharian, and Holiolamon the chief, and best learned.

44 And I bade them to goe to Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treasure, 45 with charge to bid Daddeus and his brethren, and the treasurers that were there, to send to vs them, which should offer sacrifice in the house of our Lord.

46 And they brought vnto vs by the mightie bande of our Lorde learned men of the sonnes of Holi, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, [to wit,] Elebezbai and his sonnes, and his brethren being eighteene.

47 And Asebia, and Annon, and Asaian his brethren of the sonnes of Cananims with their sonnes, twentie persons.

48 And of the ministers of the Temple, which Dauid gaue, and those which were rulers ouer the woodke of the Leuites, [to wit,] ministers of the Temple, two hundredth and twentie, of whome all the names were registred.

49 And there I proclaimed a fast for the young men before the Lorde to aske of him a good iourney both for vs, and for the that were with vs, for our children, and for our cattell.

50 For I was ashamed to aske the king footemen, or horsemen, or conduct for safe garde against our enemies,

51 Because wee had layde to the King, that the power of our Lord should be with them that sought him, to direct them in all things.

52 Wherefore wee prayed our Lorde againe, according to these things, whome we found fauourable.

53 Then I chose from among the chiefe of the tribes, and of the Priefts, twelue men, [to wit,] Elezbias and Assanias, and with them ten of their brethren.

54 And I weighed them the siluer and the golde, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the King and his counsellors, and his Pynces, and all Israel had giuen.

55 And I weighed them, sixe hundredth and fiftie talents of siluer, and siluer vessels of an hundredth talents, and an hundredth talents of golde, 56 And twentie golden basins, & twelue vessels of brasle, of fine brasle thing like golde.

57 And I saide to them, You are also holy to the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold, and the siluer is a bow to the Lord of our fathers.

58 Watch and keepe them, till that you giue them to the heads of the families of the Priefts, and Leuites, and captaines of the families of Israel in Ierusalem in the chambers of the house of our God.

59 So the Priefts and Leuites tooke the siluer and the golde, and the vessels, and caried them to Ierusalem to the Temple of the Lord.

60 And wee departed fro the flood Theras, in the twelfth day of the first moneth, and came to Ierusalem, according to the mightie powder of our Lorde with vs: and the Lorde deliuered vs from the beginning of our iourney from all enemies. So we came to Ierusalem.

[Or, Mar-tius the sonne of Iouri,

61 And three dayes being past there, in the fourth day the siluer þ was weighed, & the golde was deliuered in the house of our Lord to I Harmoth the Priest, the sonne of Iouri.

[Or, Nodis
sonne of Baran,

62 And with him to Eleazar the [sonne] of Phinees: and there were with them, Josabab [the sonne] of Iesus, and Joeth [sonne] of Sabbanus. Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

63 And all the weight of them was written that same houre.

64 Afterwardes those that were come out of the captiuitie, offered sacrifices to the Lorde God of Israel, [even] twelue bulles for all Israel, rams foure score and sixtene,

65 Lambes three score & twelue, twelue goates for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

66 And they presented the commandements of the King to the Kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria & Phenice who honoured the people, & the Temple of God.

Exra. 9.

67 ¶ When these things were done, the gouernours came to me, saying, The people of Israel, the Priues and the Priestes, and the Leuites haue not separated [from the] the strange people of the land,

68 For the pollutions of the Gentiles, [to wit.] of the Cananites, & Chetites, and Phereites, and Jebusites, and Moabites, and Egyptians, and Ioumeans.

69 For they haue dwelt with their daughters, both they and their sonnes, and the holy seede is mixed with the strange people of the lande, and the gouernours and rulers haue bene partakers of this wickednes fro the beginning of the thing.

70 And alsoone as I had heard these thinges, I rent my clothes, & the holy garment, and I pulled the beare of mine head, and of my beard, and sate me downe for owll full, and very sadde.

71 Then also all they that were moued with the worde of the Lord God of Israel, came to me whyles I wept for the iniquitie, but I sate very sad till the euening sacrifice.

72 Then I rose from the fast with my clothes torne, & the holy garment, & bowed my knees and stretcht forth [mine] hands to the Lord.

Exra. 9.

73 And said, ¶ O Lord, I am ashamed, and confounded before thy face.

74 For our finnes are increased aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp to heauen.

75 ¶ Pea, eue from the time of our fathers we are in great sinne vnto this day.

76 For our finnes therfore, and our fathers we with our brethzen, with our kings and Priestes haue bene giuen vp to the kings of the earth, to the sword & to captiuitie, and for a pray with all shame vnto this day.

77 And now holde great hath thy mercie bene, O Lorde, that [there] shoulde bee left vs a roote, and name in the place of thine holinesse!

78 And that thou shouldest reueale to vs a light in þ house of the Lorde our God, and giue vs meate in the time of our seruitude!

79 For when wee were in bondage, wee were not left of our God, but he gaue vs fauour before the Kings of the Persians, that they shoulde giue vs meate.

80 And that they shoulde honour þ Temple of our Lorde, and raise vp Sion that is desolate, & giue vs assurance in Iudea and Ierusalem.

81 And now, O Lorde, what shall wee say, hauing these things: for we haue transgressed thy commandements, which thou hast giuen by the hands of thy seruantes the Prophets, saying,

82 ¶ Because the land, which ye go to inherit, is a land polluted by the pollutions of the strangers of the lande, which haue filled it with their filchinesse,

83 Therefore now be ye shall not toyne [their] daughters with your sonnes, neither giue your daughters to their sonnes, 84 Neither shal you desire to haue peace with them for euer, that ye may bee made strong, and eate the good thinges of the land, and leaue it for an inheritance to your children for euer.

85 Therefore all that is come to passe, was done for our wicked woorkes, and for our great finnes: yet, Lorde, thou hast forborne our finnes, 86 And hast giuen vs such a roote: [but] we againe haue turned backe to transgresse thy lawe, [and] to mixe [vs] with the uncleannesse of the people of the land.

87 Mightest thou not be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest neither leaue vs roote nor seede nor name:

88 [But,] O Lorde of Israel, thou art true: for there is a roote left, [even] vnto this day.

89 Behold, we are now before thee with our iniquities, neither can we indure before thee for these thinges.

90 ¶ And as Esdras prayed and confessed

sed and wept, and lay vpon the ground before the Temple, a verie great multitude was gathered vnto him out of Ierusalem of men and women, and yong children: for there was great lamentation among the multitude.

For, xxiij.

91 Then Iechonias the sonne of Ieiel of the sonnes of Israel, crying out sayde, O Eldas, wee haue sinned against the Lorde God: wee haue taken in marriage strange women of the nations of the land.

92 And now all Israel is doubtfull: therefore let vs make an othe concerning this to the Lord to put away all our wiues, which are strangers, with their children.

93 If it seeme good to thee, & to all them that obey the law of the Lord, rise vp [and] put it in execution.

94 For to thee doeth it apperteyne, and we are with thee to make thee strong.

95 Then Eldas arose, and made al the chiefe of the families of the Priests and Leuites of all Israel to sweare, that they would do thus: and they dware.

7 After Eldas had read the lawe for the strange wiues, 10 They promise to put them away.

Esa. 10.6.

Then Eldas rose from the court of the Temple, and went to the chamber of Ioannan the sonne of Eliafib,

2 And being lodged there, he did eate no bread nor drinke water, but mourned for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Iudea & Ierusalem, to all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should bee gathered to Ierusalem.

4 And that all they which shoulde not meete there within two or three dayes, according to the ordinance of the Elders, which bare rule, shoulde haue their cattell confiscated to the Temple, and he cast out from among them of the captiuitie.

5 Then all they which were of the tribe of Iuda & Benjamin, came together within three dayes into Ierusalem: this was the ninth moneth, and twentieth [day] of the moneth.

6 And all the multitude sate in the broad place of the Temple shaking, because of the extreme winter.

7 Then Eldas arose and saide to them, We haue sinned: for ye haue married strange wiues, so that ye haue augmented the finnes of Israel.

8 Now therefore confesse and glorifie the Lord God of our fathers,

9 And doe his Will, and separate your selues from the people of the land, and from the strange wiues.

10 Then all the multitude cried out and said with a loude voyce, Wee will doe so as thou hast said.

11 But because the multitude [is] great, & the time is winter, so that we can not stande without, & the worke is not of one day nor of two, seeing that many of vs haue sinned in this matter,

12 Let the chiefe men of the multitude, & all they which haue strange wiues of our families, tarië:

13 And let the priests and Judges come out of all places at y day appointed, till they haue appeared the wiath of the Lorde against vs for this matter.

14 Then Ionathas Aiafis sonne, and Ezerias sonne of Iheran were appointed concerning these things, and Hosolam and Sabbateus did helpe them.

15 And they which were of the captiuitie, did after all these things.

16 Eldas the Priest also chose him certaine me, chiefe of their families, all by name: and they sate together in the first day of the tenth moneth to examine this matter.

17 And they made an ende of the things pertaining to them that had married strange wiues in the first day of the first moneth.

18 And there were found of the Priests, which had married strange wiues, 19 Of the sonnes of Ielus, the sonne of Ioseder, and of [his] brethren, Hathelas, and Eleazar, and Ioribus, and Ionadan.

20 Who also gaue their hands to cast out their wiues, and offered a ram for [their] reconciliation in their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabbens, and Canes, and Samens, and Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Phaisu, Elienas, Dailias, Elnaelus, and Nathanael, & Dridelus, and Talfas.

23 And of the Leuites, Iorabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Doubas, and Ionas.

24 Of the holy singers, Eliasurus, Barthurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallunus, and Tolbanes.

30 Of the sonnes of ¶ Dani, Damius, Parnuchus, Jebaias, Jafubus, Jafael, and Jeremuth.

31 And of the sonnes of ¶ Addi, Raathus, Moofias, Laccimus, and Raodus, and Pathanias, and ¶ Sefchel, and Salimus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of ¶ Annas, Elionas, and Afeas, and Helchias, & Sabbcus, and Simon a Cholanite.

33 And of the sonnes of ¶ Afom, Altaneus, and ¶ Hattias, and Samaias, Elphalat, and Manasseas, and Semei.

35 And of the sonnes of ¶ Ethna, Pazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Inel, Samaias.

36 All these married strange wives, & put them away with their children.

37 And the priests and the Levites dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, the first day of the seventh moneth, and the children of Israel in their owne houses.

38 ¶ Then all the multitude assembled together with one consent into the broad place before the gate of the Temple toward the East.

39 And spake to Esdras the Priest, and reader, that hee should bring the Lawe of Moyses, which had bene given by the Lord God of Israel.

40 He brought Esdras the chiefe Priest the law to all the multitude, both man and woman, and to all the priestes, that they might heare the lawe the first day of the seventh moneth.

41 And he read in the first broad place of the gate of the Temple, from morning to midday, before the men and the women, and all the multitude hearkened to the Lawe.

42 So Esdras the Priest and reader of ¶ Lawe, stood vpon a pulpit of wood that was prepared.

43 And there stood by him ¶ Batgathias, <sup>[i.e., Marthias.]</sup> Samimus, Ananias, Azarias, Durias, & zecias, Balalamus at his right hand.

45 Then Esdras tooke the booke of the Lawe before the multitude (for hee late honourably before them all)

46 And they all stood bryght when he expounded the Lawe, and Esdras blessed the Lord the most hye God, the most mightie God of hostes.

47 And the whole multitude cryed, Amen.

48 Then Iesus and ¶ Anus, and Sarabias, <sup>[i.e., Rameat.]</sup> and Adimus, and Jacobus, Sabataias, Autanias, Pamaianas and Calitas, Azarias, & Joazabbus, and Ananias, [and] Biatas the Levites lift by their hands, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped the Lord.

49 And taught the Lawe of the Lord, & stood also earnestly vpon the reading.

50 Then said ¶ Aththarates to Esdras <sup>[i.e., Zathar, i.e., Sabad, & Sardas, i.e., Rebe.]</sup> the chiefe Priest and reader, and to the Levites, that taught ¶ multitude in all things, This day is holy vnto the Lord, & all haue wept in hearing of the Lawe.

51 So therefore and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinkes, and send presents to them that haue not.

52 For this day is holy to the Lord, and bee not lozie: for the Lord God will glorifie you.

53 So the Levites commanded all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord: be not sad.

54 Then they departed all to eate, and drinke, and to reioyce, and to giue presents to them that had not, and to make good chere.

55 For they were yet filled with ¶ words wherewith they were instructed, wher they were assembled together.

48 Then Iesus and ¶ Amus, and Sara-bias, and Adimus, and Jacobus, Saba-taias, Autanias, Paianias and Calitas, Azarias, & Joasabbus, and Ananias, [and] ¶ Biatas the Levites lift by their hands, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped
the Lord.

49 And taught the Lawe of the Lord, & stood also earnestly vpon the reading.

50 Then said ¶ Aththarates to Esdras <sup>[ir, Zababius,]</sup>
the chiefe Priest and reader, and to the Le-uites, that taught ¶ multitude in all things,
This day is holy vnto the Lord, & all haue wept in hearing of the Lawe.

51 So therefore and eate the fat meates, and drinke the sweete drinkes, and send presents to them that haue not.

52 For this day is holy to the Lord, and bee not loze: for the Lord God will glorifie you.

53 So the Levites commanded all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord: be not sad.

54 Then they departed all to eate, and drinke, and to reioyce, and to giue presents to them that had not, and to make good there.

55 For they were yet filled with ¶ words where with they were instructed, whē they were assembled together.

Thus saith the Lorde, I brought this people out of bondage: I gaue them also my commandments by my seruantes the Prophets, whome they woulde not heare, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith vnto them, Goe you away, O children: for I am a widowe and forsaken.

3 I brought you vp with gladnesse, but with sorrowe and heauinesse haue I lost you: for yee haue sinned against the Lorde your God, and done the thing that displeaseth him.

4 But what shall I now doe vnto you: I am a widowe and forsaken: goe yee, O my children, and aske mercie of the Lord.

5 And thee, O Father, I cal for a witnes for: for mother of these children, which would not keepe my covenant.

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a people, that their kindred be not continued.

7 Let their names bee scattered among the heathen: let them bee put out of the earth, for they haue despised my covenant.

8 Vnto thee, Assur: for thou hidest the brighteous in thee: O wicked people, remember * what I did vnto Sodom & Gomorrah, Gen. 19. 4.

9 whose lande is mixed with cloudes of pitch and heapes of ashes: so will I doe vnto them, that heare mee not, saith the almightie Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord vnto Esdras, Tell my people, that I will giue them the kingdome of Ierusalem, which I woulde haue giuen vnto Israel.

11 And I will get mee glory by them, and giue the the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for those.

12 They shall haue at will the tree of life, smelling of oymnt: they shall neither labour nor be wearie.

13 Go ye, and ye shall receiue it: pray that the time, which is long, may bee shortned: the kingdome is alreadie prepared for you: watche.

14 Take heauen and earth to witnes: for I haue abolished the euill, and created the good: for I liue, saith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, & bring them vp with gladnesse: make their feete as fast as a pillar: for I haue chosen thee: saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead, will I raise vp from their places, and bring them out of the graues: for I haue knowen my name in Israel.

17 Feare not, thou mother of the children: for I haue chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 I will send thee my seruantes Euse and Ieremie to helpe thee, by whose counsell I haue sanctified and prepared for thee twelue trees laden with diuers fruites,

19 And as many fountaines, flowing with milke and hony, and seven mightie mountaines, wherupon there growe roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with ioy.

20 Execute iustice for the widowe: iudge the cause of the fatherlesse: giue to the poore: defend the fatherlesse: clothe the naked.

21 Heale the wounded, and sicke: laugh not a lame man to scorne: defend the creeple, and let the blinde come into the light of my clearenesse.

22 Keepe the olde and the yong that are within thy walles.

Tob. i. 17,

23 *Wheresoever thou findest the dead, take them and bury them, and I will giue thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and rest: for thy quietnes shall come.

25 Nourishe thy children, O thou good nurse: stablish their feete.

26 None of the seruants that I haue giuen thee, shall perish: for I will seeke them from among thy number.

27 See not weary: for when the day of trouble and heauines commeth, other shall weepe and bee sorrowfull, but thou shalt bee merie and haue abundance.

28 The heathen shall enuie thee, and shall doe nothing against thee, sayth the Lord.

29 Mine handes shall couer thee, so that thy children shall not fee hell.

30 See ioyfull, O thou mother, with thy children: for I will deliuer thee, sayth the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleepe: for I will bring them out of the sides of the earth, and will shewe mercie vnto them: for I am mercifull, sayth the Lord almighty.

32 Embrace thy children, vntill I come and shewe mercie vnto them: for my foundaimes runne ouer, and my grace shall not faile.

33 I Elzas receiued a charge of  $\text{f Lord}$  vpon the mount Moab, that I shoulde goe vnto them of Israel, but when I came to them, they cast me off, and despised the commandement of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say vnto you, O yee heathen, that heare and vnderstand, waite for your shepheard, who shal giue you euerlasting rest: for he is nether at hand, that shal come in the end of the world.

35 Bee ready to the rewarde of the kingdome: for the euerlasting light shall shine vpon you for euermore.

36 Flee the shadowe of this worlde: receiue the top of your glorie: I testifie my fauour openly.

37 Receiue the gift that is giuen you, and be glad, giuing thanks vnto him, that hath called you to the heavenly kingdome.

38 Arise, and stande vp, and beholde the number of those that are sealed for the feast of the Lord, 39 which are departed from the shadowe of the world, and haue receiued glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut vp them that are clothed in white, which haue fulfilled the Law of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whome thou longest for, is fulfilled: befeeth the power of  $\text{f Lord}$ , that thy people which haue bene called from the beginning, may bee sanctified.

42 *I Elzas saide vpon mount Seon a great people whome I coulde not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

Reuel. 7. 9.

43 And in the middes of them there was a yong man hier in stature then them all, & vpon euery one of their heads he set crowns, & was hier then the others, which I much maruelled at.

44 So I asked the Angel, & saide, who are these, my Lord:

45 who answered, and sayde vnto me, These be they, that haue put off the mortall clothing, and haue put on the immortal, and haue confessed the name of God: now be are they crowned, and receiue the palmes.

46 Then said I vnto the Angel, what yong man is it, that setteth crownes on them, and giueth them the palmes in their hands?

47 And hee answered, and sayd vnto mee, It is the Sonne of God, whom they haue confessed in the worlde. Then began I greatly to commend the, that had stande so strongly for the Name of the Lord.

48 Then the Angell said vnto me, Goe thy way, and tell my people, what & holbe great wonders of the Lord God thou hast seene.

4 The wonderous workes, which God doo for the people, are recorded. 31 Elzas maruelled that God suffereth the Babylonians to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are sinners also.

In the thirtieth yeeere after I fall of the citie, as I was at Babylon, I lay troubled vpon my bed, & my thoughtes came by to mine heart,

2 Because I saw  $\text{f desolation}$  of Sion, & the welth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 So my spirite was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearefull wordes to the most high, and sayd,

4 O Lord, Lord, thou spakest at the beginning when thou alone plantedst the earth, and gauest commandement vnto the people,

5 *And a body vnto Adam, without soule,

Gen. 1. 2.

foyle, who was also the workmanship of thine handes, and hast breathed in him the breath of life, so that he liued before thee.

6 And leddest him into Paradise, which thy right hand had planted, or euer  $\frac{1}{2}$  earth brought forth.

7 Euen then thou gauest him commandement to loue thy way: but he transgressed it, and immediatly thou appointedst death to him and his generation, of whom came nations, tribes, people and kindreds out of number.

Gen. 1.1. 8 * And euery people walked after their owne will, and did wonderfull thinges before thee, and despised thy commandements.

Gen. 7.10 9 * But at the time appoynted thou broughtest the flood vpon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

10 So that by the flood, that came to euery one of them, which came by death vnto Adam,

1. Pet. 3.10. 11 Yet thou ledest one [euen] * Noe, with his household, of whom came all righteous men.

12 And when they that dwelt vpon the earth, began to multiply, and the number of the children, people and many nations were increased, they began to bee more wickedly then the first.

Gen. 1.1. 13 Noe when they liued wickedly before thee, * thou diddest choole thee a man from among them, whose name was * Abraham.

14 Whom thou louedst, and vnto whom onely thou shewedst thy will,

15 And madest an euermlasting couenamt with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seede.

Gen. 21. 2.3. 2.5. Gen. 25. 25.26. Malac. 3. rom. 9.13. 16 * And vnto him thou gauest Isaac, * vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob and Esau, and diddest choole Jacob, and cast off Esau, and so Jacob became a great multitude.

Exod. 19.1. deut. 10.10. 17 And when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, * thou broughtest them vp to mount Sina,

18 And inclinedst the heauens and bowedst downe the earth, and diddest moue the ground, and caule the depths to shake, and diddest astonish the worlde.

19 And thy gloze went thorow foure gates of fire, with earthquakes, winde and cold, that thou mightest giue the Law vnto the seede of Jacob, & that which the generation of Israel should diligently obserue.

20 Yet tookest thou not away from them the wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruite in them.

21 For * Adam first hauing a wicked heart, was ouertome and vanquished, and al they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakenes ioyned wth the lawe in the heartes of the people, with the wickednes of the roote: so that the good departed away, and the euil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeres were brought to an end, * til thou diddest raise thee by a seruant called Dauid, 24 * Whom thou commandedst to builde a cite vnto thy name, to call vpon thee therein with incense and sacrifice.

25 When this was done many yeres, the inhabitants forsooke thee,

26 Following the wayes of Adam and all his generation: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 Therefore thou gauest thy cite ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But do they that dwell at Babylon, any better, that they should haue the dominion of Sion:

29 For when I came thither, and sawe their wicked deedes without number (for this is the thirtieth yere that I see many trespassing) I was discouraged.

30 For I sawe, howe thou sufferedst them that sinned, and sparedst the wicked doers, where as thou hast destroyed thine owne people, and preserved thine enemies, and thou hast not shewed it.

31 I can not perceiue how this cometh to passe. Are the deedes of Babylon better then they of Sion:

32 Or is there any other people I knoweth thee besides Israel: or what generation hath so beleued thy testimonies, as Jacob:

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there thorow out the heathen, and I see them flourish, and thinke not vpon thy commandements.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednes now in the balance, & theirs also that dwell in the world, and no mention of thee shalbe found but in Israel.

35 Or when is it that they that dwell on the earth, haue not sinned in thy sight: or what people hath so kept thy commandements:

36 Thou shalt surely finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts, but not the heathen.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The angel rejoyceth Esdras, because hee seemed to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

And

And the Angell that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel answered.

2 And said, Thine heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehend the wayes of the highest.

3 Then saide I, Yea, my Lorde. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to let forth three similitudes before thee.

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shewe thee also the way, that thou desirest to see, and I will shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on, my Lorde. Then sayde he vnto me, See thy way: weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, what mā is borne, that can doe that, which thou requestest me, concerning these things:

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the mids of the sea, or howe great springs are in the beginning of depth, or howe great springs are in the stretching out of the heauen, or which are the borders of Paradise,

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe to the deepe, nor yet to the hell, neither did I euer clime vp to heauen.

9 But nowe haue I asked thee but of fire and wind, and of the day, whereby thou hast passed, and from the which thinges thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou giue me none answer of them.

10 He saide mozeouer vnto me, Thine owne thinges, and such as are growen by with thee, canst thou not knowe:

11 Howe shouldest thou bestell then be able to comprehend the wayes of the highest, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt world, to understande the corruption, that is euident in my sight:

12 Then saide I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that wee shoulde liue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

13 And he answered me, and saide, I came to a forest in þe plaine where the trees helde a counsell,

14 And saide, Come, let vs goe fight against the sea, that it may giue place to vs, and that we may make vs more wooddes.

15 Likewise the floods of the sea tooke counsell and said, Come, let vs goe by and fight against the trees of the wood, that we may get an other countrey for vs.

16 But the purpose of the wood was baine: for the fire came and consumed it.

17 Likewise also the purpose of the floods of the sea: for the lande stode by and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge betweene these two, whome wouldest thou iustifie: or whome wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and saide, Verely it is a foolish purpose, that they both haue deuised: for the grounde is appointed for the wood, and the sea hath his place to beate his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and saide, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

21 For like as the grounde is appointed for the wood, & the sea for his floods, so they that dwell vpon earth, can vnderstande nothing, but that which is vpon earth: and they that are in the heauens, the thinges that are about the height of the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and sayde, I beseech thee, O Lorde, let vnderstanding bee giuen me.

23 For I did not purpose to inquire of thine high thinges, but of such as we daily meddle withall, [namely] wherefore Israel is made a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people, whome thou hast loued, is giuen out to wicked nations, and why the laboe of our fathers is abolished, and the written ceremonies are come to none effect, 24 Why we are tossed to & fro through the world as the grasshoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not thought worthy to obtaine mercie.

25 But what will he doe to his name, which is called vpon ouer vs: Of these thinges haue I asked the question.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt maruaile: for the world hasteth fast to passe away,

27 And can not comprehend the thinges, that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of vnrighteousnesse and weakenesse.

28 But to declare thee the things whereof thou askest, the euill is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill now that is sowen, be not turned by lide down, and if the place where the euill is sowen, passe not away, then can not þe thing come, that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euill feede hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning, gunning, and holv much vngodlines hath he brought vp vnto this time: and holve much shall he bring forth vntill the harvest come:

31 Wonder with thy selfe, holve much fruite of wickednesse the corne of euill seede bringeth forth, 32 And when the stalkes shall bee cut downe, which are without number, holve great an harvest must be prepared.

33 Then I answered, and saide, holve, and when shall these things come to passe: wherefore are our yeeres selve and euill:

34 And he answered me, saying, haste not to be aboute the most high: for thou labourst in vaine to be aboute him, though thou indeuour neuer so much.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, holve long shall I thus hope: and when cometh the fruite of my barne and our wages:

36 And vpon this Jeremiel the Archangel answered, and saide, when the number of the seedes is filled in you: for he hath weighed the worlde in the balance.

37 The measure of the times is measured: the ages are counted by number, and they shall not be moued or shaken, till the measure thereof be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and said, O Lord, Lord, we are all euen full of sinne, 39 And for our sake peradventure the harvest of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinne of them that dwell vpon earth.

40 So he answered me, and sayde, Goe, and aske a woman with childe, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her wombe may keepe the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, Lord, she can not. And he said vnto me, In the graue the places of soules are like the wombe.

42 For as the childe is with childe, hasteth to escape the necessitie of the trauaile, so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 That which thou desirest to see, shall be shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and saide, If I haue founde grace in thy sight, and if it bee possible, and if I be meete thereto, 45 Shewe me whether there be more to come then is past, or more things past, the are to come.

46 What is past, I knowe, but what is to come, I knowe not.

47 And he saide vnto me, Stand on the right side, and I will expounde thee this by example.

48 So I stood, and behold, a hote burning ouen passed before me: and when the flame was gone by, I looked, and beholde, the smoke had the vpper hande.

49 After this there passed before me a watric cloude, and sent downe much raine with a storme: and when the stormie raine was past, the droppes raine after.

50 Then said he vnto me, Consider with thy selfe, as the raine is more then dropps, and as fire exceedeth the smoke, so the portion that is past, hath the vpper hande. And the droppes, and the smoke were much.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I thinke thou vntill that time: or what shall come to passe in those dayes:

52 He answered me, and said, Of the tokens whereof thou askest me, I can tell thee a part: but I am not sent to shewe thee of thy life: for I doe not knowe it.

7 And the sea of Sodom shall cast out fish, and make a noyse in the night, which many shall not knowe, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion in many places, and the fire shall oft breake forth, and the wilde beastes shall change their places, and menſtruous women shall beare monsters.

9 And salt waters shall be founde in the sweete, and all friendes shall fight one against another: then shall wit hide it selfe, and vnderſtanding depart into his ſecret chamber.

chamber.

10 It shalbe sought of many, & yet not be found: then shal brightnes and voluptuousnes haue the byper hand vpon earth.

11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteous iustice gone throughe thee: And it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but not obtaine: they shall labour, but their enterpryses shall not prosper.

13 To helpe thee such tokens I haue leaue, and if thou wilt pray againe & weepe as now, & fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things then these.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulness went throughe all my bodie, and my minde was feeble and fainted.

15 But the Angel that was come to talke with me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vpon my feete.

16 And in the second night, Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto me, saying, where hast thou bene: and why is thy countenance so heauie:

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie:

18 Up then and eate, and forsake vs not, as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the hands of the cruell wolues.

19 Then said I vnto him, So thy wayes from me, and come not neere me: and when he heard it, he went from me.

20 And I fasted seuen dayes, mourning and weeping, as Uriel the Angell had commanded me.

21 And after seuen dayes the thoughts of mine heart were verie grievous vnto me againe.

22 And I had a desire to reason againe, and I began to talke with the most high againe,

23 And said, O Lord, Lord: of euerie forest of the earth, and of all the trees thereof thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard.

24 And of all lands of the world thou hast chosen thee one pit, & of all the fowles of the ground thou hast chosen thee one lute.

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one riuier, and of all builded cities thou hast sanctified Sion vnto thy selfe.

26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one doue, and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast appoynted thee one sheepe.

27 And among all the multitude of people thou hast gotten thee one people, and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a law, that is proued of all,

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one peopleouer vnto many: & vnto one roote thou hast set others, and hast scattered thine onely people among many.

29 They tread them downe, which haue withstood thy promises, and beleue not thy testimonies.

30 And if thou diddest so much hate thy people, they shoulde haue bene punished with thine owne handes.

31 I holde when I had spoken these words, the Angel that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And saide vnto mee, heare me, and I will teach thee, and hearken that I may instruct thee further.

33 And I said, Speake on, my Lord. The said he vnto me, Thou art sore vexed & troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou them better, then he doth that made them:

34 And I said, No, Lord: but of very sorrow haue I spoken: for my reines paine me euerie houre, while I laboer to comprehend the way of the most high, and to seeke out part of his iudgement.

35 And he said vnto me, Thou canst not. And I sayde, wherefore, Lord, wherefore was I borne: or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue: so had I not seene the trouble of Jacob, and the griefe of the flocke of Israel.

36 And he said vnto mee, Number vnto me the things that are not yet come, or gather me the drops that are scattered, or make me the withered flowers greene againe.

37 Open me the places that are closed, & bring me forth the windes, that are shut by therein: shew me the image of a boye, and then will I declare thee the thing, that thou askest and labourest to know.

38 And I saide, O Lord, Lord, who can know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men:

39 But I that am ignorant, holde can I speake of these things, whereof thou askest me:

40 Then said he vnto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things, that I haue spoke of, so canst thou not find out my iudgement, nor the least benefite, that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 Then I said, Behold, O Lord, the last things are present vnto thee, and what shal they do that haue bene before me, or what shal be now, or they that shall come after vs:

42 And he said vnto me, I will compare my iudgement vnto a ring: as there is no slacknesse of the last, so is there no swiftnesse of the first.

43 Then I answered, and said, Couldst thou not make at once those that haue bene, those that are now, and those that shall come, that thou mightest helpe thy indgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me. The creature, said he, can not preuent the Creator, neither can the world holde them at once, that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast taught thy seruant, that thou, which giuest strength to all, hast giuen life at once to all the worke created by thee, & hast susteyned it, so might it now also containe all men at once.

46 And he said vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, and say vnto her, why must thou haue time before thou bringest forth: require her to bying forth ten at once.

47 And I said, Surely she cannot, but by distance of time.

48 Then said he vnto me, So haue I diuided the number of the earth by times whylee it is soluen vpon it.

49 For as a yong childe begetteth not that that belongeth to the aged, so haue I ordeined the time which I haue created.

50 ¶ I asked againe, and saide, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will proceede to speake before thee: for our mother, whome thou hast tolde mee is yong, draweth she nere vnto age?

51 He answered me, and said, Aske a woman that trauaileth, and she will tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, wherefore are not they (whom thou hast now brought forth) like those y<sup>e</sup> were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And shee shall answer thee, Some were borne in the flowre of youth, others were borne in the time of age, when the wombe fayled.

54 Consider now thy selfe, howe that yee are lesse of stature, then those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shew thy seruant, by whom thou dost gouerne thy workmanship:

CHAP. VI.

God hath foretold all things in his secret councill, and is author thereof, and hath created them by his children. 25 The felicity of the are to come.

And he sayde vnto mee, In the beginning when the rounde worlde was made, and before the borders of the worlde were set, and before the windes blew one against another:

2 Before the noyse of thunders sounded, before the bright lightning did shine forth, before the foundations of Paradise were layde:

3 Before the faire flowers did appeare, before the moueable powders were stablished, before the innumerable armies of Angels were gathered:

4 Before the heightes of the aire were lifted vp, before the measures of the heauens were named, before the chimnies in Sion were hote:

5 Before the present yeeres were fought out, and before the affections of them that now be, were turned away, and they that haue layde by the treasure of fayth, were sealed,

6 Then did I purpose these things, and they were made by me alone, and by none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayde, What shall be the diuision of times? or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he sayd vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, * Jacobs hande helde first the heele of Esau. Genas. 6 9 For Esau is the ende of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heele and the hande. Other thing, Elias, aske thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, make an end to shew thy seruant thy tokens, wherof thou shewdest me part the last night.

13 So he answered me, and sayd, Stand by vpon thy feete, and heare a mighty sounding voyce.

14 There shall come as an earthquake, but the place where thou standest, shall not be moued.

15 And therefore when hee speaketh, bee not afraid: for of the ende shall be the word, and of the foundation of the earth shall it be vnderstande.

16 Therefore while one speaketh of them, it trembleth and is moued: for it knoweth, that it must be changed at the ende.

17 And when I had heard it, I stood by vpon my feete, and hearkened, and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters:

18 And it sayde, Behold, the dayes come, that I will come and enquire of them that dwell dwell vpon the earth,

19 And when I begin to inquire of them, who by their vnrighteousnesse haue hurt others, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled,

20 And the world, that shal banish away, shalbe sealed, then wil I shew these signes: the booke shall be opened before the heauen, and they shall see all it together.

21 And the children of a peece olde shall speake with their boyces: the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall lue that are called bp.

22 Then suddenly shall the sowen places appeare as the vnswollen, and the full store houses shall suddenly be found emptye.

23 And the trumpet shall found, and all they that heare it, shall be suddenly afrayed.

24 At that time shall friends fight with friends, as with enemies, and the earth shal feare with them: the springs of the welles shall stand still, and in three houres they shal not runne.

25 Whosoeuer remayneth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, shall be saved and see my saluation, and the ende of your worlde.

26 And the men that are receyued, shall see it: they that haue not tasted death from their birth, and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned to another meaning.

27 For euil shalbe put out, and deceit shal be quenched,

28 But sayth shall flourish: corruption shall be overcome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without fruit, shall come forth, 29 And when he talked with mee, behold, I looked a litle vpo him before whom I stood.

30 And these wordes sayde he vnto mee, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray againe, and fast seuen daies more, I wil tel thee more things, and greater then these, which I haue heard in the day.

32 For thy boyce is heard before the highest: surely the mightie hath seene thy righteous dealing: hee hath seene also thy chastity, which I haue kept since thy youth.

33 Therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not.

34 And haste not in the vaine consideration of the first times, nor make haste to the latter times.

35 And after this I wept againe and fasted seuen daies in like maner, that I might fulfill the three weekes, which hee had appointed me.

36 And in the eight night was mine heart bered within me againe, and I beganne to speake before the most high.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse,

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest expressly in the first creation (euen the first day) and commandedst * that the heauen and the earth should be made, and the worke followed thy worde.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darkenesse was on euerie side with silence: there was no mans boyce as yet created of thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a bright light to come forth out of thy treasures, that it might giue light to thy worke.

41 Vpon the second day thou createdst the heauenly aire, and commandedst it, that, going betweene, it should make a diuision betwene the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou commandedst, that the waters should be gathered together in the seuenth part of the earth: five partes didst thou drie, and kept them to the intent that of these there should be that should serue thee, being solben of God and tilled.

43 As soone as thy worde went forth, the worke was incontinently made.

44 For immediately great and innumerable fruite did spring vp, and many diuerse pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vntchangeable colour, and odours of a most wonderfull sinell, and these things were created the third day.

45 * Vpon the fourth day thou createdst the light of the sunne, and of the moone, and the order of the starres, 46 And gauest them a charge, to do * seruice eue vnto man that was for to be made.

47 And vpon the fifth day thou laidst vnto the seuenth part * where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth beastes, [as] foules and fishes: and it was so.

48 For the domme waters, and without life brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that the nations might praise thy wonderous workes.

49 Then didst thou prepare two liuing things: the one thou calledst Behemoth, & the other thou calledst Leviathan, 50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part, where the water was gathered, could not hold them.

51 Unto Behemoth thou gauest one part, which was dyed by the third day, that hee should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

52 But vnto Lewiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, that is wet, and hast prepared him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when thou wilt.

53 Upon the first day thou gauest commandement vnto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell and creeping things.

54 And besides this Adam, whom thou madest lord ouer all the workes which thou hast created, of him come we al, and the people also, whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast created the worlde for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast declared the that they are nothing before thee, but be like vnto spittle, and hast compared their riches vnto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, beholde, these heathen which haue bene reputed as nothing, haue begun to bee lords ouer vs, and to deuoure vs.

58 And we thy people (whom thou hast called the first bozne, the onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their handes.

59 If the worlde then be created for our sakes, why haue wee not the inheritance thereof in possession: or how long shall wee suffer these things?

CHAP. VII.

1 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie, 12 God aduerseth all in time, 28 The comming and death of Christ, 32 The resurrection and last iudgement, 43 After the which all corruption shall cease, 48 All fell in Adam, 59 The true life, 62 The mercies and goodnes of God.

AND when I had made an end of these wordes, there was sent vnto mee an Angell, which had bene sent downe to mee the nights afore.

2 And hee sayde vnto mee, Up, Esdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speake on, my God. Then said hee vnto mee, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great,

4 But presuppose that the entrance thereof were narrow, and like the rivers,

5 Who could goe into the sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If hee went not through the narrow, howe could he come into the broad?

6 There is also another thing: a citie is builded and set vpon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow and in a dangerous place to fall, that there is fire at the right hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And there is but one path betwixt them, euen be twene the fire & the water, so that there could but one man go there.

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritance, if he neuer went through the perill before it, how could hee receiue his inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he, So is the portion of Israel.

11 Surely for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then came this thing to passe.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrow, full of sorow and trauaile: they are but felde and euil, and full of perills, and very painefull.

13 For the entrances of the fore worlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they that are liuing, labour not to enter by these strait & battell things, they can not attaine to those things that are hid.

15 Why then disquietest thou thy selfe, seeing thou art corruptible: and why art thou moued, seeing thou art mortall?

16 And why hast thou not considered in thy minde the things to come, rather then them that are present?

17 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, <sup>Deut. 8.2.</sup> seeing thou hast ordeined in thy law, that the righteous should inherite these things, and that the vngodly should perish, 18 Should the righteous suffer straitnes in hoping for large things: yet they that haue liued vngodly and suffered straitnesse, shall not see the large things.

19 Then hee saide vnto mee, There is no iudge more iust then God, and there is none more wise then the most high.

20 For many perish in this life, because they despise the Larde of God that is appointed.

21 For God hath diligently admonished such as came, so oft as they came, what they should doe to haue life, & what they should obserue, to auoyd punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things.

23 And deceyued themselves by their wicked deedes, and denied the powrer of the most most high, and regarded not his wayes.

24 But they despised his laibe, and refused his promises : they haue unfaithfully broken his ordinances, and haue not performed his workes.

25 And therefore, Eliaz, vnto the emptie are emptie things, and to the full, full things.

26 Behold, the time shal come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shal come to passe, and the bride shal appeare, and she shal come forth, and bee seene that now is vnder the earth.

27 And whosoener shal escape these euils, he shal see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shal appeare with those that bee with him, and they that remaine, shal reioyce within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yerres shal my sonne Christ die, and all men that haue life.

30 And the world shal be turned into the olde silence for seuen dayes, as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shal remaine.

31 But after seuen dayes, the world that is yet asleepe, shalbe raised vp: and that shal die, that is corrupt.

32 Then the earth shal restore those, that haue slept in her, and so shal the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shal deliuer the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most high shal appeare vpon the seate of iudgement, and miseries shal banish away, and long suffering shal haue an ende.

34 Justice only shal continue: the trueth shal remaine, and faith shal be strong.

35 The worke shal followe, and the reward shalbe shewed: the good deedes shal be of force, and vnrightheousnes shal beare no more rule.

36 Then said I, * Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and * Moyles for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness,

37 And they that came after him, for Israel in the time of Achaz, and Samuel, 38 And * Dauid for the destruction, * and Salomons for them that came into the Sanctuary.

39 * And Elias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead that he might liue, 40 And * Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers others for many.

41 Euen so now, seeing vice is increased, and wickednes aboundeth, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherefore shal not the same effect follow also now :

42 Then hee answered mee, and saide, This present life is not the ende : oft times honor is retained in it : therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of iudgement shalbe the end of this world, and the beginning of the immortalitie to come, wherein all corruptio shal cease.

44 Intemperancie shal passe away: infidelitie shalbe cut off : righteousnes shal grow vp, and the veritie shal spring vp.

45 Then shall no man bee able to saue him that is destroyed, nor oppresse him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I answered then, and saide, This is my first and last saying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam, or when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that he should not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men in this present life to be in deauines, & after death to feare punishment?

48 O Adam, what hast thou done? * For Rom. 1.8 in that that thou hast sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but the fall also redoundeth vnto vs that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there be promised an immortal life, when we doe the workes that bring death?

50 And that an euermolting hope should be promised vs, seeing that wee betide our selues to deadly vanitie?

51 And that there should be appointed vs dwellings of heath and safetie, if wee haue liued wickedly?

52 And that the glozie of the most high should be kept to defend them which haue lead a patient life, if we haue walked in the wicked wayes?

53 And that an eternall paradise should be shewed, whose fruit remaineth incorruptible, wherein is safetie and health, if we wil not enter into it?

54 (For we haue bene conuerlant in vnplesant places)

55 And that the faces of the, which haue abstained, should shine more then starres, if our faces be blacker then darkenes?

56 For while we liued, we did not remember when wee did vnrightheously, that wee should suffer after death.

57 Then answered hee mee, and saide, This is the manner of the battell, which man, that is borne in the earth, shal fight, 58 That if hee be ouercome, hee shoulde suffer as thou hast saide : but if hee get the victorie, he should receiue the thing that I saide.

59 For this is the life, whereof Moyles

65 And that he is liberal: for he will giue as much as needeth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he ouercometh in mercie those that are present, and that are past, and them which are to come.

67 For if hee were not abundant in his mercies, the world could not continue, nor they that haue the possession thereof.

68 He pardoneth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnesse that they, which haue done euill, might be relieved from their wickednesse, the tenthousand part of men should not remaine aloue.

69 And if hee, being iudge, forgaued not those that be healed with his worde, & tooke away the multitude of finnes, 70 There should peraduenture be verie fewe left in an innumerable multitude.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The number of the godly is small. 6 The woys of God are exalted. 20 Esdras prayeth for him and for his people. 39 The promises of saluation to the iust. 55 The destruction of the vniuers.

AND hee answered mee, saying, The most high made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, O Esdras. As when thou alsest the earth, it shall lay vnto thee, that it giueth much earthly matter to make pots, but little dust that golde cometh of, so is it with the worke of this world.

Matth. 16.

3 *There be many created, but fewe shall be saved.

4 Then answered I, and sayde, Then shal I be by the wit, O my soule, and deuoure vnderstanding.

5 For thou hast promised to heare, and thou wilt prophesie: for thou hast no longer space, but the life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant, that we may entreat thee, that thou maiest giue seed vnto our heart, & prepare our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby euery one which is corrupt, may liue, who can let him selfe for man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all are one workmanship of thine handes, as thou hast said.

8 For when the body is fashioned noli in the wombe, and thou hast giuen it members, thy creature is preferred by fire and water, & the worke, created by thee, doeth suffer nine moneths the creature, which is fashioned in it.

9 But the thing that containeth, and that which is contained, shall both be preferred, & when time is come, the wombe, being preferred, deliuereth þe things that grow in it.

10 For thou hast commanded the members, euen the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruite appointed to the breasts, 11 That the thing, which is created, may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercie.

12 Thou bringest it by with thy righteousness, nuturest it in thy Lawe, and reforest it with thy iudgement.

13 Thou slayest it as thy creature, and giuest it life as thy worke.

14 Seeing then that thou destroyest him, which with so great labours is fashioned, it is an easie thing to appoint by thy commandement, that the thing also which is made, might be preferred.

15 Nowe therefore, O Lord, I will speake (as touching men in general thou shalt rather prouide) but concerning thy people, for whose sake I am soze,

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne: for Israel, for whome I am wofull, and for Jacob, for whose sake I am grieved.

17 For them will I pray before thee, as well for my selfe, as for them: for I see our fautes that dwell in the land.

18 But I haue heard the sudden coming of the iudge, which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderstand my wordes, which I will speake before thee. The beginning of the wordes of Esdras, before he was taken by:

20 O Lord, that liuest for ever, which beholdest from aboue that which is aboue, and in the ayre,

21 whose throne is inestimable, and his glorie incomprehensible, before whome the host of the Angels stand with trembling,

22 whose keeping is turned in winde & fire, whose worde is true, and sayings steadfast, whose commandement is strong, & gouernement uerment terrible,

23 Whose looke drieth by the depths, and wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away as the thing beareth witnesse.

24 Heare the prayer of thy seruant, and receiue into thine eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I liue, I will speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.

26 Looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then thy faithfull seruants.

27 Haue not respect vnto thy wicked deedes of men, rather then to them that haue thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Think not vpo those that haue walked fainedly before thee, but remember the that reuerence thy Will.

29 Let it not be thy Will to destroy them, which haue liued like beasts, but looke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy Lawe.

30 Take not displeasure with the, which appeare worse then beasts, but loue them, that alway put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.

31 For wee and our fathers haue all the same sicknesse: but because of vs that are sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.

32 If therefore thou wilt haue mercie vpon vs, thou shalt bee called mercifull towards vs which haue no workes of righteousness.

33 For the righteous, which haue layde by many good workes, let them receiue the reward of their owne deedes.

34 But what is man, that thou shouldest take displeasure at him: or what is this mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so grieved towards it:

35 * For verily there is no man among the that be borne, but he hath done wickedly, nor any that doeth confesse thee, which hath not done amisse.

36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodnesse shall be prayd, if thou be mercifull vnto them, which haue not the substance of good workes.

37 The answered he me, & said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy words it shall be.

38 For I will not verely consider the workes of them, before the death, before the iudgement, before destruction:

39 But * I will reioyce in the wayes of the righteous, and I will remember thy pilgrimage, the saluation and the reward that they shall haue.

40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seede vpon thy ground, & planteth many trees, & yet alway the thing that is sowed, cometh not by in time, neither yet doeth all that is planted, take roote: so neither shall they all that are brought into the world, be saved.

42 I answered then & said, If I haue found grace, let me speake.

43 Like as the husbandmans seede perissheth, if it come not by, & receiue not raine in due season, or if it bee destroyed with too much raine:

44 So perissheth man, which is created with thine handes, & thou art called his father, because hee is created to thine image, for whose sake thou hast made all things, & likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.

45 Be not wroth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercie vpo thine inheritance: for thou wilt bee mercifull vnto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and sayd, The things present are for the present, and the things to come for such as be to come.

47 For thou art far off, that thou shouldest loue my creature about me: but I haue oft times drawen neere vnto thee and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marvellous before the highest,

49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe, as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to boast thy selfe greatly among the righteous.

50 For many miseries and calamities remaine for them: I shall liue in the latter time, because they shall walke in great pride.

51 But learne thou for thy selfe, & seeke out the glorie for such as be like thee.

52 For vnto you is paradise opened: the tree of life is planted: & time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse made ready: the citie is builded, and rest is prepared, perfect goodnes and absolute wisdom.

53 The roote of euill is sealed by from you: the weaknes and moeth is destroyed from you, and into hell fieth corruption to be forgotten.

54 Sorowes are banished away, & in the end is shewed the treasure of immortallitie.

55 Therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had libertie, they despised the most high: they contemned his Lawe and forsooke his wayes.

57 Whereouer, they haue troden downe his righteous,

58 * Saying in their heart, that there was no God, though they knewe that they should die.

59 For as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made readie for you: so is thirt & payne prepared for them: for God would not that man should perish:

60 But they, after that they were created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankfull vnto him, which prepared life for them.

61 Therefore my iudgement is now at hand.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto thee, and to a fewe like thee: then I answered, and saide, 63 Behold now, O Lord: thou hast shewed mee many wonders, which thou art determined to doe in þ last time, but in what time, thou hast not shewed mee.

CHAP. IX.

5 All things in this worlde haue a beginning and an ende. 10 Commens for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good. 29 The Jewes ingratitude. 36 Therefore they perish. 38 The wisdom of a woman lamenting.

HE answered me then, and sayde, Heaure the time with it selfe, and whē thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue tolde thee before,

2 Then shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the time wherein the most high will begin to visite the worlde which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seene an earthquake in the worlde, and an vproare of the people,

4 Then shalt thou vnderstande that the most high spake of those things, from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and an ende, and the ende is manifest,

6 So þ times also of the most high haue playne beginnings in wonders and signes, and ende in effect and miracles.

7 And every one þ shal escape safe, & shall be deliuered by his workes, and by the faithi wherem ye haue believed,

8 Shall be preferred from the said perils and shall see my saluation in my lande, and within my borders: for I haue kept me holy from the worlde.

9 Then shal they haue pittie of theselues, which now haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast the out despitefully, shall dwell in paynes.

10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefites, and haue not knowen me,

11 But haue abhorred my Lawe, while they were yet in libertie, and when they had yet leasure of amendment, and woulde not vnderstand but despised it,

12 They must be taught it after death by paine.

13 And therefore bee thou no more carefull to know how the vngodly shal be punished, but inquire how the righteous shal be saued, and whose the worlde is, & for whome it is, and when.

14 Then answered I, and said,

15 I haue afore saide that which I say now and wil speake it hereafter, that there be many mo of them which perish, then of them that shal be saued,

16 As the flood is greater then a droppe.

17 And he answered mee, saying, As the field is, so is also the see: as the flowers be, so are þ colours also: such as the workman is, such is the worke: and as the husbandmā is, so is his husbandrie: for it was the time of the worlde.

18 Surely when I prepared the worlde, which was not yet made for them to dwell in that now time, no man spake against mee.

19 For then every one obeyed, but now the maners of them that are created in this worlde, that is made, are corrupted by a perpetual see, and by a Law, whereout they can not rid them selues,

20 So I considered the worlde, & beheld, there was perill, because of the deuiles, that were sprung vp into it.

21 Yet when I saw it, I spared it greatly, & haue kept me one grape of the cluster, and a plant out of a great people.

22 Let therefore the multitude perishe, which are borne in baine: and let my grape bee kept, & my plant, which I haue dressed with great labour.

23 Neuertheles, if thou wilt reasse thy uen dayes mo (but thou shalt not fast in the,

24 But shalt go into a faire field, where no house is builded, and shalt eate onely of the flowers of the field, and eate no flesh, nor drinke wine, but the flowers onely,

25 And pray vnto the most high continually: then will I come, and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, as hee had commanded mee, into the field, which is called Ardath, & there I late among the flowers, and did eate of the herbes of the field, and þ meate of the same satisfied me.

27 And after seuen dayes, as I late by on the grasse, and mine heart was vexed within me, as afore,

28 I opened my mouth, and began to talke before the most high, and to say,

29 O Lord, whē thou wouldest shew thy selfe vnto vs, thou declaredst thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where

Where no man dwelleth, in a barren place,
When they came out of Egypt,

30 And especially spakeſt vnto them, ſaying, heare mee. O Iſrael, and marke my wordes, thou ſeede of Iacob.

31 For behold, I ſolue my Lawe in you, that it may bring forth fruit in you, and that ye may be honoured by it for ever.

32 But our fathers, which receiued the Lawe, kept it not, neither obſerued thine ordinances, neither did the fruit of the Lawe appeare, neither could it, for it was thine.

33 * For they that receiued it, periſhed becauſe they kept not the thing that was ſoluen in them.

34 And ſo, it is a cuſtome when the ground receiueth ſeede, or the ſea a ſhippe, or a beſteſt meate and drinke, if that periſhe wherein a thing is ſoluen, or wherein any thing is put,

35 Likewise the thing that is ſoluen, or is put therein, and the things that are receiued, muſt periſh: ſo the things that are receiued, do not remaine with vs: but in vs it cometh not ſo to paſſe.

36 For we that haue receiued the Lawe, periſh in ſinne, and our heart alſo which receiued it.

37 But the Lawe periſheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 ¶ And when I ſpake theſe things in mine heart, I looked about mee, and vpon the right ſide I ſaw a woman, which mourned ſore, and lamented with a loud voice, & was grieved in heart, and rent her clothes, and ſhe had a ſhes vpon her head.

39 Then I left my thoughts, wherein I was occupied, and turned me vnto her,

40 And ſaid vnto her, wherefore weepeſt thou: why art thou ſo ſorie in minde?

41 And ſhe ſaid vnto me, Syr, let me alone, that I may bewaile my ſelfe, and increaſe ſorrowe: for I am ſore bereued in my minde, and brought very ſolue.

42 Then I ſaide vnto her, what ayleth thee: tell me.

43 And ſhe ſaid vnto me, I thy ſeruant haue bene barren, and haue had no childe, hauing an huſband thirtie yeeres.

44 And euery houre, & euery day theſe thirtie yeeres I pray to the moſt high day and night.

45 And after thirtie yeeres God heard me thine handmaide, and looked vpon my miſerie, conſidered my trouble, and gaue me a ſonne, and I was glad of him: ſo was mine huſband alſo, and all they of my country, and we gaue great honoz vnto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travail.

47 So when he grew vp, and came to take a wife, I made a feaſt.

CHAP. X.

¶ And the woman that appeared vnto him, communicate together.

But when my ſonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then we all ouerthrew the lightes, & all my neighbours roſe vp to comfort me: ſo I reſted untill the ſecond day at night.

3 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I ſhould be quiet, then I roſe vp by night, and fled, and am come into this field as thou ſeeſt.

4 And am not purpoſed to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eate nor drinke, but continually to mourne & faſt, untill I die.

5 Then left I my purpoſe wherein I was, and ſpake to her angrily, and ſaid,

6 Thou fooliſh woman aboue all other, ſeeſt thou not our heavines, and what cometh vnto vs?

7 For ſion our mother is al woſfull and is ſore afflicted, and mourneth extremely.

8 Seeing we be all now in heavines, & make our mone: for we be all ſorrowfull, art thou ſorie for one ſonne?

9 Demande the earth, and ſhee ſhall tell thee that it is ſhee which ought to mourne for the fall of ſo many that grow vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other ſhall come, and behold, they walke almoſt al into deſtruction, and the multitude of them ſhall be deſtroyed.

11 Who ſhould then rather mourne, ſhee that hath loſt ſo great a multitude, or thou which art ſorie but for one?

12 But if thou wouldeſt ſay vnto me, My mourning is not like y mourning of y earth (for I haue loſt the fruit of my wombe, which I brought forth with heavines, and bare with ſorrowes, 13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth, and the preſent multitude returneth into her as it came)

14 Then ſay I vnto thee, As thou haſt borne with travail, ſo the earth alſo from the beginning giueth her fruit vnto man, euen to him that laboured her.

15 Now therefore withhold thy ſorrow in thy ſelfe, and beare conſtantly that which cometh vnto thee.

16 For if thou alloweſt Gods purpoſe, & receiueſt his counſell in time, thou ſhalt be commended therein.

17 Go thy way then into the citie to thine husband.

18 ¶ Then she said vnto me, I will not, I will not go into þe citie, but here wil I die.

19 So I continued to speake more with her, and said,

20 Do not so, but be counseled: for holwe many fallies hath Sion: & of good comfort because of the sorow of Ierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our Sanctuarie is layed waste: our altar is broken down: our Temple is destroyed:

22 Our psalterion fainteth, and the song cealeth, and our mirth is banished away, and the light of our candellsticke is quethed, and the Arke of our couenant is taken away, and our holy things are defiled, and the Name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonored, & our children are put to shame, and our Priests are burnt, and our Leuites are caried into captiuitie, and our virgines are defiled, and our viues rauished, & our righteous men spoiled, and our children destroyed, and our yong men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weake.

23 And, which is the greatest of all, Sion the seale hath lost her worshop: for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauines, & put away þe multitude of sorowes, that the Almightie may bee mercifull vnto thee, and that the most high may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, & her countenance was bright, so that I was afraid of her and mused what it might be.

26 And behold, immediatly shee cast out a great voyce, verie fearefull, so that þe earth shooke at the noyse of the woman.

27 And I looked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a cite builded, & a place was shewed from the ground and foundation. Then was I afraid, and cried with a loude voyce, and said,

Chap. xi.

28 Where is Uriel the Angel * which came to me at the first: for hee hath caused me to come into many and deepe considerations, and mine ende is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, beholde, hee came vnto me, and looked vpon me.

30 And lo, I lay as one dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered, and hee tooke me by the right hand and comforted me, & set me vpon my feete, and said vnto me,

31 What ayleth thee: and why is thine vnderstanding bereed: and the vnderstanding of thine heart: and wherefore art thou soz?

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done * according vnto thy words: I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

Chap. xii.

33 Then said he vnto me, Stand by me, and I will giue thee exhortation.

34 Then said I, Speake vnto me, my Lord, and forsake me not, lest I die through rashnes.

35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, & heare that I do not knowe.

36 O is mine vnderstanding deceived, or doeth my minde, being haucie, erre:

37 No: therefore I beseech thee that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

38 Then he answered me, & said, heare me, and I will informe thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraied: for the most high hath reueiled many secret things vnto thee.

39 He hath seene thy good purpose, that thou art sore continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 This therefore is the vnderstanding of the vision, which appeared vnto thee a little while ago.

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, & thou begankest to comfort her:

42 But now seest thou the likenes of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a cite builded.

43 And where as shee tolde thee of the death of her sonne, this is the solution,

44 This woman, which thou sawest, shee is Sion: and where as shee tolde thee (euen thee which thou seest now as a cite builded)

45 And as touching that shee said vnto thee, that she was baren thirtie yeeres, this was concerning that, there was euen thirtie yeeres wherein there was no offering offered in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Salomon buylt the cite, and offered offerings: the bare the baren a sonne.

47 And where as she tolde thee, that she nourished him with labour, that was the inhabiting of Ierusalem.

48 But where as she tolde thee that her sonne, as his chance was, died when shee came into her chamber, that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.

49 And when thou sawest her like one þe mourned for her sonne, thou begankest to comfort comfort her : of these things which haue chaunced these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the most high seeth, that thou art soze in thy minde, & because thou suffrest with all thine heart for her, he sheweth thee the cleerenes of her glorie, & the fairenes of her beautie.

51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the feilde where no house was built.

52 For I knew that y<sup>e</sup> most high would shew these things vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the feild, where no foundation nor building is.

54 For the worke of mans building can not stand in that place where the cite of the most high should be shewed.

55 And therefore feare not, neither let thine heart be afraid, but go in, and see the beautie & greatnes of the building as much as thou art able to see with thine eyes.

56 And after this shalt thou heare, as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many, and art called with the most high among y<sup>e</sup> few.

58 But to morowe at night thou shalt remaine here.

59 And the most high shall shew thee visions of high things, which the most high will doe vnto them that dwell vpon earth, in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, as he had commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

1 The vision of an eagle comming forth of the sea, and of her feathers.
37 Of a vision comming out of the forest.

Then saue I a dreame, and behold, there came vp from the sea an eagle, which had twelue feathered wings and three heads.

2 And I saue and behold, she spread her wings ouer all the earth, and all the windes of the ayre blew on her, and gathered them selues.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers grewe out other contrarie feathers, & they became litle feathers and small.

4 But her heads remained still, and the head in the middes was greater then the other heads, yet rested it with them.

5 Moreover, I saue that the eagle flew with his feathers and reigned vpon earth, and ouer them that dwell therein.

6 And I saue that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto her, and no man spake against her, nor not one creature vpon earth.

7 I saue also that the eagle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not altogether: sleepe euery one in his owne place, and watch by course.

9 But let the heads bee preferred by the last.

10 Nevertheless, I saue that the boyce went not out of her heads, but from the middes of her body.

11 Then I numbred her contrarie feathers, & behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and beholde vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.

13 And when it had reigned, the end of it came, & the place thereof appeared no more. So the next stoode by, and reigned: it continued a long time.

14 And when it had reigned, the ende of it came also, and as the first, so it appeared no more.

15 Then there came a boyce vnto it, & said,

16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long: this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more.

17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither to the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third & reigned as the other afore, and it appeared no more also.

19 So came it to all the others one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I looked, & beholde in processe of time the feathers that followed, stood by on the right side, that they might rule also, & some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set by, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two winges.

23 And there was no more vpon the eagles bodie, but two heads that rested, and six winges.

24 Then saue I also that two winges deuided them selues from the six, & remained vnder the head, that was vpo the right side: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I looked, and behold, the vnder winges thought to set by themselves, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set by, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second were sooner gone then the first.

28 Then I beheld, and lo, the two that remained, thought also in them selues to reigne.

29 And when they so thought, beholde, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, at rest, which was in the middes: for that was greater then the two.

30 And then I sawe, that the two heads were ioyued there with.

31 And beholde, the head was turned with them, that were with it, and did eate by the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in feare and bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwelt vpon earth with much labour, and it had the gouernance of the world, more then all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the middes, suddenly appeared no more, as did the wings.

34 But the two heads remained, which also ruled likewise vpon earth, & ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I behelde, and lo the head vpon the right side deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voyce which saide vnto me, Look before thee, and consider þing that thou seest.

37 So I sawe, and beholde as it were a lyon that roareth, running hastily out of þ wood: and I sawe that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the eagle, and spake, and said,

38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, & the most high shall say vnto thee,

39 Art not thou that that of the foure beasts remained, whom I made to reigne in my world, that by them the ende of times might come,

40 And the fourth is come, and hath overcome all the beasts that were past, and hath powler ouer þ world with great fearfulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppressio, and that dwelleth so long time in all the worlde with deceit:

41 For thou hast not iudged the earth with truth.

42 Seeing thou hast troubled the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, and thou hast loued hyars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.

43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing come vp vnto the most high, and thy pryde vnto the Highest.

44 The most high also hath looked vpon the proude times, and beholde, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.

45 Therefore appeare no more, thou eagle, nor thine horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, and thy wicked clawes, nor all thy bayne body,

46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and come againe, as one deliuered from thy violence, & that thee may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

The declaration of the former visions.

And when the lyon spake these wordes to the eagle, I sawe,

2 And beholde, the head that had the vpper hand, appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more, that came to it, and set by them selues to reigne, whole kingdome was small and full of byroares.

3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare. Then I awakend out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from the great feare, and said vnto my spirit,

4 Lo, this hast thou done vnto mee in that thou searchest out the wayes of the most high.

5 Lo, yet am I wearie in my minde, and very weake in my spirit, and little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I received this night.

6 Therefore now I will beseech the most high that he will comfort me vnto the end.

7 And I said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in deede bee come vp before thy face,

8 Comfort me, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation and difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule,

9 Seeing thou hast iudged mee worthy to shew me the last times.

10 Then he said vnto mee, This is the interpretation of this vision, 11 The eagle, whom thou sawest come by from the sea, is the kingdome which was scene in the vision of thy brother Daniel.

12 But it was not expounded vnto him: therefore now I declare it vnto thee.

13 Beholde, the dayes come, that there shall rise by a kingdome vpon the earth, and it shall be feared aboute all kingdomes that were before it.

14 In it shall twelue Kings reigne one after another,

15 whereof the seconde shall beginne to reigne, and shall haue more time then the twelue.

16 And this do the twelue wings signifie which

Which thou salvest.

17 As for the voyce that thou heardest speake, and that thou salvest not go out fro the heads, but from the middes of the bodie thereof, this is the interpretation,

18 That after the time of that kingdome there shall arise great strife, and it shall be in danger to fall, but it shall not then fall, but shalbe restored againe to his beginning.

19 Concerning the eight vnderwings, which thou salvest hang vnto her wings, this is the interpretation, 20 In him shall arise eight kings, whose time shalbe but small, and their yerres swift, and two of them shall perish.

21 But when the midde time cometh, there shall be foure kept a time, whyles his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shalbe kept vnto the ende.

22 And where as thou salvest three heads resting, this is the interpretation,

23 In his last dayes shall the most high raise by three kingdomes, and shall call againe many things into them, and they shal haue the dominion of the earth,

24 And of those that dwell therein, with much griefe aboue al those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle.

25 For they shall accomplish his wickednes, and shall finish his last end.

26 And where as thou salvest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bed, and yet with payne.

27 For the two that remaine, the sword be shall deuoure them.

28 For the sword of the one shal deuoure the other: but at the last shall he fall by the sword him selfe.

29 And where as thou salvest two vnderwings, that went off towarde the head, which was on the right side, this is the interpretation,

30 These are they whome the most high hath preferred for their ende, whose kingdome is litle, & full of trouble as thou salvest.

31 And the lion whom thou salvest rising by out of the wood and roaring, and speaking vnto the eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnesse with all the wordes that thou hast heard,

32 This is the winde which the most high hath kept for them, and for their wickednes vnto the end, and he shal reprove them, and cast before them their spoyles.

33 For he shal set them aloue in the iudgement, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

34 For hee will deliuer the residue of my people by affliction, which are preserved vpon my borders, and hee shall make them ioyful, vntill the coming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee fro the beginning.

35 This is the dreame that thou salvest, and these are the interpretations.

36 Thou onely hast bene meete to know this secret of the most high.

37 Therefore write all these things that thou hast seene, in a booke and hide them,

38 And teach them the wise of the people, whose heartes thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.

39 But waite thou here yet seuen dayes mo, that it may be shewed thee whatsoever it please the most high to declare vnto thee: and with that he went his way.

40 And when all the people perceiued, that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come againe into the cite, they gathered them all together, from the least vnto the most, and came vnto mee, and spake vnto me, saying,

41 What haue we offended thee: or what euill haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest in this place:

42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen or ship preserved from the tempest.

43 Are not the euils which are come vnto vs, sufficient:

44 If thou then forsake vs, holbe much better had it bene for vs, that we had bene burnt also as Sion was burnt:

45 For we are no better then they that died there: and they wept with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Jacob.

47 For the most high hath you in remembrance, and the Almighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

48 As for mee I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you, but am come into this place to pray for the desolatio of Sion, that I might seeke mercie for the lowe estate of your Sanctuarie.

49 And now be go your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.

50 So the people went their way into the cite, as I commanded them:

51 But I remained still in the fildes seuen dayes, as hee had commanded mee, and did eate only of the flowers of the fild, and had my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

The viſion of a winde coming forth of the ſea, 3 Which became a man, 5 His powerie and power againſt his enemies, 21 The declaration of this viſion.

After the ſeven daies I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And beholde, there aroſe a winde fro the ſea, and it moved all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and behold, there was a nightie man with the thouſandes of heauen: and whē he turned his countenance to looke, all the thinges trembled that were ſcene vnder him.

4 And when the boyce went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, as the earth ſaileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After theſe things I ſawe, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from foure winds of the heauen, to fight againſt the man that came out from the ſea.

6 And I looked, & behold, he graued him ſelfe a great mountaine, & ſetle vpon it.

7 But I would haue ſcene the countrey or place wherout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 I ſawe after theſe things, and behold, all they which came to fight againſt him, were ſore aſtate, and yet they durſt fight.

9 Neuertheles, when he ſawe the fierceness of the multitude that came, he liſted not by his hand: for he held no ſword nor any inſtrument of warre.

10 But onely, as I ſaw, he ſent out of his mouth, as it had bene a blaſt of fire, & out of his lips the winde of the flame, & out of his tongue he caſt out ſparkes and ſtoynes.

11 And they were all miſt together, [cut] this blaſt of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great ſtoyne, and ſet with violence vpon the multitude, which was prepared to fight, and burnt them by al, ſo that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing ſcene, but onely duſt, and ſmell of ſmoke. When I ſawe this, I was aſtate.

12 Afterwarde ſawe I the ſame man come downe from the mountaine, & calling vnto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came many vnto him, ſome with ioyfull countenance, & ſome with ſad: ſome of the were bounde, and ſome brought of them that were offered: and I was ſicke through great feare, and awaked, and ſaide, 14 Thou haſt ſhewed thy ſervant theſe wonders fro the beginning, and haſt counted me worthy to receive my prayer.

15 Shewe mee now therefore the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I conſider in mine vnder-ſtanding, wo vnto them that ſhall be left in thoſe dayes, and much more wo vnto them that are not left behinde.

17 For they that were not left, were in heauenneſſe.

18 Nowe vnderſtand I the thinges that are layde by in the latter dayes, which ſhall come both vnto them, and to thoſe that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils & many neceſſities, as theſe dreames declare.

20 Yet is it eaſier, that hee that is in danger, ſhoulde fall into theſe, and forſeke the thinges to come hereafter, the to paſſe away as a cloude out of the world.

21 Then answered he mee, and ſayde, The interpretation of the viſion wh I ſhew thee, and I will open to thee the thing that thou haſt required.

22 Where as thou haſt ſpoken of the that are left behinde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that ſhall beare the danger in that time, he ſhall keepe him ſelfe. They that bee fallen into danger, are ſuch as haue workes and faith toward the moſt mightie.

24 Knowe therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more bleſſed then they that be dead.

25 Theſe are the meanings of the viſion; where as thou ſaweſt a man coming by from the middes of the ſea, 26 The ſame is he whom the moſt high hath kept a great ſeaſon, who by his owne ſelfe ſhall deliuer his creature, and hee ſhall order them that are left behinde.

27 And where as thou ſaweſt, that out of his mouth there came as a blaſt with fire and ſtoyne,

28 And that he neither helde ſword nor weapon, but that by his fierceneſſe hee deſtroyed the whole multitude, that came to fight againſt him, this is the interpretation.

29 Behold, the dayes come that the moſt high will begin to deliuer them that are vpon the earth:

30 And he ſhall aſtoniſh the hearts of the that dwell vpon the earth:

31 And one ſhall prepare to fight againſt another, cite againſt cite, and place againſt place, * and nation againſt nation, & realme <sup>Mit. 47.</sup> againſt realme.

32 When this cometh to paſſe, the ſhall the tokens come, that I ſhewed thee before, and then ſhall my ſonne bee reueiled, whom thou ſaweſt go by as a man.

33 And when al people heare his boyce, every man ſhall in their owne land leaue the battell that they haue one againſt another.

34 And

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered as one, as they that bee willing to come, and to fight against him.

35 But he shall stande vpon the toppe of mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shalbe shewed to all, being prepared and buidied, as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.

37 And this my Sonne shall rebuke the wicked inuentions of those nations, which for their wicked life are faile into y<sup>e</sup> tempest.

38 And into torments like to flame, whereby they shalbe tormented: and without any labour wil he destroy them, euen by plawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And where as thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him,

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried alway captiues out of their owne land, * in the time of Oseas the king, whom Salimanasar y<sup>e</sup> King of the Assyrians tooke captiue, and caried them beyonde the river: so were they brought into another land.

41 But they tooke this counsell to them selues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and goe sooth into a further country, where neuer mankinde dwelt,

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.

43 And they entred in at the narrowe passages of the riuier Euphrates.

44 For the most high then shewed them signes, * and stayed the springes of the flood till they were passed ouer.

45 For thowolue the country there was a great iourney, euen of a yere & a halfe, and the same region is called || Arlareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The most high shall holde still the springes of the riuier againe, that they may go thowolue: therefore sawest thou the multitude peaceable.

48 But they that bee left behinde of thy people, are those that bee founde within my borders.

49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend y<sup>e</sup> people that remaine,

50 And then shall hee shewe great wonders vnto them.

51 Then saide I, O Lord, Lord, shewe me this, wherefore haue I seene the man coming vp from the middes of the sea?

52 And he sayde vnto mee, As thou canst neither seeke out, nor knowe these things, that are in the deepe of the sea, so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, or those that bee with him, but in the time of that day.

53 This is the interpretation of y<sup>e</sup> dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art lightened.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne Law, and applied thy diligence vnto mine, and fought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordred in wisdom, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother.

56 Therefore haue I shewed thee the rewarde with the most high: and after three other dayes I will speake other things vnto thee, and will declare vnto thee great and wonderous things.

57 Then went I sooth vnto the fieldes, glorifying and praying the most high for the wonders which he did in time, 58 which he gouerneth, and such things as come in their seasons: and there I late three dayes.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Holme God appeared to popples in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 15 The latter times worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

Vpon y<sup>e</sup> thirde day I late vnder an oke, and behold, there came forth a boyce vnto me out of the bush, & said, Eldras, Eldras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord, and stoode vp vpon my feete.

3 Then said he vnto me, * In the bush I reuedied my selfe, and spake vnto Popples, when my people serued in Egypt:

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vpon the mount Sinai, and I helde him with me a long season,

5 And I tolde him many wonders, and shewed him the secrets of the times and the ende, and commanded him, saying,

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I lay vnto thee, that thou lay vp in thine heart the signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

8 For thou shalt be taken alway from all, and thou shalt remaine henceforth with my counsell, and with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

9 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe olde.

10 For the world is deuinded into twelue parts, and ten partes of it are gone already, and halfe of the tenth part.

11 And there remaineth that which is after the halfe of the tenth part.

12 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, & comfort such of them as be in trouble, and nolwe renounce the corruption.

13 Let go from thee mortall thoughtes: cast away fro thee the burdens of men, and put off nolwe the weake nature.

14 And let aside thy most grienous thoughtes, and haste thee to depart fro these times.

15 For greater evils thet those, which thou hast seene nolwe, shall they commit.

16 For the weaker that the worlde is by reason of age, the more shall the evils be increased vpon them that dwell therein.

17 For the trueth is fled farre away, and lies at hand: for nolwe hatheth the vision to come, that thou hast seene.

18 ¶ Then answered I, and saide before thee,

19 Beholde, O Lord, I will goe as thou hast commanded mee, & reforme the people, which are present: but they þ shall be borne afterwarde, who shall admonish them:

20 Thus the worlde is set in darknes, and they that dwell therein, are without light.

21 For thy Lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thinges that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, & I will write al that hath bene done in the world since the beginning, which was writen in thy lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which wil lue in the latter dayes, may lue.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go, and gather the people, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes,

24 But prepare these many bore tables, and take with thee these five, Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Eramus, & Aziel, which are ready to write wisely,

25 And come hither, & I will light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out till the thinges be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt þ declare some things openly vnto the perste men, & some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto þ wise: to morrow this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth, as he commanded mee, and gathered all the people together, and saide,

28 Heare these words, O Israel,

29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, fro whence they were deliuered,

30 And receiued the Law of life, * which they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, euen the lande of Sion parted among you by lot: but your fathers and ye also haue done vnrighthously, and haue not kept the wayes, which the most high commanded you.

32 And for so much as hee is a righteous Judge, he tooke from you in time the thing that he had giuen you.

33 And nolwe are yee here, and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your owne vnderstanding, & reforme your heart, ye shall be kept aliuie, and after death shall ye obtaine mercie.

35 For after death shall the iudgement come, when we shall lue againe: & then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.

36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor seeke me these fourtie dayes.

37 So I tooke the five men, as hee commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 The next day beholde, a boyce called me, saying, Eldras, * open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a ful cup, which was full as it were with water: but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I tooke it and drank, and when I had drunke it, mine heart had vnderstanding, and wisdom grewe in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in memorie.

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The most high gaue vnderstanding vnto þ five men, þ they wrote the hie thinges of the night, which they vnderstoode not.

43 But in the night they did eate bread, but I spake by day, and held not my tongue by night.

44 In fourtie dayes, they wrote two hundredeth and four booke.

45 And when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, the most high spake, saying, The first that thou hast writen, publish openly, that the worthe and unworthe may read it.

46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest giue them to the wise among thy people.

47 For in the is the beine of vnderstanding, and the fountaine of wisdom, and the riner of knowledge: and I did so.

CHAP. XV.

1 The prophesie of Elyas is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lord will aduenge the innocent blood. 12 Egypt shall lament. 16 Sedition. 20 And punishment vpon the Kings of the earth. 24 Curled are they that sinne. 29 Troubles and warres vpon the whole earth. 53 God is the reuenger of his elect.

Behold,

Behold, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, sayeth the Lord:

2 And cause them to bee written in a letter: for they are faithfull and true.

3 Feare not the imaginations against thee: let not the unfaithfulness of the speakers trouble thee, that spake against thee.

4 For every unfaithfull shall die in his unfaithfulness.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues vpon all the worlde, the sword, famine, death and destruction:

6 Because that iniquitie hath fully polluted all the earth, and their wicked workes are fulfilled.

7 Therefore, sayeth the Lord, I will holde my tongue no more for their wickednesse, (they doe vngodly) neither will I suffer them in the things, that they do wickedly.

Reuel.
10. & 19.

8 Behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iusts cry continually.

9 I will surely avenge them, saith the Lord, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is led as a flocke to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt.

11 But I will bring them out with a mighty hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations thereof shall be smitten with the plague and punishment, that God shall bring vpon it.

13 The plowmen that till the ground, shall mourne: for their seedes shall faile through the blasting and haile, and by an horrible starre.

14 Woe to the worlde, and to them that dwell therein.

15 For the sword, and their destruction draweth neere, and one people shall stand by to fight agaynst another with swordes in their handes.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and one shall invade another: they shall not regarde their King, & the princes shall measure their doings by their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a citie, and shall not be able.

18 Because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be afraied, men shall feare.

19 A man shall haue no pittie vpon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and their goods shall be spoiled for lacke of bread, & because of great trouble.

20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the Kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which are from the East, and from the South, from the East, and from Libanus, to turne vpon them, and to repay the things that they haue done to them.

21 As they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, & recompense them in their bolome: thus saith the Lord God.

22 My right hande shall not spare sinners, neither shall the sword cease from the, that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the strawe, that is kindled.

24 Woe to them that sinne, & keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.

25 I will not spare them: depart, O children, from the powder: defile not my Sanctuary.

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and yee shall remaine in them: for God wil not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.

28 Behold, an horrible vision cometh from the East,

29 where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charrets, & the multitude of them shall be caried as the winde vpon the earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble.

30 Euen the Carmanians raging in wrath, shall go forth as the bozes of the forest, & shall come with great powder, and stande against them in battell, and shall destroy a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 But after this shall the dragons haue the upper hand, & remember their nature, and shall turne about, and conspire to consume them with a great powder.

32 Then these shall be troubled, & keepe silence by their powder, and shall flee.

33 From the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their holse shall feare and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold cloudes from the East, & from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and soyme.

35 They shall smite one vpon another:

¶ h h h. iii. and

and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre, and the blood shalbe from the sword vnto the bellie, 36 And the dongue of man vnto the Canels litter.

37 And there shall be great fearefulness and trembling vpon earth, and they that see the wrath, shalbe afraid, and a trembling shall come vpon them.

38 And the there shal come great stormes from the South, and from the North, and part from the West.

39 And from the East shall windes arise and shall open it with the cloude, which hee raised by in wrath, & the star, raised to feare the East and West Wind, shalbe destroyed.

40 And the great and mightie cloudes shall be left by, full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make al the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein, and that they may powre out ouer euerie hye place, and lifted by, an horrible constellation,

41 As fire and haille, and flying swordes, and many waters, that all fieldes may be full, and all riuers with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, and mountaines, and hills, and the trees of the wood, and the grasse of the meadowes, and their come.

43 And they shall goe with a streight course vnto Babylon, and make it afraide.

44 They shall come to her, & besiege her, and shall powre forth the constellation, and all the wrath agaynst her: then shal the dust and smoke go by vnto the heauen, & all they that be about her, shall beuaile her.

45 And they that remaine vnder her, shal doe seruice vnto them, that haue put her in feare.

46 And thou Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and the glorie of her person, 47 Woe vnto thee, O Wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they might please and glorie in thy louers, which haue allway desired to commit whoredome with thee.

48 Thou hast folowed her that is hated in all her workes, and in her inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will sende plagues vpon thee, Widdowhed, pouertie, and famine, & the sword, and pestilence, to waste thine houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glorie of thy power shall be dried by, as a flower when the heate riseth, that is sent vpon thee.

51 Thou shalt bee sicke as a poore wife that is plagued & beaten of women, so that the mightie and the louers shall not be able to receiue thee.

52 Would I thus hate thee, saith the Lord,

53 If thou haddest not allway slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine handes, and laid ouer their death, when thou wast drunken,

54 Set forth the beaultie of thy countenance:

55 The reward of thy whoredome shall be in thy bosome: therefore shalt thou receiue a reward.

56 As thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, so will God do vnto thee, & will deliuer thee vnto the plague.

57 And thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall by the sword, and thy cities shalbe broken downe, and all thy men shall fall by the sword in the field.

58 And they that be in the mountaines shal die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood for wat of bread and thirst of water.

59 And thou, as vnhappy, shalt come thorow the sea, and receiue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall cast downe the flame citie, and shall roote out one part of thy lande, and consume the portion of thy glorie, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.

61 When thou shalt be cast downe, thou shalt be to them as stubble, and they shalbe to thee as fyre.

62 And they shall destroy thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountaines: all thy woods and all thy fruitfull trees shall they burne with fyre.

63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and shall spoyle thy substance, and marre the beaultie of thy face.

CHAP. XVI.

Against Babylon, Asia, and Egypt and Syria. 18, 38 Of the evils that shall come vpon the world, with admonition both to gouerne the felices in afflictions. 54 To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit them felices to the Lord. 55 Whose mightie prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

Woe to thee, Babylon and Asia: woe to thee, Egypt and Syria.

2 Sirde your felices with sack and beared cloth, and mourne your children, and bee sozie: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent vnto you, and who will turne it backe: a fyre is sent among you, and who will quench it:

4 Plagues are sent vnto you, and who can can digne them alway:

5 May any man digne away an hungrie Lion in the Wood: or quench the fire in stubble when it hath once begun to burne: may one turne againe the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer:

6 The mightie Lord sendeth 7 plagues, and who can digne the alway: the fire is gone forth in his wrath, and who can quench it:

7 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare: he shall thunder, and who shall not be afrayed:

8 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not bitterly bee broken in pieces at his presence: the earth quaketh and the foundation thereof: the sea ariseth by with waues from the deepe, and the waues thereof are troubled, and the fishes thereof, before the Lord and the glory of his power.

9 For strong is his ryght hande, that bendeth the bowe: his arrowes that hee shooteth, are sharpe, and shall not misse, when they beginne to be shot into the endes of the worlde.

10 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not turne againe, till they come vpon earth.

11 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.

12 As an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer, returneth not backward, so the plagues that shall bee sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

13 Who is me, who is me: who will deliuer me in those dayes:

14 The beginning of sorowes and great mourning: the beginning of famine, and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shall feare: the beginning of euils, and all shall tremble. what shall I doe in these things, when the plagues come:

15 Behold, famine and plague, and trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment.

16 But for all these things they will not turne from their wickednesse, nor be all way myndfull of the scourges.

17 Behold, vitayles shall be so good cheape vpon earth, that they shall thinke the selues to be in good case: but then shall the euils bud forth vpon earth, even the sword, the famine and great confusion.

18 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish with famine, & the other that escape the famine, shall by sword destroy.

19 And 7 dead shall be cast out as dongue, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast downe.

20 There shall be no man left to till the earth, & to sow it: the trees shall giue fruite, but who shall gather them:

21 The grapes shall be ripe, but who shall treade them: for all places shall be desolate, so that one man shall desire to see another, or to heare his voyce.

22 For of one cite there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide them selues in the thicke woods, and in the cleftes of rockes.

23 As when there remaine three or foure olives in the place where olives growe, or among other trees,

24 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought through the vineyard:

25 So in those dayes there shall be three or foure left by them that seache their houses with the sword.

26 And the earth shall be left waste, and the fieldes thereof shall waxe olde, and her wayes and all her paths shall growe full of thornes, because no man shall trauaile there-through.

27 The virgins shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes: the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbands: their daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpers.

28 In the wartes shall their bridegromes bee destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish with famine.

29 But, ye seruants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.

30 Behold the word of the Lord, receiue it: beleue not the gods of whom the Lord speaketh: beholde the plagues draw neere, and are not slacke.

31 As a traueiling woman which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth her sonne, when the houre of birth is come, two or three houres afore the paines come vpon her bodie, & when the childe cometh to the birth, they tary not a whit:

32 So shall not the plagues bee slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shall mourne, and sorowdes shall come vpon it on euery side.

33 O my people, heare my worde: make you ready to the battell, and in the troubles be euen as strangers vpon earth.

34 He that selleth, let him be as hee that fleeth his way: & hee that buyeth, as one that will lose.

35 Who so occupieth marchandise, as hee that winneth not: and hee that buildeth, as hee that shall not dwell therein.

36 Hee that soweth, as one that shall not reape:

h h h h .iii.

reape : hee that cutteth the vine, as hee that shall not gather the grapes :

37 They that marry, as they that shall get no children : and they that marry not, so as the Widdowes.

38 Therefore they that labour, labour in bayne.

39 For strangers shall reape their fruits, and spoile their goods, and ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiue : for in captiuitie and famine shall they get their children.

40 And they that occupie their marchandise with couetousnesse, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their olivie persons, 41 So much more will I bee angrie against them for their sinnes, saith the Lord.

42 As a whoze enuieeth an honest and vertuous Woman,

43 So shall righteounesse hate iniquitie. When she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her openly, whē he that come that shall bydle the author of all sinne vpon earth.

44 And therefore be ye not like thereto, nor to the woordes thereof: for ouer it be long, iniquitie shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteounesse shall reigne among you.

45 Let not the sinner say, that hee hath not sinned: for coles of fyre shall burne vpon his head, which saith, I haue not sinned before the Lord God and his glory.

Luk. 16. 16. 46 Beholde, the Lord knoweth all the woordes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts and their hearts.

Ps. 147. 4. 48 By his word were the starres established, and he knoweth the number of them.

49 He searcheth the depth, & the treasures thereof: he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

50 Hee hath shut the sea in the middes of the waters, & with his worde hath hee hanged the earth vpon the waters.

51 He spredeth out his beaue like a barbe: vpon the waters hath he founded it.

52 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pooles vpon the top of the mountaines, to pouer out floods from the highe rockes to water the earth.

53 Hee made man, and put his heart in the reins of the bodie, and gaue him breath, life and vnderstanding.

54 And the spirit of the almighty God, which made all thinges, and hath searched all the hid thinges in the secretes of the earth, 55 He knoweth your inuentions, & what ye imagine in your heart when ye sinne and would hide your sinnes.

56 Therefore hath the Lord searched and sought out al your woordes, and wil put you all to shame.

57 And when your sinnes are brought forth before men, ye shalbe confounded, and your owne sinnes shall stand as your accusers in that day.

58 What will ye do, or how will ye hide your sinnes before God and his angels?

59 Behold, God him selfe is iudge: feare him: cease from your sinnes, and forget your iniquities, and meddle no more from hence forth with them: so shal God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

60 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled against you, and they shall take away certaine of you, & shall slay you for meate to the idoles.

61 And they that consent vnto this, shalbe had in derision and in reproche, & troden vnder foote.

62 For in euery place and cities that are neere, there shalbe great insurrection against those that feare the Lord.

63 They shalbe like mad men: they shall spare none: they shall spoyle, and waste such as yet feare the Lord.

64 For they then shal waste & spoyle their goods, and cast them out of their houses.

65 Then shall the triall of my chosen appeare, as the gold is tryed by the fyre.

66 Heare, O ye my beloued, saith the Lord: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I will deliuer you from them: bee not ye afraide: doubt not, for God is your stay.

67 Who so keepeth my commandements and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your sinnes weigh you downe, and let not your iniquities lift them selues vp.

68 And vnto them that are bounde with their sinnes, & couered with their iniquities, as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, where by no man may trauaile: it is shut vp, & is appointed to be denoued with fyre.

The booke of the wordes of Tobit sonne of Tobiel, the sonne of Ananeel, the sonne of Abuel, & sonne of Gabael, of the seede of Ahal, & of the tribe of Nephtholim,

2 Who in þ time of Enemessar King of Assyrians was ledde alway captiue out of Chalde, which is at the right hand of þ citie, which is called properly Nephtholim, in Caldee aboue Aler.

3 I Tobit haue walked al my life long in the way of truth and iustice, and I did many thyngs liberally to the brethren, which were of my nation, and came with mee to Nineue into the land of the Assyrians.

4 And when I was in mine owne countie in the land of Israel, being but yong, all the tribe of Nephtholim my father fel from the house of Ierusalem, which was chosen out of al the tribes of Israel, that al þ tribes should sacrifice there, where the Temple of the tabernacle of the most high was consecrated, and built up for all ages.

5 Now al the tribes, which fel fro God, yea, and my father Nephtholim house of Ierusalem, called Baal.

6 But I as it was ordeined to al Israel by an euertlasting decree went alone often to Ierusalem, at the feastes bringing þ first frutes, and the tenth of beastes, with that which was first shorne, & offered them at the altar to the priestes the chidzen of Aaron.

7 The first tenth part I gaue to þ priestes the sonnes of Aaron, which ministred in Ierusalem: the other tenth part I solde, & came & bestowed it euery yere at Ierusalem.

8 The thirde tenth part I gaue vnto them to whome it was meete, as Deboia my fathers mother had commaunded mee: for my father left me as a pupill.

9 Furthermore when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine owne kinred, and of her I begate Tobias.

10 But when I was ledde captiue to Nineue, all my brethren, and those which were of my kinred, did eate of the bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept my selfe from eating, 12 Because I remembred God with all mine heart.

13 Therefore þ most high gaue me grace and fauour before Enemessar, so þ I was his puruoier.

14 And I went into Media, and I deliuered ten talents of siluer to Gabael the brother of Gabrias in the land of Media.

15 But when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his steade: whose state because it was troubled, I could not go into Media.

16 But in the time of Enemessar, I gaue many almes to my brethren, and gaue my bread to them which were hungry.

17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I sawe any of my kinred dead, or cast about þ walles of Nineue, I buried him.

18 And if þ king Sennacherib had slaine any, when he was come and fled from Iudea, I buried them priuily (for in his wrath hee killed many) but the bodies were not founde: when they were sought for of the king.

19 Therefore when a certeyne Nineuite had accused me to the king, because I did bury them, I hid my selfe: and because I knewe that I was sought to bee slaine, I witheld me my selfe for feare.

20 Then al my goods were spoyled, neither was there any thing left mee besides my wife Anna and my sonne Tobias.

21 Neuertheles within fure and fiftie dayes, two of his sonnes killed him, & they fled into the mountaines of Arrarath, and Sarchedonus his sone reigned in his stead, who appointed ouer his fathers accompts and ouer all his domesticall affaires, Achicharus my brother Anaels sonne.

22 And when Achicharus had made a request for mee, I came againe to Nineue: nothe Achicharus was cupbearer & keeper of the signet, and steward, and ouersawe the accompts: so Sarchedonus appointed him next vnto him, and he was my brothers sonne.

3 But he came againe, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, & is cast out in the market place.

4 Then before I had tasted any meat, I start vp, & brought him into mine house until the going downe of the sunne.

5 Then I returned and washed, and ate my meate in heaviness,

6 Remembryng that prophesie of Amos, which had said, Your solenne feastes shalbe turned into mourning, & your ioyes into wailing.

7 Therefore I wept, & after the going downe of the sunne I went & made a graue and buried him.

8 But my neighbours mocked mee, and said, Dost he not feare, to die for this cause, who fled away, and yet loe, hee burieth the dead againe?

9 The same night also why I returned from the buriell, & slept at the wall of mine house because I was polluted, and hauing my face brouered,

10 And I kneele not that sparrowes were in the wall, & as mine eyes were open, the sparrowes cast downe warme dongue into mine eyes, and a whiteries came in mine eyes, & I went to the Physicians, but they helped me not. Moreover Achitharus did nourish me, until I went into helimais.

11 And my wife Anna did take womens works to do.

12 And when she had sent them home to the owners, they payed the wages, & gaue a kid,

13 which when it was at mine house, & began to beate, I said vnto her, Fro whence is this kid: is it not tolent: render it to y owners: for it is not lawfull to eate any thing that is tolent.

14 But shee saide, It was giuen for a gift more then the wages: but I did not beleeue, and bade her to render it to the owners, and I did blishe, because of her. Furthermore shee said, Where are thine almes, and thy righteousness: behold, they all now appeare in thee.

1 The prayer of Tobit. 7 Sarra Raguels daughter, & the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

The I, being sorrowfull, did weepe, and in my sorrowe prayed, saying,
2 O Lord, thou art iust, and all thy works, and all thy wayes are mercie and truth, & thou iudget truely and iustly for ever.

3 Remember me, and looke on mee, neither punish mee according to my sinnes, or mine ignorances, or my fathers, which haue sinned before thee.

4 For they haue not obeyed thy commandments: wherefore thou hast deliuered vs for a spoyle, and vnto captiuitie, & to death, and for a prouerbe of a reproch to all them among whom we are disperfed, and now thou hast many and iust causes.

5 To do with me according to my sinnes, and my fathers, because wee haue not kept thy commandments, neither haue walked in truth before thee.

6 Nowe therefore deale with me as seemeth best vnto thee, and commaunde my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be dissolued, and become earth: for it is better for me to die then to liue, because I haue heard false reproches, and am very sorrowfull: commaunde therefore that I may be dissolued out of this distresse, [and goe] into the euertlasting place: turne not thy face away from mee.

7 It came to passe y same day that in Erbatane a citie of Media, Sarra y daughter of Raguel was also reproched by her fathers maides.

8 Because she had bene married to seuen husbands, whom Asmodeus the euill spirit had killed, before that they had lien with her. Dost thou not knowe, saide they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands: thou hast had now seuen husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

9 Wherefore dost thou beate vs for this, if they be dead, go thy waies hence to them, that wee may neuer see of thee either sonne or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was berie sorrowfull, so that she thought to haue strangled her selfe. And shee saide, I am the onely daughter of my father, and if I doe this, I shall slander him, and that bring his age to the graue with sorrowe.

11 Then she prayed toward the windo, & said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, & I thank thee holy and glorious Name be blessed, & that be honorable for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever.

12 And now, O Lord, I let mine eyes, and my face toward thee,

13 And say, Take mee out of the earth, that I may heare no more any reproche.

14 Thou knowest, O Lord, that I am pure from all sinne with man.

15 And that I haue neuer polluted my name, nor y name of my father in the lande of this.

But if it please not thee that I shoulde die, commaund to looke on mee, and to pittie me that I doe no more heare reproche.

16 So the prayers of them both were heard before the maiestie of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heale them both, that is, to take away the whitenes of Tobits eies, and to giue Sarra a daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias a sonne of Tobit, and to bind Ananias the euil spirite, because shee belonged to Tobias by right. The selfe same time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, & Sarra the daughter of Raguel came downe from her chamber.

CHAP. IIII.

Precepts and exhortations of Tobit to his sonne.

Chap. i. 14

In that day Tobit remembred the siluer, which he had deliuered to Gabael in Rages [a cite] of Meda,

2 And sayd with him selfe, I haue wished for death: wherefore doe I not call for my sonne Tobias that I may admonishe him before I die?

3 And when he had called him, he sayde, My sonne, after that I am dead, burie mee, and despile not thy mother, but honour her all the dayes of thy life, and doe that which shall please her, and anger her not.

4 Remember, my sonne, howe many dangers shee sustained when thou wast in her wombe,

5 And when she dieth, bury her by me in the same graue.

6 My sonne, let our Lord God allwayes before thine eyes, and let not thy will bee set to sinne or to transgresse the commaundements of God. Do vprightly all thy life long, a follow not the wayes of vnrighteousnes: for if thou deale truely, thy doings shall prosperously succede to thee, and to all them which liue iustly.

7 Giue almes of thy substance: & when thou giuest almes, let not thine eye bee enuious, neither turne thy face from any poore, lest that God turne his face from thee.

8 Giue almes according to thy substance: if thou haue but a little, be not afraide to giue a little almes.

9 For thou layest by a good store for thy selfe against the day of necessitie,

10 Because that almes doeth deliuer fro death, & suffereth not to come into darknes. 11 For almes is a good gift before the most high to all them which ble it.

12 Beware of all whoresdome, my sonne, and chiefly take a wife of the seede of thy fathers, and take not a straunge woman to wife which is not of thy fathers stocke: for we are the children of the Prophets, Noe, Abrahah, Isaac & Jacob are our fathers from the beginning. Remember my sonne that they married wiues of their owne kindred, and were blessed in their children and their seede shall inherite the land.

13 Now therefore, my sonne, loue thy brethren, and despile not in thine heart thy brethren, the sonnes and daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction, and much trouble, and in fiercenes is scarcety and great pover tie: for fiercenes is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tarte with thee, but giue him it out of hande: for if thou serue God, he wil also pay thee: be circumspect my sonne, in all things that thou doest, and bee well instructed in all thy conuersation.

15 Doe that to no man which thou hast drunke: drinke not wine to make thee drunken, neither let drunkennesse goe with thee in thyourney.

16 Giue of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked, & of all thine aboundance giue almes, and let not thine eye bee enuious, when thou giuest almes.

17 Polye out thy bread on the buriall of the iust, but giue nothing to the wicked.

18 Aske counsell allway of the wife, and despile not any counsell that is profitable.

19 Bless thy Lord God allway, & desire of him thy wayes may bee made streight, and that al thy purposes, and counsels may prosper: for euery nation hath not counsell: but the Lord giueth all good things, and he humblyeth whom he wil, as hee wil: now therefore, my sonne, remember thy commaundements, neither let them at any time bee put out of thy mind.

20 Furthermore I signifie this to thee, that I deliuered ten talents to Gabael the sonne of Sabrias at Rages in Meda.

21 And feare not, my sonne, for as much as we are made poore: for thou hast many things, if thou feare God, and flee from all sinne, and do that thing which is acceptable vnto him.

Tobias then answered, and said, Which I will doe all thinges whiche thou hast commaunded mee.

2 But how can I receiue the siluer, seeing I know him not?

Tobias sent by his father to Ragas, seeking a companion, and meeteth with Raphael, whom he bringeth to his father.

3 Then he gaue him the hand writing, & saide vnto him, Seeke thee a man, which may goe with thee, whiles I yet liue, and I will giue him wages, and go and receiue the money.

4 Therefore when he was gone to seeke a man, he found Raphael the Angel.

5 But hee kneelved not, and said vnto him, May I go with thee into y<sup>e</sup> land of Medias, and knowest thou those places well?

6 To whom the Angel saide, I will go with thee: for I haue remained with our brother Gabael.

7 Then Tobias saide to him, Tarie for mee, till I tell my father.

8 Then he said vnto him, Goe, and tarie not: so he went in and said to his father, Behold, I haue found one, which will go with me. Then he said, Call him vnto me, that I may knowe of what tribe hee is, and whither he be faithfull to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and hee came in, and they saluted one another.

10 Then Tobit said vnto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and familie thou art.

11 To whom he said, Dost thou seeke a stocke or familie, or an hired man to go with thy sonne? Then Tobit saide vnto him, I would knowe, brother, thy kyndred and thy name.

12 Then he layde, I am of the kindred of Azarias and Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

For him compassed happily.

13 Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother: bee not nowie angry with mee, because I haue enquired to knowe thy kindred, and thy family: for thou art my brother of an honest and good stocke: for I knowe Ananias and Jonathas, sonnes of that great Samaias: for wee went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first borne, and the tenths of the frutes, and they were not deceiued with the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stocke.

14 But tel me, what wages shal I giue thee? wilt thou a groate a day and thinges necessarie, as to mine owne sonne?

15 Yea, mozeouer if ye returne safe, I will adde some thing to the wages.

16 So they agreed. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thy selfe for the iourney, and goe you on Gods Name. And when his sonne had prepared all thinges for the iour-ney, his father sayd, So thou with this mā, and God which dwelleth in heauē, prosper your iourney, and the Angel of God keepe you company. So they went forth both and departed, & the dogge of the yong man with them.

17 But Anna his mother wept, & sayd to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our sonne: is he not the staffe of our hand to minister vnto vs?

18 Would to God we had not layde money vpon money, but that it had bene cast away in respect of our sonne.

19 For that which God hath giuen vs to liue with, doth suffice vs.

20 Then said Tobit, Be not careful, my sister: hee shall returne in safetie, and thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good Angell doth keepe him company, and his iourney shal bee prosperous, and he shall returne safe.

22 Then thee made an ende of weeping.

1 Tobias deliuered from the fish. 7 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 10 He conuoceth him toward Sarra.

As they went on their iourney, they came at night to the flood Tygris, and there abode.

2 And when the yong man went to wash him selfe, a fische leaped out of the riuer, and would haue deuoured him.

3 Then the Angell said vnto him, Take the fische. And the yong man tooke the fische, & deliue it to land.

4 To whom the Angel said, Cut the fische, and take the heart, and the liuer, & the gall, and put them by surely.

5 So the yong man did as the Angell commaunded him: & when they had roasted the fische, they ate it: then they both went on their way, till they came to Ecbatane.

6 Then the yong man said to the Angell, Brother Azarias, what auadeth the heart, and the liuer, and the gall of the fische?

7 And hee said vnto him, Touching the heart & the liuer, if a deuill or an euill spirite trouble any, wee must make a perfume of this before the man or the woman, and hee shal be no moze vexed.

8 As for the gall, anoynt a man that hath whitenes in his eyes, and hee shal be healed.

9 And when they were come neere to Ragas,

10 The Angel said to the yong man, Brother, to day wee shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin: hee also hath one only daughter named Sarra: I will speake for her that she may be giuen thee for a wife.

12 And the made is faire and wise: now therefore heare mee, and I will speake to her father, that wee may make the marriage when wee are returned from Bages: for I know that Raguel cannot marrie her to another according to the laibe of Moyses: els hee shoulde deserue death, because the right doth rather appertaine to thee then to any other man.

13 Then the yong man answered the Angell, I haue heard, brother Azarias, that this made hath beene giuen to seuen men, who all died in the marriage chamber:

14 And I am the onely begotten sonne of my father, and I am afrayed, least I goe in to her, and die as the other before: for a wicked spirit loueth her, which hurteth no bodie, but those which come in to her: wherefore I also feare least I die, and bring my fathers and my mothers life because of mee to the graue with sorow: for they haue no other sonne to burie them.

15 When the Angell said vnto him, Doeſt thou not remember the precepts which thy father gaue thee, that thou shouldest marrie a wife of thine owne kindred: wherefore heare me, O my brother: for she shalbe thy wife, neither be thou carefull of the euill spirit: for this same night shall thee be giuen thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt go into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take of the hote coles for perfumes, and make a perfume of the heart, and of the liver of the fish,

17 which if the spirit do smell, he will flee away, and neuer come againe any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise by both of you, and pray to God which is mercifull, who will haue pittie on you, and saue you: feare not, for thee is appointed vnto thee from the beginning, and thou shalt keepe her, and she shall go with thee: moreover I suppose that she shal beare thee children: now when Tobias had heard these things, he loued her, and his heart was effectually ioyned to her.

3 And Raguel asked, whence are you, my brethren: To whom they said, that they were of the tribe of Ephthalim, and of the captiues that dwelt at Nineue.

4 Then he said to the, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they sayd, we knowe him. Then sayd he, Is he in good health?

5 And they sayd, he is both aliae, and in good health: Tobias said, he is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped, and kissed him, and wept,

7 And blessed him, and saide vnto him, Thou art the sonne of an honest and goodd man: but when hee had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorowfull and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife, & Sarra his daughter wept. Moreover they receiued them with a readie minde, and after that they had killed a ranime of the flocke, they set much meate on the table. 10 For it is meete that thou shouldest marrie my daughter: neuertheless, I will declare vnto thee the truth.

11 I haue giuen my daughter in marriage to seuen men, who died that night which they came in vnto her: neuertheless, be thou of a good courage and merrie. But Tobias said, I will eate nothing here, buttill ye bring her hither, and betroth her to me.

12 Raguel said the, Marry her then according to the custome: for thou art her cousin, & she is thine. God which is mercifull, make this prosperous to you in all good things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sarra, Raguel and she came to her father, and he tooke her by the hand, and gaue her for wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after the Law of Moyses, and lead her away to thy father: and he blessed them.

16 After, Raguel called his wife Edna, and saide vnto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done, as he had hidden her, shee brought her thither: then Sarra wept, & her mother wiped away her daughters teares,

18 And said vnto her, Be of good comfort, my daughter: the Lord of heauen and earth giue thee ioy for this thy sorow: bee of good comfort my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias prayeth to waite the euill spirit. 4 He cometh to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law, 16 Raguel blesteth the Loꝝd.

AND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in vnto her.

2 And as he went, he reioyced the wordes of Raphael, & tooke coles for perfumes, & put the heart & liver of the fish thereupon, and made a perfume.

3 The which smell when the euill spirit had smelled, he fled into the ystmest partes of Egypt, whom the Angell bound.

4 And after that they were both shut in, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise and let vs pray, that God would haue pittie on vs.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thine holy and glorious Name for ever: let the heauens blesse thee, & all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gauest him Eua his wife for an heire, and say: of them came mankinde: thou hadst saide, It is not good, that a man should bee alone: let vs make vnto him an ayde like vnto himselfe.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for fornication, but rightly: therefore graunt me mercie, that we may become aged together.

8 And he said with him, Amen.

9 So they slept both that night, and Raguel arose, and went and made a graue,

10 Saying, Is not he dead also?

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He sayde to his wife Edna, Send one of the maides, and let them see whether hee bee aliuie: if not, that I may bury him, and none knowe it.

13 So the maid opened the doore, & went in, and found them both asleepe.

14 And came forth, and told them that he was aliuie.

15 Then Raguel prayled God, and saide, O God, thou art worthy to be prayled with all pure, and holy prayle: therefore let thy saints prayse thee with all thy creatures, and let all thine Angels and thine elect prayse thee for ever.

16 Thou art to be praised, O Lord: for thou hast made me ioyful, & that is not come to me which I suspected: but thou hast dealt with vs according to great mercie.

17 Thou art to bee prayled because thou hast had mercie of vs: that were the onely forgotten children of their fathers: graunt them mercie, O Lord, and finish their life in health with ioye and mercie.

18 Then Raguel bade his seruants to fill the graue.

19 And hee kept the wedding feast foure teene dayes.

20 For Raguel had sayd vnto him by an othe, that hee should not depart before that the foureteene dayes of the mariage were expired,

21 And then he should take the halfe of his goods & returne in safetie to his father, and should haue the rest, when he and his wife were dead.

CHAP. IX.

Raguel leaureth Gabael to Tobias mariage.

THEN Tobias called Raphael, and said vnto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a seruant and two camels, and go to Rages of the Medes to Gabael, and bring mee the money and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sborne that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the daies: and if I tarie long, he will be verie sozie.

5 So Raphael went out and came to Gabael, and gaue him the hand writing, who brought forth bags which were sealed by, and gaue them to him.

6 And in the morning they went forth, both together, & came to the wedding. And Tobias begate his wife with childe.

3 Therefore he was verie sozie.

4 Then his wife saide to him, My sonne is dead, seeing hee tarie: and she began to beraiue him, and said,

5 Now I care for nothing, my sonne, since I haue lost thee the light of mine eyes.

6 To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peate: be not carefull, for he is safe.

7 But she said, Holde thy peate, and become mee not: my sonne is dead: and thee went out euery day by the way, which they went, neither did the eate meate on the day time, and did consume whole nightes in bewailing her sonne Tobias vntill the foureteene dayes of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sborne, that he should tarie there. 11 And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heauen make you, my children, to prosper before I die.

12 And he saide to his daughter, Honour thy father, and thy mother in lawe which are nowe thy parents, that I may heare good report of thee: and hee kissed them. #### CHAP. XI.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 9 How hee was receiued. 10 His father hath his sight restored and praiseth the Lord.

After these things Tobias went his way, prayling God that hee had giuen him a prosperous iourney, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, & went on his way till he dwelue neere to Nineue.

2 Then Raphael sayde to Tobias, thou knowest, brother, howe thou diddest leaue thy father.

3 Let vs haste before thy wife, and prepare the house.

4 And take in thine hande the gill of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog followed them.

5 Now Anna late in the way looking for her sonne,

6 whom when she saide conning, shee saide to his father, Beholde, thy sonne cometh and the man that went with him.

7 Then said Raphael, I knowe Tobias, that thy father shall receiue his sight.

8 Therefore anoint his eyes with the gill, and being pricked therewith, hee shall rub and make the whitenesse to fall away, and shall see thee.

9 Then Anna ranne forth, and fell on the necke of her sonne, and sayde vnto him, Seeing I haue seene thee, my sonne, from hence forth I am content to die, and they wept both.

10 Tobit also went forth towarde the doore, and stumbled, but his sonne ranne vnto him, 11 And tooke holde of his father & sprinkled of the gall on his fathers eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

12 And when his eyes began to pricke, he rubbed them.

13 And the whitenesse pilled away from the corners of his eyes, and when he saw his sonne, he fell vpon his necke.

14 And he wept & said, Blessed art thou, Lord, and blessed be thy name for ever, and blessed be all thine holy Angels.

15 For thou hast scourged mee, and hast had pittie on me: for behold, I see my sonne Tobias: and his sonne, being glad went in, and tolde his father the great things that had come to passe in Media.

16 Then Tobit went out to meete his daughter in lawe, reioicing and playing God to the gate of Nineue: and they which saw him go, marvelled, because he had receiued his sight.

17 But Tobit testified before them al, that God had had pittie on him. And when hee came neere to Sarra his daughter in lawe, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God bee blessed, which hath brought thee vnto vs, and blessed be thy father: and there was great ioy among all his brethren which were at Nineue.

18 And Achijacharus & Rasbas his brothers sonne came.

19 And Tobias mariage was kepte seuen dayes with great ioy.

2 Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raphael had done him. 5 The which he would recompence. 11 15 Raphael declareth that he is an Angell sent of God.

Then Tobit called his sonne Tobias, & saide vnto him, Prouide, my sonne, wages for the man, which went with thee, and thou must giue him more.

2 And he said vnto him, O father, it shall not grieve mee to giue him halfe of those things which I haue brought.

3 For he hath brought me againe to thee in safetie, & hath made whole my wife, and hath brought me the money, and hath likewise healed thee.

4 Then the olde man said, It is due bre to him.

5 So he called the Angell, and said vnto him, Take halfe of all that ye haue brought, and go away in safetie.

6 But he tooke them both apart, & sayd vnto them, Praise God, and confesse him, and giue him the glorie, and prayse him for the things which he hath done vnto you before all them that liue. It is good to prayse God, & to exalt his name, and to shew forth his euident woordes with honour: therefore be not weary to confesse him.

7 It is good to keepe close the secretes of a King, but it is honourable to reueile the woordes of God: do that which is good, and no euill shall touch you.

8 Praier is good with fasting, and almes, and righteoufnesse. A litle with righteoufnesse is better then much with vnrigheteoufnesse: it is better to giue almes then to lay by golde.

9 For almes doeth deliuer from death, and doeth purge all sinne. Those which exercise almes and righteoufnes, shall be filled with life.

10 But they that sinne, are enemies to their owne life.

11 Surely I will keepe close nothing fro you: neuertheless, I said it was good to keepe close y<sup>e</sup> secret of a King, but that it was honourable to reueile the woordes of God.

12 Now therefore when thou didst pray, and Sarra thy daughter in lawe, I did bring to memorie your praier before the holy one: and when thou didst burie the dead, I was with thee likewise.

13 And when thou wast not grieved to rise by, & leaue thy dinner to bury the dead, thy good deede was not hid from me: but I was with thee.

14 And now God hath sent me to heale thee, and Sarra thy daughter in lawe.

15 I am Raphael one of the seue holy Angels, which present y<sup>e</sup> praiers of the Saints, and which go forth before his holy maiestie.

16 Then they were both troubled, and fell bypon their face: for they feared.

17 But he said vnto them, Feare not, for it shal go wel with you: praise God therefore.

18 For I came not of mine owne pleasure, but by the good Will of your God: wherefore prayse him in all ages.

19 * All these dayes I did appeare vnto you, but I did neither eate nor drinke, but you saw it in vision.

20 Now therefore giue God thanks: for I go by to him that sent me: but write all things which are done, in a booke.

21 And when they rose, they salued him no more.

22 Then they confessed the great & wonderfull woordes of God, and how the Angel of the Lord had appeared to them.

CHAP. XIII.

A thankesgiving of Tobit, who rejoyceth all to prayse the Lord.

When Tobit wrote a prayer of reioicing, and said, Blessed be God that liueth for ever, and blessed be his kingdom.

2 * For he doth scourge, and hath pitie: he leadeth to hell, and bringeth by, neither is there any that can auoyd his hand.

3 Confesse him before the Gentiles, yee children of Israel: for he hath scattered you among them.

4 There declare his greatnes, and extoll him before all the liuing: for he is our Lord and our God and our Father for euer.

5 He hath scourged vs for our iniquities, and will haue mercie againe, and will gather vs out of all nations, among whom we are scattered.

6 If you turne to him with your whole heart, and with your whole minde, & deale vprightly before him, then will he turne vnto you, and will not hide his face from you, but ye shall see what hee will doe with you: therefore confesse him with your whole mouth, & prayse the Lord of righteoufnes, and extoll the euerlasting King. I will confesse him in the land of my captiuitie, & will declare his power, and greatnes to a full nation. O ye sinners, turne and do iustice before him: who can tell if he will recieve you to mercy, and haue pitie on you?

7 I will extoll my God, and my soule shall praise the King of heauen, and shall reioyce in his greatnes.

8 Let all men speake, and let all praise him for his righteoufnes.

9 O Ierusalem the holy citie, hee will scourge thee for thy childrens woordes, but he will haue pitie againe on the sonnes of righteous men.

10 Giue praise to the Lord duely, & prayse the euerlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee againe with ioy: and let him make ioyfull there in thee those that are captiues, and loue in thee for euer those that be miserable.

11 Many nations shall come from farre to the name of the Lord God, with giftes in their hands, euen giftes to the King of heauen: all generations shall prayse thee, and giue signes of ioy.

12 Cursed are they which hate thee: but blessed are they for euer which loue thee.

13 Reioyce, and be glad for the children of the iust: for they shalbe gathered, and shall blesse the Lord of the iust.

14 Blessed are they which loue thee: for they shall reioyce in thy peace. Blessed are they which haue bene sorrowfull for all thy scourges: for they shall reioyce for thee, when they shall see all thy glorie, and shall reioyce for euer.

15 Let my soule blesse God the great King.

5 Euen in those dayes, King Nabuchodonosor made warre with king Arpharad in the great fiede, which is the field in the coastes of Ragau.

6 Then came vnto him al they that dwelt in the mountaines, and al that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tygris and Hydaspes, and the cuntry of Arioch the king of the Elyneans, & very many nations assembled themselves to the battell of the sonnes of Chelod.

7 And Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent vnto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt in the west, & to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt vpon the sea coast,

8 And to the people, that are in Carmel, and Galaad, and the hier Galile, & the great field of Esdrælam,

11 But all the inhabitants of this country did not passe for the commandement of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither would they come with him to the battell: for they did not feare him: yea, hee was before them as one man: therefore they sent away his ambassadours from them without effect, and with dishonour.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angrie with all this country, and sware by his throne and kingdome that he would surely bee auenged vpon all those coastes of Cilicia and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the lande of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till one come to the borders of the two seas.

16 So he returned after ward to Nineue, both hee and all his companie with a verie great multitude of men of warre, and there he passed the time, and banketed, both hee, and his armie an hundredth and twentie dayes.

And in the eighteenth yeere, the two and twentieth [ day ] of the first moneth, there was talke in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that hee should avenge him selfe on all the earth, as hee had spoken.

2 So he called vnto him all his officers and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secreete counsell, and set before them with his owne mouth all the malice of the earth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that had not obeyed the commandement of his mouth.

4 And when hee had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians called Olofernes his chiefe captaine, & which was next vnto him, and said vnto him,

5 Thus saith the great King, the lord of the whole earth, Beholde, thou shalt goe forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their owne strength, of footemen, an hundredth and twentie thousand, and the number of horses with their riders, twelue thousand,

6 And thou shalt go against all the west countrey, because they disobeyed my commandement.

7 And thou shalt declare vnto them, that they prepare for me the land and the water: for I will goe forth in my wrath against them, and will couer the whole face of the earth with the fete of mine armie, and I will giue them as a spoyle vnto them,

8 So that their wounded shall fall their balles, and their riuers, and the flood shall ouerflowe, being filled with their dead.

9 And I will bring their captiuitie to the vniuersall parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt depart hence, & take vp for me all their countrey: and if they yeeld vnto thee, thou shalt reserue them for me vntill the day that I rebuke them.

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare the, but put the to death, and and spoyle them where soeuer thou goest.

12 For as I liue, & the powler of my kingdom, what soeuer I haue spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heede that thou transgresse not any of the commandementes of thy lawe, but accomplysh them fully, as I haue commanded thee, and deferre not to doe them.

14 ¶ Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the gouernours, and captaynes, and officers of the armie of Assur,

15 And he mustred the chosen men for the battell, as his lord had commanded him, vnto an hundred and twentie thousande, and twelue thousand archers on horsebacke.

16 And hee set them in aray according to the manner of setting a great armie in aray.

17 And hee tooke camels & asses for their burdens, a very great number, and sheepe, and oren, and goates without number for their prouision.

18 And bitade for euery man of the army, and very much golde and siluer out of the Kings house.

19 Then he went forth and al his powler, to go before in the viage of King Nabuchodonosor, and to couer al the face of the earth westwarde, with their charrets, and horsemen, and chosen footemen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry sorts came with them like grasshoppers, and like the grauell of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Sineue three dayes iourney toward the countrey of Beethleth, and pitched from Beethleth neere the mountaine which is at the left hande of the vpper Cilicia.

22 The he tooke all his armie, his footemen and horsemen, and charrets, and went from thence into the mountaines.

23 And he destroyed Huid and Lud, and spoyled all the children of Rassas, & the children of Simael, which were toward the wilderness at the South of the Chelians.

24 Then hee went ouer Euphrates, and went throughe Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the hie cities that were vpon the riuer of Arbonai, vntill one came to the sea.

25 And hee tooke the borders of Cilicia, and destroyed al that resisted him, and came to the borders of Iapheth, which were toward the South and ouer against Arabia.

26 Hee compassed also all the children of Madian, and burnt by their tabernacles, and spoyled their lodges.

27 Then he went downe into the coun-trei of Damascus, in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt by al their fieldes, & destroyed their flockes and the herdes: hee robbed their cities, and spoyled their countrey, and smote all their yong men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore feare and trembling fell vpon al the inhabitantes of the sea coast, which were in Sidon and Tyne, and them that dwelt in Sur and Omana, and al that dwelt in Iemnaan: & they that dwelt in Azotus, & Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

The people subject to Olofernes, & hee destroyed their gods that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

So they sent ambassadours to him with messages of peace, saying,

2 Behold, we are the seruants of Nabuchodonosor the great King: we lie downe before thee: ble vs as shalbe good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses and al our places, and al our fieldes of wheat, and our flockes, and our heards, and all our lodges and tabernacles lie before thy face: ble them as it pleaseeth thee.

4 Beholde, euen our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy seruants: come, and take them, as seemeth good to thee.

5 So the men came to Olofernes, and declared vnto them after this manner.

6 Then came he downe toward the sea coast, both he and his armie, and let garibos in the hie cities, and tooke out of them chosen men for the warre.

7 So they and al the countrey round about receiued them, with crownes, with dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he brake downe all their borders, and cut downe their woods: for it was inteyned him to destroy al the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor onely, and that all tongues & tribes should call vpon him as God.

9 Also hee came against Esraelion, neere vnto Iudea, ouer against the great strait of Iudea.

10 And he pitched betweene Geba, and a citie of the Semythians, and there hee taried a moneth, that hee might assemble all the baggage of his armie.

CHAP. IIII.

The Israelites were afraid & defended their countrey, & Ioachim the priest wryteth to Beethulia, that they should fortifie the felles.

They cryed to the Lord, and humbled them selues before him.

Nowe the children of Israel that dwelt in Iudea, heard all that Olofernes the chiefe captayn of Nabuchodonosor king of

Tit. iiii. the

the Assyrians had done to the nations, and holwe he had spoyled all their temples, and brought them to naught.

2 Therefore they feared greatly his presence, & were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the Temple of the Lord their God.

3 For they were newly returned from the captivitie, and of late all the people was assembled in Judea, and the bestels and the altar of the house had byn sanctified because of the pollution.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria, and the villages, and to Zethoro, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Eloza, and to the valley of Saleni.

5 And tooke all the tops of the hie mountaines, and walled the villages that were in them, and put in vitales for the prouision of warre: for their fieldes were of late reaped.

6 Also Joacim the hie Priest which was in those dayes in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Zethulia and Betomestham, which is ouer against Eldraelon towarde the open countrey neere to Dothaim,

7 Exhorting them to keepe the passages of the mountaines: for by the there was an entrie into Judea, and it was easie to let the that woulde come by, because the passage was streit for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joacim the hie Priest had commanded the with the Ancients of al þe people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 The cried every man of Israel to God with great seruencie, and their soules with great affection.

10 Both they, and their wiues, and their children, and their cattell, and every stranger, and hircling, and their bought seruants put sackcloth vpon their loynes.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the Temple, and spinkled ashes vpon their heads, and spred out their sackcloth before the face of the Lorde: also they put sackcloth about the altar.

12 And cried to the God of Israel, al with one consent most earnestly, that hee woulde not giue their children for a praye, and their wiues for a spoye, & the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the Sanctuarie to pollution and reproche, and vnto derision to the heathen.

13 So God heard their prayers, & looked vpon their affliction: for the people fasted many dayes in all Judea and Ierusalem before the Sanctuarie of the Lord almighty.

14 And Joacim the high Priest, & al the Priests that stood before the Lord, and ministered vnto the Lord, had their loynes girt with sackcloth, and offered the continuall burnt offering, with prayers and the free giftes of the people,

15 And had ashes on their mytres, and cryed vnto the Lorde with all their power for grace, and that he woulde looke vpon all the house of Israel.

CHAP. V.

Achioz the Ammonite doeth declare to Olofernes of the manner of the Iherusalem.

Then was it declared to Olofernes the chiefe captaine of þe armie of Assur, þe children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut the passages of the mountaines, & had walled all the toppes of the hie hills, and had layde impediments in the champion country.

2 Wherewith hee was verie angrie, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the gouernours of the sea coast.

3 And he said vnto the, Shew me, O yee fornes of Chanaan, who is this people that dwelleth in the mountaines: and what are the cities that they inhabit: & what is the multitude of their armie: and wherein is their strength & their power: & what King or captaine is raised among them ouer their armie:

4 And why haue they determined not to come to meeke me, more then all the inhabitants of the west:

5 Then said Achioz the captaine of all the fornes of Ammon, Let my Lord heare the word of the mouth of his seruant, and I wil declare vnto thee the truneth concerning this people, that dwel in these mountaines, nere where thou remainest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy seruant.

6 This people come of the stocke of the Chaldeans.

7 And they dwelt before in Mesopotamia, because they would not followe þe gods of their fathers, which were in the lande of Chaldea.

8 But they went out of the way of their ancestors & worshipped the God of heauen, the God whom they knebe: so they cast the out from the face of their gods, & they fled into Mesopotamia, & sojourned there many dayes.

9 Then they God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to goe into the lande of Chanaan, where they dwelt, and were increased with gold gold and silver, and with very much cattel.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went downe into Egypt, and dwelt there til they returned, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their linage.

Exod.1.8. 11 * Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and bled deceit against them, and brought them to lve with labouring in bricke, and made them slaves.

Exod.1.1. 31.13. 12 Then they cried unto their GOD, and he smote all the lande of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the * Egyptians cast the out of their sight.

Exod.1.4. 21. 13 And * God dried the red sea in their presence, Exod.19. 21. 14 And * brought them into mount Sina and Cades barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Elebon, and passing over Jordan, they inherited all the mountaines.

Isa.1.12. 16 And they * cast forth before them the Chanaanites, and the Pherezites, and the Jebusites, and them of Sichem, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes.

17 And whyles they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hated iniquitie, was with them.

Isa.1.11. 8.3. 18 But * when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battels after a wonderfull sorte, * and were led captives into a land that was not theirs: * the Temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

2. King. 25. 1.11. 19 But * now they are turned to their GOD, and are come by from the scattering wherein they were scattered, and haue possessed Jerusalem, where their Temple is, and dwell in the mountaines which were desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord & gouvneur, if there be any faulte in this people, so that they haue sinned against their God, let vs consider that this shalbe their ruine, and let vs go by, and we shall overcome them.

21 But if there bee none iniquitie in this people, let my lord passe by, least their Lord defend them, * the God be for them, & wee become a reproch before all the worlde.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people, standing round about the tent, murmured: and the chiefe men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side and in Doab, spake that hee shoulde kill him.

23 For, [say they,] we feare not to meete the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that haue no strength, nor powder against a mightie armie.

24 Let vs therefore go by, O lord Olofernes, & thei shalbe meat for thy whole armie.

CHAP. VI.
Olofernes blasphemeth God whom Achior contended, 14 Achior is delivered into the hands of them of Bethulia, 18 The Bethulians crye unto the Lord.

And when the tumult of the me that were about the cotiseil, was ceased, Olofernes, & chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, said unto Achior, before al the people of the strangers, and before all the children of Doab, & of them that were hired of Ephraim,

2 Because thou hast prophesied among vs to day, and hast saide that the people of Jerusalem is able to fight, * because their God wil defend them: and who is god but Nabuchodonosor?

3 he wil lend his powder, and wil destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliuer them: but we his seruants will destroy them as one man: for they are not able to sustaine the powder of our horses.

4 For wee will treade them vnder feete with them, and their mountaines shall bee drunken with their blood, and their fieldes shalbe filled with their dead bodies, & their footesteppes shall not be able to stand before vs: but they shall bitterly perish.

5 The king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth, hath said, euē he hath said, & none of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

6 And thou Achior an hireling of Ammon, because thou hast spoken these wordes in the day of thine iniquitie, thou shalt see my face no more from this day vntil I take vengeance of that people that is come out of Egypt.

7 And then shal the yron of mine armie, and the multitude of them that serue mee, passe through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slaine, when I shall put them to flight.

8 And my seruants shall carie thee into the mountaines, and they shall leaue thee at one of the hie cities: but thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou perswade thy selfe in thy mynde, that they shall not bee taken, let not thy countenance fall: I haue spoken it, and none of my wordes shalbe in vaine.

10 Then commanded Olofernes them concerning Achior, that they shoulde bring him to Bethulia, and deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his seruants tooke him, & brought him out of the campe into the plaine: and they wet out from the middes of the plaine into the mountaines, & came vnto the fountaines that were vnder Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the cite sawe them from the toppes of the mountaine, they tooke their armour, and went forth of the cite vnto the toppes of the mountaine, euen all the throwers with slings, & kept them from coming by, by casting stones against them.

13 But they went pryncially vnder the hill, & bound Achior, and left him lying at þe foote of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 Then the Israelites came down fro their cite, and stood about him, and looked him and brought him into Bethulia, & presented him to the gouernours of their cite.

15 Which were in those dayes, Ozias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the sonne of Gethoniel, and Charinus the sonne of Helchiel.

16 And they called together all the Ancientes of the cite, and all their youth ranne together, and their women to the assembly: and they set Achior in the middes of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of þe which was done.

17 And he answered and declared vnto them the wordes of the counsell of Olofernes, and all the wordes that he had spoken in the mids of the princes of Assur, & what soeuer Olofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell downe and worshipped God, and cryed vnto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heauen, beholde their pride, & haue mercie on the balenesse of our people, and behold this day the face of thole that are sanctified vnto thee.

20 Then they comforted Achior, & prayed him greatly.

21 And Ozias tooke him out of þe assembly into his house, and made a feast to the Elders, and they called on the God of Israel all that night for helpe.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes dooth besiege Bethulia. 8 The counsell of the Iudians means and other against the Israelites. 23 The Bethulians murmur against their gouernours for lacke of water.

The next day, Olofernes commaunded all his armie and all his people, which were come to take his part, that they should remoue their camps against Bethulia, & that they should take all the strettes of the hill, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men remoued their camps in that daye, and the armie of the men of warre was an hundred thousand and seuentie footemen, and twelue thousand horsemen, beside the baggage and other men that were afote among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the plaine neere vnto Bethulia, by the fountaine, and they spred abroade toward Dothaim vnto Bethaim, and in length from Bethulia vnto Ciannon, which is ouer against Etdaelom.

4 Now the childre of Israel, when they sawe the multitude, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour. Howe will they shut by al þe whole earth: for neither the hie mountaines nor the bailles, nor the hilles are able to abide their burden.

5 Then every one tooke his weapons of warre, and burning fires in their towres, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second daye, Olofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel, which were in Bethulia.

7 And belided the passages by to their cite, and came to the fountaines of their waters, and tooke them and set garrisons of men of warre ouer them, and remoued toward his people.

8 Then came vnto him all the chiefe of the children of Esau, and al the gouernours of the people of Moab, and all the captaynes of the sea coast, and said,

9 Let our captaine not be heare a worde, least an inconuenient come in thine armie.

10 For this people of the children of Israel doe not trust in their speares, but in the height of the mountaines, wherem they dwel, because it is not easie to come by to the toppes of their mountaines.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battell aray, and there shall not so much as one mā of thy people perish.

12 Remaine in thy campe, and keepe all the men of thine armie, & let thy men keepe still the water of the countrey, that cometh forth at the foote of the mountaine.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia haue their water thereof: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall giue by their cite: and we and our people will go by to the toppes of the mountaines that are neere, and will campe vpon them, and wathe that none go out of the cite.

14 So they and their wines, and their children shal be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be ouerthrowen in the strettes where they dwel.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an euill rewarde, reward, because they rebelled and obeyed not thy person peaceably.

16 And these wordes pleased Olofernes and all his souldiers, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the campe of the children of Ammon departed, & with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and tooke the waters, & the fountaines of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Elau went by with y<sup>e</sup> children of Ammon, and camped in the mountains ouer against Dothaim, and they sent some of them selues towarde the South, and towarde the East, ouer against Rebel, which is neere vnto Chusi, that is vpon the river Bochnur: and the rest of y<sup>e</sup> armie of the Assyrians camped in the fildes, and couered the whole land: for their tents and their baggage were pitched in a wonderfull great place.

19 Then the children of Israel cried vnto the Lord their God, because their heart failed: for all their enemies had compassed them about, & there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the companie of Assur remained about them, both their footemen, chariots and horsemen, foure & thirtie dayes: so that euen all the places of their waters failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisternes were emptie, & they had not water enough to drinke by one day: for they gaue them to drinke by measure.

22 Therefore their children swooned, & their wiues and yong men failed for thirst, & fell downe in the streets of the cite, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, & to the chiefe of the cite, both yong men and women, and children, and cried with a loude voyce, and said before all the Elders, 24 The Lord iudge betweene vs and you: for you haue done vs great iniurie, in that ye haue not required peate of the children of Assur.

25 For noth we haue no helper: but God hath solde vs into their hands, & we should be throwen downe before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them together, and deliuer the whole cite for a spoile to the people of Olofernes, and to all his armie.

27 For it is better for vs to bee made a spoile vnto them, the to die for thirst: for we will be his seruants th<sup>e</sup> we may liue, & not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wiues, nor our children to die.

28 We take to witnes against you y<sup>e</sup> heauen and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth vs, according to our finnes & the sins of our fathers, that he lay not these things to our charge.

29 Then there was a great crye of all with one consent in the mids of the assembly, & they cried vnto the Lord God with a loude voyce.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage: let vs wayte yet fide dayes, in the which space y<sup>e</sup> Lord our God may turne his mercie toward vs: for he will not forsake vs in the end.

31 And if these dayes passe, & there come not helpe vnto vs, I will doe according to your word.

32 So he separated the people, euery one vnto their charge, and they went vnto the walles and towres of their cite, and sent their wiues and their children into their houses, and they were very solue brought in the cite.

CHAP. VIII.

The parentage, life and conuersation of Iudeth, 1. She rebuketh the faintenes of the gouernours. 2. She sheweth that they should not tempte God, but waite vpon him for succour. 3. Her enterprise against the enemies.

NOW at that time, Iudeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Or, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozai, the sonne of Elcia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Aito, the sonne of Eliu, the sonne of Eliab, the sonne of Nathanael, the sonne of Samael, the sonne of Salafadai, the sonne of Israel.

2 And Hananias was her husband, of her stocke and kindred, who died in the barly harvest.

3 For as he was diligent ouer them that boild sheaves in y<sup>e</sup> field, the heate came vpon his head, and he fell vpon his bed, and dyed in the cite of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the fildes betweene Dothaim and Salamo.

4 So Iudeth was in her house a wydowe three yeres and foure monthes.

5 And she made her a tent vpo<sup>r</sup> her house, and put on sackcloth on her loynes, & ware her widowes apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhede, saue the day before the Sabbath and the Sabbaths, and the dayes before the newemoones, and in the feasts & solennie dayes of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance and very beaunifull to beholde: and her husbande Hananias had left her gold and siluer, silver, and men servants, & maide servants, and cattell, and possessions, where thee remained.

8 And there was none that could bring an euill report of her: for thee feared God greatly.

9 Nowe when she heard the euill wordes of the people against the gouernour, because they faunted for lacke of waters (for Iudeth had heard all the wordes that Ozias had spoken vnto them, and that he had * sworn vnto them to deliuer the cite vnto the Assyrians within five dayes)

10 Then he sent her maide, that had the gouernement of all things that he had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charinis the Ancientes of the cite.

11 And they came vnto her, and she saide vnto them, heare me. O ye gouernours of inhabitants of Bethulia: for your wordes that ye haue spoken before the people this day, are not right, touching this othe which ye made and pronounced betweene God & you, and haue promised to deliuer the cite to the enemies, vntilke within these dayes the Lord turne to helpe you.

12 And no we who are you that haue tempted God this day, and let your selues in the place of God among the children of men:

13 So now you seeke the Lord almighty, but you shall neuer know any thing.

14 For you can not finde out the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceiue the things that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his minde, or comprehend his purpose: Ray my brethren, prouoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not helpe vs within these five dayes, he hath power to defend vs while he will, euen euery day, or to destroy vs before our enemies.

16 Doe not you therefore binde the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man that he may be threatened, neither as some of man to be brought to iudgement.

17 Therefore let vs waite for saluation of him and call vpon him to helpe vs, and he will heare our voyce if it please him.

18 For there appeareth none in our age, neither is there any now in these dayes, neither tribe, nor familie, nor people, nor cite among vs, which worship gods made with hands, as hath bene afore time.

19 For the which cause our fathers were giuen to the sword, and for a spoyle, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God: therefore we trust that he will not despise vs, nor any of our linage.

21 Neither when we shalbe taken, shall Iudea be so famous: for our Sanctuarie shalbe spoiled, and he will require the propination thereof at our mouth,

22 And the feare of our brethren, and the captiuitie of the countrey, and the desolatiō of our inheritance will hee turne vpon our heads among the Gentiles, where soeuer we shalbe in bondage, and we shalbe an offence and a reproch to all them that possesse vs.

23 For our seruitude shall not be directed by fauour, but the Lord our God shall turne it to dishonour.

24 Nowe therefore, O brethren, let vs shewe an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend vpon vs, & the Sanctuarie, & the house, and the Altar rest vpon vs.

25 Moreover, let vs giue thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth vs euen as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things hee did to * Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and all that he did to * Jacob in Melopotamia of Syria when he kept the sheepe of Laban his mothers brother.

Gen. 12.

Gen. 27.

27 For he hath not tried vs as he did the to the examination of their hearts, neither doeth he take vengeance on vs, but the Lord punisheth for instruction them that come nere to him.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that is able to resist thy wordes.

29 For it is not to day that thy wisdom is knownen, but from the beginning of thy life all the people haue knownen thy wisdom: for the deuite of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were verie thirle, & compelled vs to do vnto them, as we haue spokē, and haue brought vs to an oth which we may not transgresse.

31 Therefore now we pray for vs, because thou art an holy woman, that the Lord may sende vs rayne to fill our cisternes, and that we may faim no more.

32 Then said Iudeth vnto them, heare me, and I will do a thing which shall be declared in all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with mine handmaides: and within the daies that ye haue promised to deliuer the cite to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But inquire not you of mine arte: for I will not declare it vnto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then

35 Then saide Ozias and the princes vnto her, See in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wardes.

CHAP. IX.

1 Twelue humbled her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people. 7 Against the pride of the Assyrians. 11 God is the helpe of the humble.

Then Iudeth fell vpon her face, and put ashes vpon her head, and put off the sackcloth wherewith shee was clothed. And about the time that incense of that euening was offered in Ierusalem in the house of the Lord, Iudeth cryed with a loud voyce, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father* Simeon, to whom thou gauest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers which opened the wombe of the mayde, and desired her, and discoloured the thigh with shame, and polluted the wombe to reproche (for thou haddest commanded that it should not so be,

3 Yet they did things for the which thou gauest their princes to slaughter, for they were deceived and washed their beds with blood, and hast stricken the seruants with the gouernours, and the gouernours vpon their thrones,

4 And hast giuen their wiues for a praye and their daughters to be captiues, and all their spoiles for a bootie to the children that thou loudest: which were moued with thy zeale, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called vpon thee for aide, O God, O my God, heare me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought things afore, and these, and the things that shalbe after, and thou considerest the things that are present, and the things that are to come.

6 For the things which thou doest purpose, are present, and say, Beholde, wee are here: for all thy wayes are ready, and thy iudgements are foreknownen.

7 Beholde, the Assyrians are multiplied by their powler: they haue exalted the selues with hoiles and horsemen: they glory in the strength of their footemen: they trust in shield, speare and bowe, & sling, and do not know that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8 Speake thou their strength by thy power, and breake their force by thy wrath: for they haue purposed to defile thy Sanctuary, and to pollute the Tabernacle where thy glorious Name resteth, & to cast downe with weapons the hornes of the Altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath vpon their heads: giue into mine hande which am a widow, the strength that I haue conceived.

10 * Smite by the deceit of my lippes the seruant with the prince, and the prince with the seruant: abate their height by the hande of a woman.

11 * For thy powder standeth not in the multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou, O Lord, art the helpe of the humble and little ones, the defender of the weak, and the protector of them that are forsaken, and the Saviour of them that are without hope.

12 Surely, surely [thou art] the God of my father, and the God of the inheritance of Israel, the Lord of heauen and earth, the creator of the waters, the King of all creatures: heare thou my prayer,

13 And graunt me wordes and craft, and a wound, and a stroke against them that enterpise cruell things against thy covenant, and against thine holy house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 Shewe evidently among all thy people, and all the tribes, that they may knowe that thou art O God of all power & strength, and that there is none other that defendeth the people of Israel, but thou.

CHAP. X.

1 Iudeth decketh her selfe and goeth forth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians and brought to Dolerens.

NAfter that shee had ceased to cry vnto the God of Israel, and had made an ende of all these wordes,

2 She rose where shee had fallen downe, and called her mayde, and went downe into the house, in the which shee abode in the Sabbath dayes and in the feast dayes,

3 And putting away the sackcloth wherewith shee was clad, and putting off the garments of her widowehode, she washed her body with water, & anoynted it with much ointment, and dressed the beare of her head, and put attire vpon it, and put on her garments of gladnes, wherewith shee was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

4 And shee put slippers on her feete, and put on bracelets, and decies, and rings, and earrings, and all her ornaments, and she decked her selfe brauely to allure the eyes of all men that shoulde see her.

5 Then shee gaue her mayde a bottell of wine, and a pot of oyle, & filled a trip with floure, and with drye figges, and with fine bread: so shee lapped by all these things together and layde them vpon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the cite of Bethulia, and founde standing there Ozias, and the Ancients of the cite, Chabris and Charnis.

7 And when they sawe her that her face was changed, and that her garment was changed, they marvelled greatly at her wonderfull beautie, and said vnto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers giue thee fauour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Ierusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said vnto them, Command the gates of the cite to be opened vnto me, that I may goe forth to accomplish the thinges which you haue spoke to me. So they commanded the yong men to open vnto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Iudeth went out, shee and her mayde with her, and the men of the cite looked after her, vntill shee was gone downe the mountaine, and till shee had passed the valley, and coulede see her no more.

11 Thus they went streyght forth in the valley, and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,

12 And tooke her, & asked her, Of what people art thou: and whence comest thou: and whither goest thou: And she sayde, I am a woman of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed.

13 And I come before Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of your armie, to declare him true thinges, and I will shewe before him the way whereby he shal goe and winne all the mountaines, without losing the bodie or life of any of his men.

14 Now when 7 men heard her wordes, and behelde her countenance, they wondred greatly at her beautie, and said vnto her,

15 Thou hast saued thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come downe to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of vs shall conduct thee vntill they haue deliuered thee into his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but shew vnto him according as thou hast to say, & hee will intreate thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, & prepared a charet for her and her mayde, and brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

18 Then there was a running to and fro, throughout 7 campe: for her conuining was bunted among the tents: and they came and stood rounde about her: for the stood with out the tent of Olofernes vntill they had declared vnto him concerning her.

19 And they marvelled at her beautie, and wondred at the children of Israel because of her, and euery one said vnto his neighbour, who woulde despise this people, that haue among them such women: surely it is not good that one man of them be left: for if they shoulde remayne, they might deceiue the whole earth.

20 The Olofernes garde went out, and all his seruantes, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Nowe Olofernes rested vpon his bed vnder a canopie, which was woven with purple and golde and emeraudes, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and hee came forth vnto the entrie of his tent, & they caried lampes of silver before him.

23 And when Iudeth was come before him and his seruantes, they all marvelled at the beautie of her countenance, and shee fell downe vpon her face, and did reuerence vnto him, and his seruantes tooke her vp.

CHAP. XI.

1 Olofernes comforteth Iudeth, 2 And asketh the cause of her coming, 3 Shee deceiueth him by her faire wordes.

hen saide Olofernes vnto her, woman, be of good comfort: feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt any that woulde serue Nabuchodonosor the King of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwel- leth in 7 mountaines, had not despised mee, I woulde not haue lifted vp my speare against them: but they haue procured these thinges to them selues.

3 But now tel me wherfore thou art fled from them, and art come vnto vs: for thou art come for safegarde: bee of good comfort, thou shalt liue from this night, & hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but intreate thee well, as they doe the seruants of King Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Iudeth saide vnto him, Receiue the wordes of thy seruant, and suffer thine handmaide to speake in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt followe the wordes of thine handmaide, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not faile of his purpose.

7 As Nabuchodonosor King of all the earth liueth, and as his powder is of force, who hath sent thee to reforme all persons, not onely men shall be made subiect to him by thee, but also the beasts of the fieldes, and the cattell, and the foules of the heauen shall live

live by thy powder vnder Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For wee haue heard of thy wisdom and of thy prudent spirit, and it is declared through the whole earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdom, and of a wonderful knowledge, and in feates of warre marvellous.

Chap. 5.

9 Now * as concerning the matter which Achior did speake in thy counsell, wee haue heard his wordes: for the men of Bethulia did take him, and he declared vnto them all that he had spoken vnto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and gouernour, respect not his word, but let it in thine heart, for it is true: for there is no punishment against our people, neither can the sword preuaile against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 Nowe therefore least my lord should be frustrate, and boyde of his purpose, and that death may fall vpon them, and that they may bee taken in their sinne whyles they prouoke their God to anger, [which is] of oft times as they do that which is not becoming.

12 (For because their vitayles fayle, and all their water is wasted, they haue determined to take their cattell, and haue purposed to consume all things that God had forbidden them to eate by his lawes:

13 Yea, they haue purposed to consume the first frutes of the wheate, and the tithes of the wine, and of the oyle which they had reserved and sanctified for the Priests that serue in Jerusalem before the face of our God: the which things it is not lawfull for any of the people to touche with their hands.

14 Moreover they haue sent to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there, haue done the like, such as shoulde bring them licence from the Senate)

15 Now when they shall bring the word, they will do it, and they shalbe giuen thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thine handmayde, knowing all this, am fledde from their presence, and GOD hath sent mee to worke a thing with thee, whereof all the earth shall wonder, and whosoener shall heare it.

17 For thy seruant feareth God, and worshippeth the God of heauen day and night, and now let me remaine with thee, my lord, and let thy seruant goe out in the night into the balley, and I will pray vnto God, that he may reuende vnto me when they shall come with their finnes,

18 And I will come and shewe it vnto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine armie, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will leade thee through the middes of Iudea, vntill thou come before Jerusalem, and I will let thy thorne in the middes thereof, and thou shalt drine them as sheepe that haue no shephearde, and a dogge shall not barke with his mouth against thee: for these things haue bene spoken vnto mee, and declared vnto mee according to my foreknowledge, and I am sent to shewe thee.

20 ¶ Then her wordes pleased Olofernes, and all his seruants, and they marueled at her wisdom, and sayde, 21 There is not such a woman in all the worlde, both for beautie of face, and wisdom of wordes.

22 Likewise Olofernes sayde vnto her, God hath done this, to sende thee before the people, that strength might bee in our handes, and destruction vpon them that despise my lord.

23 And now he thou art both beautifull in thy countenance, and wittie in thy wordes: surely if thou doe as thou hast spoken, thy God shall bee my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned throughout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 Iudith woulde not pollute her selfe with the meate of the Gentiles. 3 Shee maketh her request that shee myght goe out by nyght to praye. 11 Olofernes causeth her to come to the banquet.

When he commanded to bring her in where his treasures were layde, and bade that they shoulde prepare for her of his owne meates, and that shee shoulde drinke of his owne wine.

2 But Iudith saide, * I may not eate of them, least there shoulde bee an offence, but I can suffice my selfe with the things that I haue brought.

3 Then Olofernes sayd vnto her, If the things that thou hast, shoulde fayle, howe shoulde wee giue thee the like: for there is none with vs of thy nation.

4 Then sayde Iudith vnto him, As thy soule liueth, my lord, thine handmayde shall not spende those things that I haue, before the Lord worke by mine hande the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the seruantes of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and shee slept untill midnuyght, and rose at the morning Watch,

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord commande that thine handmaide may go forth vnto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his garde that they shoulde not staye her: thus she abode in the campe thre dayes, & went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in a fountaine, euen in the water by the campe.

8 And when she came out, she praied vnto the Lorde God of Israel, that he woulde direct her waye to the exaltation of the children of her people.

9 So she returned, and remayned pure in the tent, vntill shee ate her meate at evening.

10 ¶ And in the fourth daye, Olofernes made a feast to his olvne seruantes onely, and called none of them to the banquet, that had the affaires in hand.

11 Then saide he to Sagoas the eunuche who had charge ouer all that hee had, Goe and perswade this hebreish woman, which is with thee, that she come vnto vs and eate, and drinke with vs.

12 For it were a shame for vs, if wee shoulde let such a woman alone, & not talke with her, and if wee doe not allure her, shee will mocke vs.

13 Then went Sagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and sayde, Let not this fayre mayde make difficultie to goe in to my lord, and to bee honoured in his presence, and to drinke wine with vs ioyfully, and to bee entreated as one of the daughters of the children of Asur, which remayne in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then sayde Judeth vnto him, who art I now, that I should gainsay my lord: Surely whatsoeuer pleaseeth him, I will doe speedily, and it shall be my ioye vnto the day of my death.

15 So shee arose and trimmed her with garments, and with all the ornaments of women, and her mayde went, and spred forth her skinnies on the grounde ouer against Olofernes, which shee had receiued of Sagoas for her daily vse, that she might sit and eate vpon them.

16 Nowe when Judeth came and sate downe, Olofernes hart was rauished with her, and his spirite was moued, and he desired greatly her company: for he had waited for the time to deceiue her from the day that he had seene her.

17 Then sayde Olofernes vnto her,

Drinke now, and be mery with vs.

18 So Judeth sayde, I drinke now, my lord, because my state is exalted this daye more then euer it was since I was borne.

19 Then shee tooke, and ate and drank before him the thinges, that her mayde had prepared.

20 And Olofernes reioyced because of her, and drank much more wine then hee had drunken at any time in one day since hee was borne.

CHAP. XIII.

4 Judeth prayeth for strength. 8 Shee smiteth off Olofernes necke. 10 Shee returneth to Bethulia and reioycest her people.

NOWE when the evening was come, his seruantes made haste to depart, and Sagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed those that were present, from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beddes: for they were all wearie, because the feast had bene long.

2 And Judeth was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes was stretched along vpon his bed: for he was filled with wine.

3 ¶ Nowe Judeth had commanded her mayde to stande without her chamber, and to waite for her coming forth as shee did daily: for she said, she would goe forth to her prayers, and she spake to Sagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth of her presence, and none was left in the chamber, neither little nor great: then Judeth standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of al powre, beholde at this present the woorkes of mine hands for the exaltation of Ierusalem.

5 For nowe is the time to helpe thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against vs.

6 Then she came to the post of the bedde which was at Olofernes head, and tooke downe his fauchin from thence,

7 And approached to the bedde, and tooke holde of the heare of his head, and sayde, Strengthen mee, O Lorde God of Israel this day.

8 And shee smote twise vpon his necke with all her might, and shee tooke away his head from him.

9 And roled his bodie downe from the bed, and pulled downe the canopye from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gaue Olofernes head to her maide.

10 And she put it in her scrippe of meate: so they twayne went together according to their custome vnto prayer, and preassing through through the tents, went about by that valley, and went by the mountaine of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then saide Judeth a farre off to the watchmen at the gates, Open now the gate: God, euen our God is with vs to shew his powber yet in Jerusalem, and his force agaynst his enemies, as hee hath euen done this day.

12 Now when the men of her citie heard her voyce, they made haste to go downe to the gate of their citie, and they called the Elders of the citie.

13 And they ranne all together both small and great: for it was aboue their expectation, that shee shoulde come. So they opened the gate and receiued her, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them twaine.

14 Then she saide to them with a loude voyce, Praise God, prayse God: for he hath not taken away his mercie from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So shee tooke the head out of the scrip and shewed it, and saide vnto them, Behold the head of Olofernes, the chiefe captaine of the armie of Assur, and beholde the canopie, wherein he did lie in his drunkenesse, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liueth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceiued him to his destruction, and he hath not committed sinne with mee by any pollution or blame.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and sayd with one accord, Blessed bee thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to naught the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most hie God aboue all the women of the earth, and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heauens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chiefe of our enemies.

19 Surely this thine hope shall neuer depart out of the hearts of men: for they shall remember the powber of God for euer.

20 And God turne these things to thee for a perpetuall prayse, and visite thee with good things, because thou hast not spared thy life, because of the affliction of our nation, but thou hast holpen our ruine, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Judeth causeth to hang by the head of Olofernes. 10 Achior iopneth himselfe to the people of God. 11 The Israelites go out against the Assyrians.

Then saide Judeth vnto them, heare me also, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it vpon the hiest place of your walles.

2 And so soone as the morning shall appeare and the sunne shall come forth vpon the earth, take you euery one his weapons, and goe forth euerie ballant man out of the citie, and let you a captaine ouer them, as though you would go downe into the field, toward the watche of the Assyrians, but go not downe.

3 Then they shal take their armour, and shall goe into their campe, and rayse by the captaines of the armie of Assur, and they shall runne to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him: then feare shall fall vpon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So you & all that inhabite the coastes of Israel, shal pursue them, and ouerthrow them as they goe.

5 But before you doe these things, cal me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see, and knowe him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to vs as to death.

6 Then they called Achior out of his house of Ozias, and when he was come and sawe the head of Olofernes in a certaine mans hand in the assemblie of the people, hee fell downe on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had taken him by, hee fell at Judeths feete, and reuerenced her, & saide, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which, hearing thy name, shal be astonished.

8 Nowe therefore tell me all the things, that thou hast done in these dayes. Then Judeth declared vnto him in the muddes of the people all that shee had done from the day that shee went forth, vntill that houre she spake vnto them.

9 And when shee had left off speaking, the people reioyced with a great voyce, & made a noyse of gladnes through their citie.

10 And Achior, seeing al things that God had done for Israel, beleueed in God vnfeignedly, and circumcised the foreskinne of his flesh, and was ioyned vnto the house of Israel vnto this day.

11 As soone as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes out at the wall, and euery man tooke his weapons, & they went forth by bandes vnto the straites of the mountaine.

12 But when the Assyrians sawe them, B k k k. iii. they they sent to their captaines, which went to the gouernours and chiefe captaines, and to all their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent and said to him: I had the charge of all his things, waken our lord: for the slaues haue bene bolde to come doline against vs to battell, that they may be destroyed for euer.

14 Then went in Sagoas, and knocked at the doore of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Iudeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the chamber, and founde him cast vpon the floore, and his head was taken from him.

16 Therefore he cried with a loude voyce, with weeping and mourning, and a mighty crie, and rent his garments.

17 After, he went into the tent of Iudeth where the bled to remaine, & found her not: then he leaped out to the people and cryed,

18 These slaues haue committed wickednesse: one woman of the hebrewes hath brought shame vpon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for behold, Olofernes [lieth] vpon the ground without an head.

19 When the captaines of the Assyrians arme heard these wordes, they rent their coates, and their heart was wonderfully troubled, and there was a crie and a verie great noyse throughout the campe.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are afraied and flee. 3 The Israelites pursue them. 8 Joacim the hie Priest cometh to Bethulia to see Iudeth and to praye God for her.

A When they that were in the tents, heard, they were astonied at the thing that was done. 2 And feare and trembling fell vpon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour: but altogether amased, they fledde by euery way of the plaine and of the mountaines.

3 They also that had camped in the mountaines round about Bethulia, were put to flight: then the children of Israel, euery one that was a warrior among them, rushed out vpon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Bethomasthem, and to Sebai, and Chobai, and Chola, and to all the coastes of Israel, such as should declare vnto them the things that were done, and that all should rush forth vpon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell vpon them together vnto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem and from all the mountaines: for men had told them what things were done in the campe of their enemies, and they that were in Salaad and in Salite chased them with a great slaughter vntill they came to Damascus and to the coastes thereof.

6 And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell vpon the campe of Assur and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had the rest: and the villages and the cities that were in the mountaines and in the plaine, had a great bootie: for the abundance was very great.

8 Then Joacim the hie Priest, and the Ancients of the childre of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to confirme the benefits that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Iudeth, and to salute her.

9 And when they came vnto her, they blessed her with one accord, & said vnto her, Thou art the exaltatiō of Jerusalem: thou art the great glorie of Israel: thou art the great reioycing of our nation.

10 Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the almightie Lord for euer more: and all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the campe the space of thirtie dayes, and they gaue vnto Iudeth Olofernes tent, and all his siluer and beddes, and basins, and all his stuffe, and shee tooke it and layde it on her mules, and made ready her charrets, and laied them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel came together to see her, and blessed her, & made a daunce among them for her, and shee tooke branches in her hand, and gaue also to the women that were with her.

13 They also crowned her with olives, & her that was with her, and she went before the people in the daunce, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel folloved in their armour, with crownes, & with songs in their mouthes.

CHAP. XVI.

Iudeth prayeth God with a song. 19 She offereth to the Lord Olofernes stuffe. 23 Her continuance, life and death. 25 All Israel lamenteth her.

When Iudeth began this confessiō in all Israel, & all the people sang this song with a loude voyce.

2 And Iudeth saide, Begunne vnto my GOD with tymbrels: sing to my Lord w cymbals: tune vnto him a psalme: exalte his praise, and call vpon his Name.

3 For God breaketh the battels, and pitched his campe in the middes of the people, and deliuered me out of the hand of the persecuters.

Chap. 11, 15.

4 Asſur came fro the mountaines footth of the North: hee came with thouſandes in his armie, * whole multitude hath ſhut by the riuers and their horſemen haue couered the ballies.

5 He ſaid that he would burne by my borders and kill my yong men with the ſword, and dath the ſucking children againſt the ground, and make mine infants as a pray, and my virgins a ſpoyle.

6 But the almightie Lord hath brought them to naught by the hande of a woman.

7 For the mightie dyd not fall by the yong men, neyther dyd the ſonnes of Ethan ſmite him, nor the hie gigantes inuade him, but Iudeth the daughter of Merari dyd diſcomfite him by the beautie of her countenance.

8 For ſhe put off the garment of her widowehood, for the exaltation of thoſe that were oppreſſed in Iſrael, and anoynted her face with oynment, and bounde by her heare in a coiffe, and tooke a linnen garment to deceiue him.

9 Her ſlippers rauſhed his eyes: her beautie tooke his minde priſoner, and the ſcauchin paſſed through his necke.

10 The Perſians were aſtoniſhed at her boldneſſe, and the Medes were troubled with her hardineſſe.

11 But mine afflicted reioyced, and my feeble ones ſhoiued: then they feared, they liſted by their voyce and turned backe.

12 The children of maydes perced them, and wounded them as they fledde alwaye like children: they periſhed by the battell of the Lord.

13 I will ſing vnto the Lorde a ſong and prayle, O Lorde, thou art great and glorious, maruelous and innumerable in powder.

Gen. 1. 14. p. 139.

14 Let all thy creatures ſerue thee: * for thou haſt ſpoken and they were made: thou haſt ſent thy Spirit, and hee made them by: and there is none that can reſiſt thy voyce.

15 For the mountaines leape by from their foundations with the waters: the rockes melt at thy preſence like ware: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16 For all ſacrifice is too little for a ſweete ſanour, and all the fatte is too little for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord, is great at all times.

17 Woe to the nations that ryle by againſt my kinred: the Lorde almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of iudgement, in ſending fire and womes vpo their fleſh, and they ſhall ſeele them and weepe for euer.

18 After, when they went vnto Ieruſalem, they worſhipped the Lord, & aſſoone as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, & their free offerings, & their giſtes.

19 Iudeth alſo offered all the ſtuffe of Olofernes, which the people had giuen her, & gaue the canopie which he had take off his bed, for an oblation to the Lord.

20 So the people reioyced in Ieruſalem by the Sanctuarie, for the ſpace of three moneths, and Iudeth remained with them.

21 After this time, euery one returned to his owne inheritance, and Iudeth went to Bethulia, and remained in her owne poſſeſſion, and was for her time honourable in all the countrey.

22 And many deſired her, but none had her companie all the dayes of her life after that Hanaffes her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

[Or, her people.]

23 But ſhe increaſed more and more in honour, and wared olde in her husbands houſe, being an hundredth and ſixe yere olde, and made her mayde free: ſo ſhe died in Bethulia, and they buried her in the graue of her husband Hanaffes.

24 And the houſe of Iſrael lamented her ſeuē dayes, and before ſhe died, ſhe did diſtribute her goods to all them that were neereſt of kinred to Hanaffes her husband, and to them that were the neereſt of her kinred.

Gen. 50. 10

25 And there was none that made the children of Iſrael any more afraid in the dayes of Iudeth, nor a long time after her death.

Esther.

4 When Hardocheus sayde, GOD hath done these things.

5 For I remember a dreame, which I sawe concerning these matters, and there was nothing thereof omitted.

6 A litle fountaine which became a flood, and was a light, and as the sunne, and as much water, this flood was Esther whom the King married, and made Queene.

7 And the two dragons are I & Aman.

8 And the people are they that are assembled to destroy the name of the Jewes.

9 And my people is Israel, which cryed to God, and are saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered vs from all these evils, & God hath wrought signes, and great wonders, which haue not bene done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lots came before God for all nations, at the houre & time appointed, and in the day of iudgement.

12 So God remembred his owne people, and iustified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those dayes shall bee vnto them in the moneth Adar the fourteenth, and fiftieth day of the same moneth, with an assemble and ioy, and with gladnesse before God, according to the generations for ever among his people.

CHAP. XI.

In the fourth yeere of the reigne of Ptolomeus & Cleopatra Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Leuite, and Ptolomeus his sonne, that brought the former letters of Phylarai, which they said Hysmachus the sonne of Ptolomeus, which was at Jerusalem, interpreted,

2 In the second yeere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first day of the moneth Nisan, Hardocheus sonne of Iarus, the sonne of Semai, the sonne of Cis of the tribe of Benjamin had a dreame,

3 A Jew dwelling in the cite of Susis, a noble man, & bare office in the Kings court.

4 He was also one of the captiuitie which Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon brought from Jerusalem with Iechonias.

5 And this was his dreame, Beholde a noyle of a tempest with thunders, & earthquakes, & byvoare in the land.

6 Behold two great dragons came forth ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crye was great, whereby all the heathen were ready to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkness and obscuritie, & trouble, and anguish: yea, aduersitie, and great affliction was by on the earth.

9 For then the righteous fearing their afflictions, were amazed, and being ready to dye, cryed vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle well grewe into a great riuer, and flowed ouer with great waters.

11 The light and the sunne rose by, and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious.

12 Nowe when Hardocheus had seene this dreame, hee awoke & rose by & thought in his heart vntill the night, what God would doe, and so he desired to know all the matter.

CHAP. XII.

At the same time dwelt Hardocheus in the kinges court wth Bagathas, & Thara, the kinges eunuches & keepers of the palace.

2 But when hee heard their purpose, and their imaginations, hee perceived that they went about to lay their handes vpon the King Artaxerxes, and so hee certified the king thereof.

3 Then caused the king to examine the two eunuches with tormentes, and when they had confessed it, they were put to death.

4 This the King caused to be put in the Chronicles. Hardocheus also wrote the same thing.

5 So the King commanded that Hardocheus should remaine in the court, & for the aduertisement he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathus the Agagite, which was in great honour & reputation with the king, went about to hurt Hardocheus and his people, because of the two eunuches of the King that were put to death.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Jewes. 8 The prayer of Barchochus.

Joseph.
antiquit.
chap. 6.

The copie of the letters was this, The great king Artaxerxes writeth these thinges to the princes & governours that are vnder him from India vnto Ethiopia in an hundredth and seuen and thientie prouinces.

2 When I was made lord over many people, & had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, I would not exalt my selfe by the reason of my power, but purposed to equite all way and gentlenes to gouerne my subiects, and wholly to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely go thorowbe on euery side, and to reuelve peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Nowe when I asked my counsellers holbe these thinges might bee brought to passe, one that was conuerfant with vs, of excellent wisdom, & constant in good will, and shewed him selfe to bee of sure fidelitie, which had the second place in the kingdome, euen Aman,

4 Declared vnto vs, that in all nations there was scattered abroad a rebellious people, that had labes contrary to al people, and haue allway despised the commaundements of Kinges, and so that this generall empire, that wee haue begonne, can not be gouerned without offence.

5 Seeing nowe we perceiue, & this people alone are altogether contrary vnto euery man, bling strange and other maner of labes, & hauing an euill opinion of our doings, and goe about to stablish wicked matters, that our kingdome should not come to good estate,

6 Therefore haue we commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing vnto you by Aman (which is ordeined ouer the affaires, and is as our second father) that al with their wiues and children be destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies without all mercie, and that none bee spared the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this yere,

7 That they which of olde, and now also haue euer bin rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to p intent that after this time our affaires may bee without troubles, and well gouerned in all pointes.

8 Then Barchochus thought vpon all the workes and of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lorde, the King al-mightie (for al thinges are in thy power) and if thou hast appointed to saue Israel, there is no man that can withstande thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen & earth, & al the wonderous thinges vnder the heaue.

11 Thou art Lord of al thinges, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lorde.

12 Thou knowest all thinges, and thou knowest, Lorde, that it was neither of malice, nor presumption, nor for any desire of glorie, that I did this, and not bold downe to proude Aman.

13 For I would haue bene content with good will for the saluation of Israel, to haue kist the sole of his feete.

14 But I did it, because I would not preferre the honour of a man aboue the glorie of God, and would not worship any but onely thee, my Lorde, and this haue I not done of pride.

15 And therefore, O Lord God & King, haue mercie vpon thy people: for they imagine how they may bring vs to naught, yea, they would destroy the inheritance, & hath bene thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portion, which thou hast deliuered out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be merciful vnto thy portion: turne our sorowbe into ioy, that wee may liue, O Lord, and praye thy Name: shut not the mouthes of them that praise thee.

18 All Israel in like maner cryed most earnestly vnto the Lord, because that death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her, and her people.

Esther also, being in danger of death, resorted vnto the Lord,

2 And laid alway her glorioz apparell, & put on the garments of sighing, and mourning. In pstead of precious ointment, she scattered ashes, and dongue vpon her head: and she humbled her body greatly with fasting, and all the places of her ioy filled she with the heare that she pluckt off.

3 And she prayed vnto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou onely art our King: helpe me desolate womā, which haue no helper but thee.

4 For my danger is at hand.

5 From my youth by I haue heard in pkindred of my father, that thou, O Lorde, tookest Israel from among al people, & our fathers from their predecessours for a perpetual inheritance, & thou hast performed that that which thou diddest promise them.

6 Nolue Lorde, wee haue sinned before thee: therefore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because wee worshipped their gods: Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Neuerthelesse, it satisfieth them not, & wee are in bitter captiuitie, but they haue stricken hands with their idoles,

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined, and destroy thine inheritance, to shut vp thy mouth of them that praise thee, and to quench the glory of thy Temple, and of thine altar,

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they may praye the powder of the idoles, and to magnifie a fleshly King for euer.

11 Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto the that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our misery: but turne their deuice vpon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begonne the same against vs.

12 Thinke vpon vs, Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and strengthen mee, O King of gods, and Lorde of all power.

13 Give mee an eloquent speech in my mouth before the Lyon: turne his heart to hate our enemy, to destroy him, & all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thine hand, and helpe mee that am solitarie, which haue no defence but onely thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lorde: thou knowest, that I hate the glory of the vniuersal, & that I abhorre the bed of vniuersal, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie: for I hate this token of my preeminence, which I beare vpon mine head, what time as I must shewe my selfe, and that I abhorre it as a menstruous cloth, and that I weare it not when I am alone by my selfe,

17 And that I thine handmaid haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure in the kinges feast, nor drunke & wine of the drinke offerings,

18 And that I thine handmaid haue no toy since & day that I was brought hither, vntill this day, but in thee, O Lorde God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare & voyce of them, that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the bande of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

Mardocheus also bad Esther to go in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her country.

2 Remember, saith he, & daies of thy low estate, how thou wast nourished vnder mine hand: for Aman which is next vnto the King, hath giuen sentence of death against vs.

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the King, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day when she had ended her prayer, she layd away the mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel,

5 And deckt her selfe goodly, after that she had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauour of all things, and tooke two handmaidens with her.

6 Upon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender.

7 And the other followed her, and bare the frame of her desire.

8 The shine of her beaultie made her face rose coloured: and her face was chearefull and amiable, but her heart was sorrowfull for great feare.

9 Then she went in thorow all & doores, and stood before the King, & the King late vpon his royall throne, and was clothed in his goodlie arraye, all glittering with golde and precious stones, and hee was very terrible.

10 Then he lift vp his face, that shone wth Maiestie, & looked fierelie vpon her: therefore the Queene fell downe, and was pale and faint and leaned her selfe vpon the head of the maide, that went with her.

11 Neuerthelesse, God turned the kings minde that he was gentle, who being carefull, leaped out of his throne, and tooke her in his armes, till she came to her self againe: and comforted her with louing words, and said,

12 Esther, what is the matter: I am thy brother, be of good cheere, 13 Thou shalt not die: for our commandment toucheth the commons, & not thee. Come neere.

14 And so he held by his golden scepter, and layd it vpon her necke, 15 And kissed her, and saide, Talke with mee.

16 Then said she, I saue thee, O lord, as an Angel of God, & mine heart was troubled for feare of thy Maiestie.

17 For wonderfull art thou, O lord, and thy face is full of grace.

18 And as she was thus speaking vnto him,

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoluerh those which be first sent forth.

Isaiah.
Antiq. 11.
chap. 6.

The great King Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred & seuen and twentie provinces, sendeth vnto the princes & rulers, I haue the charge of our affayres, salutatio.

2 There be many that through goodnesse of princes & honour giuen vnto them, become verie proude,

3 And indouour not onely to hurt our subiects, but not content to liue in wealth, do also imagine destruction against those that doe them good,

4 And take not onely all thankfulnessse away from men, but in pride and presumption, as they that bee vniuersall of benefites, they thinke to escape the vengeance of God, that seeth all thinges, and is contrary to euill.

5 And oft times many, which bee set in office, and vnto whom their friends causes are committed, by badne entisements do wrap them in calamities, that can not be remedied: for they make them partakers of innocent blood,

6 And deceitfully abuse the simplicitie, & gentlenesse of princes with lying tales,

7 This may be proued not onely by olde histories, but also by those thinges that are before our eyes, and are wickedly committed of such perversities as are not worthy to beare rule.

8 Therefore we must take heede hereafter, that we may make the kingdome peaceable for all men, what change so euer shall come,

9 And discern the thinges that are before our eyes, to withstand the which gentlenesse.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the sonne of Amadathus, being in deede a stranger from the Persians blood, & farre from our goodnes, was receiued of vs, 11 And hath proued the friendship that we beare toward all nations, so that he was called our father, and was honoured of euery man, as the next person vnto the king.

12 But he could not ble him selfe soberly in this great dignitie, but went about to depriue vs of the kingdome, and of our life.

13 With manifolde deceit also hath hee desired to destroy Dardorheus our preferrier, which hath done vs good in all thinges, & innocent & ther the partaker of our kingdome, with all her nation.

14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way) to lay waite for vs, & by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that the Iewes (which were accused of this most wicked man that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but ble most iust Lawes,

16 And that they be children of the most high and almightie and euermouing God, by whome the kingdome hath bene preserved vnto vs and our progenitours in very good order.

17 Wherefore ye shall do wel, if ye do not put in execution those letters, that Aman sonne of Amadathus did write vnto you.

18 For he that inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the gates with all his familie, and God (which hath all thinges in his power) hath speedily rewarded him after his deservings.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copie of this letter in all places, that the Iewes may freely liue after their owne Lawes.

20 And ye shall ayde them, that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For almightie God hath turned to ioy the day, wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Moreover, among other solenne days ye shall keepe this day with all gladnes,

23 That both now and in time to come this day may be a remembrance of deliuerance for vs and all such as lone the prosperitie of the Persians, but a remembrance of destruction to those that bee seditious vnto vs.

24 Therefore all cities and countries that do not this, shall horribly be destroyed with sword & fire, and that not onely not inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of wilde beasts and foules for ever.

6 For the Spirit of Wiſedome * is lo- uing, and wil not abſolute him, that blaſphemeth with his lippes: for God is a witneſſe of his reimes, & a true beſpolder of his heart, and an hearer of the tongue.

7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth all the worlde: and the ſame that maintaineth all thinges, hath knowledge of the voyce.

8 Therefore hee that ſpeaketh vnbrighteous thinges, can not be hid: neither ſhall the iudgement of reproofe let him eſcape.

9 For inquisition ſhall bee made for the thoughtes of the vngodly, and the ſounde of his wordes ſhall come vnto God for the correction of his iniquities.

10 For the care of ielouſie heareth all thinges, and the noyſe of the grudgings ſhall not be hid.

11 Therefore beſware of murmuring, which proſiteth nothing, and reſtaine your tongue from ſlander: for there is no worde ſo ſecret, that ſhall go for nought, and the mouth that ſpeaketh lies, ſlayeth the ſoule.

8 Let vs credite our ſelues with roſe budde afore they bee withered.

9 Let vs all be partakers of our wantonnes: let vs leane ſome token of our pleaſure in euery place: for that is our portion, & this is our lotte.

10 Let vs oppreſſe the poore, that is righteous: let vs not ſpare the widow, nor reuerence the white heares of the aged, that haue liued many yeres.

11 Let our ſtrength bee the Laide of vnbrighte:

righteousnes: for the thing that is feeble, is reprobous as vnprofitable.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous: for he is not for our profit, and he is contrarie to our doings: he cheeth vs for offending against the Lawe, and blameth vs as transgressours of discipline.

13 He maketh his doost to haue the knowledge of God: and hee calleth himselfe the soune of the Lord.

14 He is made to reprove our thoughts.

15 It grieueth vs also to looke vpon him: for his life is not like other mens: his wayes are of another facion.

16 He counteth vs as bastards, and hee withholueth himselfe from our wayes as from filthines: he commendeth greatly the latter end of the iust, and boasteth that God is his Father.

17 Let vs see then if his wordes be true: let vs proue what end he shall haue.

18 For if the righteous man be the sonne of God, he will helpe him, and deliuer him from the hands of his enemies.

19 Let vs examine him with rebukes & torments, that we may know his meeknes, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him vnto a shameful death: for he shalbe preferred as he himselfe sayth.

21 Such things do they imagine, and go astray: for their owne wickednesse hath blinded them.

22 And they doe not vnderstand the mysteries of God, neither hope for the rewarde of righteousness, nor can discern the honour of the soules that are faultlesse.

23 For God created man without corruption, and made him after the image of his owne likenesse.

24 Neuertheless, thow he enuie of the deuill came death into the world: and they that hold of his side, proue it.

3 And their departing from vs, destruction, but they are in peace.

4 And though they suffer paine before men, yet is their hope full of immortalitie.

5 They are punished but in feble things, yet in many things shal they be well rewarded: for God proueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe.

6 Hee trieth them as the golde in the fornace, and receyueth them as a perfect fruite offering.

7 And in the time of their vision they shall shine, and runne thorow as the sparks among the stubble.

8 They shal iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and their Lorde shal reigne for euer.

9 They that trust in him, shal vnderstand the trueth, and the faythfull shal remaine with him in loue: for grace and mercie is among his Saintes, and hee regardeth his elect.

10 But the vngodly shal be punished according to their imaginations: for they haue despised the righteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

11 Who so despiseth wisdom and discipline, is miserable, and their hope is vaine, and their labours are foolish, & their works vnprofitable.

12 Their wines are vndiscrete, and their children wicked: their offering is cursed.

13 Therefore the barren is blessed which is vndeified, and knoweth not the sinfull bed: she shall haue fruite in the visitation of the soules.

14 And hee eunuche, which with his hands hath not wrought iniquitie, nor imagined wicked things agaynst God: for vnto him shalbe giuen the speciall gift of faith, & an acceptable portion in the Temple of the Lord.

15 For glorious is the fruite of good labours, and the roote of wisdom shall neuer fade away.

16 But the children of adulterers shal not be partakers of the holy things, & the seede of the wicked bed shalbe rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shall they be nothing regarded, and their last age shalbe without honour.

18 If they die hastily, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.

broade with the storme, and as the smoke, which is disperfed with the winde, and as the remembrance of him paffeth, that tarieth but for a day.

15 But the righteous shall live for ever: their reward also is with the Lord, and the most high hath care of them.

16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hande shall he couer them, and with his arme shall hee defend them.

17 Hee shall take his ielouſie for armour, and shall arme the creatures to be reuenged of the enemies.

18 Hee shall put on righteouſnes for a breastplate, and take true iudgement in ſtead of an helmet.

19 Hee will take holineſſe for an invincible ſhield.

20 Hee will ſharpen his fierce wrath for a ſwoorde, and the world ſhall fight with him againſt the world.

21 Then ſhall the thunder boltes goe ſtraight out of the lightnings, and ſhall ſce to the marke as out of the bent bowe of the cloudes, and out of his anger that thoweth ſtones, ſhall ſtycke haile be caſt, and the water of the ſea ſhall be wrath againſt them, and the floods ſhall mightily overflowe.

22 And a mightie winde ſhall ſtand by againſt them, and like a ſtorme ſhall ſcatter them abroad. Thus iniquitie ſhall bring all the earth to a wilderness, & wickednes ſhall overthrow the thrones of the mightie.

CHAP. VI.

The calling of Kings, princes and iudges, which are alſo exhorted to ſearch wiſdome.

Take therefore, O yee Kings, and underſtand: learne, ye that bee iudges of the endes of the earth.

2 Give care, ye that rule the multitudes and glorie in the multitude of people.

Rom. 13.

3 For the rule is given you of the Lord, and power by the moſt high, which will trie your workes, and ſearch out your imaginations.

4 Becauſe that yee being officers of his kingdome haue not iudged aright, nor kept the Lawe, nor walked after the will of God,

5 Horribly and ſuddenly will he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement ſhall they haue that beare rule.

6 For hee that is moſt lowe, is worſtie merite, but the mightie ſhall bee mightily tormented.

7 For he that is Lord over all, will ſpare no perſon, neither ſhall he feare any great neſſe: for he hath made the ſmall and great, and careth for all alike.

8 But for the mightie abideth the ſort tryall.

9 Vnto you therefore, O tyrants, doe I ſpeake, that ye may learne wiſedome, and not go amiſſe.

10 For they that keepe holineſſe holy, ſhall be holy, and they that are learned there, ſhall find a defence.

11 Wherefore ſet your deſire vpon my wordes and deſire them, and ye ſhall bee inſtructed.

12 Wiſdome ſhineth and neuer fadeeth away, and is eaſily ſcene of them that loue her, and found of ſuch as ſeek her.

13 Shee preuenteth them that deſire her, that ſhe may firſt ſhew her ſelfe vnto them.

14 Who ſo awaketh vnto her betimes, ſhall haue no great trouble: for he ſhall find her ſitting at his doores.

15 To thinke vpon her then is perfit vnderſtanding: and who ſo watcheth for her, ſhall be ſoone without care.

16 For ſhee goeth about, ſeeking ſuch as are meeke for her, and ſheleth her ſelfe cheerefully vnto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in every thought.

17 For the moſt true deſire of diſcipline is her beginning: and the care of diſcipline is loue:

18 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of the lawes is the aſſurance of immortallitie:

19 And immortallitie maketh vs nere vnto God.

20 Therefore the deſire of wiſdome leadeth to the kingdome.

21 If your deſire be then in thrones, and ſcepters, O Kings of the people, honour wiſdome, that ye may reigne for ever.

22 Now I will tell you what wiſdome is, and whence it cometh, and will not hide the myſteries from you, but will ſeek her out from the beginning of her naturallitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the truth.

23 Neither will I haue to doe with conſuming enue: for ſuch a man ſhall not bee partaker of wiſedome.

24 But the multitude of the wiſe is the preſervation of the world, and a wiſe king is the ſtay of the people.

25 Be therefore inſtructed by my wordes, and ye ſhall haue profite.

2 And in my mothers wombe was I fashioned to bee flesh in ten moneths: I was brought together into blood of the seede of man, and by the pleasure that cometh with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receyved the common aire, and fell vpon the earth, which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other do.

4 I was nourished in swadling clothes, and with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

Job. 1. 1.

6 All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and a like going out.

7 Wherefore I prayed, & vnderstanding was giuen me: I called, and the Spirit of Wisdome came vnto me.

8 I preferred her to scepters and thrones, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.

Job. 28. 15.

9 Neither did I compare precious stones vnto her: for all gold is but a little grauell in respect of her, and silver shalbe counted but clay before her.

10 I loued her about health and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.

1 King. 3.

11 All good things therefore came to me together with her, and innumerable riches shew her hands.

12 So I was glad in all: for Wisdome was the author thereof, and I knewe not that she was the mother of these things.

13 And I learned vnsainedly, and communicated without enuie, and I do not hide her riches.

14 For shee is an infinite treasure vnto men, which who so vse, become partakers of the loue of God, and are accepted for the gifts of knowledge.

15 God hath granted me to speake according to my minde, & to iudge worthily of the things that are giue me: for he is the leader vnto Wisdome, and the director of the wise.

16 For in his hand are both wee and our voyces, and all Wisdome, and the knowledge of the workes.

17 For he hath giuen me the true knowledge of the things that are, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elements.

18 The beginning and the ende, and the middes of the times: holde the times after, and the change of the seasons,

19 The course of the yeere, the situation of the starres,

20 The nature of liuing things, & the fierceness of beasts, the power of the winds, and the imaginations of me, the diuersities of plants, and the vertues of roots.

21 And al things both secret and knowen do I know: for Wisdome the worker of all things, hath taught me it.

22 For in her is the spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, the onely begotten, manifold, subtil, moueable, cleare, vndeiled, euident, not hurtful, louing the good, sharpe, which cannot be letted, doing good.

23 Courteous, stable, sure, without tare, hauing all power, circumspect in all things, and passing through all intellectuall, pure and subtil spirits.

24 For Wisdome is nimbler then al nimble things: she goeth throught and atteneth to all things, because of her purities.

25 For shee is the breath of the power of God, & a pure influence that floweth from the throne of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing come vnto her.

26 For shee is the brightnesse of the everlasting light, the vncreated mirror of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And being one, shee can doe all things, and remayning in her selfe, renueth all, and according to the ages shee entereth into the holy soules, and maketh them the friends of God and Prophets.

28 For God loueth none, if he dwell not with Wisdome.

29 For shee is more beautiful then the sunne, and is aboue all the order of the starres, and the light is not to be compared vnto her.

30 For night cometh vpon it, but wickednesse cannot ouercome Wisdome.

CHAP. VIII. The effects of wisdome.

he also reacheth from one ende to another mightily, and comely doeth the order all things.

2 I haue loued her, and sought her from my youth: I desired to marry her, such lone had I vnto her beautie.

3 In that shee is conuerlant with God, it commendeth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things loueth her.

4 For shee is the schoolemistres of the knowledge of God, and the schoole out of his workes.

5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life, what is richer then Wisdome, that worketh all things:

6 For if prouidentie worketh, what is it among among all things, & worketh better then she:

7 If a man loue righteousness, her labours are vertuous: for she teacheth sobernes, and prudence, righteousness and strength, which are the most profitable things that men can haue in this life.

8 If a man desire great experience, thee can tell the things that are past, & discern the things to come: she knoweth the subtilties of words, and the solutions of darke sentences: she foreseeeth the signes and wonders, or euer they come to passe, and the successe of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her vnto my companie, knowing that she would counsell me good things, and comfort me in cares and griefes.

10 For her sake shal I haue glory among the multitude, and honour among the Elders though I be yong.

11 I shall be found of sharpe iudgement, so that I shall be maruillous in the sight of great men.

12 When I hold my tongue, they shall abide my leasure: when I speake, they shall heare diligently, and if I talke much, they shall lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 Whereouer, by her I shall obtaine immortallitie, and leaue an euermolting memoriall among them that come after me.

14 I shal gouerne the people, and the nations shall be subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraied when they heare me: among the multitude I shal be counted good, and mightie in battell.

16 When I come home, I shall rest with her: for her companie hath no bitterness, and her felowship hath no tediousnes, but mirth and toy.

17 Now when I considered these things by my selfe, & pondered them in mine heart, how that to be toynd vnto wisdom is immortallitie,

18 And great pleasure is in her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that in the exercise of talking with her is prudence, and glorie by counting with her, I went about, seeking how I might take her vnto me.

19 For I was a wittie childe, and was of a good spirit.

20 Yea, rather being good, I came to an vndeified bodie.

21 Nevertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy her, except God gaue her (& that was a point of wisdom also, to know whose gift it was) I went vnto the Lorde, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

A paper of Salomon to obtaine wisdom.

God of Fathers, and Lorde of mercie, which hast made all things with thy word,

2 And ordeined man through thy wisdom, that he shoulde haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made.

3 And gouerne the world according to quietie and righteousness, and execute iudgement with an vpright heart:

4 Giue mee that wisdom, which sitteth by thy throne, and put me not out from among thy children.

5 For I thy seruant, and sonne of thine handmaide, am a feeble person, & of a short time, and yet lesse in the vnderstanding of iudgement and the lawes.

6 And though a man bee neuer so perse among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, hee shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king of thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to builde a temple vpon thine holy Mount, & an altar in the citie, wherein thou dwellest, a likeness of thine holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning,

9 And thy wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was when thou madest the worlde, and which knoweth what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

10 Send her from thy throne of thy maiestie that she may be with me, & labour, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, and she shall leade mee soberly in my workes, and preferre me by her glorie.

12 So shall my workes be acceptable, & then shall I gouerne thy people righteously, and be merite for my fathers throne.

13 For what man is hee that can knowe the counsell of God: or who can thinke what the will of God is:

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are fearefull, and our forecastes are vncertaine,

15 Because a corruptible bodie is heaue vnto the soule, & the earthly mansion kepeth downe the minde that is full of cares.

16 And hardly can we discern the things that are vpon earth, and with great labour find we out the things which are before vs: who can then seeke out the things that are in heauen:

17 Who can know thy counsel, except thou give him wisdom, and sende thine holy Spirit from above?

18 For so the wayes of them which are vpon earth, are reformed, & men are taught the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and are preferred through wisdom.

ioyned in their malicious confederacies, the knew the righteous, & preferred him fault-lesse vnto God, and kept him sure, because he loued him tenderly as a sonne.

6 She preferred the righteous, * when the vngodly perished, while he fled from the fire that fell downe vpon the five cities.

8 For all such as regarded not wisdom, had not onely this hurt, that they knew not things which were good, but also left be-hinde them vnto men a memorie of their foolishnesse, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they cannot lie hid.

9 But wisdom deliuered them, that served her.

Gen. 28.9. 10 * When the righteous fledde because of his brothers wrath, shee led him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, him rich in his labors, and made his paines profitable.

11 Against the couetousnesse of such as defrauded him, shee stoode by him and made him rich.

12 Shee saued him from the enemies, and defended him from them, that lay in wayt, & shee gaue him the victorie in a mightie battell, that he might knowe that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

14 And failed him not in the bandes, till shee had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him, & them that had accused him, he declared to be liars, and gaue him per-

15 * She deliuered the righteous people Exod. 1.20.
and faultlesse seede from the nations that op- & 13. 4.

16 Shee entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stoode * by him in wonders Exod. 5. 2.
and signes against the terrible kings.

17 Shee gaue the Saintes the rewarde of their labours, and led them forth a mar-uellous way: on the day time shee was a shadowe vnto them, and a light of starres in the night.

20 So the righteous tooke the spoiles of the vngodly, * and praised thine holy Name, O Lord, & magnified thy victorious hande with one accord.

With mercie, they knewe howe the vngodlie were iudged and punished in wrath.

9 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued the: but thou hast condemned the other as a righteous King, when thou diddest examine them.

10 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike: for their griefe was double with mourning, and the remembrance of things past.

11 For whē they perceived that through their torments good came vnto them, they felt the Lord.

12 And seeing the thinges that came to passe, at last they wondered at him, whom afore they had cast out, demed and deuided: for they had another thirst then the iust.

13 Because of the foolish deuices of their wickednes wherewith they were deceiued, and wohipped *serpents, that had not the vse of reason, and vile beasts, thou sendidst a multitude of vnrasonable beasts vpon the for a vengeance, that they might know, that wherewith a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

14 For vnto thine almightie hande, that made the worlde of naught, it was not possible to sende among them a multitude of *beares, or fierre Lyons, 15 Or furious beasts newly created, and knowle, which shoud breathe out blastes of fyre, and cast out smoke as a tempest, or shoote horrible sparkes like lightnings out of their eyes.

16 Which might not onely destroy them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

17 Yea, without these might they haue bene cast downe with one winde, being persecuted by thy vengeance, and scattered abroad through the poluer of thy Spirit: but thou hast ordered all thinges in measure, number and weight.

18 For thou hast euer had great strength and myght, and who can withstand the power of thine arme!

19 For as the final thing that the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee, and as a droppe of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth.

20 But thou hast merrey vpon al: for thou hast poluer of all thinges, and makest as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amende.

21 For thou lovest all the thinges that are, and hatest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou wouldest haue created nothing that thou haddest hated.

22 And howe might any thing endure, if it were not thy will: or howe could any thing be preferred, except it were called of thee?

23 But thou sparest al: for they are thine, O Lord, which art the louer of soules.

The mercie of God toward sinners, 14 The wrath of God are vnrerouable, 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

Eternall incorruptible spirit is in all thinges.

2 Therefore thou chastenest the meaurably that go wrong, & warnest them by putting them in remembrance of the thinges wherem they haue offended, that leauing wickednes, they may beleue in thee, O Lord.

3 As for those old inhabitants of the holy land, thou diddest hate them.

4 For they committed abominable works, as sorceries and wicked sacrifices,

5 And slaying of their owne childre with out mercie, & eating of the bowels of mans flesh in banquetting, where raging puerles shed abominable blood.

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules, destitute of all helpe, whom thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers,

7 That the lande which thou louest aboute al other, might be a meet dwelling for the children of God.

8 *Neuertheless, thou sparedst them al so, as men, and sendest the forerunners of thine host, euen hornets to destroy them by litle and litle.

9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battel, or with cruel beastes, or with one rough word to destroy them together.

10 But in punishing them by litle & litle, thou gauest them space to repent, knowing well, that it was an vnrighteous nation & wicked of nature, and that their thought could neuer be altered.

11 For it was a curled seede from the beginning: yet hast thou not spared them whē they sinned, because thou fearedst any man.

12 For who dare say, *what hast thou done: or who dare stande against thy iudgement: or who dare accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made: or who dare stand against thee to reuenge the wicked men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, *that carest for all thinges, that thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vnright.

17 When men thinke thee not to bee of a perfitte powler, thou declarest thy powler, and reproveest the boldnes of the wise.

18 But thou ruling the powler, iudgeth with equitie, and governeest vs with great fauour: for thou makest shewe thy powler when thou wilt.

19 By such works now hast thou taught thy people, that a man shoulde bee iust and louing, and hast made thy children to bee of a good hope: for thou giuest repentance to sinners.

20 For if thou hast punished the enemies of thy childre that had deserved death with too great consideration, and requesting vnto them, giuing the time and place that they might change from their wickednesse.

21 With holbe great circumspection wilt thou punish thine owne childre, vnto whose fathers thou hast sborne and made covenants of good promises:

22 So when thou dost chasten vs, thou punishest our enemies a thousande times more, to the intent that when we iudge, we should diligently consider thy goodnes, and when wee are iudged, we shoulde hope for merite.

26 But they that wil not be reformed by those scornfull rebukes, shall feele the woorthy punishment of God.

5 For by the greatnes of their beautie, & of the creatures, the Creator being compared with them, may be considered.

6 But yet the blame is lesse in these, that seeke God and would find him, and yet peradventure do erre.

16 Proudning so for it, lest it fall: for hee knoweth that it can not helpe it self, because it is an image, which hath neede of helpe.

17 Then he prayeth for his goods, & for his marriage and for childre: he is not ashamed to speake vnto it, that hath no life.

18 Hee calleth on him that is weake for health: he prayeth vnto him that is dead for life: he requieth him of helpe that hath no experience at all.

19 And for his iourney, him that is not able to goe, and for gaue, and worke, and successe of his affaires he requieth furtheraunce of him, that hath no maner of powler.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The detraction and abomination of images, 8 A curse of them, and of him that maketh them. 14 Wherof idolatrie proceeded.

23 What evils come of idolatrie.

A Gaine, another man purposing to saile, and intending to passe thorow the raging waues, calleth vpon a stocke more rotten then the shippe that carrieth him.

Idol. xij.

2 For as for || it, couetousnes of money hath found it out, and the craftesman made it by cunning.

Exod. 4. 22.

3 But thy prouidence, O Father, gouerneth it: for thou hast made a way, euen in the sea, and a sure path among the waues.

4 Declaring thereby, y thou hast powler to helpe in all things, yea, though a man went to the sea without means.

5 Neuertheless thou wouldest not, that the workes of thy wisdom should be vaine, and therefore do men commit their liues to a final piece of wood, and passe over the stormie sea in a shippe, and are saued.

Gen. 6. 4. 22. 10.

6 For in the olde time also when the proude giants perished, y hope of the world went into a shippe which was gouerned by thine hand & so left seede of generation vnto the worlde.

7 For blessed is the tree whereby righteousness cometh.

Ps. 115. 8. baruc. 63.

8 But that is cursed that is made with handes, both it, and he that made it: he because hee made it, and it being a corruptible thing, because it was called god.

Ps. 115. 8.

9 For the vngodly, & his vngodlinesse are both like hated of God: so truly the worke and he that made it, shalbe punished together.

10 Therefore shall there bee a visitation for the idoles of the nations: for of the creatures of God they are become abominatio, & stumbling blocks vnto the soules of me, and a snare for the feete of the vniuers.

Ierem. 10. 8. habac. 18.

11 For the inuenting of idoles was the beginning of whozedom, and the finding of them is the corruption of life.

12 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

13 The vaine glorie of me brought them into the worlde: therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

14 When a father mourned grievously for his sonne that was taken away suddenly, he made an image for him that was once dead, whome now hee worshipping as a god, and ordeined to his seruantes ceremonies and sacrifices.

15 Thus by proces of time this wicked custome preuailed, and was kept as a lawe, and idoles were worshipped by the commandement of tyrants.

16 As for those that were so farre off y me might not worship them presently, they did counterfet the visage that was farre off, and made a gorgeous image of a king, who they would honour, that they might by all meanes flatter him y was absent, as though he had bene present.

17 Againe the ambition of the craftesman thrust forward the ignorant to increase the superstition.

18 For he peradventure willing to please a noble man, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

19 And so through y beautie of the worke the multitude was allured, & so tooke him now for a god, which a litle afore was but honoured as a man.

20 And this was the deceiuing of mans life, when men, being in seruitude, through calamitie and tyrannie ascribed vnto stones and stockes the name, which ought not to be communicate vnto any.

21 Moreover, this was not ynough for them that they erred in the knowledge of God: but where as they liued in great warres of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

22 For either they slew their own children in sacrifice, or bled secret ceremonies, or raging dissolutenes by strange rites.

Deut. 18. 10. Ierem. 29. 25. 19. 4.

23 And so kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but either one slew another by treason, or els bered him by adulterie.

24 So were all mirt together, blood, & slaughter, theft and deceit, corruption, vnfaythfulness, tumultes, periuerie,

25 Disquieting of good men, vnthankfulness, defiling of soules, chaging of birth, disorder in marriage, adulterie & vncleannes.

26 For the worshipping of idoles y ought not to be named, is the beginning and the cause and the end of all euill.

27 For either they be mad when they be mery, or prophetic lyes, or lye vngodly, or els els lightly forswear them selues.

28 For in so much as their trust is in the idoles, which haue no life, though they sweare falsly, yet they thinke to haue no hurt.

29 Therefore for two causes shall they iustly be punished, because they haue an euil opinion of God, adding them selues vnto idoles, and because they sweare vniuistly to deceiue, and despite holmes.

30 For it is not y powder of them by who they sweare, but the vengeance of them that sinne, which punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly.

CHAP. XV.

The vantage of the faithful, paying the merite of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

Blessed thou, O our God, art gracious and true, long suffering, and gouernest all things by mercie.

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine: for we know thy power: but we sinne not, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee, is perfit righteoulnes, and to knowe thy power is the roote of immortallitie.

4 For neither hath the wicked inuention of men decciued vs, nor the vnprofitable labour of the painters, nor an image spotted with diuers colours.

5 Whose sight durreth by the desire of the ignorant: so that he courteth the forme that hath no life, of a dead image.

6 They that loue such wicked things, are worthy to haue such things to trust to, and they that make them, and they that desire them, and they that worship them.

Rom. 9. 21.

7 The potter also tempereth soft earth, and facioneth euery vessell with labour to our vse: but of the same clay he maketh both the vessels, that serue to cleane vles, and the contrarie like wise: but whereto euery vessel serueth, the potter is the iudge.

Lut. 11. 10.

8 So by his wicked labour he maketh a baine god of the same clay: euen he, which a litle afore was made of earth himselfe, and within a litle while after goeth thither againe whence he was taken. When he shall make account for the lone of his life.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not for the labour hee taketh, nor that his life is short, but hee strueth with the goldsmithes, and siluer smithes, and counterfeitereth the copper smithes, & taketh it for an honour to make decciuable things.

10 His heart is ashes, & his hope is more vile then earth, and his life is lesse worthy of honour then clay.

11 For he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule, that had powder & breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they count our life to be but a pastetime, and our conuersation as a market, where there is game: for they say we ought to be getting on euery side, though it bee by euill meanes.

13 Powbe he that of earth maketh fragile vessels and images, knoweth him selfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people, that holde them in subiection, are most vnwise, & more miserable then the very fooles.

15 For they iudge all the idoles of the nations to bee gods, which neither haue eye sight to see, nor noses to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers of hands to grope, & their feete are slowe to goe.

16 For man made them, and he that hath but a bozobled spirite, facioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall him selfe, it is but mortall that hee maketh with vnrightheous hands: he himselfe is better then they whome he worshippeth: for hee liued, but they neuer laued.

18 Yea, they worshipped beastes also, which are their most enemies, and which are the worst, if they bee compared vnto others, because they haue none vnderstanding.

19 Neither haue they any beautie to bee desired in respect of other beausts: for they are destitute of Gods praise, & of his blessing.

CHAP. XVI.

The punishment of idolaters, 20 The benefites done vnto the faithful.

Herefore by such things they are worthily punished and tormented by the multitude of beastes.

Chap. 17. 13. 14. 20. 21. 26.

4 For it was requisite, that they which bled tyrannie, should fall into extreme poertie, and that to these onely it shoulde bee shewed, how their enemies were tormented.

*Thou shalt

Exod. 7. 11.
& 8. 7, 19.

6 For there appeared vnto them onely a sudden fire, very dreadfull: so that being a fraide of this vision, || Which they could not see, they thought the things, which they sawe, to be wofle.

7 * And the illusions of the magical artes were brought downe, and it was a most shamefull reproche for the boasting of their knowledge.

8 For they that promised to drinke away feare & trouble from the sicke person, were sicke for feare, and worthy to be laughed at.

9 And though no fearfull thing did feare them, yet were they a fraide at the beastes which passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpents: so that they died for feare, and saide they sawe not the aire, which by no means can be auoyded.

10 For it is a fearfull thing, when malice is condemned by her owne testimonie: and a conscience that is touched, doeth euer forecast cruell things.

11 For feare is nothing els, but a betraying of the succours, which reason offereth.

12 And the lesse that the hope is within, the more doeth hee esteeme the ignorance of the thing, that tormenteth him, great.

13 But they that did endure y<sup>e</sup> night that was intollerable, and that came out of the dunge of hell, which is insupportable, slept the same sleepe.

14 And sometimes were troubled with monstrous visions, and sometime they swooned, as though their owne soule should betray them: for a sudden feare not looked for, came vpon them.

15 And thus, whosoener fel downe, he was kept & shut in prison, but without chaines.

16 For whether he was an husband mā, or a shepheard, or one that was set to worke alone, if he were taken, hee must suffer this necessitie, that he could not auoide:

17 (For with one chaine of darkenesse where they all bounde) whether it were an hissing wind, or a sweete song of the birds among the thicke branches of the trees, or the beuementie of hasty running water,

18 Or a great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the running of skipping beasts, that could not be seene, or the noyse of cruell beastes, that roared, or the sounde that answered againe in y<sup>e</sup> holow moystains: these fearfull things made them to swoone.

19 For all the wofle shined with cleare light, & no man was hindered in his labour.

20 Onely vpon them there fell an heauy night, an image of that darkenes that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto the selues more greivous then darkenes.

3 * Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to lead them in the vnknown way, & madeest the sunne that it hurted not them in their honourable iourney.

4 But they were worthy to be deprived of the light, & to be kept in darkenes, which had kept thy children shut vp, by whom the incorrupt light of the lawe should be giuen to the world.

5 * Where as they thought to slay y<sup>e</sup> babes of the Saintes, by one childe that was cast out, and persecuted to reprove them, thou hast taken away the multitude of their children and destroyed them all together in the nightie water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afoze, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giue credit, might be of good there.

7 Thus thy people receiued y<sup>e</sup> health of y<sup>e</sup> righteous, but y<sup>e</sup> enemies were destroyed.

8 For as thou hast punished the enemies, so hast thou glorified vs whom y<sup>e</sup> hast called.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, & made a law of righteousness by one consent, y<sup>e</sup> the Saintes should receiue good and euill in like manner, & that the fathers should first sing praises.

10 But a disageeting crye was heard of y<sup>e</sup> enemies, and there was a lamentable noyse for the children that were bewailed.

11 For the * master and the seruant were punished with like punishment, and the common people suffered alike with the King.

12 So they altogether had innumerable that died with one kinde of death: neither were the liuing sufficient to burie them: for in the twinkling of an eye y<sup>e</sup> noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

20 For temptation of death touched the righteous also, and among the multitude in the wilderness there was a plague, but the wrath indured not long.

21 For the blamelesse man made haste, and defended them, and tooke the weapons of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation by the perfume, and set him selfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an end, declaring that he was thy seruant.

22 For hee overcame not the multitude with bodily power, nor with force of weapons, but with the word hee subdued him that punished, alladging the othes and covenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For why the dead were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, he stood in the middes, and cut off the wrath, and parted it from comming to the liuing.

11 The meate that was giuen at the desire of the people, 17 All the elements serued to the will of God.

So for þe vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without merie vnto the ende: for hee kene what should come vnto them,

2 That they (when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with diligence) would repent, and pursue them.

3 For while yet sorowe was before them, and they lamented by þe graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, & that they persecuted the in their fleeing, whome they had cast out afore with prayer.

4 For the desicme, whereof they were woorthie, brought them to this ende, and caused them to forget the things that had come to passe, that they might accomplish the punishment, which remayned by tormentes,

5 Both that thy people might trie a maruclous passage, and that these might finde a strange death.

6 For every creature in his kinde was fashioned of newe, and serued in their owne offices inioyned them, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

7 For the cloude ouershadowed their tents, and the dry earth appeared, where afore was water: so that in the red sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene fiede.

8 Through þe which all the people went that were defended with thine hand, seeing thy wonderous marueles.

9 For they layned like hoxes, and leaped like lames, praying thee, O Lorde, which haddest deliuered them.

10 For they were yet mindefull of those things which were done in the land where they dwelt, holde the ground brought forth flies in steade of cattell, and howe the ryuer frauled with the multitude of frogges in steade of fishes.

11 But at the last they saue a newe generation of birdes, when they were misled with lust, and desired delicate meates.

12 For the quales came forth of the sea vnto them for comfort, but punishmentes came vpon the sinners not without signes that were giuen by great thundringes: for they suffered woorthily according to their wickednes, because they shewed a cruell hatred toward strangers.

Chap. 16. 4

13 For the one sort would not receiue the when they were present, because they knew them not: the other sort brought the strangers into bondage that had done the good.

14 Beside all these things some would not suffer, that any regarde shoulde be had of them: for they handeled the strangers despitefully.

So this first Iesus dyed, and left this which hee had gathered, and Sirach afterwarde left it to Iesus his sonne, who tooke it and put it in order in a booke, and called it WISDOME, intrinling it both by his owne name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers: thinking by this title of Wisdom to allure the reader to reade this booke with more great desire, and to consider it more diligently. Which hath bene afore all things:

4 Wisdome hath bene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerslasting.

5 ¶ The worde of God most high is the fountaine of wisdome, and the euerslasting commandementes are the entrance vnto her.

Rom. 11. 34. ¶ 6 ¶ Vnto whome hath the roote of wisdome bene declared: or who hath knowen her wise counsels:

7 ¶ Vnto whome hath the doctrine of wisdome bene discovered and shewed: and who hath vnderstoode the manifolde entrance vnto her:

8 There is one wise, ieven the most high Creator of all things, the almightie, the King of power, and very terrible, which sitteth vpon his throne.

9 He is the Lord, that hath created her: thorow the holy Ghost: he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 Hee hath polized her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift, and giueth her abundantly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is glorie, and gladnesse, and reioying, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giueth gladnesse, and ioye and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shall goe well with him at the last, and he shall finde fauour in the day of his death.

14 ¶ The loue of God is honourable wisdome, and vnto whom it appeareth in a vision, they loue it for the vision, and for the knowledge of the great workes thereof.

Phil. 1. 20. prou. 3. 18. ¶ 15 ¶ The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisdome, and was made with the faithfull in the Wombe: he goeth with the chosen women, and is knowen with the righteous and faithfull.

16 The feare of the Lord is an holy knowledg.

17 Holines shall preserue, and iustifie the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnes.

18 Who so feareth the Lord, shall prosper, and in the day of his ende, he shall be blessed.

19 Shee hath built her euerslasting foundations with men, and is giuen to bee with thy seede.

20 To feare God is the fulnesse of wisdome, and filleth men with her fruites.

21 Shee filleth their whole house with iust things desirable, and the garners with the things, that she bringeth forth, and both thwaine are giftes of God.

22 The feare of the Lord is the crowne of wisdome, and giueth peace and perfecte health: he hath seene her and numbred her.

23 ¶ Shee raineth downe knowledge, and vnderstanding of wisdome, & hath brought vnto honour, them that possessed her.

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wisdome, and her branches are long life.

25 ¶ In the treasures of wisdome is vnderstanding, and holy knowledg, but wisdome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lord drineth out sinne: and when she is present, she drineth away anger.

27 ¶ For wicked anger can not be iustified: for his rashnes in his anger shall be his destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer for a time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 Hee will hide his wordes for a time, and many mens lippes shall speake of his wisdome.

30 In the treasures of wisdome are the secretes of knowledg, but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 If thou desire wisdome, keepe the commandementes, and the Lord shall giue her vnto thee, and will fill her treasures.

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisdome and discipline: he hath pleasure in faith and meekenesse.

33 Be not disobedient to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 ¶ Bee not an hypocrite that men shoulde speake of thee, but take heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, least thou fall and bring thy soule to dishonour, and so God discouer thy secretes, and cast thee downe in the middes of the Congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the true feare of God, and thine heart is full of deceit.

it patiently, and be patient in the change of thine affliction.

5 * For as golde and silver are tried in the fire, even so are men acceptable in the furnace of adversity.

6 Beleue in God, and he wil helpe thee: order thy way aright, & trust in him: holde fast his feare, and grobe olde therein.

7 Be that feare the Lorde, waite for his mercy: thinke not away from him that ye fall not.

8 Bee that feare the Lorde, beleue him, and your reward shall not faile.

9 O ye that feare the Lorde, trust in good things, and in the euertlasting ioy & merry.

10 Be that feare the Lorde, loue him, and your hearts shall be lightened.

11 Consider the olde generations of men, yee children, & marke them well: * Was there euer any confounded, that put his trust in the Lorde: or who hath continued in his feare, and was forsaken: or to whom did he euer despise, that called vpon him?

12 For God is gracious and merciful, and forgiveth sinnes, and saueh in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the truth.

13 Woe vnto them, that haue a fearefull heart, and to the wicked lippes: and to the faint handes, and to the sinner that goeth vnto *maner of wayes.

14 Woe vnto him that is faint hearted, for he beleueth not: therefore shall hee not be defended.

15 Woe vnto you that haue lost patience, and haue forsaken your right wayes, & are turned backe into frowarde wayes: for what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

16 They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his worde: and they that loue him, will keepe his wayes.

17 They that feare the Lord, will seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, shall be fulfilled with his Laue.

18 They that feare the Lorde, will prepare their hearts, and humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lord, keepe his commandements, and will be patient till he see them.

20 Saying, If wee doe not repent, wee shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men.

21 Yet as his greatnesse is, so is his mercie.

CHAP. III.

2 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother. 22 No man oughte ouer curiously to search out the secrets of God.

He children of wisdom are the Church of the righteous, & their offspring is obedient and loue. 2 Heare your fathers iudgement, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.

3 For the Lorde will haue the father honoured of the children, and hath confirmed the authoritie of the mother ouer the children.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiven him, and hee shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children, and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.

7 Hee that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life, and hee that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his parentes, and doeth seruice vnto his parents, as vnto lords.

9 * Honour thy father and mother in deede and in worde: and in all patience, that thou mayest haue Gods blessing, and that his blessing may abide with thee in the ende.

10 For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of the children, and the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations.

11 Reioyce not at the dishonour of thy father: for it is not honour vnto thee, but shame.

12 Seeing that mans glory commeth by his fathers honour, and the reproche of the mother is dishonour to the children.

13 My sonne, helpe thy father in his age, and grieve him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.

15 For the good intreacie of thy father shall not be forgotten, but it shall be a fortress for thee against sinnes, and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, and it shall be founded for thee in righteousness.

16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembered: thy sinnes also shall melt away as the yee in the faire weather.

17 He that forsaketh his father, shall come to shame, and hee that angereth his mother, is cursed of God.

18 My sonne, perforce thy doings with meekenesse, so shalt thou be beloued of them that are approued.

20 Many are excellent and of renowne: but the secretes are reueiled vnto the mecke.

21 For the powder of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

23 But what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that with reuerence, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needefull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.

24 Be not curious in superfluous things: for many things are shewed vnto thee aboue the capacite of men.

25 The meddling with such hath beguiled many, and an euill opinion hath deceyued their iudgement.

26 Thou canst not see without eyes: professe not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.

27 A stubberne heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.

28 An heart that goeth two wayes, shal not prosper: & he that is scroward of heart, shall stumble therein.

29 An obstinate heart shal be laden with sorowes: and the wicked man shall heape sinne vpon sinne.

30 The persuation of the proude is without remedie, and his steppes shalbe plucked by: for the plant of sinne hath taken roote in him, and he shall not be esteemed.

31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue secret things, and an attentive care is the desire of a wise man.

32 An heart that is wise and vnderstanding, will abstaine from sinne, and shal prosper in the workes of righteousness.

11 Be humble to heare the word of God, that thou mayst vnderstand it, and make a true answer with wisdom.

12 *Be swift to heare good things, & let thy life be pure, and giue a patient answer.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, answer thy neighbour: if not, lay thine hand vpon thy mouth, lest thou be trapped in an vndiscrete word, and so be blamed.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, & the tongue of a man causeth him to fall.

15 Be not counted a talebearer, and lie not in waite with thy tongue: for shame and repentance followe the chiefe, and an euill condemnation is ouer him that is double tongued: but he that is a backbiter, shall be hated, enuied and confounded.

16 Do not rashly, neither in small things nor in great.

CHAP. VI.

1 It is the property of a sinner to be euill tongued, 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

Be not of a friend: thy neighbour is an enemy: for such shall haue an euill name, shame and reproche, and he shall be in infamie as the wicked: for he hath a double tongue.

2 Be not proude in þ deuce of thine owne minde, lest thy soule rent thee as a bull.

3 And eat vp thy leaues, and destroy thy fruite, and so thou be left as a dye tree in the wilderness.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, and maketh him to be laughed to scorne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete talke multiplieth the friends, and pacieth them that be at variance, & a sweete tongue increaseth much good talke.

6 Holde friendship with many, neuertheless haue but one counseler of a thousand.

7 If thou gettest a friend, proue him first, and be not hasty to credit him.

8 For some man is a friend for his owne occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enimitie, & taketh part against thee, and in contention he will declare thy shame.

10 Againe some friend is but a companion at the table, and in the day of thine affliction he continueth not.

neither do the same against thy friend.

13 Use not to make any manner of lie : for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Take not many wordes when thou art among the Elders, neither * repeate a thing in thy prayer.

15 Hate not laborious * woorkes, neither the husbandrie, which the most high hath created.

16 Number not thy selfe in the multitude of the wicked, but remember that vengeance will not slacke.

17 Humble thy minde greatly : for þe vengeance of the wicked is fire and wormes.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy true brother for the gold of Ophir.

19 Depart not from a wise and good woman, : that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord: : for her grace is aboue gold.

20 ¶ * Where as thy seruant wooketh truly, intreate him not euill, nor the hireling that bestoweth himselfe wholly for thee.

21 Let thy soule loue a good seruant, and defraude him not of libertie, neither leaue him a poore man.

22 * If thou haue cattell, looke well to them, and if they be for thy profit, keepe the with thee.

23 * If thou haue sonnes, instruct them, and hold their necke from their youth.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their bodie, and shewe not thy face cheerefull towarde them.

25 Marrie thy daughter, & so shalt thou performe a weightie matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thy minde, forsake her not, but commit not thy selfe to the hatefull.

27 * Honour thy father from thy whole heart, and forget not the sorowes of thy mother.

28 Remember that thou wast bozne of them, and dolbe thank thou recompence the things that they haue done for thee.

29 ¶ Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

30 Loue him that made thee, with all thy strength, * and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour the Priestes, * and giue them their portion, as it is commanded thee, the first frutes, and purifications, and sacrifices for sinne, and the offerings of the shouldres, and the sacrifices of sanctification, and the first frutes of the holy things.

32 Stretch thy hande vnto the poore that thy blessing, and reconciliation may be accomplished.

33 Liberalitie pleaseeth al men liuing, and * from the dead restraime it not.

34 * Let not them that weepe, bee without comfort: : but mourne with such as mourne.

35 * Se not slow to visit the sick: for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt neuer do amisse.

CHAP. VIII.

¶ We must take heed with whom we haue to do,

Strive not with a mightie man, least thou fall into his handes.

2 Take not variance with a rich man, least hee on the other side weigh downe thy weight: for golde & siluer hath destroyed many and hath subuerted the hearts of Kings.

3 Strive not with a man that is full of wordes, and lay no stickes vpon his fire.

4 Play not with a man that is vntaught, least thy kindred be dishonoured.

5 * Despise not a man that turneth himselfe away from sinne, nor cast him not in thy teeth with all, but remember that we are al worthy blame.

6 Dishonour not a man in his olde age: for they were as we which are not olde.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemy, but remember that wee must die all, & so enter into ioy.

8 * Despise not the exhortation of the Elders: that be wise, but acquaint thy selfe with their wise sentences: for of them thou shalt learne wisdom, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and how to serue great me with out complaint.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of þe Elders: for they haue learned it of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, & to make answer in the time of neede.

10 Kinde not the coles of sinners, when thou rebukest them, least thou bee burnt in the fire flames of their sinnes.

11 Rise not vp against him that doeth wrong, that hee lay not waite as a spie for thy mouth.

12 * Lende not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie aboue thy powber: for if thou be suretie, thinke to pay it.

14 Go not to lawe with the Judge: for they will giue sentence according to his owne honour.

Of Ialousie. 12 An olde friende is to be preferred before a newe, 18 Righteous men should be hidden to the table.

BE not ielous ouer thy wife of thy bosome, neither teache her by thy meanes an euil lesson.

5 Gaze not on a made, that thou fall not by that that is precious in her.

6 Cast not thy mind vpon harlots: in any manner of thing, least thou destroy both thy selfe and thyne heritage.

7 Go not about gazing in the streetes of the cite, neither wander thou in the secreete places thereof.

8 Turne alway thine eye from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon others beautie: for many haue perished by the beautie of women: for through it loue is kindled as a fire.

9 Every woman that is an harlot, shall bee troden vnder foote as doughe, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many Wondering at the beautie of a strange woman, haue bene cast out: for her wordes burne as a fire.

11 Sit not at al with an other mā's wife, neither lie with her vpon the bed, nor banquet with her, lest thine heart incline vnto her, and so through thy desire fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an olde friend: for the newe shall not be like him: a newe friend is as newe wine: when it is olde, thou shalt drinke it with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour, and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shall be his ende.

14 Delite not in the thing that the vngodly haue pleasure in, but remember that they shall not bee founde iust vnto their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath powder to slay: so shalt thou not doubt the feare of death: and if thou come vnto him, make no faute, least hee take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middes of snares, & that thou walkest vpon the towres of the cite.

16 Crie thy neighbour as neere as thou canst, and aske counsell of the wise.

17 Let thy talke bee with the wise, and all thy communication in the Lawe of the most high.

18 Let iust men eate & drinke with thee, and let thy reioycing bee in the feare of the Lord.

19 In the hands of the craftemen shall the woorkes bee commended, and the wise prince of the people by his worde, and the worde by the wisdom of the Elders.

20 A man full of wordes is dangerous in his cite, and hee that is rash in his talking, shall be hated.

CHAP. X.

Of Kings and Iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnes are to be abhoyred, 28 Labour is prayson.

A wise iudge will instruct his people with discretion: the gouernante of a prudent man is well ordered.

2 As the iudge of the people is him selfe, so are his officers, and what manner of man the ruler of the cite is, such are all they that dwell therein.

3 An vniuersall King destroyeth his people, but where they that be in authoritie, are men of vnderstanding, there the cite prospereth.

4 The gouernement of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and all iniquitie of nations is to be abhoyred, and when time is, he wil set by a profitable ruler ouer it.

5 In the hande of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the scribes will he lay his honour.

6 Be not angry for any wrong, with thy neighbour, and doe nothing by inuicious practises.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, and by both doeth one commit iniquitie.

8 Because of vnbrighteous dealing and wrongs and riches gotten by deceit, kingdomes is translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a covetous man: why art thou proude, O earth & alhes: there is not a more wicked thing, the to love money: for such one would even sell his soule, & for his life every one is compelled to pull out his owne bolvels.

10 All tyrannies is of small indurance, & the disease that is hard to heale, is grievous to the physician.

11 Hee phisitico cutteth off the fore disease, and hee that is to day a King, to morrowe is dead.

12 Why is earth and alhes proude, seeing that when a man dieth, hee is the heire of serpents, beastes and wormes:

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God, & to turne away his heart from his maker.

14 For pride is the original of sinne, & hee that hath it, shall pollve out abomination, till at last he be overthowen: therefore the Lord bringeth the persuasions of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyeth them in the ende.

15 The Lord hath cast downe the thrones of the proud: princes, and set up the meeke in their steade.

16 The Lord plucketh vp the rootes of the proud: nations, and planteth the lowly with glory among them.

17 The Lord overthroweth the landes of the heathen, and destroyeth them vnto foundations of the earth: hee causeth them to wither away, and destroyeth them, and maketh their memoriall to cease out of the earth.

18 God destroyeth the memoriall of the proud, and leaveth the remembrance of the humble.

19 Pride was not created in men, neither wrath in the generation of women.

20 There is a seede of man, which is an honourable seede: the honourable seede are they that feare the Lord: there is a seede of man, which is without honour: the seede without honour, are they that transgresse the commandements of the Lord: it is a seede & remaneth which feareth the Lord, & a faire plant, that loue him: but they are a seede without honour, that despise the Law, and a decemable seede that breake the commandements.

21 He that is the chiefe among brethren, is honourable: so are they that feare the Lord in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not, but the kingdome is lost by crueltie and pride.

23 The feare of the Lord is the glorie as well of the riche and the noble, as of the poore.

24 It is not meete to despise the poore man that hath vnderstanding, neither is it convenient to magnifie the riche that is a wicked man.

25 The great man and the iudge and the man of authoritie, are honorable, yet is there none of them greater, then hee that feareth the Lord.

26 Vnto the seruant that is wise, shall they that are free, do service: hee that hath knowledge, will not grudge when hee is reformed, and the ignorant shall not come to honour.

27 Seeke not excuses when thou shouldest do thy worke, neither be ashamed thereof through pride in the time of aduersitie.

28 Better is he that laboureth and hath plenty of all things, then hee that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread.

29 By soune, get thy selfe prayse by meekenes, and esteeme thy selfe as thou deservest.

30 Who will count him iust that sinneth against himselfe: or honour him, that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his knowledge, and his feare, but the riche is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that is honorable in pouertie, how much more shall he be when he is riche: and hee that is vn honest being riche, how much more will he be so when hee is in pouertie.

CHAP. XI.

1 The people of humilitie. 2 After the outward appearance ought we not to iudge. 3 Of all iudgement. 4 All things come of God. 5 All men are not to be brought into thine house.

Veridome lifeth by the head of him that is lowly, and maketh him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not a man for his beauntie, neither despise a man in his bitter appearance.

3 The Bee is but small among foules, yet doeth her fruite passe in sweetenes.

4 Be not proude of cloathing & raiment, and exalt not thy selfe in the day of honour: for the workes of the Lord are wonderfull, and glorious, secret, and vnknown: are his workes among men.

5 Many tyrants haue sit down vpon the earth, and the unlikely hath worne the crowne.

6 Many mightie men haue bene brought to dishonour, and the honourable haue bin deliuered into other mens hands.

Luce 11. 19.

19 In that he saith, I haue gotten rest, and nowe will I eate continually of my goods, yet he considereth not, that the time draweth nere, that hee must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die him selfe.

20 Stand thou in thy state, and exerce thy selfe therein, and remaine in thy worke vnto thine age.

21 Maruelle not at the works of sinners, but trust in the Lorde, & abide in thy labour: for it is an easie thing in the sight of the Lorde, suddenly to make a poore man riche.

22 The blessing of the Lorde is in his wages of the godly, and he maketh his prosperitie soone to flourish.

23 Say not, what profite and pleasure shal I haue: and what good things shal I haue hereafter:

24 Againe say not, I haue ynough, and possesse many thinges, and what euill can come to me hereafter:

Chs. 12. 24.

25 In thy good state remember aduersitie, & in aduersitie forget not prosperitie.

26 For it is an easie thing vnto the Lorde in the day of death to rewarde a man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget pleasure: and in a mans ende, his workes are discovered.

28 Judge none blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen by his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceitfull haue many frames, & are like stomaches that belche stinking things.

30 As a partridge is taken vnder a basket, and the hind is taken in the snare, so is the heart of the proud man, which like a spie watcheth for thy fall.

31 For he lieth in waite and turneth good vnto euill, and in things worthy praise hee will finde some faute.

32 Of one little sparke is made a great fire, and of one deceitfull man is blood increased: for a sinful man layeth waite for blood.

33 Beware of a wicked man: for hee imagineth wicked thinges to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.

34 Lodge a stranger, and he will destroy thee with vniquietnes, and drive thee from thine owne.

1 Vnto whom we ought to do good, 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

When thou wilt doe good, knowe to whom thou doest it, so shalt thou bee thanked for thy benefites.

2 Doe good vnto the righteous, & thou shalt finde great rewarde, though not of him, yet of the most high.

3 Hee can not haue good that continueth in euill, and giueth no almes: for the most high hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that repent.

4 Giue vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 Doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: hold backe thy bread, and giue it not vnto him, lest he ouercome thee thereby: els thou shalt receiue thine as much euill for all the good that thou doest vnto him.

6 For the most high hateth the wicked, and wil repay vengeance vnto the vngodly, and keepeth them against the day of horrible vengeance.

7 Giue vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner.

10 Trust neuer thine enemy: for like as any yron rusteth, so doeth his wickednes.

11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet abuse thy selfe, & beware of him, and thou shalt be to him, as he that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, least hee destroy thee, and stand in thy place.

13 Neither set him at thy right hande, least hee seeke thy roome, and thou at the last remember nry wordes, and be pickt with my sayings.

14 *Binde not thy sinnes together: for there shall not one be unpunished.

15 Who will haue pite of the charmer, & is stinged of the serpent: or of all such as come neere the beastes: so is it with him that keepeth companie with a wicked man, & wipeth him selfe in his sinnes.

16 For a season wil hee hide with thee: but if thou stumble, hee tarieth not.

17 *An enemy is sweete in his lippes: hee can make many good wordes, & speake many good things: yea, hee can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart hee imagineth howe to throve thee into the pit: and if he may finde opportunitie, hee will not bee satisfied with blood.

18 If adueritie come vpon thee, thou shalt finde him there first, and though hee pretend to helpe thee, yet shal hee undermine thee: hee will shake his head, and clap his hands, and wil make many wordes, and disguise his countenance.

1 The companies of the proude and of the rich are to bee eschewed.
15 The loue of God. 17 Like do companie with their like.

1 *That toucheth pitch, shall bee defiled with it: and he that is familiar with the proude, shall bee like vnto him.

2 Curthe not thy selfe aboute thy potber, whilst thou liuest, and companie not with one that is mightier, & richer then thy selfe: for how agree the kettle and the earthe pot together: for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withal: but the poore being oppressed must intreate: if the rich haue done wrong, he must yet bee intreated: but if the poore haue done it, hee shall straight wayes be threatened.

4 If thou bee for his profite, hee bleth thee: but if thou haue nothing, hee will forsake thee.

5 If thou haue any thing, hee will liue with thee: yea, he wil make thee a bare mā, and will not care for it.

6 If hee haue neede of thee, hee will desire thee, and will laugh at thee, and put thee in hope, and giue thee all good wordes, and say, what wantest thou?

7 Thus will hee shame thee in his meat, until hee haue supt thee cleane by thine or thine, and at the last hee will laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when hee seeth thee, hee will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, & waite vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou be not deceived in thine owne conceit and brought downe by thy simplenes: be not to humble to thy wisdom.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe: so shal hee cal thee the more oft.

11 Preasse not thou vnto him, that thou bee not shut out, but goe not thou farre off, least hee forget thee.

12 Withdraue not thy selfe from his speech, but beleue not his many wordes: for with much communicatio will he tempt thee, and laughingly will hee grope thee.

13 He is bumerisul, and keepeth not promises: hee will not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware, & take good heed: for thou walkest in perill of thine ouerthrowing: when thou hearest this, awake in thy sleepe.

15 Loue the Lord all thy life, and cal vpon him for thy saluation.

16 Every beast loneth his like, & every man loneth his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and every man wil keepe companie with such as hee is him selfe.

18 Howe can the wolfe agree with the lambe: no more can the vngodly with the righteous.

19 What felowship hath hyena with a dogge: and what peate is betwene the rich and the poore?

20 [As the wilde asse is the Lyons pray in the wilderness, so are poore men the meat of the riche, 21 As the proude hate humilitie, so doe the riche abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends set him by againe: but when the poore falleth, his friends drine him away.

23 If a rich man offende, hee hath many helpers: hee speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man faile, they rebuke him, & though hee speake wisely,

Blessed is the man that hath not fallen by the word of his mouth, and is not tormented with the sorrow of sinne.

2. Blessed is he that is not condemned in his conscience, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3. Riches are not comely for a niggarde, and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4. He that gathereth together from his owne soule, heareth together for others, that will make good cheare with his goods.

5. He that is wicked vnto himselfe, to who will he bee good: for such one can haue no pleasure of his goods.

7 But foolish men will not take hold by on her: but such as haue vnderstanding, will meete her: the sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is farre from pride and deceit: and men that lie, cannot remember her: but men of truely shall haunt her, and shall prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Praise is not seemly in the mouth of the sinner: for that is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisdom, and be plementous in a faithfull mouth: then the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I turne backe: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, he hath caused mee to erre: for he hath no neede of the sinfull man.

13 The Lord hateth all abomination of errour: they that feare God, loue it not.

14 Hee made man from the beginning, & left him in the hand of his counsell, and gaue him his commandements and precepts.

15 If thou wilt, thou shalt obserue the commandements, and testifie thy good will.

16 He hath set water and fire before thee: stretch out thine hande vnto which thou wilt.

17 Before man is life and death, & good and euill: what him liketh, shall be giuen him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mightie in power, and beholdeth all things continually.

19 And the eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do vngodly, neither hath he giue any man licence to sinne: for hee desireth not a multitude of infidels, and vnprofitable children.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Of happie, and wiche children. 17 And man can hide himselfe from God. 24 An exhortation to the receiuing of instruction.

NE fire not the multitude of vnprofitable children, neither delight in vngodly children: though they be many, reioyce not in them, except the feare of the Lord be with them.

2 Trust not thou to their life, neither rest vpon their multitude.

3 For one that is iust, is better the a thousande such, and better it is to die without children, then to leaue behinde him vngodly children.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, shall the citie be inhabited: but the stocke of the wicked shall be wasted incontinently.

5 Many such things haue I seene with mine eyes, and mine eare hath heard greater things then these.

6 In the congregation of the vngodly shall a fire be kindled, and among vnfaitful people shall the wrath be set on fire.

7 He spared not the olde gyants, which were rebellious, trusting to their owne strength.

8 Neither spared hee where as Lot dwelt, whose whome hee abhorred for their pride.

9 Hee had no pittie vpon the people that were destroyed, & puffed vp in their finnes.

10 And so he preserved the fire hundred thousand footmen, that were gathered in the hardnesse of their heart, in afflicting them and pitying them, in finiting them and healing them, with mercie, and with chastisement.

11 Therefore if there bee one stricken among the people, it is maruaille if hee scape unpunished: for mercie and wrath are with him: he is mightie to forgive, and to polyre out displeasure.

12 As his mercie is great, so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape with his spoyle, and the patience of the godly shall not be delayed.

14 He will giue place to all good deedes, and euery one shall finde according to his workes, and after the vnderstanding of his pilgrimage.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaos, that he should not knowe him, and that his workes should be knowen vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowen to all creatures: hee hath separate his light from the darknesse with an adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my selfe fro the Lord: for who will thinke vpon me from aboute: I shall not be knowen in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 Beholde, the heauen, and the heauen of heauens, which are for God, the depth and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moued when he shall visite.

19 All the world which is created, & made by his will, the mountaines also, and the foundations of the earth shall shake for feare, when the Lord looketh vpon them.

20 These things doeth no heart vnderstand worthily, but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

22 Who can declare the workes of his righteousness: or who can abide them: for his ordinance is farre off, and the trying out of all things faileth.

23 He that is humble of heart, wil consider these things: but an unwise and erroneous man casteth his mind vpon foolish things.

24 Ohy some, hearken vnto mee, and learne knowledg, and marke my wordes with thine heart.

25 I wil declare thee weightie doctrine, & I wil instruct thee exactly in knowledg.

26 The Lord hath set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundered from the other when hee first made them.

27 He hath garnished his workes for euer, and their beginnings so long as they shal endure, they are not hungrie nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of the hindreth another, neither was any of the disobedient vnto his wordes.

7 He set his eye vpon their hearts, declaring vnto them his noble workes.

8 And gaue them occasion to reioyce perpetually in his miracles, that they should prudently declare his workes, and that the elect should praise his holy Name together.

9 Beside this, he gaue them knowledg, and gaue them the Lawe of life for an heritage, that they might not know that they were mortall.

10 He made an euertlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his iudgements.

11 Their eyes saw the maiestie of his glorie, & their eares heard his glorious voice.

12 And he sayd vnto them, Beware of all vnrightheous things. Hee gaue euery man also a commaundment concerning his neighbour.

13 Their wayes are euer before him, and are not hid from his eyes.

14 Euery man from his youth is giuen to euill, and their stonie hearts can not become flesh.

15 He appointed a ruler vpon euery people, when hee deuinded the nations of the whole earth.

16 And he did chuse Israel, as a peculiar people to him selfe, whome he nourisheth with discipline as his first borne, and gueth him most louing light, and doeth not forsake him.

17 All their workes are as the sunne before him, and his eyes are continually vpon their wayes.

18 None of their vnrightheousnesse is hid from him, but all their sinnes are before the Lorde.

19 And as he is mercifull, and knoweth his workes, he doeth not leaue them nor forsake them, but spareth them.

20 The almes of a man, is as a thing sealed by before him, and hee keepeth the good deedes of man as the apple of the eye, and giueth repentance to their sonnes, and daughters.

22 But vnto them that will repent, he giueth them grace to returne, and exhorteth such as faile, with patience, & sendeth them the portion of the vertue.

23 Returne then vnto the Lord, and forsake thy sinnes: make thy prayer before his face, and take away the offence.

24 Turne againe vnto the most high: for he wil bring thee from darknes to wholsome light: forsake thine vnrightheousnesse, and hate greatly all abomination.

3 To whom he hath he giuen power to expresse his workes: who will seeke out the ground of his noble acts:

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnes: or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie:

5 As for the wonderous workes of the Lord, there may nothing bee taken from them, neither can any thing bee put vnto them, neither may the ground of them bee found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must begin againe, and when he thinketh to come to an ende, he must go againe to his labour.

7 What is man: whereto serueth he: what good or euill can he do:

8 If the number of a mans dayes be an hundred yere, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 As drops of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand yeres to the dayes euerslasting.

10 Therefore is God patient with them, and pouereth out his mercie vpon them,

11 He saide and perceined, that the arrogancie of their heart, and their ruine was euill: therefore heaped he by his mercie vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousness.

12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour: but the mercie of the Lord is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, and nurturcth, and teacheth, and bringeth backe, as a shepheard his flocke.

13 He hath mercie of them that receiue discipline, and that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 O my sonne, when thou doest good, reprove not: and whatsoever thou giuest, vse no discomfortable wordes.

15 Shall not I deliue a smudge the heate: so is a word better then a gift.

16 No, is not a worde better then a good gift: but a gracious man giueth them both.

17 A foole will reprove churclishly, and a gift of the enuious putteth out the eyes.

18 Set thee righteousness before thou come to iudgement: learne before thou speake, and vse physike or euer thou bee sicke.

19 Examine thy selfe before thou be iudged, and in the day of visitation thou shalt finde mercie.

20 Humble thy selfe before thou be sicke, and whiles thou mayest yet sinne, shew thy conuersion.

21 Let nothing let thee to pay thy bolde in time, and deferre not vnto death to be reformed: for the rewarde of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy selfe, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

23 Thinke vpon the wrath, that shalbe at the end, and the houre of vengeance, when he shall turne away his face.

24 When thou hast ynough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon pouertie and neede.

25 From the morning vntill the evening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done before the Lord.

26 A wise man feareth in all things, and in the daies of transgression he keepeth him selfe from sinne: but the foole doeth not obserue the time.

22 The knowledge of wickednes is not wisdom, neither is there pudentie where as the counsell of sinners is: but it is euen execrable malice: and the foole is voyde of wisdom.

¶ N n n. iii. There

Here is some rebuke that is not comely: againe, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

2 It is much better to reprove, then to beare euill will: and he that acknowledgeth his fault, shalbe preferred fro hurt.

3 As * When a gelded man through lust would desile a maide, so is he that vseth violence in iudgement.

4 How good a thing is it, when thou art reprov'd, to thewe repentance! for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.

5 Some man keepeth silence, & is founde wise, and some by much babbling becōmeth hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, waiting a convenient * time.

7 * A wise man will holde his tongue till he see opportunitie: but a trisler and a foole will regard no time.

8 He that vseth many wordes, shalbe abhorred, and he that taketh authoritie to himselfe, shall be hated.

9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things, and [some time] a thing that is found, bringeth losse.

10 There is some gift that is not profitable for thee, and there is some gift, whose reward is double.

11 Some man humbleth himselfe for glories sake, and some by humblenesse liketh vp the head.

12 Some man byeth much for a litle price: for the which he payeth seven times more.

13 * A wise man with his wordes maketh himselfe to be loued, but the merie tales of fooles shall be powdered out.

14 The gift receyued of a foole, shall doe thee no good, neither yet of the enuious for his importunitie: for hee looketh to receyue many things for one: he giueth lile, and hee bpbaydeth much: hee openeth his mouth like a tollne cryer: to day he lendeth, to morrow asketh he againe, and such one is to be hated of God and man.

15 The foole saith, I haue no friend: I haue no thanke for all my good deedes: and they that eate my bread, speake euil of me.

16 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to for me: for he comprehendeth not by right iudgement that which he hath: and it is all one as though he had it not.

17 The fall on a pavement is very sudden: so shall the fall of the wicked come hastily.

18 A man without grace is as a foolish tale which is oft tolde by the mouth of the ignorant.

19 A wise sentence loseth grace when it cometh out of a fooles mouth: for he speaketh not in due season.

20 Some man sinneth not because of povertie, & yet is not grieued whē he is alone.

21 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule, because he is ashamed, and for the regard of persons loseth it.

22 Some man promisseth vnto his friend for shame, and getteth an ennemy of him for naught.

26 A wise man shall bring him selfe to honour with his wordes, and hee that hath vnderstanding, shall please great men.

27 * He that tilleth his land, shall increase his heape: he that worketh righteousness, shall be exalted, & he that pleaseeth great men, shall haue pardon of his iniquitie. Pro. 12. 11. & 28. 29.

28 * Rewards and giftes blinde the eyes of the wise, and make them domine, that they can not reprove fautes. Exod. 23. 8. deut. 16. 19.

29 Wisdome that is hid, and treasure is hoarded by, what profite is in them both?

30 Better is hee that keepeth his ignorance secrete, then a man that hideth his wisdom.

31 The necessarie patience of him, that followeth the Lord, is better then hee that governeth his life without the Lord.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Not to continue in sinne, 5 The prayer of the afflicted, 6 To hate to be reprov'd, 17 The mouth of the wise man, 26 The thought of the foole.

Nonne, hast thou sinned: doe so no more, * but pray for the forgiveness: that they may be forgiven thee. Chap. 5. 9. psal. 14. luke. 15. 21.

2 Flee from sinne, as from a serpent: for if thou comest too neere it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lyon, to slay the soules of men.

3 All iniquitie is as a two edged sworde, the woundes whereof can not be healed.

4 Strife and iniuries waste riches: so the house of the proude shalbe desolate.

5 * The prayer of the poore going out of the mouth, cometh vnto the eares of the Lord, and iustice is done him incontinently. Exod. 1. 9. & 22. 23.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, is in the way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord, conuerteth in heart.

7 An eloquent talker is knowen afarre off: but he is wise, perceiueeth when he falleth.

8 Who

8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

Chap. 16. 9 * The congregation of the wicked is like tolve wrapped together : their ende is a flame of fyre to destroy them.

10 The way of sinners is made playne with stones, but at the ende thereof is hell, darkenesse and paynes.

11 He that keepeth the Law of the Lord, ruleth his owne affections thereby : and the increase of wisdom is the ende of the feare of God.

12 He that is not wise, will not suffer him selfe to be taught: but there is some wit that increaseth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall abound like water that runneth ouer, and his counsell is like a pure fountaine of life.

Chap. 23. 14 * The inner parts of a foole are like a broken vessell : he can keepe no knowledge whiles he liueth.

15 What a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise worde, he will commend it, & increaseth it: but if an ignorant man heare it, he will disallowe it, and cast it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like a burden in the way, but there is comelines in þe talke of a wise man.

17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shal ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is an house that is destroyed, so is wisdom vnto a foole, & the knowledg of the vniuers is as words without order.

19 Doctrine vnto fooles is as fetters on þe feete, & like manacles vpon the right hand.

Chap. 19. 20 * A foole listeth by his voyce with laughter, but a wise man doeth scarce smile secretly.

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a ierbell of golde, and like a bracelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but a man of experience is ashamed to looke in.

23 A foole will peepe in at the doore into the house: but he that is well nurtured, will stand without.

24 It is the poynt of a foolish man to hearken at the doore: for he that is wise, will be grieved with such dishonour.

25 The lippes of talkers will bee telling such thinges as pertaine not vnto them, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstanding, are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the vngodly curseth Satan, he curseth his owne soule.

28 * A backbiter desiereth his owne soule, and is hated wheresoener he is: but he that keepeth his tongue, & is discrete, shall come to honour.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Of the slug gards. 2 Of the speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth God.

A slouthfull man is like a filthy stone, whiche euery man mocketh at for his shame.

2 A slouthfull man is to be compared to the tongue of oxen, and euery one taketh it by, will shake it out of his hande.

3 An euill nurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: and the daughter is leas to be esteemed.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but hee that liueth dishonestly, is her fathers heauines.

5 She that is bolde, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, and is not inferior to the vngodly, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time is as musike in mourning: but wisdom knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 Who so teacheth a foole, is as one that gleiweth a postheard together, and as hee that waketh one that sleepeth, from a sound sleepe.

8 If children liue honestly, & haue wherewith, they shal put away the shame of their parents.

9 But if children be proude, with hauntnes and foolishnesse they deale the nobilitie of their kindred.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdom, is as a man, which speaketh to one that is a sleepe: when he hath told his tale, hee saith, what is the matter?

11 * Weepe for the dead, for hee hath lost the light: so weepe for the foole, for hee wanteth vnderstanding: make final weeping for the dead, for hee is at rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

12 Seuen daies do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation for þe foole, and vngodly, should endure: all the dayes of their life.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not to him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to paine, and lest thou be defiled whē he shaketh himself. Depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, & shalt not receiue sorow by his foolishnes.

14 What is heavier then lead: & what other name should a foole haue?

15 * Sand and salt, and a lump of yron is easier to beare, then an bulwark, & foolish and bugboidly man.

16 As a frame of wood ioyned together in a building can not bee loosed with shaking, so y heart that is stablished by aduised counsell, shall feare at no time.

17 The heart that is confirmed by discrete wisdom, is as a faire plaistering on a plaine wall.

18 As reeds that are set vpon hie, can not abide the winde, so the fearefull heart with foolish imagination can indure no feare.

19 He that hurteth the eye, bringeth forth teares, and he that hurteth the heart, bringeth forth the affliction.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birdes, fraiethe them alway: and he that vpbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou dwellst a sword at thy friends, yet despair not: for there may bee a returning to fauour.

22 If thou haue opened thy mouth against thy friende, feare not: for there may bee a reconciliation, so that vpbayding or pride or disclosing of secrets or a trayterous wound do not let: for by these thinges euery friende will depart.

23 Be faithfull vnto thy friende in his povertie, & thou mayest reioyce in his prosperitie. Abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heire with him in his heritage: for povertie is not alwaies to be contemned, nor the riche that is foolish, to be had in admiration.

24 As the vapour, & smoke of the chimney goeth before the fire, so euill words, & rebukes and threatuings: goe before bloodshedding.

25 I will not bee ashamed to defende a friende: neither will I hide my selfe from him, though he shoulde do me harme: who soeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 Who shall let a wathe before my mouth, and a seale of wisdom vpon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A prayer of the author. 13 Of thee, blasphemie and bulwark commination. 16 Of three kindes of finnes. 23 Many finnes proceede of auersitie. 27 Of the feare of God.

Lorde, father & gouernour of all my whole life, leaue mee not to their counsell, and let me not fall by them.

2 Who will correct my thought, and put the doctrine of wisdom in mine heart, that they may not spare mee in mine ignorance, neither let their fautes passe.

3 Lest mine ignorances increace, and my finnes abounde to my destruction, and least

I fall before mine aduersarie, and mine enemies reioice ouer me, whole hope is farre from thy mercie.

4 O Lord, Father and God of my life, leaue mee not in their imagination: neither giue me a proude looke, but turne alway fro thy seruants a stouite minde.

5 Take from mee vaine hope, and conscience, and reteine him in obedience, that desireth continually to serue thee.

6 Let not the griedines of the bellie, nor lust of the flesh hold mee, & giue not mee thy seruant ouer into an impudent mind.

7 Heare, O ye children, the instruction of a mouth that shal speake truely: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lips, nor be hurt by wicked workes.

8 The sinner that bee taken by his owne lippes: for the euill speaker and the proude do offend by them.

9 Accusme not thy mouth to swearing: for in it there are many failes: neither take by for a custome & naming of the holy one: for thou shalt not bee unpunished for such thinges.

10 For as a seruant which is oft punished, can not be without some shame, so hee that sweareth, and nameth God continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 A man that bleseth much swearing, shall bee filled with wickednes, & the plague shall neuer goe from his house: when hee shall offend, his faute shall be vpon him, and if he knowledg not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: and if he sweare in vaine, hee shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of plagues.

12 There is a worde which is clothed with death: God graunt that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob: but they that feare God, eschewe all such, and are not whapped in sinne.

13 Use not thy mouth to ignorant rashnes: for therein is the occasion of sinne.

14 Remember thy father & thy mother when thou art set among great men, least thou be forgotten in their sight, & so thorough thy custome become a foole, and with that thou haddest not bene bozne, and curse the day of thy natiuitie.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words, will neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 There are two sortes of men: that abound in sinne, & the third bringeth wrath & destruction: a mind hote as fire, that can not be quenched till it be consumed: an aduiterous man that giueth his body no rest, till he haue kindled a fire.

17 (All bread is sweete to a Whoremonger: he will not leane off till he perish.)

Isa. 54.

18 A man that breaketh wedlocke, and thinketh thus in his heart, * who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkenesse: y<sup>e</sup> walles couer me: no body seeth me: Whome neede I to feare: the most high will not remember my finnes.

19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are tenne thousande times brighter then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the ground of the deepe, and considereth the most secreete partes.

20 He knoweth all things: or ever they were made, and after they be brought to passe also, he looketh vpon them all.

Eccl. 13.
120. 121.

21 * The same man shall be punished in the streetes of the cite, and shall be chased like a yong hyslefoale, and when hee thinketh not vpon it, he shall be taken: thus shall hee bee put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstande the feare of the Lord.

22 And thus shall it goe also with euery wife, that leaueh her husband, and getteth inheritance by another.

Eccl. 10.
14.

23 * For first she hath disobeyed the Law of the most high, and feebly, she hath trespassed against her owne husband, and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adulterie, and gotten her children by an other man.

24 She shall be brought out into the congregation, and examination shall bee made of her children.

25 Her children shall not take roote, and her branches shall bring forth no fruite.

26 A shamefull report shall shee leaue, & her reproch shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of the Lord, & that there is nothing sweeter then to take heede vnto the commandments of the Lord.

28 It is great glorie to followe the Lord, and to be receiued of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 A people of wilkesome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her boughes and place where she resteth. 20 She is giuen to the children of God.

Wedome shall praye her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the middes of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most high shall she open her mouth, and triumphe before his powler.

3 In the middes of her people shall she be exalted, and wondered at in the holy assemblie.

4 In the multitude of the chosen shee shall be commended, and among such as be blessed, shee shall be praised, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the most high, I first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that faileth not, to arise in the heauen, and couered the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboute in the height, & my throne is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and haue walked in the bottome of the depth.

9 I possessed the waues of the sea, and all the earth, and all people, & nation, and with my powler haue I troden downe the hearts of all, both high and lowe.

10 In all these things I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue me a commandment, and he that made mee, appointed me a tabernacle, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and take thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

12 * He created me from the beginning, & before the worlde, and I shall neuer faile:

* In the holy habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I stablished in Sion.

13 * In the welbeloued cite gaue he mee rest, and in Ierusalem was my powler.

14 I tooke roote in an honozable people, euen in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

15 I am set by on hie like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypres tree vpon the mountaynes of hermon.

16 I am exalted like a palme tree about the bankes, and as a rose plant in Iericho, as a faire olive tree in a pleasant fildes, and am exalted as a plane tree by the water.

17 I smelled as the cinnamon, and as a bagge of spices: I gaue a sweete odour as the best myrrhe, as galbanum, and onix, and sweete storax, and perfume of incense in an house.

18 As the terebinth, haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

19 * As the vine haue I brought forth fruite of sweete sauour, and my shewres are the fruite of honour and riches.

20 I am the mother of beautiful loue, & of feare, and of knowledge, & of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my children to whom God hath commanded.

21 In me is all grace of life and truth: in me is all hope of life and verue.

22 Come vnto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruites.

Psal. 100.
11.

23 * For the remembrance of me is sweeter then honie, and mine inheritance; sweeter then the honie combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate me, shal haue no more hunger, and they that drinke me, shal thirst no more.

25 Whoso hearkeneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion, and they that worke by me, shal not offend: they that make me to be knowen, shal haue euermlasting life.

26 All these things are the booke of life, and the conenat of the most high God, and the knowledge of the trueth, and the law that Moses in the precepts of righteounes commanded for an heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and the promises pertaining vnto Israel.

27 We not wearie to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lord, that hee may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him: for the Lord almighty is but one God, and besides him there is none other Saviour.

28 Out of Dauid his seruant he ordeined to raise vp a most mightie King that should sit in the throne of honour for euermore.

29 He filleth all things with his wisdom, as * Phylon, and as Tygris, in the time of the newe frutes.

30 He maketh the vnderstanding to abound like Euphrates and as * Jordan in the time of the baruest.

31 He maketh the doctrine of knowledge to appeare as the light, and ouerfloweth as Geon in the time of the vintage.

32 The first man hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shall the last seeke her out.

33 For her considerations are more abundant then the sea, and her counsell is profounder then the great deepe.

34 I wisdom: haue cast out floods: I am as an arme of the river: I runne into Paradise as a water conduit.

35 I said, I will water my faire garden, and will water my pleasant ground: and lo, my ditch became a flood, and my flood became a sea.

36 For I make doctrine to shine as the light of the morning, and I lighten it for euermore.

37 I will pearce thorow all the lower partes of the earth: I will looke vpon all such as be a sleepe, and lighten all them that trust in the Lord.

38 I will yet polure out doctrine, as prophesie, and leaue it vnto all ages for euermore.

39 Beholde that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for all them that seeke wisdom.

CHAP. XXV.

1 Of these things which please God, and of these which hee hateth.
7 Of nine things that be not to be suspect. 14 Of the malice of a woman.

Three things reioyce mee, and by these am I beautified before God and men: the vnitie of brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man & wife that agree together.

2 Three sortes of me my soule hateth, and I utterly abhorre the life of them: a poore man that is proude: a rich man that is a liar, and an olde adulterer that doeth.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what canst thou finde in thine age?

4 Oh, how pleasant a thing is it to the gray headed men minister iudgement, and when the elders can giue good counsell!

5 Oh, how comely a thing is wisdom vnto aged men, and vnderstanding and prudence to men of honour!

6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experience, and the feare of God is their glorie.

7 There be nine things, which I haue iudged in mine heart to be happie, and the tenth will I pronounce with my tongue: a man that while he liueth, hath toy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.

8 Well is him that diuileth with a wife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not serued such as are vnborthy of him.

9 Well is him that findeth prudence, and he that speaketh in the eares of them that will heare.

10 Oh, how great is hee that findeth wisdom! yet is there none aboue him, that feareth the Lord.

11 The feare of the Lord passeth all things in clearenesse.

12 Blessed is the man, vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shall he be likened that hath attained it?

13 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of his loue, and faith is the beginning to be ioyned vnto him.

14 The greatest heauines is the heauinesse of the heart, and the greatest malice is the malice of a woman.

15 Giue mee any plague, saue onely the plague of the heart, and any malice, saue the malice of a woman.

16 Or any assault, saue the assault of the heart, or any vengeance, saue the vengeance of the enemy.

17 There is not a more wicked head then the head of the serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of an enemy.

18 I had rather dwell with a lyon and dragon,

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The praise of a good woman. 2 Of the feare of three things and of the fourth. 3 Of the ielous and drunken woman. 29 Of two things that cause sorrow, and of the third which moueth ioy.

Blessed is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shalbe double.

2 An honest woman reioyareth her husband, and shee shall fill the yeeres of his life with peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a good portion which shall be giuen for a gift vnto such as feare the Lord.

4 Whether a man be riche or poore, hee hath a good heart toward the Lord, and they shall at all times haue a chearefull countenance.

5 There bee three things that mine heart feareth, and my face is afraide of the fourth: treason in a citie: the assemblee of the people, and false accusation: all these are heavier then death.

6 But the sorrow and griefe of my heart is a woman that is ielous ouer another: and she that communeth with all, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 An euill wife is as a yoke of oxen that drabe diuers wayes: she that hath her, is as though he helde a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and such as can not be tamed, is a great plague: for shee can not couer her owne shame.

9 The whooredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of her eyes, & eye liddes.

Chap. 41.
11.

10 *If thy daughter be not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest shee abuse her selfe through ouermuch libertie.

11 Take heed of her that hath an vnshamefast eye: and marueile not if she trespass against thee.

12 As one that goeth by the way, and is thirstie, so shal he open her mouth, & drinke of euery next water: by euery hedge shall she sit downe, and open her quier against euery arbolle.

13 The grace of a wife reioyareth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her vnderstanding.

14 A peaceable woman and of a good heart is a gift of the Lord, & there is nothing so much worth as a woman wel instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and there is no weight to bee compared vnto her continent minde.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in high places of the Lord, so is the beautie of a good wife the ornament of her house.

17 As the cleare light is vpon the holy candlesticke, so is the beautie of the face in a ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are faire feete with a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that be laid vpon a strong rocke: so are the commandements of God in the heart of an holy woman.

20 My sonne, keepe the strength of thine age stable, and giue not thy strength to strangers.

21 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the fieldes, so we it with thine owne seede, trusting in thy nobilitie.

22 So thy stock that shall liue after thee, shall growe, trusting in the great liberality of their nobilitie.

23 An harlot is compared to a sorwe: but the wife that is married, is counted as a towre against death to her husband.

24 A wicked woman is giuen as a rewarde to a wicked man: but a godly woman is giuen to him that feareth the Lord.

25 A shamelesse woman contemmeth shame: but a shamefast woman will reuerence her husband.

26 A shamelesse woman is compared to a dogge: but she that is shamefast, reuerenceth the Lord.

27 A woman þat honoureth her husband, shall be iudged wise of all: but shee that despiseth him, shall be blazed for her pride.

28 A tolde crying womā and a babler let her be sought out to daue alway the enemies: the minde of euery man that liueth with such, shall bee conuerlant among the troubles of warre.

29 There bee two thinges that grieue mine heart, & the thirde maketh me angry: a man of warre that suffereth pouertie: and men of vnderstanding that are not set by: & when one departeth from righteousnes vnto sinne: the Lorde appointeth such to the sword.

30 There bee two thinges, which mee thinke to be hard and perilous: A marchāt cannot lightly keepe him from wrong, and a bitailer is not without sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of the poore that would be rich, 5 The poyson of the man that leecheth God, 13 The vncleanliness of a foole, 16 The secretes of friends are not to be betrayed, 26 The wicked imagineth euill which turneth vpon him selfe.

Because of pouertie haue many sinned: and he that seeketh to be rich, turneth his eyes aside.

2 As a naile in the wall sticketh fast betweene the ioyntes of the stones, so doeth sinne sticke betweene the selling and the buying.

3 If he holde him not diligently the feare of the Lorde, his house shall soone bee ouerthrowen.

4 As when one sitteth, the filthines remaineth in the sine, so the filth of man remaineth in his thought.

5 The foznate proueth the potters selfe: so doeth temptation trie mēs thoughts.

6 The fruite declareth if the tree haue bene trimmed: so the word declareth what man hath in his heart.

7 Praise no man except thou haue heard his talke: for this is the tryall of men.

8 If thou followest righteousnes, thou shalt get her, and put her on as a faire garment: and shalt diuel with her, and she shall defend thee for euer: & in the day of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The birds resort vnto their like: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them, that are practised in her.

10 As the lyon waiteth for the beast, so doeth sinne vpon them that do euill.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is all wisdom: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscrete, observe the time, but haunt still the assemblee of them that are wise.

13 The talking of fooles is grievous, and their sport is in the pleasure of sinne.

14 The talke of him that sweareth much, maketh the heare to stande by: and to strue with such, stoppeth the eares.

15 The strife of the proude is blood shedding, and their scoldings are grievous to heare.

16 Who so discovereth secrets, loseth his credit, and findeth no friend after his will.

17 Loue thy friend, and be faithfull vnto him: but if thou betrayest his secrets, thou shalt not get him againe.

18 For as a man desireth his enemy, so doest thou destroy the friendship of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so if thou giue ouer thy friende, thou shalt not get him againe.

20 Followe after him no more, for he is too farre off: he is as a roe escaped out of þe snare: for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundes, they may be bounde by againe, and an euill worde may be reconciled: but who so betrayeth the secretes of a friend, hath lost all his credit.

22 He that winketh with the eyes, imagineth euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.

23 When thou art present, he will speake sweetly, and praye thy wordes: but at the last hee will turne his tale, & slander thy saying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill as such one: for the Lorde also hateth him.

25 Who so casteth a stone on hie, casteth it vpon his owne head: and hee that smiteth with guile, maketh a great wounde.

26 Who so diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, & hee that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, & hee that layeth a snare for another, shall be taken in it him selfe.

27 He that worketh euill, shall be wraped in euill, and shall not know from where they come vnto him.

28 Hockerie and repoeche followe the proude, and vengeance lurketh for them as a lyon.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Despite and anger are abominable things, and the sinful man is subiect to them both.

2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that hee hath done to thee, so shall thy finnes be forgiven thee also, when thou prayest.

3 Shoulde a man beare hatred against man, and desire forgiveness of the Lord:

4 He wil shew no mercy to a man, which is like himselfe: and will he alke forgiveness of his owne finnes:

5 If he that is but flesh, nourish hatred, and alke pardon of God, who wil intreate for his finnes:

6 Remember the ende, and let enmitie passe: imagine not death and destruction to another through anger, but perseuere in the commandementes.

7 Remember the commandementes: so shalt thou not be rigorous against thy neighbour: consider diligently the covenant of the most high, and forgiue his ignorance.

8 Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy finnes fewer: for an angry man kindlyeth strife.

9 And þe full man disquieteth friends, and bringeth in false accusations among the
that be at peace.

10 As the matter of the fire is, so it burn-eth, and mans anger is according to his pouder: and according to his riches his anger increaseth, and the more belement the anger is, the more he is inflamed.

11 An hasty brabbling kindlyeth a fire, and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood: a tongue that beareth false witness, bringeth death.

12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne:
if thou spit vpon it, it shall be quenched, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 Abhorre the slanderer and double tongued: for such haue destroyed many that were at peace.

14 The double tongue hath disquieted many, & diuen them from nation to nation:
strong cities hath it broken downe, & ouer-throwen the houses of great men: strength of the people hath it brought downe, & bene
the decay of mightie nations.

15 The double tongue hath cast out many vertuous women, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto it, shall neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell quietly.

17 The stroke of the rod maketh marks in the flesh, but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.

18 There be many that haue perished by the edge of the sword, but not so many as haue fallen by the tongue.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which hath not dwelt in that yoke, neither hath bene bound in the bands thereof.

20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of yron, and the bands of it are bands of brasle.

21 The death thereof is an euill death: he were better then such one.

22 It shall not haue rule ouer them that feare God, neither shall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

23 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein: and it shall burne them, and no man shall bee able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a lyon, and deuoure them as a leopard.

24 Hedge thy possession with thornes, & make doozes and barres for thy mouth.

25 Wynde by thy silver and golde, and weigh thy wordes in a balance, and make a dooze and a barre, and a sure bridle for thy mouth.

26 Beware that thou slide not by it, and so fall before him that lieth in waite, & thy fall be incurable, euen vnto death.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 Doe lende money, and doe almes. 15 A faithfull man answering for his friende. 24 The poore mans life.

He that wil shew mercy, lendeth to his neighbour: & hee that hath pouder ouer himself, keepeth the commandementes.

2 Lende to thy neighbour in time of his neede, and paye thou thy neighbour againe in due season.

3 Keepe thy word, and deale faithfully with him, and thou shalt allway finde the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many when a thing was lent them, reckened it to be founde, and grieved them that had helped them.

5 Till they receiue, they kisse his hands, and for their neighbours good they humble their voyce: but when they shoulde paye again, they prolong the terme, and giue a carelesse answer, and make excuses by reason of the time.

6 And though he bee able, yet giueth he fear the halfe againe, and reckoneth the other as a thing found: else he deceiteth him of his money, and maketh him an enemye without a cause: he payeth him with curling and rebuke, and giueth him euill wordes for his good deede.

7 There be many which refuse to lende defrauded without cause.

8 Yet haue thou patience with him that humblyeth him selfe, and deferre not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poore for þe commandementes sake, and turne him not away, because of his pouertie.

10 Lose thy money for thy brothers and neighbours sake, and let it not rust vnder a stone to thy destruction.

11 * Beskow the treasure after the commandement of the most high, and it shall bring thee more profit then gold.

12 Lave þy thine * almes in thy secreete chambers, and it shall keepe thee from all affliction.

13 A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of the eye, & afterwarde shall it ayle, & pay euery man his rewarde vpon his head.

14 He shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shilde of a strong man, or heare of the mightie.

15 An honest man is a suretie for his neighbour: but he that is impudent, forsaketh him.

16 Forget not the friendship of thy suretie: for he hath laide his life for thee.

17 The wicked despiseth the good deede of his suretie.

18 The wicked will not become suretie: and he that is of an vnthankful minde, forsaketh him that deliuered him.

19 Some man promisseth for his neyghbour: and when he hath lost his honestie, he will forsake him.

20 Suretishippe hath destroyed many a rich man, and remoued them as the waues of the sea: mightie men hath it drinen away from their houses, and caused them to wander among strange nations.

21 A wicked man transgressing the commandementes of the Lorde, shall fall into suretishippe: and hee that medleth much with other mens businesse, is intangled in controuersies.

22 C helpe thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not.

23 The chiefe thing of life is water, and bread, and clothing, and lodging to couer thy thame.

24 The poore mans life in his owne lodge is better then delicate fare in another mans.

25 Be it little or much, holde thee contented, that the house speake not euill of thee.

26 For it is a miserable life to goe from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darest not open thy mouth.

27 Thou shalt lodge and feede vnthankfull men, and after shalt haue bitter wordes for the same, [saying,]

28 Come, thou stranger, and prepare the table, and feede me of that thou hast readie.

29 Giue place, thou stranger, to an honourable man: my brother cometh to bee lodged, and I haue neede of mine house.

30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, the blyssaying of the house, and the reproch of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the commoditie of health, 17 Death is better then a sorrowfull life, 22 Of the toy and sorrowe of the heart.

He that loueth his sonne, * causeth him oft to feele the rodde, that hee may haue ioy of him in the ende.

2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and shall reioyce of him among his acquaintance.

3 Hee that * teacheth his sonne, griueneth the enemye, and before his friendes hee shall reioyce of him.

4 Though his father die, yet is hee as though hee were not dead: for hee hath left one behinde him that is like him.

5 In his life he saue him, and had ioy in him, and was not ioy in his death, neither was he ashamed before his enemies.

6 He left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and one that shoulde shewe fauour vnto his friendes.

7 He that flattereth his sonne, bindeth by his woundes, and his heart is grieved at euery crye.

8 An vntamed horse will bee stubburne, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring by thy sonne delicately, he shall make thee afraide: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauines.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou bee sorie with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the ende.

11 * Giue him no libertie in his yowth, and winke not at his folie.

12 Bow down his necke while he is yong, & beate him on the sides, while he is a childe, lest he waxe stubburne, and bee disobedient vnto thee, and so bring sorrow to thine heart.

13 Chastise thy childe, & be diligent therein, lest his thame grieve thee.

14 C Better is the poore, being whole and strong, then a rich man that is afflicted in his bodie.

15 Health and strength is aboue all golde, and a whole bodie aboue infinite treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sounde body, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.

CHAP. XXXI.

Of couetousnesse. * Of them þat take paine to gather riches. * The pappe of a rich man without a faulte, is like to flee vnto himnesse and folloze sobernesse.

Waking after * riches pineth away the body, & the care thereof driueth away sleepe.

2 This waking care breaketh the sleepe, as a great sicknesse breaketh the sleepe.

3 The riche hath great labour in gathering riches together, and in his rest he is filled with pleasures.

4 The poore labourereth in liuing poorely, and when he leaueth off, he is still poore.

5 He that loueth gold, shall not be iustified, and hee that follogeth corruption, shall haue pynough thereof.

6 *Many are destroyed by the reason of golde, and haue founde their destruction before them.

7 It is as a stumbling blocke vnto them that sacrifice vnto it, and euery foole is taken therewith.

8 Blessed is the * riche which is founde without blemish, and hath not gone after gold, nor hoped in money and treasures.

9 Who is he, and we will commend him: for wonderfull things hath he done among his people.

10 Who hath bene tried thereby, & found perfit: let him bee an example of glory: who might offend, and hath not offended, or doe euill, and hath not done it.

11 Therfore shal his goods be stablished, and the congregatiō shal declare his almes.

12 If thou sit at a coslie table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, Behold much meate.

13 Remember þan euill eye is a theiwe: and what thing created is worse then a wicked eye: for it weepeth for euery cause.

14 Stretch not thine hand wherefoeuer it looketh, & thrust it not with it into þe dish.

15 Consider by thy selfe him that is by thee, and marke euery thing.

16 Eate modestly that which is set before thee, and denoure not, lest thou be hated.

17 Leane thou off first for murders sake, and be not insatiable, lest thou offend.

18 When thou sittest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.

19 *Holde life is sufficient for a man well taught: and thereby hee belcheth not in his chamber, nor feelth any payne.

20 A whole some sleepe cometh of a temperate bellie: hee riseth vp in þe morning, and is well at ease in him selfe: but paine in watching and cholericke diseases, and pangis of the belly are with an insatiable man.

21 If thou hast bene forced to eate, arise, goe forth, * bonit, and then take thy rest: so thou shalt bring no sicknesse vnto thy body.

22 If sonne, heare mee, and despise mee not, & at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in all thy workes be quicke, so that there no sicknesse come vnto thee.

23 *Who so is liberal all in his meate, men shall blesse him: and the testimonie of his honestie shalbe beleueed.

24 But against him that is a nigarde of his meate, the whole cite shal murmure: the testimonies of his nigaridnesse shalbe sure.

25 Shewe not thy baliantnesse in wine: for wine hath destroyed many.

26 The foznace pouereth the edge in the tempering: so doeth wine the heartes of the proude by drunkennesse.

27 *Wine soberly drunken, is profitable for the life of man: what is his life that is ouertome with wine?

28 Wine was made from the beginning: to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse: wine measurably drunken and in time, bringeth gladnesse and cherfulness of the minde.

29 But wine drunken with exesse, maketh bitternesse of minde with brawlings and scouldings.

30 Drunkennesse increaseth the courage of a foole, till hee offende: it diminisheth his strength and maketh woundes.

If thou be made the master of the feast, || lift not thy selfe vp, but be among them, as one of the rest: take diligent care for them, and so sit downe.

2 And when thou hast done all thy dutie, sit downe, that thou mayest bee merry with them, and receiue a crowne for thy good behauiour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder: for it becommeth thee, but with sounde iudgement, and vnder not musike.

5 The content of musicians at a banquet is as a signet of carbuncle set in golde.

6 And as the signet of an emeraude well trimmed with gold, so is the melodie of musike in a pleasant banquet.

7 Giue care, and be stil, and for thy good behauiour thou shalt be loued.

8 Thou that art yong, speake if neede be, and yettaskely when thou art wise asked.

9 Comprehend much in fewe wordes: in many things be as one that is ignorant: be as one that vnderstandeth, and yet holde thy tongue.

10 If thou bee among * great men, compare not thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, babble not much.

11 Before the thunder goeth lightning, and before a shamefast man goeth fauour.

13 And there take thy pastime, and doe what thou wilt, so that thou doe none euill, or vsproude wordes.

14 But aboute all things, giue thankes vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goods.

15 Who so feareth the Lord, will receiue his doctrine, and they that rise early, shall finde fauour.

16 He that seeketh the Lawe, shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lord, shall finde that which is righteous, and shall kindle iustice as a light.

18 An vngodly man will not bee reformed, but findeth out excuses according to his will.

19 A man of vnderstanding despyseth not counsell: but a lewde and proude man is not touched with feare, euen whē he hath done rashly.

20 My sonne, doe nothing without aduise: so shalt it not repent thee after the dedde.

21 Goe not in the way where thou mayest fall, nor where thou mayest stumble among the stones, neither trust thou in the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thine owne chidren, and take heede of them that be thine owne household.

23 In euery good worke be of a faithfull heart: for this is the keeping of the commandements.

7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing that the light of the dayes of the yere come of the sunne?

9 Some of the hath he chosen and sanctified, and some of them hath hee put among the dayes to number.

9 A man that is instructed, vnderstand-

3 The knowledge of the Physitian lieth by his head, and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

4 The Lord hath created medicines of the earth, and hee that is wise, will not abhorre them.

5 Was not the water made sweete with wood, & men might knowe || vertue thereof?

6 So hee hath giuen men knowledge, & hee might bee glorified in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doth hee heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doeth the apothecarie make a confection, and yet hee can not finish his owne workes: for of the Lord cometh profit and welth ouer all the earth.

9 Hy sonne, faile not in thy sickness, but *pray vnto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

10 Leane off from sinne, and order thine handes aright, and cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Offer sweete incense, and fine stozhe for a remembrance: make the offering fat, for thou art not the || first giuer.

12 Then giue place to the Physitian: for the Lord hath created him: let him not goe from thee, for thou hast neede of him.

13 The house may come, that their enterpryses may haue good successe.

14 For they also shall pray vnto || the Lord, that he would prosper that, which is giuen for ease, & their physike for the prolonging of life.

15 Hee that sinneth before his maker, let him fall into the hands of the Physitian.

16 Hy sonne, *proue soorth teares ouer the dead, and beginne to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered great harme thy self, & then couer his body according to || his appointment, and neglect not his buriall.

17 Make a grievous lamentation, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as he is worthy, and that, a day or two, least thou be euill spoken of, and then comfort thy selfe for thine heauines.

18 For of heauines cometh death, and the heauines of the heart breaketh the strength.

19 Of the affection of the heart cometh sorow, and the life of him that is afflicted, is according to his heart.

20 Take no heauines to heart: drine it away and remember the last end.

21 Forget it not: for there is no turning againe: thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement: thine also shall be like wise, vnto me yesterday, and vnto thee to day.

19 The workes of al flesh are befoze him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 Hee seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing wonderfull vnto him.

21 A man neede not to say, what is this? wherefore is that: for hee hath made all things for their owne vse.

22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysen the earth like a flood.

23 As hee hath turned the waters into saltnes, so shall the heathen feelee his wrath.

24 As his wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust, so are they stumbling blockes to the wicked.

25 ¶ For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the sinners.

26 ¶ The principall things for the whole vse of mans life is water, fyre, and yron, and salt, and meale, wheat and hony, and milke, the blood of the grape, and oyle, and clothyng.

27 All these things are for good to the godly: but to the sinners they are turned vnto euill.

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, which in their rigour lay on sore strokes: in the time of destruction they shew forth their powder, and accomplish his wrath of him that made them.

29 ¶ Fire, and hayle, and famine, & death: all these are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wilde beastes, and the scorpions, and the serpents, and the sword be created for the destruction of the wicked.

31 They shalbe glad to do his commandments: and when neede is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commandment.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought on these things, and haue put the in writing.

33 ¶ All the workes of the Lord are good, and hee giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is:

34 So that a man neede not to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all worthy prayse.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, and blesse his name of the Lord.

Creaturall is created for all men, & an heauie yoke vpon the sonnes of Adam from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, vnto the day that they returne to the mother of all things.

2 ¶ Namely their thoughts, and feare of the heart, and their imagination of things they wayte for: and the day of death,

3 From him that sitteth vpon the glorious throne, vnto him that is beneath in the earth and ashes:

4 From him that is clothed in blew silk, and weareth a crowne, euen vnto him that is clothed in simple linnen.

5 Wrath and enmie, trouble, and vnquietnes and feare of death, and rigour, & strife, & in the time of rest the sleepe in the night vpon his bed, change his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward in sleeping hee is as in a watchtowre in the day: hee is troubled with the visions of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battell.

7 And when all is safe, he awaketh, and maruelleth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things come vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly:

9 Moreover, death and blood, and strife, and sword, oppression, famine, destruction, and punishment.

10 These things are all created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood also.

11 ¶ All things that are of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: and they that are of waters, shall returne into the sea.

12 ¶ All bydes and vnrighteousnes shall be put away: but faithfulness shall endure for ever.

13 The substance of the vngodly shall be dyed by like a river, and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

14 When he openeth his hand, he reioyceth: but all the transgressours that come to naught.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obtaine many branches: for the vncleane rootes are as vpon the high rockes.

16 Their tender stalks by what water soeuer it be of water banke, it shall be pulled vp before all other herbes.

17 ¶ Friendlines is as a most plentiful garden of pleasure, and mercie endureth for ever.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 2 Death is not to be feared. 3 A curse vpon them that forsake the Lawe of God. 12 Good name and fame. 14 An exhortation to giue heede vnto wisdom. 17 What thinges a man ought to be ashamed.

Death holde bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that lieth at rest in his possessions, but to the man that hath nothing to bere him, and that hath prosperitie in all things: yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate.

2 O death, how acceptable is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, & vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in the last age, and is bered with all thinges, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!

3 Feare not the iudgement of death: remember them that haue bene before thee, & that come after: this is the ordinance of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldst thou be against pleasure of the most high: whether it bee tenne or an hundred, or a thousand yeres, there is no defence for life against graue.

5 The childzen of the vngodly are abominable childzen, and so are they & keepe companie with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly childzen shall perish, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetuall shame.

7 The childzen complaine of an vngodly father, because they are reproched for his sake.

8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forsaken the Lawe of the most high God: for though you increase, yet shall you perish.

9 If ye be borne, ye shalbe borne to cursing: if ye die, the curse shalbe your portion.

10 All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so the vngodly goe from the curse to destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their body, yet the wicked name of the vngodly shalbe put out.

12 Haue regard to thy name: for that shal continue with thee aboue a thousande treasures of golde.

13 A good life hath the dayes numbred: but a good name endureth euer.

14 My childzen, keepe wisdom in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profite is in them both.

15 A man that hideth his foolishnes, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore beare reuerence vnto my words: for it is not good in all things to be ashamed: neither are all things allowed as faithfull in all men.

17 Be ashamed of whoso dome before father and mother: be ashamed of lies before the prince and men of authority.

18 Of sinne before the iudge and ruler: of offence before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnes before a companion and friend.

19 And of theft before the place where thou dwellest, and before the trust of God and his couenaunt: and to leane with thine elboles vpon the bread, or to bee reproued for giuing or taking.

20 And of silence vnto them that salute thee, and to looke vpon an harlot,

21 And to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: or to take away a portion or a gift, or to be euil minded toward an other mans wife, wordes.

16 The ſunne that ſhineth, looketh vpon all thinges, and all the wordes thereof are full of the glorie of the Lord.

17 Hath not the Lord appointed that his Saints ſhould declare all his wonderous wordes, which the almightie Lord hath ſtabliſhed to confirme all thinges by in his maieltie:

18 He ſeeketh out the depth, & the heart, and hee knoweth their practiſes: for the Lord knoweth all ſcience, and hee beholdeth the ſignes of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are paſt, and for to come, and diſcloſeth the pathes of things that are ſecret.

20 No thought may eſcape him, neither may any word be hid from him.

21 He hath garniſhed excellent wordes of his wiſedome, and he is from eueraſting to eueraſting, & for ever: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be miniſhed: hee hath no neede of any counſeler.

22 Oh, how delectable are all his wordes, and to bee conſidered euen vnto the ſparkes of fire!

24 They are all double, one againſt another: hee hath made nothing that hath any faulte.

15 In his powder hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the haile stones.

16 The mountaines leape at the sight of him: the Southwinde bloweth according to his will.

17 The sound of his thunder beatech the earth: so doth the storme of the North: the Whirlewinde also, as birdes that flie, scattereth the snowe, and the falling downe thereof is as the grasshoppers that light downe.

20 When the cold North wind bloweth, an yce is frozen of the water, it abideth vpon all the gatherings together of water, & closeth the waters as with a breastplate.

21 It deuoureth the mountaines, & burneth the whidrenes, & destroperth that that is Greene, like fyre.

22 The remedie of al these is whē a cloud cometh hasty, and when a delue cometh vpon the heat, it refresheth it.

23 By his word he stilleth the wind: by his counsell hee appeaseth the deepe, & planteth ylandes therein.

24 They that sayle ouer the sea, tell of the perils thereof, and when we heare it w our eares, we maruelle thereat.

29 The Lord is terrible, and very great, Psal. 64. and maruelous is his powder.

30 Praise the Lord, and magnifie him as much as ye can, yet doeth hee farre exceede: exalt him with all your powder, and bee not wearie, yet can ye not attaine vnto it.

The prayse of certaine holy men, Enoch, Ioseph, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

But vs no man commed the famous men, and our fathers, of whome we are begotten.

2 The Lord hath gotten great gloze by them, and that through his great powder from the beginning.

3 They haue borne rule in their kingdomes, & were renowned for their powder, and were wise in counsell, and declared prophesies.

4 * They gouerned the people by counsell and by the knowledge of learning meete for the people, in whose doctrine were wise sentences. Eccl. 1. 23.

5 They inuented the melodie of musike, & expounded the verses that were written.

6 They were rich and mightie in powder, and liued quietly at home.

7 All these were honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 There are of them that haue left a name behind them, so that their praise shall be spoken of.

9 There are some also which haue no memoriall, and are perished, as though they had neuer bene, and are become as though they had neuer bene borne, and their children after them. Gen. 2. 21.

10 But the former were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not bene forgottē.

11 For whose posteritie a good inheritance is reserved, and their seede is conteyned in the couenant.

12 Their stocke is contained in the couenant, and their posteritie after them.

13 Their seede shal remaine for euer, and their praise shall neuer be taken away.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore.

15 The people speake of their wisdom, and the congregation talke of their praise.

16 Enoch pleased the Lord God: therefore was he translated for an example of repentance to the generations.

17 Noe was found perfect, and in the time of wrath he had a rewarde: therefore was he left as a remnant vnto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An euerlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.

19 Abraham was a great father of many people: in gloire was there none like vnto him.

20 He kept the Lawe of the most high, & was in covenant with him, and he set the covenant in his flesh, and in tentation he was found faithfull.

21 Therefore he assured him by an othe, that he would blesse the nations in his seed, and that hee woulde multiplie him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seede as the starrs, and cause them to inherite from sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the ende of the worlde.

22 With Isaac did he confirme like wife for Abraham his fathers sake, the blessing of all men, and the covenant.

23 And caused it to rest vpon the head of Jacob, and made himselfe knowne by his blessings, and gaue him an heritage and deuised his portions, & parted them among the twelue tribes.

24 And he brought out of him a mercifull man, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

CHAP. XLV.
The prayer of Moyses, Aaron, and Phinees.

AND Moyses, the beloued of God and men, brought hee forth, whose remembrance is blessed.

2 Hee made him like to the glorious Saints, and magnified him by the feare of his enemies.

3 By his wordes hee caused the wonders to cease, and hee made him glorious in the sight of Kinges, and gaue him commandements for his people, and shewed him his gloire.

4 He sanctified him with faithfulness, and meekenes, and chose him out of all men.

5 Hee caused him to heare his voyce, and brought him into the darke cloude, & there he gaue him the commandements before his face, euen the Lawe of life & knowledge, that he might teach Jacob the covenant, and Israel his iudgements.

6 Hee exalted Aaron an holie man like vnto him, euen his brother of the tribe of Levi.

7 An euerlasting covenant made he with him, and gaue him the priesthoode among the people, and made him blessed through his conely ornament, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with ornaments of strength, as with breeches, and a tunicle, and an ephod.

9 He compassed him about with belles of golde, and with many belles round about, that when he went in, the sound might be heard, and might make a noise in the Sanctuary, for a remembrance to the children of Israel his people.

10 And with an holie garment, with gold also, and blew silke, and purple, and diuers kinds of woakes, and with a breastplate of iudgement, and with the signes of truth.

11 And with woork of scarlet cunningly wrought, and with precious stones grauen like scales, and set in golde by goldsmithes woork for a memorizall, with a writing grauen after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 And with a crowne of golde vpon the mitre, bearing the forme and marke of holynes, an ornament of honour, a noble woork garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there no such faire ornaments: there might no stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices were wholly consumed euery day twise continually.

15 Moyses filled his hands, and anointed him with holy oyle: this was appointed vnto him by an euerlasting covenant, and to his seede, so long as the heauens should remaine, that hee should minister before him, & also to execute the office of the priesthoode, and blesse his people in his name.

16 Before all men liuing the Lord chose him that hee should present offerings before him, and a sweete sauer for a remembrance to make reconciliation for his people.

17 He gaue him also his commandements and authoritie according to the Lawes appointed, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and giue light vnto Israel by his Lawe.

18 Strangers stood by against him, and enuied him in the wilderness, euen the men that tooke Dathans & Abirams part, and the companie of Coze in furie and rage.

19 This a That was, either put into his hand the booke of the Law written to reade vnto the people, or els some sacrifice that hee might offer vnto God for their offences.

Num. 16. 1, 2.

19 This the Lord saw, & it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: he did wonders vpon them, and consumed them with the fire flame.

20 But hee made Aaron more honorable, and gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruits of the first borne vnto him: vnto him specially hee appoynted breade in abundance.

21 For the [priests] did eate of the sacrifices of the Lord, which hee gaue vnto him and to his seede.

23 The thirde in glory is * Whinees the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeale in the feare of the Lord, & stood by with good courage of heart, when the people were turned backe, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chiefe of the Sanctuarie and of his people, and that hee and his posteritie should haue the dignitie of the Priesthood for ever.

25 And according to the couenant made with Dauid, that the inheritance of the kingdom should remaine to his sonne of the tribe of Iuda: so the heritage of Aaron should be to the only sonne of his sonne, and to his seede. God giue vs wisdom in our heart to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that the good things that they haue, bee not abolished, and that their glorie may endure for their posteritie.

The prayse of Josue, Caleb, and Samuel.

I Josue. Num. 27. 18. de. 34. 9. i. 1. 2. 3. 4. and 12. 7.

I Josue * the sonne of Naue was valiant in the warres, and was the successeur of Moyses in prophesies, who according vnto his name, was a great sauiour of the elect of God, to take vengeance of the enemies that rose vp against them, and to set Israel in their inheritance.

I Jos. 1. 1.

2 What glorie gate hee, when hee lift vp his hand, and dyed out his sword agaynst the cities:

I Jos. 10. 13. 13. 14.

4 * Stoode not the sunne still by his meanes, and one day was as long as two:

5 he called vnto the most high Gouvernor when the enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lord heard him with the hailstones, & with mightie power.

I Jos. 10. 11.

6 He rushed in vpon the nations in battell, and in the going downe [of Bethoron] hee destroyed the aduersaries, that they might know his weapons, & that he fought in the sight of the Lord: so he followed the Almighty.

7 * In the time of Moyses also hee did a good worke: he and Caleb the sonne of Iephune stood against the enemy, and witheld the people from sinne, and appealed the wicked murmuring.

8 * And of five hundred thousand people of foote, they two were preferred to bring them into the heritage, euen into the lande that floweth with milke and honye.

9 * The Lord gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his old age, so that he went vp into the high places of the land and his seede obtained it for an heritage.

I Jos. 14. 11.

10 That all the children of Israel might see, that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 Concerning the Iudges, euery one by name, whose heart went not a whooring, nor departed from the Lord, their memorie be blessed.

I Jos. 1. 1.

12 Let their bones flourish out of their place, & their names by successio remaine to the that are most famous of their children.

14 By the Lawe of the Lord hee iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Jacob.

15 This prophet was approued for his faithfulness, and he was knowne saythfull in his wordes and visions.

I Sam. 7. 9. 10. 11.

16 He called vpon the Lord Almighty, when his enemies pressed vpon him on euery side, when he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lord thundred from heauen, and made his voice to be heard with a great noyse.

18 So hee discōfited the princes of the Tyrians, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

19 * And before his long sleepe hee made protestation in the sight of the Lord, and his anointed, that he tooke no substance of any man, no, not so much as a shoe, and no man could accuse him.

¶ Dauid, was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

1. Sam. 17. 3 *Hee played with the lions, as with kiddes, and with beares, as with lambes.

1. Sam. 17. 4 *Siclike hee not a ggrant when hee was yet but yong, and tooke away the rebuke from the people, when hee lift vp his hande with the stone in the sling, to beate downe the pride of Goliath.

5 For hee called vpon the most high Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hand, to slay that mightie Warriour, and that hee might set vp the home of his people againe.

6 *So he gaue him the praise of ten thousand, and honoured him with great prayles, and gaue him a crowne of glorie.

7 *For he destroyed the enemies on euery side, and rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their home in sunder vnto this day.

8 In all his workes hee prayled the holy one, and the most high with honourable wordes, and with his whole heart hee sung songs, and loued him that made him.

9 He let fingers also before the altar, and according to their tune hee made swete songs, that they might praise [God] dayly with their songs.

10 Hee ordeyned to keepe the feast dayes comely, and appoynted the times perfectly, that they might prayse the holy Name of God, and make the Temple to sound in the morning.

11 The Lord tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his home for euer: he gaue him the covenant of the kingdome, and the throne of glorie in Israel.

12 After him rose vp a wise sonne, who by him dwelt in a large possession.

13 *Salomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was glorious: for God made all quiet round about, that he might build an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer.

14 *Holbe wise wast thou in thy youth, and wast filled with vnderstanding as with a flood!

15 Thy minde couered the whole earth, and hath filled it with graue and darke sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroade in the ples, and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 *The countries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbes, and similitudes, and interpretations.

18 By the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou hast *gathered golde as sinne, and hast had as much siluer as lead.

19 *Thou diddest bow thy loynes to women, and wast ouercome by thy bodie.

20 Thou diddest staine thine honour, and hast defiled thy posteritie, and hast brought wrath vpon thy children, and hast feir sorrow for thy folie.

21 *So the kingdome was deuided, and Ephraim beganne to bee a rebellious kingdome.

22 *Neuertheles the Lord left not off his mercie, neither was hee destroyed for his workes, neither did hee abolish the posteritie of his elect, nor tooke away the seede of him that loued him, but hee left a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote of him vnto Dauid.

23 Thus rested Salomon with his fathers, & of his seede he left behinde him Roboam, euen the foolishnes of the people, and one that had no vnderstanding, *who turned away the people through his counsell, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which caused Israel to sinne, & shewed Ephraim the way of sinne.

24 So that their sinnes were so much increased, that they were driuen out of the lande.

25 For they sought out all wickednes, till the vengeance came vpon them.

¶ When stode vp || Elias the Prophet as a fire, & his worde burnt like a lampe.

2 He brought a famine vpon them, and by his seale hee diminished them: for they might not away with the commandements of the Lord.

3 By the worde of the Lord hee shut the heauen, and three times brought hee the fire from heauen.

4 O Elias, how honourable art thou by thy wonderous deedes! Who may make his boast to be like thee!

5 *Which hast raised vp the dead from death, and by the word of the most high out of the graue:

6 Which hast brought kings vnto destruction, and the honorable from their seate:

7 Which heardst the rebuke of the Lord in Sina, and in Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance:

8 *Which diddest anoint kings that they might recompence, and prophets to be thy successors:

9 *Which wast taken vp in a whirle wind of fire, and in a charet of fire horses:

Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praye the Loyd. 27 The authour of this booke.

Simon
2. Mac. 3. 4.

Or, people.

a Which Salomō made, 1.
King. 7.
23.

Simon the sonne of Onias the hie priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, and in his dayes established the Temple, 2 Under him was the foundation of the double height layed, and the hie walles that compasseth the Temple.

3 In his dayes the places to receiue water, that were decayed, were restored, and the basse was about in measure as the sea.

4 Hee tooke care for his people, that they should not fall, and fortified the citie agaynst the siege.

5 How honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the baile!

6 He was as the morning starre in the midnes of a cloude, and as the moone when it is full,

7 And as the sunne shining vpon the Temple of the most high, and as the rainebow that is bright in the faire cloudes,

8 And as the stowre of the roses in the spring of the yere, and as lilies by the springs of waters, and as the branches of the frankiincense tree in the time of summer,

9 As a fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of masse gold, set with all maner of precious stones,

10 And as a faire olive tree that is fruit-full, and as a cypresse tree, which groweth vp to the cloudes.

11 When he put on the garment of honour and was clothed with all beautie, hee went vp to the holy altar, and made the garment of holines honourable.

12 When he tooke the portions out of the priests hands, he himself stood by the herth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as the branches doe the cedar tree in Libanus, & they compassed him as the branches of the palme trees.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lorde in their hands before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And that he might accomplish his miserie vpon the altar, and garnish the offring of the most high, and almighty,

15 He stretched out his hand to the drinke offring, & poured of the blood of the grape, and he poured at the foote of the altar a perfume of good sauour vnto the most high King of all.

16 Then shewed the sonnes of Aaron, and blowed with brazen trumpets, & made a great noyse to bee heard, for a remembrance before the most high.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces to worshipping their Lord God almighty, and most high.

18 The singers also sang with their voyces, so that the sounde was great, and the melodie sweete.

19 And the people prayed vnto the Lord most high with prayer before him that is mercifull, till the honour of the Lorde were performed, and they had accomplished his seruice.

20 Then went hee downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they shoulde giue praye with their lips vnto the Lorde, and reioyce in his Name.

21 He began againe to worshipping, he might receiue the blessing of the most high.

22 Nowe therefore giue praye al ye vnto God, that workeeth great thinges euery where, which hath increased our dayes fro the wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercie,

23 That he would giue vs ioyfullnesse of heart, and peace in our dayes in Israel, as in olde time,

24 That he would confirme his mercie with vs, and deliuer vs at his time.

25 There bee two maner of people, that mine heart abhorreth, and the third is no people:

26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Scitis.

27 Iesus the sonne of Sirach, [the sonne] of Eleazarus, of Ierusalem, hath written the doctrine of vnderstanding and knowledge in this booke, and hath poured out the wisdom of his heart.

28 Blessed is he that exerciseth him selfe therein: and hee that layeth vp these in his heart, shall be wise.

29 For if he doe these thinges, he shall bee strong in all things: for he setteth his steppes in the light of the Lord, which giveth wise-dome to the goodly. The Lord be prayd for euermore: So be it, so be it.

CHAP. II.

A prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I will confesse thee, O Lorde and King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I giue thanks vnto thy Name.

2 For thou art my defender & helper, and hast preserved my body fro destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue,
and

and from the lippes that are occupied with lyes: thou hast holpen mee against mine aduersaries,

3 And hast deliuered mee according to the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy Names sake, from the roaring of the that were ready to deuoure mee, and out of the handes of such as sought after my life, and fro the manifold afflictions, which I had,

4 And fro the fire that choked me round about, and from the middes of the fire that I burned not,

5 And fro the bottome of the bellie of hel, from an vncleane tongue, fro lying wordes, from false accusation to the King, and from the slander of an vnrighteous tongue.

6 My soule shall praye the Lorde vnto death: for my soule drew neere vnto death: my life was neere to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed mee on euery side, & there was no man to helpe mee: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lorde, and vpon thine actes of olde, holue thou deliuerest such as waite for thee, and sauest them out of the handes of the enemies.

for patient

9 Then lysted I by my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lorde the father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me in the day of my trouble, & in the time of the proud without helpe.

11 I will praye thy Name continually, and will sing praye with thanksgiving: and my prayer was heard.

12 Thou saudest me from the euill time: therefore wil I giue thanks, and praise thee, & blesse the Name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet yong, or ener I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 I prayed for her before the Temple, and sought after her vnto farre countreys, and shee was as a grape that wareth ripe out of the flower.

15 Mine heart reioyced in her: my foote walked in the right way, and fro my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed somewhat dooing mine eare, and receiued her, & gate me much wisdom:

17 And I profited by her: therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him, that giueth me wisdom.

18 For I am aduised to do thereafter: I will be telous of that that is good: so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, & I haue examined my workes: I lifted vp mine hands on hie, and considered the ignorances thereof.

20 I directed my soule vnto her, and I founde her in purenes: I haue had mine heart ioyned with her from the beginning: therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My bowelles are troubled in seeking her: therefore haue I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord hath giuen me a tongue for my rewarde, wherewith I wil praye him.

23 Walke neere vnto me, ye vnlearned, and diuel in the house of learning.

24 Wherfore are ye slowe and what say you of these thinges, seeing your soules are very thirlicke:

25 I opened my mouth, and saide, *Bye 16.55.11 her for you without money.

26 Solue dooing your necke vnder the yoke, and your soule shall receiue instructiō: he is ready that ye may finde her.

27 Behold with your eyes, holue that I haue had but litle labour, & haue gotten vnto me much rest. Chap. 6.18

28 Get learning w a great summe of money: for by her ye shal possesse much gold.

29 Let your soule reioyce in the mercie of the Lorde, and bee not ashamed of his praye.

30 Do your duetie betimes, and hee will giue you a rewarde at his time.

Baruch.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonab and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem for their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

And these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, sonne of Maaias, the sonne of Seraias, the sonne of Aladias, sonne of Helcias wrote

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonab the sonne of Iocim King of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heare the booke,

Baruch.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonab and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem for their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

And these are the wordes of the booke, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, sonne of Maaias, the sonne of Serdecias, the sonne of Aladaias, sonne of Helcias wrote in at Babylon.

2 In the fifth yeere, & in the seventh day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldeans tooke Ierusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this booke, that Iechonab the sonne of Iocim King of Iuda might heare, and all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And

4 And in the audience of the gouernour, & of the Kings sonnes, & before the Elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river | Sid.

[Or, Sid.]

5 Which [when they heard it,] wept, fasted and made prayers before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power,

7 And sent it to Jerusalem vnto Joachim the sonne of Helcias the sonne of Salom Priest, and vnto the other Priestes, and to all the people which were with him at Jerusalem,

8 When he had receiued the vessels of the Temple of the Lord, that were take away out of the Temple, to bring them againe vnto the lande of Iuda, the tenth daye of [the moneth] | Sivan, [to wit,] silver vessels, which Seerias the sonne of Iofias King of Iuda had made,

[Or, Sivan]

9 After that Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon had ledde away Iechonias from Jerusalem, and his Princes, and his nobles, prisoners, and the people, and caried them to Babylon.

10 And they saide, Behold, We haue sent you money, wherewith yee shall bye burnt offerings for sinne, and incense, and prepare a meate offering, and offer vpon the altar of the Lord our God,

[Or, Meate offering, which was the meate offering.]

11 And pray for | life of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and for the life of Baltasar his sonne, that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauen,

12 And that God would giue vs strength and lighten our eyes, that wee may liue vnder the shadowe of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon, and vnder the shadowe of Baltasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto | Lord our God (for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, & vnto this day the furie of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from vs.)

14 And reade this booke (which we haue sent to you to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord) vpon the feast dayes, and at time comenient.

Chap. 3.6.

15 Thus shall ye say, * To the Lord our God [belongeth] righteousness, but vnto vs the confusion of our faces, as it is come to passe this day vnto the of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

16 And to our Kings, and to our Princes, and to our Priestes, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers,

[Or, 3.6.]

17 Because wee haue * sinned before the Lord our God,

18 And haue not obeyed him, neither hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 From the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, euen vnto this day, we haue bene disobedient vnto the Lord our God, and wee haue bene negligent to heare his voyce.

20 * Wherefore these plagues are come vpon vs, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moyses his seruant at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, as | appeareth this day.

Deut. 8. 15.

21 Neuerthelesse, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, according to all the wordes of the Prophets, whom he sent vnto vs.

22 But euery one of vs followed | wicked imagination of his owne heart, to serue strange gods, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

1 The Iewes confesse that they suffer iustly for their sinnes. The true confession of the Christians. 11 The Iewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 32 He promisseth that he will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a newe and euerglasting Testament.

Wherefore | Lord our God hath performed his worde, which he pronounced against vs, & against our iudges that gouerned Israel, and against our Kings, and against our Princes, and against the men of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring vpon vs great plagues, such as neuer came to passe vnder | whole heauen, as they that were done in Jerusalem, according to thinges, that were written in | Law of Moyses,

3 That some among vs should * eate the flesh of his owne sonne, and some the fleshe of his owne daughter.

Deut. 13. 15.

4 Moreover, hee hath deliuered them to be in subiection to al the kingdomes, that are round about vs, to be as a reproche and desolation among all | people round about where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus they are brought beneath and not aboue, because wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not heard his voyce.

6 * To the Lord our God [apperteineth] righteousness, but vnto vs & to our fathers open shame, as | appeareth this day.

Chap. 1. 5.

7 [For] al these plagues are come vpon vs, which the Lord hath pronounced against vs.

8 Yet haue we not prayed before | Lord, that that wee might turne euery one from the imaginations of his olde wicked heart.

9 So the Lorde hath watched ouer the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them vpon vs: for the Lord is righteous in al his workes, which he hath commanded vs.

10 Yet we haue not hearkened vnto his voyce, to walke in the commandements of the Lord that he hath giuen vnto vs.

Dan. 9.15.

11 * And now, O Lorde God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mightie hand, and an hie arme, and with signes, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thy selfe a Name, as appeareth this day, 12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned: we haue done wickedly: we haue offended in al thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turne from vs: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliuer vs for thine olde sake, and giue vs fauour in the sight of them, which haue led vs alway, 15 That all the earth may knowe that thou art O Lord our God, & that thy Name is called vpon Israel and vpon their posteritie.

16 Therefore looke downe from thine holy Temple, and thinke vpon vs: endline thine care, O Lord, and heare vs.

[Or glory,

of right-

17 * Open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the graues, & whose soules are out of their bodies, * giue vnto the Lord neither praise, nor righteousnes.

18 But the soule that is bered for greatnes of sinne, and he that goeth crookedly, and weake, and the eyes that faile, and the hungry soule will giue thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

19 For wee doe not require mercie in thy sight, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, or of our kings.

20 But because I hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, as thou hast spoken by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

[Or, by the hand of thy seruants.

Ier. 27. 7.

21 * Thus saith the Lord, Solue downe your shoulders, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remaine in the lande, that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if ye will not heare the voyce of I Lord, to serue the king of Babylon, 23 I wil cause to cease in the cities of Iuda, and in Ierusalem, I wil cause to cease the voyce of myn, and the voyce of ioy, and the voyce of the bridegrome, and the voyce of the byde, and the land shalbe desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken vnto thy voyce, to serue the King of Babylon: therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruants the Prophets: namely, that bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should bee carried out of their places.

25 And loe, they are cast out to the heate of the day, and to the colde of the night, and are dead in great miserie with famine, and with the sword, and in banishment.

26 And the Temple wherein thy Name was called vpon, thou hast brought to the state, as [appeareth] this day, for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs according to equitie, and according to all thy great mercie,

28 As thou spakest by thy seruant Moyses, in the day when thou diddest command him to write thy Lawe before the children of Israel, saying,

29 * If ye wil not obey my voyce, the shall this great swarme and multitude be turned into a very felle among the nations where I will scatter them.

30 For I know that they will not heare me: for it is a stiffnecked people: but in the lande of their captiuitie they shall remember them selues, 31 And knowe that I am the Lord their God: then wil I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares.

32 And they shall heare, and prayse me in the lande of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their hard backs, and from their euill workes: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them againe into I land, which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and they shalbe lords of it: and I will increase them, & they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an euertlasting covenant with them, that I will bee their God, and they shalbe my people: and I wil no more drie my people of Israel out of the lande that I haue giuen them.

CHAP. III.

1 The people continually in their prayer begun for their deliuerance, 2 He prayeth wisdom vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof, 36 Truly God was the funder of wisdom, 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

Lord almighty, O God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirite that is bered, cryeth vnto thee.

2 Heate,

2 Here, O Lord, and haue mercie: for thou art mercifull, and haue pittie vpon vs, because we haue sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for euer, and we bitterly perishe.

4 O Lord almightie, the God of Israel, heare now þy prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of thee their God, wherefore these plagues hang vpon vs.

5 Remember not the wickednes of our fathers, but thinke vpon thy powder, and thy Name at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praye.

7 And for this cause hast thou put thy feare in our hearts, that we should call vpon thy Name, and praye thee in our captiuitie: for wee haue considered in our mindes all the wickednes of our fathers, that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where thou hast scattered vs, to be a reproch and a curse, and subiect to paines, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which are departed fro þy Lord their God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life: hearken vnto them, that thou maiest learne wisdom.

10 What is the cause, O Israel, that thou art in thine enemies lande, and art barren old in a strange countrey?

11 And art defiled with þy dead: and art counted with them, that go down to the graues:

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountaine of wisdom.

13 [For] if thou haddest walked in the way of God, thou shouldst haue remained safe for euer.

14 Learne where is wisdom, where is strength, where is vnderstanding, that thou maiest knowe also from whence cometh long continuance, and life, and where the light of the eyes, and peace is.

15 Who hath found out her place: or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth:

17 They that had their pasture with the fowles of heauen, that hunted by silver and golde, wherein men trust, and made none ende of their gatheringe:

18 For they that cōnyed silver, and were so carefull of their worke, and whose inuention had none ende,

19 Are come to naught, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steades.

20 When they were yong, they salued the light, and dwelt vpon the earth: but they vnderstoode not the way of knowledge, 21 Neither perceined the paths thereof, neither haue their children receiued it: but they were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not bene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it bene seene in Theman, 23 Nor the Agarines that sought after wisdom vpon the earth, nor the marchants of Hecran, and of Theman, nor the exporters of fables, nor the searchoers out of wisdom haue knowen the way of wisdom, neither do they thinke vpon þy paths thereof.

24 O Israel, howe great is the house of God! how large is þy place of his possession!

25 It is great, and hath none ende: it is hie, and vnumerable.

26 There were the gyantes, famous fro the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gaue he the way of knowledge vnto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their owne foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen, to take her, and brought her downe from þy cloudes:

30 Who hath gone ouer þy sea, to finde her, and hath brought her, rather the fine golde:

31 No man knoweth her wayes, neither considereth her paths.

32 But he þy knoweth all things, knoweth her, and he hath found her out with his vnderstanding: this fame is he which hath prepared the earth for euermore, and hath filled it with foure footed beasts.

33 Whē he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when hee calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 And the starres shine in their watch, and reioyce when he calleth them, they say, here we be: and so with chearefulness they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 He hath found out all þy way of knowledge, and hath giuen it vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward he was seene vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

CHAP. IIII.

The rewardes of them that keepe the Law, and the punishment of them that despise it. 1 A comfiting of the people being in captiuitie. 19 A complaint of Ierusalem and vnder the figure thereof of the Church. 25 A consolation and comfiting of the same.

This is the booke of the commandements of God, and the Lawe that endureth for euer: all they that keepe keepe it, shall come to life: but such as forsake it, shall dye.

2 Turne thee, O Iacob, and take holde of it: walke by this bightnes before I light thereof.

3 Giue not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable vnto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, we are blessed: for I things that are acceptable vnto God, are declared vnto vs.

5 Be of good comfort, O my people, which art the memorial of Israel.

6 We are sold to the nations, not for your destruction: but because yee prouoked God to wrath, yee were deliuered vnto the enemies.

7 For ye haue displeased him that made you, offering vnto deuils and not to God.

8 We haue forgottē him that created you, euen the euerlasting God, and ye haue grieved Ierusalem that nourished you.

9 When shee saue the wrath comming vpon you from God, she said, hearken, yee I diuell about Sion: for God hath brought me into great heauines.

10 I see the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting wil bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but I must leaue the with weeping & mourning.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me a widow, and forsaken of many, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate, because they departed from the Lawe of God.

13 They would not know his righteousness, nor walke in the wayes of his commandments: neither did they enter into I pathes of discipline, through his righteousness.

14 Come, ye that diuell about Sion, and call to remembrance the captiuitie of my sonnes and daughters, which the Euerlasting hath brought vpon them.

15 For he hath brought vpon them a nation from farre, an impudent nation, and of a strange language, 16 Which neither reuerence the aged, nor pittie the yong: these haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing mee alone, and destitute of my daughters.

17 But what can I helpe you?

18 Surely hee that hath brought these plagues vpon you, can deliuer you from the handes of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O children, goe your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, & put vpon me I sacked cloth of prayer, & so long as I liue, I will call vpon the Euerlasting, 21 Be of good comfort, O children: crie vnto God, and he will deliuer you from the powder, and hand of the enemies.

22 For I haue hope of your saluation through the Euerlasting, and ioy is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercie, which shall quickly come vnto you from our euerlasting Saviour.

23 For I sent you alway with weeping, and mourning: but with ioye and perpetual gladnesse will God bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie, so shall they also see shortly your saluation from God, which shall come vnto you with great glory, and brightness from the Euerlasting.

25 O children, suffer patiently I wrath that is come vpon you from God: for thine enemie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, & shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone by rough wayes, and were led away as a flocke that is scattered by the enemies.

27 Be of good comfort, my children, and crie vnto God: for hee that led you away, hath you in remembrance.

28 And as it came into your minde to go astray from your God, so endeavour your selues tenne times more, to turne againe & to seeke him.

29 For he I hath brought these plagues vpon you, will bring you euerlasting ioye againe, with your saluation.

30 Take a good heart, O Ierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 They are miserable that afflict thee, & such as reioyce at thy fall.

32 The cities are miserable whome thy children serue: miserable is shee that hath taken thy sonnes.

33 For as she reioyced at thy decay, and was glad of thy fall, so shall shee be forie for her owne desolation.

34 For I will take away the reioyng of her great multitude, and her ioy shall be turned into mourning.

35 For a fyre shall come vpon her from the Euerlasting, long to endure, & shee shall be inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Ierusalem, looke toward the East, and behold the ioy that cometh vnto thee from thy God.

37 Lo, thy sonnes (whom thou hast let go) come gathered together from the East vnto the West, reioyng in the word of the holy one vnto the honour of God.

CHAP. V.

Ret off thy mourning clothes, O Jerusalem, and thine affliction, & decke thee with the worship and honour, that commeth vnto thee fro God, for euermore.

<sup>2</sup> Put on the garment of righteousness, that commeth from God, and set a crowne vpon thine head of the glorie of the euerm-lasting.

<sup>3</sup> For God will declare thy brightness to euery countrey vnder the heauen.

<sup>4</sup> And God will name thee by this name for ever. The Peace of righteousness, and of glorie of the worship of God.

<sup>5</sup> Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand by on this, and looke about thee toward the East, and behold thy children gathered from the East vnto the West by the word of the holy one, reioicing in the remembrance of God.

<sup>6</sup> For they departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enemies: but God will bring them againe vnto thee, exalted in glorie, as children of the kingdom.

<sup>7</sup> For God hath determined to bring downe euery high mountaine, and the long enduring rockes, and to fill the balleyes, to make the ground plaine, that Israel may walke safely vnto the honour of God.

<sup>8</sup> The woodes and all sweete smelling trees shall ouer shadowe Israel at the commandement of God.

<sup>9</sup> For God shall bring Israel with ioy in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie & righteousness that commeth of him.

CHAP. VI.

A COPIE OF THE EPISTLE THAT Jeremias sent vnto them that were led away captiues into Babylon by the king of the Babyloniās, to certifie them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

Because of sinnes, that yee haue committed against God, ye shall be led away captiues vnto Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, king of the Babyloniāns.

<sup>2</sup> So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remaine there many yeres, and a long season, euen seven generations, and after that will I bring you away peateable fro thence.

<sup>3</sup> Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of siluer, and of golde, and of wood, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cause the people to feare.

of them, when ye see a multitude before the, and behinde them worshipping them, <sup>5</sup> But say ye in your hearts, O Lorde, we must worship thee.

<sup>6</sup> For mine Angell shall be with you, and shall care for your soules.

<sup>7</sup> As for their tongue, it is polished by the carpenter, and they themselves are gilted, and layde ouer with siluer: yet are they but lies, and cannot speake.

<sup>8</sup> And as they take gold for a maide that loveth to be deckt, <sup>9</sup> So make they crownes for the heads of their gods: sometimes also the priestes themselves conuey away the golde, and siluer from their gods, and bestowe it vpon themselves.

<sup>10</sup> Yea, they giue of the same vnto harlots, that are in their houses: againe, they decke these gods of siluer, and gods of gold, and of wood with garments like men.

<sup>12</sup> Though they haue couered the with clothing of purple, and wipe their faces because of the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much vpon them.

<sup>13</sup> One holdeth a scepter, as though hee were a certaine iudge of the countrey: yet can he not slay such as offende him.

<sup>14</sup> Another hath a dagger or an axe in his right hand: yet is he not able to defende him selfe from battell, nor from theues: so then it is eident, that they be no gods.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore feare them not: for as a besell that a man bleseth, is nothing worthy why it is broken, <sup>16</sup> Such are their gods: when they be set vp in their temples, their eyes be full of dust by reason of the feet of those that come in.

<sup>17</sup> And as the gates are shut in rounde about vpon him that hath offended the King: or as one that should be ledde to bee put to death, so the Priestes keepe their temples with doores, and with lockes, & with barres, lest their gods should be spoiled by robbers.

<sup>18</sup> They light by candles before them: yea, more then for themselves, whereof they can not see one: for they are but as one of the postes of the temple.

<sup>19</sup> They confesse, that euen their hearts are gnaiben vpon: but when the things, that creepe out of the earth, eate them and their clothes, they feele it not.

<sup>21</sup> The owles, shaloues and birds flie vpon their bodies, & vpon their heads, yea, and

and the cattes also.

22 By this ye may be sure, that they are not gods: therefore feare them not.

23 Notwithstanding the golde, that is about them to make them beautifull, except one wipe off the rust, they can not shine: neither when they were molten, did they feele it.

24 The things wherein is no breath, are bought for a most high price.

Isa. 46.

25 They are borne vpon mens shoulders, because they haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto men, that they be nothing worth: yea, and they that worshippe them, are ashamed.

26 For if they fall to the ground at any time, they can not ryle vp againe of them selues, neither if one set them by right, can they moue of them selues, neither if they be bowed downe, can they make them selues streight: but they set giftes before them, as vnto dead men.

27 As for the thinges that are offered vnto them, their Priestes sell them, and abuse them: like wise also the women lay vp of the same: but vnto the poore and sicke they giue nothing.

28 The menstruous women, and they that are in childbed, touche their sacrifices: by these things ye may knowe that they are no gods: feare them not.

29 From whence cometh it then, that they are called gods: because the women bring giftes to the gods of siluer, and golde, and wood.

30 And the Priestes sit in their Temples, hauing their clothes rent, whose heades and beades are shauen, and being bare headed.

31 They roare, and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast of one that is dead.

32 The Priestes also take away of their garments, and clothe their wiues and children.

33 Whether it be euil that one doeth vnto them, or good, they are not able to recompence it: they can neither set by a King nor put him downe.

34 In like maner they can neither giue riches, nor money: though a man make a vowe vnto them and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

37 They can shewe no mercy to the widowe, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, golde and siluer, are as stones, that be hewen out of mountaine, and they that worship them, shall be confounded.

39 How should a man thinke or say that they are gods?

40 Whereouer the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them: for when they see a domine man, that can not speake, they present him to Bel.

41 And desire that he would make him to speake, as though he had any feeling: yet they that vnderstande these things, can not leaue them: for they also haue no sense.

42 Furthermoze the women, girded with coardes, sit in the streetes, and burne strawe.

[in, keram]

43 And if one of them be drawen away, and lye with any such as come by, ther casteth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not so worshipfully reputed, nor her coarde broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done among them, is lyes: howe may it then be thought or sayde, that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmithes make them, neyther bee they any other thing, but euen what the woodkeman will make them.

26 Beas, they that make them, are of no long continuance: howe should then the thinges that are made of them, be gods?

47 Therefore they leaue lies, and shame for their posteritie.

48 For when there cometh any warre or plague vpon them, the Priestes imagine with them selues, where they may hide the selues with them.

49 Howe then can men not perceyue, that they bee no gods, which can neither defende them selues from warre, nor from plagues?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and of siluer, and of golde, men shall knowe hereafter that they are but lyes, and it shall bee manifest to all nations and Kings, that they bee no gods, but the woodkes of mens handes, and that there is no worke of God in them.

Psalms. 135.
136.

51 Whereby it may be knownen, that they are no gods.

52 They can set by no King in the lande, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither preserve from iniurie: they haue no power, but are as crows betwene the heauen and the earth.

54 When there falleth a fire vpon the house of those gods of wood, and of siluer and of golde, the Priestes will escape and

¶ qqq. 4. saue

saue them selues, but they burne as the balikes therein.

55 They can not withstande any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

56 Forouer these gods of wood, of gold, & of siluer can neither defend theselues from theues nor robbers.

57 For they that are strongest, take away their golde and siluer, and apparell, wherewith they be clothed: and when they haue it, they get the away: yet can they not helpe them selues.

58 Therefore it is better to bee a King, and so to shew his power, or els a profitable vessel in an house, whereby hee that oweth it, might haue profite, then such false gods: or to bee a doore in an house, to keepe such thinges safe as bee therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a pallace, then such false gods.

59 For the sunne and the moone, and the starres that shine, whē they are sent downe for necessarie vses, obey.

60 Like wise also the lightning when it shineth, it is euidēt: & the winde bloweth in euery countrey.

61 And when God commandeth & clouds to goe about the whole worlde, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from a boue to destroy hills and woods, it doeth that which is commanded: but these are not like any of these things, neither in forme, nor power.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke, nor say & they bee gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor do me good.

64 For so much now as ye are sure, that they be no gods, feare them not.

65 For they can neither curse, nor bless Kings:

66 Neither can they shew signes in the heauen among the heathen, neyther shine as the moone.

67 The beastes are better then they: for they can get them vnder a couert, and doe themselues good.

68 So ye may be certified that by no manner of meanes, they are gods: therefore feare them not.

69 For as a tharrolle in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and of siluer, and of golde:

70 And like wise their gods of wood, and golde and siluer are like to a white thorne in an orcharde, that euery birde sitteth vpon, & as a dead body that is cast in the darke.

71 By & purple also & brightnesse, which fadeth vpon them, ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: yea, they them selues shall bee consumed at the last, and they shall bee a shame to the countrey.

72 Better therefore is the iust man, that hath none idoles: for he shall bee farre from reproofe.

25 Then Azarias stoode vp, and prayed on this manner, & opening his mouth in the middes of the fire, sayde, 26 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to be prayed and honoured for euermore.

31 Wherefore in al þ thou hast brought vpon vs, and in euery thing that thou hast done done to vs, thou hast done the in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our wicked enemies, and most hatefull traitours, and to an unrighteous King, and the most wicked in all the world.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes: we are become a shame and reproofo vnto thy seruants, and to them that worshy thee.

34 Yet for thy Names sake, we beseech thee, giue vs not by for euer, neither breake thy covenant,

35 Neither take away thy mercy from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, and for thy seruant Isaacs sake, and for thine holy Israels sake,

36 To whome thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiplie their seed as the starres of heauen, and as I land, that is vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse the any nation, and be kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes:

38 So that now we haue neither prince, nor prophet, nor gouernour, nor burnt offering, nor sacrifice, nor oblation, nor incense, nor place to offer the first fruits before thee, that we might finde mercie.

39 Reuerthelasse in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit, let vs be receiued.

40 As in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and as in ten thousand of fat lambs, so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And now we followe thee with all our heart, and feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 But vs not to shame, but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs also by thy myracles, and giue thy Name the glorie, O Lord,

44 That all they which do thy seruants euill, may be confounded: euen let them be confounded by thy great force and power, and let their strength be broken,

45 That they may know, that thou only art the Lord God, and glorious ouer the whole world.

46 C Poulve the Kings seruantes that had cast them in, sealed not to make pouen hote with naphtha, with pitch, and with tolve, and with fagots, 47 So that the flame went out of the forname fourtie and nine cubites.

48 And it brake forth, and burnt those Chaldeans, that it found by the forname.

49 But the Angel of the Lord went downe into the forname with the that were with Azarias, & kindle the flame of the fire out of the forname,

50 And made in the middes of the forname like a moyst hyssing winde, so that the fyre touched them not at all, neither grieved, nor troubled them.

51 The these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the forname, saying,

52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and prayed, and exalted about all things for euer, and blessed bee thy glorious and holy Name, & prayed about all things, and magnified for euer.

53 Blessed bee thou in I Temple of thine holy glory, and prayed about all things, and exalted for euer.

54 Blessed be thou I beholdest I depths, and sittest vpon the Cherubins, and praised about all things, and exalted for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in I glorious Throne of thy kingdome, and prayed about all things, and exalted for euer.

56 Blessed bee thou in the firmament of heauen, and prayed about all thinges, and glorified for euer.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one saide to the other, Let vs go now home, for it is dinner time.

14 So they went their way, & departed, one from another: yet they returned againe, and came into the same place, and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appoynted they a time both together when they might find her alone.

15 Now when they had spied out a convenient time, that she went in, as her manner was, with two maydes onely, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden (for it was an hote season)

16 And there was no body there, saue the two Elders that had hid themselves, and watched for her:

17 She said to her maides, Bring me oille and sope, and shut the garden doozes, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bade them, & shut the garden doozes, & went out themselves at a backe dooze, to set the thing that she had commanded them: but they saw not the Elders, because they were hid.

19 Nowe when the maydes were gone forth, the two Elders rose vp and ranne vnto her, laying,

20 Beholde, the garden dozes are shut, that no man can see vs, and we burne in loue with thee: therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we wil beare witnes agaynst thee, that a yong man was with thee, and therefore thou diddest send away thy maides from thee.

22 Then Sufanna sighed, and saide, I am in trouble on every side: for if I doe this thing, it is death vnto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your handes.

23 It is better for mee to fall into your handes, and not doe it, then to sarme in the sight of the Lord.

24 With that Sufanna cried with a loud voyce, and the two Elders cryed out agaynst her.

25 Then ranne the one, and opened the garden dooze.

26 So when the seruants of the house heard the crye in the garden, they rushed in at the backe dooze, to see what was done vnto her.

27 But when the Elders had declared their matter, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for there was neuer such a report made of Sufanna.

28 On the morowe after, came the people to Joacin her husbnde, and the two Elders came also, full of malicious imagination against Sufanna, to put her to death, 29 And said before the people, Send for Sufanna the daughter of helcias Joacims wife. And immediately they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children and all her kindred.

31 Now Sufanna was very tender, and faire of face.

32 And these wicked men commaded to vncouer her face (for shee was couered) & they might so be satisfied with her beautie.

33 Therefore they that were about her, and all they that knew her, wept.

34 Then the two Elders stoode by in the middes of the people, and laide their hands vpon her head, 35 which wept and looked by towarde heauen: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

36 And the Elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, shee came in with two maides, whom she sent away from her, and shut the garden doozes.

37 Then a yong man, which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 Then we which stoode in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickednes, ranne vnto them, and we saw them as they were together.

39 But we could not holde hym: for hee was stronger then we, & opened the dooze, and leaped out.

40 Now when wee had taken this woman, wee asked her what yong man this was, but shee would not tell vs: of these things are we witnesses.

41 The the assemblee beleened them, as those that were the Elders & iudges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Sufanna cried out with a lowde voyce, and saide, O euerlasting God, that knowest the secretes, and knowest all things afore they come to passe, 43 Thou knowest, that they haue brought false witness against me, and behold must dye, where as I neuer did such, as these men haue maliciously inuagaint me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

45 ¶ Therefore when thee was led to be put to death, the Lorde sayde by the holy spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.

46 Who cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them toward him, & said, what meane these words, that thou hast spoken:

48 Then Daniel stood in the middes of them, and said, Are ye such fooles, O Israelites, that without examination, or knowledge of the trueth, yee haue condemned a daughter of Israel:

49 Returne againe to iudgement: for they haue borne false witnesse against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all haste, and the Elders layde vnto him, Come, sit downe among vs, and shew it vs, seeing God hath giuen thee the office of an Elder.

51 Then saide Daniel vnto them, But these two aside, one farre from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder, one from another, he called one of them and said vnto him, O thou that art olde in a wicked life, now the thy sinnes which thou hast committed afore time, are come to light.

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgements, & hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guiltie goe free, albeit the Lorde saith, * The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

54 Now then, if thou hast seene her, tell me, Under what tree sawdest thou them companying together: who answered, Under a lentiske tree.

55 Then said Daniel, Clerely thou hast lyed against thine owne head: for loe, the Angel of God hath receiued the sentence of God, to cut thee in two.

56 So put he him aside, and commanded to bring the other, & saide vnto him, O thou seede of Chanaan, and not of Iuda, beaute hath deceyued thee, and lust hath subuerted thine heart.

57 Thus haue ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for feare companied with you: but the daughter of Iuda would not abide your wickednes.

58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together: who answered, Under a prime tree.

59 Then saide Daniel vnto him, Clerely thou hast also lied against thine head: for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, and so to destroy you both.

60 ¶ With that all the whole assemble cryed with a loude voyce, and praised God, which saueeth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two Elders, (for Daniel had conuict them of false witnesse by their owne mouth)

62 * And according to the Law of Moyses they dealt with them, as they dealt wickedly against their neighbour, and put the to death, Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

within, and brasse without, and did neuer eate any thing.

8 So the King was wroth, and called for his priests, and said vnto them, If ye tel me not, who this is that eateth by these expenses, ye shall die:

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel eateth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemie against Bel. And Daniel saide vnto the King, Let it bee according to thy worde.

10 (Nowe the priests of Bel were thre score and tenne, beside their wiues and children:) and the King went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels priests sayde, Beholde, we will goe out, and set thou the meate there, O King, and let the wine bee filled: then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

12 And to morowe when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten by all, wee will suffer death, or els Daniel that hath liyd vpon vs.

13 Nowe they thought them selues sure enough: for vnder the table they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and tooke away the things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the King let meates before Bel. Nowe Daniel had commanded his seruantes to bring athes, and these they strowed throughout all the Temple, in the presence of the King alone: they went they out, and shut the doore, and sealed it with the Kinges signet, and so departed.

15 Nowe in the night came the priests, with their wiues and children, (as they were wont to doe) and dyd eate and drinke by all.

16 In the morning betimes, the King arose and Daniel with him.

17 And the King sayde, Daniel, are the seales whole: who answered, Yea, O King, they be whole.

18 And althoone as he had opened þ doore, the King looked vpon the table, and cryed with a loude voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and helde the King that he shoud not go in, and said, Beholde nowe the pavement, and marke well whole foote steppes are these.

20 And the King saide, I see the foote steppes of men, women, and children: therefore the King was angrie,

21 And tooke þ priests, with their wiues, and childre, and they shewed him the priuie doores, where they came in, and consumed such things as were vpon the table,

22 Therefore the King shewe them, & deliuered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 (Howeouer in that same place there was a great dragon, which the Babylonians worshipped.

24 And the King said vnto Daniel, Sayest thou, that this is of brasse also: loe, he liueth and eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say, that he is no liuing god: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel vnto the King, I will worship the Lord my God: for hee is the liuing God.

26 But giue me leane, O King, & I will slay this dragon without sword or staffe. And the King said, I giue thee leane.

27 Then Daniel tooke pitche, & fatte, & heare, and did sette them together, & made luppes thereof: this hee put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in funder. And Daniel sayde, Behold, whom ye worshipped.

28 When the Babylonians heard it, they were wonderful wroth, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The King is become a Jew: for he hath destroyed Bel, and hath slaine the dragon, and put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the King, and sayd, Deliuer vs Daniel, or els wee will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Now when the King saw, that they pressed sore vpon him, and that necessitie constrained him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

31 who cast him into þ Lyons den, where he was fire dayes.

32 In the denne there were seuen Lyons, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies and two sheepe, which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuour Daniel.

33 (Now there was in Ieruzie a Prophet called Abbauc, which had made potage, and broken bread into a bowle, & was going into the fildes for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the Angel of the Lord said vnto Abbauc, Goe, carie þ meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniel, which is in the Lyons denne.

35 And Abbauc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, neither doe I knowe where the denne is.

36 The Angel tooke him by þ crotche of the head, and bare him by the beare of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

37 And Abbauc cryed, laying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner that God hath sent thee.

38 Then saide Daniel, O God, thou hast thought vpon mee, and thou neuer faylest them that seeke thee and loue thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eate, and the Angel of the Lord set Abbauc in his owne place againe immediately.

40 Vpon the seuenthy day, the king went to be waile Daniel: and whē he came to the denne, he looked in, and behold, Daniel sate [in the middes of the Lyons.]

struments thereof, & the table of the shewbread, & the pouring vessels, & the bowles, and the golden basins, and the baile, and y<sup>e</sup> crownes, and the golden apparell, which was before the Temple, and brake all in pierces.

24 He tooke also the siluer and gold, and the precious ieiuels, and he tooke the secret treasures that he founde, and when he had taken away all, he departed into his owne lande,

25 After he had murdered many men, and spoken very proudly.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation in euery place of Israel.

27 For the yduines & the Elders mourned: the yong women, and the yong men were made feeble, and y<sup>e</sup> beauty of the women was changed.

28 Euery y<sup>e</sup> bidegrome tooke him to mourning, & she that sate in the marriage chamber, was in heaumes.

29 The land also was moued for the inhabitants thereof: for at the house of Jacob was couered with confusion.

30 <sup>h</sup>After two yeres the King sent his chiefe taxemaster into the cities of Iuda, which came to Ierusalem with a great multitude, 31 who spake peaceable wordes vnto the in deceit, and they gaue credit vnto him.

32 Then he fell suddenly vpon the cite, and smote it with a great plague, & destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoyled the cite, he set fyre on it, casting downe the houses thereof, and walles thereof on euery side.

34 The Women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away the cattel.

35 Then fortified they the cite of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, & with mighty towres, and made it a strong holde for them.

36 Moreover they set wicked people there, & vngodly persons, and fortified them selues therein.

37 And they stored it with weapons and bitailes, and gathered the spoyle of Ierusalem, and layed it by there.

38 Thus became they a sore snare and were in ambushment for the Sanctuarie, and were wicked enemies euermore vnto Israel.

39 For they shed innocent blood on euery side of the Sanctuarie, and defiled y<sup>e</sup> Sanctuarie,

40 In so much that the citizens of Ierusalem fled away because of them, and it became an habitation of straungers, being desolate of them whom shee had borne: for her owne children did leaue her.

41 Her Sanctuarie was left waste as a wilderness: her holy daies were turned into mourning, her Sabbaths into reproch, and her honour brought to naught.

42 As her glory had bene great, so was her dishonour, and her excellencie was turned into sorrow.

43 Also y<sup>e</sup> King wrote vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should bee as one, & that euery man should leaue his lawes.

44 And all the heathen agreed to the commandement of the King.

45 Pea, many of the Israelites consented to his religion, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabbath.

46 So the King sent letters by y<sup>e</sup> messengers vnto Ierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, that they should followe the strange lawes of the countrey,

47 And that they should forbyd y<sup>e</sup> burnt offerings and sacrifices, and the offerings in the Sanctuarie,

48 And that they should defile the Sabbaths and the feasts,

49 And pollute the Sanctuarie and the holy men,

50 And to set by altars, and groues, and chappels of idoles, & offer by swines flesh, & vncleane beastes,

51 And that they should leaue their children vncircumcised, and defile their soules with vncleannes, and pollute them selues, that they might forget the Lawe, & change all the ordinances,

52 And that whoesoever would not doe according to the commandement of y<sup>e</sup> King, should suffer death.

53 In like maner wrote hee throughout all his kingdomes, and set ouerseers ouer all the people, [for to compell them to doe these things.]

54 And he commanded the cities of Iuda to do sacrifice, cite by cite.

55 Then went many of the people vnto them by heapes, euery one that forooke the Lawe, and so they committed euill in the land.

56 And they droue the Israelites into secret places, euen wheresoeuer they couide flee for succour.

57 The fiftenth day of Cassen, in y<sup>e</sup> hundredth and fife and fourtieth yere, they set by the abomination of desolation vpon the altar, and they builded altars throughout the cities of Iuda on euery side.

58 And before the doores of the houses, & in the streetes they burnt incense,

It is a manifest note of the enemies of God, to burne y<sup>e</sup> bookes of the Lawe, Hist. eccles. li. 2. chap. 2.

59 And the bookes of the Lawe, which they founde, they burnt in the fyre, and cut in pierces.

60 Whosoever had a booke of the Testament founde by him, or whosoever consented vnto the Lawe, the Kings commaundement was, that they should put him to death by their authoritie.

61 And they executed these things every moneth vnto the people of Israel that were found in the cities.

62 And in the five and twentieth day of the moneth, they did sacrifice vnto the altar, which was in the stead of the altar of sacrifices.

63 And according to the commaundement, they put certaine women to death, which had caused their children to bee circumcised.

64 And they hanged by the children at their neckes, and they spoiled their houses, and slewe the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many in Israel, which were of courage, and determined in them selues, that they would not eate vncleane things, 66 But chose rather to suffer death, the to be defiled with those meates: so because they would not breake the holy covenant, they were put to death.

[Or, vnto.]

67 And this tyrannie was very sore vpon the people of Israel.

CHAP. III.

1 The mourning of Mattathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy cite. 19 They refuse to do sacrifice vnto idoles. 24 The zeale of Mattathias for the Lawe of God. 33 They are slayne and will not fight againe because of the Sabbath day. 49 Mattathias dying commaundeth his sonnes to stick by the wordes of God, after the example of the fathers.

Inf. An. c. i. l. c. h. 7.

In those dayes stood by Mattathias the Priest, [the sonne] of Joannes, [the sonne] of Simeon, of the sonnes of Iosabab of Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sonnes, Joanan called Gaddis,

3 Simon called Thassi,

4 Judas which was called Mattathias,

[Or, Iosabab]

5 Eleazar called Abaron, & Jonathan, whose name was Apphus.

6 Now he sawe the blasphemies, which were committed in Iuda and Jerusalem:

7 And he said, who is me: wherfore was I borne, to see this destruction of my people, and the destruction of the holy cite, & thus to sit still: it is deliuered into the hands of the enemies,

8 And the Sanctuarie [is] in the hands of strangers: her Temple is as a man that hath no renoume.

9 Her glorious vessels are caried away into captiuitie: her infants are slaine in the streetes, and her yong men are fallen by the sword of the enemies.

10 What people is it, that hath not some possession in [her] kingdome, or hath not gotten other spoiles:

11 All her glorie is taken away: of a free woman, she is become an handmaid.

12 Behold, our Sanctuarie & our beautie, and honour is desolate, & the Gentiles haue defiled it.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue any longer:

14 And Mattathias rent his clothes, he, and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon the, and mourned very sore.

15 ¶ Then came men from the King to the cite of Modin to compell the to forsake God, and to sacrifice.

16 So many of the Israelites consented vnto them: but Mattathias and his sonnes assembled together.

17 Then spake the commissioners of y<sup>e</sup> King, and said vnto Mattathias, Thou art the chiefe and an honourable man, & great in this cite, and hast manie children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the Kings commaundement, as all the heathen haue done, and also the men of Iuda, and such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy familie be in the Kings fauour, and thou & thy children shalbe enriched with siluer and golde, and with many rewarde.

19 Then Mattathias answered & saide with a loude voyce, Though all nations that are vnder the Kings dominion, obey him, and fall away every man from the religion of their fathers, & consent to his commaundements, 20 Yet will I and my sonnes, and my brethren, walke in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God be merciful vnto vs, that we forsake not the Lawe and the ordinances.

22 We wil not hearken vnto the Kings wordes to transgresse our religion, neither on the right side, nor on the left.

23 And when hee had left off speaking these wordes, there came one of the Iewes, in the sight of all to sacrifice vpon the altar which was at Modin, according to y<sup>e</sup> Kings commaundement.

24 Now when Mattathias sawe it, he was so inflamed with zeale, y<sup>e</sup> his reines shooke, & his wrath was kindled according to the ordinance [of the Lawe:] therefore a The father promisseth for his children that they shal be true to Gods lawe for his house, Iosh. 24. 15.

b It is a griefe to the goodly to see the people of Iosh. 24. 15.

hee

hee ranne vnto him, and killed him by the altar:

25 And at the same time hee slew the kings commissioner, that compelled him to do sacrifice, and destroyed the altar.

26 Thus bare he a zeale to the Law of God, * doing, as Phinees did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salom.

27 Then cryed Mattathias with a loud voyce in the cite, [saying,] whosoever is zealous of the Lawe, and will stande by the couenant, let him come forth after me.

28 So hee, and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left al that they had in the cite.

29 Then many that sought after iustice and iudgement,

30 Went downe into the wilderness to dwell there, both they, and their children, & their wiues, and their cattell: for the afflictions increased fore vpon them.

31 Nowe when it was tolde vnto the Kings seruants, and to the garisons, which were in Ierusalem in the cite of Dauid, that men had broken the Kings comendement, and were gone downe into the secret places in the wilderness,

32 Then many pursued after them: and hauing overtaken them, they ramped against them, & set the battell in array against them on the Sabbath day,

33 And said vnto them, Let this now be sufficient: come forth and doe according to the comendement of the King, & yee shall liue.

34 But they answered, wee wil not go forth, neither wil we do the Kings comendement, to defile the Sabbath day.

35 Then they gaue them the battell.

36 But the other answered them nothing, neither cast any one stone at the, nor stopped the pime places.

37 But said, we will die all in our innocencie: the heauen and earth shall testifie for vs, that ye destroy vs by wrongfully.

38 Thus they gaue them the battell vpon the Sabbath, and slew both men & cattell, their wiues and their children to the number of a thousand people.

39 When Mattathias and his friends vnderstoode this, they mourned for them greatly.

40 And said one to another, If we al do as our brethren haue done, and fight not against the heathen for our liues, and for our Lawes, then shall they innocently destroy vs out of the earth.

41 Therefore they concluded at the same time, saying, whosoever shall come to make battell with vs vpon the Sabbath day, wee will fight against him, that wee die not all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came vnto them the assembly of phariseans, which were of the strongest men of Israel, all such as were well minded toward the Lawe.

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, toynded them selues vnto them, and were an helpe vnto them.

44 So they gathered a power, & smote the wicked men in their wrath, and the vngodly in their anger: but the rest fled vnto pharisees, and escaped.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the childre by force that were vncircumcised, as many as they found within the coastes of Israel, 47 And they pursued after the proude men: & this acte prospered in their hands.

48 So they recovered the Lawe out of the hand of pharisees, & out of the hand of Kings, and gaue not place to the wicked.

49 Nowe when the time drewe neere, that Mattathias should dye, he sayde vnto his sonnes, Nowe is pride and persecution increased, and the time of destruction, & the wrath of indignation.

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous of the lawe, and giue your liues for the couenant of our fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time: so shall yee receive great honour and an euermlasting name.

52 * Was not Abraham founde faithfull in tentation, and it was imputed vnto him for righteousnes?

53 * Ioseph in the time of his trouble kept the comendement, & was made the lord of Egypt.

54 * Phinees our father, because he was zealous and feruent, obtained the couenant of the euermlasting priesthood.

55 * Iesus for fulfilling the worde, was made the gouernour of Israel.

56 * Caleb, because he bare witness before the congregation, receiued the heritage of the land.

57 * Dauid, because of his mercie obtained ph throne of the kingdome for euermore.

58 * Elias, because he was zealous and feruent in the Law, was taken by euen vnto heauen.

59 * Ananias, Azarias & Misael by their faith were deliuered out of the flame.

60 * Daniel, because of his innocencie, was deliuered from the mouth of the tyons.

CHAP. III.

1 Judas is made ruler over the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the princes of Syria. 44 The confidence of Judas towards God. 55 Judas determineth to fight against Lysias, whom Antiochus had made captaine over his host.

Then Judas his sonne, called Maccabeus, rose by in his place.
2 And all his brethren helped him, and all they that helde with his father, & fought with courage the battel
of Israel.

3 So he gate his people great honour: he put on a breastplate as a gyant, and armed him selfe, and set the battel in array, and defended the campe with the sword.

4 In his actes he was like a lyon, & as a lyons whetse roaring after the pray.

5 For hee pursued the wicked, & sought them out, and burnt by those that vexed his people.

6 So that the wicked fled for feare of him, and all the workers of iniquitie were put to trouble: and saluation prospered in his hand.

7 And hee grieved diuers Kinges, but Jacob reioyced by his actes, & his memory is blessed for ever.

8 He went also thorow the cities of Juda, and destroyed the wicked out of them, and turned away the wrath from Israel.

9 So was he reuolued vnto the ends of the earth, and hee assembled together those that were ready to perish.

10 But Apollonius gathered the Ge-tiles, & a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which when Judas perceined, he wet forth to meete him, and smote him, and slew him, so that many fell doونه slaine, and the rest fled.

12 So Judas tooke their spoyle, & tooke also Apollonius lixorde, and fought with it all his life long.

13 Nowe when Seron a prince of the armie of Syria, heard that Judas had gathered vnto him the cōgregation, & Church of the faithfull, and went forth to the ware.

14 He sayd, I wil get mee a name, & wil bee glorious in the Realme: for I wil goe fight with Judas, and them that are with him, which haue despised the kings comandement.

15 So he made him readie to go by, and there went with him a mightie host of the vngodly to helpe him, and to be auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came neere to the going by of Bethhoron, Judas went forth to meet him with a small companie.

17 But when they sawe the armie coming against them, they sayde to Judas, Howe are we able, being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing wee bee so wearie, and haue fasted all this day.

18 Then sayde Judas, It is an easie thing for many to be shut by in the hands of fewe, and there is no difference before the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie.

19 For the victorie of the battel standeth not in the multitude of host, but in strength commeth from heauen.

20 They come against vs with a cruel and proud multitude, to destroy vs, and our wives, and our children, and to robbe vs.

21 But wee doe fight for our liues, & for our Lawes.

22 And God him selfe will destroy them before our face: therfore bee not ye afraide of them.

23 And when he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly vpon them: so was Seron & his host destroyed before him.

24 And they pursued the from the going doونه of Bethhoron vnto the plaine: where there were slaine eighty hundreth men of them,

them, and the residue fled into the lande of the Philistims.

25 Then the feare and terrour of Judas and his brethren fel vpon the nations round about.

26 So that his fame came vnto the king: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Judas.

27 But when King Antiochus heard these tidings, hee was angry in his minde: wherefore he sent forth, and gathered al the power of his realme a verie strong armie.

28 And opened his treasure, and gaue his host a yeres wages in hande, commanding them to be ready for a yere for all occasions.

29 Nevertheless, when he sawe that the money of his treasures failed, and that the tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissension, and plagues that hee had brought vpon the lande, in taking away the Lawes which had bene of old time,

30 He feared least he should not haue now at the second time, as at the first, for the charges and gifts that he had giuen with a liberal hand afoze: for in liberallitie he farre passed the other Kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his mind, and thought to goe into Persia, for to take tributes of the countreys, & to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man and of the Kings blood to ouersce the Kings business, from the riuer of Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt.

33 And to bring by his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.

34 Moreover, hee gaue him halfe of his host and elephants, & gaue him the charge of all things that he would haue done.

35 And concerning those which dwelt in Juda & Ierusalem, that he should send an armie against them, to destroy & root out the powder of Israel & the remnant of Ierusalem, & to put out their memorial from that place.

36 And to let strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, and part their lande among them.

37 And the king tooke the halfe of the host that remained, & departed from Antiochia his royall cite, in the yere an hundredth fourtie and seven, and passed the riuer Euphrates, and went thorow the he countries.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemus the sonne of Dornimus, & Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the Kings friends.

39 And sent with them fourtie thousand footemen, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda; and to destroy it, as the King commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their powder, and came and pitched by Ennauus in the plaine countrey.

41 Now when the marchants of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they tooke verie much silver and gold, & seruants, and came into the campe to bye the children of Israel for slaues, & the strenght of Syria and of strange nations ioyned with them.

42 Nowe when Judas and his brethren sawe that trouble increased, and that the host drew neere vnto their borders, considering the kings wordes, whereby he had commanded to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them.

43 They said one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, & let vs fight for our people, and for our Sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were soone readie gathered to fight, and to pray, and to desire mercie and compassion.

45 As for Ierusalem, it was not inhabited, but was as a wilderness. There went none that was borne in it, nor out at it, and the Sanctuarie was troden downe, and the strangers kept the foxtresse, and it was the habitation of the heathen: and the mirth of Jacob was taken away: the pipe and the harpe ceased.

46 So they gathered themselves together, & came to Baltha before Ierusalem: for in Baltha was the place where they prayed afozetime in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, & put sackcloth vpon them, and cast ashes vpon their heades, and rent their clothes.

48 And opened the booke of the Lawe, wherein the heathen sought to paint the likenes of their Idoles.

49 And brought the Priestes garments, and the first fruites, and the tithes, and set there the Nazarites, which accomplished their dayes.

50 And they cryed with a loude voyce toward heauen, saying, what shall wee doe with these: and whither shal we carie them away?

51 For thy Sanctuarie is troden downe and defiled, and thy Priests are in heauines, and brought downe.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come against vs to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How can we stand before them, except thou helpe vs?

54 Then they blew the trumpets, and cryed with a loude voyce.

55 And after this Judas ordeyned captaines ouer the people, euen captaines ouer thousands, thousand, and captaines ouer hundred, and captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer ten.

56 And they commanded them that builded houses, or married wives, or planted vineyards, or were fearful, that they should returne every one to his owne house, according to the Lawe.

Deu. 10. 5.
Iud. 7. 3.

57 So the hoste remoued, and pitched vpon the Southside of Emmaus.

58 And Judas saide, Arise you selues, and bee valiant men, and be readie against the morning to fight with these nations, which are gathered together against vs, to destroy vs and our Sanctuarie.

59 For it is better for vs to die in battell, then to see the calamities of our people and of our Sanctuarie.

60 Neuertheles as the Will of God is in heauen, so be it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Judas goeth against Gorgias which lieth in wait. 24 He putteth Gorgias and his host to flight. 28 Lysias inuadeth Judea, 29 But Judas driueth him out. 43 Judas purifieth the Temple and dedicateth the altar.

Iosaph. lib.

hen tooke Gorgias five thousand foote men, and a thousand of the best horsemen, & departed out of the campe by night,

2 To inuade the campe of the Iewes, and to slay them suddenly: and the men of the fortreffe were his guides.

3 Now when Judas heard it, hee remoued, & they that were valiant men to smite the Kings armie which was at Emmaus.

4 Whiles yet the armie was disperfed from the campe.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night into Judas campe: & when he founde no man there, he sought them in the mountaines: for said he, They flee from vs.

6 But as soone as it was day, Judas shewed himselfe in the field with three thousand men, which had neither harnesse nor swordes to their minds.

7 And they saide that the armies of the heathen were strong and well armed, and their horsemen about them, & that these were expert men of warre.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Feare ye not their multitude, neither be afraid of their assault.

9 Remember, how our fathers were deliuered in the red sea, when Pharaos pursued them with an armie.

Ezo. 14. 9.

10 Therefore nolde let vs be in doubt vnto heauen, and the Lorde will haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, and will destroy this hoste before our face this day:

11 So shall all the heathen know, & there is one, which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift vp their eyes, and saide them comming against them,

13 And they went out of their tents into the battell, and they that were with Judas, blew the trumpets.

14 So they ioyned together, and the heathen were discomfited and fled by the plaine.

15 But the humilitie of them fell by the sword, and they pursued them vnto Gazer, <sup>Or, Asarath,</sup> and into the plaines of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Jamnia, so that there were slaine of them about three thousand men.

16 So Judas turned againe with his host from pursuing them,

17 And said vnto his people, Be not greedy of the spoiles: for there is a battell before vs.

18 And Gorgias and the armie is here by vs in the mountaine: but stand ye now fast against your enemies, and ouercome them: then may ye safely take the spoiles.

19 As Judas was speaking these wordes, there appeared one part which looked from the mountaines.

20 But when Gorgias sawe that his were fled, and that Judas souldiers burnt the tents: (for the smoke that was seene, declared what was done.)

21 When they saw these things, they were sore afraid, & when they saw also that Judas and his host were in the field readie to set themselves in aray, 22 They fled euery one into the lande of strangers.

23 So Judas turned againe to spoile the tents, where he gate much gold and silver, and precious stones, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, & sung psalms, and prayed towarde the heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 Now as the strangers that escaped, came, and tolde Lysias all the things that were done.

27 Who when he heard these things, was sore afraid, and discouraged, because such things came not vpon Israel as he would, neither such things as the King had commanded him, came to passe.

28 Therefore the next yere following, gathered Lysias threethousand chosen foote men, and five thousand horsemen to fight against Jerusalem.

29 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tents at Beth-sura, where Judas came against them with ten thousand men. <sup>Or, Iudaea.</sup> <sup>Or, Bethsur.</sup>

30 And

30 And when he saw that mightie armie, he prayed & said, Blessed be thou, O Saviour of Israel, which diddest destroy the assault of the mightie man by the hand of thy servant David, and gauest the host of the strangers into the hand of Jonathan, the sonne of Saul, and of his armour bearer:

1 Sam. 17.
30, 31.

1 Sam. 14.
33, 34.

31 Shut vp this armie in the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them bee confounded with their power, and with their hostmen.

32 Make them afraid, and consume their boldnesse and strength, that they may be astonished at their destruction.

33 Cast them downe by the sword of them that loue thee: then shall all they that know thy Name, praise thee with songs.

34 So they ioynd together, and there were slaine of Lysias host, fise thousand men, and they fell before them.

35 Then Lysias, seeing his army put to flight, and the mannesse of Judas souldiers, and that they were readie, either to liue or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered strangers, and when he had furnished his armie, hee thought againe (being prepared) to come against Judea.

36 Then layde Judas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are discomfited: let vs not be goe vp to cleanse, and to repaye the Sanctuarie.

37 So all the host gathered the together, and went vp into the mountaine of Sion.

38 Now when they saw the Sanctuarie layed waste, and the altar defiled, and the doozes burnt vp, & the shubbes growing in the courts, as in a Forrest, or as on one of the mountaines, and that the Priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes vpon their heades, 40 And fell downe to the ground on their faces, and blewe an alarme with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Judas commanded certaine of the men to fight against those which were in the castel, till he had cleansed the Sanctuarie.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as dwelt in the Labe,

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place, 44 And consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, which was polluted.

45 So they thought it was best to destroy it, least it should be a reproch vnto the, because the heathen had defiled it: therefore they destroyed the altar,

46 And laid by the stones vpon the mountaine of the Temple in a convenient place, till there should come a Propheet, to theiue what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones according to the Labe, and buidde a new altar according to the former,

48 And made by the Sanctuarie, & the things that were within the Temple, and the courts, and all things.

49 They made also newe holy vessels, & brought into the Temple the candlesticke, and the altar of burnt offerings, & of incense, and the table.

50 And they burnt incense vpon the altar, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlestick, that they might burne in the Temple.

51 They set also the shewbread vpon the table, and hanged by the wailes, and finished all the workes that they had begonne to make.

52 And vpon the fise and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, which is called the moneth of Chassen, in the hundredeth and eight and fourtieth yeere they rose vp by betimes in the morning.

53 And offered sacrifice according to the Labe, vpon the new altar of burnt offerings, that they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day, that the heathen had defiled it, in the same day was it made new with songs, and harpes, and lutes, and cymbales.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping & praising toward the heauen him that had giuen them good successe.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt offerings with gladnes, and offered sacrifices of deliuerance and praye, 57 And deckt the forefront of the Temple with crownes of gold and shields, and dedicated the gates and chambers, and hanged doozes vpon them.

58 Thus there was verie great gladnes among the people, and the reproch of the heathen was put away.

59 So Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordeined that the daies of dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the fise and twentieth day of the moneth Chassen, with mirth and gladnes.

60 And at the same time buidde they by mount Sion with his wailes and strong towres rounde about, least the Gentiles should come, and treade it downe, as they had done afoze.

61 Therefore they set a garison there to keepe it, and fortified Beth-sura to keepe it, that the people might haue a defence against Iudmea.

CHAP. V.

3 Judas vanquished the heathen that go about to destroy Iſrael, and is helpen of his brethren Simon and Jonathan. 50 He ouerthrew the cite of Cythou, because they denied him passage thowyn it.

Joseph. lib.
13. cap. 12.

NOWE when the nations round about heard, that the altar was buildd, and the Sanctuarie re-nued, as afoze, they were sore grieved.

2 Therefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was amōg them, and began to slay and destroy the people.

Or, Araba-thame.

3 Then Judas foughte against the children of Esau in Iudmea at Arrabathene, because they besieged the Iſraelites, and he smote them with a great plague, and droue them to straites, and tooke their spoyles.

4 He thought also vpon the malice of the children of Bean, which had bene a snare and an hinderance vnto the people, when they lay in wait for them in the hie way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp in towres, and besieged them, and destroyed them utterly, and burnt their towres with fire, with all that were in them.

6 Afterwarde, went hee against the children of Ammon, where he found a mightie powder, and a great multitude with Timotheus their captaine.

7 So hee had many battels with them, but they were destroyed before him, and so hee discomfited them.

8 And tooke Gaser with 5 townes thereof, and so turned againe into Iudea.

9 ¶ Then the heathen that were in Galaad, gathered them together agaynst the Iſraelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castell of Datheman.

10 And sent letters to Judas, and to his brethren, saying, The heathē that are about vs, are gathered against vs, to destroy vs,

11 And they make them ready for to come, and to take the ffortresse, wherunto wee are fledde, and Timotheus is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come now therfore, and deliuer vs out of their hands: for many of vs are slaine:

13 And all our brethren that were at Tabin, are slaine, and they haue taken alway their wiues, and their children, and their goods, and destroyed there almost a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from

Galile with their clothes rent, which tolde the same tidings,

15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyzus, and of Sidon, and of all Galile of the Gentiles were gathered against them to destroy them.

16 When Judas, and the people heard these wordes, a great Congregation came together, to consult what they might doe for their brethren, that were in trouble, & whom they besieged.

17 Then sayd Judas to Simon his brother, Chuse thee out men, and goe and deliuer thy brethren in Galile, and I and my brother Jonathan, wil go into the countrey of Galaad.

18 ¶ So he left Josephus the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iudea.

19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouersight of this people, and make no warre agaynst the heathen, vntill we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon were giuen three thousand men to go into Galile, and to Judas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galile, and gaue diuers battels to the heathen, and the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them vnto the gates of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men: so hee tooke their spoyles.

23 Thus they rescued them that were in Galile & in Arbattis with their wiues, and their children, & all that they had, & brought them into Iudea with great ioy.

24 ¶ Judas Barrabens also, & his brother Jonathan went ouer Jordan, and traueiled three daies iourney in the wilderness,

25 where they met with the Nabathites, who receiued them louingly, and told them euery thing that was done vnto their brethren in the countrey of Galaad.

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Bosozra, and Bosoz, in Alems, Chalbon, Baged and Carnaim (all these cities are strong, and great)

Or, Chafplan.

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaad, and to morowe they are appointed to bring their hoste vnto these fforts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 So Judas and his hoste turned in all haste by the way of the wilderness towarde Bosozra, and wan the cite, and slewe all the males with the edge of the sword, and tooke all

all their spoile, and set fire vpon [the cite.]

29 And in the night hee remoued from thence, and went toward the fortreffe.

30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and instruments of warre, to take the fort, and had assaulted them.

31 When Judas sawe that the battell was begunne, and that the crye of the cite went vp to heauen with trumpettes, and a great sound, 32 Then hee saide vnto the armie, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behinde them with three companies, and they blew the trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the hoste of Timotheus knelt, that it was Bacrabens, and they fled from him, & he smote them with a great slaughter, so that there was killed of the same day, almost eight thousand men.

35 Then departed Judas vnto Gapha, and laid siege vnto it, and waune it, and slew all the males thereof, and spoiled it, and set fire vpon it.

36 From thence went he and tooke Chabon, Daged, and Bolo, and the other cities in Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus an other hoste, and he camped before Baphon beyond the flood.

38 Nowe Judas had sent to espie the hoste, and they brought him worde againe, saying, All the heathen that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is verie great.

39 And hee hath hyed the Arabians to helpe them, and they haue pitched their tents beyonde the flood, and are readie to come & fight against thee. So Judas went to meete them.

40 Then Timotheus sayd vnto the captaines of his hoste, when Judas & his hoste come neere the flood, if he passe ouer first vnto vs, we shall not be able to withstande him: for he will be too strong for vs.

41 But if he be afraid, and campe beyond the flood, we will goe ouer vnto him, and shall preuaile against him.

42 Now when Judas came neere to the flood, he caused the gouernours of the people to remaine by the flood, and commaunded them, saying, Suffer none to pitch a tent, but let euery man come to the battell.

43 So he went first ouer toward them, and all the people after him: and all the heathen were discomfited before him, and cast away their weapons, and fled into the Temple that was at Carnaim.

44 Which cite Judas waune, & burnt the temple with all that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their childre, and their baggage, a very great hoste, to come into the lande of Juda.

46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a great cite by the waye, and strongly defended: they could not passe, neither at the right hand nor at the left, but must goe thorow it.

47 But they that were in the cite, shut them selues in, & stopped by the gates with stones: and Judas sent vnto them with peaceable wordes, saying,

48 Let vs passe thorow your land, that we may goe into our olde countrey, and none shall hurt you: we will but onely goe thorow on foote: but they would not open vnto him.

49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, that euery man should assault it according to his standing.

50 So the valiant men set vpon it, and assaulted the cite all that day, & all that night, and the cite was giue ouer into his hands:

51 who slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and destroyed it, & tooke the spoyle thereof, and went thorow the cite ouer them that were slayne.

52 Then went they ouer Jordan into the great plaine before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together hoste that were behinde, & gaue the people good exhortation all the waye thorow, till they were come into the land of Juda.

54 Thus they went by Bethioy, & gladnes vnto mount Sion, where they offered burnt offerings, because there were none of the same, but came home againe in safetie.

55 Nowe whiles Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemies,

56 Joseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias the captaines, hearing of the balliasties, and battels which they had achieved, said, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, & goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their hoste a commande-ment and went toward Jamnia.

59 But Gorgias and his men came out of the cite to fight against them.

Re r. iii. 60 And 60 And Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued vnto the borders of Iudea: and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men: so that there was a great ouerthrow among the people of Israel.

61 Because they were not obedient vnto Judas, and his brethren, but thought to doe some valiant thing.

62 Also they came not of the stocke of these men, by whose hands deliuerance was giuen to Israel.

63 But the man Judas, and his brethren were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, where soeuer their name was heard of.

64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.

65 Afterwarde went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the lande toward the South, where he was Hebzon, & the townes thereof, and he destroyed the castell thereof, & burnt the towles thereof round about.

66 Then remoued he to go into the lande of the strangers, & went toward Samaria.

67 At the same time were the priests of the cities slaine in the battell, which would shewe their valiantnes, and went forth to battell without counsell: and when Judas came to Asotus in the strangers lande, hee brake downe their altars, and burnt with fire the images of their gods, & tooke away the spoiles of the cities, and came againe into the land of Iuda.

CHAP. VI.

1 Antiochus, willing to take the citie of Elmais, is driven away of the citizens. 8 He falleth into sickness, & dieth. 17 His sonne Antiochus is made King. 34 The manner to spouoke elephants to fight. 43 Cleazarus valiant act. 48 The siege of Sidon.

NOW when King Antiochus traueiled toward the his countreys, he heard that Elmais in the countrey of Persia was a citie greatly renowned for riches, silver and gold.

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were coverings of golde, cote armours, and harnesse, which Alexander King of Macedonia the sonne of Philippe (that reigned first in Grecia) had left there.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of the matter.

4 And rose vp against him in battell, and he fled and departed thence with great heaviness, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreover, there came one which brought him tidings in the countrey of Persia, that the armies that went against the land of Iuda, were driven away,

6 And ¶ Lysias, which went fourth first with a great powber, was driven away of the Iewes, & that they were made strong by the armour, and powber, & diuers spoyles which they had gotten of the armies whom they had destroyed.

7 And that they had pulled downe the abomination, which he had set vp upon ¶ altar at Ierusalem, and fensed the Sanctuarie with high walles, as it was afore, and Beth-sura his citie.

8 So when ¶ Lysias had heard these words, he was astonished, and sore moued: therefore he layde him downe vpon his bed, & fel sicke for very sorow, because it was not come to passe, as he had thought.

9 And there continued hee many dayes: for his griefe was euer more & more, so that he saide he must needs die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, and sayde vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, and mine heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thinke with my self, Into what aduersity am I come: and into what floods of miserie am I fallen now, where as aforetime I was in prosperitie, and greatly set by, by reason of my powber.

12 And now doe I remember the evils that I haue done at Ierusalem: for I tooke all the vessels of gold and of silver that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Iuda without cause.

13 I knowe that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause, & behold I must dye with great sorow in a strange lande.

14 Then called hee for Philippe, one of his friends, whom he made ruler of all his realme,

15 And gaue him the crowne, & his robe, and ¶ ring, that he should instruct his sonne Antiochus, and bring him vp, till hee might reigne himselfe.

16 So King Antiochus died there in the hundredth and fourtie and ninth yere.

17 When Lysias knele, that ¶ King was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne (whom he had brought vp) to reigne in his fathers steade, and called him Eupator.

18 Nowe they that were in the castell at Ierusalem, kept in ¶ Israelites round about the Sanctuarie, and fought allwayes their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Therefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundredth and fiftie yere, and made instrumentes to shoote and other engins gins of warre.

21 But certaine of them that were besieged, gate forth, (vnto whom some vngodly men of Iſrael loyned themſelues)

22 And they went vnto the king, ſaying, How long wilt thou ceaſe from executing iudgement, and auenge our brethren:

23 Wee haue bene ready to ſerue thy father, and to go forward in thoſe things, that hee appoynted, and to obey his commaundements.

24 Therefore they of our nation ſel from vs for this cauſe, & whereſoeuer they found any of vs, they ſlewe them, and ſpoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely layed hande vpon vs, but vpon all about their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they beſieging the caſtell at Ieruſalem to take it, and haue fortified the Sanctuarie, & Bethſura.

27 And if thou doeſt not preuent them quickly, they will doe greater things then theſe, and thou ſhalt not bee able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friends, the capitaines of his armie, and his hoſemen.

29 And bands that were hired, came vnto him from the Kings, that were confederate, and from the yles of the ſea.

30 So the number of his armie was an hundredth thouſand footemen, and twentie thouſand hoſemen, and two and thirtie elephants exerciſed in battell.

31 Theſe came through Iudaea & Iericho neere to Bethſura, and beſieged it a long ſeaſon, and made engins of warre: but they came out, and burnt theſe with fire, & fought valiantly.

32 Then departed Judas fro the caſtell, and remoued the hoſt toward Bethſacarias ouer againſt the Kings campe.

33 So the King aroſe very early, and brought the armie and his powder towarde the way of Bethſacarias, where the armie ſet themſelues in array to the battell, & blew the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the elephants for to fight, they ſhelved them the blood of grapes and mulberries,

35 And they ſet the beaſtes according to the ranges: ſo that by euery elephant there ſtood a thouſand men armed with coates of mayle & helmets of braſſe vpon their heads, & vnto euery beaſt were ordeined five hundred hoſemen of the beſt,

36 Which were ready at all times whereſoeuer the beaſt was: and whitherſoeuer the beaſt went, they went alſo, and departed not from him.

37 And vpon them were ſtrong tolbres of wood that couered euery beaſt, which were faſtened thereon with inſtruments, & vpon euery one was two and thirtie men, that fought in them, and the Indian that ruled him.

38 They ſet alſo the remnant of ſ horſemen vpon both the ſides in two wings of the hoſte to ſtirre them vp, and to keepe them in the balleyes.

39 And when the ſunne ſhone vpon the golden ſhieldes, the mountaines glistered therewith, and gaue light as lampes of fire.

40 Thus part of the Kings armie was ſpyed vpon the hie mountaines, and part beneath: ſo they marched forward wardly, & in order.

41 And all they that heard the noyle of their multitude, and the marching of the companie, and the rattling of the harnelle, were aſtoniſhed: for the armie was very great & mightie.

42 Then Judas and his hoſte entred into the battell, and they ſlewe ſixe hundredth men of the Kings armie.

43 ¶ Now when Eleazar, [the ſonne] of Abaron, ſawe one of the elephants armed with royall harnelle, and was more excellent then all the other beaſtes, hee thought that the King ſhould bee vpon him.

44 Wherefore he reſparded him ſelfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name, 45 And ranne boldly vnto him through the middes of the hoſte, ſlaying on the right hande, and on the left, ſo that they departed alway on both ſides.

46 So went he to the elephants ſeete, & gate him vnder him, and ſlewe him: then fell the elephant downe vpon him, & there he died.

47 But the other, ſeeing the power of the king and the fierceneſſe of his armie, departed from them.

48 And the Kings armie went vp to meeete them toward Ieruſalem, & the king pitched his tents in Iudaea toward mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, ſ King tooke truce with them that were in Bethſura: but when they came out of the citie, becauſe they had no beſtales there, and were ſhut vp therein, and the land had reſted,

50 The King tooke Bethſura, and ſet there a garriſon to keepe it.

51 And beſieged the Sanctuarie many daies, and made inſtruments to ſhoote, and other engins of warre, and inſtruments to caſt a This example is not to be followed, becauſe it is contrary to the commaundement, cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast dartses and slings.

52. ¶ They also made engins against their engins, and fought a long season.

53 But in the garneres there were no bitailes: for it was the seventh yeere, and then they that were in Judea, and were deliuered from the Gentiles, had eaten by the residue of the store.

54 So that in the Sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the famine came so vpon them, that they were scattered euery man to his owne place.

55 ¶ Nowe when Lysias heard that Philip whom Antiochus the king, whiles hee liued, had ordeyned to bring vnto Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king.

56 Was come againe out of Persia, and Media, and the Kings host with him, and thought to take vnto him rule of things.

57 He [and his] hasted, and were stirred forward by them in the castell to go and tell the King, and the captaiues of the host, and to others, [saying,] we decrease daily, and our bitailes are but small: & the place that we lay siege vnto, is strong, and the affaires of the realme depende vpon vs.

58 Nowe therefore let vs agree with these men, and take treuce with them, and with all their nation,

59 And graunt them to liue after their Law, as they did afore: for they be grieved, and do all these things, because we haue broken their Lawes.

60 So the King and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace, and they receiued it.

61 When the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came vpon this out of the fortreffe.

62 And ¶ King went by to mount Sion: but when hee saide that the place was well defended, he brake his othe ¶ he had made, and commanded to breake downe the wall rounde about.

63 Then departed he in al haste, & returned vnto Antiochia where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Demetrius reigned, after he had killed Antiochus & Lysias, & he reuoluted the rulers of Israel through the counsell of certaine wicked persons. 27 The prayer of the Priests against Alcimus.

41 Judas killed Alcimus, after he had made his prayer.

Joseph. Antig. 11. chap. 51.

After the hundredth and one and fiftieth yeere, departed Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus from Rome, and came by with a few men vnto a citie of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And when he came into possession of his fathers kingdome, his souldiers tooke Antiochus and Lysias, and brought them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, hee said, Shew me not their faces.

4 So they put them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him all the wicked and vngodly me of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bin the hie Priest.

6 These men accused the people vnto the King, saying, Judas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 wherfore send now some man, whom thou trustest, that he may go and see all the destruction, which hee hath done vnto vs, and to the Kings lande, and let him punish them with all their partakers.

8 Then the King chose Sathides a friend of his, which was a great man in the realme, and ruled beyond the floud, & was faithful vnto the King, and sent him,

9 And that wicked Alcimus, whom hee made hie Priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great hoste into the lande of Iuda, and sent messengers to Judas and his brethren, deceitfully with peateable wordes.

11 But they beleueed not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 Then a companie of the gouernours assembled vnto Alcimus and Sathides to intreat of reasonable pointes.

13 And the Alcideans were first that required peace among the children of Israel.

14 For sayd they, hee that is a Priest of the seede of Aarō, is come with this armie: therefore he will not hurt vs.

15 Then he spake vnto them peaceably, and sware vnto them, and saide, we will do you no harme, neither your friendes:

16 And they beleueed him: but he tooke of them thersoz men, and slewe them in one day according to the wordes that were written.

17 They haue [cast] the bodies of thy Saintes, and their blood round about Ierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a feare and trembling among all the people: for they sayde, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them: for they haue broken the appointment and othe

19 Then Saccides remoued from Jerusalem, and pitched his tent at Beth-satha, where he sent forth and tooke many of the men that had forsaken him, and certaine of the people whome he serued, and cast into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the country vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: so Saccides went vnto the King.

21 Thus Alcimus stroue for the Priesthode.

22 And all such as troubled the people resorted vnto him: in so much, that they obtained the land of Iuda, and did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Iudas sawe all the mischiefe, that Alcimus and his companie had done among the Israelites more then the heathen,

24 Hee went forth round about all the borders of Iudea, and punished those, that were fallie away, so that they came no more abroade in the country.

25 But when Alcimus saw that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, & knew that he was not able to abide them, he went againe to the king, and accused the of wicked things.

*[Iosep. Ant.

26 Then the King sent Nicanor one of his chief princes, which hated Israel deadly, and commanded him, that he should destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great host, and sent vnto Iudas, and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no warre betwene me, and you: I will come with fewe men, to see howe ye do, friendly.

29 So he came vnto Iudas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but enemies were prepared to take away Iudas.

30 Nevertheless, it was tolde Iudas, that he came vnto him vnder deceit: therefore hee feared him, and woulde not see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceived that his counsel was betrayed, hee went out to fight against Iudas, beside Carphalalama.
